Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

Well, bowl me over, and throw me for a loss! Did you ever see anything like it?

The bowls, we're talking about, all the bowls when post-season football games are being played.

Used to be you didn't hear anything much about a bowl, except the Rose Bowl, out California way, where the top teams of the nation would entertain for a whole bunch of New Year's Day revelers.

But now there's bowls galore. Big bowls, little bowls, and big bowls that are not big enough. In case you don't know, here are some of the bowls over the nation:

Down New Orleans way, there's the sugar bowl, which has been in existence for some time. Texas University goes down there, come New Years.

Pasadena, Calif., comes up last year with a little rose bowl, and the Cameron, Okla., Argies have been selected to play there on December 13. They've got to get the juniors out of the way before the seniors can strut their stuff.

Not to be outdone by California, Louisiana has come up with a junior sugar bowl, located at Monroe, where Huey Long raised such a stink for so long. Hillsboro Junior College plays there the second week in December.

And Texas comes in for her share of bowls, too. Of course there's the cotton bowl in Dallas, and they've hit upon the idea of increasing its capacity to sixty-some-odd thousand.

They're selling $100 bonds to build the addition, and buyers of the bonds have priority to two seats in the bowl for any cotton bowl event. Bonds are going like hamburgers! A novel idea, huh?

And Saturday there was talk of the possibility of a junior cotton bowl. Little junior is coming into his own this year, it seems.

El Paso has her sun bowl; San Antonio has her Alamo Bowl, and some new bowls are bobbing up in Texas this year.

Tulsa, Okla., has her oil bowl; Memphis, Tenn., her delta bowl; Miami, Fla., her orange bowl, and we're looking for a grapefruit bowl and lemon bowl to spring into existence soon.

Among the new bowls is the Boy's Ranch Bowl in Abilene. Someone got the idea for that after their Boy's Ranch was started a while back and it has been decided that McMurry College will be host to Missouri Valley College in this bowl on December 13.

Pretty soon we won't be paying any attention to the regular football schedules, other than to see who plays in a bowl. It's a good way to extend the football season plumb on into the summer, if necessary to have all the bowls filled.

Hardin College is host in the Kickapoo bowl, come December 5. Yep, that's a new bowl, too.

Wichita Falls votes in hard liker, votes out hard water, votes in the aqua pura from Lake Kickapoo, dismisses charges against the fellow who said that town had the worst water in the world, and comes up with the Kickapoo bowl.

Now, we're wondering why we can't have a bowl of our own. We need some high school bowls, so why not start off with Munday?

When—and if—we get our new wells dug and our water supply moved, our larger storage tank, and get all the various and sundry state agencies off our necks, why let's put us a bowl down there where the water well is!

Maybe we could sell some bowl bonds, too, to finance the deal. And it'll need some financing.

Then we could call our bowl the auger bowl, the Johnson grass bowl, the black-eyed pea bowl, the crab grass bowl, the shallow water bowl.

H. O. Wooten Of Abilene Dies On Last Tuesday

Horace O. Wooten, 82, builder of a wholesale grocery empire in West Texas and longtime Abilene civic leader, died early Tuesday at Abilene. He had been in ill health for several months.

He was head of the Wooten Grocery Company, established here in 1898, and had many other holdings, including the 16-story Wooten Hotel.

Wooten was one of the prime movers in the building of McMurry College in Abilene and was first chairman of the school's board of trustees.

Born in Tyler, July 15, 1865, Wooten came to West Texas by wagon with his family in 1879, settling at Buffalo Gap in Taylor County.

With $2,000 borrowed capital, he made his business start buying grain and later established the wholesale grocery business with branch house throughout West Texas.

American Legion To Discuss Plans For Xmas Boxes

Kirby Fitzgerald, commander of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion has announced an important meeting of the post for next Tuesday night.

At this time, plans for distributing Christmas boxes to local families who would otherwise have no Christmas will be discussed. This "Goodfellow" move was started by the American Legion a number of years ago, but has not been practiced during the past few years.

Fitzgerald stated that there are a number of families whose Christmas will be "very scant" unless this move is undertaken this year, and the Legion plans to resume the project.

"We have some sand and gravel to dispose of, too," Fitzgerald said, "and we urge all members to come out and take part in these business matters."

Walter Winchell, in a nationwide radio broadcast, said Briskin's gift is the largest single individual contribution to the fund. Employees, educators and the press attending the showing were told the new Revere sound projector fills a long felt need by schools, clubs and industrial organizations for a projector within budget range.

TO HELP CALIFORNIA

Another distant state, California, is the newest beneficiary of Texas' natural gas supply. Nearing completion is a new pipe-line, 1,200 miles in length, which by 1949 will convey 305,000,000 cubic feet of Texas gas daily to the industries of southern California. This, says a Christian Science Monitor, is the equivalent of 51,000 barrels of oil or 189 carloads of coal.

California is itself a large producer of natural gas, there being a number of wells in the San Joaquin Valley. The gas from these wells will be used to relieve a shortage in northern California.

Texas collects a nominal tax on the natural gas at the wells, but otherwise gets little benefit from the natural resource. It is California, using the fuel for its new industries and its growing cities, that takes advantage of the Texas supply.

The day will come when Texans, their gas supply exhausted by the exportations to distant areas, will wonder why nothing was done to conserve it for Texas, or to make it serve Texas industries. Meanwhile, the exportation continues, at an increasing rate and in increasing volume, with no real effort on this state's part to halt or hinder it.—Wichita Daily Times.

WHAT WILL THE DOLLAR BUY?

It seems to be universally believed that the principal labor organizations will demand new and substantial wage increases early next year.

The steady rise in the cost of living may justify this. But, at the same time, the rank and file of labor as well as the union leaders should give serious thought to what continued wage boosts without any improvement in worker productivity will mean.

The worker's real interest is not merely in how many dollars his pay envelope contains. It is, instead, in how much food, clothing, housing and everything else these dollars will buy. In Germany, after the first war, labor received billions of marks a day. But those billions of marks would not buy enough to keep a family alive. That is always the result of unbridled inflation.

One of the reasons for high commodity prices is that the wave of wage increases which followed the last war was not accompanied by more output per man. In many key industries, output has been below the 1941 level. In other words, the emphasis has been on more pay for less work. That is a suicidal doctrine, and carried to the ultimate con-

ON THE FIRING LINE

Some of the most interesting testimony given during the Congressional investigation into prices, which has been carried on by sub-committees in all sections of the country, has come from retailers. They have appeared at all the hearings, and they have represented all kinds of retail business—chains, department stores, independents, specialty shops, food dealers, etc. And practically all of them have shown that markups are lower than in the past, that the expense of store operation has substantially increased, and that, in spite of heavy volume, net profits have declined.

This testimony is important in that it indicates the place of the retailer in the economic scheme of things. He is in the unfortunate position of being directly on the firing line of consumer ire—without being able to do anything about the high prices that keep consumer tempers at white heat. Most retailers were extremely reluctant to up their price tags. They resisted as long as possible. But economic pressure forced them inexorably into it. No store can long operate at a loss. So retailers have done the unavoidable, and passed the increases on to their customers.

The publicity the price investigation has received should give the consumer a better understanding of the situation. No one has proven, and few have even suggested, that there is profiteering in retailing—aside from the few exceptions to the rule that are found in all businesses, industries, professions, and labor groups. Retailing's high sense of responsibility to the public has been proven.

Conclusion will cause complete deterioration of the purchasing power of the dollar and economic chaos on a grand scale.

A few top labor leaders have emphasized these facts lately, and have told their memberships that greater production is essential if the living standards of the country are to be protected. It all comes back to the fact that we can't get something for nothing—we must pay for everything in one fashion or another. Labor, like any other group, must earn its keep.

People living on farms owned an estimated $22,077 million of currency, bank deposits, United States Savings Bonds and stock in cooperatives at the beginning of 1947, in comparison with only $4,975 million early in 1940.

or basin bowl, or something.

There's any number of names we could call it, once we get our water supply moved and the bowl established.

We could even call it the typhoid fever bowl, in commemoration of those erroneous reports that got out last summer that the entire town was down with the epidemic, and we were dying like flies.

Or maybe the chlorine bowl, in memory of those vast amounts of chlorine we've all consumed. But maybe you have some suggestions, too.

Anyway, there's no reason why we can't have a bowl if we want it, just like we can have clean streets if we want them—but we don't have them!

Well, gee whiz! Goodbye, now, until we meet down around the bowling alley!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Marry Young? Marry Old?

When Jeb Crowell's daughter, Sue, married nineteen-year-old "Slim" Blake, a lot of folks (especially older ones) began to shake their heads. Young marriages! Tut, tut!

So I looked up some figures. It's true, young American girls and boys marry younger than in other countries. And where do you suppose they had the least chance? I won't name it, but maybe you've guessed. One of those countries that before the war suppressed all individual freedom and tolerance.

That's why I'm not worried about our younger married couples. They were raised in a country that respects one another's right—a country of tolerance and temperance (a lot of bridegrooms are ex-G.I.'s, and it looked to me like their favorite beverage was beer!) From where I sit, it isn't when you marry that's important. It's the all-important spirit of tolerance and understanding that you bring to marriage.

Need For Unity

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead — Nov 26th Re-
THE UNITED NATIONS is a young organization. It was formed about two years ago and now comprises 55 nations. During the past year, it is said, the different divisions have held a total of 1-911 meetings. The chief avowed purposes are to bring peace to the world and to prevent starvation as an aftermath of the war. Great sums of money have been used to provide food for peoples that are considered destitute.

At first it was thought that 1946 would be the critical year and every effort was made to get people through that year. Now, we are approaching the winter of 1947. Some reports say there will be more hunger this winter than last. From various countries in Europe the reports show no improvement. It would seem there is enough power and strength in 55 nations to help this muddled world get somewhere. And surely, enough money has been spent to help those hungry nations to begin feeding themselves.

Unity Of THE ANSWER is not Purpose hard to find. The United Nations has not demonstrated real unity of purpose. Even the leaders among the 55 nations have worked at cross purposes. Each nation has been intent upon achieving certain objectives of its own. This is as true of the "Big Four" as it is of the smaller nations.

It is my hope that in some way
the United Nations may find unity of purpose and intention. The most I can get out of this present situation, however, is an important lesson for our own country. In America we have found a good measure of unity, historically speaking. Though we are made up of states and other kinds of groups, we have shown appreciation for the same fundamentals of democratic living.

Three WHAT IS true of the Goals United Nations as a whole is true of nations individually. If we are going to continue to be a prosperous and healthy republic, we too must have unity of purpose. Workers, managers, industrialists, farmers, educators — we must all keep our purposes controlled in the direction of full unity.

If one group wants to destroy the capitalist, and another wants to destroy labor unions, these are at cross purposes. If one group wants to eliminate private ownership of property, and another group wants to preserve constitutional government, these also are working at cross purposes. If we have everybody working at cross purposes, then conditions in our country will grow worse rather than better.

It is imperative that the entire nation be united on funda-mentals. It is necessary that all groups work for certain goals.
Right now, I would like to suggest three goals we can all achieve together. First, economy in government spending so rigid the public can see that money is being saved. Second, a program of maximum productivity that can attract the enthusiasm of capital, management, labor, agriculture.
Third, a dedication of all our groups to preserve individual freedom for the entire nation.
With this kind of unity right now, in 1947, no one need fear for the future prosperity and well-being of our nation.

JUST CRUMBS

(By Nadine Butler)

Sunset High School has some of the most vivacious and merry students in Texas. Here you will find an adequate amount of banal remarks dominating the precision time that should be used to produce the master-minds of tomorrow. The students enjoy dawdling away their time either by humorous (or so they believe) remarks or splenetic irony. The pupils seem to enjoy these vicarious experiences more so than they do the sequestered atmosphere of a class room full of diligent pupils ready and willing, with humble thanks, to imbibe all knowledge available under the vigilant eyes of their teachers. Sunset lacks the proud ownership of quiet, laconic students, unless of course, the teachers ask for a discussion on a certain question that requires a little cogitating, then, low and behold, every student becomes very speechless and quiet.
Gone is the intrepid and complacent countenance of the culprit, and in its place is the solid expression of one obsessed by a nebulous brain.

Junior News

The junior class enjoyed a weiner roast last Wednesday night at Margie Hollis' home. First of all we gathered around the fire, each couple with an adequate supply of weiners. We told ghost stories!
The person who told the best and tallest story was none other than Edward Decker. You should have heard his tale. It was weird, spooky and somewhat very funny.
The coach and Mrs. Bledsoe were there. We were very glad to have them and sincerely hope they had a nice time and will be with us at the other parties to come.

Mrs. Partridge gave us our English test papers back Monday.
Almost everyone of the senior and junior students made good. We are going to read "Miss Hinch" in literature class Tuesday and from what I've heard it is a very adventurous story. I'm sure we will enjoy it.

There is a rumor out that the seniors will present a play before long. The name of this volatile play is "The Cambells Are Coming."

Sophomore News

We all enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays very much.
Patsy Stone and Joann Tackitt visited relatives at Fort Worth.
Verdene Poyner visited relatives in Oklahoma. She plans to move there soon.
Patricia Johnson visited relatives
in Oklahoma.
Betty Yost visited relatives and friends at Breckenridge.
Several of the pupils in our room went to see the game between Woodson and Rochester.
We all enjoyed the birthday party given for Tommie Yost in which all of high school was invited. She received many gifts.
The boys and girls have their first ball games this week. We go to Gilliland Tuesday night, and Knox City comes to Sunset Friday night.
We will have our pictures made for the annual as soon as our photographer recovers from his illness.

Freshman News

D. B. Jones went to Wichita Falls last Friday. He went on business but he spent a most enjoyable time there.
In Home Economics we seem to be getting along all right. Most of our home projects are finished and graded. We hope to finish the garment we are now making in time to make a dress.
In English these first and second six weeks we've been studying about heroes and what makes greatness. We've already learned a few qualities that make greatness and we are trying to learn more.
History of the English language will keep us occupied for the third six weeks.

Senior News

The senior class, keeping in tune with their previous new-columns presents a character sketch this week of their own senior reporter Ina Ruth Hardin.
Ina Ruth is one of our most promising students. She possesses the unique ability of staying clear of things that do not concern her, thus stabilizing her own character.

She has a ready smile for every occasion; a humorous remark for every fiasco and a glow, yet forced answer for every question.
Ina Ruth has a deep sincere admiration for the American writer Thoreau, and her favorite pass-time is sitting in some secluded spot reading selections by this famous naturalist. Odd as it may seem, her favorite subject in school is bookkeeping.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Offers His Services To College Head Who's Worried Over Spare Time Problem

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek no doubt is an expert on the problem he discusses this week the problem of spare time.

J. A.

Dear editor: Since the mail service on newspapers floatin down Miller Creek has been a little unreliable lately, due to unsettled conditions in the world I suppose I eased over to my neighbor's mailbox Monday mornin and borrowed his paper as he was wastin his time plowin and didn't have no use for it anyway, puttin physical work above brain work, and went home and read by the fire, and I wish to report I have discovered there is gonna be an important place for me in the comin atomic age.

Accordin to the president of the University of Chicago, Dr. Robert Hutchins, when atomic energy for purposes other than wipin out cities gets into use, "our paramount problem, our chief hazard, in the atomic age will be what to do with our spare time."

I don't guess the president of the University of Chicago has ever heard of me, bein cooped up in Chicago and not gettin out here on Miller Creek, so I will appreciate you lettin him know he can set his mind at rest, his chief problem is solved.

If them scientists is holdin back on the atomic age just because they ain't figured out what folks will do with their spare time, they can go ahead and usher in the new life. I can tell em, after a lifetime of copin with the problem of spare time.

There is lots to worry about in this world, but so far I ain't never worried over not havin nothin to do. I have felt all along that goin up one row and down another wasn't the sole all-fired purpose of man, that sittin and thinkin was important also, and while I have had difficulty convincin my wife on this, it is highly encouragin to have the president of the University of Chicago come to my defense. If it wasn't for men like me, here the atomic age would bust loose on us and mankind would be overwhelmed with the problem of spare time, but thanks to the pioneering spirit which has sent me out on Miller Creek to wrastle with the atomic problem of spare time while other men dawdled with their future by stickin to their plows, the world has been made safe for the new age.

Just tell President Hutchins I will be happy to counsel with him on my deep-rooted explorations in to the spare time realm, and will do it for less money than practically anybody else as I ain't doin nothin anyway.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

ACCIDENT BILL UP; $50 PER PERSON

It even costs more to have an accident these days.

The National Safety Council says the average cost of accidents has gone up along with eggs and two-pants suits to nearly $50 for every man, woman and child in the United States, as compared with about $37 in pre-war days. Thus the nation's total accident bill added up to nearly $6,500,000,000 last year and costs are still going up.

Monroe Karcher, farmer in Riverside community in Foard county, never had as much alfalfa seed and hay as he harvested this year.

Karcher baled 7,000 bales of threshed hay and harvested 83,000 pounds of seed. All from 156 acres of land.

He cut the hay twice before letting it go to seed.

He told Burkett that the highest seed yield he'd ever had before was 200 pounds per acre. This year, it averaged out to 532 pounds per acre.

The party rooms were beautifully decorated with blue and yellow chrysanthemums, chosen colors of the bride-elect. The main attraction was in the dining room. The table was covered with a floor length lace cloth. The centerpiece was a large umbrella made of white and pink crepe paper and cellophane. The large umbrella held the favors which were tiny umbrellas tied with pink satin ribbon with the announcement of the wedding date, "December 20th". Around the large umbrella was small miniature China dolls dressed in formal dresses, one representing the bride in a white satin dress and the bridesmaids in sea blue and the Maid of Honor in a yellow gown. These gorgeous decorations were made by Mrs. James Carden and her sister of Chicago.

Guests calling at the Jetton home between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock were greeted by Mrs. James Carden, who introduced them to the receiving line, including Mrs. Stanley Wardlaw, Miss Spelce, Mrs. Ardel Spelce, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Edgar L. Savage, Sr., mother of the groom-elect, of Wichita Falls.

The many beautiful and useful gifts were displayed in the bedroom and were shown by members of the house party. The guests were served a delicious coffee plate with dainty sandwiches, olives, potato chips and cake. Each plate held a small napkin with "Eddie-Joyce" printed on them.

Christmas Tree Lights Care May Avoid Yuletide Tragedy

A Yuletide tragedy may be avoided by observing a few simple precautions when you are setting up your Christmas tree.

Today's electric-lighted Christmas tree is not nearly the fire hazard that its predecessor—the candle-lighted tree was—but there is still potentially grave danger unless certain precautions are observed, according to an article in the December issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

"Inspect your tree-lighting sets before trimming the tree," the article urges. "If the insulation is worn or damaged, so that bare wires are exposed or may become exposed when the set is in service, or if the sockets are cracked or broken, discard the set. It is misplaced economy to gamble on repairs that may not be adequate."

"Check the condition of your extension cords, too, and see that they are long enough to reach easily from the convenience outlet to the lighting sets. Do not connect too many lighting sets to one outlet. Be guided by the instructions that may come with the sets. See that all the bulbs light."

"In buying tree-lighting sets, it is good insurance to choose only those that meet recognized safety requirements. To be sure of this, always look for a label on the set stating that it is listed by Underwriters' Laboratories."

"As a last precaution take down your tree soon after Christmas is past—the sooner the safer. Don't dispose of it where small boys will be tempted to make a bonfire. Give it to the rubbish man or cut it up and burn it safely in your back-yard incinerator."

How Auto Wheel Grew Up

The evolution of the wheel from prehistoric days to the present-day steel and chrome automobile item, is shown in one of the interesting displays of the new General Motors Motormus, just opened to the public at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry.

Eleven types of wheels, each of which may be put in motion at the touch of a button, are reproduced in the display, which is introductory to the main exhibition. The Motormus covers 50 years of automotive progress, from the time of the earliest cars to the present. Many of the advances over the years are explained in detail and presented in fascinating animated form.

The exhibit, worthy of comparison with those of General Motors at New York and Chicago world's fairs, has been placed in the Chicago museum under a long-term agreement. It will be on view there for at least the next five years.

Joe Edd Sweatt, Wanda Patterson Wed November 15

As the clock struck half past three, Miss Wanda Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Patterson of Vera, became the bride of Joe Edd Sweatt, son of L. C. Sweatt of Munday. The wedding took place November 15th at the Methodist parsonage of Greer. The vows were read by Rev. C. R. Copeland.

The bride wore a lovely open blue suit with black accessories. For something old, she wore a watch belonging to her mother. For something borrowed, she carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. L. E. Patterson. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Amelia Parham, wore a green suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Jack Burnison of Munday served as best man.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Carlisbad, New Mexico and other points of interest.

For traveling, the bride wore a tan dress with brown accessories. Mrs. Sweatt is a graduate of the Vera high school graduating in 1946. She was a pep squad leader, assistant "who's who" editor of the Vera El Echo volley ball club. She was an honor graduate being salutatorian of her class. She also received a bracelet given by the young Matrons' club for making the highest grades for the year.

The groom attended school at Sunset. In 1946, he joined the air forces and was stationed at Denver, Colo. most of the time he was in the service. He was very active in basketball and 4-H club work.

Mrs. Irene Meers was a visitor in Wichita Falls last Wednesday.

Parsley lends flavor, color and food value to many dishes and can be easily grown in a kitchen window box or flower pot.

If citrus fruit trees are properly spaced so that plenty of sun reaches the fruit, the general juicy quality, color, and the vitamin C content are increased.

In the last few years, U. S. rice growers have harvested an average of 70 million bushels a year.

More than a third of a million infected or exposed cattle and nearly a quarter a million hogs, sheep and goats have been slaughtered in Mexico in the campaign to stamp out foot-mouth disease.

Knox County People Asked To Have Part In Food Conservation

The Citizens Food Committee is asking that each of us in Knox county do our part toward the conservation of food. The most practical way to save food is to waste nothing. During the war, we practiced the "Clean plate" policy, and it served a dual purpose; conserved food, and cut down on food waste, which is one principle that we will always follow, if we are good managers. The Food Committee is asking that we return to this voluntary conservation practice, and according to Eugenia Butler, Knox County Home Demonstration Agent, we are asked to cooperate in the following ways:

1. Save Meat—Poultry—Eggs
—On meatless Tuesdays do not eat meats such as beef, veal, lamb, and pork. (Exceptions: Meat by-products such as liver, kidneys, brains, sweetbreads, hearts, pigs feet and pigs knuckles, tripe, oxtail, and tongue.)

On Eggless Thursdays do not eat eggs of any sort.

All other days: Use eggs and egg dishes in moderation. Use the less expensive kinds of meat and poultry such as: chuck, short ribs, spareribs, rump, shoulder, breast, flank, brisket, bottom round, shank, sausage, frankfurters, canned meats, shank end of ham, and stewing chickens. If using the tender cuts, such as roasts, plan to use every bit including the bones for soup. Cull your flock, and eat or store one non-layer a week.

Save Wheat.

Make moderate use of bread, rolls, and crackers with meals. Save a slice of bread a day. If you eat out, cooperate with restaurants which serve bread and butter only on request. Buy less, and do less baking of foods in which flour is the main ingredient, such as cakes, cookies, pastry, biscuits, and muffins. For example, one crust pie should be given preference. Don't waste bread. Use dry bread as an ingredient in main dishes and desserts such as cheese fondue, bread pudding, casserole dishes, and as crumbs in scalloped dishes.

Waste Nothing.

Don't help anyone to more than he can eat. Clean your plate at every meal. Use the foods that are plentiful in local markets.

Many of these suggestions are very practical. For example, the less expensive meat cuts that we are asked to use, especially liver and heart, have a much higher nutritional value than veal cuts that are more expensive. By cooperating, we spend less, as well as get more food value for our money.

Fire Hazards On Increase In Winter

The onset of winter increases fire hazards by more than a third. County Agent, J. M. Carpenter, warned this week.

"Winter means heated homes and barns and also an increase in fire hazards—a 34 percent increase. Cracked chimneys, corroded flues, defective furnaces and improperly discarded hot ashes are the villains. Make sure that your heating system is in good working condition."

An annual farm fire loss of over $90,000,000 is more than any country can afford—especially during the present food crisis.

"Fire prevention on the farm is only half the job for complete fire safety. A farmer must make provisions to protect his farm if he wants to keep it. He must take the time to instruct his family and his farm hands in the use of fire-fighting equipment. A farmer must see to it that a sufficient number of approved fire extinguishers are on his property and that they are placed in strategic locations."

County Agent Carpenter reminded all farmers that the first five minutes of a fire are the most important. "You can do more to control a fire in the first five minutes than can be done in the next five hours. Fight that fire the minute you discover it."

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. West and Lennie, Miss Joyce West of Seymour spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Jackson also Mr. and Mrs. L. H. West and family of Weatherford.

Methodist W. S. C. S. Has Christmas Meeting Monday

The womens society of the Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. Don Davidson for the annual Christmas program and business meeting. Mrs. J. C. Borden and Mrs. M. F. Billingsley were hostesses.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with wild holly and cyprianthems.

During the business hour the new officers for 1948 were installed. The installation service was presided over by our pastor, Rev. Don Davidson. A very impressive Christmas program was given by several of the members. Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. M. F. Billingsley presiding at the piano.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday should be a Red Letter Day for this church. You remember that several weeks ago we voted in conference to take our annual offering for the new church building on November the 15th, but owing to the weather this was postponed until the first Sunday in December, which will be next Sunday. The goal was set for $7,500.00 when this offering is rounded in we should be ready to begin some definite planning for the new building. Isn't it great to see in prospect a beautiful new church building with all modern equipment for the carrying out of all the work which the Lord set out for His church.

We are not asking any one for any specific amount. We are urging you to be there Sunday, whether you give one dollar or a thousand dollars. Or, maybe you feel that you couldn't give even one dollar—still we want you to come—your presence will encourage us. When Gideon, by the help of the Lord, routed the enemy of Israel, his army "stood every man in his place round about the camp." That kind of cooperation will win any battle.

We urge you to be at church Sunday morning.

Men Favor Daring Dresses On Other Girls—Not Theirs

Confidential tip to the girls—men like daring dresses only on the other fellow's girl—not theirs.

That was the essence of opinion expressed by a group of collegians, including Eugene Rossides of Columbia football fame, who served on Cosmopolitan magazine's male-tested fashion jury at New York's Stork Club.

"Believe it or not they voted consistently for gowns with some covering over shoulder or upper arm or with narrow shoulder straps," Kay Wister, fashion editor of the magazine declared. "The completely bare shoulder decolletage was something delightful to them—only on the other fellow's girl."

Typical of college men through out the country, many of them having returned from overseas service, they represented a cross section of male opinion as to how they like their women to dress. They represented Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Amherst, Columbia, Dartmouth, the University of Missouri and the University of Nebraska.

"Generally the boys approved of dresses that had a sophisticated but not too exposed look," Mrs. Wister said. "In fact it's a look the boys pronounced 'dreamy.'"

Rossides was particularly impressed with the slit hemline of one of the winning dresses which embodied all the fashion points that had been emphasized.

"It was a royal blue crepe gown that bared the shoulders but covered the arms completely," Mrs. Wister said. "The skirt, with sophisticated hip-line drape, tapered to a narrow hemline, but the slit allowed plenty of freedom for dancing."

"Sophisticated and relaxing" was the way Paul Stessel of the University of Missouri described one of the winning dresses in the groups shown.

Bob Folan, Yale hockey player, and Bob Slocum, who pitches for the Princeton baseball team were inclined to "make haste slowly" in appraising some of the newer length dresses.

"We had better take our time and thrash this thing over," was the way Folan expressed it, while Slocum said "The length is too sudden a departure."

When a colorful group of floor-length gowns was danced into the room, Seth Baker, vice chairman of the yearbook and member of the student council at Amherst, became a bit confused in his articulation:

"These are a great improvement on gownless evening straps—I mean strapless evening gowns," he said.

Other members of the jury who decided daring gowns were for other girls—not theirs—were Dick Littauer of Cornell, Dean Graunke, University of Nebraska and Gene Bokor of Dartmouth.

Motorists Get Cold Facts On Winter Safety

Motorists remembered to change the oil in their cars when winter comes, but a lot of them don't remember to change their driving habits to fit the season.

The National Safety Council says this conclusion is supported by the fact that for the last eight years snow belt states have shown a winter jump in the mileage death rate of 24 to 53 per cent as compared with summer.

The two major winter hazards in all sections of the United States are inadequate traction and reduced visibility. To find out about these hazards and what to do about them, the Council has conducted several research programs on frozen lakes in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan.

Tested Tips Offered

As the nation enters the most hazardous period of the year, the Council announced these tested tips for winter driving:

1. Find out how slippery it is when starting out by stepping on the brakes lightly or "gunning" the motor. Get this feel of the road when driving slowly and while no other vehicles are near.
2. Adjust speed to conditions. A good guide to follow is the speed of other cars. Passing requires changing direction, accelerating and braking—all dangerous on a slippery surface.
3. Stay well back of other vehicles and slow down well ahead of intersections and curves. If you are going slow enough, it helps to accelerate very slightly when rounding a curve.
4. Use tire chains on snow or ice. They are the most effective self-help you have.

Keep Windshield Clear

5. Keep windshield and windows clear with good defrosters. If necessary, roll down the window a little.

6. Pump the brakes when you slow or stop. Locked brakes only throw you into a skid.

7. Even though it's cold out, don't forget hand signals when someone is behind you. Unexpected maneuvers which surprise the other fellow are accident-makers on slippery roads.

8. Don't lower tire pressure or increase the load over the rear wheels to get added traction. You get very little more, and you increase the chance of a skid.

9. Good tire treads are better than smooth tires on dry and wet pavement, but on snow or ice even they give no advantage. Only chains, which bite in, help then.

Keep Steady Foot on Gas

10. Keep a steady foot on the gas pedal. Even small forces, like the sudden compression when you let up on the gas, may cause a skid.

11. The best way to control a skid is not to have one. The old adage of steering in the direction of the skid applies only if you have room to maneuver. However, a driver with a sensitive hand on the steering wheel often can correct the beginning of a skid by steering slightly in the direction of the slide.

12. Start in second gear on ice, which minimizes spinning of the wheels and a possible slide to one side.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Veterans News

World War II veterans desiring to study abroad can qualify for benefits at the same time under both the G-1 Bill and the Fulbright Act administered by the State Department, the Veterans Administration ruled this week.

The VA ruling held that payments of education and training benefits under the G-1 Bill may be made to student-veterans regardless of any grants made to them under the Fulbright Act, since the funds used to administer the Fulbright Act were not secured from United States government appropriations.

The Fulbright Act, passed by the 79th Congress provides for grants in aid to American students for study abroad or to foreign students for study in this country with costs defrayed by credits acquired through sale of surplus property abroad.

The Act also specifies that veterans of World Wars I and II must be given preference by the 10-man Board of Foreign Scholarships which awards the study grants.

It is hoped that a limited number of grants will be made under the Fulbright Act for the academic year 1948-49. Applications are not being received at this time, but persons desiring information on the program may obtain it from the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

of State, Washington 25, D. C.

Almost all of the 2,013,000 World War II veterans who completed or dropped out of school or job training courses they began under laws administered by veterans Administration are eligible for additional training.

VA said this week that all but 29,000 of these veterans interrupted or discontinued their training before they had used all of the training time for which their active war service qualified them.

Of those not eligible for further training, 20,600 are disabled veterans who were declared rehabilitated. The remaining 8,400 are G-1 Bill trainees who used all of their available entitlement.

Question and Answers

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I am eligible for medical care and hospitalization in a Veterans Administration hospital?

A. You are eligible for hospitalization in a VA hospital if you have a service-connected disability. If your disability is non-service-connected, you must state under oath that you are financially unable to pay for private treatment. Then you must wait until a bed is available in a VA hospital.

Q. What Veterans have preference to Veterans Administration hospital beds?

A. Veterans suffering from service-connected disabilities and those requiring emergency treatment are given preference to hospital beds.

Q. Am I eligible to benefits under Public Law 16 if I was discharged for a service-connected disability before I had served 90 days in the armed forces?

A. Yes. For purposes of Public Law 16, service of 90 days in the armed forces is not required.

Q. Can you tell me what the deadline is for disabled veterans to apply for one of the specially equipped automobiles?

A. The last date on which applications can be approved is June 30, 1948.

Q. May a veteran receive disability compensation, receive at the same time subsistence allowance under Public Law 346?

A. Yes.

Maytag Company Sets Washer Production Record

When the 54-year-old Maytag Company of Miamonah, Ohio, produced its five millionth washer recently, the occasion was marked by a special ceremony. Industrial, labor and civic organizations gathered for the event.

Tom Smith, head of the research division, autographed the one-piece aluminum tub which was lowered into the tub by a crane. Assembly workers are shown below lowering the tub into its enameled steel jacket. At right, Missing the machine with a bottle of milk. Looking on, nearest the camera from left, are: W. I. Sp... secretary of the Maytag Company who has been with the firm forty-nine years; Letha Trent, Maytag vice-president in charge of sales and advertising; Verne R. Martin, Maytag sales and promotion manager; Fred Maytag II, Iowa Governor Blue.

The Maytag Company made its first washer in 1907 and its millionth machine in 1927. Between the two millionth machines, Maytag took three years out from peacetime production to engage in war work. The five millionth washer is being retained by the company as a souvenir.

Uncle Sam Says

Are you counting the days to Christmas? There's nothing comparable to the warmth of Christmas feeling. Second best perhaps is the feeling when you have the money to make dreams come true for you and your family. The most efficient and sure way to build up a healthy backlog of savings is through your company's Payroll Savings Plan for buying United States Savings Bonds or your bank's Bond-A-Month Plan. Every extra savings bond you add to your bond holdings is one more powerful stride toward security. The best Christmas gift you can give your family is to start a 19-year plan of automatic monthly bond buying. For example, your investment of $18.75 a month in a savings bond every month until Christmas, 1957, will result in a nest egg of $2,488.94. U. S. Treasury Department

LEARN YOUNG TO GROW PLANTS

A plant of her own will make any little girl happy. This sansevieria (commonly called mother-in-law's tongue) is easy to grow, and the "Daffy" container will amuse the entire family. The week of November 2-9 is National Flower Week. During that week take time to point out to your child the beauty of flowers. Give that child a chance to start caring for some plant by watering it and watching it grow.

Jack Idol To Test Varieties Of Knox Wheat

Jack Idol, manager of the League Ranch, of Benjamin, Texas, announced this week that he would conduct a wheat variety test on the ranches land adjoining the Knox City-Benjamin highway.

Mr. Idol, cooperating with the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Association, stated that he hopes these tests will help bring to light some of the new varieties of wheat which many Knox county wheat farmers have been wanting to see tested.

Varieties announced by Mr. Idol to go into the test include Westar Early Triumph, Wichita, Comanche, Early Black Hull, Pawnee, Red Chief and Tennmarq.

This last season Early Triumph near Truscott yielded from 2 to 3 bushels more than Black Hull per acre. Tests at Experiment Stations have shown Westar to be a superior wheat in yield and milling quality. Wichita and Comanche have shown favorable yields in many sections; however, 60 percent of Knox County wheat acreage is still planted to wheat with a poor milling quality.

Wheat buyers indicate that in the not too distant future the less desirable milling wheats which are now being shipped largely overseas will be docked and preference given better milling wheats. Acceptable milling wheats grown in Knox county are Comanche, Triumph, Tennmarq, Wichita, Westar and Pawnee. Less desirable wheats are Early Black Hull and Austin. Undesirable wheats are Red Chief and Chiefkan.

Gordon Gaines, who is attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with home folks.
