

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

It's a rather helpless feeling—just to stand there and watch a fire completely destroy valuable property.

Yet, that's what our firemen have had to do on several occasions—two or a more recent date.

When the Claud Hill home burned some months ago, the firemen rushed out there with only 300 gallons of water.

More recently—just one day last week—they were called to Rhineland, and there they watched a warehouse burn while they stood by handicapped with only 300 gallons of water.

Last year, they made a run to Weinert and had to join with the crowd watching a cotton gin burn.

Our fireboys always answer these calls when they come in. They go rushing to the scene, realizing when they leave out there's their little they can do. They don't like it.

They don't like it, not because they don't want to make the run but because they watch property being destroyed and can't do anything about it.

They're wanting to do something about it. They're wanting a rural fire truck.

And they've made a start toward getting one!

This truck they want will cost in the neighborhood of $2,500. And they point out that just one home saved from the ravages of fire will pay for it.

The truck is being secured by means of donations, voluntary donation of people who realize the need of such a truck, as the fireboys realize it.

It would be equipped with a 750-gallon water tank, giving the fireboys 1,050 gallons to begin with on the two trucks.

And this amount of water will stop most all fires that haven't gained too much headway.

The rural truck would be equipped so firemen can start squirting water the very minute they reach the scene of the fire. And there's where the minutes count!

By "rural fire truck" they don't mean the service of this truck would be confined to any area. Our guess is it would be used in town a lot, too.

A large per cent of fires could be brought under control without even hooking up to a fire plug.

And what about the need, locally? Well, we're told that a large portion of our colored section of town, our Mexican labor camps, and lots of the western part of town are out of reach of our present fire fighting equipment.

To reach these places, it would be necessary to hook up a booster truck. And that's when minutes count.

The fireboys have the city's "Okay and blessings" to get the truck by donations. They have the city's promise to house and maintain the truck.

So they're getting the donations. Monday of this week they reported around $600 in the fund. "And before long," they say, "we'll have a rural fire truck so we can carry water to the scene of the fire."

But they can't do it without your help. People who've visualized the need of such a truck have contributed that $600.

Fireboys who visualize the need are taking donations. There's not a selfish move, but a community move.

Cecil McMinn, Crash Victim, Is Buried Aug. 19

Funeral services were held on Thursday, July 19, for Cecil D. McMinn, 39, who died Wednesday in the Knox County Hospital from injuries received in an automobile accident on Knox City's main street on Monday night, July 16.

The accident occurred about 11:30 Monday night under the traffic light near the bank. Mr. McMinn, who was driving a 1949 Dodge, was going north when the car collided with a 1951 Ford driven by Bill Henderson. With McMinn was his 12-year-old son, Cecil Earl, and he and Henderson were also hospitalized but their injuries were not considered serious. Both drivers were thrown from their cars by the crash impact.

Funeral services were held from the Baptist church in Benjamin, with Rev. Lester Belcher of Seymour officiating. Burial was in Benjamin cemetery.

McMinn was born in Munday on April 10, 1913. He married Miss Mattie Brown in Benjamin in 1931, and they lived in Knox County since that time. He was employed by Norwood Drilling Co., and was on his way to work when the accident occurred.

He is survived by his wife and six children, Cecil Earl, Roy Charles, Jerry, Delbert Ray, Martha and Mary Laverne; a brother, T. O. McMinn of Benjamin; five sisters, Eva Brown, Vesta Jacobs and Adeline McMinn, all of Benjamin; Pearl Turpin of Paducah, and Orni Brown of Fort Worth, and a half-brother, Chancey Lee of Colorado.

Junior Rodeo Set August 2-4 At Big Spring

The Howard County 4-H Club is sponsoring a junior championship rodeo at Big Spring on August 2, 3 and 4, it was announced Tuesday by Bill Palmeyer, county agent. There will be two go-rounds, he said, with money paid to top average. Prizes will be awarded Saturday night after the show.

Events open and entry fees are as follows: Calf roping, $15; bull riding, $10; ribbon roping, $10; barrel race, $10; hat race, $10; bareback bronc, $10.

Events are open to anyone under 20 years of age, and for a special stake race the age limit is 15 and under with entry fee $3. Entries close at 5 p. m. August 1, and are to be mailed to Durward Lewter, county agent, Big Springs, Texas. Entry blanks may be obtained from Bill Palmeyer, county agent, in Benjamin.

Bullington Rites Held Last Monday At Wichita Falls

Funeral services were held Monday for William Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, 28-year-old director of the Wichita Falls & Southern Railway Company, who died Sunday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

He was the son of Orville Bullington, prominent Wichita Falls attorney, chairman of the Texas Republican executive committee and former resident of Munday.

Survivors include his parents, his wife and two daughters.

CITY FARMER WIGGINS GROWS BIG WATERMELON

City Farmer M. L. Wiggins was telling people Tuesday about the big watermelon he raised this year on his "east 100," the acreage just east of his home in Munday. The melon weighed 49 pounds on R. T. Morrow's official "selling" scales. It was stated.

Besides taking care of his "east 100," Wiggins is vice-president of the First National Bank, chairman of the Methodist Board of Stewards, veteran of World War II, and what-not, so we reckon we'll believe his story. We've been invited to the official watermelon cutting.

Drive carefully—the life you save may be your own!

In Revival

Rev. Bernard Franklin, above, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Crowell, will be the evangelist for a revival meeting which will open on Monday night, July 30, at the Gilliland Baptist Church. The revival will continue through August 10. Services will begin at eight o'clock each night, it was announced.

TWENTY GIRLS ATTEND SUMMER CAMP AT LUEDERS

Twenty girls representing the junior group of the Munday Baptist Church attended summer camp at Lueders several days last week. They were accompanied by their sponsors, Mrs. Huron A. Polnac, and Misses Mary Lou Anderson and Patsy Jo Tidwell.

Four Of County Enter HSU For Summer Term

ABILENE—Four people from the Munday area registered last week for the second term of the summer semester at Hardin-Simmons University. They were Mrs. Maurice P. Doyle, Mrs. Jerry Rogers, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, and Bobby Nell Whitworth.

Enrollment for the session totals 847. Registrar Allen B. Lee has announced. The number includes 348 ex-servicemen, the largest veteran enrollment in more than a year. The increase is attributed to the Veterans Administration ruling that veterans must begin their schooling before July 25 to receive GI bill financial benefits.

Second term classes began July 19 and will end with summer commencement exercises August 20. A special music recreation camp is scheduled for August 13-25.

Mrs. Doyle, the wife of Gerald W. Doyle, Munday, is a senior at the university.

Mrs. Rogers, the wife of Dorse Rogers, Goree, is a senior at the university. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, social sciences fraternity.

Mrs. Taylor, a graduate student, is the wife of Dr. W. M. Taylor, Goree. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Miss Whitworth, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Whitworth. She is a member of the Physical Education Club, the Future Teachers of America, the Life Service Band, and the Young Women's Auxiliary, and Los Rancheros.

County Agent Cites Factors On Insect Control

Approximately 130,000 acres in Knox County are planted in cotton, and every one is wanting to make the most of this. Some of the factors controlling the yield are not controllable, but insects which take on the average of 1/8 of the cotton can be controlled. The responsibility for this control rests mostly on the individual farmer. The county agent and other workers can help some, but it is impossible to visit every field in the county at the time control measures are needed, therefore knowledge of when to spray or dust and how much to apply is very valuable to every cotton farmer.

Insects are present, and at the present time the boll weevil, boll worm and fleahopper are the insects Knox County farmers should be on the lookout for. Spray and dust are both equally effective and recommended, but there is no set time for application. In checking for the fleahopper, the terminal buds of plants in a field should be inspected. The hopper is a small light green insect with wings when he reaches the adult stage and when younger may be white or a light green. If one does not look exactly what the insect looks like, booklets may be obtained at the county agent's office, or he may be called to inspect a field and make a count. Time to apply poison for this insect is when 15 of the 100 plants inspected are found to have fleahoppers. If less than the 15 are found, wait a few days and (Continued on last Page)

Oil Activities

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. No. 3 Icelana Clouts, northwest outpost to the north Knox City Palo Pinto lime pool, was drilling below 4,316 feet in reef lime. Three cores from 4,240 to 4,260 feet recovered 100 per cent of core with recovery of dark grey to black shale with trace of sand. Average coring time was 15 minutes per foot. Top of the reef was called at 4,290 feet with no shows in the top.

Drillstem test of 30 minutes from 4,293 to 4,311 feet had a slight blow of air for two minutes and died. The tool was bypassed which resulted in another slight blow of two minutes before diving. Recovery of 40 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. There was no shut-in bottomhole pressure.

Last Rites For U. B. Willis Are Held July 14th

Funeral services for U. B. Willis, 58, long-time resident of this area, were held on Saturday morning, July 14, at ten o'clock from the First Baptist Church in Rochester. Rev. Cecil Meadows, pastor, officiated and was assisted by Rev. Charlie Sargent, Methodist pastor of the Brushy community.

Mr. Willis passed away Friday at the Knox County hospital, succumbing to a heart ailment. He had been in ill health for two years and was confined to the hospital the last week of his life. He had lived in this area since he was a boy of 14. Survivors include his wife, and adopted son, J. W. Willis of Brooklyn, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Bernard Walker and Mrs. R. S. Speck, both of California.

ARRANGE COVER CROP SEED EARLY

Farmers are urged to make arrangements early for the cover crop seed which they will need for planting this fall, by J. C. McGee, chairman of the Knox County PMA Committee. Early arrangement for seed is most important, says the chairman, since available seed supplies may make it necessary for same farmers to use a different crop this year than usual. While seed production prospects are not good for some cover crop seed this year, the chairman advises that there are large stocks of Austrian winter peas, lupine, common and Williamette vetches carried over from last year and prices are low. Austrian winter peas are being offered at $4.50 per hundred pounds, common and Williamette vetches at $7.00 and lupine at $5.00 f. o. b. production point plus paid freight.

The chairman points out that "cover crops are particularly important this year because they will help produce the large crops which undoubtedly again will be needed next year. The legume cover crops are particularly important because they add nitrogen to the soil and thus cut down the amount of nitrogen that will have to come from fertilizers. Though the commercial production of nitrogen has been increased, the demands for it have increased faster than production."

The chairman suggests that farmers estimate the amount of seed of different varieties which they will need this fall and to check with their dealer as to available supplies and local costs. The dealers then can get their orders in and the seed delivered in time for planting.

Former Resident Dies At Muleshoe

Word was received here by telephone of the death of G. S. Dowell, formerly of Munday, who died Sunday morning at Muleshoe.

Mr. Dowell served the Munday schools as vocational agriculture instructor for several years, going from here to Wichita Falls to accept a position in Hardin College. He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter.

Funeral services were to be held "either Tuesday or Wednesday," according to the message received here by B. L. Blacklock.

Heads Drive

Ben Wooten, Dallas banker, has been named campaign chairman of the forthcoming $700,000 fund appeal for the USO in Texas.

Selection of Wooten to head the state-wide campaign was announced by Attorney General Price Daniel, chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund Committee.

"Each county has a vital interest in maintaining home ties with its young men and women in military service," Wooten said, "and each will be asked to assume its proportionate share of the USO budget to assure that morale in the Armed Forces is maintained on a high level."

Legion Post Names Officers

At the regular meeting of Lowry Post No. 44 of American Legion on July 24, officers for the coming year were elected.

Russell J. Penick was re-elected post commander, along with M. H. (Red) Brumley as finance officer and R. F. (Shorty) Horan as sergeant-at-arms. In addition, the following officers were elected:

Doris Dickerson, first vice-commander; Boyd Meers, second vice-commander; E. B. Littlefield, third vice-commander; J. D. Gillespie, adjutant; Chan Hughes, chaplain; J. C. Harrham, service officer; Clay F. Grove, child welfare officer; Ardel Spelce, historian; Dwight C. Key, Ezell Reynolds, and Raymond Carden, executive committee members.

The new officers will be installed in September, and will assume their respective duties on October 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

School Transfers Due On August 1st

August 1, 1951, is the deadline for transferring students from one school district to another, it was announced Wednesday by Merick McGaughey, county superintendent. The county board will meet soon after this date, he said, to consider applications for transfer, but all applications must be in the county superintendent's office by August 1.

Application blanks may be secured from the county superintendent's office of from any local school superintendent.

RELATIVE PASSES

Word was received here Monday of the death of E. P. Lawson of Stanton, who passed away at Stanton at ten o'clock Monday. He was a brother of Mrs. C. H. Millican of Munday.

REV. MRS. STEVENSON ON VISIT TO COAST

School Tax, Bond Assumption Vote Saturday

Voters of the Munday Independent School District will go to the polls next Saturday and cast their ballots in the special school tax rate and bond assumption election.

The recent election in which the Sunset Consolidated School district was combined with the Munday district has made the forthcoming election imperative, it was pointed out.

The combining of the two districts, according to reports, brought about the situation in which there was no maintenance tax for the district. The maintenance tax rate of $1.50 on each $100 valuation to be voted on Saturday is the same rate the Munday district has had for several years.

The bond assumption vote is merely a vote for the Munday school district to assume the indebtedness of the old Sunset district, which is necessary under the consolidation vote.

Two ballots will be presented voters when they appear at the voting place at the city hall in Munday. On one ballot appears the words "For (or against) The Maintenance Tax" and the other will be "For (or against) The Assumption of Bonds."

Revival Opens On July 27th At Goree Church

A revival meeting will open Friday night, July 27, at the Goree Baptist Church. Rev. S. E. Stevenson, pastor, announced this week. The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 5.

Rev. Huron A. Polnac of Munday will do the preaching for this meeting, while the song services will be under the direction of Homer Howard of Goree.

The Goree pastor and congregation extend a cordial invitation to all people of this area to attend each and every service of the revival.

Showers Fall Over This Area

Some relief from the 100-degree temperatures came to this area when a cool front visited us the first of the week, bringing spotted showers to some sections.

Cooler weather greeted us Monday, with showers falling during the afternoon in the Goree and Bomarton sections. Tuesday morning brought showers to the Munday area. H. P. Hill, weather observer, reported 47 of an inch for Munday, while heavier precipitation was reported just outside the city limits.

These are just "cotton showers" and people are hoping for a general rain.

ICE CREAM SUPPER SLATED AT GILLESPIE

Members of the Gillespie Baptist Church will enjoy an ice cream supper next Saturday night. All members are urged to be present.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

GRANDVIEW, WASH., HERALD: "It is well known that most labor union members are no more inclined toward public ownership than the rest of us, especially the teamster's union. . . . Their organ says, 'It looks very much as if our socialistic adventure in ferry boat operating is going to cost us more money, rather than less. . . . Gradually we are learning that socialism costs the public more than private, individual enterprise.'"

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., CHRONICLE: "New powers asked by the President in his proposals for amendment of the Defense Production Act would give the Executive Branch of the government powers comparable to those held by foreign dictators. Such powers might mean the nationalization of industry and socialization of our economy. The proposed amendments would permit the government to condemn and take over anything it wants. The government could build and operate plants and buy and sell as it pleases."

SOMERSET, PA., DAILY AMERICAN: "Indeed, the time has come when to avert the inevitable conclusions of the policy that has been pursued in Federal and state matters since the late Harry Hopkins set forth the slogan, 'Tax and tax, to spend and spend, to elect and elect,' the people must stop the wild government spending."

YOUR "TAKE HOME" PAY

The important thing to any salaried man or wage earner is his "take home" pay—the amount of money he actually receives, after all deductions, when each payday comes around.

The government, through taxes, is cutting down our "take home" pay more and more.

A magazine published by a Southern power company touched on this and said, "Socialist planners try to sell their plans for government-in-business on the idea of 'something for nothing.' "Socialized medicine, Federal owned power, government built steel plants and U. S. financed transmission lines all come from the same hopper."

"The man who pays is the wage earner, through direct and indirect taxes, and through withholding deductions which cut down his 'take home' pay. The taxpayer is learning that 'something for nothing' means that he must pay 'something for nothing', and he'll keep right on paying more and more until he rises to put a stop to Socialism in any guise whatsoever."

The way to increase your "take home" pay is to work for the strictest kind of governmental economy—Federal, state and local—and to oppose government in business, whether that business is banking, the production of electric power or anything else that could and should be done by tax-paying private enterprise. Otherwise the socialists and the "spend, spend, spend" boys will clip our "take home" pay right down to a bare subsistence figure.

THE NATURAL STORY OF MERCHANDISING

An editorial in a recent issue of The Freeman makes this interesting observation: "The natural story of merchandising, as any large retailer will tell you, is that from the moment the goods arrive from the factory and are unwrapped and put on the shelf, there is only one thing normally that can happen to the price. It can go down. If at the first price the goods do not move, or move too slowly, the price is cut; and then again and again until the consumer is willing to take them away. . . . The goods MUST move."

What we have here is a rather novel way of stating the fact that merchants can't hold up the consumer even if they want to. People don't buy things if they think the price is out of line. They postpone their purchasing, or do without, or buy a substitute. And there's nothing the merchant can do about it.

On top of that, the consumer's best friend, competition, is always present to protect his interest. Every merchant, big or small, wants to do more business if he can. Every merchant knows that the price is the biggest inducement to the bulk of consumers. So, inevitably, he sells his wares at as low a price as he can and still pay his bills and make a little profit.

These are economic facts of life. But they can exist only in a free competitive economy.

NO BONANZA

Do you think that high prices are a bonanza for retailers? If so, a recent factual report on the experience of American department stores for the first quarter of this year will be enlightening.

In that period, the stores' dollar sales were six per cent better than during the same months last year. But net operating profit—the money the retailer has left after the bills are paid—declined. This was due to a heavy increase in expenses, including payrolls. Net profits from merchandising operations amounted to only 1.9 per cent of sales.

Other types of retailing have had a similar experience. Inflation has hit retailing all along the line. In many instances it has been impossible to raise prices sufficiently to offset the higher costs. So retailing's profits per dollar of sales, which are very modest in the best of years, has gone down.

Moreover, inflation has resulted in tougher competition among retailers. High prices naturally produce consumer resistance, and an increase in "price consciousness" on the part of customers. People tend to "shop around" more and more before buying, in search of the best deal. So the retailer must keep his prices at the lowest possible level if he is to hold his trade.

No, retailing didn't create high prices and it doesn't like them. It's hurt by inflation, just like all the rest of us.

geant gave orders to turn back but the move was decided on too late. The Indians rose up and swarmed in behind them. The soldiers fought desperately but only two cut their way through.

One of them looked back and saw his brother, a 17-year-old boy, fighting furiously. The man hesitated a moment! He was in the clear, he had saved his own life and it was almost certain death to go back. But he remembered the last words of his mother when they left home. "Jimmy, take good care of Dick and don't come back without him."

His brother's horse had been killed and he saw Dick grab his gun, club a warrior from a horse and make a frantic effort to seize the bride, only to fall as the animal wheeled and galloped off.

James determined to rescue his brother or die with him. He spurred his horse among the Indians and shouted to Dick to spring behind as he turned the animal. The brother did so instantly and they were speeding away, lying low on the horse, with arrows and bullets flying. The brave steed was wounded three times but the brothers were untouched and reached the fort.

The sergeant and 12 men were scalped by the savages. The Indians were pursued by the whole force of Rangers, overtaken on Flat Top Mountain and suffered total defeat.

Joe Jackson Announces For U. S. Congress

Joe Jackson, Wichita Falls independent oil producer, today announced that he is a candidate in the special election for Congress to be held September 8th.

Herewith is the text of Mr. Jackson's statement:

complaining about the way our Federal government is being run. Many of you, I know, feel the same way I do, but we have all been much too interested in our personal affairs and far too lax about the way our country is being economically destroyed.

In 1941 I felt it was my duty to fight Fascism—today I know it is my duty to fight socialism. I hope from the bottom of my heart that the good and God-fearing people of this district are willing to give me that chance to fight.

I am certain you will be glad to know I do not represent any special groups. I do not have to cater to anyone. If you elect me I will be your Congressman and yours alone.

When you elect a man to public office I think it very important that you should know as much about him as possible. I am looking forward to meeting many of you in person, very soon, but, in the meantime I know you will be interested in my past experiences.

JOE JACKSON

I was born 34 years ago in Brownfield, Texas. In those days my father, J. S. Jackson, and my mother, Mary Gertrude Jackson, were farming. In 1920 we moved to Wichita Falls, and father entered the oil field trucking business. I was educated at Wichita Falls High School and then entered Texas A. & M. Then, as now, I was an ambitious young man; I wanted to get out into the world, earn my keep and stand on my own feet. So, in 1936, like many other young men, I thought the oil business would make my fortune. I had to start somewhere so I became a roughneck in the West Texas Oil Fields. After a while I was promoted to driller and worked for the firm of Akin and Dimoch.

A year later I formed a partnership with Fowler Gilchrist of Wichita Falls, and we went into business as drilling contractors. This was during the days of the Battle of Britain. I felt that a little man called Adolph Hitler was getting ready to take over the world, including the United States, so I made up my mind to do my share in this struggle for survival. I traveled to Canada and enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Soon I was flying in Great Britain helping to kick Herman Goering in the pants.

In 1943 I transferred to the United States Air Corps and flew 42 combat missions over Italy, France and Yugoslavia. The British and French people were very kind to reward me for the little I did. The distinguished flying cross and the croix de guerre are still today two of my most precious possessions.

In January, 1945, I was transferred to the Pacific Area, five missions before V-J day. I was honorably discharged as a Captain in 1946. Like millions of other young men I had lost five years of my life, but I thought it had been worth it. We had won the war and I felt certain that our leaders would never let anything like this happen again. I came home and entered the oil business again as a lease broker.

In 1948, together with Ben Schultz, Jr., the firm of Schultz and Jackson was formed, and God has been good to me. We have become small successful independent oil producers.

My platform in this special election is going to be as follows:

1. America first — Politics last.
2. Fight communism, socialism and nationalization of any industry.
3. Protect YOUR freedom, dignity and rights as individual.
4. Fight the unnecessary high cost of living.
5. Protect the independent small business man.
6. Fight the Truman "fair-deal" socialized democratic corrupt Pendergast machine.
7. The preservation of state's rights.
8. A firm constructive foreign policy.
9. Give the farmers and ranchers an honest price for their products in comparison with the price they must pay for goods.
10. Balance our national budget through economy in governmental operation.
11. Reduce the number of federal bureaus, agencies and employees.
12. The law of supply and demand through free enterprise.
13. Represent YOU on a full-time basis NOT as a professional politician but as a guy named Joe.

You know as well as I do that after having won World War Two we have lost World Peace. Two. Facism was a small danger compared to Communism. Adolph Hitler was a small dictator compared to Joseph Stalin. Hitler was elected in 1933 and after six short years he was prepared to conquer the world.

Soviet Russia had had not only six years but over 30 years to prepare herself to take over the free people of this universe and while Hitler conquered with arms, Russia today is conquering with poison. Poison that destroys people's minds.

Communism is a disease that no Atom Bomb can stop. Only we, the free people of this world, can stop this disease by not letting it effect us in the first place.

If you believe in this great country, if you believe in this economic system that has made us the most progressive nation in the world, it is your duty and your heritage to fight Communism and Socialism with all the force you can muster.

It is my sincere belief that certain members of our administration have already been infected with this disease. Now is the time to show them that no real American will ever accept Communism, Socialism, or any other "ism". I am willing to fight for my freedom, dignity and rights as an individual until I die. "United we stand, divided we fall." How very true that saying is. Let us put America first and politics last.

No nation on earth, regardless of its form of government, ever gave to human beings so much liberty and material prosperity as our own Constitutional form of Freedom. We started out as thirteen little States, ridden by poverty and threatened by savages. We were, however, blessed by God. We now represent the utmost in individual freedom and individual prosperity but our great form of government is on trial for its

Relative Of Local Men Finds Fun At Farming After His Retirement

The following story of Dana Wren, brother of Clayton Wren, and nephew of Fletcher F. Wren of Munday, was taken from the Houston Post and is being reprinted by request:

Dana Wren is probably Harris County's most successful farmer.

He's such a success he won't really worry if all or part of his crop fails. He goes fishing any time he gets ready and stays as long as he wants to. And he gives away everything he raises.

It's a wonderful way to farm. The secret is, first be a success as a businessman, enough of a success you can retire at 49. Then farm just for fun. That's what Mr. Wren does.

Maybe you don't call three acres a farm. It doesn't make any difference to Mr. Wren. When he got ready to retire a year ago he settled out on Memorial Drive in the middle of a swank residential area, built a beautiful home, bought a small tractor and plowed up his two-acre back yard.

Truck crops are his dish, and ever since his early beans came on this spring, there's been a noticeable drop in grocery bills in the Memorial Drive area.

Mr. Wren, his first growing season, has raised a wealth of vegetables, from watermelons and roasting ears to radishes and pee-wee tomatoes. His larder is running over and his stomach is full, so he spends most of his time now giving away his produce.

He thinks nothing at all of going out the back door and poking around in his tomato patch with a bushel basket, gathering dinner.

When he goes to town, he loads up the car and drops a few dollars worth of vegetables off at the homes of several friends.

"It tickles 'em to death," says Mr. Wren. He never had so much fun in his life.

Now don't misunderstand, Mr. Wren isn't prepared to feed all the mouths in Harris County. He just gives the stuff away to his friends. However, he makes friends awfully easy, which keeps the produce moving. He wouldn't think of selling anything. You can do that when you're able to retire at 49.

Mr. Wren appears to perspire just as honestly and as much as a real hard-working farmer, and he manages to relax on fishing trips.

On these occasions, he just hooks his house trailer to his car and takes off. The trailer has built-in bunks and all the fishing tackle and guns you'd ever need for a trip to the Canadian north woods.

If fishing happens to tire him out, this farmer can come home and lie in his air conditioned bedroom and watch television. It's a great way to farm.

Mr. Wren is actually showing, however, that with good cultural practices and a small amount of land, a man can produce an amazing amount of food.

There's no way to estimate how many bushels of roasting ears come off Mr. Wren's small corn patch. With fertilizer and partial irrigation, the stalks went about 12 feet high and none produced less than two healthy ears.

Mr. Wren recently furnished a church gathering with cantaloupes, plenty for all. He had world of tomatoes, in all stages of growth. Every type of bean and pea you can name are growing on the "farm." Squash, pepper, rutabagas, strawberries, blackberries, okra—he's got them all.

You've heard about the troubles that can come with being well fixed financially. If Mr. Wren has any of these worries they don't show on the outside.

He's looking forward to a log of years of "farming." His father lived beyond 90. Mr. Wren figures he may have 40 years to go yet.

"Some day," he admits with a grin, leaning back in an easy chair with a nice cold cantaloupe, "this life will probably kill me."

THE DO-NOTHING 82ND CONGRESS

... By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 22—

Most capital observers agree that not in years has there been such a tired, listless, indifferent, do-nothing Congress as the Eighty-second. The famed Eightieth Congress, against which President Truman campaigned to victory in 1948, was a stem-winder in comparison.

Not only has the Eighty-second Congress failed to pass a single appropriation by the end of the fiscal year, on June 30, but a good many members don't seem to care. They don't even seem to care that they are being called the "horse-meat" Congress.

Never in my recollection have both morale and morals been so low, leadership so lacking.

Never in my recollection has there been less idealism, less patriotism, such poor party discipline; never such shameless absenteeism. Some Congressmen are present in Washington only one day a week.

This is the tail-end of a tired, uninspired administration—probably the end of a long period of Democratic rule. Nobody, except a few incurable optimists, really expect this administration to be re-elected. When that frame of mind exists in Congress, these can be no party discipline, no leadership.

Without leadership, every congressman adopts the law of the jungle—every man for himself. Instead of voting what's good for the country, he votes what's good for himself or the lobbyists who have helped fill his campaign chest. He knows that, in many legislative problems, the nation's interest has to be put above his district's interest. A flood-control reservoir may dislocate a hundred or so people in his district, but their dislocation may save the lives and property of millions below the reservoir area. However, an "I'll get mine, you get yours" spirit has become rampant in this Congress. The law of the lobbyist and the local interest reign supreme.

There has been no firm hand on the reigns. This is true both of the White House and of the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill. The President has alternately begged and scolded. He has sedom inspired.

Senate Passes Bill Increasing Aged Pensions

WASHINGTON—The Senate has passed a bill which, if the States take full advantage of it, will increase old age pensions $3 a month beginning October 1.

The bill is in the form of an amendment to the Social Security Act sponsored by Senator Ernest V. McFarland of Arizona. Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and 20 other Senators. It must still be approved by the House.

The $3 monthly increase would daily apply to payments to the blind. Federal contributions to States for aid to dependent children would be increased an average of $2 per month per recipient.

"These small increases are overdue and are more than justified by the rising cost of living," Senator Connally declared. "When the bill was before the Finance Committee, I urged and voted for increases of $5 a month for the aged and the blind and of $3 a month for dependent children. Average old age assistance payments in Texas in May were only $32.74, which is obviously not enough to live on."

The bill as passed by the Senate included a provision requiring the States to maintain their present payments so that the full amount of the increased federal contributions would be passed along to the recipients.

In the case of Texas, this should mean a $3 a month increase for 90 per cent of the 222,155 old persons receiving pensions; if the Texas Department of Public Welfare makes appropriate adjustments in its standards of judging needs, ten per cent of the pensioners are already receiving the State's maximum of $50 a month and would get the increase only if the maximum were lifted to $53.

The bill also makes it possible for Texas to give a $4 a month increase to recipients of aid to dependent children by increasing the state payment only by $1 a month. This would bring the average payment up from a little less than $12 a month to about $16 a month. Under the present law, the State puts up $3 and the federal government

Good Results With Sears Swine

Good results in the 1950-51 Sears Foundation 4-H Swine Program are being reported by county agents.

County Agent Cloyce M. Huckabee reports that of the eight gilts distributed in Coleman County in 1951, all farrowed on time. None of the gilts had to be bred a second time; this indicates good management, said Huckabee, on the part of the 4-H participants.

Fifty-five pigs were farrowed and 51 were raised to weaning age. Although the litter was no thigh, the 4-H boys took good care of the pigs farrowed. The pigs weighed 1,746 pounds at 56 days of age, an average of 34.23 pounds each. The heaviest litter averaged 50.8 pounds per pig.

Eight gilts and a boar were delivered to nine selected farm boys in Nolan County May 26, reported County Agent M. B. Templeton. These hogs are part of the 1951-52 program.

The 4-H boy who receives the $9. Under the Senate bill, if the State puts up $4, the federal government would put up $12.

boar provides free breeding service for the eight gilts in the county program. And the boar's services, for a fee, are available for use of farmers in the locality also. The selected boys each return a gilt from their litter to keep the program going.

This program has been operating in Nolan County for many years, said Templeton. He estimates that probably 90 percent of the swine in the area are from Sears breeding stock.

HALF CENTURY DOESN'T CHANGE ALL

The strapless frocks and casual sport shirts of today bear little resemblance to the hoop skirts and starched collars of the gay nineties, but one thing hasn't changed in the past half century. Cotton is still the favorite textile fiber in America, being used more than wool, silk, flax, rayon, and all other fibers combined.

This fact was revealed in a study of trends in fiber consumption for the period of 1892-1948 made at the Southern Regional Research Laboratory in New Orleans.

The survey is part of a study made by the laboratory in connection with its research on cotton utilization. The report was made on the basis of raw fibers consumed or processed in domestic textile mills and also on the basis of fibers used by ultimate consumers.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—The Texas State Department of Health cannot maintain daily inspection of all eating places and the public is urged by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to insist on the proper sanitation of the establishment where they eat. If the public is careless in this respect the incentive to maintain clean food service will be lessened and operators will only maintain the level the public is willing to accept. He urged that the public patronize "eating establishments which measure up to a high standard of cleanliness." The State Health Department is making every effort to improve sanitation of eating places, Dr. Cox said, and there is no excuse for cafe owners not taking advantage of the food handlers schools which are being offered all over the state. He added that there are laws, rules and regulations which require

THE PUBLIC should be aware of these sanitary rules and regulations and insist that restaurateurs observe them. Patrons should realize that tables and counters will be many times cleaner than the kitchen and other places out of sight," he warned.

He urged milk appraisal by the patrons also. Texas law requires that a milk bottle cap state the grade of milk, and whether it is raw or pasteurized. "Insist on having the milk served in its original container, with a covered cap and a legal label," Dr. Cox advised.

"Obviously," he said, "the best in sanitation can be had only by close cooperation between the public and the investigators of the State Health Department.

New Drug Similar To Arrow Poison Is Surgical Aid

NEW YORK—A new muscle relaxing drug that is closely related to a South American arrow poison has been made available to doctors by Lederle Laboratories.

A spokesman said that use of Flaxedil, this new synthetic drug, in the operating room will mean less anesthetic for the patient, less nausea and more rapid recovery.

The new drug is similar to curare, the drug first used by South American native hunters as an arrow poison to paralyze their game. Curare was first discovered by explorers soon after the arrival of Columbus to the New World. It was observed that natives dipped the heads of spears and arrows into the drug while hunting. Later it was learned that curare acted against nerve endings to bring about temporary paralysis of body muscles.

The native drug was too impure to be used except in the laboratory. But eventually it was purified and used as an adjunct to anesthetic, because of its muscle-relaxing quality. However, there were a number of disadvantages in using curare, so scientists developed substitutes.

Flaxedil, which was developed in France, is the first substitute to possess all of curare's useful qualities and certain additional advantages. It does not produce fluctuation in blood pressure and may be administered without fear to asthmatic patients. Its effects are easily controlled and its dosage has been accurately standardized.

This new curare-like drug is known to scientists by the jaw-breaking name tri (diethylaminoethoxy) benzene triethylolide.

LOCAL MAN TELLS OF EXPERIENCES IN KOREAN WATERS

The following letter to the Van Buren, Ark., County Democrat is being reprinted by request—Roy Russell is the son of Mrs. Lillie Russell of Munday:

Dear Editor: As you probably know I'm now serving aboard the U. S. S. Helena in the Far East. However, since you may not know exactly what we are doing out here in Korean waters, I thought you might be interested.

Upon arrival in Far Eastern waters in the middle of April, the Helena joined task force 77, which is made up of two or three large aircraft carriers, one or two cruisers, and a number of destroyers.

From a position at sea off the coastline of Korea, the fighters and attached bombers launched from the carriers can reach any target in North Korea. Sometimes they fly close support mission for our front line troops, bombing and stopping enemy troops or knocking out tanks and pill boxes. At other times our planes operate well to the rear of the enemy lines where they concentrate on truck traffic coming out, railroads and train, bridges and other common facilities. The other day our torpedo planes put a few "fish" into the flood gates and inside walls of a dam which empties into the Han river.

helps maintain complete control of the sea off the coast of Korea. Last July the enemy tried one amphibious landing. We haven't given them a second chance since then. No shipping is allowed to enter any North Korea port.

We also spent a few days at Wonsan, where our big eight inch guns have again proved their destructiveness against targets normally out of range of the other ships. You remember that we landed troops at Wonsan in October, but withdrew them at Christmas after the Chinese communists came into the war. The enemy thinks a lot of Wonsan, and if you have a map handy you can see why. It's located on the east coast at about the 39th parallel right opposite the North Korean capital of Panyang, and it is an important rail and highway focal point. Our ships have had the city under seige for about three months and it stops most of the supply routes going south. We have tied up thousands of enemy troops who naturally fear another amphibious landing by our naval force at this important point.

On a couple of occasions we have been down on the front lines on the east coast and plastered enemy troops trying to make good on the spring offensive. Our sistership, the Toledo, is doing the same thing over at Inchon on the west coast. You might say that the Navy in the eastern and western anchors of our front lines.

That's about all for now. We have a big job to do, and I think we're getting it done.

Sincerely,
ROY M. RUSSELL

Altar Society At Seymour Hosts For Deanery Meeting

Approximately 80 members of the Wichita Falls Deanery, National Council of Catholic Women, attended the third quarterly meeting in Seymour on Wednesday of last week. Members of the Sacred Heart Altar Society of Seymour were hostesses for the day.

Rev. George Julian, OMI, host pastor, gave the invocation at the luncheon after which he welcomed the visiting clergy and members. Deanery president, Mrs. Owen C. Bery of Wichita Falls, responded.

Deanery moderator, Rev. Anthony Daly, Rev. R. J. Kelly, Rev. Francis Gabryl, all of Wichita Falls; Rev. Fabian Diersing, Rhineland, and Rev. Francis Zimmerer, Windthorst, were introduced to the group.

Mrs. Berg presided at the business meeting which followed the luncheon. The opening prayer was given by Rev. Daly after which members gave the salute to the flag. This was followed by various reports.

Rev. Diersing and seven ladies of St. Joseph Parish attended the deanery. Mrs. George Zissel, president of St. Ann's Mothers Society, gave a report on activities of the society on war relief work, such as CARE packages, clothing for war relief, etc.

Miss Patsy Kay Ford is visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ford, in McCamey.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Barnard are spending their vacation in McAlester, Oklahoma.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants The Meat Selling Congressman To Try Out In A Few Other Lines, Too

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a glimmer of an idea this week for a change.

Dear editor:

My neighbor went into town yesterday mornin' jut before the mail carrier arrived and since nobody in this country believes in suppression of knowledge I helped myself to his newspaper and carefully put it back in the box after I got through with it, but one of the things I read in it before I did was about a Congressman in New Jersey who put on an apron and got behind a meat counter to find out what housewives think about the price of meat.

Now while I ain't never heard of a woman who complained because the meat in the meat market wasn't priced high enough, good times or bad, inflation or deflation, this Congressman got his name in the paper pretty prominently because he found women are hoppin' mad at the present price of meat, and according to him this proves the government ought to roll back the price.

I ain't sayin' necessarily that a lot of Congressmen would be of more service to their country behind a store counter than behind a desk in the halls of Congress, but if Congressmen are gonna go into this matter of what people think of high prices, I don't see no sense in stoppin' just with meat.

I'd like to have some Congressman work a while in an implement store and hear what farmers think about the high price of tractors and tractor parts, tires and innertubes. While he was workin' there, another one could be behind a dry goods counter and hear what farmers think of the price of work pants and shoes. Also, ought to be a good opportunity behind a counter in a feed and seed store to hear what they think of the price of plantin' seed, fertilizer poison, etc. Shouldn't leave out the drug counter, or the fillin' station, or the lumber yard, appliance store, barber shop, cafe, etc.

In fact, if Congress wants a complete picture, they might as well adjourn and hire out, and when they get back in session after a few months of workin' behind counters and listenin', they gonna find out meat ain't the only thing that's high in this country has gone up except my bank account.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

COTTON FIGHTS IN TROPICS OR ARCTIC

Wherever the U. S. fighting man goes, cotton accompanies him. In Arctic cold or tropic heat, the soldier wears cotton uniforms, carries cotton equipment, and shoots ammunition made from cotton linter cellulose. Here, soldiers outfitted in cotton parkas lift an injured buddy onto a cotton canvas stretcher to be lowered down a cliff by tow rope for medical treatment.

Let's Talk LIVESTOCK

(By Ted Gouddy)

Fort Worth, July 12—Big news in the livestock trade this week has been the beginning of the Summer cattle and calf run.

With near 25,000 cattle and calves marketed at Fort Worth this week, the market has shown an ability to absorb far larger numbers of cattle and calves without a disastrous price break.

Prices have worked lower, especially on calves and grass fat yearlings and most classes of cattle and calves are now being advanced with OPS ceilings and packers reported this week they were able to move virtually everything at ceiling prices.

Dry conditions over the territory are beginning to tell. It is obvious from appearance of the cattle and calves coming in that some shrink is already taking place particularly on fat calves.

Cattle prices steady to 50 cents lower and calves $1 to $2 lower was the rule, leaving price schedules still $1 to $4 above a year ago on most classes.

dence to rumors that the Mexican border might be opened to imports of cattle in the near future.

Cattle dealers who formerly were prominent in the Border trade are making representations to Washington to get the quarantine removed so that cattle can again be imported.

Relaxations of border rules at Laredo that permits cooked, boneless meat in five pounds or less lots to be brought across the border is another straw in the wind.

Latest reports from the Mexican-United States Commission which is carrying on the foot-and-mouth disease eradication program have been encouraging. Sporadic outbreak of a cattle complaint called stomatitis have been at the bottom of most recent "scares". Stomatitis symptoms are almost identical with foot-and-mouth symptoms.

Rumor has it that some Mexican interests are cool toward an early opening of the border for fear their meat canning plants will be closed. They would like to see their infant meat packing industry expanded so that Mexico could take a larger share of the world beef trade.

It is also rumored that the White House might look favorably on a border opening so that the cattle from Mexico could augment the beef supply in this country.

It looks like Congress, both the House and Senate that is, are going to give the Administration a watered down controls act. House action washing out quotas on livestock was the same amendment the Senate voted into their bill.

Erasure of quotas would be a severe blow to Administration forces who want a strong controls law. A coalition of Dixie Democrats and Republicans broke party lines to sink the quota system.

Sheep and lamb prices have hit the toboggan in the last two weeks. The trade credits the sharp break to two things.

Doldrums in the wool trade has slashed pelt credits and made the wool credit on sheep and lambs far less. Also, the more abundant meat available coupled with the fact that not many really good fat sheep or lambs are coming in has resulted in a critical over-supply of low grade lambs and mutton in the East.

W. N. White & Company of Brady had an interesting string of 1,409-pound grass steers on the Fort Worth market Monday that sold at $32.50. Big, good grass cattle, with more age than we usually see on cattle.

A package of 912 pound steers from John Semecsek of Rowena was interesting this week. They were deep red muley cattle, once plentiful but now few herds of them are maintained. They brought $30.50.

Judge F. W. Fischer had a shipment of 91 steers on the market that averaged 1,030 pounds at $36. Good beef still brings a good price.

brings a good price. These were fed near Gainesville. Lamb top at Fort Worth this week was $33 paid for 190 head of Spring lambs, strictly choice, from Leon Farms at Fort Stockton.

It's getting the time of year to be careful about grass and forest fires. Be careful about fires and smoking, the effects of such fires last for years and mean a loss to everyone of us. Use the ash tray in your car and don't just flip cigarettes to the wind.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wardlaw visited in Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico last week.

Miss Gwyna Lee Smith spent the week end in Lubbock with friends.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

What's So Funny?

Just finished reading a magazine article that "proves" you and I don't know what's funny.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter—and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny.

Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him—doesn't it?

From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself—but I promise not to make any "wise-cracks" if you prefer tea.

count again, as the hopper infestation builds up. By waiting, one may save one application of poison, and still do as good a job as by applying two applications. If one does not make a weekly count of his field, and waits until he sees his neighbor dusting, he may have waited a little too long to apply his poison and the damage is already done, as no fields are similar and follow the same pattern of insect control.

In checking for the boll weevil, 100 bolls that are about 1/3 grown should be pulled at random in the field. Do not pick bolls that are flarred or on the ground because they are damaged or they wouldn't be there, but after 100 have been pulled inspect them and find how many are punctured. The puncture will be sealed by a little wax, and when 25 in the 100 are found to be punctured, it is time for boll weevil control.

In checking for the bollworm, again 100 plants should be inspected. This time one should inspect for eggs which will appear on the top 4 or 5 leaves of plant and are white or a light brown in color. Eggs are laid on the top of the leaf and flat against the surface. They are white to a light brown color and about the size of a pencil lead. They are round in shape. In checking one should also inspect the squares for worms. Worm indication is a young boll with a hole in it. To warrant poison, eggs should be present, and 4 or 5 plants found to be infested with worms.

At present only the above insects are giving damage in the county, and as others are found, the public will be informed. At any time you need assistance with insect control, contact your county agent at Benjamin, and listed below are the applications for the insects listed above.

1/2 Million 4-H'ers Helping Reduce Farm Accidents

A recent survey of 2,000 farm accidents shows that 248 involve machinery. In other types, more farm people are injured by falls—476—than in any other kind of accident.

FARM FOLKS, as a general rule, give little thought to safety until a member of their family or a neighbor's is hurt or killed, or fire destroys their home or barn. Then they start doing something about safety.

This year it is particularly important that every farm family should do something about practicing safety, because even though there is a shortage of labor on farms, and new equipment is hard to get, food production must be boosted. That means the present manpower and machinery on farms must be guarded against accidents.

An average of 47 farm people are accidentally killed every day.

Helping to reduce rural casualties are a half million boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety Program. More than $10,000 in awards for the best records of accident prevention and education are being provided by General Motors for the seventh consecutive year.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The number of pigs saved at farrowing time last year by Texas swine producers was 6.4 per litter. This is substantially above the average for past years and better management, breeding and feeding practices as recommended by the Agricultural Extension Service personnel is credited with much of the improvement.

THE MASSEY-HARRIS "22"
Is Your Best Buy
in a 2 plow tractor

• You get more power for every dollar you invest in the purchase of a 22... more usable horsepower at the drawbar, more lugging ability for the tough spots. Actually 23.91 maximum on the drawbar and 35 on the belt. It's economical power too. Built-in governor and automatic spark advance do an amazingly efficient job of matching power output to the load. The engine itself is a 140-cubic-inch, 4-cylinder power-plant with full-length water jackets and full-pressure lubrication.

The 22 has the weight and power to handle both mounted and pull-behind tools. New 3-point hitch makes hook-ups of rear mounted tools fast, easy. Attaches to all 3-point implements. Depth-o-matic 2-way hydraulic system raises and lowers implements under power... automatically maintains depth setting.

For power, comfort, visibility... traction and hydraulic control, the 22 is the outstanding tractor in the 2-plow field.

Stop in for complete details... drive the 22... test it on your own farm.
