Poultry Show Will Be Held Here On Friday and Saturday With View of Reviving Interest in Good Birds

Everything is all set for the poultry show to be held in Munday on Friday and Saturday. The show will be held in the Masonic building and already a goodly number of entries have been received, and a number of others are expected. While the show this year will not be anything like as large as the poultry shows that were held here a number of years ago, it is hoped that this will be the beginning of the re-establishment of a poultry show in Munday each year and those in charge hope that next year the show may be enlarged to include dairy cattle.

The show Friday and Saturday will be judged by some competent local judge and R. D. Rawls, vocational agricultural teacher in the local schools, will supervise the show. Don't fail to attend the show, as there will be many interesting items on exhibit and some of the finest poultry in the county and surrounding counties will be exhibited.

Mysterious Fires At Goree Cause Worry to Citizens

Citizens of Goree have been somewhat disturbed recently over the number of fires that have originated from some mysterious cause during the past few weeks. Some three weeks ago two residences were discovered to be on fire during one night. The local fire department reached one of the blazes in time to extinguish it before much damage was done, but some two hours later the alarm sounded and this time the fire had reached such headway that they could not save the house. Again on last Friday night one of the physicians of that city started out on a call late in the night and discovered a residence on fire. He stopped and extinguished the flame before it had gained much headway, but some few hours later fire broke out in another part of the town and the building was destroyed.

In each instance it is said that there were evidences of coal oil having been used freely in starting the blazes, and all of the residences in which fires have originated have been vacant. Another fact that adds to the mystery is the fact that none of the houses involved have been insured, and there seems to be no motive that would prompt anyone to start the fires.

NOTICE OF CHANGE IN THE MEETING PLACE OF THE GILSIE PRIMITIVE BAPTIST

Having traded our house for the Prairie View school house, known as "Red Top," we desire to notify our members and the public that we will hold our meetings from now on in our new building three miles west and two north from Munday on the second Saturday and Sunday in each month, and the public is cordially invited to attend these services.

THINKING OUT LOUD

BY J. A. K.

The topic of conversation in most any group of men these days is the soldier's bonus, and it is needless to say that a majority of the ex-service men are indeed glad to be able to realize some cash on their certificates.

And President Hoover hasn't added any to his popularity with the ex-service men by his veto of the bonus bill, but the boys should not be too severe in their criticism of him.

Mr. Hoover is dominated largely by his Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Andrew Mellon, who is said to be one of the nation's richest men, and who has very little sympathy for the great common people.

Mr. Mellon belongs to the old reactionary group of the Republican party whose theory of government is that everything should be done for the betterment of big business, and little business can sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, insofar as they are concerned.

He represents that group of financial barons in this country whom Will Rogers recently stated would prefer another war to an increase in income taxes on salaries of more than $50,000 per year.

Mr. Mellon is one of those high-waist advocates who believes that foreign oil should be shipped into this country duty free until all of the independent operators have been exterminated, and the industry is entirely in the hands of a few, with him holding the big interest.

But the boys are going to get a part of that which they are entitled to, and we believe that future sessions of congress will slash the interest charges that are to be levied against loans on certificates. The money belongs to the boys who were in the service and there is no sound reason why they should be forced to pay interest on their own money.

Some of those who were most interested about the bonus bill while it was pending were the colored men of the community. Now they are all eager to know just how soon they can get their money, and it is safe to say that a goodly number of them will get it into circulation soon after they receive it.

Now that the bonus bill has been passed and we have had good rains and prospects look bright for a bumper crop, let's all quit talking about the depression and get down to working out of our difficulties. Conditions would not have been nearly so bad as they have been during recent months if we had not had so much conversation. No amount of talk will help conditions. Head work and elbow grease will do more than anything else toward overcoming difficulties.

All this talk has merely added to the mental agony of the situation, and we know of no instance where it has helped in the slightest degree. We are all looking longingly for better times, and better times will come sooner if we just quit talking hard times and view the future with optimism.

After all, it is likely that the depression will work out for the betterment of conditions throughout the agricultural sections of the nation, for it has taught the manufacturers, the big bankers and financial interests everywhere that the farmer must be enabled to buy or they cannot sell. It has driven home the thought that Gov. O. M. Roberts dropped a number of years ago that "civilizations begins and ends with the plow." The farmer creates wealth and the rest of the world merely seeks wealth.

Firemen of Section Form Association At Seymour Meet

There was the beginning in Seymour last Friday of what is hoped will be quite an important organization for this section of the state. A number of the fire chiefs of neighboring towns were present at the organization, and the new institution will be known as the West Texas Firemen's Association. Chief M. P. McCracken of Olney was elected president, L. A. McCluskey of Seymour vice-president, and O. M. Cox of Seymour secretary-treasurer. Another meeting is to be held March 9 in Munday, at which time by-laws will be presented for adoption, and plans completed for the first meeting.

Methodist Ministers and Laymen of Three Conferences To Gather Here Monday; Bishop Boaz Will Preside

Next Monday, March 9th, the "Spiritual Life Conference" will be held in Munday at the Methodist church. Bishop Boaz and Dr. Goddard will be in charge of the conference. The meeting will be held behind closed doors, and I presume this means that the doors will be closed at 10:00 a. m., as this is the time the meeting is scheduled to begin. We will have about one hundred guests that day, as all the preachers and one or two laymen from each charge of the Vernon, Stamford and Abilene districts are expected to be present. I have a suspicion that some out of town preacher will be in the pulpit here Sunday evening, so let's give him a full house.

I am exceedingly anxious that at least all of our official board and Sunday school teachers be in this meeting, and all others who are interested in the spiritual life of the church. Only two other meetings of this kind will be held within the bounds of this Northwest Texas Conference; one at Lubbock and the other at Amarillo, so let's everybody be on our Ps and Qs and make the delegation glad the meeting was held in our city.

Come to church services Sunday morning and hear a good message on "The Name of Jesus." This is Membership Month. If you are a Methodist and your membership is not here, it should be, and we are giving you from now until Easter to make up your mind about it, and in the meantime we hope to see you relative to it. The only way to be happy in Munday as a Methodist is to put your membership in the church here, where we live, so get ready to do so, Easter Sunday. Let's make it unanimous. Every Methodist in Munday—a member of the Church in Munday—is a good slogan for the month. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good." W. C. HOWELL, Pastor.

Rainfall For Two Months Breaks Previous Records

March was ushered in by one of the most severe snowstorms that we have experienced this winter, and if the old adage holds good it will certainly have a peaceful and serene ending. And, following as it has, a series of week-end rains that have prevailed consistently for the past eight weeks, the opening of spring will find the Munday country facing the brightest prospects for a bumper crop that we have ever faced, this according to men who have resided here since this country has been an agricultural country.

A. E. Whittemore, who keeps an accurate government gauge and makes reports to the Department of Agriculture, has provided us with a chart showing the rainfall for the months of January and February each year since 1917, and which shows that we have had more rainfall during these two months this year than in any year during that period, the total for the two months being 4.30 inches.

Year	Jan.	Feb.
1917	0.75	0.20
1918	0.20	0.43
1919	0.35	0.97
1921	1.41	2.14
1922	0.70	0.45
1923	3.21	0.94
1924	0.09	0.52
1925	0.57	0.19
1926	0.94	0.00
1927	1.82	2.36
1928	0.55	1.16
1929	0.30	1.35
1930	0.80	0.00
1931	1.31	2.99

The excellent season will probably add materially to the acreage planted in feed throughout the Munday country, as farmers have stated that they could make a fair feed crop on the season they have now even if they were to have no more rain.

Rhineland Man Not Discouraged With His Poultry

Carl Schumacher of Rhineland was in first of the week and stated that he had not profited by his refrigeration plant in which he stored several hundred eggs during the summer months, however, he is not discouraged and expects to plan to continue his experiment. Mr. Schumacher stated that he now has a flock of about 700 layers and he plans to raise sufficient feed to care for all his needs, and by so doing he feels that he can realize a reasonable profit from his flock, even if the price of eggs remain low. He is, however, predicting a better price for eggs and poultry next season, due to the fact that many thousands of birds have been placed on the market and the government report shows that there is a shortage of young stock being hatched this season.

Traveler Dies On Train at Haskell On Wednesday

Haskell, March 4.—Relatives of H. B. Rollins, 55, who died on a Wichita Valley train between Stamford and Haskell Wednesday morning, are enroute here tonight from Kansas City to claim the body, being held at a local funeral home. Rollins, a Kansas City painter, was stricken after boarding the train at Stamford, where he had been visiting relatives. After an inquest, the coroner ruled that death was due to natural causes.

Rev. T. A. West of Rising Star, who has been visiting in the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. A. Bowden, for the past month, left Saturday for Fort Worth, where he will visit with a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McGlothlin of Sierra Blanca, Texas, are here visiting in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McGlothlin, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogan. Glenn is connected with a bank at Sierra Blanca and states the conditions are much more prosperous in that section than here.

District Court Works Fast In Cases Tried Last Week; All Enter Pleas Of Guilty and Accept Pen Sentences

The wheels of justice ground swiftly last week at Benjamin when eight cases were called in District Court, with Judge I. O. Newton presiding, and at which time seven pleas of guilty were entered by defendants. The following cases were disposed of:

Jim Dunan, charged with violation of the liquor laws, transferred to Knox from Baylor on a change of venue, entered a plea of guilty and was assessed two years in the penitentiary. Jim Lyons, charged with theft of over $50.00, transferred from Baylor on a change of venue, entered a plea of guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary.

Jack Rentscher, charged with burglary of the Santa Fe depot at Truscott, entered a plea of guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary.

W. R. Hudgsons, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, entered a plea of guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary. J. W. Tally, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, was given two years in the penitentiary upon entering a plea of guilty.

Videl Franko, charged with selling intoxicants, entered a plea of guilty and was given two years in the penitentiary. Clyde Moon, charged with the theft of an automobile, entered a plea of guilty and was given a three year sentence.

J. P. Pierce, charged with swindling of more than $50.00, was given a five year suspended sentence.

All cases disposed of were submitted to the juries without argument, and all of those sentenced have accepted sentence and are being held in jail at Benjamin until they can be accepted at the penitentiary, and, according to information received by Sheriff C. R. Elliott, the penitentiary is now crowded to the extent that it will likely be some time before others can be cared for. There are, according to the report, more than 5,000 prisoners at this time.

The grand jury, which was in session last week, returned fifteen bills of indictment, five misdemeanor and ten felonies. C. L. Mayes of Munday was foreman of the grand jury.

DONIG THINGS FOR PEOPLE

By BRUCE BARTON

I have a friend who occupied a prominent official position in Washington for a number of years. After his retirement he opened an office and let it be known that he would act as an adviser to individuals and companies having business to transact with the government.

Recently he told me that his first year's income was about ten times as large as he had dared to hope for. "The only way I can explain it is that I am now cashing in on my life-time habit of doing things for people," he said. "When I was in office I never could see why it wasn't worth while to go to a little trouble for folks if you could do it properly. So when a man comes to me I don't try to side-step by saying, 'You will have to take the matter up with such and such a department.' I just tried to help him out."

"I wasn't scheming about it. I had no conscious notion that I was laying up treasure in Heaven, or anything of that sort. "But apparently people remembered and appreciated, and now they are taking pleasure in paying me back."

Neither by temperament nor conviction do I belong to the United Brotherhood of Polyannas. I do not hold that we live in the best of all possible worlds, nor that selfishness is always punished and virtue always rewarded.

On the contrary, I see many notable examples of men who have apparently never done a gracious thing in their whole lives who yet have achieved fortunes and are quite serene and contented in the enjoyment of the good things of the world.

But at several different times in my own experience I have been surprised by having bread which I had cast on the waters and forgotten come back to me spread with good butter and even consoling.

derable jam. One of the most valuable contacts of my business life grew out of work which I did for a certain charitable organization, with no thought of personal gain. And a large piece of business once walked into my office, sent by the brother of a man whom I had been able to help many years before, and in an entirely different part of the country.

Speaking generally I should say that the chance of being rewarded for good works is sufficient so that any man is justified, from purely a selfish standpoint, in going out of his way occasionally to be kind. To say nothing of the fact that doing good things for other people brings a personal satisfaction which is, in itself, a reward.

Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Ammons and Miss Leona Keel were in Wichita Falls three days last week attending a dental economics course conducted by the Bosworth organization of Chicago, and on Tuesday Miss Martin, representing that organization came here and made an inspection of the offices and laboratory of Dr. Ammons and pronounced the laboratory one of the cleanest she had ever inspected, and asked that photographs be made of it to be used in her work.

Mrs. J. S. Morris and little daughter, Peggie Joe, of Eden, Texas, have been here during the past week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Coxsy.

Mrs. M. Z. Kennedy of route 3 was in first of the week and stated that she would leave in a few days for Mineral Wells, where she will undergo treatment for defective hearing, and we sincerely trust that she will be relieved by her visit to that great resort.

The tom-tom dancers from French Equatorial Africa will strut like this at Paris during the International Colonial and Overseas Exposition this spring and summer. An entire tribe is being transported to the 'mother country'. A tribe of authentic cannibals, the Pahouin also from Africa, will be among the 3,000 native peoples from every place under the sun displaying their native modes of life at Paris this summer.

An Explanation of the Senior Happenings

There has doubtlessly been more criticism of the Senior class and the superintendent of Munday High school this week than has ever been given to anything else in Munday before. If the criticism had been given only to the Senior class, there would not have been anything else said about it, but at this time we wish to offer an explanation.

The Seniors planned the little episode two days before it happened, simply because everything was so quiet and uneventful. The public will agree with us that every Senior class has done something in their year of seniority that was disobedience to the laws of Munday High. The Seniors of 1927 is as far back as we can remember. During that year they gathered one night and painted signs on the tabernacle, which was at that time a new building, and considered quite an honor to Munday. During the same night they had a water fight with the Junior class, literally soaking everything in the building with water. This caused some criticism, but no real punishment was given to the class. In 1928, the Seniors continued the painting started before them, and began the idea of hanging flags on the building. They tramped on the roof too hard and caused several dollars worth of damage, but they were not punished either. In 1929, the Seniors took a half holiday and went on a picnic. As a result they were given F's only on the classes they missed, and were allowed to make their work up. And then comes the class of 1930, that class of bomb-setters, court-lovers, and "meanies" in general. They disturbed school by setting off bombs; they took days off and went to court at Benjamin; they took examination questions; and they, too, locked the we might at least have been grouped together in the study hall, instead of scattered out with the Sophomores, Juniors, and Freshmen. We do not feel that we pulled such a criminal act after all, especially considering the circumstances. Neither do we blame Mr. Riley with our punishment.

Forgetting all our mistreatments, and taking our medicine as if we believed we needed it, we come to the one thing that we will not forget, and that is the unjust criticism of Mr. Riley. We wish to say to our acquaintances that the entire Senior class is behind Mr. Riley one hundred per cent. You can not find a member that would tell you that it was lack of respect for Mr. Riley that prompted our actions. To us Mr. Riley is our ideal as a man, sport, teacher, sponsor, and superintendent, and you can bet your bottom dollar, that if the Seniors had known that he was to get any of the blame we would not have done as we did. The public forgets the good a man does, and is always looking for something to criticize him for. Especially is this true of teachers. Mr. Riley has the respect and love of a very great majority of the students. He wins both respect and love by always smiling, regardless of the seriousness of the occasion. Many of the Seniors remarked that it was the first and only time they had ever seen Mr. Riley not smiling when he dismissed the Seniors on that fateful Thursday. Anyone can do more with high school students by being calm, pleasant, and kind, than they can by being hot-headed, hateful, and scolding. Mr. Riley has been interested in all Senior activities, has attended all class meetings, and given us invaluable information in making decisions concerning

JUNIORS

You may not have heard as much about us, as you have our Seniors, but we are still the same old Junior class that you have heard about before. Now is the time to hear something about someone besides the Seniors. The next thing you hear will be about the Juniors but it will be different from the Senior news. It will concern the Junior play.

SOPHOMORES

My, my, but the Sophomores are as high spirited as a Kentucky horse this morning. This cool weather makes us feel good. As bad as we hate it, we can not take physical education on a day like this.

Mattie Mae Collins and her group will be in charge of the home room program for Tuesday senior class business. To us he is priceless! And then to think that some people are criticizing him for what the Seniors did! Remember this—"Judge not, for you be not judged".

SENIORS

The dear old Senior class is on the job again after serving our six days.

You know, we Seniors are like W. J. Rogers, in that all we know is what we read in the papers, and from reading the Tom-Tom last week the Juniors seemingly felt their importance with their higher classmen gone. Now, we just want to take this little space and time to say to our Junior friends: Don't talk about challenging us! Not long ago the Senior girls hung a senior flag on top of the community auditorium and left it there until about two p. m. the next day, and not one thing moved it but the wind. Juniors, we are glad that we had the six days off for your sake. While we were gone you felt freer and the outcome was that you picked up enough "spunk" to let the outside world know that you were still alive by your last write-up. Now as you remember, Juniors, you kindly asked us not to get sore about the things that you said about us, and we did not, for we can easily see that you might have had a perfectly good reason to say "last week" that you were the best class in M. H. S. for we Seniors were absent. We Seniors like to give credit where credit is due, and we want to say that you are becoming a peppy class. Before this you were just like an old bear stored up for the winter with no more pep than a snail, but last week you opened your eyes and to-day we Seniors will have to admit that you have as much pep, vim and vitality as a tarapin. Juniors, do as we did, and do not get sore over this, for it is not said in a harmful manner, but in a helpful way.

FRESHMEN

What a kick we got out of playing the Seniors in the class tournament. Although we were defeated, we did our best. We will admit that we did not do our part as well as the boys did, but just wait, we will make a team yet.

Say, Sophs, you said we sure had to "flip" to defeat you. Call it that if you want to, but that is what it takes to win. Maybe if you would try it you might win something too.

of this week.

We are very proud of the fact that our Senior friends are back with us this week. They are our neighbors now, because they have moved in the study hall with us.

Believe it or not: Mae Kendall received a telephone call last week.

Nerene Bowden was seen mailing letters to Knox City.

Marvin was seen tying his horse to the Saturday Evening Post.

Allice Bevers brought her snuff box to school.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES.

Another semester has ended with its examinations and hard work. Many of the examinations were final and all the pupils wanted to pass so they would not have to make up their work some way.

The Grammar School girls are eager to know just who will be on their baseball team. Everyone is playing her best and hoping that she will be chosen. The first matched game will likely be with Sunset.

The boys of 6A played Seymour Friday and lost with a score of 5 to 2.

The Sixth grade is displaying an unusual ability in drawing the map of Texas. The parents would be well repaid for a visit to the school while the maps are on exhibit.

Value of the Home Economics Club to High School Girl

By Miss Irene Clifford

In our school the Home Economics Club is the only club, and we look to it for both recreation and instruction. First, it provides programs which are instructive as well as entertaining. These programs may include a study of certain subjects which pertain to home economics work, but to which it is impossible for us to devote sufficient class time. There are subjects that do not pertain directly to home economics work but are of an interest and value to the high school girl.

Second, the Home Economics Club provides social entertainment for us. The high school girl must have social life and our club affords entertainment filled with wholesome recreation which will benefit us as well as provide pleasure. From these social meetings we learn to act as hostesses graciously and to mingle and converse pleasantly with other girls and older people. They prepare us to enjoy living and to get the most out of any entertainment afforded us.

Third, we, as a club carry on projects which are of a real value to ourselves as well as others, as buying things needed in our home economics department. This year we bought draperies for our dining room. We are planning on raising enough money to send delegates to the State rally, which will be held in Lubbock this year.

Fourth, our club encourages us to take an active interest in and be willing to cooperate with any worth while school or community project. This enables us to relate our home economics training to other phases of school and community life. It develops our attitude of unselfishness and willingness to cooperate and at the same time increases our interest and respect of the school and community for the home economics club work.

Fifth, the Home Economics Club tends to unite the members of the various home economics classes. It increases the friendship among all the girls in the school.

Last, and perhaps most important of all, our Home Economics Club helps us to set up certain ideals for girlhood. If we, as a club, agree to live up to certain ideals established by our club, the high school girl will be placed on a higher level in the esteem of the boys of the school, the faculty and the citizens of the community.

Jazz Is Red Headed, Says
Tittian Tressed Drummer

BOBBY GRICE

Who Also Adds That Waltzes Are Brunette!

New York City.—When the boys in the neighborhood yelled, "Red Head, Red Head, gingerbread" at the sight of Bobby Grice's red pig-tails, Bobbie used to shake her little fists, stamp her feet and weep, though never until she got home where the boys couldn't see her.

"This wasn't so long ago, because Bobbie is only twenty-one now. But she is still stamping her feet. That's because as leader of the Parisian Red Heads, the highest paid girls' band in the country, no part of her small body can keep still as she directs one of the newest jazz hits.

She no longer stamps in anger or cries in sadness over her red hair. In fact, she gives to her tittian tresses much of the credit for her astonishing musical success.

"Red heads make the best jazz musicians, and I've got fourteen other red heads in my band, so don't consider this unduly personal," declares Bobbie. "Somehow, the ginger-breads seem to have the temperament that goes with our modern music. In choosing the members of my band, I've listened to hundreds of girl musicians. I found that the dark-haired girls could play the soft moon-light type of rhythm, but for the snappy jazz tunes, the carrot-tops are best.

"Take the fox-trot 'What A Girl! What A Night!' No brunette could get as much out of that tune as a red head. Jazz is really a red head's music. Its very tempo is red."

The members of Miss Grice's band get from sixty to one hundred and fifty dollars a week, and their leader urges more women to enter the musical profession.

"It pays higher salaries than almost any other profession open to women," says Bobbie. "The idea that women can play only the piano and violin is absurd. If they are talented they can learn to play any instrument. There is a great demand right now for cornet and trumpet players, in fact, there is a scarcity of all wind instrument musicians."

Miss Grice, herself, is one of the head-line drummers in the country.

"And if a woman can play the drums, and still please her audience, she can play anything, even the mouth-organ," declares this famous red-head.

The multitude of motorists who have switched to Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil know what a great oil it is for summer use. Maybe they are wondering how it will act in cold weather at zero and below. The makers of Conoco know. Better still, thousands of users know, from their experiences of last winter. In Canada, Montana, the Dakotas . . . in Denver . . . with temperatures far under zero, Conoco Germ-Processed did not congeal. It remained fluid and continued to furnish efficient lubrication.

This accomplishment is no surprise. Conoco Germ-Processed is easy starting, non-congealing at sub-zero temperatures, because it is a thoroughly de-waxed paraffin base oil. The Penetrative Lubricity of Germ Process makes certain an ever-present lubricating film in your motor, even after long periods of idleness . . . particularly valuable at starting time, when 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs. Save this wear on your motor . . . your battery . . . your nerves. Drain and refill now with the proper grade of Conoco Germ-Processed oil at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.
