Fight May End in The State Courts

KNOX CITY GIN PAYS DIVIDEND OF $4 PER BALE

Over 9,100 Bales of Cotton Ginned Last Season

The Cotton Growers Cooperative Gin Company of Knox City will pay a bonus of $4.00 per bale on cotton ginned by that gin during the past season, Barney Arnold, manager announced last week end.

The Knox City gin handled 9,100 bales from the 1937 crop and will pay out to farmers who ginned with them $36,400, Arnold stated. Approximately 280 farmers of the Knox City area will receive checks.

The record of the gin was one of the largest on record for a single season but has been passed by several gins of the south plains of Texas, according to reports.

Enough money was reserved from the dividend to pay all taxes and make all necessary repairs in making the gin ready to run for the next season.

Foytik Purchases Partners Interest In Piggly Wiggly

Announcement was formally made this week by Charles Foytik, co-owner and manager of the Piggly Wiggly Grocery store here for the past eight years that he had sold his interest in the business.

His partner, Edwin Foytik, purchased the interest of Foytik and will be sole owner of the firm in the future.

Foytik is carrying an announcement ad in this weeks issue of the Times of the change of ownership personnel.

Mayes Will Open Oliver Implement Concern in City

Jack Mayes, manager of the Graham Mill and Elevator announced this week that he will open a tractor and implement firm here in the Stodghill building.

Mayes will handle the Oliver line of tractors and implements and will also sell Red River threshers and combines. He will have a repair shop in connection with the business.

Read his advertisement for details in this issue of the Times.

CORRECTION!

In last week's issue of the Munday Times it was stated in the story headed "Auto Crash Fatal to Graham Baby Sunday," that P. B. Broach, Jr., was released on a bond of $5,000, which would imply a serious nature in his connection with the crash. His bond was actually set at $1,000, thus lessening his part in the incident. We are glad to make this correction.

FARM PROGRAM IS PASSED BY SENATE 56 to 31

Benefits and Higher Prices Guaranteed Farmers

FARMERS WILL PROFIT BY BILL

Ever Normal Granary Seen For All of America

The Senate Monday completed congressional action on the administration's "ever normal granary" crop control bill after crushing opposition from livestock, poultry and dairy industries. It now goes to the White House for signature.

The Senate voted 56 to 31 to accept the house-approved conference report on the measure which is a compromise version of the farm bill originally passed by both chambers and which will cost about $500,000,000 to administer.

The roll call showed two Republicans and one Independent voted with 53 Democrats to approve the measure while two Farmer-Laborites, one Progressive, 11 Republicans and 17 Democrats opposed it.

Plenty of Opposition
The rewritten bill encountered a stubborn, three-day fight from western and mid-western senators who charged it discriminates against the livestock, poultry and dairying industries and that it means "more regimentation" of the farmer.

The revolt virtually collapsed under a ruling by Vice-President John Nance Garner that the conferees had authority to revise the McNary-Boileau amendment, crux of the fight. The amendment was designed to protect the three industries by prohibiting the sale of any commodities grown on land withdrawn from major crop production.

Seeks Stabilization
As finally approved the measure seeks to stabilize prices and production of major farm commodities in an all-weather program extending the scope of the present soil conservation act. It is to be financed at the outset with $440,000,000 available annually under the soil conservation legislation which was enacted after the agricultural adjustment act was invalidated.

It provides for control of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco crops through acreage allotments in "normal" years, and for a system of marketing quotas and penalty taxes (Continued on Page Eight)

Gaynil Scott's Calf Wins Grand Champion Ribbon in Calf Show

Termed by visitors as the outstanding 4-H event in history of the county, the annual Knox County 4-H Calf Show sponsored by the Munday Chamber of Commerce was witnessed by hundreds of visitors here last Saturday.

Twenty-nine club members from all sections of the county showed the best grade of calves ever displayed in all previous shows, catlemen declared.

After judging the entrants, Ralph Howe, Crosby county agent, stated to this paper that the calves shown would show well in any calf show to be held in this section, and he described them as the best 4-H calves he had seen this year.

Scott Feeds Winner
Gaynil Scott, Vera club boy, stole the show by winning three honors during the day, one being the junior class champion, a white face Hereford, "Chubby," who also received the title of Grand Champion of the show.

L. N. Bridges, Knox City club member, carried off top honors in the senior division of the show when his white face calf won the championship over twelve entrants for that class.

Winners of other prizes in the senior calves were: second, Elton Scott, Vera; third, Bobby Armstrong, Knox City; fourth, Joe Dean Clough, Munday; and fifth, Gaylon Scott, Vera. Other calves shown in that class were by Joe Dean Clough, Munday; Darwin Shipman, Vera; Charles Roberson, Vera; Arnold Koenig, Munday; Marion Chowning, Truscott; Junior Montandon, Knox City and Wade McGuire of Vera. Each boy entering a calf was awarded a $2.00 prize.

Winners of the Junior division were listed as follows: second, Junior Montandon, Knox City; third,

BANQUET PLANS SET

Sunset Eagles to Play Breckenridge Quintet In District 6 Tourney

Game is Scheduled for Saturday Morning at 10

WEINERT DREW CISCO QUINTET

Finals Slated for Saturday Night at 8 p.m.

Sunset Eagles with the impressive record of 32 victories in 35 starts during the past season, won the right to represent Knox county in district play for the state championship when they won the county title Saturday night here. They will play in the district six meet at Breckenridge this week end.

In the drawings for brackets, the Eagles were given a break by getting into the lower bracket, thus earning a bye in the first round of play. Their first tilt will be with Breckenridge Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Should the Eagles win the first game they will play the winner of Stephens and Erath counties, tilt at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

The relative strength of Breckenridge compared to Sunset could not be definitely ascertained, but dopsters have opined that Sunset is conceded an even break at least against the Brecks.

Weinert Plays Cisco

Weinert, winner of Haskell county, will play Cisco in the first round of play at 7 p.m. Friday night, and a win will pit them against the winner of the Callahan-Palo Pinto county entrants tilt, at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. A victory in that game will throw them against either the entrants from Throckmorton or Shackelford counties.

Work Sheets For Farm Program to Be Signed Soon

Work sheets are now being filled out in county agent W. W. Rice's office for the 1937 cotton crop to make each farmer participating in the program eligible for the subsidy payments.

Each work sheet must be signed before payment can be made, Rice announced, and during the past week he mailed out announcements to farmers urging them to call at his office for this purpose.

Indications for the farm program, Rice stated, are that the 1937 work sheets will be used largely to work out the new program's operation.

The AAA office is doing everything possible to have the new farm program rounded out so that it can be presented to farmers before planting time.

Rice stated that it was very important that a work sheet be made out on all crop land in the county, and he urged farmers to cooperate in preparing the work sheets as they will play an important role should Congress pass a compulsory farm program.

ANNEX FOURTH BASKETBALL TITLE OF THE YEAR—

Sunset Wins County Meet

Sunset high school dominated the county basketball championship play by copying two titles on the Munday gym last Saturday night, in the senior boys and girls divisions.

The only other class of play, the junior boys, was won by Goree when they won handily over Benjamin 13 to 2. Cowzar, forward for Goree, was the spearhead of his team's attack with six points.

In the senior girls division only two teams were entered, Sunset, defending champions, and Knox City. The teams were evenly matched with the lead switching throughout the game.

Sunset led at the half by 14-11, but Knox City pulled up with a one point lead at the end of the third period. In the closing minutes of the game Sunset forged ahead to win the title again by the score of 26 to 19. Cheek, forward for Sunset, led both teams in scoring honors with 18 points, while her teammate, N. Griffith, had six points and Nix made 2.

McElroy, Knox City forward, garnered six points to lead her team. The Sunset Eagles quintet, doped to win the county for their second consecutive year, played brilliant ball in the finals to stop Benjamin 39 to 24 for the crown.

In the first round of play the Eagles were given a scare when the Knox City Greyhounds pulled up within three points at the end of the game. The final score was 44 to 41.

Saturday morning the Eagles had a picnic in whipping Munday by the one-sided score of 55 to 21 in a listless tilt.

Benjamin to Finals
Benjamin sailed past Truscott in the opening round of play to reach the finals by the score of 40 to 16. Playing a heady game in the

THE ADVENTURES OF OZZIE

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Two hopeful developments for the growing number of Texans who believe that something more is necessary than a mere general belief in "economy in government and abolition of useless bureaus"—the litany of every aspiring politician—if any real progress toward curbing wasteful expenditure of tax funds, have occurred recently.

The first of these is the announced plan of Senator John Redditt of Lufkin, chairman of the Senate finance committee, to begin work within 30 days on the biennial appropriation bills for 1938-9. He heads a special Senate committee to which this task has been delegated, including Senators Harold Beck of Texarkana; A. M. Aiken, Jr., of Paris; Vernon Lemens, of Rainbow and Morris Roberts of Pettus. All are holdovers, not up for re-election.

New Procedure
The plan is a distinct departure, and holds promise of an intelligent approach to the vexing business of appropriating funds to operate the State's departments. Redditt favors a single appropriation bill to finance the departmental, educational, eleemosynary, judiciary and rural school aid operations. He hopes to have the bill ready to place in the hands of the legislators early in the fall soon after the elections, so that time can be had for comprehensive study. Heretofore, too often the appropriation bills have been hastily drafted, and more hastily passed in the dying hours of the regular session, with inadequate consideration resulting in inevitable waste and extravagance.

By having a single bill, drafted after long and careful study, and finally approved by a single conference committee, instead of five different bills, handled by different committees, and agreed to by five sets of conferees, Redditt hopes to obtain a properly balanced appropriation schedule and effect substantial economies in State operation.

Budget Officer Needed
The bills will, of course, be based upon the budget estimates made by the Board of Control, which is the State's official budgeting organization. Incidentally, virtually every fiscal expert who has taken a look at Texas' set up has agreed that one of the first steps necessary to effect efficiency and economy in Texas government is the creation of the office or budget director, to be filled by a trained man with budgets prepared sufficiently far in advance to give the legislators time to adequately study and consider them before passage. These experts have pointed out the incongruous situation of the Board of Control—which is the State's largest spending body—preparing the budgets for itself and all other departments. The Board of Control in recent years has become so burdened with a multitude of other duties delegated by the Legislature, including relief, old age pensions, and other new activities that its members do not have time to do the budgeting job properly.

Other Needs Listed
Next in importance, according to those interested in economy, is the need for laws doing away with the 99 special funds in the State treasury, placing all the state's income in a single general fund from which appropriations are made by the Legislature to the various departments and agencies. This could be accomplished by passage of simple statute, except for school funds, which are earmarked by constitutional provision.

Another reform which could be accomplished by a simple statute is a change in the state's auditing methods. The State Auditor now is appointed by the Governor. Reformists believe the auditor should be responsible solely to the Legislature, and that he should be without political affiliations or influences, with a long tenure of office, and sufficient staff and funds to see to it that every penny of State funds is expended as directed by the law-makers.

Second Development
Announcement by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce of its plans for an extensive survey of the tax burden from the counties on up, and the retention of Curtis Morris, Longview publisher, and research expert, to head up this important task, also offers promise of some effective achievement in reducing unnecessary expenditures for Government. Tax committees of prominent citizens already are being set up by the East Texas C of C on the 100 counties it serves, who will interest themselves on a strictly non-political basis, in public expenditures and in analysis of old and new tax laws. Studies made by Hubert Harrison, manager of the C of C, and others, have revealed that some wonderfully effective work has been done by use of a similar plan in several other states. In some cases, substantial reductions in State expenditures have been accomplished without cutting down on necessary governmental functions.

"The REST Of the Record"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

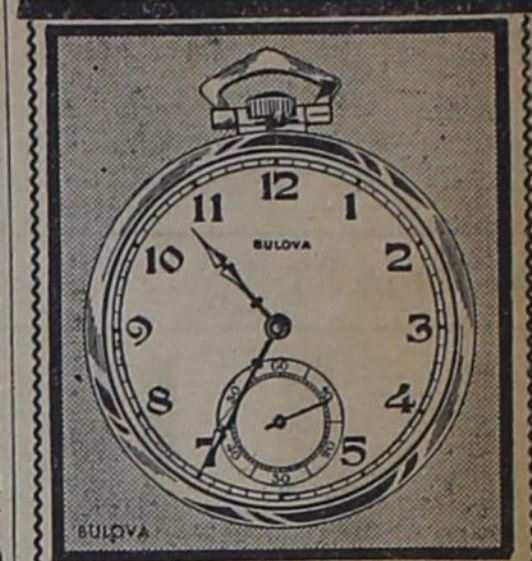

Washington.—Mrs. Allred and I are in Washington at the invitation of Vice President and Mrs. Garner to attend their annual dinner honoring the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. We found all of them in splendid health and the best of spirits. All the Texas Congressional delegation are quite busy especially Connally and Senator Shepard in their fight against the Anti-Lynching Bill and for the Farm Bill. While here I am trying to look after several pending matters in which the State is interested.

Before leaving Austin the past week, I requested the Attorney General to file suit to cancel one of the Land Commissioner's famous leases on Gulf Coast lands. The requested cancellation was based on two grounds, first, because the small cash consideration with no drilling obligations was so unconscionable on its face as to amount to legal fraud, and second, because the parties receiving the lease had not complied with the law requiring them to drill offsets where production had been secured within one thousand feet of State lands.

The Attorney General promptly advised me that he would file this suit on the grounds set out in my letter thereby confirming by contention that these leases ought to be cancelled. I then officially requested him to file suit to cancel eight other leases, but he has been quoted as saying that he would have to study the facts in each case and that he would probably file only one suit as a test case. Of course if he waits for the case to go through all the courts, then the State's rights in the other tracts cannot be protected. They will be proved either dry or productive before the one suit can be disposed of. Also in the meantime, these leases can be sold to others who can claim to be innocent purchasers.

ers. The Attorney General is also quoted as saying that there's a good deal of politics involved in my requesting him to sue to cancel these leases. He ought to be the last person on earth to talk about somebody playing politics. If the Attorney General thinks my request was for political purposes then he should not file the suits. He either approves or disapproves of the manner in which the Land Commissioner has leased our public lands. He certainly should have an opinion that it is either legal or illegal, one or the other. The fact remains that lands belonging to the school children have been frittered away. They can be gotten back. I've done my part and the Attorney General is the only one who can get these mineral rights back. It is up to him.

Driving Out Tuberculosis

Seventy thousand persons die in the United States each year from tuberculosis, although the number is decreasing largely through the efforts of the National Tuberculosis Association.

The association's annual Early Diagnosis Campaign will be conducted this year in April, the 11th such campaign in the United States. The drivers are started for the purpose of uncovering new and unrealized cases of tuberculosis, and to encourage treatment of cases already known.

By bringing the disease forcibly to the attention of the nation, the association has done much to prevent infectious spread, to place sufferers where they may be cared for, and to uncover incipient cases before they are actually into the illness stage.

All the association asks is that if you have any of the tuberculosis symptoms—tiredness, loss of strength and weight, a pain in the chest, continual coughing—you be carefully examined. A simple request and a life saver.

Fads of 1888

The following notes on fads and fashions of a half century ago are taken from a column for women published in a Nashville newspaper in 1888.

There is a great run on watered silk, and no girl of the period's wardrobe is without one this season.

The cold water treatment for a beautiful complexion is said to be gaining more converts every day.

Bangles would appear to have become the craze again, and finest silver threads the favorite.

The admiral's hat did not have a long run because it made the average woman look like a guy.

Prayerbooks bound in colors to correspond with the ecclesiastical seasons are exhibited.

Solid silver paper knives in the form of a Damascus sword have crept in among wedding presents.

Many women who "go in for comfort" cling to the fur-lined circular, regardless of the fact that the garment is not as fashionable as it was.

Several strings of pearls around the neck have, to a great extent, taken the place of the velvet band in connection with evening dress.

The United States will be a nation when the people of each state understand the problems of the peoples of the other 47 states and while some progress has been made along this line, the day is still far away.

A jug of bootleg whiskey exploded when placed near a steam radiator and blew out the windows of a police station in Chicago.

The Use of Words

How often do we find difficulty in thinking of just the right word to express a certain idea? Even the best writers must often stop to weigh their words in order to hit upon the most appropriate one, while few speakers can observe all the niceties of expression without writing out their speeches and memorizing them beforehand.

This is not due to any lack of words in the English language, however. Possibly it may be a result of our having too many words to choose from. The latest unabridged dictionaries contain more than 400,000 words, and the list is increasing constantly.

Noah Webster's first dictionary published in 1828, contained only about 70,000 words; the edition of 1864 included 114,000, and that of 1890 about 175,000 as compared with the 400,000 recognized words today.

Yet President Wilson, who was one of the foremost masters of English, in 75 public addresses used a total of only 6,221 different words. In three of his published books, however, he used about 40,000. This shows that vastly more words are used in writing than in speaking.

A leading lexicographer estimates that the educated person of fair ability understands on the average about 50,000 words, but uses only a small part of that number in either speaking or writing. The mass of people know and use less than 8,000 words out of the 400,000 available.

Our Own Advice: Let nobody make you believe that you can get rich quick through the purchase of stocks that are "sure" to advance.

If talking has ever settled a human problem we have yet to learn in the incident, which gives you a fair idea of our opinion of most speeches.

The Boy Scouts will take charge of Washington the latter part of the month; the Boy Scouts will really take charge of the nation some year later on.

It is possible that politics will ruin the banking system of the nation but this won't be much worse than what the bankers did for it a few years ago.

Battleships now under construction by the leading nations of the world are not intended for pleasure cruisers, regardless of what the builders might contend.

You may not have the best stock of goods in this area and your mark-up may be the most reasonable, but unless you advertise, brother, the buyers will pass you by.

The war in Spain continues to kill men, women and children; how much simpler would it have been to let the voting determine which faction would run the nation!

We have it on good authority that Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese are anxiously working for world peace: in fact, we get the word from Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese.

The 135-year-old bell which hangs in the Town House of Milford, N.H., was cast in 1802 by Paul Revere, and has sounded a death knell for every president but George Washington.

Each of the guests were dressed to represent a nationally known advertisement slogan to furnish clever comedy for the evening.

Chief diversion of the evening was games of "84" after which refreshments were served. The Valentine motif was carried out in all decorations and by the refreshment plates.

Freshman Report!

The midterm exams left the Freshmen feeling jolly, because they made good grades.

We are glad to welcome Wayne Thompson of Munday to our class. Wayne, we hope you will find our school very interesting.

We are getting along very nicely with our vocabulary study. We are learning the definition, pronunciations, and how to make sentences of different words.

The Freshmen had themselves vaccinated against smallpox, too. The only thing is we wish we could have been vaccinated on our right arms instead of the left.

Those having a perfect attendance and being on the honor roll for the semester are: Room III, Rosa Lee Andrae, Theresia Andrae, Florine Decker, Nadine Kreutz, Bernadine Homer, Bernard Kuehler.

Perfect Attendance: Rosa Lee Andrae, Theresia Andrae, Florine Decker, Joseph Birkenfeld, T. J. Hoffman, Elsie Schumacher, Mildred Stengel, Kenneth Blaschke, Weldon Herring, Bernard Kuhler, Francis Redder, Rayford Gene Chandler, T. W. Struck.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

Records prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that by far the majority of the students are really in dead earnest to make the most of their school days.

Sincere congratulations and good wishes to the following: High School Honor Roll

Senior Report

We are very glad that mid-term examinations are over. We are also very glad of the fact that we made good grades, and believe it or not, a feeling of sadness creeps over us when we think that these exams were our last mid-term exams.

All seniors passed their finals in civics. This course has proved to be not only interesting but highly informational and instructive. We wish not to boast, but we feel as if we really know our civics.

The seniors enjoyed the Valentine party very much. It takes more than a pouring rain to spoil our fun.

Junior Report!

The first semester examinations are over. The Juniors are exceedingly proud of their records made during the first half of this school term.

They have completed the drama in English literature and are having a general review of the orations, dramas and short stories.

Survivors are her husband, E. M. Patrick, and children; and three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Leerstang, Mrs. Allene Wallace, Mrs. Inez Boyd, and two sons, Claud E. Clark and Roy Lee Clark, all of Kilgore; her mother, Mrs. E. Y. Nance of Knox City, five sisters, two brothers and five grandchildren.

Sophomore Report!

The Sophomores gave a good account of themselves during the first semester. Eight of the eleven in class made the honor roll. Four of our class have also a perfect attendance record.

The Science Club held a regular meeting Wednesday. The topics discussed proved to be very educational and interesting.

We are very glad to welcome W. B. Thompson to our class. We hope he will like our school.

The sophomores discussed current events during their history class Wednesday.

We are very grateful of the fact that our school board takes an interest in the protection of the health of the community by prevention of disease rather than cure.

THE STRANGER

He cut my wander, he raked my leaves— I did not know his name— Or whether from the East or West The ragged stranger came.

I gave him bread, and from my store, Brought out a garment warm— "Too bad to be upon the road When it is sure to storm."

The stranger, clad in my warm coat, Pressed to His side in deep humility, But He touched my tear wet eyes and said: "Ye did it unto Me!"

A TOAST

A toast to the days that are lonely, And a cheer for the days that are sad; For these do not come to us only, There's a host of good things to be had.

Then here's to the dreams that were ours— May they sleep where we buried them deep While we, with the changing of hours, Dare to build with a mind better skilled.

And love—shall we mention it too? Then to lip with your glass as we sip To eyes and to hearts which we knew With a skip in our breath and a slip.

For this is the toast of a singer To the songs which have died in his throat; May one of the choruses linger To be sung once again through each note.

A DOG'S SONG

I was some child's baby, I was some mother's girl But now I'm only a doggie Found out in the world.

I love my mother Wherever I may roam, But I will never see her, So I'd better make a home.

Once I found me a home, Way out in the West, With a lot of little girls Who loved me the best.

Now I am safe, Way out in the West, And here I know I will like my home the best.

Deputy State Supt. Compliments Knox Schools

The following letter was received by County Superintendent J. Lyndal Hughes from Mr. John L. Beard, Deputy State Superintendent District No. 3:

Childress, Texas
February 11, 1938
Benjamin, Texas.

Dear Mr. Hughes:
To the best information obtainable your applications are in line for approval and all will very likely go through in good shape. About the only thing lacking is the approval of the State Auditor, and I am sure they are in line for his approval.

It is impossible for him to make an accurate estimate of the percentage that will be paid this year. Just as soon as the Auditor's approval is passed on all of the applications in the state the percentage will be figured and you will be advised at once. I regret that this delay is necessary and I hope to be able to furnish it for you in a short time for I have heard many good reports from the schools of your county and, I am sure they are all progressing nicely.

Yours very truly,
John L. Beard,
Deputy State Superintendent,
District No. 3.

Former Mundayite Is Buried Sunday At Weslaco, Texas

Another of the pioneer builders of the early days of Munday passed away last week end when R. L. "Bob" Reeves, now of Weslaco, Texas, succumbed to a lingering illness Friday afternoon.

Setting in this area before the town site of Munday was established Mr. Reeves pioneered the pioneers. He made the Reeves-Musser addition to the city, which starts at the street on the north side of the city square and runs north to the present city limits.

The deceased had been in ill health for the past four years and was forced to submit to major surgery in January, when a leg was amputated. Death came suddenly and was a surprise to the immediate family as he was believed to be recovering nicely.

Funeral services were held in Weslaco Sunday afternoon and burial was made in that city. Reeves moved from this city to Abilene in 1912 and later moved to the valley. He was the son of "Uncle George" Reeves, who pioneered this section of Texas, and was a cousin of J. E. Reeves of this city.

A. O. Lilly, of Throckmorton, father of Mrs. Sebern Jones, visited in the Jones home this week.

RECOMMENDATION FOR TODAY

Royal Eating In This New Egg Plant Dish

Royal Eating—that's what we expect from the beautiful purple Egg Plants appearing now in all the vegetable markets. And Royal Eating is exactly what this new Scalloped Egg Plant dish offers. It's savory and smooth and flavorful—heaped in twin boats made from two halves of the purple shell, or served piping hot in a regular casserole. It adds an interesting new note to the Sunday Fried Chicken dinner. And it is the perfect vegetable accompaniment for any of the other delicately flavored meats—such as veal or lamb.

- 1 large egg plant 2 tbs. all-purpose flour
1 small onion 4 tbs. milk
6 large fresh mushrooms (or a 1/2 tsp. salt
No. 1 can of mushrooms) Pepper and paprika
2 tbs. butter 2 tbs. fine cracker crumbs

Slice egg plant in two lengthwise. Cook the two halves in boiling salted water just until tender, about 15 minutes. Scoop out pulp and dice finely. Brown the diced onion and mushrooms, cut up small, in butter. Stir in flour, then milk, and add seasonings. Mix with egg plant. Fill the egg plant shells and cover with buttered crumbs. place in casserole and bake 20 minutes. TEMPERATURE: 440° F., moderately hot oven. AMOUNT: 8 servings. NOTE: This may be baked in a shallow baking dish in place of the egg plant shells. Place scalloped mixture directly in dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake as directed.

Betty Crocker Advises

Question: What is the difference between a "scalloped" dish and an "au gratin" dish?

Answer: "Au gratin" is a French term meaning "covered with crumbs." These crumbs may be cracker or bread crumbs—essential to make it an "au gratin" dish. A "scalloped" dish is understood to be fish, meat, vegetable or a combination of these, cut in small pieces and baked with a liquid or sauce, or some substantial material, to give it body. Usually this is a bread crumb mixture. The top of the scalloped dish is usually covered with buttered crumbs. This dish is "done" when the sauce bubbles up through the top crumb mixture. Food combinations of this sort were first baked in scallop shells—that's how they came by their name. You'll find them sometimes called "escalloped" dishes—the word spelled with an "e" before it.

Question: Why does the milk curdle in scalloped potatoes?

Answer: There are several things that will cause the milk to curdle. Milk that is a little old is a common reason, or too much salt. The most common cause is baking the potatoes in too hot an oven. Too high a temperature will cause the milk to break down and separate. I always scald the milk before pouring it over the raw potatoes (seasoning with salt, pepper and often cheese) in my baking dish, or else make a thin white sauce and use it with potatoes which are partially cooked. Above all, remember to use an oven that is only moderate (not over 350°).

SUNSET SENIORS ON PARADE!

By FRANCES GRAY

William Fuller Shannon was born March 10, 1921, near Wild Horse Creek, west of Sunset. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Shannon. Fuller has lived in the Sunset community most of his life. Last year he moved to the Munday community, but now he is back in the good old Sunset community!

When Fuller was a sub-junior, he entered in declamation, and won first place in the county. The next year he entered junior declamation and won second place. Last year Fuller went to district in senior declamation. This year he has decided to try his hand at debate. Fuller started playing basketball with the juniors when he was in the fifth grade, and continued to play with them until he was a sophomore in high school, when he started playing with the seniors. He was a valuable man on the senior team last year, and one of the two best guards this year.

KEEPING TAB ON The Eagles

By BUDDY BUMPAS

Eagles Are County Champs For Two Straight Years

The Sunset Eagles took their three game schedule in the county tournament with 136 points to their opponents 85 points, although Captain Stogner was not in the line-up.

The Eagles first game was with Knox City Friday night, and at the half the Eagles were leading by scores of 42 to 10. After the half Coach Kimbrough sent in the second team and let Knox City run up a few points. Then the first team went back into the game and Sunset received a real scare. The game ended with Sunset leading by only three points. Saturday morning at eleven o'clock Sunset took a game from the Munday Moguls with scores of 52 to 18. Saturday night Sunset played Benjamin in the finals. Although the Eagles took the game by a good margin, the hustling Mustangs kept them fighting to win. The scores stood 39 to 24 in Sunset's favor at the closing whistle.

The Eagles will enter the district tournament at Breckenridge this week-end, and their first game is with Breckenridge. The Eagles are expected to give plenty of competition to their opponents, although their average height is one or two inches under six feet.

GIRLS BEAT KNOX CITY FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP
 As there are only two girls' teams in Knox county, the Sunset and Knox City teams were scheduled to play for county championship Saturday night, February 12, in the Munday gym. This made the fourth time the two teams have met this year, and each time the teams have kept within five points of each other. Sunset has won twice, and K.C. once. Saturday night the two teams played a good game, but the Sunset girls were victorious with the score 26-19. The Sunset girls played a good game and the fans are proud of them.

The girls have started volleyball now, and all are anxious to get a game as soon as they get a little practice.

Home Ec Girls Make Progress In Sewing Work
 In Home Economics the junior and senior girls are sewing. Monday they took lessons on the machines. They learned how to thread the machine, thread the bobbin, fill the bobbin, and place it in the shuttle. Tuesday they sewed brown paper to see how many could make a straight line. Then they took a compass and made several rings on paper and went around these. It was surprising how many girls didn't know how to pedal a machine. But they are all trying hard, and eventually they will be able to sew without any help. For the first problem the girls are going to make pajamas or shorts. Each girl is supposed to have her pattern by Thursday, and she is to have her material by Monday.

Junior Class Selects Play
 The junior class held a meeting last Tuesday to select their class play for this year. They have not selected the play yet but they have ordered a number of plays to select from. They expect to have their play in full swing some time in the near future. Watch this column for the name of the Junior Class play. The juniors last year had an excellent play, but the juniors this year are going to try to show you what a good play really is.

Seniors Give A Surprise Social Monday Afternoon
 The Seniors held a very quiet, but very enjoyable Valentine party Monday afternoon. It was quite an enjoyable surprise to the class, when, instead of class going on as usual, cookies, lemonade, and candy were served. The refreshments were accompanied by Dorothy Gam-mill's explaining why we celebrate Valentine Day each year. She contrasted the verses of former days

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls met Friday, February 11 for their first 4-H club meeting. The following officers were elected: Gena Beth Griffith, president. Wanda Sue Parridge, vice president. Meloy Henderson, reporter. Mrs. I. W. Walling, sponsor. Miss Astin, home demonstration agent.

On February 21 they will have their second meeting. Each girl is to bring a piece of material and make small items for a bedroom. Certain projects must be prepared during the year. Such things as canning, etc. To make the work more interesting, each girl must do these projects before she can go to the banquet, which will be held later.

The children of the grade school are learning songs for Washington, Lincoln and Valentine days.

PARTIES IN GRADE SCHOOL
 The third and fifth grades enjoyed a program given by the fourth grade Monday afternoon. In honor of Valentine Day, they had a postman pass out Valentines. Lemonade, sandwiches, and cookies were served. A number of exciting games were played.

First, Second and Third Grade News
 We are glad to report that most of the children have returned to school from having the chickenpox.

First Second and Third Grades
 For some reason the honor roll for the first and third grades failed to appear in last week's paper. It is being submitted this week.

with those of the present time. A popular verse of the Nineties was: "Roses are red. Violets are blue. Honey is sweet; and so are you." It has been changed until it is now: "Roses are red. Violets are blue. Pecans are nuts and so are you."

Before school began Monday morning Mrs. Cash received her surprise when the seniors presented her with a beautiful Valentine in the form of a box of candy. The day ended with everyone wishing that Valentine would come at least one time a week instead of one time a year.

Using Feeds in Most Efficient Way Profitable

Cotton Growers Seed Worth More if Meal and Hulls Are Fed

"You wouldn't plant a loaf of bread to raise a wheat crop, because for planting, you need seed. For food, on the other hand, a loaf of bread is far more palatable, digestive and efficient than a grain of wheat."

While this may sound absurd, it is an excellent sample of the importance of using products in their most economical form. What is true of human food is true, also, of livestock feed, even though livestock are able to use some feeds—such as grain—without the processing that is necessary with other sources of food.

Cottonseed is a familiar example of this. All of the feed elements contained in cottonseed meal and hulls are contained in the seed but cottonseed is not an efficient feed, whereas cottonseed meal and hulls are economical and efficient feedstuffs. The money received from the sale of a ton of cottonseed will buy 50 to 100 per cent more feeding value in meal and hulls.

Seed Wasteful As Feed
 Both practical experience and Experiment Station research have proved that the feeding of cottonseed is wasteful. The reason for this is obvious, when the products contained in a cottonseed are taken into consideration.

The feeding value of cottonseed is due to the content of meal, hulls and oil. However, a ton of cottonseed contains only, on the average, 904 pounds of uncooked meats (which are converted into meal) and 553 pounds of hulls. There are 232 pounds of lint, dirt, stones and other wastes material in a ton of seed, none of which can be used by the animal, and, in addition, a ton of seed contains approximately 311 pounds of oil, an excessive amount which tends to scour animals and causes them to pass undigested or unused much of the natural food value of the meats and hulls.

Meal More Palatable
 Livestock make much better gains when fed on a palatable feed. For this reason, the fact that cottonseed meal is more palatable than the uncooked meats contained in seed is important in keeping stock on feed and securing efficient use of the feed.

Dairy Producers are particularly interested in the fact that the quality of butter is better when meal and hulls are used than when cottonseed is fed. Excess oil in cottonseed results in brittle, tallowy butter objectionable to the housewife.

Better Returns Secured
 By converting their home-grown seed into cottonseed meal and hulls,

Texas Leads Nation in Beef Cattle Production For Meat Use; First in Lambs and Sheep, but Low in Swine

16 Million Head Beef Cattle Are Now in This State

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 15—The meat produced in the state of Texas in a single year would fill a solid train of refrigerator cars 233 miles in length, according to Howard H. White of the National Live Stock and Meat Board on a statement made here. Mrs. White is in this city to conduct a series of meat lecture-demonstrations before retail meat dealers, housewives, students, teachers and other groups and will spend the month of February in the state.

"Texas occupies a commanding position in the livestock and meat industry," said Mr. White. "The latest figures available show that there are more than 16 million head of meat animals on Texas farms and ranches. Texas leads all other states in the number of beef cattle. It also ranks first in sheep and lamb population. Texas ranks seventh among all states in the production of all meats."

"In addition to the fact that it leads 41 other states in the production of meat, Texas is a state of surplus meat production. The beef produced in Texas annually over and above its own needs, would furnish a three year's supply of beef for a city the size of Baltimore. The annual surplus of lamb would furnish a year's supply of lamb for the combined populations of Chicago and Los Angeles. With pork, however, the situation is different. Texas produces only a little more than half of the pork required for its own use."

Calling attention to the magnitude of the live-stock and meat industry in the United States, Mr. White brought out that the number of meat animals on farms exceeds the human population. Meat is produced on six million farms, processed in 1,100 packing plants and is sold over the counters of 160,000 retail markets. Statistics, based on a five-year average, show that approximately 16 billion pounds of steaks, chops, roasts and stews are consumed annually on American tables, or at the rate of Southern cotton growers get the maximum value from their seed in its most palatable, economical and efficient form for livestock feeding.

In the development of the live-stock industry in the South, no single factor is of greater importance than the efficient use of available feeds.

16 tons per minute.

"Despite the popularity of meat in the American diet," asserted Mr. White, "The United States ranks below three other countries in the per capita consumption of meat. These countries are Argentina, New Zealand, and Australia. In this connection it is of interest to note that these countries rank high among countries in the average life span of their populations."

Calling attention to the marked progress made in recent years in modern methods of meat merchandising, Mr. White stated that the number of beef, pork and lamb cuts now available is the greatest in history. Because of the wide variety of meat cuts, it would be possible for the housewife to serve a different meat dish every meal for at least four months.

He also brought out that a very intensive program of meat research has been in progress in recent years at leading colleges and universities. As a result of this research, the true value of meat as the center of the diet has been established. Meat is now recognized as a richer source of more dietary essentials than any other food, he said.

If drivers were as safe as the new automobiles, there would be few motor car casualties today. The automobile is so superbly built that it is incapable of destructive action except when misused.

Vallee's Memory Test for Popular Songs

Rudy Vallee, A.S.C.A.P., hits the line hard at rehearsals.

By Daniel I. McNamara

RUDY VALLEE, whose radio programs of the past decade have been a short cut to fame and fortune for many present day celebrities, has been successful not alone in the choice of new artists for his long-continued radio entertainments, but also in his selection of popular songs. Like the participants in his programs, his new musical numbers have had a high rating in public acceptance—a fact generally explained by Vallee's rigid requirements.

The relatively short life of current popular songs, due to their being played to an early grave once they have caught on with the public, has multiplied the problems of men like Vallee. Himself a gifted and versatile composer of songs—he is one of the best-known of the popular song creators' representation in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers—he knows the importance of maintaining a steady flow of suitable new songs through his weekly entertainment.

Many are composing and writing popular songs but there are few hits. To select suitable numbers from the material at hand, Vallee has evolved a method of trying out the new numbers on himself. When a song is suggested for radio use, Vallee obtains a recording of the number, plays it in the privacy of his studio or home several times in succession. Then he plays the number from memory several times, usually on the piano. Then the number is forgotten for a week at least.

When he believes a suitable time has elapsed, he tries to play the number again from memory. To the extent that he is able to recall the song, both as to music and words, he gives the number his approval for radio use. If the number has failed to register in his mind, it is discarded as lacking the undefinable qualities that make for popular song success. What these qualities are, Vallee does not attempt to describe. He is convinced that if he doesn't recall the song, the public will be equally unimpressed. Thus he exemplifies the attribute which Elbert Hubbard defined as something rarer than ability... "the ability to recognize ability."

One of the songs linked with Vallee's earlier radio days was the "Stein Song," which he resurrected from comparative oblivion, dressed in suitable orchestration, and made into a national hit.

Among his latest stunts of the same sort is the revival of "Vieni, Vieni," which had a short-lived vogue in Europe several years ago and was unknown until Vallee applied his magic touch and sent it hurtling to the top of the year's best-sellers.

which must be approved in national referendum by two-thirds of the affected farmers, during "bumper" periods.

The measure provides:

1. The authority to the Commodity Credit Corporation to make loans on farm crops when huge surpluses deflate prices. The commodities would be restored under an "ever normal" granary plan during the bumper years for use during lean periods to assure a plentiful supply and reasonable prices to the consumer.
2. Cash Benefits Provided For a $100,000,000 Federal Insurance corporation to underwrite wheat crops against damage or destruction by natural causes and authority to buy them when necessary to stabilize prices and supply.
3. For limitation of benefit payments of $10,000 annually per farmer if he cooperates in the program. A total of $500,000,000 of the available funds is earmarked for increasing the scale to "little" farmers.
4. Authority of the Commodity Credit Corporation to take over 1937 cotton on which loans may be made at nine cents per pound up to July 1, and payment of additional subsidies of two cents per pound if the grower agrees to cooperate in the new program. The loans could be extended until July 1, 1939.

LIONS CLUB TO SPONSOR STATE BASKET TOURNEY

Only A. A. U. Meet

This is the only tournament in this division scheduled by the A. A. U. this season and the winner of the meet will be the A. A. U. State Champions of 1938.

All schools desiring to enter the tournament must register in the Southwest A. A. U. with Mr. Ralph Schulze, City Hall, Waco, Texas. Then the tournament entry must be made with Dr. J. Horace Bass, Munday, Texas, not later than February 22.

The entrance closing date has been set for Tuesday following district interscholastic league tournaments in order that losers in the district meets may compete for the state A. A. U. title.

Large beautiful trophies made of excellent materials will be awarded first and second place winners in the championship and consolation divisions. Also an all-state A. A. U. team will be selected by prominent basketball coaches with individual baskets for all-state selections.

Munday to Give Rooms

Munday is to furnish rooms for the contestants, and Dr. J. H. Bass has been placed in charge of this phase of work by Lion President Davenport. Bass will contact homes by telephone and person to obtain beds, and assures local citizens that the visiting boys and coaches will be desirable guests.

Plainview's team, coached by Mickey Pool has entered the meet and Coach Taliaferro of Ringgold has entered. Ringgold has an impressive record of 40 wins over stiff competition this year. Sunset is expected to enter in event they lose at the district and several other strong teams nearby will enter.

Schulze notified Bass by letter this week that he will probably be here for the meet and will probably do some of the officiating. Lion L. M. Palmer has been placed in charge of tournament play.

Early Chicks Mean Extra Profits Says Extension Poultry Specialist

Stresses Importance of Preparing For Baby Chicks

College Station, Feb. 15—Poultry flocks over the state will be increased by some 40 million baby chicks during the next few months, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultryman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

Purchasers of baby chicks can realize extra profits by buying early and by securing baby chicks from nearby hatcheries, McCarthy said.

Early hatched baby chicks are usually in a higher priced bracket than those hatched after March 15, he said, but the difference in price is more than made up by other benefits. Early chickens grow off faster and cockerels from this group find a better market as fryers. There is also usually less loss from disease, especially in the case of coccidiosis.

Pullets from early hatched stock come into production earlier and lay more during the late summer, fall and winter when eggs are relatively high, he pointed out.

Many Texans feel that they can purchase chicks of higher quality if they order from distant states. It is far better to buy chicks from hatcheries whose products are known than to depend on the reputation of out of state operators, according to McCarthy.

"It is perhaps an old thought that the farthest pastures are the greenest, but in reality we find these at our very door," McCarthy pointed out. "I say this because Texas breeders and hatchery men are producing and selling chicks that are of as high quality as can be found anywhere."

The importance of preparing for the chicks was stressed. The brooder house should be cleaned and disinfected and the brooder stove set up and adjusted before the chicks arrive, he warned.

One thing about this famed daredevil advertiser, he will not advertise anything for health that he does not find would be healthful for the young folks, and he is regarded as another Nutri. He has had thousands of dollars offered him to endorse whiskey and wines, but will not do so; he says he has no regard for anyone that drinks liquor, but he can't drink it and keep in health. He states, in coming to Munday, that the four members of his company feel the same way as he, for he will not keep any other kind of employe in his company. The party is stopping at the Eiland Hotel.

Saturday, February 26, is the date for the sensational feature of this famed daredevil doing his "Escape from Death" and his death-defying act of driving his official car through a blazing wall made of lumber from one of the local lumber companies, which will be blazing and saturated with gasoline.

Barbecue for Guests

At noon Saturday the Chamber of Commerce feted the visiting club boys, their parents and cattle-men with a barbecue dinner. For the first time since the show was inaugurated into the club work in this county the show was held in a building.

Additional prizes were two one-hundred pound sacks of feed given to the winners of each division by the Munday Cottonoil Company and a calf show halter given to the best-groomed calf by Jack Idol, foreman of the League Ranch. Junior Montandon, second place winner of the junior division was awarded the halter.

Another feature that added zest to the day for 4-H club boys was the giving out of prize money offered by the winners of Knox county in connection with the 4-H cotton contest.

Winners of the $100 prize money which were announced recently were given their prizes by H. A. Pendleton, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. Pershing Busbie, Knox City club member won first prize when he produced 2459 pounds of lint cotton on three acres of ground.

Annual Farmers Short Course to Be Held in Two Sections in 1938

One For 4-H Members And Separate One For Adults

The Farmers' Short Course will be held in two sections in 1938, one for 4-H club members and one for adults, according to announcement made by H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service.

The section for 4-H club boys and girls will meet on July 6-7-8, and the adult section on July 12-13-14, Williamson said.

Heretofore the club members and adults have always met as one group for the annual get-together on the campus of Texas A. & M. College. "The decision to hold the Short Course in two sections was prompted by our desire to permit more farm people to attend," Williamson said. "In recent years our accommodations have been so limited that we have been forced to restrict the attendance."

The attendance at the Short Course has been on the increase for a number of years. Some 5,000 people have been present at recent sessions. The college has been able to furnish rooms and meals for only 3,800 to 4,000. Around a thousand people, mostly from neighboring sections, have 'commuted' daily between the college and their homes.

Man is Charged Following Auto Head-on Crash

Charley Dowding, King county man, was seriously injured late Monday evening of last week when the car he was driving figured in a head-on collision on the Benjamin-Guthrie highway.

Dowding's car, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dowding, and another car driven by a Mr. Couch of Vera were in the crash, which resulted in the arrest of Couch and charges placed against him, it was reported. Sheriff Humphries of King county filed the charges, it was said. Mrs. Dowding received minor bruises and lacerations.

Thomas Rigby spent last Sunday in Abilene visiting friends and relatives and witnessed an exhibition tennis match.

Williamson estimated that under the new arrangement accommodations could be provided for approximately 8,000 farm people and club members. With less demand on the time of teachers and lecturers, an increase in quality of the program is also expected.

Saturday, Feb. 26, To Be Safety Day Here with Big Show

Jack LeDay calls attention to the dire need for a better cooperative spirit, in city, county, and state and nation, with regard to the automobile traffic problem, which has reached a point where such a spirit is absolutely necessary for safety on the highways.

Saturday, February 26, has been designated as "Safety Day," in Munday, and everyone is cordially invited to be here that day to see the feature attraction of the safety program.

The Moore Chevrolet company with other merchants have arranged for the personal appearance of Jack LeDay, world's foremost daredevil, who has gained nation-wide distinction and is known in the theatrical world as Jack O'Diamonds, jr. His family tree means much; his family and ancestors were daredevils before him, and his father, at the age of 53, did the death-defying act of testing one of the first hydraulic brakes that was ever used in the head-on collision.

There is nothing "safe" about the show that Jack will present. The reason it is so applicable to a safety day program is that, according to Jack, he and his company are much safer in their acts, breathing-taking as they are, than those who drive in automobiles on the highways, so long as the present conditions exist.

The big show will be presented here February 26 is absolutely free to everyone, being made possible by business men and endorsed by the safety committee of the Lions Club and his company are incorporated as the Diamond Aerial Advertisers, and have shown all over
