Home Ec. Girls Make Interesting Galveston Trip

Three of Munday's local people, Miss Gwynn Lee Smith, Miss Patsy Morrow and Miss Thelma Wirgess, the home making teacher, started out for Galveston on Wednesday, April 21. They went as far as Anson in a car and then caught a chartered bus from Lubbock which took them on to Galveston.

Another Hero Of War Buried Here Wednesday

The body of another beloved war hero, the flower of young American manhood, arrived home last Tuesday night for reburial in native soil. A tiny cross which marked his resting place for over three years has been removed from the tiny island of Iwo Jima, as his body was disinterred to be brought home for burial in the soil he loved.

He is Cpl. Jimmie G. Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Melton of Munday. He made the supreme sacrifice during one of the fiercest battles of our nation's history, as Iwo Jima was wrested from the hands of the Japanese. This was on February 25, 1945.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Marvin Fisher from the First Methodist church in Munday at 3 p. m. Wednesday. He was placed in his final resting place in Johnson cemetery, with the Mahan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Assisting in the services were Rev. Don Davidson of Munday and Rev. Copeland of Goree. Pallbearers were Don L. Ratliff, Everett B. Hosen, Ralph Cypert, Leon Newton, Bill Latham and Bruce Edwards.

Jimmie G. Melton was born May 31, 1920, and at the time of his death he was 24 years, 8 months and 24 days of age. At the time of reburial he would have been 27 years, 10 months and 29 days of age.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Melton of Munday. He graduated from Weirnet high school with the class of 1938.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and three sisters, who are: E. L., Jr., and Benny, both of Munday; Harrell of Fort Worth; Mrs. Fred Searey and Nell and Joyce Melton, all of Munday. His grandfather, H. C. Griffith of Munday, also survives.

Anyway, with everything working out favorable, we may be able to celebrate by riding on new paving in Munday in around six weeks, or such matter.

Then's when those gaps—those unpaved spots—will show up like a sore toe. And not only then, but from "here on out."

Forty years from now, we imagine, someone will be riding along Munday's pavement, hit one of those gaps where a good man-sized chug hole has been dug out by traffic, and remark: "Wonder who that stingy so-and-so was who was too tight to pave back in 1948?"

And that's no adverse reflection on those who don't have the herewith and who can't make the necessary arrangements to have their property paved.

Spring has come. The birds have mated and are building nests. We need a rain—and a cleanup campaign.

And someone offered the opinion that it's a heck of a job to try to tell a stranger where someone lives in Munday.

Those street markers we mentioned sometime ago will become more of a necessity, once our paving project is completed and done with.

"We've never been able to figure out—When a doctor gets sick and another doctor doctors him, does the doctor doing the doctoring have to doctor the doctor the way the doctor being doctor'd wants to be doctor'd, or does the doctor doing the doctoring of the doctor doctor in his own way?"

Which brings to mind that Friday is the last day in which the Blue Cross hospitalization plan will be offered Knox county people during the present drive.

Someone pointed out that Blue Cross is one of the ways in which we can avoid socialized medicine. Our doctors are agin that, and most of us are, or should be.

Heard anything about golf lately? If you haven't, you just haven't stopped on Munday's streets for very long.

Golf is being talked by a big per cent of the town's population. It's being played by lots of people, too.

Munday is said to have more golf enthusiasm than any little town this side of anywhere. That golf ladder has stimulated interest in a big way.

Those who are climbing toward the top of the ladder are enthusiastic. Those on the downward journey aren't losing much of their enthusiasm, either.

It's causing such boys as Arthur Smith, Jr., to shoot par golf. Arthur's right proud of that achievement, and rightly so. It's the first time he's completed a nine in the par-36.

In reminiscing over the past 20 years, Rev. Albertson stated that he had been received into the local church through experience and baptism a total of 547 people during this time. This amounts to a little over 100 more than the present membership of the church, he said.

He has no definite plans for the future, and said he plans nothing but rest for this summer. In announcing his resignation as local pastor, Rev. Albertson issued the following message to people of this area:

To Our Many Friends In and Around Munday:

In a few weeks, we will be leaving Munday, and we wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses and courtesies of the years. There have been many mistakes, but they have all been of the head and not of the heart.

Throughout these nearly twenty years, it has been our sincere desire to help to a better life and to a higher plane of living.

We have shared your sorrows, and tried to point you to One who knows all about us and who never forsakes. His life is eternal, and His everlasting arms will support us even down to the end.

May His blessings abide with you now, and even for evermore. W. H. Albertson.

District Meeting Of T.H.D.A. Held At Quanah Thursday

A district three meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association was held at the Methodist church in Quanah on Thursday, April 22.

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode of Munday, vice president, was in charge of the meeting.

Delegates from 15 Texas counties were present for the convention, with 261 ladies registering for the session.

Chief address of the occasion was delivered by Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, who spoke on "Current Legislation in Texas."

Other speakers included Mrs. Florence Low, specialist in home management from Texas A. and M. College, who spoke on "Home Equipment and Outlook." Kathryn Randall, Good Cheer editor of the Farmer-Stockman, and Mrs. Myrtle Negy, Extension Service agent, made talks, giving a summary of the program.

Music during the registration was rendered by Mrs. R. C. Willingham, and lunch was served the visitors by the Methodist W. S. C. S. of Quanah.

During the business session, Mrs. E. S. Dockery of Vernon was elected vice president to succeed Mrs. Almanrode.

Delegates from Knox county were: Mrs. O. D. Williams, Truscott, Mrs. Billie Hutchinson, Goree, and Mrs. J. C. McGee of Knox City. Between 35 and 40 ladies attended from Knox county, including Miss Eugenia Butler, home demonstration agent.

Bank To Close At Noon Saturdays

W. E. Braly, president, announced Tuesday that the First National Bank in Munday will close at noon Saturdays during the summer months. This closing hour will be observed, beginning next Saturday, May 1st.

Customers of the bank are urged to keep this Saturday closing hour in mind and do their banking business as early as possible.

Several short talks were made by different teachers before retiring to the auditorium for a program. Students of Munday junior high school rendered an entertaining program under the direction of Mrs. Irene Barwick.

This was followed by a very interesting address by L. M. Williams of Benjamin, judge of the 50th Judicial District. Judge Williams pointed out that Russia was spending 8 per cent of her national wealth for education, while the United States was spending barely 2 per cent for the same purpose.

As a result, Judge Williams pointed out, illiteracy was practically stamped out in Russia, while in the United States it was still high in some places. Due to relations between the two nations at this time, this could be a serious situation in the welfare of the United States.

Judge Williams also pointed out that, whether we like it or not, the small schools are doomed; that more and more consolidations would be made, and soon; that good roads, a transportation, and current trends of thought were bringing this about.

This was considered by all present as a very successful and worthwhile meeting. The members are very grateful to the retiring officers for the excellent manner in which they served the group during the past year. All think that each of them did a wonderful job.

Retiring officers are: Mrs. E. F. Branton, Knox City, president; Mrs. Irene Barwick, Munday, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. Bullion, Benjamin, second vice president; Merick McGaughey, Benjamin, secretary-treasurer.

13 Calves Are Placed On Feed In 4-H Project

Eleven 4-H club boys of Knox County have placed a total of thirteen calves on feed during the past three weeks.

This program, which has been followed by Knox County 4-H boys for some twelve years, is the largest project that most 4-H boys participate in. The feeding period extends over a period from ten to twelve months as a rule. The young calves are placed on a nurse cow and out. Gradually the oats are decreased and maize or corn added to the ration, until the ration is mostly composed of the later, according to a schedule presented to each boy at the time of purchase of his calf.

Employment Service To Help In Placing Combines In Knox

W. C. Albright, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office, 1613 Pease, Vernon, Texas, announced today that they were endeavoring to complete plans for assisting migrant custom equipment operators, other workers and farmers during the wheat harvest in Knox County this season. One week prior to harvest they will station a man at the Court House in Benjamin to work with farmers and workers.

Questionnaires have been mailed to local combine and truck owners and the response has been very gratifying. To enable them to more adequately serve farmers, custom combine and truck operators, Mr. Albright requests that those who did not receive questionnaires, contact the office in Vernon, Texas and list equipment for hire. Also, farmers who have to arrange for harvesting grain, contact office and list their needs.

Within the next ten days information as to acreage and crop conditions in other states will be available at the office located at 1613 Pease, Vernon, and one week before harvest begins, information relative to shortages and surplus of equipment and workers over the entire Texas Wheat Belt will be broadcast over Radio Station K G N C 710 Kiloycles, Amarillo, Texas, at 7:00 o'clock each morning until the harvest is completed. The information broadcast will be obtained by telegraphic report from each county on the afternoon before broadcast, Albright said.

FIGHTING SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

In mid-February, the doctors of England went on record in overwhelming opposition to the Labor government's socialized medicine law which is to go into effect July 5. The vote was 25,349 to 4,084. According to an AP dispatch from London, a doctor's strike against the measure is considered almost certain.

The doctors, who certainly have a far broader understanding of the public health problem than the politicians in power are not just stubbornly fighting any change in British health practices. They are opposing various provisions of the law which they believe are unjust, and which would lead to the deterioration of medical standards. One of these provisions would forbid the old, established right to buy and sell practices—which would mean that doctor who wishes to retire or move could not obtain any payment for a valuable property he had built up through industry and ability. They oppose a second provision which would establish a small, basic state-paid salary—which the doctors believe would be the entering wedge for a full-salaried state medical service. A third provision would certainly rob the medical profession of a fundamental right.

This turmoil over state medicine in England is of importance to this country, where proposals are being made looking toward eventual socialization and political domination of the healing arts. The British doctors realize that when the state steps into anything, it eventually takes over completely. And that would happen here too.

Plans For Establishing A Youth Center In Munday Outlined By Coach

(By Coach B. B. Clend)

Boys and girls have talked to me several times about a youth center. Some place they can "hang out" in their spare time. The city of Munday needs a youth center and I have taken it upon myself to outline a program and point out the main objectives, set up a tentative constitution, rules etc. that should be included in such a program.

Objects of Center

First of all, let us learn what the main objective of a youth center is. It is to provide recreation of all kinds for healthy, normal youth.

Secondly, just what does the center consist of? The youth center as a whole usually consists of a recreation room, a parlor, a library, an office, rest rooms, and clockrooms. Very often there is a snack bar where soft drinks, ice cream, and candy may be purchased. A portable stage, piano, and record player are usually considered standard equipment. Whenever possible, it is fine to have a movie projector to be used by the supervisor.

Thirdly, what are the qualifications for membership? The age limit would be from 11-18 years or from the sixth through the 12th grade. They would naturally have to be in the Munday School District. The membership fee is usually around 25 cents, and membership cards are issued every six months, these cards being the "pass" to enter the center.

Club Hours

Club hours are usually from 4

p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Thursday nights and from 4 p. m. to 10 p. m. on Friday and Saturday nights while on Sunday the center would be open from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.

A trained adult is needed to supervise and manage the youth center and its program, and a youth council is selected to work with the leader in planning and carrying out the activities and maintaining the laws of the constitution.

Many of the activities which the center may sponsor include athletic teams which engage in competition. These could be baseball, basketball, tennis, softball, ping-pong, croquet, and any other sport that meets with the age group, and the center has equipment for.

Other Projects

Other projects which might be worked up to would include a monthly newspaper which is entirely youth-managed. Young people edit, report, and make-up the paper. They solicit advertising from local businessmen in order to finance the paper. It is free of charge to all club members, and is filled with interests and news about youth center activities. Drama groups also have popular standing. Other ideas such as boy's workshop, a photo darkroom and discussion groups have also been worked out very successfully.

A youth center is always willing to participate in community projects and activities. They sell tuberculosis seals, help sell veteran poppies, prepare Red Cross work. Many times it is possible to have a periodical children's one day clinic for free medical examinations, and treatment.

The Library

The library may start with subscriptions for about three popular magazines and build up with contributions of books and other materials.

Rules

Here are some definite rules that have to be drawn up as to the conduct while in the youth center.

Do not in any way abuse furniture or other equipment. Do not scuffle or run in the youth center. Absolutely no foul language at any time. Do not throw paper or other rubbish on the floor. Do not sit on tables. Play with games only in proper places. Return games to proper places. Take turns with games. Absolutely no roughness or loud yelling. Conduct yourself as a lady or gentleman at all times.

A tentative constitution of the Munday youth center could be as follows:

Preamble

We, the youth of Munday, in order to establish a closer relationship between the grades to furnish educational possibilities, to develop talents and to promote social instructions to ourselves and to the future members of the youth center, formulate this constitution for the Youth Center of Munday.

Article I

Name

The name of this organization shall be up to the prospective members.

Article II

Section I—Powers of the Youth Council:

The council shall have the power to pass any laws that are necessary and proper for the betterment of the youth center.

The council may either disband old committees or formulate new his membership for a period of three months.

Article V

How the Constitution May Be Amended

To make an amendment to the constitution, two-thirds of the membership of the youth center must vote in favor of the amendment. Recommended amendments should be referred to the youth council and it shall be the duty of the council to call an election when it deems wise.

Article VI

Rules of Conduct

Students participating in the activities of the youth center must maintain themselves as ladies and gentlemen at all times, lest their membership card be taken away from them.

Conclusion

The center will grow day by day making the people of Munday realize more and more its social values. It will teach youth to entertain youth; it will be a worthwhile community project; it will be a connecting link between home, school, town, church and country. Young people and adults can make it possible, and keep it possible. For it is the best investment a community can have—an investment in youth.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens
Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and pecking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Somebody has said that knowledge is a wonderful thing. Why, if it wasn't for knowledge, we wouldn't know a thing!

Similarly—folks are great; we couldn't get along without 'em.

Recently your columnist was to speak at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in Falfurrias and had journeyed by bus as far as San Antonio when I ran into Bill Furey, Hillsboro publisher, in the Gunter lobby and he was on his way to Edinburg and so I caught a ride to Falfurrias.

Coming back, I'd gotten as far as Austin by bus, stopped over for a few hours, ran into Carl Bruner, a friend from Cowtown. He and his son, Paul, veteran and graduate student at the University of Texas, insisted—they did not have to insist very strong—that I ride back to Fort Worth with them.

Not only that but I'd stopped in San Antonio (on the return trip) to see Col. Ray Leeman, executive vice president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, and tell him what a good job Ray Jr., is doing as Falfurrias C of C manager but it was noon so I thought I'd have lunch, then phone the Colonel. So I went into the Manhattan Cafe, had my favorite dinner (the seafood platter) and, just as I finished, the man next to me at the counter got up and, one seat over, sat the man I'd stopped in San Antonio to see—Col. Leeman.

And I was so clumsy that he picked up my luncheon check.

Folks are great. I don't see how a fellow could get along without 'em.

American history has been marked by the passing of the Indian, the passing of the buffalo and the passing of the buck.

Something should be done about people that are late to shows and programs. And Alfred Lent, the famous actor, does. Several years ago, I was attending a Shakespearean play and the first act had been going on for 10 minutes when a couple entered. Of course, their seats were right in the middle of a row so everybody in that row had to stand to let them get by. Lent was speaking. He stopped, waited til the late arrivals were seated and then said, "So nice of you to come."

World War II veterans are training in hundreds of different occupational fields under the G-1 Bill.

One out of five is preparing for a career in business administration and other general business fields.

A similar number are training for engineering and mechanical occupations.

Nearly one-tenth of all trainees are following agricultural pursuits.

The occupational fields are listed in a Veterans Administration study of the principal training courses of 2,000,000 veterans studying in schools and colleges and 546,000 training on-the-job on November 30, 1947. The survey was released this week.

Business administration courses rate first among the veterans attending schools and colleges, with more than 311,000 studying in

Rule 4-H Club Girl Winner Of High Award

Five Texas 4-H club boys and girls—the cream of the crop—were named as 1948 winners of the awards presented each year for outstanding achievements in club work.

The announcement, made by J. W. Potts and Lorene Stevens, state 4-H club leaders of Texas A. and M. College, lists Novis Allison, Rule, Haskell county, as winner of the Maggie W. Barry Scholarship, and Howard Altenthese fields. Engineering ranks second with 252,000 students. Agriculture with 223,000, is third choice. The 85,000 preparing for teaching careers place education fourth.

Of the veteran-students enrolled in colleges and universities when the survey was made, 287,000 in liberal arts courses had not reported their major courses of study.

Among the veterans taking job training, almost 94,000 are training to be mechanics and repairmen. About 77,000 are taking training in business courses with another 69,000 enrolled for managerial training. About 44,000 are training as metal workers. Close to 41,000 are in electrical courses.

Nearly 6,000 veterans are enrolled in foreign schools, colleges and universities under the GI Bill, VA reports.

They are studying in 44 foreign countries in all parts of the world. Nearly 900 are in Canada; 635 in France, 356 in Great Britain; 116 in Italy; 461 in Mexico; and 427 in Switzerland.

Questions and Answers
Q. I was injured after I was discharged from the Army. May I get out-patient treatment for the injury?

A. No. Veterans with non-service connected disabilities may not receive out-patient treatment from Veterans Administration.

Q. I have not filed a claim for a service-connected disability, although I did sustain minor wounds in combat. Am I eligible for a 10-point Civil Service preference?

A. Yes. A veteran who does not have a compensable disability may secure Civil Service preference if he submits proof that he was awarded the Purple Heart.

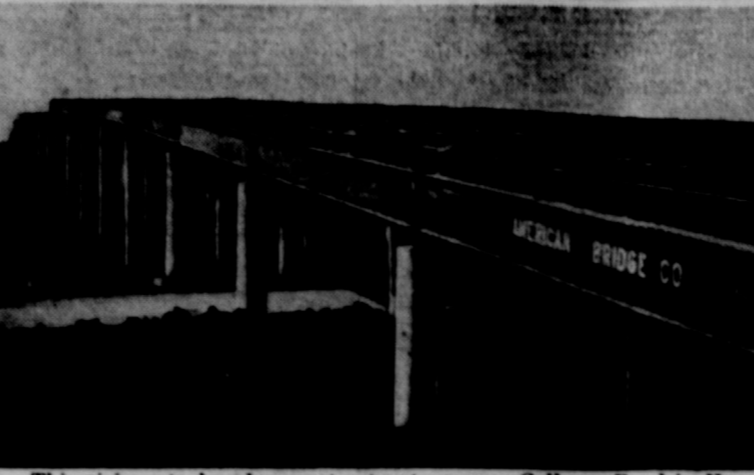

Q. I have a G-1 home loan, which according to the present contract, has to be paid in 20 years. Is it possible to have this loan extended to 25 years?

A. Your lender is the only person who can extend the date on which the loan must be paid. Veterans Administration will guarantee one half, but not more than $4,000, of your home loan if it is to be amortized in 25 years or less.

Q. If an insured veteran becomes mentally incompetent, can premiums on his National Service Life Insurance policy be paid by another person?

A. Yes. Premiums on NSLI can be paid by any person on behalf of the insured veteran, but care should always be taken to identify the insured veteran and each payment properly.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says People Are Not Leaving The Farm Farmers Just Culling A Little

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek, is straightening out a few ideas this week, if we have read his illegible handwriting correctly.

I was out here on Miller Creek Monday watching Spring unfold, with the sun-shin, the grass gettin greener all the time, the trees puttin out leaves, the breeze just right, which is a pleasant way to spend a day, provided the farmers on the surrounding farms keep their tractors tuned down where they don't make no unharmonious noises, just a sort of lullin sound that lets a man know the wheels of agriculture is turnin without him havin the personal experience of losin sweat and energy about it, and it bein one of those days when everything seems to go right, I wasn't surprised when a puff of wind picked up a newspaper from out of nowhere apparently and put it down right at my feet. And since a man ought to soak up intellectual nourishment the same as sunshine, I finished my nap and opened the newspaper and read where the census bureau has discovered a three percent drop in farm families right when farmin is considered to be a profitable undertakin.

"American families are fleeing the farms and moving into the cities," was the way the newspaper reported it.

This is what makes newspapers funny to read. There ain't nobody fleedin the farms, as the city people like to put. What's happenin is that the farmers is merely cullin themselves, with the culls movin to town.

Farmin is a vigorous way of life, although a thinkin man can keep the rigorousness down to a comfortable level if he handles things right and his wife ain't too naggin and is as pleased over a new well rope as some people is over a deep-freeze unit, but the idea that a man stays on the farm only because he can't leave is city propaganda, worked up to make the city people feel better off about bein cooped up.

Some folks say farmin is a business, but it ain't, not the way I practice it. It's a way of life. Ain't one business man in a hundred who can run a farm and ain't one farmer who runs his farm in a business-like way. If you want to get run in a business-like way, move to a city and get you a job on an assembly line and you'll be business-like eight hours a day, but as for me I'll take the country.

It doesn't matter what the census figures say, people ain't fleedin

Your part in this bond drive is to sign up for automatic bond buying through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month plan at your bank if you are self-employed. U. S. Savings bonds are truly security bonds, which require the allotment of only a little spare cash each week, and yet return a whopping big nestegg in 10 years. be prevented and crippling lessened in many cases, by prompt, complete and sometimes prolonged medical care.

Even though these encouraging facts have been established, still with polio as with any other disease prevention is better than cure. Summer is the chief danger period, and to avoid the risk of contacting this disease, it is well to observe the following health suggestions, especially with regard to children: practice absolute cleanliness in personal, home and community life; try not to mingle with crowds; don't get over-tired since extreme fatigue lowers resistance; avoid chilling by swimming overlong in cold water; consult your doctor at once if a member of your family has fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness.

Following these suggestions will help to prevent the spread of polio but if you do have a case in your family, remember that the majority of patients with good care recover without crippling. Your fear or panic will only make it harder for you and your child.

Wayne Blacklock of Hardin Simmons University, Abilene spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock.

For thrifty use of food, eat heartily in the day. A good breakfast is important for health and morale, and means more efficient use of food.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—The danger of crippling and death from poliomyelitis is very real and should not be minimized, but according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, a knowledge of the facts about this disease will help fight the fear of it, and aid in preventing the panic that is usually associated with the appearance of polio.

The facts about polio are these: It attacks so few people that 20 cases per 100,000 population is considered an epidemic. Half of those who get the disease recover without crippling; another fourth with good care, recover with only slight crippling. Deformities can

Pecan Trees
Should Be Treated
For Casebearers

Heavy loss reported last year from pecan casebearers can be prevented to a major degree according to information received recently by County Agent, Carpenter.

Experiments with D. D. T. and Sulphur last year proved that when applied at the proper time a major portion of all damage is stopped from the casebearer.

The new method involves 3 lbs. of 50 percent wettable D. D. T. powder and 6 to 8 lbs. of wettable sulphur per 100 gallons of water to form a spray. The spray is applied preferably with a high power sprayer at the rate of 50 to 80 gallons per tree, depending upon its size. The leaves and blossoms should be wet thoroughly.

The casebearers lays its' eggs on the young pecans just about the time the blossom end turns brown, which is from May 5 to May 20th, usually. When the eggs or young worms are found, the spray should be applied.

More detailed information may be secured at the County Agents Office through Farm Hints, No. 269.

"Dixie"
Waffles

By Frances Lee Barton

THE name is "Dixie" son, but north or south, east or west, waffles are as delightful for supper as they are for "branch" or breakfast. Whip them up - it's simple. Serve them immediately - while they are hot. Let each member of the family or each guest use the syrup or spread that is most appealing. Then everyone will be delighted with this dish of Southern inspiration.

Dixie Waffles

2 cups sifted flour; 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 1/2 cups milk; 5 tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix ONLY until smooth. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve hot with butter or margarine and maple-flavored syrup. Makes six 7-inch waffles.

Note: If desired, 1 cup chopped nut meats or blueberries may be added to batter just before baking.

Sweet cream, sour cream, or sour milk may be substituted for sweet milk in above recipe. If sour cream or sour milk are used, sift 1/2 teaspoon soda with dry ingredients. If cream is used, omit shortening.

the road was graveled from the end of the nearest graveled street to the Cemetery, which was done mostly by volunteer labor, and donated use of trucks, machinery and gravel.

A small tool house was built on the grounds for the storage of hand tools, and additional grounds was purchased adjoining the old part of the cemetery which was plotted and steel pots, wire and proper gates will be placed on the north and west sides of the old and new additions.

All donations to the funds which is used for this purpose is, and was greatly appreciated and any one desiring to contribute to this cause at any time, are urged to do so as more funds will be needed to properly keep the cemetery in good shape and make the last resting place of our loved ones look nice as possible.

In the first months of 1947, the Benjamin Home Demonstration Club, with Mrs. Earl Sams as president, voted to sponsor a Cemetery Association which was soon organized. Agreement Reached On Local Drainage Project; Farm Lands Won't Be Taxed

Rearrangement of the boundaries of the proposed Knox County Drainage District No. 1 to eliminate disastrous floods in Munday was agreed upon by Munday proponents and protesting farmers at a hearing on creating the district before Knox County Commissioners Court here Wednesday morning.

Mayor W. R. (Bill) Moore of Munday agreed to have Munday city attorney M. F. Billingsley file an amended petition to present in the next few weeks to the court which will circumscribe the boundaries of the proposed district to the city itself. Billingsley expressed the opinion the court had no authority to amend the petition so as to bring this about at this meeting. The original petition was signed by C. P. Baker and 88 other freeholder tax paying Munday citizens.

100 Attend Hearing

The district court room was used to accommodate the crowd of approximately 100 who attended the hearing. Many farmers who protested against the creation of the district were present. Spokesmen for the opposition were headed by John B. Reneau, Munday, and J. W. Gaither, long-time farmer on Route 1, just outside of Munday. Both vigorously objected to farmers being taxed to provide a drainage district which they asserted would benefit only Munday people.

"All we ask is that our farm land be left out of the district," Reneau said. "We want to do the right thing." Reneau exploded a hearty laugh and several "amens" when he jokingly declared, "I wish it'd rain so hard it would run the whole bunch of us out." Incidentally Munday and the area is in the throes of a severe drought.

"This project has been my baby for years—I've been the daddy of it," Mayor Moore said when he presented Munday's side.

"We think it very imperative that we get our little city drained. We have studied the situation thoroughly and arrived at the conclusion that the amount of taxes farmers would have to pay would be very small," he said.

"But now we think farmers should not have to pay taxes to keep Munday proper out of the high water. Therefore, we are willing to leave the farmers out entirely and let Munday pay its own flood-control bill."

Petition Amended

"That's all we're asking," Reneau interjected. It was then that city attorney Billingsley filed an amended petition, after consultations with Moore.

Moore, in an interview, pictured the situation in south Munday as dire when raging, swirling waters from heavy downpours southwest of the city endanger lives, ruin property and create unhealthy conditions. Mayor Moore declared much of Munday's flood troubles were due to diversion of farm waters to the city while at the same time creating flood problems about farm homes and on farm lands. Charge was made that tampering with natural course of flood water routes had diverted it into the main part of the city.

"We will prepare our new petition so as to embrace only Munday, but even then we anticipate having some opposition," Moore said. Harvey Lee, city secretary, was an attendant at the session. Representing protesting farmers were Judge D. J. Brooker, Benjamin and Seymour attorney, and Tom Davis, Haskell. Judge William Griffith sat at the judge's position during the hearing, while the four commissioners sat in the jury box listening to the impassioned appeals. Commissioners present were O. L. Knight, Knox City Precinct No. 1; Clyde Bullion, Truscott, Pet. 2; Lewis Parker, Benjamin, Pet. 3; and George Nix, Gore, Pet. 4. Mayor Moore declared the situation on farms southwest of Munday creates a deplorable condition which could be remedied if farmers would unite to drain the area. He said he saw houses stand for long periods in deep water, while fields were as much as three feet under water. In his opinion these water troubles could be remedied. —Abilene Reporter News.

Farms To Fore As U. S. Uses Oil At Rate 28 Times Rest Of World

The U.S. today consumes 28 times as much oil per person as does the rest of the world, using oil for industry, transportation, the home and the farm. With the close of the heating season, current emphasis is on the farm use as spring plowing begins. Since 1941, the farmer has virtually doubled his use of gasoline for tractors and other equipment and is utilizing Diesel oil, kerosine and bottled gas in increasing quantities.

Activities Of The Colored People

On last Sunday an appreciation service was held at West Beulah Baptist Church honoring the pastor, Rev. Washington. Mrs. F. M. Johnson was mistress of ceremony. Mrs. Helen Shearod and Mrs. Burke were at the piano. Bro. Tyler of Haskell made a splendid talk on leadership, a response by the Rev. Q. H. Beavers and a welcome address by Mrs. Jones, a member of the said church.

Rev. Burke of Haskell preached a wonderful sermon. The Haskell choir rendered two or three selections which were enjoyed.

The Scotts Chapel Methodist Church's pastor and members were present, the pastor and members of Seymour and the Church of God in Christ of Munday were present, likewise the pastors' members of Knox City.

A large host of friends were present and each reported an enjoyable service.

Bro. Hathaway gave also at service some pamphlets for the church.

Gifts were also given to the pastor and more than $70.00 in money. On last week a Sunday school party was given in the home of Mrs. M. H. Hendric, honoring the children of the Church of God in Christ.

Services will be held Sunday at Scott's Chapel and the Church of God in Christ.

County Makes Progress In Conservation

Knox County farmers are using the assistance furnished by the Agricultural Conservation Program with increased effectiveness in improving the farm lands of Knox County. From 1945 through 1947 farmers of Knox County have built 2,694,657 linear feet of large ridge terraces along with 20,258 cubic yards of diversion terraces. During the first three months of this year farmers have built 259,681 linear feet of large ridge terraces and 4,823 cubic yards of diversion terraces. Mr. W. A. Reeder of Knox City and Mr. Jess Elliott of Goree, along with others who have built terraces this year say that they realize that farmers get double benefit from terraces. The annual rainfall is very low in Knox County and the farmer wants to keep as much of the water that falls on his land as possible. Terraces built on the level hold water on the land and stores it beneath the surface to be used to sustain the crops during the dry, hot season.

Many of the rains we have are hard flash rains and our terraces prevent these hard rains from taking away our top soil. We know that if our land is to continue to produce we must keep our top soil. Mr. Reeder and Mr. Elliott believe only a small part of the terraces would have been built had it not been for the assistance furnished farmers through the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Every year plans are made for carrying out the terracing practice on several of our farms here in Knox County that would save many tons of our top soil, but for one reason or another the plans are not carried out and the land loses top soil and fertility. With our increasing population and a limited cropland we can not maintain our present standard of living and continue this loss of fertile top soil that nature built for us over many thousands of years.

Certainly, we are speeding up the day when we will come to the turning point if we allow our land to get away from us. Every farmer has a responsibility to the country to do his part in saving our soil. Because this problem is so serious, the Agricultural Conservation Program has been provided to help farmers get this job done. Farmers using this assistance are cooperating in a national fight to save the land to keep our soil producing the abundance needed to keep the nation well fed.

Wichita Valley Railway Serves A Rich Portion Of Burlington System

(By John L. McCarty)

(This is the third in a series of articles giving some of the background history of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, which will observe its seventy-fifth birthday on May 26, 1948.)

Not all the railroad building is done when a single line is laid through a potentially rich area. When the main line is completed there remains, almost without exception, areas that must have branch lines and areas which must have connecting lines. That was especially true of the great superior West Texas area which the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway's main line traversed between Fort Worth and Denver. Its cattle, farm products, oil, and other resources were not confined to narrow strips along the wide swinging bow-like curves of the miles of track through West Texas, across the Plains and through New Mexico and on to Denver. The country was big and lush and wide. It had to have railroads that fed into this main line artery. That is why today Wichita Valley Railway Company. It is an important part of the system. It is also only a part of the rail lines built by Morgan Jones, Frank Kell, and other leaders of "The City That Faith Built," which stretched fingers out from Wichita Falls throughout a rich territory.

The Wichita Valley Railway Company was chartered on February 8, 1899. General Dodge was its promoter and associated with him was Morgan Jones, who became the road's first president and who came to be associated with so many railroads and to play such a big part in the development of West Texas. The road was built on the same basis of cost as was the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, or $20,000 in stock and $15,000 in bonds per mile. The promoters also had donations of about $20,000 cash and virtually all the right-of-way. The charter called for 400 miles of road to be constructed southwesterly from Wichita Falls by September 1, 1899. Only 51 miles was completed and put into operation by that date. Financial reverses in 1896 and 1897 put severe strains on the road, and it barely escaped reorganization. In 1905 Dodge and associates sold the road to the Colorado and Southern Railway for $692,100. This came about as a result of the Colorado and Southern having embarked on a program of building feeder lines into that part of Texas in 1903. The first of these was the Wichita Falls and Oklahoma Railway Company, for which Morgan Jones and associates secured the charter on October 26, 1903, to build 24 miles from Wichita Falls to Byers. It was completed June 24, 1904.

Morgan Jones after selling out his interests embarked on another railroad construction enterprise with D. T. Bomar as a chief associate, and with the ranchers of West Texas as valuable allies. His objective was Stamford, 61 miles from Seymour, and he chose a name very similar to the first one, changing it to the Wichita Valley Railroad Company. Landowners and citizens of Stamford, Haskell, Jewand, Weinert, and Gorce donated $120,000 in lands and cash. This line was completed in 1906, and its securities transferred to the Colorado and Southern Railway. That company leased it to the Wichita Valley Railway Company on February 1, 1908.

Another road promoted by Ed S. Hughes, prominent hardware dealer of Abilene, and D. T. Bomar was the Abilene and Northern Railway Company. It was chartered on February 5, 1906, to build from Hamlin in a southeasterly direction to Brandy, with a branch from near Anson to Stamford, the terminus of the Wichita Valley Railroad Company. It is generally believed that this was backed from the start by the Colorado and Southern because the Fidelity Construction Company, which had built the Wichita Valley line, got this contract, and on the same terms. The line was completed to Abilene, 39 miles away, in 1907, and there it stopped as it received no aid from the State, but Abilene, Anson, and Stamford citizens donated land and cash to the value of $86,805.85.

The next road to be leased by the Wichita Valley Railway Company was the Stamford and Northwestern Railway, which was promoted directly by the Colorado and Southern after landowners, headed by the Swenson interests in Stonewall, Kent and Dickens counties, in 1909 offered to donate $120,000.00 in cash and right-of-way for a railroad from Stamford to Spur. The Colorado and Southern management accepted the offer, secured a charter on January 11, 1909 to build to Plainview, about 165 miles away, and let the contract to the Fidelity Construction Company. They finished the road to Spur, 82.2 miles, by June 1910. The road was then leased to the Wichita Valley Railway Company.

A chronicle of railroad building in this general area would not be complete without mention of the Acme Tap Railroad Company from Acme to Agatite, Texas, a distance of 1,510 miles, less than two miles. Its construction involved a quarrel between two rival cement companies.

Neither would the Wichita Valley system be complete without the story of how the Wichita Valley line crossed the Texas Central, or "Tin Can" line at Stamford, as told by J. W. "Jinks" Mode, recently retired Superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company. "Jinks" Mode was conductor on the lead work train and had a part in the planning and execution of the crossing. Mr. Mode, his crew, and about 75 workmen were ordered to stay back from the crossing a distance and not to put in their appearance until 1 o'clock in the early morning. When they did, they promptly put out warning flags on each side of the prospective crossing. Workmen cut the tracks and inserted the crossing-frog in its place and spiked it down, and the train pulled across. By 3:30 o'clock the work was done and a celebration already was well underway when the crews moved up.

"The Tin Can knew good and well we were going to cross their line but their officials had been stubborn from the start," said Mr. Mode.

West Texans, and especially those of the Wichita Falls area, can do a lot of speculating on the possibilities of "The City That Faith Built" had all of the proposed and chartered rail mileage been completed. The 400 miles southwesterly undoubtedly would have tapped the riches of far West Texas long before they were developed. Wichita Falls would have been the center to which that weighty traffic would have flowed. The development of Plainview and the South Plains undoubtedly would have been advanced had the Stamford and Northwestern Railway reached its original chartered destination of Plainview. Wichita Falls would have received much business from that region. Some civic and railroad leaders were doing some real planning and building in those early days.

It remained for the terrific agricultural and oil development on the South and North Plains in the late twenties and early thirties to usher in another Fort Worth and Denver City, and one of the few modern, new, railroad building booms. That story which will follow will close this series of articles which seek to show how a railroad built an empire and how an empire made it possible for a railroad to celebrate a sparkling diamond anniversary on May 26, 1948.

Farmers Asked To Plan Conservation Practices Now

It's not too early to begin planning terraces and earthen dams and similar mechanical conservation practices which can be carried out when crops are harvested, says Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee. In the last few years, much of this work has been done by contractors with heavy dirt-moving machinery.

Delay in planning and in making arrangements, the chairman explains, may result in not getting the work done, another year is lost, and the land the conservation work would have saved is lost too. "Everywhere are evidences of erosion and soil depletion which have resulted from letting little conservation jobs slip by."

Mr. Partridge says that the growing season provides a good opportunity to study the land and determine where conservation work is needed most. Plans for terraces should be carefully checked so that they will be most effective in saving water and soil. The same is true for other dirt-moving practices.

He urges all farmers in Knox County to talk over summer and fall plans with county or community ACP committees. This will avoid delay in getting work started and farmers will be assured of program requirements.

New Method To Supply Phosphorus In Cattle Used

A new method of supplying the necessary phosphorus to cattle in this area is now under study. Jack Idol, cooperating with the Extension Service, has placed into operation a machine known as the Fos-Feeder, supplied to him by the Mineral Supplement Company, of Houston, Texas.

The system involves the injection of 120 C. C. of a stock solution of mono-sodium phosphate into each 10 gallons of water. It works much on the order of the chlorine system used in city water works, but is more practical and simplified in nature according to L. V. Muskgrove inventor and demonstrator of the machine.

Through the injection of the stock solution into the stock water a twenty-five hundredth percent phosphoric solution is obtained.

According to soil tests, run in Knox County, its main deficiency is phosphorus.

The League Ranch has tested its cattle by laboratory analysis some time ago and found that the cattle lacked phosphorus.

Jack Idol states that he has used di-sodium phosphate with salt in mineral licks with very good results, but the water injection system may prove to be more successful since the mineral used is more soluble and will reach every animal drinking from the trough.

Grasshoppers Will Be Hatching Soon

Spring marks the beginning of grasshopper season here in Texas. Grasshoppers that feed on cotton, corn, grain sorghums, fruit trees and other crops are hatching out this month from eggs laid in the ground last fall. Paul Gregg, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. and M. College, says that according to a recent survey made by John M. Landrum and W. J. Spicer, supervisors with the USDA's grasshopper control division, the hatch of the hoppers south of Waco was about 50 percent completed during the week of April 10.

Dry weather in central and south Texas has delayed the hatch to some extent, and hatching will probably continue for another two or three weeks if the weather keeps up. On the other hand, a good rain in this area would cause most of the remaining eggs to hatch in a few days.

Grasshoppers are hatching in all south and central Texas counties which have river bottoms or river tributaries running through them.

Naturally no damage has been done to the crops yet by the hoppers, says Gregg, because the young hoppers are still in the hatching beds, which are usually located in weeds or grasses of idle land near the edge of a cultivated field. There is one case of serious hopper damage in South Texas where they have been reported feeding on young grain sorghum.

The Munday Livestock Commission Company reports a good run of cattle for Tuesday's sale with prices paid as follows:

Canner and cutter cows, $13.50 to $17.00; butcher cows, $17.50 to $20.00; fat cows, $20.50 to $23.50; butcher bulls, $17.00 to $20.00; fat bulls, $20.50 to $23.50; butcher calves, $18.00 to $24.00; fat calves, $24.50 to $29.00; butcher yearlings, $17.50 to $24.50; fat yearlings, $25.00 to $29.00

Water makes up 60 per cent of meat, 87 per cent of milk, 55 per cent of poultry flesh, and 65 per cent of eggs.

Families that live by a plan will be more likely to maintain a smooth family living than those which do things in a hit-or-miss fashion.
