Odd Bits Salvaged

Weather Report: Spring has come—officially last Friday—may-be for sure, too. The first day of spring was one of those days that makes a fellow glad he's living in this part of the country. Sandstorms produce the opposite effect.

Now that spring is here, it's time for us to be giving some thought to a clean-up campaign. Thought that will result in action—and pronto.

They say: "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." That being the case, Munday had just about gone to the devil.

A local citizen came back from his vacation last year and remarked that he didn't know Munday was such a dirty place until he'd gone to other towns. And that was after our clean-up drive last year. We haven't had one since. Gee whiz! What do visitors think of our town now?

Let's have a clean-up that really is a clean-up!

Munday is playing "second fiddle" to other area towns in other ways than cleanliness, too. Most any place has our town outclassed in construction of new homes, etc.

Naturally, one great drawback is the price of labor and materials, which makes it prohibitive for the poor fellow to build and poor judgment for the man with means. Great Scott! We can't even start to build that dog-house we mentioned some few weeks ago!

But another drawback is the lack of suitable building lots that are available. But some of these days Munday will build, and build. It'll be a more inviting place to build after we've cleaned her up!

That doughnut machine over at Atkinson's really gets the job done, and lots of people have stood by and watched it perform. It will do most everything to the doughnut except eat it. Kinda reminds us of our idea of an automatic baby spanker!

Ever have a bank account like this: The more you check on it, the bigger it gets; the more you deposit, the smaller it gets. We heard of those kind years back, but that was before the depression and recession. Banking laws are a little more strict now.

Speaking of the depression, the closing of all the banks at that time didn't bother us one whit. Our bank account was nil; our boss couldn't pay us for our work, either, so what use did we have for a bank?

People talk about another depression following this period we're in now—but we've also heard of the old woman who said: Well, I just don't believe we're gonna have another depression. Everybody I've talked to's agin it."

Unions strike for higher wages. The manufacturers must get more for their products to meet higher wage demands. That makes the worker's living expenses go higher, and then his union wants higher wages. It's a never-ending spiral upward, but there's got to be a leveling-off period sometime.

We may not call it a depression—but when nobody ain't got no money to buy nothing with—then it's going to be something again.

Then's when common dress shirts at $3.95—radio advertised bargains—and new autos at $2,500 will cease to be bargains.

But, shucks! We've had wars, depressions, and money shortages, and panics, and booms, and wet years, dry years and crop failures ever since way back yonder. Most Americans have been able to cope with whatever problems presented themselves. Guess we can take care of the future when it becomes the present, too.

So why should we get so philosophical? It may turn out to be the survival of the fittest—but we feel fitten to survive. So let'er come, Pete.

WE NEED THE NEW FIRE TRUCK

A local citizen offered the thought recently that Munday would be in a heck of a shape if a sure enough bad fire was to break out. He's been listening to our present fire truck, as it was about to throw a rod, or something.

Munday has had a new fire truck ordered for months and months, but it isn't getting here too fast. Meanwhile, the local fire department can't afford to run the risk of taking our present truck out of service to have repairs made on it.

If a fire broke out then, we would be in a bad shape. Better have an old one that will scare you to death as it works than to have one that won't work at all.

But when the new truck does arrive—then the old one can be released for repairs. With it placed in tip-top shape, and the new one on the scene, too, local fireboys will begin to rest easier at the thought of fire.

Yes, then Munday will have adequate fire fighting equipment, one that can take care of almost any emergency.

Let's hope we never have a bad fire, such as have occurred here several times in the past. But let's hope the new truck gets here soon, too.

THE CHANGING TIMES

During the war, and for some time after it ended, retail stores had to take whatever goods were offered them, even when prices were high and quality was low. Consumers had to be content with smaller and poorer stocks to choose from. This was a situation that couldn't be helped—it was the certain consequence of war's insatiable demands on our producing machine.

Now, however, times seem to be rapidly changing—and for the better. Business papers and trade journals report that buyers for retail stores are casting jaundiced eyes on substandard merchandise. They are questioning prices which seem out of line. They know that the consumer will again demand the best possible product for the least possible price and they are out to meet that demand.

This certainly does not mean that prices are going to crack wide open—the pressures are still inflationary in many cases. But it does indicate that there is going to be less and less shoddy merchandise and more and more goods which offer maximum and dependable value in their price barometers. And, by the same token, store stocks are once more being built up to approximations of pre-war abundance and selection.

This is retailing's traditional service to the nation. Store operators are pleased as anyone else to see the economy of scarcity gradually disappear.

"Good morning, Jimmy," said the neighbor to a small boy sweeping of the porch. "Is your mother in?"

"Would I be doing this if she wasn't?"

YOUR HOUSE IS STILL A DREAM

Most people remember those "dream houses" of the future—a miracle of convenience, beauty and functional design—that were tied in with pleas to buy more war bonds so you'd have the dough to purchase the house, once peace returned.

Peace has been here for some time, but the dream house hasn't appeared. Obtaining any kind of house at all is the toughest problems facing local people, as well as millions of other Americans. Bua failure to obtain them now is not fault of those beautiful "word pictures" during the war bond campaigns.

The trouble still lies in shortages. There are shortages of materials, high priced materials, high priced labor, and other things while we can't do very much about locally.

Most commodity shortages are being made up—but the housing shortage grows worse than ever. There will continue to be a housing shortage until such a time as the man of moderate means can build. Then the shortage will be averted gradually.

Best guess now is that Federal income taxes will be cut about 10 per cent, with, perhaps larger reductions in low brackets. Chance of a general 20 per cent across-the-board cut is nil.

Important difference of opinion within the Republic leadership is over whether budget surpluses should be used for debt reduction or tax reduction. Senator Taft feels that tax reduction should come first. Senators Morse of Oregon and Knowland of California lead the group which believes debt reduction is the main necessity.

April, the rainy month, is a time of sick pavements and skidding autos. If you're driving, make sure it is at a safe speed for instant stops. You may save a life. If you're walking, look both ways before crossing the street. The National Conservation Bureau says April showers should remind you that if you drive with your head in the clouds you may find a permanent home there.

The highway patrolman is a guide and protector of the public welfare. He deserves the cooperation and appreciation of every citizen in his work to cut down death and injury on the highways, say safety experts of the National Conservation Bureau. If there had been drunk driving in the days of the Ten Commandments, there would be 11 commandments.

"Benny," said his mother, helping him with his home work, "tell me how many is seven and four."
"Twelve," replied Benny. "Not bad for a little shaver," volunteered papa. "He only missed it by two."

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., March 22—The House this week passed several minor bills, including one to transfer sugar control from O. A. P. to the Department of Agriculture. Under this bill sugar controls are extended to October 31, with control over industrial inventories for an additional five months.

A number of big and controversial issues on which committees have been hard at work will soon hit the floor of Congress. These will include labor controls, taxation, and foreign policy.

The bill sponsored by Congressman Harold Knutson of Minnesota, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the house, is scheduled for a vote in the House on Thursday. Tax bills are presented under the so-called "closed rule". This means one must vote for the whole bill or against the whole bill; no amendments are in order. I am opposed to a 20 per cent cut, across the board as urged by Mr. Knutson and oppose any drastic reduction in taxes at this time. Our national income is twice as high as at any time before the war. Certainly we should balance the budget and pay something on debts while income is high. If tax relief is to be given, most people agree it should be given first to exceeding low income persons. Among facts pointed out by tax experts however, is that 50 per cent of all the cooperation stock of America is owned by persons whose incomes are less than $5000.00 per year.

The President's proposal of a $400 million loan to Turkey and Greece is going to run into some tough opposition. Already the liberal left-wing group of the country is fighting it; joined with them are some notable conservatives and right-wingers. Some contend that any aid extended these distressed countries should be handled through and by the United Nations. Others point out that we permitted UNRRA to be handled by a United Nations group and that much of it was diverted to the aid of communists, and that Marshal Tito

How to Solve Storage Problem

IT SEEMS there never is enough storage room in a home, whether it be a big house or a small apartment. We all want everything we may want to use handy, so it is unnecessary to poke around in dark closets for suddenly desired items. One solution to this problem of storage, and a good way to protect valuable woolsens, too, is to use a pair of cedar hope chests at the foot of twin beds. While we may look upon the hope chest as a symbol of romance, it has very practical values. They tell me that, even if clothes moths do get in a cedar chest, they can do very little damage. Only the young moth larvae eat your clothes, and the cedar aroma paralyzes them as soon as they are hatched out. Unable to eat, they starve to death. We shopped around and found that chests can be obtained in such a variety of outer wood finishes that they can match almost any furniture now being used in the bedroom. They are particularly nice at the end of the new Hollywood type beds and they have the additional virtue of being available as seats when you have a flock of bedroom visitors. Keep in the chests your extra blankets, furs, woolen scarves and dresses and gloves and any other of your fine things which would make a hungry moth lick his chops.

of Yugoslavia used it to equip a communist army. Others will strongly contend that this aid should be only in material, equipment and supplies necessary to bolster Grecian-Turkish economy and none of it in money. However, if we start shipping them much needed locomotives and boxcars, and so on, the cry will go up that these things are badly needed at home. Whatever attitude one takes, he must admit that America is now a world power and cannot escape responsibilities of world leadership. On one hand we do not wish to permit people to starve and democracy crumble, while on the other hand we do not want to set up a world-wide W. P. A.

An article in the current issue of The United States News points out that we have already committed in cash and credit for world relief and rehabilitation the staggering sum of $31,885,000,000. This includes credit to the extent of $9 billion, UNRRA contributions of $2 1-2 billion, the cost of our occupying forces at $1,201,000,000, funds pledged to the World Bank and to the International Monetary Fund at $4 billion, loans made by the Export-Import Bank, and so on for additional billions.

Within a few days the House Labor Committee is expected to report out a comprehensive bill amending and changing our labor laws. The cry will go up immediately that Congress is hostile to labor. Such is not the case. Congressmen generally know that 25 per cent of the big C. I. O. unions are controlled and dominated by Communists who would like to destroy the country. They recognized that a half-dozen labor czars throughout the country now have it within their power to stymie and destroy American economy. They wish to protect all of the people, which of course includes labor.

Under union policy of spreading work and protecting union members, the House has discovered many absurd practices. For example, painters unions in Chicago will not permit the use of brushes wider than a certain number of inches because the work is finished too quickly. A typographical union in New York requires the forms used in every ad to be broken up and melted after one run even though the same ad is to be duplicated a half-dozen times. This costs one paper there more than $60,000 a year. A small dairyman in Connecticut who had been in business twenty years and employed nine men, was told his plant must be unionized. When he hesitated, the Teamsters Union threw 200 pickets from New York around his place. A war veteran who tried to drive a truck of milk from the dairy was stopped, the milk poured out, and he was severely beaten and left lying on the roadside.

Such practices have been going on throughout the country. Congress proposes to outlaw this sort of activity.

Apple Tree Versus Wheat Field

If you ever visit Jeb Crowell's farm, he'll take you right out on that back porch of his and show you his apple tree.

"There," says Jeb, "is nature's noblest creation—fifty years, and herein still the finest cider apples in the county!"

But last fall, when a group of us was there, Lud Denny points across the river to his grain fields and says: "There's an even finer sight! Acres and acres of golden grain you can make dozens of appetizing things with—including wholesome, sparkling beer."

Both of them got so eloquent on the subject, that the rest of us worked up quite a thirst; so Jeb goes to the icebox for beer and cider. And when the refreshments come, Lud chooses cider, and Jeb takes the beer!

From where I sit, that's the answer to most disputes. You can talk all you want, but when it comes to tastes and preferences, there's just no argument.

TIRE PRESSURE TALKS

Many automobile accidents are caused by the driver's inability to check his tire pressure while cruising along the highway. A new device will warn drivers if their tires are losing air. The tire pressure meter consists of a buzzer and five lights set in a dash-board box, which warn the driver of tire pressure changes. The indicator is wired through to five Monel buttons mounted on the tire rims. When the pressure changes, the button on the tire affected activates a signal which warns motorists against excessive wear on the tire and possible disaster.

Veterans' News

Approval of a 200 bed hospital for Negro veterans at Mound Bayou, Mississippi, has been granted by President Truman and the Federal Board of Hospitalization, the Veterans Administration has announced.

The proposed hospital site is in Bolivar County, near the heart of Mississippi's Delta Section. Approximately 31,000 Negro veterans of World War II reside in this section, which is predominantly Negro in population.

The hospital will be staffed entirely by Negro doctors, nurses and other personnel, VA said.

A total of 4,406 World War II veterans of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi filed applications for conversion of GI term insurance to permanent plans during February, the Veterans Administration announced.

Veterans throughout the United States converted 94,000 policies during the month, compared with a national monthly average of 50,000.

Although the majority of National Service Life Insurance policies in force are on a term basis, veterans are increasing conversions to permanent plans, VA said. Of the 5,784,000 NSLI policies in force on March 1, 1947, about 7 out of 8 were on a term basis. The remainder were distributed among the six available permanent plans.

Twenty-payment life is more popular with veterans than any other permanent plan, VA said.

Loans guaranteed by the Government under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill) have aided more than 43,000 veterans homes, farms and businesses, the Veterans Administration reports. Value of the loans guaranteed is in excess of $230,000.

Approximately 34,000 of the loans, with a value of $181,000, were made to veterans in Texas. In Louisiana, 6,500 veterans received approximately $36,500.

More than 685,000 veterans throughout the United States obtained $3,632,000,000 in loan benefits from the time of the program's inception in September, 1944, through February 25, 1947, VA said.

Questions and Answers
Q. Does my converted National Service Life Insurance have a cash surrender value?
A. Yes. All converted policies have cash surrender values, paid-up insurance and automatic extended term insurance values, together with policy has been in force one full year.

Q. Is it true that National Service Life Insurance pays the insured veterans $5 per month for each $1,000 of insurance in force while he is totally disabled?
A. If the veteran pays the necessary extra premium, he will be paid $5 per month for each $1,000 of insurance in force after he has been totally disabled for 6 consecutive months. Application for the total disability income provision may be made at the time application is made for NSLI or at any time thereafter while the insurance is in force under premium paying conditions.

Q. Is there a time limit for filing for a waiver of premiums on NSLI by the insured, and how far back may a waiver be granted?
A. Application for waiver of premium should be made by the insured immediately after he has been totally disabled for six months. Ordinarily, his waiver will not be made effective for more than one year prior to date of his application. However, the Administrator of Veterans Affairs may make the waiver effective in excess of one year where he determines that the insured's failure to make timely application was due to circumstances beyond his control.

Q. Can I borrow on my converted National Service Life Insurance?
A. Yes. Any converted policy, in force by payment of premiums one year or longer, affords the insured the right to borrow up to 94 per cent of the cash value by submitting a proper loan agreement to the Veterans Administration prior to the expiration of the grace period.

is it? His amendment would give each legislator a salary of $4,000 a year and would prohibit a lawmaker from practicing influence before a state department—but apparently a legislator could still take what is sometimes called a "fee" from somebody whose business is affected by proposed legislation.

Getting around over the State: You remember the tune about the music goes in here and comes out there? Saw a stove in a filling station in Luling that reminds me of the tune. Three sections of old-fashion stove pipe are laid one on top of the other and connected by elbows and that heat goes in at one end, wanders all around and comes out the other. Looks like a Rube Goldberg invention—but it works.

In LaGrange, two grand old oaks stood in the street, so they just ran the paving around them. Incidentally, the winding highway as one enters LaGrange from the south is most picturesque and gives a beautiful view of the town below.

Celebrates His 100th Birthday

S. M. Rainey celebrated his 100th birthday on March 14 at his home at Pearly. All his children except one son, Drew Rainey of Clarksville, were present. With him for the occasion, including relatives from Munday, were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rainey and son, Bob, Jr., and granddaughter, Linda Ruth, Begota; Mrs. Lula Bell Stockton, Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rainey, Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rainey, Mt. Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gray, Munday; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rainey, Mt. Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Whitten and children, Saltito; Mrs. Ada Jennings, Mineral Wells. A number of friends were also present.

Before moving to Franklin county, Mr. Rainey was a resident of Red River county.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that since organized farm safety work began in 1913, 310,000 lives have been saved through farm accident prevention.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bilbrey and son of Sundown spent the week end here with Mrs. Bilbrey's mother, Mrs. MacKenzie, and with Mr. Bilbrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey of Goree. They were enroute home after spending a vacation at Houston, Galveston, and other points.

Tom Morton visited with relatives in Vernon last Sunday.

Many Thanks

I solicit for the new owners the same good patronage you have accorded me.

Home Accidents Kill More Than 34,000 Annually

Home, they say, is a man's castle, but if he took a close look at the accident record there a man would likely complete the picture by donning a suit of armor. Over 34,000 persons were killed in their homes last year; and the toll is rising.

More persons are accidentally killed in the home than any other place. Yet little can be done about cutting down the death and accident rates in homes except to constantly remind persons of the dangers that confront them in their own so-called havens, says the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives. Accident prevention in the home is a matter of self-discipline and alertness, and accidents cannot be curbed by safety rules and regulations such as are practiced in industry or on the highways. It's up to the individual to watch out for himself.

Nearly every accident in the home is due to two causes, says the Bureau. They are (1) a dangerous thing and (2) a careless person.

A dangerous thing may be a curling iron, a kitchen knife, a charge of electricity, even a toy. But not all of them are equally dangerous. Most of them are harmless until they become the cause of an accident through personal carelessness. On the other hand, there are things like electricity, gasoline and sharp-edged tools which become extremely dangerous with only the slightest amount of carelessness. Alertness and self-policing leads a person to instinctively use caution when handling the more dangerous things.

Another phase of accident prevention in the home is the location of the "danger spots." Stairways top the list, because falls on stairways account for almost one-fourth of all home accidents. Many of these are fatal. Next to stairways, the most dangerous spot is the yard. Falls and heavier tools, such as lawn mowers, hoes and rakes, account for the accident rate jump in the yard.

The most dangerous room in the home is the kitchen, accounting as it does for approximately one fifth of all home accidents. Being a workshop, the kitchen has more hazardous tools than does any other room of the house. Burns, one of the chief causes of accident death and injury, are most prevalent in the kitchen.

Loose Rugs Dangerous

Living and dining rooms rank second to the kitchen as danger spots. They account for 12 percent of home accidents, because of loose rugs, slippery floors, improperly

Now that income taxes are out of the way, the next big headache is the traditional spring housecleaning which starts March 21 and Lou Costello, the chubby NBC comedian, doesn't intend to be caught napping. Lou, whose partner Bud Abbott sometimes refers to his head as a vacuum, is going to show that he runs things at home, especially the vacuum cleaner. This is one spring floor show that should be a dilly.

Seven Step Cotton Program Is Being Followed By Many Farmers

College Station—The Seven Step Cotton Program is spreading in Texas.

Introduced by the Extension Service in 1945, the program is a cotton farming plan outlined to aid farmers in producing a better grade of cotton with efficient, balanced farm practices. Annual reports figures from the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service show that many cotton producers are following the plan and producing the kind of fiber that brings in added cash on the cotton market.

F. C. Elliott, cotton work specialist of the Extension Service, recently released figures showing some of the results on each of the seven steps that were carried out last year. If these figures cause any cotton producer to become interested in the plan Elliott urges him to see or write his county agricultural agent for local help on the seven steps in his community.

Step no. 1 is "Fit Cotton into Balanced Farming." Last year, 25,669 cotton growers worked with county agricultural agents in making cotton a part of a balanced farm plan.

Step no. 2—"Take Care of Your Soil." In following this step, barnyard fertilizer was applied to cotton land on 7,128 Texas farms; 8,395 farmers planted cotton following legumes and phosphate fertilizers; and over 2000 farmers reported a decrease in cotton rot by following Extension Service recommendations.

Step no. 3—"Control Cotton Insects and Diseases." Since cotton insects ordinarily destroy one bale of cotton for every seven the farmer harvests, insect control is a big part of any cotton program. Elliott reports that 27,841 growers organized into 343 one variety cotton communities last year. By getting together and planting the variety best adapted to their community, these one variety farmers averaged 182 pounds of lint per acre, when the average for the remainder of the states cotton was only 111 lbs. Elliott states that these producers received an extra $36 thousand for their cotton crop.

Step no. 4—"Make Your Labor Count." New labor saving machines are gradually finding their place in Texas cotton farming. Elliott reports 1,100 strippers type cotton harvesting machines in operation last year; 26 farmers used cotton picking machines; and 24 flame cultivators were operated.

Step no. 5—"Control Cotton Insects and Diseases." Since cotton insects ordinarily destroy one bale of cotton for every seven the farmer harvests, insect control is a big part of any cotton program. Elliott reports that 27,841 growers organized into 343 one variety cotton communities last year. By getting together and planting the variety best adapted to their community, these one variety farmers averaged 182 pounds of lint per acre, when the average for the remainder of the states cotton was only 111 lbs. Elliott states that these producers received an extra $36 thousand for their cotton crop.

Step no. 6—"Pick and Gin for High Grade." Following the Extension Service's program, 322 cotton communities received assistance in getting clean, white cotton to the market. Over 1,400 gins in 147 counties applied for the free cotton classing service offered under the Smith-Doxey Act.

Step no. 7—"Sell for Grade, Staple and Variety Value." A marketing division was set up in 95 cotton improvement associations in the state, to give growers a better idea of what their cotton was actually worth, and to keep check on market prices. Nine communities also had cotton spinning tests made.

Much of the state's cotton will be going in the ground soon. Elliott says the Extension Service, as well as many agencies and organizations in the state who have pledged support, is ready to help growers who want to fall in line with the Seven Step Cotton program.

Testimonials like the above letters about the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown are not uncommon. Nor are we surprised at this evidence of long mileage. This extra mileage was scientifically engineered into the tires. First, a wider, flatter tread was developed for longer wear and greater protection against skidding. Second, to hold that huskier tread a new 35% stronger cord body was developed. That's why we say, see us today ... equip your car with the new B.F. Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—A good old fashioned spring house cleaning in every city and community in Texas would do a great deal toward fathering good health in this state according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who said in Austin today, "From practical standpoint the adage that 'Cleanliness is next to godliness' is still worth emphasizing."

A general clean-up program of state-wide proportions with the objective of bettering health conditions for our citizenship should include surface cleaning, drainage, the graveling of streets and alleys, the cleaning of all parks and playgrounds and the clearing of weeds and rubbish off of vacant lots.

"The destruction of mosquito breeding places and rat harborage, the proper disposal of garbage and trash and the general cleaning up of all premises," said Dr. Cox, "will be of inestimable value in helping to keep down summer health hazards such as dysentery, typhoid, and poliomyelitis. Good community housekeeping and ordinary sanitary measures require the prompt removal of all waste matter in and around yards and homes in order to abate the danger of such diseases, and insure good health protection throughout the State."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that many dangerous diseases are filthy-borne, and the only possible way to control them is to eliminate the insanitary conditions responsible for their spread.

NEW BUTTERFAT CHAMP

College Station—Texas has a new butterfat champion—Welcome Volunteer Sable, five year old Jersey cow owned by Chester Elliff of Tulla.

J. W. Davis, Extension dairyman of Texas A. and M. College, has been informed by the American Jersey Cattle Club that the Jersey set a new state record in butterfat production when she produced 18,998 pounds of milk and 1,144 pounds of butterfat in 365 days, on a three time per day milking basis.

Welcome Volunteer Sable's performance topped the 1,077 pound butterfat record made in 1945 by her half sister, Welcome Volunteer Tiff, also owned by Elliff, a former FFA boy. Both Sable and Tiff were sired by the champion bull Welcome Volunteer, then owned by Elliff, who sold the sire last year to a Massachusetts dairy farm.

Sable is now third all time highest butterfat producer of the Jersey breed, according to Dairyman Davis.

Kemgas Plant

This method is recommended by the Texas Experiment Station and the USDA for controlling the germs of cotton diseases on seeds and insect pests in seeds; saving chopping expense; reducing losses from root rot; improving and hastening germination and increasing yields.

Kemgas Delinted Seed Are Planted With Corn Plates At the Rate Of 5 To 7 Pounds Of Seed Per Acre.

Tractors plant more per acre as there are few steps to refill with seed and no fuzz and trash to choke planters, cause skippy rows, and delay planting operations while the boxes are being cleaned.

Kemgas delinted seed come up quicker and grow off faster enabling cultivation a week earlier.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER says:
"Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

We second the motion
We'll do our part!

International Harvester has reduced prices to save users of its products $20,000,000 a year. The reductions apply to a selected list of various products made by the Company.

In making the announcement to the general public last week, International Harvester said:

"We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of goods people buy."

"The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry."

"Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks involved."

As International Dealers we will do our part. We will pass International Harvester's price reductions to our customers.

And now a word of gratitude to our friends who have patiently waited for the new machines they need. As most of our customers are aware, International Harvester has done everything possible—and some things that seemed impossible—to maintain and increase production.

The outlook is somewhat better. Soon we hope to supply equipment to all of those who have cooperated so faithfully with us.

Meanwhile, the same top-quality International Service and Parts that have kept equipment operating for our customers during the difficult years are available from us. We urge our friends to continue to use these facilities to obtain maximum operating economy.

International Harvester is doing its part with quality, increased production and reduced prices.

We will do our part in this territory

Put On a Lid

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Seema, Arkansas

IF YOU aren't a deadbeat and you expect to stay out of bankruptcy and you want a decent credit record, the chances are that you pay your expenses pretty much as you go. When emergencies arise, you watch your budget so that you spend as little as possible. It's a good old American custom to live within income. That's a practice that makes for sturdy citizenship and for community stability.

But here we are, all of us together as a nation, very much wanting to cut our taxes but very leery about reducing budget expenditures. The national budget, you know, represents what we do with our tax money. It is fine to shout hooray when taxes are cut, but it will make more sense if we first learn to whittle down our alarming budget without frowning. A good strong lid on government spending is the only sane route to tax reductions.

Limit THE PRESIDENT Expenses has proposed a budget of $37,500,000, 900 which Congress is currently reviewing. Sentiment exists in Congress for a ceiling on federal spending much lower than the budget recommended by the President. Congress, as soon as possible, should place a limit of $30,000,000,000 above which federal spending may not go. Ultimately, a budget of $20,000,000,000 ought to be adequate to run our federal machinery.

Most citizens claim little comprehension of these astronomical figures. Twenty billion may seem more like measurements characteristic of distances to the stars. But the figure is dollars. This proposed peace-time expenditure program of $37,500,000,000 is $9,350,000,000 more than we spent for non-defense items in 1946, not counting interest on the national debt.

Possible THIS astronomical Reduction budget means that almost $300 is asked from every living American. It is estimated that such a budget would cost the average family $1,000 in taxes this year. Budget in hand, your pencil will show you in short order that we have no better way to get out from under our tax burdens than to limit our spending.

Senator Byrd says there has been very little reduction in war-expanded personnel of government. Not counting the various war agencies, Senator Byrd points to constantly increasing personnel totals. These jumped nearly 300,000 since V-J Day. Moneywise, this tendency is graphically shown by the request of the Department of Commerce for $261,000,000 in 1948. This is an increase of 600% over the $39,000,000 this department spent in 1932.

Budget reductions reviewed by Congressional committees have suggested elimination of about one-half million federal payrollers. This is all too few. To bring the number of civilian employees of the government down to the swollen figure of 1939 we must lay off 1,500,000. (We'd still have 900,000 eating from the public breadbasket). This would be a most logical way to avoid an annual expenditure of more than five billion dollars. This could be money saved. It's out of your pockets and mine.

Doctor Hails Sister Kenny Polio Method

Paying high tribute to Sister Elizabeth Kenny as "a brilliant woman," Dr. John F. Pohl, prominent orthopedic surgeon and professor at the University of Minnesota Medical School, told the 1946 Annual Conference of Kenny Foundation State Chairman that those members of the medical profession who have seen her work are convinced she has discovered "a great truth" about polio.

Nearly 100 chairmen and field directors from 25 states heard Dr. Pohl declare "something new has been added" to the old idea of infantile paralysis by Sister Kenny. Treatment in the United States, he added, has not been satisfactory and will not be until Sister Kenny's new concept is accepted generally. He said:

"According to the old idea of the disease as being purely and simply in the spinal cord, deformities were inevitable. All we doctors could do was repair the damage in the limbs after the disease had passed and left us a crippled child.

Attacks Muscles Too
"Sister Kenny holds that the disease in the spinal cord is only a part of the picture. She believes it works on the muscles too, making them tense and stiff and painful.

"You cannot treat the spinal cord. But this condition in the muscles is a separate thing entirely and it is something which can be treated. When rightly handled, this treatment will reduce crippling and prevent practically all deformity."
Dr. Pohl, one of the first specialists in the United States to give Sister Kenny a hearing when she arrived here in 1940, has been medical head of the Kenny Institute since its founding. He is a graduate of the Harvard Medical School and studied abroad for some time before beginning his practice in Minneapolis.

TURKEY TO ENGLAND

College Station—Arrangements have been made between the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the British Food Ministry to step up shipment of frozen turkey to the British Isles, which otherwise would have to further reduce the meat ration.

The green color of emeralds is due to small quantities of chromium in the jewels. When this same chromium is added to steel along with nickel, the resultant alloy is a hard, strong wear-resistant metal, nickel-chrome steel, often used in gears and axles.
