Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

"Remember the Alamo!" has been the war-cry of Texans ever since the fall of that historic Texas shrine to the forces of Santa Anna.

With that war-cry Texans have been spurred on to win other battles and make other accomplishments.

"Remember that note payment" has been our war-cry ever since March 1, 1947, when that all-important debt was accumulated.

And along about the tenth of each month since that date, we've had to "go into battle" with that consarned note.

Sometimes our weapons were sufficient to win that 10th of the month beach-head, because of the loyal patronage of our subscribers who had come in with the statement, "I want to help you on that note" and had their expiration date scooped up another year.

Sometimes we went into battle just a little shy of the type of equipment it took to win—those little "bat wings" that bear the picture of our beloved George Washington.

This would come about, either because our subscription list was already paid up, or because our readers didn't see fit to help us out that particular month.

But the battle has gone on, and we've always managed to come out on the winning side, either by a nose or the skin of our teeth.

This last tenth found our store of ammunition surprisingly low! So we get to checking, and we find that some of our subscribers had not dropped in with their two bucks to help replenish the ammunition dump.

So we devised a little card as a reminder. On it was printed a lady's slip in a rather striking red color, while we tried to whisper to them by means of small type that their slip was showing!

We just wanted you to know that possibly your contribution to our note-paying supplies had slipped your mind, and we'd appreciate it if you'd just slip in and slip us some ammunition.

'Cause we don't want our slip to be showing, you know, come note paying time again!

So if you got one of our cards in the past few days informing you that your slip is showing—then just slip in here, or come barging in, and let's remedy that little situation.

Then we can slip over to our note-holder, slip him some kale, and take another slice off that thing without as much embarrassment as we experienced just a few days ago.

As we've explained before, two bucks—or $2.50 as the case may be—isn't so much for you—just about one bushel of wheat—while it will mean quite a dab to us if all of you will come in and "decorate the mahogany" with two bucks apiece.

Then we could saunter over and place it all "on the barrel head" and say, "Take that much of a slice off that note!"

And we could watch that smile as it beams over the countenance of our mortgage holder, and he'd say: "I knowed you could do it!"

Then we'd smile back at him with our best Sunday smile, and say: "Shucks, we didn't do it. Our subscribers done gone and done it for us!"

It's a pretty picture, as we sit here at the typewriter and photograph it in our mind. And it's a picture we can go ahead and have developed, if you who got the cards will "slip" on in with the kind of cooperation we know you'll give us.

And you're doing just that. Why, we had to stop and take two subscriptions before we could get to open the office Monday morning. Pop Davy and Abb Ilseung just (Continued on Last Page)

ACCEPTS POSITION IN OZONA SCHOOLS
Jim Reeves and daughter, Miss Jean, were in Ozona on Wednesday of last week, and Miss Reeves accepted a position in the Ozona schools for another year.

Miss Reeves is a recent graduate of TSCW, Denton. She majored in elementary education.

Actual, at the present time, in my opinion, the chances are 5 to 1 that we will not have Mexican Nationals to work your cotton fields this year.

This opinion was expressed recently in a bulletin from the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, reviewing the cases of charges of discrimination against Mexican Nationals in some sections of Texas that have caused the state to be placed on the "black list" by the Mexican government.

In an effort to work out these difficulties, a committee from the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, of which H. A. Pendleton of Munday and S. N. Reed of O'Brien were members, conferred with Gov. Beauford Jester and other officials on June 2, in Austin. Efforts are made to have Texas removed from the black list.

There are actually no complaints against this area, or Knox county, according to committee members, but several from other areas in which it was claimed that Texas had discriminated against Mexican Nationals, unjustly and excessively. Texas was placed on the black list, along with Arkansas and Mississippi, it was stated.

How Munday Looked 18 Years Ago Last Sunday!

Munday received only a brief shower last Sunday, the 18th anniversary of the "Big Flood" which occurred here and shown in these photos. This was June 13, 1930. Citizens milked their cows on front porches, boats were used in the streets, water stood ten inches deep in the Times office, no lives were lost. Munday's flood came as a result of heavy rains in Munday and Thorp. The above scene was repeated in a lesser degree in 1940.

Tri-County Golf Tournament Gets Under Way With Qualifying Rounds

One of the greatest golf tournaments in the history of the Tri-County Golf Association got under way here last Sunday, when between 60 and 70 golfers started out on their qualifying rounds.

With lots of interest shown, the Munday Municipal Club's golf course in perfect shape for the play, and with a prize roster that contains winnings up to $80 in merchandise for the top flight men, this promises to be a jam-up tourney from start to finish.

By 6:30 Sunday morning players had started out on their qualifying rounds. Many of them had passed the half-way mark when a Less Pesky Insects Now!

The City of Stamford came up last Thursday with their spraying machine, and the entire day was taken up in spraying the streets and alleys, under culverts, in mosquito breeding places, and the fog even went into the homes good and proper.

They worked from early morning until almost dark. Citizens opened doors and windows as the "fog machine" came by and a good dose was received inside the buildings. Even a few dead roaches were seen next morning.

Local residents were informed that it would take three or four days for the spray to reach maximum effect, but the mosquito population began to dwindle next day. By Monday night, there appeared comparatively few of the annoying insects.

A drive is being started for the purchase of a similar "fog machine" for the city, so spraying can be done at regular intervals. Many people hope this will materialize.

Anyway, the thanks of the town's population goes to our neighbor, Stamford, for the good deed that was done last Thursday—and at actual cost, which was a total of $56.75.

Relatives Of Moore Family Are Saved From Flood

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore of Munday received word last Friday that their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, and her family, of Portland, Oregon, were rescued from the raging flood waters there.

Their home and all possessions were destroyed in the flood, said to be the worst in the history of that section.

Civic Body Makes Plans To Get Things Done

The board of directors, still enthusiastic regarding possibilities of the Community Development Association, met last Monday night in the office of the Production Credit Association to make further plans toward forming an active community body.

Two important measures were discussed, with the possibilities seeming bright for these being put into effect.

One was the purchase of a spraying machine for the town of Munday, whereby the city would be sprayed regularly to eliminate flies, mosquitoes and other insects. Should the machine be purchased, it would be used to spray other towns of the county if its services are desired.

An organized method of garbage disposal was also discussed, with the possibility of this being put into effect as soon as possible. Under this plan, a regular method of picking up cans, trash and garbage would be inaugurated, and possibly the burning of papers and trash within the business district would be eliminated entirely.

The board of directors set May 31 as the date ending the fiscal year for the Community Development Association. Prior to this date each year, a membership banquet would be held, at which time new officers would be elected.

The utility committee, of which Leland Hannah is chairman, reported possibilities of the Lone Star Gas Co. and other organizations serving the community by establishing offices in Munday. This would be of particular advantage, in that citizens being served would have a central office to which they would pay their monthly bills.

The membership drive is expected to get under way next week. The membership committee will meet with the board of directors in their regular meeting next Monday night.

RETURN HOME FROM VISIT IN CORPUS

Mr. and Mrs. Ardelle Spelce and family, Mrs. Joyce Savage of Wichita Falls, and W. W. Naylor returned home last Tuesday night from a vacation trip to San Antonio, Corpus Christi and other points.

At Corpus they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts and spent some time deep sea fishing in the gulf. Kenneth Spelce caught his first fish, and kindra laid the older heads in the shade when he landed a big one.

At San Antonio, Ardelle and Dave Jetton attended the Texas Firemen's convention as delegates of the local fire department.

THE TAP ROOT OF FREEDOM

There is only one basic difference between the American system of government and the governments of those countries suffering from worrying degrees of dictatorship. That difference is the right, protected by law, of private ownership of property. Private property is the tap root of freedom.

It is impossible to abolish private ownership of property for some without ultimately destroying it for all. And once it has been destroyed, a central government becomes boss for the simple reason that it is the sole employer and sole property owner.

Oppression follows automatically when a people, stripped of property, must rely blindly on a government run with a free rein by men who need no longer recognize antitrust laws, labor unions, or anything else—men who can abandon the constitutional trappings of a free country because they are bigger than the law by right of might.

Total control is always the dream of ruthless men. The ultimate in total control is total government. The one thing standing in the path of total government in the United States is the private ownership of property vested in millions of American citizens. It must ever remain so.

SEVEN BURNED

A short time ago, in a farm home near Danville, Iowa, a large family was asleep. At about four in the morning a fire of undetermined origin broke out. No fire equipment was available. Three children and the parents escaped. Seven children, who were sleeping in upstairs bedrooms, perished. The flames spread so rapidly that these children could not be reached by the time the others awakened.

What happened near Danville has happened, in lesser or greater degree, in thousands of American communities. At the moment you read this, it is probable that fires which will destroy life are in progress. Today fire may strike a long way off from you. Tomorrow it may come home.

A very large percentage of dwelling fires are the result of dangerous heating equipment, particularly old stoves and open fireplaces. Open flame burners count for an appalling number of deaths by asphyxiation. Then, going down the list, electrical and smoking hazards take their grim toll. The seven children who were cremated alive

WE'RE GRATEFUL TO STAMFORD

Every Munday citizen, from the highest city official to the smallest child, owes a debt of gratitude to our neighboring city of Stamford. The graciousness of that city in furnishing the equipment and manpower to operate it for spraying our town for mosquitoes, flies and other insects deserves our most sincere thanks.

Munday had gotten into a "hell of a shape," according to one prominent citizen; and with the threat of polio which is on the increase in Texas, many local people were becoming alarmed about conditions as they existed here.

Some preliminary work had been done by local city officials toward getting the town sprayed. On Wednesday a group of citizens, representing the city and the Community Development Association made a trip to Stamford to see if and when this equipment would be available.

"We'll be up there tomorrow," Stamford's officials assured our group. And on Thursday they were here, and the town was completely sprayed. This was done at actual cost, which was a total of $56.75.

We express the thanks of the town to you, Stamford. We know you were a good neighbor, for more reasons than that of staging the Texas Cowboy Reunion for our entertainment each year.

FLAMEPROOF SUIT BRINGS SAFER PLAY

Motherly may be spared a few gray hairs as the result of a new cotton product that has just been placed on the market.

A leading New York department store reports that it is now selling the first 100 per cent flameproof, sure-safe playsuit for children.

The suit, made of processed cotton flannelette was tested under rigorous conditions. The cotton suit was sampled after every five washings and proved to be safe even after more scrubbings than a child's garment usually undergoes. The flame proofing treatment has no effect on the texture of the cotton material. In fact, it is said to make the cloth more durable.

The National Cotton Council says that the first kid's safety play outfit is a boy's baseball suit, and it will be followed by Indian, clown, cowboy and other play clothes.

near Danville are now statistics—tragic evidence of fire's insatiable appetite. A few weeks ago they were alive and happy. How many more lives will fire destroy in this country before we learn that fire prevention is the duty of every family, every owner of a business, and every worker?

An airman had to parachute to safety owing to engine trouble. On the way down through space he met an old lady floating up. "Have you noticed a Spitfire going down?" he shouted.

"No," yelled the old lady. "Have you seen a gass stove going up?"

About the time you're important enough to take two hours for lunch, the doctor limits you to a glass of milk.

Uneasy is the head that wears a frown, or the tooth that wears a crown.

Ten Cars Per Mile Threaten Safety On 4th

During the three-day Fourth of July holiday this year, there is a chance of 10 smash-ups for every mile of highway in the United States, according to the National Safety Council.

The Council estimates that there will be more than 30,000,000 vehicles going somewhere during the Fourth of July week-end, which means an average of about 10 vehicles for each of the 3,300,000 miles of streets and highways in the country. And whenever there is a car there is a chance for a wreck unless it is operated safely.

The figures only emphasize the tremendous amount of travel to be expected during the holiday, the Council said. More cars on the road traveling more miles will inevitably mean more accidents—unless there is more caution than usual on the part of the motoring public.

Campaign Planned
 In an attempt to prevent a holiday of tragedy for hundreds of persons, the Council is conducting again this year a nationwide campaign for a safe Independence Day celebration.

Many national organizations, government officials, police departments and local safety councils are cooperating in the effort.

"Accidents of all kinds took 8,300 lives in July last year, 2,720 of them in traffic," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "As usual, the Fourth of July celebration contributed substantially to those figures."

"This year we have many dangerous factors—a three-day holiday, more cars and mileage, plenty of money. It adds up to a big celebration—and a big hanger of grief and suffering—unless each of us does something about it."

"We can do something about it, because these tragedies result from things we can control—haste, stiffness, thoughtlessness, the desire to show off."

"Take it easy on the Fourth. Be alive on the Fifth!"

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

At the orphanage the teachers try to keep the little girls so busy that there is no time to remember mamma . . .

In the large seventeenth century house on the outskirts of Paris, the little girls live in dormitories, attend classes, eat in a large mess hall and play in the walled garden. They are kept busy at studies and play periods from sun-up to sun-down . . .

But at night, they remember. All the children here were orphaned in the war, and their memories are of blood and bombs, terror and loneliness and hunger . . .

Marie Remembers

Typical is little Marie, whose father was hanged when caught with an Allied propaganda leaflet, and whose mother was crushed in the bombing of St. Lo. Marie remembers every detail . . .

Marie is thin and timid; it will take a lot of food and vitamins, attention and affection, to help her and those with whom she lives to overcome the horrors that are marked on their minds. They are getting the food and vitamins, the attention and affection, through an agency of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children . . .

Marie—and the thousands of war-orphaned like her—will go on getting the assistance they desperately and pitifully need only if Americans contribute to the combined campaign of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children . . .

"Make Safety Our No. 1 Crop" Is 4-H Slogan For 1948

"Make Safety Our No. 1 Crop." That's the 1948 slogan of 4-H Club boys and girls throughout the nation to help reduce the annual toll of 18,000 deaths and 1 3/4 million injured on farms, due to accidents . . .

THEY STILL PAY FOR VICTORY—War left these orphans with bitter memories and little else. For bare survival they must depend on others for help. The AOA-UNAC Crusade for Children seeks to relieve distress among 230,000 children throughout the distressed overseas world.

$60,000,000 Needed

This campaign—the Crusade for Children—asks Americans for $60,000,000 in voluntary contributions this spring, as the United States' share in the world-wide United Nations Appeal for Children, and also to finance the foreign relief activities of 25 American voluntary agencies . . .

Between them, the 26 agencies represented in the appeal are serving as helping hands to humanitarian America to the needy of the world . . .

The private agencies are those which have sprung to the aid of the distressed through America's churches, its trade union organizations, its citizens with nationality and blood ties in the old world . . . all of them determined to live by the command: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor."

Lee Marshall, national chairman of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, is conducting the Crusade for Children, reports that the people of 49 other nations are joining with the people of America this year in meeting the challenge posed by the pleas of hungry children . . .

"Chance to Survive" He quoted, as indicative of the quality of the American response, the words of President Truman: "I am convinced the American people are determined that the world's children shall have at least a chance to survive."

Contributions, which will be converted into food, milk, medicine, clothing and shelter for the stricken youth of war-impooverished countries, may be given to the local campaign committee, or sent directly to national headquarters of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, 39 Broadway, New York 6, New York . . .

Huge Feed Mill Nears Completion At Fort Worth

Fort Worth—It was two days before Christmas in 1946 that a crew began work out on a prairie north of Fort Worth. Today, nearly a year and a half later, construction is almost completed on one of the largest and most modern feed mills in the world . . .

The new plant, owned by Burrus Feed Mills, is of solid concrete and steel, representing an outlay estimated at $2,000,000. The central structure is 11 stories, including basement, and rises to a height of 189 feet . . .

In the graphic words of Wiley Akins, general manager, "the new mill is almost a push-button operation."

Its labor-saving and time-saving mechanisms are a far cry from the back-breaking methods of former days when men unloaded freight cars with shovels and other workers pushed hand-trucks, which carried five sacks of feed . . .

At the new mill, a car containing 100,000 pounds of cotton seed meal can be unloaded and the contents conveyed by air suction to the tenth floor in half an hour. To unload a car of grain and transport the grain to storage bins will take only four minutes!

Power for the new mill will be provided by 242 electric motors. The sifting, grading, weighing and packaging will be done entirely

THE JOFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR"

The Plow of the Past REVOLUTIONIZED for TODAY!

The chisel-type cultivation of the Jeoffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is not new! In fact, the first plows of this type were made over 3,000 years ago by the Egyptians for farming along the Nile River. They used a sharpened stick, while in the Jeoffroy machine, silicemanganese steel is required to stand present-day speeds and uses. Down through the ages many plows have been used and discarded, but the chisel-type plow has proved to have less draft, control erosion, and conserve moisture more effectively than any other plow invented!

★ Plows and cultivates the natural way. ★ Conserves the moisture. ★ Prevents blowing. ★ Stops erosion. ★ Cuts plowing cost in half. ★ Constructed to last a lifetime. ★ Pre-war prices. ★ Made in 4 sizes to fit your power: 7 ft. - 10 ft. - 13 ft. - 16 ft.

The chisel opens the way for moisture to go into the subsoil for storage.

Moisture penetrates farther, does not run off. Shrubs and trash are worked into topsoil for more effective re-fertilization of the land.

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly soaks and cannot water run-off.

journey. We proceeded on through Houston and then we came to the San Jacinto Monument. After discovering that it would be impossible for us to go to the top of the monument, we decided to explore the Battleship Texas.

On the way to the San Jacinto Monument, a spring on the bus broke, so we traveled on to Texas City where we got it fixed. While we were waiting for the bus to be fixed, we saw what we thought were tornados. We asked the drug store keeper what it was water spout, and that it was the same thing as a tornado on the land. We learned that it never reached the inland, but if a ship were to be caught in one, it would be crushed to splinters.

This formation in the sky alarmed us as before we found out what it was, we asked the mechanic if they had any cellars there at Texas City. He laughed at us and told us that since the explosion of the chemical plant, no one was ever afraid of anything.

After the bus was fixed, we went on to Galveston where we spent the night. The next morning, after eating breakfast, we went to the pier and went riding on the yacht, Mary-O. Some of the boys and girls went swimming in the ocean.

From Galveston we started on to San Antonio, but stopped for lunch at Alvin. It was there that Edwards Stalcup got his haircut; which caused some one to remark that they must have started to keep him at Huntsville, but he got away. Mr. Carver, having bought food for another picnic, we ate supper between Harwood and Luling. We spent the night at Luling and went to San Antonio where we saw the Alamo. After eating lunch, we went to Breckenridge Park and while some of the students went bicycling, others saw the zoo and the Chinese Sunken Gardens. We visited the Backhorn Saloon and here we saw stuffed animals, many trinkets and bought souvenirs.

Then we proceeded on to Austin where we saw the State Capital Building and the University of Texas. About 8:30 that night we arrived at Lampasas where we spent the night.

We went on to Abilene the next day, ate lunch there and arrived at Goree about 2:30 on Friday, the 28th, a tired, but happy group.

All the seniors were able to go on the trip. Clint Graham, Edwards Stalcup, Leo Hammons, Ray Harlan, Bobby Fitzgerald, Marion McSwain, Nick Elliott, Nancy Bowman, Colleen Kelly, Peggy Coffman, Nellie Jones, Mildred Coffman, Janice West, Wynelle Stephens, Geraldine Koenig and Marion Moore all reported a wonderful trip.

The next morning we rose early and began our tour of the State Prison. It was here that we saw the cells where the prisoners live, the dining hall, the room where they were making license plates. The most interesting sight we saw at the prison was the room containing the electric chair. Our guide told us that there were nine cells there called the "Death Row." The guide also told us a brief history of the electric chair.

After seeing the State Prison, we proceeded to the home of Sam Houston. It was here that we saw a few of the original furnishings of his home, his law office, but the most interesting was the Sam Houston Memorial Museum.

Afterwards we continued on our

Running Water Boosts Farm Output

Most important single thing that electricity can bring to the farm is running water under pressure supplied by an electric water system, according to the National Association of Domestic and Farm Pump Manufacturers.

There are innumerable uses for water on the farm. For laundry work alone, the average farm family needs 30,000 gallons of water a year.

Experienced hog feeders claim that fall pigs have made gains at from 15 to 17 per cent lower feeding cost when given all the warmed water they would drink as compared with fall pigs given only cold water. Use of a tank water heater is made possible by an electric water system.

Running water makes it practical and economical to employ supplementary irrigation for protection of garden crops. Egg production increases 8 to 10 per cent where flocks have running water in laying houses and yards. Milk production increases 10 to 20 per cent and 6 to 12 per cent more butter-fat is produced where dairy cattle are supplied with running water.

Goree Seniors Make Visit To Texas Points

On the morning of May 24, the seniors of Goree high school, Mr. and Mrs. James Carver and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Justice seated themselves, among all the luggage, on the Goree school bus.

It was about five o'clock a. m. when the bus, loaded with sixteen happy seniors and capably driven by Mr. Justice, started on its way to various points in South Texas.

We carried our lunch and ate picnic style in a park at Hubbard, Texas. We then continued on to Huntsville where Mr. Carver made an appointment for us to go through the State Prison. We then located a tourist camp where we spent the night. After reserving a number of cabins, part of the group went swimming, while the others explored the town of Huntsville.

The next morning we rose early and began our tour of the State Prison. It was here that we saw the cells where the prisoners live, the dining hall, the room where they were making license plates. The most interesting sight we saw at the prison was the room containing the electric chair. Our guide told us that there were nine cells there called the "Death Row." Knox Prairie Philosopher Tries To Pin Candidate Down On Roads, Only Gets Confused By Words

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been trying to get the state candidates to tell him where they are going to build all the rural roads they promise, and has been keeping a map of the state handy so they could mark where the roads will be built so he can vote intelligently, as he puts it. This week he claims he talked to a candidate, his letter reports.

Dear editor:

I would like to report that I run into a candidate who got lost and turned up at my place out here on Miller Creek Monday afternoon and I pinned him down on the proposition of country roads, and while I ain't sure where I stand now or when or whether I'm gonna get a road, and while I pulled out my map of the state and asked him to eliminate the vague promise and mark with a pencil exactly where he was gonna build country roads, I thought I'd report our conversation and let you be the judge. It went something like this:

"What I want to know is where them new country roads is going. How about markin on this map just where you're gonna build them roads you been talkin about?"

"Uh huh. Good idea. Now there is no question in my mind but that the people want additional farm-to-market roads. I propose that they shall get those roads."

"Here's a pencil. Use draw a line along where the roads will be built."

"I repeat my promise: I am going to try to get the Legislature to appropriate $20,000,000 to supplement federal funds expected for the farm road program."

"Yeah. That's good. Now you take this road. In the same shape it was when my grandfater went broke farmin this place. That I want to know it, will one of them roads you gonna build come by my mail box?"

"Our goal three years ago was an additional 25,000 miles of rural roads. We have 16,200 of them now built, under construction, or with finance in sight. That leaves another 9,000 miles of rural roads which should be put under construction without delay."

"Have you ever traveled over a country road in muddy weather, don't make no difference if the finances for improvin it was in sight? All I want to know is, where will them 25,000 miles of rural roads you have already obtained with the exception of buildin them be built?"

"As I have said many times before and I say it to you now in your humble and honest home out here on Miller Creek, I pledge the people of Texas to help them get those roads."

About this time he asked me to draw him another bucket of water from the well, and he laid the map aside, took another drink and shook my hand and said I could depend on him not to forget me.

I still got my map, without no marks on it.

Yours faithfully,

BUSINESS FAILURES

Women's clothes have "that new look"—but my clothes get "that old look", just as soon as I put 'em on.

And my knees are knobby, so at once the suit bags at the knees. Or take a hat—

Other men can buy light gray, or even white, hats and they stay spick-and-span for months. But, regardless of what I pay, my hat gets spotted right away and one side of the brim flops.

And even as little a thing in the direction of neatness as a shoe-shine—within 10 minutes after I get one, somebody steps on my foot in an elevator.

There ain't no justice.

The law says that an alien, convicted of two crimes, shall be deported. But a decision of the United States Supreme Court says you can't convict him of two crimes in a row; no, it can't be that simple; you must convict him of one and then he must go out and commit another and then be convicted of that before he can be deported.

Why doesn't Congress change the law so that, if an alien is convicted of one crime, he shall be deported.

Another thing: We have aliens in this country who are Communists, which means they favor overthrowing our form of government but we can't get rid of them because the country they came from won't take them back. Why doesn't Congress change the law so that we will admit people only from those countries who are willing to take them back—and when a country refuses to take one of these undesirables back, we admit no more visitors from that country?

Chicago Painter Leaves $100,000 To Mooseheart, The Child City

Some of Mooseheart's Happy Children

Mooseheart, Ill., the famed Child City owned and operated by the Loyal Order of Moose for children of its deceased members, became the recipient recently of a $100,000 fortune, bequeathed by the late Herman J. Englehard, 78, a painter and decorator, of Chicago, Ill. Mr. Englehard was well known in his own community for his kindness to and love for little children. Although not himself a member of the Moose fraternity, he chose Mooseheart as the beneficiary of all the money he had saved as a hard working laboring man because, as he told his attorney prior to his death, "I want to help little children." Mooseheart is both a school and home for nearly 1,000 children. It is an entire city in itself, with 150 buildings spread over 1,200 acres of lush farm land in the picturesque Fox River Valley, 35 miles west of Chicago. Nursery, elementary and high school education plus a trade are provided to the students. Mr. Englehard's humanitarian gesture is saddened by the fact that he met a tragic death. He was found fatally beaten in his home by an unidentified assailant. The Supreme Council of the Loyal Order of Moose has offered $5,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of Mr. Englehard's slayer.

Keep after those grasshoppers with either the new or the old poisons, say Texas extension entomologists, or they will take everything in the way of crops you have planted on the farm.

It pays to provide fattening hogs with plenty of shade in warm weather. The shed should be high enough to permit a good draft of air during the summer months.

Onion juice, concentrated by a freezing process, is a new food product developed at the New York State Experiment Station. A few drops of onion juice will go a long way in furnishing onion flavor.

Jack Williams Tells Of Trip Into Manila

Tuesday Night
June 8, 1948

Dear Dad and Mother,
I went to Manila last week end. We left here about seven Friday morning and arrived at Clark

Filed about noon their time (That would be two hours later here on Guam). There was sixteen of us in the B-29 so as soon as we landed they all took off like a sage hen.

Myself, the other pilot and the bombier, took a taxi into Manila. Manila is approximately fifty miles southeast of Clark Filed so it took us until about six thirty to get to the Manila Hotel. We certainly had a chance to get a good view of the country and see how the natives live. We passed through several native villages and all of the houses are built on foundations and stand from six to eight feet above the ground and the greatest majority of the houses are of grass construction. They use Carabao (Water Buffalo) to do all their cultivating and to pull their carts. The Carabao is itself a very strange animal. It has no sweat glands, so they must be worked very slow and have to be dunked in water several times a day to keep them cool. Rice is the chief crop and is their main source of food. I got several pictures of natives in the rice fields and the carabao. Under the houses, they keep the Carabao, chickens, ducks, pigs and dogs. Just one big happy family. I was very much surprised to learn that the natives are so primitive.

We finally got into Manila about six thirty and got rooms at the Manila Hotel. Which wasn't too bad considering the punishment it took during the war. Then the next day (Saturday) we got a taxi and went sight seeing. I got several shots of war ruins. Manila was declared an "Open City", you remember, but I tell you they really blew the Hell out of it. It really took a beating. Every church that I saw was completely destroyed and you should see the shacks that the natives live in. I really don't see how they live. It is really awful.

We had to leave a little afternoon and start back to Clark Filed because we had to be off of the highway by approximately five o'clock because there are still bands of bandits that come down out of the mountains and kill and rob all they can. However, we were informed that they were just about wiped out and they weren't having too much trouble with them, lately.

Oh yes, I almost forgot. Every village we went through, kids with baskets ran up to our car and wanted to sell us some "Balootz." Well I finally found out that it is considered a delicacy and it is a hard boiled egg. However the egg is about two or three weeks toward hatching and they boil the egg with the embryo chicken in it and that is the delicacy. How about that? For some reason I just couldn't bring myself around to eating one.

Love to all,
Jack

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
 M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning to parents that this is the season for an increase in dysentery, diarrhea and "summer complaint".

"The chief cause of these intestinal diseases are contaminated milk; water or food; allowing the child to get overheated or exhausted; excessive sugar in the babies formula; and improper amount of food," Dr. Cox said. "All foods should be fresh and clean, and left-overs should be properly refrigerated to prevent spoilage."

Dr. Cox urged extreme care in the preparation of a feeding formula for infants. He said it should be prescribed by a physician, and that cleanliness and refrigeration were absolute essentials. Babies should be fed at regular intervals and on a definite schedule, since their stomach and bowels can be easily upset if fed irregularly or whenever they are fretful or restless.

The State Health Officer declared: "WANTED—Gravel hauling to do. See A. E. (Sappy) Bowley. 47-tfc."

Munday's First Citizen Retires From Pastorate

Editor's Note: The following tribute to Rev. W. H. Albertson was written by one of Munday's own, Rev. Joe W. Burton, now editor of "Home Life" magazine, and appeared in a recent issue of The Baptist Standard:

If a vote should be taken to name the first citizen of my home town of Munday, Rev. W. H. Albertson would get my vote. Let me tell you why. As I do so, I feel that I am expressing, for my home community, our genuine appreciation of one whose life for nearly 20 years has blessed my friends and neighbors.

Brother Albertson is retiring from the pastorate after some 40 years in the ministry, half of which time he labored in my hometown. He has moved to Brownwood where, in September, his cultured wife will take a position on the faculty at Howard Payne college.

I remember the day, now nearly 20 years ago, when I first struck hands with W. H. Albertson. He had just arrived in Munday to assume the pastorate now terminated.

At once this Christian workman began a service of visiting the sick helping the needy, enlisting the backsliden, winning the lost, preaching the Gospel and teaching the Word, which has endeared a grateful community to his humanitarian heart.

A Tireless Visitor
We quickly learned—I say "we" because I have always felt myself to be one of Brother Albertson's flock even though living elsewhere—we quickly learned, I say, that this man of God had an amazing facility for visiting in the homes. He seemed never to tire of going where the Word in the home, or a prayer offered, would accomplish more than a sermon from the pulpit. He excelled in what we call "being a pastor."

Again, we rejoiced at his superlative success in bringing sinners to Christ. There are people in the Munday church now whom the rest of us had long since given up—not because they were unusually wicked, but simply indifferent until we thought they were hopeless. But there came a man, by his persistence and patience and untiring personal efforts, brought them to the Saviour.

An Opponent of Evil
Brother Albertson has opposed sin. He has been fearless, and at the same time friendly in his fight on evil. He has loved sinners—loved them as few men I have ever known—but he has warned them of the certain consequence of their sins. His help to the needy has been sending.

Last Summer when I was with him in my home church in a revival meeting, a neighbor told me that a Negro in town needed, or wanted, three dollars. It was not at all surprising that he went to Brother Albertson's house. When told that the preacher was not at home, he replied, "Ah knows whar to find him."

Yes, everyone in Munday has always known where to find W. H. Albertson—standing for the right, opposing the wrong, lending a hand of help, calling men to a closer walk with God.

In all of the land I do not know a man anywhere to whom I owe the debt of gratitude that I owe to W. H. Albertson. I love him for what he has done for me, for my family, and for my neighbors of many years.

An Influence for Good
A man like W. H. Albertson is a saving influence in a community. He gives to it character and stability. He cultivates law and order. He builds a spirit of integrity which supports business. He trains in the highest type of educational attainments. He guides young lives into successful living.

A man like W. H. Albertson—a good man and true—does us good and not evil all of his days. My prayer is that his days of usefulness may be prolonged into the unfolding years as God gives him.

strength for continuing service. Last summer, upon my suggestion, the people whom he has loved and served for these years happily placed in the offering plates for him some $400. Again as he has come to retirement, his good church has made up for him and his family a love gift of nearly $2,000.

Out of hearts of genuine love we say to this noble comrade, faithful preacher, consistent Christian: Thank you for all you have done for us!

New Dark Tones For Your Hosiery

Don't discard light-toned stockings because of the dark shades now in style. Just re-dye them in the new dark shades of Tintex stocking dye just introduced—as was done by Karen Lewis (above), recently crowned Queen at New York Press Photographers' Ball. And if you have dark-toned hosiery that you want in lighter shades, you can re-dye these also, since there are six light-toned dyes available as well. The new dark shades of dye are mistique, a hazy taupe; bronzskin, a sophisticated brown; black beauty, a dramatic off-black; and gueniel, a misty gray-black. You can achieve the transformation for about two cents a pair, including the color remover suggested when changing to markedly different color or when re-matching odd stockings. The dye works on all the usual hosiery fabrics, including nylon and rayon.

be wet and salty with sweat. Excessive sweating means the loss of body salt, and Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises the use of salt in drinking water as a means of avoiding heat cramps. "Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat," says Dr. Cox. "On days when the thermometer goes to 90 degrees or above, as it has recently, the body may lose as much as fifty grams of salt. Laborers, farmers, and even white-collar workers should be especially watchful of heat cramps." Heat cramps are characterized by pains in the stomach, headaches, and sometimes nausea and vomiting. The danger comes because the loss of the salt may occur without the knowledge of the individual until the deficiency causes cramps or heat fog. Salt tablets may be purchased commercially. If they are not available, a pinch of table salt will serve the same purpose. "Drinking milk is an excellent method of replacing body salt lost through perspiration," Dr. Cox says, "but alcoholic drinks should be avoided."

A polio epidemic is raging in the South part of our state, and it is gradually coming this way. We hope and pray that it does not reach this area.

Veterans News

Eligible veterans who want to take courses under the GI Bill that cost more than $500 for the normal school year may do so by trading training time for the extra cost, the Veterans Administration reports.

The additional charge in training time will be at the rate of one day for each $2.10 of the excess charge above the $500 maximum allowed by law.

Veterans desiring to enroll in excess cost courses must authorize VA to pay the full charges by filling in forms provided for that purpose.

To prevent overpayments of subsistence allowances, the Veterans Administration urges ex-GI students and their schools to notify VA as soon as a veteran breaks off or completes his program.

A veteran student in training under the GI Bill is not entitled to subsistence allowances after the date he interrupts or completes his training. In some cases, veterans stop their training and receive additional payments before VA is notified of their change in status. All such overpayments must be refunded to the government.

Advance notice is preferable prompt notice immediately after whenever a decision is made to discontinue training. However, such a break in training will prevent most overpayments.

About 40,000 schools and colleges have been approved to train World War II veterans under the GI Bill and Public Law 16. Over 700,000 training establishments have been approved to give job-training under the same laws.

Questions and Answers
Q. How long must a veteran of World War II be totally disabled to be entitled to a waiver of premiums on his National Service Life Insurance?

A. A veteran must have been totally disabled for six or more consecutive months before he makes an application for waiver.

Q. In determining eligibility of parents for death compensation as dependents of a deceased veteran, are the proceeds of National Service Life Insurance considered as income?

A. No.

Q. I am attending school under the educational provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. Am I eligible for a loan guaranty while attending school?

A. Yes.

Q. If a loan, for any reason, is not completed after the guaranty or insurance has been entered upon the veteran's honorable discharge or certificate of eligibility, what should be done?

A. The veteran should take his honorable discharge or certificate of eligibility to the regional office of the Veterans Administration

FARMS TRIPLE USE OF 'BOTTLED GAS'

Dallas—Use of "bottled gas," which now performs a variety of jobs on farms and ranches, has increased 299 per cent since 1941, according to the Oil Industry Information Committee. "Bottled gas" refers to such gases as butane and propane which can be stored in portable containers under high pressure.

Indicative of the changes that have taken place during and since the war as almost every phase of farm and ranch operation have been mechanized, bottled gas is used not only for cooking and for home and water heating, but to operate brooders and incubators as well. Individual users of bottled gas, other than industrial users but including agricultural consumers, now total over 4,500,000.
