Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

They are one of the bright spots and highlights of the Christmas season.

Beautifully decorated homes we mean, our downtown streets showing the beauty and color of the delightful holiday.

It's inspiring to drive along the streets of the town and see lights shining in the windows of homes and inside that window is a lovely Christmas tree all decorated in holiday tinsel and color.

Somehow it seems to reflect the warmth and hospitality of that home. It reveals that those living there have faith in a Santa Claus and the spirit of Christmas. "Peace on Earth" prevails even around that home fireside.

And if friends drop in, they sense that warmth and hospitality that prevails in a family that's happy at Christmas, looking forward to reunions with loved ones, exchanges of gifts, and love for each other.

Christmas decorations in the home, we believe, are intended to bring about that joy of heart and peace of soul and mind that should prevail at this season.

showing plainly from the streets to those who might pass by, are also in keeping with the same spirit.

And outside decorations, too, have the same effect upon those who pass by, be they friend or stranger.

But it's difficult to have those decorations on the outside.

have a number of them this year, and a number in years past, that reflect hospitality of people and of the town in general.

Early last week, we met a lady who was out shopping for Christmas lights.

She had just completed decorating her outside tree—a large evergreen—the day before, and the lights shone brightly and lovely as we went home that evening.

But during the very first night, someone visited her tree and had stolen practically all of her var-colored lights. She was shopping for new ones to replace the ones that had been pilfered.

Then later, the same thing happened to another neighbor. The vandals were bold enough to walk up on the front porch and take the lights just as high up as they could reach.

And another person went shopping the next day for additional Christmas lights.

We can't quite understand the trend of thinking of the person, or persons, who rob a town of much of its beauty by stealing the lights. We wonder if they really think at all.

It's discouraging to those who try to have their homes and premises reflect the beauty of Christmas.

Lots of work is involved in the planning and stringing of lights, to say nothing of the added expense of replacing the lights, maybe more than one during the season.

Munday was a well lighted town the first Christmas we saw it, back in 1938.

The Lion's Club was offering prizes for the best decorated homes, and being practically a stranger here, we were selected as one of the judges because they thought we could judge more impartially, not knowing who lived where.

Not nearly so many homes are being decorated now as then. And is it any wonder, when during recent years the practice of stealing the lights or plucking them off with BB guns is being done?

Christmas will be over in a

Roxy Theatre Asks Children To Free Show

Again the kiddies of this area will be guests of P. V. Williams and his employees of the Roxy Theatre for a big free Christmas show.

Usually the show is held on Christmas eve, but due to the fact that Christmas eve falls on Sunday, Mr. Williams has set the show a day earlier. All kiddies are expected here Saturday morning, December 23, at ten o'clock.

"We will have a program of cartoon, comedies and fun for all children of this area," Mr. Williams said, "and we're going to be disappointed if we don't fill the theatre for this big show. The cartoon will be of Donald Duck, Bugs Bunny, and other types of special interest to the children."

"Be at the Roxy at ten o'clock Saturday. We're going to have fun for all of you."

Discovery Rights For Clonts Field Asked In County

Discovery allowable rights for the new Knox County oil production has been asked and were under study by the railroad commission engineers last Friday, according to word received here.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. asked the commission to assign a 100-barrel daily discovery allowable to its Icelana Clonts No. 1, five miles northeast of Knox City (Canyon) Field.

Lewis R. Bond, Jr., Stanolind spokesman, testified the well produces through an open hole from the Canyon lime, which was topped at 4175 feet. Total depth of the well is 4240 feet. On its 24-hour potential test, the well made 129.72 barrels of 8-gravity oil through 11-64-inch choke at a gas-oil ratio of 20-1. He said nearest comparable production is 2 miles away in the Lawson field.

The state board of water engineers advised that fresh water strata should be protected to a depth of 100 feet.

Boy Scout Court Is Set At Seymour On December 26th

A court of honor for Boy Scouts of the Brazos Valley District has been set for December 26 at 7:00 p. m. at Seymour, according to an announcement made recently by Bob Bouse, scout field executive.

The court will be headed by O. C. Harrison, advancement chairman, it was stated. He will be assisted by Carl Hash. The court will be held at the First Baptist Church in Seymour.

Hoy Austin of Wichita Falls will show a technicolor film on the Philmont Ranch in New Mexico.

Willard Wren Buys Texaco Station

Announcement was made Monday that Willard Wren, formerly of Wehnert, has purchased the interests of Alton (Tab) Garrett in the Texaco Service Station.

Mr. Wren, who is now in charge of the firm, is known to lots of people of this area, having lived in Munday and Wehnert for many years. He invites the continued patronage of all old customers of the station, and asks new ones to drive in for service. He assures them their business will be appreciated.

Mr. Garrett has not announced his plans for the future.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Birkenfeld of Munday on Dec. 14 at 3 a. m. at the Knox County Hospital. The little boy has been given the name of Michael David. He tipped the scales at seven pounds and two ounces. Mother and little son are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Belcher visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones in Hefner Sunday.

Children Of This Area Keep Faith With Santa Claus

December 12, 1950

Dear Santa:
I'm a little girl six years old. I've tried to be good this past year. I'll try not to ask for anything that I don't need. I'd like to have panties, socks, a sweater, a chenille house coat, house shoes and lots of fruit and candy. Oh yes, Santa remember all other boys and girls, both big and little. Remember my mamma and daddy.

Love,
ROBERTA CAROL MOORE

Goree Theatre To Stage Free Show For Kids

An invitation has gone out from Mr. and Mrs. George Nix, owners of the Goree Theatre, for all kiddies of the Goree area to attend their free Christmas show. The show will be held at 10 a. m. next Saturday.

"We are expecting to fill our theatre with children of this area," the owners said, "as we stage this, our annual free show for them. We will have a good picture and cartoon for them, as well as other varieties of fun and enjoyment."

All kiddies of the entire area are invited to partake of the hospitality offered by the theatre next Saturday morning.

Oil Activities

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. is reported to have topped the Palo Pinto reef in its No. 2 Icelana Clonts last week, and had drilled to 4,241 feet. Good oil stain and fluorescence were logged, and electrical surveys were being studied.

The well is an offset to the No. 1 Clonts, five miles northeast of Knox City, which was the Palo Pinto reef oil discovery well.

Hiawath Oil and Gas Co. No. 1 Fant Estate well, located 10 miles west of Benjamin, topped the Ellenburger at 6,450 feet and was drilled to 6,501 feet with no shows reported. Electrical surveys were under way.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stodghill spent the first of this week in San Antonio, visiting with relatives and attending to business matters.

Charles Hardin, who is attending N. T. S. C. in Denton, is visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell, during the holidays.

Don Reynolds of N. T. S. C. in Denton come in last Wednesday to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Reynolds.

Mrs. L. N. Paysingco of Riverside, California, is visiting in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Howeth, over the holidays.

Jesse George Smith of Baylor University in Waco is visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Smith, over the holidays.

16 Families To Receive Baskets Of Goodfellows

There are sixteen families in Munday whose Christmas would be very small, but for the "Goodfellow" movement of Lowry Post No. 44 of the American Legion. Russell Penick, post commander, stated Tuesday that this many families are on the list to receive Christmas baskets under the goodfellow plan.

There may be others, and anyone knowing of a needy family that the American Legion members can make happy this Christmas are urged to contact Chan Hughes and see if this family is on the list.

Goodfellow boxes are at a number of Munday's stores, and a number of them contained toys, etc., early this week. Contributions are also being received at the American Legion booth on the city hall lawn.

"The principal need is for food for the Christmas dinner," Mr. Penick stated. We believe there will be plenty of toys and other things. Contributions of food, or cash contributions, will be welcomed.

Saturday is the last day for getting in on the goodfellow movement. Baskets will be prepared Saturday night and distributed to these families.

The American Legion has contributed some money for food, and the Munday Volunteer Fire Department is also cooperating in this move. Other contributions will be gladly received, however, and your part in this will help make some family happier this Christmas.

Texas Draft Quota Higher

Word came from Austin last week that selective service has called on Texas to increase its combined January-February draft quota by 80 percent.

The adjusted January-February call if for 8,279 men, while the original call was for only 4,596 men.

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state selective service director, said the Texas increase followed action by the department of defense increasing the national call from 90,000 to 160,000 men for the two-month period.

Court House To Close On Saturday

Knox County officials will have a three-day holiday for Christmas, it was announced this week by County Judge J. B. Eubank, Jr. That is, providing they want to count Sunday, too.

Judge Eubank announced that the court house will be closed on Saturday, December 23, and will remain closed through Monday, December 25. Those having business to transact at the court house are urged to do so not later than Friday, December 22.

Bank Will Close At Noon Saturday

W. E. Braly, president of the First National Bank, announced Tuesday that the bank will close at noon Saturday for the Christmas holidays. This will give employees of the bank a half day off to complete their Christmas shopping.

All customers of the bank are urged to transact their business before noon Saturday in order that this half-holiday may be observed.

The bank will remain closed through Monday, December 25, it was stated.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Byrd of Graham are announcing the arrival of a son, Michael Edwin, who was born on December 12, 1950. He weighed 8 1/2 pounds. Mother and son are doing nicely. Mrs. Byrd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gray of Munday.

Billy Cammack, who is attending West Texas State College in Canyon, is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cammack.

Christmas Season Evokes Spirit of Trust, Faith

Indicative of the integrity and trustfulness prevailing throughout the world at Christmas time, people of Holland often entrust gifts to total strangers requesting the passerby to leave the package on such-and-such a doorstep.

Half-way across the globe, Negro families in Virginia long have observed the table-covered-with-a-sheet custom. The dining room table is covered with a sheet. Names of everyone in the household are written on slips of paper and pinned to the sheet. Gifts are sneaked under the sheet when everybody is supposed to be asleep, and even the youngest child refrains from 'peeking' until the gifts are unveiled Christmas morning.

John H. McClaran attended a Christmas party for Chevrolet dealers in Fort Worth last week end. He also visited his sister, Ilene, in Wichita Falls over the week end.

Joe Bruce and his mother, Mrs. Pearl Bruce, of Dimmitt, Texas, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dean over the week end. Mr. Bruce is Mrs. Dean's brother.

Dear Santa:

I am in the fourth grade this year. Mrs. Maurice Blacklock is my teacher. I want a doll and a ring. I have a brother in the 7th grade. He is in the Boy Scouts and I think he wants a rod and reel for he goes fishing in the summer and does not have one. Of course I want some nuts and fruit. Please don't forget the other boys and girls.

Yours truly,

Dear Santa Claus:

I am sure not all of these things are possible but I am telling you what I have been wishing for and here is what I want: a big 30 inch baby Coos doll with blond hair. I still like dolls since I am only nine years old. I want a suit case, a scarf, a necktie, a pair of blue jeans, and boots.

Sincerely yours,

Double Proof

that Dollar for Dollar
you can't beat a Pontiac!

* * *

- 1 A look at the Car proves its Quality
- 2 A look at the Price proves its Value!

In the short time since it was presented, thousands of people have flocked to see the great new Silver Anniversary Pontiac—few cars have ever had a reception to equal this. Most people came to admire, which is natural enough. But a great many people do more than admire, they start figuring—they begin to compare this wonderfully beautiful and desirable car with the modest price tag it bears. The conclusion is obvious—no car, at any price, offers more for every new car dollar you invest than a great new Pontiac! Drop in any time and look at the car—then look at the price—you'll be doubly sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Aluminum Foil Is Very Useful For Roasting

Roast the turkey in aluminum foil if you want the "juiciest" and tenderest turkey that you have ever eaten, says Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College. She especially recommends this method of roasting for those who do not own a roasting pan or an adequate roaster.

The procedure for roasting in foil is simple and easy. Just dress, stuff and truss the turkey in the usual manner, says Miss Mason. Use a sheet of foil that is twice as long as the bird for the wrapping job. Place the bird lengthwise on one end of the foil sheet and then bring the foil up and over the bird and seal all foil edges together.

Grease the bird and be sure it is well greased and seasoned with salt and pepper before it is wrapped up, she says. Place the turkey in an uncovered roasting pan breast side up and it does not matter if the legs protrude over the edge of the pan. The oven should be pre-heated to 400 deg. F. before the turkey is placed in the oven for roasting, and this same temperature should be maintained until the bird is done.

Miss Mason says the eight or 10 pound stuffed bird should be cooked for two and one-half to three hours; an 11 to 14 pound bird for three and a quarter hours and a 19 to 25 pound stuffed bird from five to six hours.

She says about 45 minutes before the roasting time is up that the foil should be slipped from around the turkey. Let the juice run down into the roasting pan so they will brown to just the right color for the giblet gravy. The turkey should be brushed with melted fat or drippings.

Miss Mason says there are two tests for determining when the turkey is done. Move the leg and thigh joint, if they give readily, the turkey is done. The second is to stick a fork into the meat where the wing is joined to the body; if the meat feels tender and the juices do not run pink, the roasting is done.

To get that good flavored brown gravy, Miss Mason says, it is necessary to brown the flour before making the gravy. Place the flour in a pan over low heat and stir constantly until the flour becomes a brown as you desire it. Make the gravy in the usual manner. To prevent flour from lumping when you are preparing the thickening, place the liquid in a container, put the flour on top of the liquid, cover the container and shake. This will give you a gravy with a smooth consistency.

Clarence Eiland of Lamesa visited with relatives and friends here over the week end.

EVERY home seems to need more storage space. Here's a hint: Using an old table, make it attractive by adding panels and transforming an eyesore into a closed cabinet. Dust-proof storage will thus be provided at negligible cost. Top and sides are covered with Masonite one-eighth-inch tempered hardboard, which is highly dent and scuff resistant. It can be painted in attractive colors or left in its natural shade, a deep brown.

The illustration gives an idea of the possibilities. Note the doors, which likewise are constructed of the hardboard on a framing of light lumber. The old table won't recognize itself in its new dress!

Any home craftsman handy with common tools can do a neat job of conversion with an old table. However, for helpful working drawings that give detailed directions, it is suggested that he write for free plan No. AE 158, to Home Service Bureau, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Most fathers and mothers want their boys and girls to go to school regularly. They send them off in the morning willingly—sometimes thankfully. The fact that there is a law which compels parents to send their children to school seldom ever occurs to them, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Various studies in the United States and Canada show that sickness is the cause of the great majority of lawful school absences. Certainly it would be impossible to wipe absences because of illness and accidental injury entirely of the record. But they can be reduced in number and shortened in length if parents, teachers, and the doctors, nurses, and guidance personnel serving the school work closely together.

The boy or girl in the beginning stages of a cold or sore throat or some other catching illness is a focus of infection from which new cases easily spread outward in ever-widening circles. Often the parents can help to keep infectious diseases from spreading in school by keeping children at home when they are not in their usual health. Teachers can help by having an evenly heated and well ventilated room and by teaching children to stay home when ill.

Excuses for absence are important to the school both for the record and for the information they give the teacher, the nurse, and the doctor in their health guidance of the child. If the child was under medical care the excuse should indicate that the doctor approves a return to school. Any special recommendations made by the doctor will help the teacher to make any adjustments needed in the child's school program.

Miss Gladys Buckholt of Wichita Falls spent the past week end in the home of Misses Maude and Fannie Isbell. Miss Maude and Miss Fannie returned to Wichita with her to spend the Christmas holidays.

Dodge Will Introduce New Models Jan. 20

Dodge will introduce its 1951 model cars to the public on January 20, it was announced today by Reeves Motor Company, Munday, Texas.

Mr. Reeves and his sales force have just returned from a dealer preview of the new cars at Oklahoma City. He described them "really outstanding in appearance, riding comfort and roadability."

"I am excited about the looks of the 1951 Dodge cars," Mr. Reeves said. "They are beautiful automobiles, both inside and out. As for mechanical improvements, Dodge engineers have developed something new in the way of ride control. I think it is one of the best advancements in chassis engineering we have seen in a long time and I am looking forward to giving road demonstrations beginning January 20."

Mr. Reeves said Dodge 1950 retail sales nationally were the greatest in Dodge history despite the fact that the factory was out of production for three months last spring.

Mrs. Joseph Borden received word recently that her husband will be stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, through his basic training.

James Rhodes of Fort Worth visited his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Pruitt, last week end.

Mack St. Clair of Knox City was a business visitor here Tuesday of this week.

A. E. Bowley went to Big Spring last Friday and Mrs. Joe Frank Bowley, Joey and Butch, returned home with him to spend the holidays here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mika, Judy and Donnie, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White, all of Seymour, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Nixon last Saturday.

Mrs. Bill Ehlers and children and Mrs. Alton Garrett and children visited relatives in Stamford over the week end.

Cpl. Archie B. Liles, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Liles, who is with the 7th Division in Hungmun, North Korea, wishes all his many friends in Munday a Merry Christmas.

Mildred Fitzgerald returned home Wednesday after visiting relatives and friends in Clairmont and Brownfield for a few days.

Mrs. Ray D. Ford and Mrs. Dwayne Russell took Mr. Ford and Mr. Russell to Abilene last Monday where they then caught a plane for Dallas for a physical examination for the army.

Miss Carolyn Hannah attended the wedding of Miss Jackie Fletcher and Brooks Allen in Abilene on Sunday, December 17.

Miss Burna Dean Suggs of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Port Suggs, over the holidays.

Miss Newanna Goolsby, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Goolsby, over the holidays.

Margie Lou Campsey, who is attending HSU in Abilene, came in this week to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Campsey.

few more days. Then the lights will come down all over town and will be placed in storage for another year.

Maybe in that time the people will forget about the vandalism. Anyway, our guess is that we'll have more beautiful lights shining, come Christmas, 1951.

Legion Post To Receive Toys For Europeans

Lowry Post No. 44 of the American Legion has announced that Saturday, December 30, has been designated as collection day for the "tide of toys" for European children. Collection point will be the American Legion booth on the city hall lawn, someone will be there from 1 to 5 p. m. to receive toys. Stop at the corner and sound your horn, and someone will get you toys.

Last year three million toys were sent to the unfortunate children of Europe. The program has been expanded this year to include the Philippine Islands and Puerto Rico. However, all toys collected east of the Rocky Mountains will be sent to Europe.

Messages will be attached to each toy. This can be either a signed Christmas greeting or letter. It should be remembered that the chief purpose of the "tide of toys" is to let children of foreign lands—the generations of the future—know they have real friends in America. Such letters have already started a chain of letter writing that promises to build friendship for years to come.

Distribution will be in the hands of CARE, which efficient organization has offered the same splendid cooperation given last year.

Please remember that ocean cargoes are handled roughly, therefore no fragile toys or broken toys can be shipped. The toys need not be wrapped or boxed, as they will be carefully packed for export by members of the American Legion.

Mrs. S. A. Bowden and Mrs. Erin McGraw visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Orman Moore of Wichita Falls over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jungman and Mrs. Aaron Edgar were business visitors in Fort Worth on Wednesday.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

School for Santas

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a little boy almost four years old. I am a pretty good boy at times. Would you please bring me a wagon and a new John Deere tractor. My old tractor is too old to do any work. I would also like a blackboard.

Bring my baby sister, Susan, a rubber toy of some kind. She is very small.

Please remember all other little boys and girls.

Love,

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl seven years old. I have been good and help mother every day. Please bring me a baby doll, set of dishes, and a game.

Don't forget my little brother, Donnie, who is 4 years old. He is a good little boy. Bring him a caterpillar with scraper and trailer and a big dump truck. We would like some fruit, nuts and candy, too.

Santa, remember other children everywhere and especially remember the ones whose daddies are fighting for our country.

Love,
CHARLENE SPRUEILL

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a little boy 4½ years old. Please bring me a wagon, a pair of boots, gloves and a gun. Bring my little brother some toys to play with. Please don't forget my sisters, mother and daddy.

Dear Santa Claus:

We are two little Texans, but we live up here, close to where you start, so we wanted you to be sure and not pass us by on your way South.

We have to play indoors all the time, so please bring us a doll each, some books, a telephone, a toy baking set, a train, and a slate with some colored chalk.

We'd like you not to forget, in passing by, to give our love to our grandparents at Gilliland. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stone, our grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Massingill and Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, our Aunt Carolyn and Uncle Leonard, and all our Texas kinsfolk and friends.

Thank you, Santa.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Throughout the coming year, the best way to enjoy the same happiness which we experience at Christmastime, is to keep the spirit of the Yuletide uppermost in our thoughts each of our days.

Let us resolve to acknowledge our friendships more often . . . not with fine gifts particularly, but with some kind word of encouragement which will enable our friends to meet the difficult situations with which all of us are confronted from time to time. Such thoughtfulness will enable our friends to preserve the traditions of an American Christmas on through the future.

In all sincerity, we greet you and wish you a delightful Christmas season.

CHRISTMAS EVE IN OLDTIME FINLAND

The Christmas Eve bath was quite a tradition in Finland before the advent of modern plumbing.
The oldtime Finnish bath-room was usually a three-room hut; one room was used for steaming and scrubbing, one for rubbing, and one for dressing.

The hut was warmed by a stone oven, heated for hours before the scheduled bath, and the "bath-room" was really steaming. After bathing came the rub-down and the switching of the body with birch twigs to increase the circulation, topped off by a roll in the snow, supposedly to whet the appetite for Christmas Eve supper.
For supper there was usually stockfish and prune tarts to be enjoyed, plus the traditional barley porridge in which cream and sugar and almonds were mixed.

After supper the boys and men matched their strength: while the girls—garbed in the men's work clothes—blackened their faces and stole away to visit other homes in cognito and "see Christmas." The girls never spoke nor accepted food, but went from house to house merely to watch the festivities.
And when the evening's festivities were over, the smaller children made their beds in the clean straw spread on the floor in commemoration of the Christ Child.

Indestructible Mistletoe

The flame-thrower and atomic energy — lethal instruments borrowed from modern warfare—are out to kill that ancient symbol of peacemaking and love, the Christmas mistletoe.

The unusual battle front is Australia where too many valuable trees each year have been receiving the kiss of death from the harmless looking shrub. Despite mistletoe's popular reputation as the Yuletide promoter of romance, it is a public-enemy parasite in the woodlands, killing off the trees that play it host.

Australian foresters have finally resorted to the flame-thrower as a quick executioner for the plant and are using radio-active tracers, furnished by the U.S. atomic energy commission, to study how the mistletoe saps the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

New Records
 Set At Chicago
 Stock Show

CHICAGO—The International Livestock Exposition began its second half century in a spectacular way at the 51st edition of the big show which closed here

Saturday in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards. Despite perilous driving conditions, brought about by adverse weather, attendance exceeded the 300,000 mark. The 11,000 head of livestock entered in the Exposition were among the highest number on record and both exhibitors and visitors agreed that the quality of animals in all divisions topped any previous show.

Entries came from Maine to California this year; a total of 41 states and 5 Canadian provinces. Four states were represented by entries for the first time and many "first time" exhibitors were present. Show auctions both for fat and breeding stock, brought owners over the one and a half million dollars. Steers raised by boys and girls for the Junior Livestock Feeding Contest were auctioned at an average of $40 per cwt., nearly four dollars over the top price paid on the open market during the same period.

Lloyd Robinson, 19 year old 4-H boy of Big Spring, Texas, captured grand champion honors with a 1025 pound Hereford steer. The animal sold for $12 a pound to the Congress Hotel of Chicago, smashing the previous record of $11.50 paid last year.

The hotel exhibited the champion steer in their lobby during the week following the show. The grand champion barrow of the Exposition, a Hampshire, owned by Joe Pecharich and Son, of Bushnell, Illinois, also established a new high price when it sold for $3.10 a pound. Another record was broken when the champion carlot of sheep sold for $75.00 per cwt. They were Southdown lambs owned by H. C. Besuden, of Winchester, Kentucky, who claimed his fourth carlot win since the war.

The dates for the 1951 show have been set for November 24 through December 1. It will open on Saturday following Thanksgiving.

SQUARE TUBING HELPS ACHIEVE MODERN LOOK

To help achieve a modern, functional look many interior decorators are turning to metal furniture in the new square tubing, plated with satin chrome, for modern business interiors. The latest designs in the metal furniture field accent a utility-plus-beauty look for all types of interiors, ranging from stores and shops to luxurious reception rooms and executive offices. Square tubing especially achieves this goal, decorators say, for it is stronger than conventional round tubing and when plated with satin chrome gives interiors a smart modern appearance.

Brazil's Christmas
 Features Performance
 Of the Miracle Plays

Brazilian Christmas festivities embrace an aggregation of modern observances entwined with ancient traditions brought over from the mother country of Portugal.

The Christmas season in Brazil begins on Christmas Eve and ends with Epiphany on January 6. And because it is really summertime (south of the equator) festivities and entertainments appropriate to summertime hold sway throughout the season.

Miracle plays have always been performed in adoration of the Holy Child. From olden times, the plays have had all the dramatic fervor of a religious performance together with the gracious hospitality of a social function.

The scene is at once solemn and fantastic, with costumes bedecked with feathers, spangles, jewels and what-not sparkling in a setting of luxurious tropical foliage and blossoms.

Out of the great variety of miracle plays, all on different themes, of which many are in the form of elaborate dances meticulously performed and accompanied by the music of an orchestra, the dance of the Four Parts of the World may be cited as a typical example.

The roles are enacted by girls dressed for the part and, in succession, Europe, Asia, Africa and America declaim. The discussion finally involves their respective rights to make oblation to the Christ Child. Eventually, Father Time appears and settles the dispute to the satisfaction of all concerned.

BOYCE HOUSE

After a series of train robberies, Sam Bass (who has come to be known as the "Robin Hood of Texas") found things rather hot around his old home town of Denton. So, after a fight with a company of Texas Rangers in which one of his men was killed, Bass and his men hid out, not far from Breckenridge in West Texas.

It was a sparsely settled country and not until the oil boom of 1918-20 was the capital of Stephens County reached by a railroad—and of course Sam Bass' brief sojourn was many years before that.

To this day, a canyon in the sector is known as Sam Bass canyon and it was said that for a long time bullet marks were discernible on the trees—evidence of the pistol practice of the bandits.

Bass is said to have gone about the region openly and to have brought supplies several times in Breckenridge. Word got around as to his whereabouts, and one day a stranger arrived. He had a big, new, shiny pistol and he announced to everybody that he was going to capture Sam Bass, single-handed, and collect the reward which the railroads were offering.

The newcomer set out on foot and had not proceeded far when he was overtaken by a man who traveled in a buggy. "Have a ride," he said and amateur deloctive accepted. As they jogged along, he told the other that he was looking for Sam Bass.

"Have you ever seen him?" the man asked the sleuth.

"No," he admitted.

"Well," was the reply, "I am Sam Bass."

The jaw of the man-hunter sagged and his face paled. He pleaded, "Please, Mr. Bass, don't kill me; don't kill me."

The other pondered the request and at last with seeming reluctance agreed to spare the man's life, on condition that he leave the country at once. To this, the frightened man gladly agreed, and springing from the buggy, started walking in the opposite direction.

Incidentally, the man driving the buggy was not Sam Bass but a rancher with a good sense of humor.

Letters to Santa Claus

Munday, Texas,
Dec. 8, 1950

Dear Santa Claus:
This letter is to you, Santa, from me and my little sister. Santa, please bring me a toy jeep I can ride in, gun, dump truck and a play filling station. And Santa, bring my sister a doll, teddy bear and a rocking chair that sings a lullaby when you rock it.

If you don't mind, Santa, I'd like for you to bring my uncle a few things too, because he's my very best pal. He wants a pair of skates, gloves, a watch. Sister and I hope that all little boys and girls have a very Merry Christmas this year.

O yes, Santa, don't forget to bring us some fruits, candy and nuts.

Thanks Santa Claus, a lot.

From two children who love you very much, and Santa, don't forget to bring my mommy something. We love her a lot.

Love,

PLEASANT as it is to dream of a "White Christmas" with its carols and gifts, feasting and merry-making, the sparkling eyes of children delighting in Santa Claus and the wonderful Christmas trees, these things never can symbolize the tremendous significance of the day.

The birth of the Saviour was the greatest event in the history of the world. In spite of all the backslidings, Christian peoples have pressed forward steadily.

However vicious and corrupt, the world today is far better than the world of pagan times; familiarity with the cross and crucifixion has abolished legal tortures and much cruelty—and, if given a chance, might shame us into banishing the curse of international viciousness for the sake of Him who became the Saviour of Mankind.

Hello Santa:
Hurrah, hurrah and two big whoops—I am back in Texas again, after spending two years in California. I am eight years old, in the fourth grade, and am staying with my "Aunt Sis" and "Uncle Bill" Lewis here, going to school.

I have been a pretty good kid, so please "poke" my stocking full—and there will be lots of floor space, too! And don't forget any of the kiddies anywhere, Santa.

I love you dearly.

BOYCE HOUSE

After a series of train robberies, Sam Bass (who has come to be known as the "Robin Hood of Texas") found things rather hot around his old home town of Denton. So, after a fight with a company of Texas Rangers in which one of his men was killed, Bass and his men hid out, not far from Breckenridge in West Texas.

It was a sparsely settled country and not until the oil boom of 1918-20 was the capital of Stephens County reached by a railroad—and of course Sam Bass' brief sojourn was many years before that.

To this day, a canyon in the sector is known as Sam Bass canyon and it was said that for a long time bulletmarks were discernible on the trees—evidence of the pistol practice of the bandits.

Bass is said to have gone about the region openly and to have brought supplies several times in Breckenridge. Word got around as to his whereabouts, and one day a stranger arrived. He had a big, new, shiny pistol and he announced to everybody that he was going to capture Sam Bass, single-handed, and collect the reward which the railroads were offering.

The newcomer set out on foot and had not proceeded far when he was overtaken by a man who traveled in a buggy. "Have a ride," he said and amateur de-

"Have you ever seen him?" the man asked the sleuth.

"No," he admitted.

"Well," was the reply, "I am Sam Bass."

The law of the man-hunter sagged and his face paled. He pleaded, "Please, Mr. Bass, don't kill me; don't kill me."

The other pondered the request and at last with seeming reluctance agreed to spare the man's life, on condition that he leave the country at once. To this, the frightened man gladly agreed, and springing from the buggy, started walking in the opposite direction.

Incidentally, the man driving the buggy was not Sam Bass but a rancher with a good sense of humor.

Letters to Santa Claus

Munday, Texas, Dec. 8, 1950

Dear Santa Claus: This letter is to you, Santa, from me and my little sister. Santa, please bring me a toy jeep I can ride in, gun, dump truck and a play filling station. And Santa, bring my sister a doll, teddy bear and a rocking chair that sings a lullaby when you rock it.

If you don't mind, Santa, I'd like for you to bring my uncle a few things too, because he's my very best pal. He wants a pair of skates, gloves, a watch. Sister and I hope that all little boys and girls have a very Merry Christmas this year.

O yes, Santa, don't forget to bring us some fruits, candy and nuts.

Thanks Santa Claus, a lot. From two children who love you very much, and Santa, don't forget to bring my mommy something. We love her a lot.

Love,

American Christmas as Old as Columbus

The celebration of Christmas in this country has deep and permanent roots, although at one time its observance was nearly exterminated.

The first Christmas observance was shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria beached on Christmas Eve and all Christmas day Columbus and his men worked to free her. When it was found hopeless, she was stripped and as much gear as possible taken to the Nina.

However, the Nina was unable to carry all the men, and some were left behind in a fort, that in honor of the season was called Le Navidad, the nativity.

United States Is Christmas Carol 'Meeting Place'

IN TOWNS AND CITIES throughout America, in churches, public squares and along home-lined streets, over millions of radios and public address systems come the strains of the world's Yuletide melodies—old as bygone centuries, young as "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas."

The United States, meeting place of carols from all Christendom, contributes yearly to the traditions of Christmas music by writing new songs and popularizing old ones.

The carols of Europe arrived with the peoples who came to America to settle. "O Come, All Ye Faithful" (Adeste Fideles), eventually translated into 119 languages and dialects, belonged to no one nation but was the common gift of the continent. From Germany came Luther's hymn for children, "Away in a manger, no crib for a bed..." England sent "God rest you, merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay..." And France provided the beautiful "Cantique de Noel" or "O Holy Night."

Three American composers did much to revive the ancient custom by writing new songs which are, today, among the world's best beloved carols.

"It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" was the inspiration of Edmund H. Sears, a Massachusetts Unitarian minister, in 1849. Less than 10 years later Dr. John Henry Hopkins, Jr., Episcopal rector from Williamsport, Pa., composed both the words and music for "We Three Kings of Orient Are."

Perhaps the best-known American carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," was written in 1868 by Phillips Brooks in Philadelphia. The young Episcopal minister, later bishop of Massachusetts, was inspired to write the poem by the memory of a trip to the Holy Land two years earlier. The rollicking "Jingle Bells," though non-religious in theme, also came from the pen of a churchman, John Pierpont, and has enjoyed almost a century of popularity.

Merry Greetings

As the light of Christmas again brightens our faces, our eyes, and our hearts, we turn our thoughts to others. May the inspiration, happiness and peace of the holiday season — our sacred heritage, be with us always.

 Entered as second class matter January 4,

 Act of Congress, March 2, 1879.

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Hefner road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

FOOD RETAILERS ALERTED

A great deal has been written about the miracle of supplying our armed forces with the food, clothing and articles they need. It is a tremendous job and its importance cannot be overstressed.

But every human activity hinges on some other human activity. Therefore our military strength depends on our domestic strength. It is a dramatic story to recount the manner in which supplies are rushed to our boys at the front. Still the task of keeping 150,000,000 people at home in food, clothing and production equipment is equally important. Our military and our domestic supply lines are inseparable—either would fall without the other.

Being well aware of the fact that efficient distribution of food is vital in any emergency, officials of large food chains, independent retailers and other food distributors, have been preparing for any eventuality.

"Present disturbed world conditions sharply focus attention on our responsibilities as retail distributors of food," said Lansing P. Shields, chairman of the board of the National Association of Food Chains. "Low cost methods within our industry have resulted in the American people enjoying the highest standard of eating in the world. Even greater efficiency is called for in an abnormal period. In an endeavor to meet all possible contingencies, our organization and operations are being strengthened in every way."

Thus does American industry anticipate the needs of consumers.

KNOW THE FACTS

If a recent survey made of a group of high school seniors produced typical views, American education is giving the student a highly erroneous idea of how American industry operates and the size of the profits it earns.

These seniors were asked to estimate how much profit the average company makes. Their answers averaged 50 percent. The true figure, covering a long period of years, is about six percent.

They were asked to estimate the average investment per worker in American industry. Their figure was $81—while the proper answer would have been $8,000.

They estimated that the annual return to industry's stockholders averages 24 percent. Actually, it was three percent on net assets in 1949—which was a good year for practically all lines of enterprise.

The point of all this is that ignorance and misunderstandings do more than anything else to create distrust of free enterprise. A man who honestly believes that business makes extortionate profits and operates solely for the benefit of a group of bloated plutocrats, is a man ripe for the phony blandishments of the socialists and the communists. Those who would destroy free enterprise and free government have small concern with the truth. They make the most of every misconception that exists in the public mind.

Only those who know the facts can make intelligent decisions. And the place to start teaching those facts is in our schools and colleges.

THE FUNCTION OF PRICES

The bulletin issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States describes the function of prices in these words: "Free prices perform enormously useful functions which direct controls are designed to destroy. Free pricing helps to conserve scarce supplies by cutting down less essential and marginal uses; it stimulates the elimination of waste; it encourages the development and use of substitutes. It is a great conserver. Price control, by making things cheaper and more plentiful than they really are, encourages wasteful use and consumption of scarce items, to say nothing of the enormous waste of manpower operating the controls."

In a free market, prices find their proper level—a level which is determined by wage and material costs, by the supply and demand situation of the moment, and by other such natural economic forces. And, of very great importance, the free market is the only one which nurtures and protects our competitive system. As an example, in a controlled market all retailers sell their wares at prices which are determined by government fiat. Stocks are rationed to them and to the consumer. The business becomes purely mechanical, and there is no incentive to lower prices, to better service, or to do any of the other things which are a normal part of the functioning of the competitive economy.

Worst of all it seems pretty evident that some of those who are urging price and other controls as an emergency measure, hope to make them a permanent part of our economic system. Should that happen, government would be absolute master of the economy—and regimentation of industry and individuals would be here to stay.

Draft Call For February High

AUSTIN—February draft call for Texas—for 2,559 men—exceeds by 522 the call for January. Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service Director, announcer today. The January call, received in early November, was for 2,037. The December call, now being filled by state Selective Service boards, is for 2,008.

Local board quotas for the February call will not be made and sent to the local boards until sometime after the first of the year. Calls are usually sent to local boards about a month before deliveries are to be made.

The February call of 2,559 brings the number of men called for from Texas since the beginning of the conflict in Korea to 15,084. First call was filled in September for 2,513.

The 2,559 Texans called for in the February induction period is the state's share of a national quota of 50,000 announced several days ago in Washington by the Department of Defense. National quota for January is 40,000.

Calls are made by the Secretary of Defense on the national director of Selective Service in Washington, who allots quotas to the states on the basis of federal draft regulations. Under the same regulations, state directors fix quotas to their local boards.

General Wakefield, the Texas state director, described Texas as "prepared to supply men to fill the February quota." He said that Texas "had plenty of men examined and acceptable to will December, January and February quotas."

The highest monthly quota received by Texas since Americans entered the fighting in Korea was for November, a total of 3,453. General Wakefield said this quota, as well as all others, have been filled.

The state director revealed that approximately 7,500 draft registrants will be given pre-induction examinations in January in preparation to fill call's for March and later months.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouddy)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 15—There are cattlemen from the Four Corners if the territory here for the open house at which time the members of the Cattle Raisers Association formally opened their new headquarters in Fort Worth with a barbecue.

Best wisecrack of the meeting came from a cattleman who said, "Ye gods, I sure hope we don't ever whip China. It'll break this country for sure trying to feed a few hundred million Chinese."

Despite extra consumer spending set off by international events, the Series E Bond holdings of Americans are holding the line at the $34.5 billion mark reached in 1950. That is $4.6 billion or 15 per cent above E Bond holdings on V-J-Day in August, 1945. Amounts shown are at current redemption values.

It seems certain that some form of price controls and rationing are in the offing unless there is some sudden abatement in the world crisis and unless prices decline.

In the case of livestock it is the consensus of opinion among livestock producers that ceilings are not at all desirable because of the many dislocations that result due to black markets.

Currently the responsible elements in the trade are urging that price ceilings, if they come be placed at the retail level. In other words, put a ceiling of say $1 per pound on beef steak and scale prices on other cuts of meat accordingly higher or lower.

The theory behind this idea is that every man, woman and child would then know once for all what ceiling price SHOULD be and would then become a policeman helping to keep on eye on profiteers.

Some of the big men in the business feel that if this were done, then stocker buyers, meat packers and everyone would soon have to scale his purchases to meet the retail ceiling price.

This idea was advanced to Washington authorities a while back. Washington sources have told the livestock producers that is and when the ceilings are imposed, they will call in representatives of all producer organizations and counsel with them.

Meanwhile livestock prices were sharply higher the first of the week but due to heavy movement off winter grain fields, pressure was applied later and much of the advances were lost. The trade, being fearful of imposition of price controls, would like to see prices

Make the Covering Gay When Wrapping Up Gifts

HALF OF THE GIFT is the wrapping—let's make the covering as gay as the gift inside.

For the girl who likes to sew, material for a dress in a fabric-wrapped box, rick-rack for the ribbon and spools of thread with big buttons for the decoration create an unusual package. If you give yarn for a sweater, use one skein for the big bow.

Disguise a flat box of letter paper as a desk pad. Use a real blotter on top with corners of metallic paper.

Why not use a necktie knot in decorating the box containing a tie? Fasten the ends of the ribbon under the lid about 1/4 way down; bring to center; tie the knot and shape the ends tie fashion. Use a dark blue, wine or green ribbon about one and one-half inches wide. These are attractive used on a striped or plaid paper.

Or the package might resemble a tiny suitcase wrapped in paper with the ends bound in decorative tape. Add a handle and identification tag.

subside somewhat.

At Fort Worth, bologna bulls reached $26, a new all-time record high price, this week. Stocker yearlings at $31 were another record and fat calves at $31.50 and $32 per pound were all-time high prices. Woolled fat lambs at $31 set another record at Fort Worth.

Receipts of livestock were much heavier at all points around the market circle this week but demand is still very great. There was weakness in the beef cattle market in the cornbelt, which was not noticed by the casual reader of market news since the high choice and prime cattle were selling so high, but these extra fancy cattle make up only a load or two as a rule in each day's receipts.

Carl Barry of Dublin had some choice heavy calves this week at $2 and some long yearling steers that averaged about 950 pounds at $1.75.

In the old days, the top used to be more narrow but then in the old days, we were not using nearly so many dollars either.

Letters to Santa Claus

Goree, Texas,
Dec. 13, 1950

Dear Santa Claus:

We are two little boys, ages 6 and 7, and thought since we want gifts alike, we would write our letter together. We have tried to be good and we want you to bring us an electric train and electric marble machine. Just bring one of each of them. We've learned to share with each other this year. Then bring 2 foot long guns with 2 gun pockets, they aren't shared too easily. Also, Santa, if you have two extra notebooks with a zipper around them we would certainly like them since our book satchels are getting worn. Don't forget all the other little boys and girls, especially the little orphans and those whose daddies can't come home for Christmas. Your Coke will be placed where it was last year.

We love you.

MODERN, UNCLUTTERED LOOK

Metal furniture is gaining favor in all types of commercial and professional interiors because of its stream-lined, uncluttered look, the Metal Furniture Institute reports. Both the conventional round tubing and the new square tubed steel have a functional appearance which makes any interior look businesslike without sacrificing good styling and modern design.

J. C. Shockey was a business visitor in Wichita Falls last Friday.

Knox Prairie Philosopher, As Is His Annual Custom, Takes Pen In Hand, Wishes Us A Merry Christmas

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek seems to have the Christmas spirit, as best we can tell from his letter this week.

Dear editor:
It may be true that I depend on my keepin posted on the world situation on newspapers that turn up out here in one heler-skeiter way or another, includin a little friendly borrowin out of my neighbor's mail box in order to enable him to share a little in the spirit of sharin, but I don't have to depend on a calendar to turn up to know that another Christmas is about here.

I recognize that the world is in pretty bad shape, but I ain't never let that stand in the way of Christmas. As I recall, there ain't never been a time when things was just right, and I learned long ago a man was crazy to let bad times stand in the way of good times.

Therefore, I would like to take advantage of your good nature to use your space to say I have enjoyed writin for The Times the past year and admire your generosity, if not your judgment, in printing my letters, just as I wrote them, however, I notice your linotype operator sets up your articles just like you write em so guess everything comes out about even in the long run, and you and me both are in the habit of runnin on and on.

I don't expect to get much for Christmas, imagine if I had a store, I wouldn't charge to me either, but just livin in America with the privilege of bein as lazy as a man pleases and havin farmin quotas that sometimes limit the maximum you can produce but never the minimum and bein free to romp on the President don't make no difference if you couldn't do no better yourself and havin the right to sit on a piece of land and run it like you please or open a store in town and not havin to ask anybody if it is all right, is Christmas present enough for me.

But of course if you want to throw in a subscription to your paper as a extra bonus, that's all right too. Winter ain't over yet. Merry Christmas.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Much comment is heard these days about the spread of $20 per hundred in the top price of prime cattle and top hogs at Chicago.

More to Mistletoe Than You'd Think

In America the high-hanging mistletoe is treasured chiefly for its power to invite a kiss from a pretty girl. The bulk of the holiday decoration comes from the Carolinas, Tennessee and the southwest where off-season agricultural workers gather the branches for shipment throughout the nation.

The white-berried plant also serves as a winter food supply for mockingbirds, robins, and waxwings. These small birds are responsible for the spread of the tree-damaging parasite. After eating the berries the birds clean their beaks on the trees, firmly planting the mistletoe seeds they do not eat. The tap root of the seedling pierces the tenderest portions of the tree—young branches or buds—and the tree sap is drawn into the thick leaves and translucent berries of the guest plant.

Though the mistletoe plays the dual characters of destructive killer and promoter of love, superstition has it that the plant can switch roles in a twinkle. For instance, if the yuletide mistletoe bough isn't removed from a house by Candlemass Eve (February 1), each leaf left will produce a goblin to plague the careless occupants during the year.

HARD TO GET . . . Mary Jane Ng (yep, that's Ng) is only 14 months old, and as a result is playing hard to get with Santa. She was at a Christmas party held for 450 underprivileged Beverly children in New York.

SMOOTH, CLEAN STYLING SELLS METAL FURNITURE

Old-style furniture which was featured by overstuffed upholstery, over-styled designs and ornate curliques, is almost a thing of the past. The modern trend in furniture is toward clean, simple designs, with an accent on functional pieces. Metal furniture, too, is rapidly gaining in popularity as skilled workmen learn new ways to fashion and mold metal into attractive lines. Round steel tubing, which characterizes most metal furniture, is still popular, but square tubing is more often the choice of those who desire a stylish, functional look in furniture, whether it be for shop, office, home or reception room. Quality chrome plating has been augmented by a satin chrome finish which has a softer, more luxurious appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Wilson and Kathy and Miss Rosetta Wilson were recent visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wenzel and Tommy of Worth.

C. E. McCutcheon of Wichita Falls was a business visitor here last Friday.

Dr. Moore, Author Of 'Night Before,' Was Ashamed of It

Everyone knows and loves the poem which begins—
'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;—
but the man who wrote it, Dr. Clement Clarke Moore, was ashamed of it and would not allow it to be published under his name for more than 20 years.
Dr. Moore, an aloof professor of Greek and Oriental literature in the Episcopal Seminary in New York, wrote the poem on Christmas eve 1822 and read it to his seven children.
He had not planned for the poem to go further than his own family, but a relative who was visiting the Moores put a copy in her dairy. The next year the relative's father sent it to a newspaper.
Other newspapers printed the jingles and they quickly became known all over the country. The dignified Dr. Moore was embarrassed and considered it beneath a man of his scholastic standing to be the author of children's jingles.
Twenty-two years later, however, he finally publicly admitted authorship of the jingles and it was published in book form under his name for the first time.
Ironically, the professor's serious works are forgotten today. He is mentioned in encyclopedias because he wrote the celebrated Christmas verses.

Cotton Meeting Set In January

BRYAN—Nineteen Texas state unit delegates of the National Cotton Council will represent this state's cotton interests at the Council's 13th annual meeting at Biloxi, Miss., January 22-24, George G. Chance unit chairman, said here today.
These state unit representatives are part of the Council's 244-man Beltwide delegation which is selected by the nation's cotton farmers, ginners, ware housemen, merchants, spinners, and cottonseed crushers through their own state organizations.
Delegates from Texas are:
Producers: Roy B. McQuarters, Littlefield; J. Walter Hammond, Tye; J. H. West, Bishop; R. A. Graham, Greenville; George Q. Payne, El Paso; T. W. Steiner, Gonzales.

Wax From Candles Calls for Caution

With so many candles placed about the home to give a festive air during the holiday season, candle wax drippings on rugs, tablecloths, and mantels are almost inevitable.
Wax spots on rugs can usually be removed successfully by first scraping off as much wax as possible with a dull knife and then sponging with carbon tetrachloride.
When you scrape up the wax, be careful not to injure the yarns. If the candle was colored and a stain remains, try sponging it lightly with a liquid made of two parts of water and one part of denatured (rubbing) alcohol.
As a precaution against fading, test this mixture first on an inconspicuous part of the rug.
Wax that has run down from candleholders onto your best linen tablecloth can be removed by the same method of first scraping—being very careful not to injure the fiber or thread—and then sponging with carbon tetrachloride. If the stain is colored, use the solution suggested for a colored spot on a rug, after you've used carbon tetrachloride. Again you are urged to test an inconspicuous spot for possible fading from use of the solution.
