Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

Well, it looks like Santa Claus is coming for sure, come Christmas eve.

And his pack is going to be more heavily laden than in some years past. In fact, there's going to be a lot of things this year that Santa hasn't been able to get for several Christmases.

They're more practical things, more durable things, things of metal instead of wood; toys, dolls, electric trains; but it's going to take the do-re-mi to buy them!

Merchants with the merchandise are extending a cordial invitation for Santa to fill his pack at their stores. This has been true in the past, but it's more so this year.

They have more things for Santa to select from—things they don't want to store away until his next annual visit.

You see full pages, half pages, double pages, four and eight-page sections in newspapers telling Old Santa what they have that he ought to buy.

Just last Sunday, the Dallas News came out with a paper as big as a catalogue—and most of it was about Christmas and Christmas merchandise. That issue contained 118 pages in all, including a book section and a jewelry section of 16 pages each.

And those who go to town say that people are buying for Santa—you can hardly get in those stores to buy, or to look. It looks like Santa and his reindeer are going to have a busy season.

Even right here at home, there's lots of things in the stores for Santa to look over and mull over before definitely making up his mind. You don't have to "go to town" to buy your Santa things.

And we're carrying some Santa invitations from the local merchants this week, too. Better begin to make your store visits, rack your brains, replenish your wallet, investigate your credit, and see if you've got the herewith to have Santa go everywhere you want him to go, personally.

Santa really paid an early visit to a Fort Worth woman last Saturday night—and she cried about it. Guess maybe we would have, too, 'cause Santa was really nice to her.

It all came about when she decided she knew who the fabulous "Miss Hush" was. So when that radio program came on Saturday night, a call was made to her so she really knew.

Sure enough she did! And then, the "M. C." began telling her what all she was gonna get, and she began crying. We don't blame her for crying, because $22,500 in prizes is something to cry about, and not to be sneezed at!

That woman is Mrs. Ruth Annette Subbie, and "Miss Hush" was Martha Graham, a famous ballet dancer, so they said.

Personally, it didn't mean very much to us after it was all settled and over with. We can't get out a newspaper and pay off a note, and give too much thought to ballet, outside of that which takes place right here in our own town.

But the Fort Worth woman did, and look what she got! Santa Claus must be very real to her, now.

When they began naming off all those prizes, our "little woman" wanted to know why we didn't send in the right answer for "Miss Hush".

Right cool and collected like, we replied that we couldn't use that Buick convertible, we couldn't use that airplane, and we didn't have time to take a vacation trip to Hawaii.

The matter was dropped, and we went back to reading about the fellow that had two wives, two families, two homes for 22 years.

Cotton Crop Estimate Hiked 189,000 Bales

Last Monday's estimate of the Agriculture department at Washington placed the 1947 cotton crop at 11,694,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This report, the department's final for the year, is an increase of 189,000 bales from last month's estimate of 11,505,000 bales. The crop totaled 8,640,000 bales last year and averaged 12390,000 bales for the 1936-1946 period.

The indicated yield of lint cotton per acre was put at 265.4 pounds compared with 235.3 last year and 250.6 for the ten-year average.

The acreage harvested was reported at 21,148,000 acres, compared with 17,615,000 last year and 23,845,000 for the ten-year average.

The department said 1.1 per cent of the acreage planted to the crop was abandoned before harvest.

In an accompanying report, the Census bureau said 10,056,347 bales of this year's crop was ginned to Dec. 1. Ginnings to the same date last year totaled 7,367,490 bales.

Cottonseed production was estimated at 4,744,000 tons compared with 3,513,000 last year and 5,143,000 for the ten-year average.

Donkey Ball Game Success; Draws Crowd

Don L. Ratliff and his "City Slickers" and Pat Patterson and his "Country Boys" matched wits with a bunch of donkeys on Thursday night of last week in the first donkey basketball game to be played here.

Some of the boys who weren't satisfied with the way the donkeys treated them in the baseball game last summer tried the stubborn brutes again Thursday night. They found that a spill on the hardwood floor of the gymnasium was even more punishment than one on the turf of the baseball field.

Spills were plentiful, and at no time did the donkeys lose command of the game! They did just about what they wanted to, regardless of the fact that their ideas didn't coincide with those of their riders.

Patrons turned out about five hundred strong to see the man-donkey battle. The Munday F. F. A. boys, sponsors of the event took in around $220 on admission, and after taxes and expenses were paid they realized a profit of $85.

Players footed their own expenses for medication and doctor's treatment, if any.

F. F. A. boys expressed their thanks to the managers, Don L. and Pat, and to the players for their "excellent riding ability and good sportsmanship" in the melee. Oh, yes! The Country Boys won over the City Slickers by a score of 28 to 22. Hee-haw!

Committees On Agriculture To Be Elected

A last minute call to all farmers of Knox County to vote in farm program elections was issued today by Emmett Partridge, chairman of the county agriculture conservation committee.

Mr. Partridge urged farmers to make certain that their vote will be counted in the election of community committeemen and delegates to the county convention where the county agricultural conservation committee will be elected.

He said that too often farmers let other jobs and interests keep them from voting in these elections. But this year, with so many vital decisions and perplexing problems regarding current production and conservation, he stressed that farmers cannot afford to forego the opportunity to vote.

The agricultural Adjustment Act provides that the administration of the farm program on the county and community level shall be in the hands of local farmer-elected committeemen.

According to Secretary of Agriculture, Clinto P. Anderson, "this approach, right down to the county and community level has proved itself the most effective organization yet advised for the administration of any national farm program. This country has never witnessed a finer demonstration of the processes of democracy in action than the committee system under the Agricultural Conservation Program."

The way to keep this organization strong and representative of the farmers is for all eligible farmers to vote in the elections when they are held in their community, Mr. Partridge said. Community elections are scheduled as follows:

Sunset school house, Wednesday, December 17, 1947. Goree school house, Wednesday, December 17, 1947. Munday city hall, Tuesday, December 16, 1947.

Knox City American Legion Hall, Tuesday, December 16, 1947. Vera school house, Thursday, December 18, 1947.

Invites Santa To Methodist Home

With eyes sparkling in anticipation, four-year old Pat McKeever of the Methodist Home, Waco, Texas writes his Christmas needs, which include a cowboy suit and hat; and, incidentally, maintenance for another year. The Methodists of this area are Santa Claus to Pat and about 400 other children whose empty stockings are up for the annual Christmas offering that will take care of their food, shelter, clothing, health and training needs for another year, even at today's increased cost of living. Yes, the Methodist Home is "The Old Woman in the Shoe, who had so many children she didn't know what to do," but thousands of Santa Clauses will answer Pat and his hundreds of little pals before they enjoy Christmas with their own children.

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

Vast Texas needs more good roads to serve its rural population, expedite the flow of farm products to city markets and permit better access of farm children to schools. While the state is considerably short of complete state highway and lateral road systems, the Texas Good Roads Association reports gratifying progress on the farm-to-market program in this state.

During the last 18 months 2,218 miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties have been completed, and are durable thoroughfares built according to strict federal-state specifications. Their maintenance is assumed by the state, thereby relieving counties of that appreciable cost and releasing county funds for other lateral road building and improvement.

The Good Roads Association further reports that the October tabulation of farm-to-market awards showed that 3,586 miles of such roads had been put under contract in 219 counties and involved 488 projects. The number letting adds another 172 miles of farm-to-market roads, and the total probably will represent Texas' participation in the three-year nationwide farm-to-market program.

Provision by Congress for another three-year program is favored by the Good Roads Association. Its advocacy is supported by the fact that the farm-to-market plan provides the best possible roads. In earlier years, county-built roads which were not properly maintained went to pieces before the bonds issued for financing them were retired. There is also a saving for the taxpayers when durable highways are built for cash under the farm-to-market program.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CAUGHT IN THE VISE

In a recent editorial, which was based upon the Congressional hearings on high prices, the Atlanta Constitution observed that the retailer is not the villain of the piece. Then it said: "The truth of the matter is that the businessman is as much caught in the vise of inflation as is the customer."

"The grocer, the furniture man, the department store manager, have no control over the prices they pay the processor or manufacturer. It is one of those vicious cycles in which the butcher, the baker and candlestick maker all get caught up and whirled around"

"Production—replacement of shortages with plenty—seems the only answer now the dilemma has reached present proportions The retailer simply hasn't got the answer."

The testimony of retailing before the Congressional subcommittees was impressive in the extreme.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—All children should be immunized against diphtheria at a very early age, according to a statement on the subject released this week by the Texas State Department of Health, explaining that toxoid, which can be administered easily and without danger, can safeguard youngsters against this serious and killing disease of childhood.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges all Texas parents to have their children, who are not already protected, immunized at once.

"The administration of toxoid can save a child from serious illness or even death and those who have not been safeguarded against this danger should be inoculated immediately," Dr. Cox said.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months."

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

"Turrible, Turrible, Turrible!"

Ben Ryder is back! After twenty years in Capital City, Ben has retired and come to enjoy life in the family home on Maple Street.

First thing Ben does is write us complaining how Our Town has changed. "Why, there's no mud in the streets to sink up to your ankles in!" he says. "No pistol feuding in the town square! No moonshine liquor or Saturday night brawls! Nothing to do but settle for a temperate glass of beer in a law-abiding tavern!"

"Turrible, turrible, turrible," Ben says, "how a town can get run down in twenty years!" And then Ben takes his tongue out of his cheek and tells us how proud he is of the orderly, law-abiding atmosphere he finds here.

And from where I sit, you can point to that growing preference for a moderate, wholesome glass of beer as one reason folks in Our Town are so temperate, and neighborly and well-behaved.

newly built houses at an average selling price of $8,200 each, the Veterans Administration reports.

Analysis of GI home loan figures for the nation over a four-month period (May through August of this year) shows that over 45 per cent of the loans made were on new construction, and that the remainder were on homes previously occupied, for which the sales price averaged $6,675.

With a current average of 48,000 veterans monthly using their loan guarantee rights for home purchases, this means that about 22,000 new homes per month are being sold to veterans under the program.

Since the first GI loan was made late in 1944, over 971,000 veterans had received VA-guaranteed home loans as of the end of October. The total value of their home purchases exceeds $5,610,000,000.

Only a month remains in which most National Service Life Insurance policies that have lapsed may be reinstated without necessity of taking a physical examination, the Veterans Administration said.

After the deadline date of December 31, 1947, policies that have lapsed more than three months cannot be reinstated without the veteran proving his insurability by a complete physical examination.

At the present time, and until the end of the year, a veteran may reinstate term insurance in most cases by simply signing a statement to the effect that his health is as good as it was at the time of lapse. Then, by payment of two monthly premiums, his insurance can be reinstated.

The appointment follows the Metropolitan's decision to expand its service in Texas and to establish district offices in Dallas, Fort Worth, and Houston in the near future, and in other cities if and when this is advisable. Mr. Ray's headquarters will be in Dallas.

Was Manager of Parkchester

Mr. Ray is a native of North Carolina, and joined the Metropolitan as an agent in the Greensboro, N. C., district office in 1928. About a year later he was promoted to assistant manager in the same district, and in 1934 he became a member of the company's field training division in its home office, in New York.

pletion, and Mr. Ray was selected to organize the Parkchester district office to provide life insurance service for the thousands of families in the new community. He served as manager of this district and later of Manhattan district until 1947, when he was made an officer of the company.

Mr. Ray has been prominent in the Chartered Life Underwriters organization, having qualified for the C.L.U. designation in 1942. In 1946 he was president of the New York Chapter. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and is active in the Boy Scout movement.

ment pay, will I be permitted to get the full amount of subsistence allowance while I am attending school or while I am in job training under the GI Bill?

A. Retirement pay is not considered income from productive labor and need not be included in your estimate of earnings filed with Veterans Administration; therefore, it is not a bar to receipt of full subsistence allowance.

Q. Will Veterans Administration increase the $13.80 I get for my 10 per cent World War II service-connected disability in event I marry?

A. No. Your compensation is based on the degree of disability. No additional compensation for dependents.

Q. I am an ex-WAC with an honorable discharge and contemplating marriage to a non-veteran. Will the marriage cause me to lose any of my rights to benefits under the GI Bill?

A. No.

Q. May I be furnished a wheelchair by Veterans Administration?

A. VA will furnish you a wheelchair if you have a service-connected disability requiring the use of a wheelchair, or if a wheelchair is required for use at home upon your discharge from a period of hospital treatment or domiciliary care.

Elections Give Farmers Voice In Program

Every farmer in Knox county who is eligible to vote in the farm program elections to be held in the county during the next few weeks should vote, advises Mr. Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee. Elections will be held the third week of December.

The chairman advises that any person who is participating or cooperating in any program administered during the current calendar year through the county agricultural conservation association, including an owner, operator, tenant, or share cropper on a farm on which any of such programs are being carried out, shall be a member of the association and entitled to vote in the community election until such time it is determined (1) that such person has no crop insurance contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, (2) that no payment or grant of conservation materials or services can be made with respect to such farm, and (3) that such person is not eligible for a cooperator's loan or other support with respect to any commodity grown on such farm. In other words, owners, operators, tenants or share croppers are eligible to vote in the community elections provided they are participating or cooperating in any of the programs administered by the committee or are on a farm on which any of such programs are being carried out.

"These annual elections give farmers an opportunity to make their voice heard in the development and administration of farm programs," Mr. Partridge said. "And since every farmer has an interest in seeing that the national programs fit local needs, he should use this opportunity to select the men to administer the program who will best carry out this responsibility."

WHAT KIND OF SPUDS DO YOU LIKE?

Texas is one of 26 states covered by a "consumer preference survey" on potatoes conducted by the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Sample points in Texas are San Antonio, Galveston, Lubbock and Shamrock. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas A&M College Agricultural Experiment Station, has been advised.

The project is part of the overall research and marketing program. The BAE is interviewing 3,500 housewives—representing a cross section of the nation's homemakers—to find out what they want in the way of potatoes. Such factors as size, shape and color will be considered.

Out of the study the USDA hopes to bring information to growers on what the consumer wants in the way of potatoes.

To Be Merry, First Be Wary At Christmas

Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday!

With that slogan as a keynote, the National Safety Council has announced a nationwide campaign to check the huge annual Christmas holiday toll.

The Christmas-New Year holiday season is the most hazardous single period of the year, according to Council statistics. In traffic accidents alone, three times as many persons are killed on a Christmas weekend than on the same days of the preceding two weeks.

Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the season increase the normal winter hazards, such as bad weather, slippery roads and more hours of darkness.

Public Support Sought

More than 130 national organizations, city and state officials, safety councils and civic leaders have joined forces with the Council in the year-end campaign. Together they seek to create in the public mind an awareness of the special holiday hazards, and to enlist voluntary cooperation on the part of every individual to hold accidents to a minimum this Christmas.

The Council emphasized that the campaign is the final effort of the year to hold the 1947 traffic death toll below the 1946 total of 33,700. At the end of the first nine months this year, there was a small reduction in traffic deaths—4 per cent—from the same period of 1946. But the final quarter of the year always is the one with the most traffic deaths.

"Christmas is the season to be merry, but it is also the season to be wary," warned Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council.

Cows bred in December and January should calve next September and October. This means more milk next fall and winter.

About 2 and one-fourth million rural families in the U. S. still do not have electricity.

Life Story Of Coke Stevenson Told In Book

Thousands of Texas men and women have written ex-Gov. Coke Stevenson of Junction, urging him to become a candidate for United States Senator in 1948, according to a biography published this week under the title, "Mister Texas: The Story of Coke Stevenson."

The illustrated book, by Booth Mooney of Dallas, traces Stevenson's public career from the time he became county attorney of Kimble County in 1914, through his service as a county judge, legislator, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Lieutenant Governor and Governor. The biography also tells of his youth and early manhood, giving attention to his success as a conservative smalltown businessman as well as to his public service. A number of revealing anecdotes about Stevenson are included.

"In an age when showmanship seems often to have supplanted stamanship as a prerequisite for attaining public office, he has steadfastly refused to be cast in the role of entertainer," Mooney writes of Stevenson. "He was born in a log cabin and he went to work for a living when he was a boy, but he has never allowed the story of his life to be presented in Algebric trappings. He is a true son of the Hill Country, but he has never set himself up as a hillbilly. He is a ranchman, born and bred, but no men has ever been able to get him to be picturesque for political purposes."

Stevenson has never been defeated for public office. The author of "Mister Texas" attributes this largely to the fact that the former Governor has held steadfastly to basic principles of sound government and has been successful in getting things done in accordance with those principles. He is known as an authority on funds. Under his administration as Governor, a deficit of over 30 million dollars in the General Revenue Fund was liquidated, with no increase in taxes, and when he went out of office the Fund had a cash balance of over 35 million dollars. Other State funds, notably the highway fund, also had heavy balances.

The book returns no answer to the question of whether or not Stevenson will offer himself for the U. S. Senate next year. Mooney does point out, however, that there is a widespread demand from Texas that he become a candidate.

"They want the man on the ranch in Kimble County to become the Gentleman from Texas in Washington, D. C.," the book concludes.

"Operations Timber" Gives Status Of Our Forest Resources

College Station—What's the status of our Texas forest resources? "Operations Timber", a report of the Texas Forest Service, A&M College, for 1945 and 1946, will bring you up to date.

The report, now being distributed free of charge to all who are interested in forestry, has been prepared to help answer the questions most often asked about the Texas Forest Service program. It reviews briefly activities during 1945 and 1946, serves as a general information guide to the services provided by the Texas Forest Service, and presents plans for better state forestry conservation in the future.

All this is presented in an amply illustrated two-color publication. Its pages dwell upon conservation, research and education, plus a list of Texas forest facts which will prove invaluable for information and reference.

Anyone wishing a copy of "Operations Timber" may write the Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas.

Orphan Girl At Methodist Home To Enjoy Santa

An orphan girl at the Methodist Orphan's Home, Waco, will be made very happy this year by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild, local Methodist ladies' organization, who last Monday night prepared a Christmas box to be sent to her.

She is an 8-year-old girl who hasn't been in the home very long, and this is possibly her first Christmas there.

The box is being sent to her this week. It contains a beautiful doll with lots of clothes, Christmas candy, nuts, etc., clothes, gloves, hair ribbons and most anything any little girl would desire from Santa.

Each year, a church organization "adopts" a child in the home and showers him, or her, with Christmas gifts. It is believed all of the 400 children in the home will be cared for this Christmas.

Extra Employees Need Their Social Security Cards

Increased employment during the holiday season brings many requests for account number cards to the Wichita Falls social security office, Erton F. Tate, manager, said today. "Seasonal and part-time workers in stores, shops, and other commercial establishments need a social security card just like regular and full-time employees. Every worker should show his card to the employer when he goes to work," Tate pointed out.

"Employees," said Tate, "are to report quarterly to the Collector of Internal Revenue the correct amount of wages paid to each part-time and regular worker with his or her social security account number. Both the worker's name and social security number are needed to give the proper wage credit on the Social Security Administration's records. If this is not done, the worker may lose certain benefit rights.

"Account numbers are issued at our office in Wichita Falls in the Post Office Building. Applications may be obtained at any post office and mailed to our office," Tate said.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Sleep—Sleep is a necessity of life and health, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from the fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night, or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged length of time will undermine the health of a rugged person and sleep that is lost cannot be made up," Dr. Cox said. "When good health can be protected to such a large extent merely by sleeping, and thus allowing overtaxed bodies and minds to secure the proper rest, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this important health measure."

Some individuals require more sleep than others. How well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A "good night's rest" means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable the individuals to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"A comfortable bed, and fresh air in our sleeping quarters," Dr. Cox said, "will help us to sleep soundly at night, especially after some outdoor exercise such as a brisk walk. Don't mull over your problems and ideas after you have gone to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work of your daily life, and dismissing your problems from your mind. When you arise each morning,

Price Of Land Is Determined By Farm Incomes

College Station—The farm operator who buys land and pays for it with the production from one or two seasons is the exception rather than the rule. Such deals are more than likely the result of the prices for the crops. The price of land is climbing right along, too.

Texans who are wondering whether to put their savings into farm or ranch land at today's high prices may profit from a recent analysis on the land market during four significant periods—post-war, depression, recovery and the war years.

The analysis, prepared by Joe Monera, of the Agricultural Experiment Station of Texas A&M College, and John H. Southern and Samuel L. Crockett of the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics, shows that farm income is the main factor determining land prices. Prospective buyers would be wise to watch the trends in prices of the principal commodities that provide the farm income, as these prices tend to lead the land market by a year or more.

In some areas, a single important commodity sets the pace, as peanuts in the West Cross Timbers, while in other areas, a combination of enterprises influences land prices. Beef cattle, rice and cotton along the Gulf Coast, for instance, or cattle, sheep and goats in the Edwards Plateau, must be considered in calculations for these areas.

rested and with a feeling of general well-being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a good night's sleep."

Government price and export programs may also alter land prices, and buyers might take into consideration that five of Texas' most important farm commodities—cotton, corn, wheat, rice and peanuts for nuts—are covered by price guarantees at 90 per cent of parity or more through 1948.

The status of mineral rights is among other items reflected in the market values of Texas land. Separate ownership of mineral rights lowered surface values of more than one-half in Smith county, where a special study has been made. Where various fractions of the mineral rights were reserved, farm tracts changed hands at various prices ranging between these two extremes.

Land prices have already reached "boom" proportions in some sections of the state, particularly in grazing areas, but some of the usual characteristics of a boom are lacking in the present market. One of the bright spots right now is the high percentage of cash transactions and accompanying low volume of mortgage indebtedness.

Mrs. Darlene Brown of Lubbock is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. D. V. Weaver for a few days.

Two tons of good quality hay or one ton of hay and three tons of silage should be in storage for each cow in the dairy herd.

There will be no cotton marketing quotas and no acreage allotments for the 1948 cotton crop, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Prayer Week Is Observed By Baptist W. M. S.

The Baptist Women's Missionary Society met on Friday, December 5, at the Baptist church in observance of the "Little Moon Week of Prayer."

A series of foreign mission lessons was the study during the day. The final program in these series was planned for Wednesday evening, December 10. Miss Bobbie Nell Whitworth was in charge of this program.

Coy B. Jennings Maurice Stovall Wed December 5th

A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Maurice Stovall and Coy B. Jennings, which was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage on Friday, December 5, 1947, at 9:15 a. m. Rev. W. H. Albertson officiated.

Mrs. Jennings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stovall, and Mr. Jennings the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jennings, both families being well known in this area. The bride is a graduate of Munday high school with the class of 1946. She is employed at Chan Cafe.

The bride wore an aqua dress with black accessories. For something old she carried a hankie chief belonging to the groom's mother; for something borrowed, a pair of pearls belonging to a friend. Her dress was something new and nice.

Immediately after the wedding, the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip to Borger and other points. Upon their return, they will make their home in Munday.

The groom is employed at Reeves Motor Co.

A Want Ad in The Times Pays

Why We Light Our Christmas Trees

New Santa Claus—New Christmas tree lights

The brilliantly lighted Christmas tree as we know it today originated late in the 16th Century. According to legend, Martin Luther became entranced one night with a starry Christmas sky and returned home to set up for his children a tree illuminated with numerous candles to represent the star-brightened sky.

The first written reference to a Christmas tree is found in the works of an unknown writer of the early 17th Century who said: "At Christmas they set up fir-trees in the parlours of Strasburg and hang thereon roses cut out of many-colored paper, apples, wafers, gold-foil, sweets, etc."

But the relationship of light with the observance of Christmas goes all the way back to the birth of Christ when the brilliant Star of the East became the most universal symbol of the Nativity.

Even as the early converts gathered in the catacombs to observe Christmas during the dark days of the Church there were tiny oil burning lamps to brighten their somber surroundings. The interiors of the medieval cathedrals and churches always were banked with rows of flickering candles during the Christmas season, while later in English-speaking countries the dancing light of the Yule log burning in an open fireplace added cheer to the occasion.

This flickering motion of light, so long identified with the grave observance of early Christmases, was lost completely around the turn of the 20th Century when the electric light replaced the unsafe outmoded wax candle. But now the electric light itself has reverted to that dancing light effect through its newest development—the Bubble-Lite.

For the first time it is now possible to obtain all the brilliancy and eye-arresting motion that was lost when use of the candle was discontinued in Christmas tree decorating. The Bubble-Lite consists of an "action" candle-shaped three-inch glass tube set in a two-toned translucent plastic base, which in turn houses a low-wattage bulb. This small bulb serves to light up the ornamental plastic base, as well as to generate sufficient heat to whirl the gayly-colored fluid in the glass tube upward in a continually bubbling spiral, while sending rays of light colorfully dancing through the upper glass "candle." Manufactured by Noma Electric Corporation, Bubble-Lites were available only in limited quantities last year, but more than 25,000,000 Noma Bubble-Lites are being produced for use this Christmas.

Guild Members Enjoy Christmas Program Monday

The Wesleyan Service Guild met last Monday night at 7 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Dan Billingsley and Mrs. Buddy Gafford were in charge of the Christmas program. After several Christmas carols were sung by the group, Mrs. C. F. Baker brought the Christmas scripture and a prayer was given by Mrs. Dan Billingsley. Mrs. Robert Green told an interesting story of "The Littlest Angel". A duet, "Silent Night, Holy Night", was sung by Mrs. O. H. Spann and Mrs. Buddy Gafford. "As The Heart Knows", was a Christmas story brought by Mrs. C. P. Baker.

After the program, a dedication service was held for gifts to an eight year old girl at the Home in Waco, Texas. Christmas gifts were brought by members of the W. S. G. and were wrapped at the party. During the ceremony, a poem was read by Mrs. Don Davidson and a prayer was also given by Mrs. Davidson.

A social and business hour followed the enjoyable program. A year's work has been completed, and it has been a very enjoyable one for the Guild.

Refreshments of sandwiches, stuffed celery and olives, salted nuts and fruit balls were served with hot spiced tea to the following by the hostesses, Mrs. Joe B King, Mrs. Aaron Edgar, Misses Florence Gaines and Ruth Baker:

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out With A Congressional Aid Plan To Equalize Yule Giving

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek won't get anywhere with the plan he's suggesting this week, and he probably ought to be ashamed of it.

Dear editor: With Christmas gettin nearer and nearer, I went into town Saturday and was nearly stampeded to death by people trying to buy Christmas presents before somebody else beats em to them, and while I ain't got no objections to buyin Christmas presents, especially other people buyin em, and if you want to give me a little somethin yourself for Christmas, say a subscription to The Munday Times if you can't think of nothin better, which I can, it will be appreciated, although of course I'd rather have the cash, and who wasn't, even at half-price, but what I started out to say is that ordinary Christmas presents is fine and I'm in favor of em, but a more practical policy would suit me.

Like it is, ain't nobody much comes out ahead on presents and a man is lucky if he gets nearly as many presents back as he sends out and while I understand this ain't the spirit of Christmas it blame sure is the spirit which most of us experience.

Why don't some Congressman introduce a bill to have the government make up the difference between what a man gives and what he gets? I don't know of anything which would improve the spirit of givin like havin the satisfaction of knowin ahead of time you couldn't lose but was bound to break even, and maybe ever gain a little if you handled the figures right. I will appreciate you givin your attention to this.

In the mean time what I would like to see is some Christmas presents a man can get some genuine and lastin use of. For example, some folks might think it would be a sort of overwhelmin Christmas for me if I woke up Christmas mornin and found a new tractor waitin for me, but my feel-

A Speech Was Made

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

A LETTER came to my desk a few weeks ago containing one paragraph that astonished me. It read: "At the church conference held in this southern district a speech was made against the profit motive." That any American group, particularly a religious group, should raise its voice against the profit motive struck me as amazing.

To get rid of the profit motive, you would have to find some substitute for economics in modern civilization. You would have to eliminate all trading and marketing, buying and selling. You would have to get rid of money and other mediums of exchange. You would have to cease bartering and swapping. In fact, you would have to reduce your modern civilization to self-sufficiency of the individual. A modern and complicated civilization like our own could not do without trade, exchange, manufacturing, raw materials and production. You just have to ask more than it cost you. That is what profit means.

Just Two THERE ARE only two Systems ways that an economy may operate. In America individuals own farms, stores, factories, and run them for the chief purpose of making enough profit to live on. The other way is for government to own everything, operating all production merely for the purpose of feeding the people and supplying what it thinks are their needs.

The profit motive is the very foundation of our American way of life. It is the Constitutional way in our country. It has produced more enthusiasm, finer cooperation, and a greater abundance of clothing, food, housing, and transportation than the masses of the people have ever known in any other country.

The other kind of economy, owned and operated by the government, attempts to do away with the profit motive. Actually, it does away with incentives, individual initiative, and efficiency. This kind of economy soon settles down to a "what's-the-use" status, offering only the barest necessities to its people.

Advance RUSSIA is a good example of this. Russia has attempted to substitute other enthusiasms for those of owning property and making profit, but she has found that whenever she wanted increased industrial output, she had to imitate some of the incentives that are so common in America.

The very concepts of freedom of the individual spring from the Bible. Therein you will find the foundation for the freedoms and liberties that America has built upon. I am unable to explain why church leaders are willing to attack the profit motive. To do so indicates tremendous misunderstanding of the American way of life, of our constitutional government, and the freedoms of the individual.

Let us not confuse greed and sin with the profit motive. There is nothing un-Christian, nor anti-social in fair and honest buying and selling and trading. One who is against the profit motive is in reality opposed to ownership of property, for when the profit motive is taken away the right to own things must go with it. It is high time for some of our religious people to start thinking through these things. Doing this, perhaps they would refuse to be used as advance agents of socialism and communism.

ins don't run in that direction. Now if I woke up and somebody told me he had a method of getting rid of Johnson grass without plowin and growin cotton without cultivatin, then you'd get some idea of the kind of Christmas present I have in mind. Some him spiritual rather than tangible.

I notice the government is spendin millions of dollars perfectin atomic bombs designed to wipe out cities, but don't hear of a dime bein appropriated by Congress to wipe out Johnson grass. Or a cent appropriated to produce cotton from year to year on the same stalks like pecans. This country is in a rut.

If Congress gets my bill passed before Christmas, let me know because as it is I'm holdin back on my Christmas shopping.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BOYCE HOUSE

It has been eight years since four columnist went to Hollywood to help a little in the making of "Boom Town"—but like Irwin S. Cobb concerning his operation, I like to talk about it. Recently, the film was re-issued and has been going the rounds again.

One night, in Austin, I attended a motion picture in technicolor, showing the twinkling lights of Hollywood seen from a height. Next day, I received a telegram asking me to come out and be technical advisor on "Boom Town"—and two nights after seeing the twinkling lights of Hollywood in a movie, I was looking at those lights myself.

At the first story conference, which was a get-acquainted affair, Sam Zimbalis, the producer, said, "We are going to spend a million dollars"—this was when million dollars was some money—"to make this picture; we want you to feel that it is your picture and if you have any ideas, it doesn't matter what they are, don't hesitate to speak at any time."

My friends will not need the assurance that I did not hesitate to speak.

However, I had a dilemma at the next session, which was when we got down to discussing the story. Zimbalis said, "We will suppose that a well comes in, making 50,000 gallons of oil a day." I didn't know whether I was supposed to be one of those Hollywood "yes men" I'd heard about and nod my head in agreement or point out that, in oil circles, the production of a well is expressed in "barrels" and not "gallons."

I decided if I was going to take their money, I ought to try to earn it by keeping the expressions technically correct, so I remarked that an oil man would speak of such a producer as about a thousand-barrel well (a barrel is, of course, 42 gallons). Zimbalis said, "All right, and went waiting for a bus when someone slapped me on the back. I looked around and the man said, "I'm sorry; I mistook you for a friend of mine." I said, "All right but don't let it happen again."

JUST CRUMBS

by Nadine Butler

There was not a single junior or senior that was not trembling in his or her shoes Monday morning in English class. It seemed that Mrs. Partridge had received a brilliant idea over the week-end and she presented it to us with a very complacent countenance. The idea originated, or so she tells us, when we were reading in English class, a weird selection by

FOR BETTER SERVICE -- Means of improving their service to the public was discussed by Texas Motor Bus Association members with state officials at a recent convention in Austin. Pictured here at the bus operators' banquet are Attorney General Price Daniel, Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, Jess C. Levens of Lubbock, president of the association; J. Manley Head, secretary-manager of the association; and Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson. Seated is Mrs. Levens.

Edgar Allen Poe, American's supreme artist of fantasy. Mrs. Partridge wanted us to write a short descriptive essay, using the first person being Buried Alive. We were to take this problem from any angle we wished; that is we could write of a dream in which we were buried alive. To give us a hint of the atmosphere and phrases as; warm sticky blood, breathing ribs, the breath of death, slimy, clammy, and ghostly, on the board.

No one even hoped to write a masterpiece that could compare with any of the selections by Poe. But everyone had to use his imagination.

SENIOR NEWS

This week character sketch is of Maxine Hill, Maxine is forever talking about something or another. Everytime one looks at her, she is either over-weighted with laughter or talking so fast that you would think she wasn't mindful at all of what she was saying. She has large green eyes and is quick to defend or comment, ironically, on something that does not exactly suit her opinion. Maxine is of medium height and petite. She has honey-brown hair which she arranges alluringly. She has a ready smile for everything that will suit her purpose and is a fond acquaintance of every student.

NAGGING BACKACHE

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatso, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent head-aching, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say, Ask your neighbor!

What's quicker than a wink?

WHY, the way Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant, jumps to your service when you flip a switch!

How quick is a wink? Well, scientists have clocked it at 1-300th of a second. But electricity arrives at 1-10,000,000th of a second after you make contact. That's speed! That's service!

And it's not only quick service, it's dependable service, too. Day and night, summer and winter, Reddy is ready and waiting. Keeping him constantly ready to serve you takes plenty of planning, plenty of skilled and experienced people. Yes, and it takes plenty of keeping up with the latest technical developments!

That's why today, in spite of rising costs in living, the average family is getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. That's why electricity is the smallest item in the family budget!

Uncle Sam Says

United States Savings Bonds have made last minute Christmas shopping worries a thing of the past for wise Americans. In fact even though you thought about what to give members of your family or close friends for a month of Sundays you could not come up with a better idea than Savings Bonds. Think of Savings Bonds in terms of what they will do for the recipient. For example, bonds provide immediate funds in the event of an emergency and help to pay for education, travel, a new home or a dozen and one other things which members of your family dream about. Your gift of a bond makes you a partner in the realization of the fondest hope of someone you love. What more could you ask of a Christmas gift?
