Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Papers get cussed so much that an editor just naturally loves a complimentary remark sometimes.

He, like the rest of you, may believe he's doing a pretty fair job at his job, but when someone else says so, it's the sound of soft music in a troubled night.

We've learned, more or less, to take derogatory remarks in their stride and go on about hoeing our own row of cotton.

But those complimentary remarks, either private or public, kinda makes a fellow feel better all over.

We had that experience last Sunday.

During church services, Rev. R. L. Butler, pastor of the Methodist church, said to a group of men: "You run your places of business, and are doing a good job of it."

Then he cited the editor as doing a good job, too, said "we have a fine little paper" and some other things that hadn't been solicited.

"And one reason I like the paper," he said, "is because I get my name up in the right hand corner when I'm returned to Munday."

Thanks, Bro. Butler, you're a better pastor than we thought you were. We're glad to have you back in Munday for another year.

And that reminds us of another person who likes her hometown newspaper. She said so in a poem.

Although it doesn't apply locally, in its entirety, it's a pretty good poem. It has appeared in several publications and was handed us by Mrs. Addie Layne, who thought it was good, too.

Here it is:

MY HOME-TOWN NEWSPAPER

My paper is no city sheet,
It isn't sold upon the street,
It's only printed once a week—
My home-town newspaper.

It has no headlines inches high;
No lurid shock to greet the eye;
No tale of graft is told by us—
My home-town newspaper.

It's tale is simple, homely, plain,
It tells of crops, of drought,
Of brides and babies, sickness,
My home-town newspaper.

Its news items are sometimes old,
That have by word of mouth been told,
But printing puts them in the fold—
Of my home-town newspaper.

It has a page of fashion notes;
Of household helps, and old, old jokes,
Some comics for the little folk—
In my home-town newspaper.

Its ads the weekly bargains tell
Of course, cars, eggs, butter,
Jell,
They even sometimes try to sell,
My home-town newspaper.

I read its every line and ad,
It's like a letter I have had
From some old friends or maybe dad—
That home-town newspaper.

It takes me back to olden days,
To small-town folks and small-town ways,
To country picnics, school-day plays
My home-town newspaper.

And, when at last the Lord shall lead,
Me through those pearly gates,
I'll plead
To sit upon a throne and read
My home-town newspaper.

Rhineland Graduation Exercises Are Held During Week Of May 28, May 31st

Commencement activities for Rhineland senior class began with the baccalaureate services Sunday, May 28th, at St. Joseph's Church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Fabian Diersing. This was followed by a breakfast for the graduates at the home of H. N. Claus with George Claus, superintendent, as hostess.

The annual graduation exercises were held in the school auditorium Wednesday evening, May 31st, at eight o'clock before an appreciative audience.

Decorations were carried out with the class colors, red and white, prevailing throughout the stage and auditorium. The red rose, class flower, was also used profusely with cedar, making a very artistic background for the graduates.

Noteworthy was the motto so beautifully displayed above the curtain. "So Little Done, So Much To Do", and the idea was further carried out in the valedictory. So impressive was one particular thought worth quoting, "Abraham Lincoln didn't have many opportunities or advantages and he accomplished so much. Why don't we with our many opportunities do much?"

Special mention was made of honor student, James Albus, merited highest average in the freshman class; Clarence Brown, first in the junior class. Special awards were given to Cecil Wilde, highest average in Room 2; and Darlene Kuehler as valedictorian, and a perfect attendance certificate in Room 1.

The pupils receiving diplomas were: Adrian Albus, Gladys Decker, Geneva Redder, and Darlene Kuehler.

Came a telephone call Wednesday morning from County Judge J. B. Eubank, Jr.

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Herzer road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

O'FALLON, ILL., PROGRESS: "When the Pilgrims broke loose from England and came to New England's rocky shores, they came for the avowed purpose of getting away from taxes. For many, many years the American people did quite well in that respect, the tax load, in proportion to the advantage enjoyed, being lower than in other countries. In recent years, however, the situation really has changed and causes one to wonder what those hardy Pilgrims would say if they were back here today."

WILDWOOD, N. J., LEADER: "While the government is preaching thrift to its people in order to sell its savings bonds the government itself is spending billions of dollars beyond its receipts."

SCOTTSVILLE, KY., CITIZEN-TIMES: "This is a good time for somebody to organize a special week or month to commemorate the checks-and-balances contained in the Constitution of this country."

HUNTINGTON, NEW YORK, TIMES: "We are a nation of families. The one big difference is that the government derives its funds from taxes and can demand constantly greater payments, whereas the family can't. The government can offer payments in cash to keep itself in power. The family must depend upon its earning power to make a go of the establishment known as home."

NEW ALBANY, IND., TRIBUNE: "It is all as simple as two plus two. If an country regiments or socializes industry and the means of production, it must also regiment and control labor, which runs the machines. That is why, in the dictatorships, the free labor unions have been ruthlessly destroyed. And that, finally, is why labor, union or non-union, has a tremendous stake in free enterprise."

If men had no faith in one another, we'd all have to live within our income.

WHERE WOULD YOU RATHER BE?

The Wall Street Journal recently took an unusual approach to the problem of socialized medicine. It pointed out that new "miracle" drugs—such as the sulfas, penicillin, cortisone, and so on, are first discovered their cost is extremely high. Then the detractors of American enterprise say, "Science is discovering wonderful things but the private capitalistic system is keeping them out of reach of the people. So we ought to have socialized medicine or government pill subsidies or government planning for the chemists—or whatever is the speaker's pet project."

However, the paper went on, "These misty-eyed sociologists quickly drop the matter as soon as the chemical industry has cut the problem down to size. They point the finger of scorn when penicillin sells wholesale at $20 a 'dose' and forget the matter when it shortly comes down to 4 cents a partaking."

If anyone honestly thinks that the cause of healing, in any of its man manifestations, would be advanced by socialized medicine or government domination of the nation's medical personnel and facilities, he is blind to the facts. Progress, in any direction, flourishes in an air of freedom—not in an atmosphere of red tape, bureaucracy, political management and government monopoly.

AWARDS FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

A Pennsylvania newspaper, the Pottstown Mercury, will receive the annual Gold Medal award of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for outstanding service in fire prevention during 1949.

In addition, Honorable Mention Citations will be presented to the Allentown, Pa., Call-Chronicler; the Macon Ga., Telegraph; the Moberly, Mo.; Monitor-Index; the Stanta Barbara, Calif., News-Press; and the Staten Island, N. Y., Advance. All of these papers performed signal services for their communities and the nation by campaigning for better fire protection.

National Board awards are given to newspapers and radio stations each year. Hundreds compete. And, even though only a few can win, the good that is done for the individual community and the nation is enormous. Fire prevention serves both economic and humanitarian ends. It pays the country in the rare coin of lives, no less than in money.

All praise to the winners. And let every newspaper do its full part for fire prevention year in and year out.

There is such a thing in writing—as in other activities—expressing oneself with such simplicity, naturalness and ease as to make it appear too easy.

Here's a believe-it-or-not:

There was a man in early days who owned a mountain of solid rock. He decided it was so useless that he swapped it for a pony. Of course the pony died many years ago—but from that supposedly worthless mountain there was quarried the granite from which the great Capitol building of Texas was constructed.

The original owner of that mountain made the worst trade since Esau exchanged his birthright for a mess of pottage.

Sam Houston, no doubt, was the most popular man in the history of Texas—but did you know that one time he was refused permission to speak in a Texas courthouse? It was at Brenham and it was during a bitter campaign when secession was being debated back before the Civil War.

Houston had arisen to speak when several protested that he had no right to speak in the courthouse. His supporters became angry and hot words flew. But Sam raised his hand for silence and said:

"Those who object are right. I am not a taxpayer in this county; I did not pay for even one brick in this courthouse. But if any of you want to hear me speak, follow me to the shade of yon oak tree and I will stand on the soil of Texas and speak—and I have a right to speak there for my blood has

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1—Each day before the Legislative Calendar is called in the House of Representatives, members are recognized to make one minute speeches. A dozen or more Congressmen made such speeches yesterday. As one of the speakers, I made the following remarks:

"Mr. Speaker, several of our distinguished colleagues have just spoken of the meeting on yesterday in the Library of Congress at which the Secretary of State reported to us on foreign affairs. The objective of this meeting is highly commendable. Its purpose, as we all know, was to establish a closer relationship, a better understanding between Congress and the Department of State. However, the Secretary of State told us nothing new. All of us had learned through the press days before of all of the matters to which the Secretary made reference. All of us must have felt a real futility insofar as the Congress having any actual voice in the making of foreign policy.

Some weeks ago I listened to the Secretary of State in a distinguished speech to the editors of the nation. At that time he defined "total diplomacy." His often-used expression "total diplomacy" means, according to the Secretary of State, a comingling of both foreign and domestic affairs, our Nation's complete effort to win and preserve peace. The Secretary well points out that domestic affairs and foreign affairs are so interwoven and interrelated as to be almost indistinguishable. On this point I think we can all agree.

However, since the foundation of this Government, foreign policy has been left almost entirely to the President and the Secretary of State. Under the Constitution and practice foreign policy has been an executive function. Today we admit that foreign policy is just as important as domestic policy and that the line of demarcation between the two is practically non-existent. Still we elect 531 members of Congress who struggle the year around with domestic problems. At the same time we permit a Secretary of State the almost exclusive prerogative of making foreign policy.

In 1946 we created by law a Council of Economic Advisors and charged such Council with the duties of advising the President and the Congress on economic developments, trends and problems. In 1947 pursuant to Public Law 253 we established the National Security Council and charged it with the duties of planning our country's military security. By the same act we set up the National Security Resources Board and charged it with the duties of planning for industrial strength and mobilization.

Mr. Speaker, the base on which foreign policy is determined ought to be broadened. We should have in this country a Foreign Policy Commission. This Commission should be headed by the Secretary of State and ought to include the chairman and ranking minority member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate, and of the Armed Services Committees of both House and Senate. It should also include not less than three civilians distinguished for their learning in matters of foreign policy. Also included should be the Secretary of Defense and other military experts. This commission could meet in secret, if need be. With such commission all matters of foreign policy should be frankly and fully discussed. The commission should at least be consulted by a Secretary of State before he commits this country to courses of action that might lead into war.

Mr. Speaker, we should not leave the matter of foreign policy to any single individual. We boast of our democracy and yet we, in effect, leave to one man the international affairs of this nation.

While I do not have the honor to serve on the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House, I strongly recommend to them that something immediately be done to broaden the base upon which foreign policy is determined, and to give the American people a greater voice in the all-important field of international relations."

John Ed Jones of Austin was a business visitor here the first of this week.

Lauds 4-H's For Keeping Machinery In Good Condition

CHICAGO—Keeping the nation's fleet of 3½ million farm tractors operating efficiently is a job of basic importance to the whole economy. Aiding in this task today is the 4-H tractor maintenance program through which nearly 130,000 club leaders and members have been trained to know their tractors, care for them well, and operate them efficiently.

So said Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, in an interview.

"The club leaders receive special training in tractor care and operation at annual State or district clinics, which are conducted by the Extension Service of the State Agricultural Colleges and USDA cooperating," Noble asserted. "The leaders pass on what they learn to club members, who carry out the training on the home tractors."

"Through this process of training, club members not only learn the value of efficient tractor operation, but also develop the qualities of leadership, helpfulness, initiative and thrift."

As incentives for outstanding records of achievement in this program, merit medals, Chicago

4-H Congress trips and college scholarships are offered by Standard Oil and Gas Company on county, state and national levels, respectively. Last year's state winner in Texas was Lee Wolf, of Gainesville. One hundred and ninety-six club members received medals of honor.

Bernadene Stodghill Becomes Bride Of Maurice C. Partin

Miss Bernadene Stodghill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Stodghill of Kermit, became the bride of Maurice Curtis Partin of Corpus Christi, son of Mrs. L. D. Ireson of Wharton, Texas in a 4 o'clock ceremony Sunday afternoon in the Community Church, Kermit, Texas.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, an original model was of imported white organdy and edelweiss embroidery. The bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and interwoven organdy and embroidery formed the sleeves. A midriff of edelweiss embroidery joined the bodice to the bouffant skirt, and the plain organdy extended into a cathedral train. The finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara bordered with lilies of the valley. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white gardenias and valley lilies. For something old, she wore an heirloom neckpiece of her maternal great, great grandmother. An impressive ceremony was read by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, of Big Spring, Texas before an improvised altar of white gladioli and candelabra. The same color scheme was used in flowers placed at vantage points through the church.

The traditional wedding music was presented by the organist, Mrs. Lyndon Jones of Wink. Troy Warren, uncle of the bride, sang "The Lords' Prayer" and "Because".

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Burton of Haskell and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Shytles of Winters, Miss Margaret Fenley of Lufkin, and Miss Patricia Rogers of Ft. Worth. The bride's attendants were attired in identical gowns of yellow organdy, designed with full, floor length skirts and tight-fitting basques. Their mitts were of yellow organdy and they wore matching yellow picture hats and carried sheaths of orchid gladioli.

Clarence McCaw of Ennis served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Charles Stodghill, brother of the bride, Floyd Fluker of Ennis, and Bob Taylor of Snyder. Preceding the professional the candles were lighted by Shirley Rogers of Ft. Worth and Bill Rogers of Goree. Gladioli and shasta daisies were used in the decorations for the reception which was held at the Community Church Annex. The four-tiered wedding cake, outlined with lilies of the valley and having a miniature bride and groom, centered a white organdy laid table on each side of which gleamed slender white tapers in Crystal candelabra. Mrs. Lavoy Burton, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Alice Wray of Kermit, Mrs. Troy Warren of Wink, and Mrs. Ralph Schulze served punch from a crystal bowl. Miss Lou Ellen Reneau of Kermit presided at the brides' register. Mrs. U. S. Rogers, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Joe Rogers, Mrs. Dorse Rogers and Mrs. Gordon Sweat were among those greeting the guests.

The newly weds left for a trip to the Gulf Coast. For traveling the bride chose a two-piece gabardine navy suit with white trim. Her hat was navy straw tricornet faced with white. She wore white and navy accessories, and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Partin is a graduate of Wink High School, and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

Mr. Partin is a graduate of Wharton High School and received his degree from Baylor University. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon Rho, National Radio Fraternity. He spent 14 months in the Army of Occupation in Korea.

The couple will live in Corpus Christi where Mr. Partin is employed by Radio Station KSIX, an ABC affiliate.

Out of town guests for the wedding included: Mrs. L. O. Irson of Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wisdom of Lubbock, Mrs. U. S. Rogers of Munday, Mr. and Mrs. Lavoy Burton of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Dorse Rogers of Goree, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rogers of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweatt of Kress, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schulze of Garland, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Stodghill of Munday, Mrs. Lynette Williams, Sue Williams, Stephen Williams, and Katherine Spence of McCamey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nole of Lovington, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Taylor and G. A. of Snyder, Mr. Robert Shytles of Winters.

Oran Howard And Mrs. Merty Hopkins Marry On Saturday

Mrs. Mertie Hopkins of Munday and Mr. Oran Howard of Munday were united in marriage last Saturday afternoon in the parsonage of the Goree Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. S. E. Stevenson, officiating.

Mrs. Howard wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Howard has been employed by the Hopkins and Trainham laundry for the past three years and Mr. Howard is employed by the Farmer's Union Gin in Munday. The couple plan to make their home in Munday.

Those to attend the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Couch of Goree, Miss Gale Herring, Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Doris Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rayburn and Goodwyn and Henry Hopkins of Munday.

Maxine Hill of N. T. S. C., Denton, spent a few days between semesters visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hill and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper and family of Elmer, La., are here visiting in the home of Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Emily Carden, and other relatives this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Warren of Abilene spent the past week end here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duke and Jo Ann and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Doubts That The Coming Of Television Will Improve His Farming A Great Deal

The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek, no doubt is misinterpreting another newspaper article, as the following letter will reveal.

Dear editor:

I was wanderin around out here the other afternoon debatin whether to rest or to work, a thinkin man don't rush into nothin, whether it's workin or loafin, without thinkin about it and turnin it over in his mind and consider all the angles and the consequences, I ain't never forgotten the time I got in a hurry and planted three-quarters of a acre more than my allotment called for one year and had to plow it up, that taught me a lesson. I got mad now just thinkin about the effort I wasted, as I say, I was out here debatin over whether to work any by the time I got my mind made up eth afternoon was so far gone there wouldn't of been much point in startin a job then anyway and I got up from where I'd been thinkin since noon and picked up a newspaper which I'd been noticein for several days where it was caught in a bush and took it home to read it.

Accordin to the article in it by an expert, television is gonna revolutionize farm life, is gonna make better farmers out of all of us. "The farmer with a television set is going to be a better farmer than he was before," the expert predicted.

Ain't that sort of exaggerat-in the power of television? Personally, while I don't want to be arguin with an expert, it will take more than television to make a better farmer out of me and several others I ain't namin.

While I would like mighty well to have a television set and aim to get one as soon as the government increases its payments or the stores relax their credit standards, I wish to go on record right now as sayin I don't intend to farm no better, even if I had a set in every room.

Television improvin my farm-in is about like woman suffrage improvin the politicians. It's good to talk about but it don't ever produce no tangible results. And while I ain't sayin positively, I got an idea there will be a good many editors and bankers and teachers and grocery-men that television ain't gonna affect no more than it does me.

All these new gadgets ain't what they're cracked up to be.

Permanent Grass Planted In County By Cooperators

Brazos Soil Conservation District that planted permanent grass this spring report a good stand in practically all cases. The fine rains this spring were ideal in securing these stands. Approximately thirty different cooperators planted grass this spring, most of which was King Ranch bluestem, but fine stands of sand love grass and blue panic have been established. King bluestem is adapted on most of the land in the district, the only land it is not so well adapted on being the deeper sandy areas. Bluestem is a fine grass for mixed sandy soils, but may have to be rejuvenated every few years of plowing or chiseling. Sand love grass is a very palatable grass that grows well on deep sandy land and on mixed sand. The seeding of permanent grass by these cooperators of the district to protect this land from wind and water erosion and to build up the fertility level of the land is only a part of their conservation plan as worked out by these farmers with the assistance of the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assisting the District.

In preparing for seeding next spring, now is the time of year to seed the cover crop of sudan or cane with a drill to serve as a protective cover in which to seed the grass next spring. This cover is very necessary on all sloping land and on sandy land even though it has only a small quantity of sand in the soil. Soils without this protective cover will crust badly, preventing the seeding from com-

I've had a radio now for twenty years and if I've got one blade less Johnson grass than I had when I started, I can't tell it. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Picnic Forecast

Soon now it will be time to recapture the joy of picnics in the park, and meals in the back yard. Be prepared by having ample outdoor cooking equipment on hand. One item that will be used frequently is a large porcelain enameled coffee boiler. Made in several convenient sizes, these enameled coffee pots make delicious coffee and their glossy finish is easy to clean. Remember to rub bar soap over the bottom of the pot before it's used over an open fire so that the soot will rub off easily.

Brightens Enamelware

Keep your porcelain enameled utensils gleaming with by soaking them occasionally in water to which a small amount of chlorine bleach is added. Use about 2 tablespoons of the bleach for each quart of water. Allow the utensils to soak for about 15 minutes. Then rinse them thoroughly.

Berries are plentiful in many areas of the state at this time. Don't let them waste. They are excellent frozen and now is the time to fill the home freezer or locker box.

ing up, and also may blow.

Alfalfa will grow on most mixed sandy land in the district is the opinion of many cooperators who now have stands of this fine soil conservation crop. About the only adapted soils on which alfalfa has failed to make a stand and died because of root rot are those soils that were in a run down condition due to past abuse by the operator. The presence of root rot in the soil is now known to be due to an unhealthy soil badly in need of organic matter. Farmers should plant maize this summer land to be planted to alfalfa this fall if this land is subject to blowing.

Mildred Coffman Is Graduated From Hockaday College

Miss Mildred Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orb Coffman of Goree, graduated from Hockaday Junior College in Dallas in formal commencement exercises Monday morning, June 5, at 9:30. Miss Coffman is president of the Choral Club, Club Council representative on the Student Council, member of the Classical Club, and also member of Tau Gamma Epsilon, college honor society. She has given recitals and programs this year as a major in the music department. Before attending Hockaday, she graduated from the Goree High School.

Final events of the college year were begun at one o'clock Friday afternoon, June 2, when the college and staff were entertained with a luncheon at the Dallas Country Club given by the Club Council. Miss Coffman was one of the hostesses for this luncheon. Saturday morning, June 3rd, at ten o'clock, annual Field Day exercises were held, with competitive drills between freshmen and sophomores and an exhibition of the dance department.

Miss Coffman and her parents were honored guests at the formal dinner given by President and Mrs. Hobart Foster Mossman Saturday night at seven o'clock on the school terrace. This dinner was followed by the traditional Ring Dance given by the freshman class in honor of the sophomores in the Great Hall of the college. Sophomores were presented with their Hockaday rings by their Little Sisters at this dance.

Sunday, June 4, at 6:30, Dr. McGruder Ellis Sadler, President of Texas Christian University, conducted the Sunday evening vesper services in the beautiful outdoor auditorium in front of the Main Building. His sermon was the baccalaureate message to the graduates. At eight o'clock that evening, the college held Lantern Night exercises, ending with a serenade to Miss Ella Hockaday, founder and President Emerita of the college, in front of her cottage on the grounds.

Wearing a white floor-length organdy dress and a white horse-hair picture hat and carrying a basket of white flowers, Miss Coffman and her forty-four fellow graduates walked under an arch of white gladiolus held by honor students of the freshman class to their places under the pergola at the Monday morning commencement exercises. Dr. Harold Vatborg, President of the Southwest Research Institute of San Antonio, gave the commencement address, and President Mossman awarded the diplomas. A reception was held on the college terrace following the exercises.
