Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

If it wasn't for the things we steal occasionally, it would be even more difficult to write a column. The drouth has been russed and discussed no end, but it continues with us. We've had too many days of 100-plus temperatures, but just time in on the weather forecast and see what's in store for us.

Which brings us to the item we stole from another publication recently. It's kinda a boost for newspapers—but, gee whiz!—they need boosting occasionally, just like a fellow's morale needs perking up, too. Here it is:

YOU CAN'T CLIP A TV PROGRAM!

Dorothy Kilgallen, the columnist and television star, recently had something pleasant to say about newspapers as reading matter.

"You can read on a train crossing the desert or on a plane at 17,000 feet above the Atlantic—no static, no fading, no blips," says Miss Kilgallen. "You can read in a bathtub or while hanging onto a pole in a crowded bus. You can read as much or as little as you want, as fast or as slowly as you want."

"And if you read something you like, you can tear it out and save it to read again some day. I enjoy a radio and television, and I am gainfully employed by both, but I must admit they have their drawbacks. Did you ever try to clip a television program and paste it in your scrapbook?"

Here's why the newspaper holds its dominant place in the homes and hearts of Americans. And here is why—to touch on the world of commerce from which all of us draw our livings—the newspaper remains an unsurpassed means of advertising goods and services.

Payne Hattox, minister of the local Church of Christ, had us going in circles last Monday. "Aaron, your advertising was all wrong last week," he said. "You advertised that we were going to have a meeting this week. We're not having it this week—but next week."

When he saw we likely wasn't going to recover from the shock, he explained. The advertising and plans were all in line, but circumstances over which there was no control forced postponement of the meeting. The evangelist, Ray Chester of Lawton, Okla., took down with mumps! The local congregation has given him a week to recover—and the meeting will begin next Monday. The Lord willing, that is.

Present-day activities in oil country editor of a weekly news-drilling are just too fast for a paper. Last week, too late for mention in our sheet, we learned that Burk Royalty Co. has pulled in to drill the No. 1 Sheedy just a mile north of town. Then Monday—before another paper had time to be put into type—we heard they hit salt water and had abandoned the well.

It just takes 18 hours drilling time, we heard, to drill one of these shallow wells, so they can reach contract depth, hit a flowing well, put it into production or abandon a dry hole, it seems, quicker than we can publish a newspaper.

22,700 Acres of Knox Cotton Land Placed In Govt. Soil Bank Program

The acreage reserve phase of the government Soil Bank program will net Knox County farmers well over a half million dollars, it was announced early this week by J. T. Gilpin, manager of the Knox County ASC office. Much of the cotton land on which the drouth had taken its toll has been plowed under.

In the cotton land portion of the program contracts have been signed on 710 farms in the county and total payments are estimated at $612,900, Gilpin stated.

Contracts not processed early this week were estimated, and the total may be slightly higher than the above figure. Cotton land in the program totals 22,700 acres and the per-acre payment over the county was announced at $27 per acre.

In addition to the cotton land, 2,280 acres of wheat land on 75 farms have been put into the acreage reserve. Payments on the wheat will total $31,722.

Aikin Quits Race For Lt. Governor

Announcement was made last Friday from Paris, Texas, that Senator A. M. Aikin Jr. had withdrawn from the lieutenant governor's race because he was "tired and ill from a vigorous campaign." This leaves the office for two more years to incumbent Ben Ramsey.

From a hospital room, Senator Aikin said: "Upon direct orders of my physician, I am withdrawing my name from the runoff for lieutenant governor. I am deeply grateful for the many courtesies from my friends in all parts of the state."

Ramsey led Aikin by more than 250,000 votes in the July primary, but failed to receive a majority.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Roy England,
Knox County Agent

The cabbage looper infestation appears to be spreading to new fields of cotton every day, and attempts to check this worm have not been altogether successful. Presence of the cabbage looper can be noted by the appearance of ragged leaves on the cotton plant, and if the plant is shaken vigorously, a number of worms may be shaken off.

The Extension Entomologists recommend Endrin at the rate of 1 qt. per acre for control of heavy infestations, however, this is a relatively expensive poison, and in many instances control of the looper can be obtained by the use of D. D. T. and BHC in conjunction with bollworm control. While D. D. T. alone is sufficient for bollworm control, the BHC is necessary to slow down the work of the cabbage looper.

Sisters Meet In Munday Home For First Visit Together In 49 Years

For the first time in 49 years four sisters met for a reunion Monday in the home of Mrs. E. J. Brazell, 67, in Munday.

Mrs. Grace Williams, 61, of Norwalk, Calif., and Mrs. Mettie Worley, 64, of Whittier, Calif., arrived Sunday night where they visited with a niece, Mrs. O. O. Shue, who is a daughter of Mrs. Brazell.

A fourth sister, Mrs. Eula Stubbs, 65, of Cordell, Okla., also attended the reunion.

Some of the sisters have visited each other in the past years, but this is the first time all four have been together since the funeral of their father, A. H. Fenter, on August 12, 1907, in Mountain View, Okla.

Mrs. Brazell and Mrs. Williams saw each other for the first time since 1907. A brother, J. J. Fenter, of Santa Cruz, Calif., was unable to attend having planned a trip to Canada. Mrs. Worley plans to return to California in two weeks. Mrs. Williams will visit with her two children, K. C. Williams and Mrs. Jim Maynard, in Friona before going home in mid-September.

Bible Film To Be Shown August 15 At Baptist Church

The third and final section of the feature-length motion picture, "Our Bible-How It Came To Us," which tells the story of how the Bible has come down to us through the ages, will be shown in Munday at First Baptist Church on Wednesday, August 15, at 8:00 p. m. It was announced today by Pastor Robert Lloyd.

The final chapter is probably the most stirring section of this epic sound film, which was produced by the American Bible Society. It opens with the invention of printing and the introduction of the Gutenberg Bible, and deals with a host of men who made great contributions to Bible translation. Erasmus, Martin Luther, William Tyndale, Miles Coverdale and King James I of England.

Two outstanding scenes in this section of the film deal with the martyrdom of William Tyndale and the conference called by King James at Hampton Court in 1604, which led to the publication of the beloved King James Version. The picture shows discoveries of ancient manuscripts and continuing study and revision.

It closes with a recapitulation of the various groups to whom we are now indebted for our Bible, and a series of scenes showing the use and influence of the Bible in our day.

The public is invited to see this inspiring film.

Lineman Receives "Flash Burns" When Working On Line

Marshall Benner, lineman for West Texas Utilities Co., was painfully injured at about 8:30 a. m. Tuesday when he came in contact with a hot wire while working on an electric line across the road from the Tackett farm, which adjoins the Sunset Drive-in.

As explained by A. H. Mitchell, local manager, Benner received "flash burns" when the hot wire made connection with a ground wire, causing a flash which burned both of Benner's hands and arms.

He was taken to the Knox County Hospital for emergency treatment. The burns, though painful, are not thought to be of a serious nature unless complications set in. It will require time for them to heal, however.

Mrs. H. N. McClellan of Ben jamin visited relatives here over the past week end.

WHEN YOU BUY GASOLINE

On July 1, the price of gasoline went up. The reason was a one-cent-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, raising it from two to three cents, as provided for in the new highway construction bill.

A sales executive of a leading oil company had something important to say about this development: "We certainly agree that good highways are highly desirable. But we do feel that motorists should realize that the new tax rate on gasoline is the highest in the nation on any essential commodity."

"The total gasoline tax paid by motorists has now risen to 40 per cent of the retail price of gasoline. On the average for instance, when motorists buy a 15 gallon tankful of gasoline . . . about $1.35 of what they pay is taxes for highways, not for the supplier's products."

"A motorist should look on these taxes as an investment in building better highways for his own use. The average motorist, who uses about 750 gallons of gasoline a year, pays about $66 a year in state and federal taxes on it."

There has been, and will continue to be, much debate as to how the huge federal road program should be financed. There are many who believe the higher gas tax is not the right way. But, whatever you believe, one thing is sure: that tax is entirely beyond the control of the oil industry and the industry has no choice but to add it to the price of your gas.

YOU'RE WORKING FOR THE GOVERNMENT

The best way to judge the scope of the tax burden is by how much of your working time goes to pay for it.

In 1929, one day's labor out of 10 went to support the government, according to the National Association of Manufacturers. Now the average is one day in four.

What will the figure be 15 years or so from now?

"It is a socialist idea that making profits is a vice. I consider the real vice is making losses."
Winston Churchill

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "We are living up our incomes just about a year-and-a-half ahead of ourselves. This is probably all right as long as our present prosperity rates hold, but look out Nellie if the roof ever caves in."

DO YOU WANT LOWER TAXES?

It would be possible to reduce income taxes by 25 per cent for everyone—without eliminating or weakening any necessary government service or activity.

How could that be done? The Town Journal explains it succinctly in these words: "Here are the figures: the personal income tax takes from the people's earnings about 30 billions a year. The Hoover proposals for shaking out the waste and inefficiency would cut the cost of Government by $7.5 billions. That amount, $7.5 billions, is 25 per cent of $30 billions. Save that much and taxes could come down 25 per cent."

That $7.5 billions could, instead, be applied to reducing the national debt, which many think should precede tax reduction. Or part could be used for debt reduction and part for tax reduction.

Some of The Hoover Commission recommendations have gone into effect. The prospect for others seems good. But many of them—including the most important, from the standpoint of saving money and making government more efficient—are dormant at this time. They can be brought to life by public interest and public demand for reform. "Vox populi Vox dei" is still a guiding rule in government.

BIGGEST GROWTH

The National Industrial Conference Board points out that while everything about this country has grown enormously in the last 40 years, the growth and cost of government have grown most.

Since 1922, for example, our national income has gone up 422 per cent. But the total tax burden has jumped more than twice as much—968 per cent. And the figure would be higher still if the annual $11 billion in social security levies were included.

This clearly shows why cutting the cost of government and eliminating every non-essential activity of government is our number one domestic problem.

WILCOX, ARIZ., RANGE NEWS: "The American people can be proud of themselves. Through their untiring efforts they have brought about the coming of a brand new word. This word is 'litterbug,' and it is to be included in the new edition of Funk and Wagnall's dictionary. Is it too much to suggest that each of us sees how soon the word can become obsolete?"

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—State health authorities have raised a red flag of warning against careless use of insecticide compounds around homes and gardens.

Despite being "tremendous agents for good" when used properly, the potent compounds can be fatal when absorbed through the skin or mucous membrane or when inhaled. Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle said.

Only last week health department food and drug officials asked that a roach paste containing thallium be recalled from the market because its odor and taste made it attractive to children.

Two of the newer garden spray products—parathion and tetraethyl pyrophosphate—came from a group known as "organic phosphate" insecticides. They were originally designed for professional use, only, by workmen thoroughly familiar with the dangers associated with them.

Now they are available in small packages or bottles which frequently reach the general public.

Dr. Holle urged persons who insist on using either of the two powerful formations to handle them as professionals do.

"They wear special protective clothing with goggles to keep spray from their eyes, and respirators approved for protective against organic compounds.

"They never smoke or eat until they have thoroughly washed after using the preparations, and they know the symptoms of insecticide poisoning."

Holle listed headaches, excessive sweating, giddiness, blurred vision, weakness, nausea, cramps, diarrhea, or chest discomfort as symptoms of insecticide poisoning.

"Unless a man has the equipment and technical know-how, he'd better clear of organic phosphate insecticides. And he would do well to read the precautions on the label of any insect poison, regardless of the ingredients."

As further insurance against poisoning, Holle suggests: Keeping the insecticide out of

Texans Ask Egg Grading Law

Egg production is big business in Texas—187 million dozen worth each year, to be exact. Yet Texas stands alone among the 48 states with no legal means of protecting its egg industry. As a result, the housewife suffers through unrestricted shipment of inferior egg products from other states, as well as frequent misgrading and labeling which sells her poor-quality eggs branded as "top-quality".

Farmers' and egg industry men, alike, are now asking that the State Legislature pass a uniform grading and labeling law. Such a law would have a double-purpose:

1. It would protect the consumer. The industry wants to guarantee the housewife that she will get 12 good eggs in every dozen she buys—and that the eggs actually are of the size and grade which the label claims.

2. It would assure the producer a fair price for the grade of eggs he sells, by encouraging and promoting payment according to quality.

Such a law is a strong possibility in the next session of the legislature. In the meantime—and especially during the hot summer months—industry men are recommending to producers methods to keep eggs fresh until they are sold and consumed.

Egg producers are urged to gather their eggs at least three times a day in wire baskets and leave them in the baskets overnight in a cool, damp, ventilated place.

A good on-the-farm storage temperature is around 50 to 65 degrees if eggs are marketed often. The humidity should be 65 to 80 percent.

These steps are also suggested: 1. Clean dirty eggs with steel wool, sandpaper or emery cloth brush. Be careful about actually washing unless you know the recommended, or the quality can deteriorate rapidly after eggs are wet.

2. Pre-cool egg cases or cartons before packing eggs.

3. Pack eggs with the large end up. 4. Market at least twice a week, more often if possible.

An Allergy That Afflicts Almost Everyone

Every year, countless picnickers, fishermen, and hunters return from enjoyable outings only to discover that they have fallen victim to ivy, oak, or sumac poisoning. The itchy rash and blisters that follow exposure to the noxious plants are enough to make even the most ardent nature-lover wish he had stayed home.

"Perhaps 'poisoning' is a somewhat misleading term to use in connection with the wild plants since the rash they produce is actually an allergic reaction brought about by a person's sensitivity to urushiol, an oil that the plants contain.

In order for sensitivity to develop in a person, there must be prior contact with the plants. Newborn infants—and even adults who have never previously been exposed to the growths—generally do not develop symptoms after a single contact.

Few persons think of this affliction as an allergy because so many of us are susceptible. Poison ivy allergy, for instance, develops in four out of five persons. The fifth is immune and can handle the plant without suffering any harmful effects.

Learning to recognize and avoid contact with the harmful growths is, of course, the most effective means of prevention. Both poison ivy and poison oak are innocuous-looking vine-like plants with characteristic three-leaf clusters. Poison sumac can be distinguished from non-poisonous sumac because its shrubs bear white berries instead of red ones.

Persons unfortunate enough to have exposed their skin to any of the plants formerly could do little to prevent onset of the rash except scrub themselves with strong soap and water. This remedy had to be used immediately to be at all effective.

Medical researchers at Syracuse University have now found that poison ivy rash can be completely prevented if a preparation called Zirnox is applied either before contact with the plants, or within eight hours after exposure to them. The scientists also report that the preparation is effective for treatment as well as the prevention of ivy, oak and sumac poisoning. Insect bites and mild sunburn and skin irritation are similarly relieved with the drug.

Zirnox is a combination of two potent chemical agents, the antihistamine, phenyltoloxamine, and zirconium. The agents act by neutralizing urushiol and by soothing skin irritation.

How to Double Storage Capacity of a Closet

PROPER placing of three closet poles — instead of the usual one — will greatly increase the capacity of a new or old closet 6 feet wide. As shown, the poles run crosswise, not lengthwise.

Adding to the closet's storage capacity is the installation of Masonite "Peg-Board" panels on the closet back. Between the poles and the panels, you easily can double the storage capacity. New position of the poles automatically frees the closet back for storing items by means of hooks fitting into the holes of the perforated panels.

The closet has two poles for jacket-length garments at one end, a third pole for full-length clothes at the other end.

For a free plan telling how to double closet storage, send a postal card to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and request plan No. AE-323.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

Fall Cattle Movement Under Way Early?

FORT WORTH—Numbers of cattle and calves being moved in the Southwest indicate that the Fall movement is underway from 30 to 90 days ahead of normal shipping dates, in the opinion of many observers at Fort Worth this week.

Rail car movements of cattle out of principal grass areas lend strength to this belief, and the runs at Fort Worth's Stockyards in the past few weeks have been well ahead of the same interval last year.

The situation is not limited to Texas alone. Conditions in the Flint Hills of Kansas and the Osage of Oklahoma recently have led to some early movement out of these sections. Unless conditions change abruptly the general exodus from those areas will be under way at least a month ahead of normal shipping dates.

Dry conditions are blamed for the situation and all observers agree that to avert serious price breaks the livestock producers will have to stay in close touch and avoid excessive bunching of shipments.

One important meeting along this line will be held in Fort Worth this week when representatives of the market agencies and others on the market will get together and try to work out means of cooperation in spreading receipts out through the week so that excessive price breaks can be avoided.

Lighter Runs Brings Stable Cattle Prices.

Monday the 12 major markets reported about 33,000 less cattle and calves than a week earlier. The result was a stiffening of prices on most kinds. At Fort Worth good fed cattle were stronger, and grassy slaughter steers, yearlings and heifers were steady.

Cows were steady to strong, with some sales of strongweight canners and cutters 25 to 50 cents above the low close of last week. Bulls were also steady to 25 cents or more higher, some of the medium weights selling to better advantage.

Slaughter calves were generally steady, and stocker and feeders sold at firm prices. Higher grade stockers were quite active and in too small supply to fill the needs.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $16.50-21.00, quotable well above $22. Plain and medium butcher cattle $10 to $16.50. Fat cows drew $8.50 to $11, and canners and cutters sold from $6 to $8.50, a few shelly light canners below $6. Strong weight cutters sold to $8.75 and $9. Bulls returned $8 to $12.50. Good and choice slaughter calves $14 to $17, with baby beeves $17 to $18.50 weighing around 575 pounds and upwards. Lower grade killing calves $8 to $14. Stocker steer calves $15 to $19 and steer yearlings mostly $17 downward. Heifer mates in stocker flesh sold $2 to $3 under steers.

Hogs Open Higher With Top $17.00-17.25

Choice meat hogs topped at $17 and $17.25 Monday at Fort Worth, an advance of 25 to 50 cents over last week's close. Less desirable weights and grades cashed at $13 to $16.75. Sows drew mostly $13 to $14, and stags sold around $5 to $8.

Lambs Close Weak To $1.00 Lower, Top $21.00

At Fort Worth Monday the offering of sheep and lambs was again largely medium and lower grades and prices were about steady on all classes, except slaughter lambs. Killing types of lambs sold weak to $1 lower and good and choice kinds topped at $19 to $21. Cull to medium lambs sold mostly from $12 to $18, with some light culls downward to $8 that weigh around 35 or 40 pounds or less. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $12 to $15.50, and were considered quotable above that in load lots closely sorted.

Slaughter ewes sold from $4.50 to $5.25, and some old wethers drew $8 to $12.50.

Five Judges Named For Feeder Show.

Five widely known cattlemen have accepted bids to judge the special stocker and feeder show and sale at Fort Worth September 21. The event is for Herefords and whitefaced cattle. Among the judges are: Jeff Siocum, Cresson; Bill Green, Albany; Kirk Edwards, Henrietta; Durwood Lewter, Lubbock; and Clyde Wells, Granbury.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finally Finds Just The Type Of Work He's Cut Out For—Nationwide Rain-Making

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek will get nowhere with his idea this week, but it's doubtful if he wants to get anywhere.

Dear editor:
I was sitting out here on my farm yesterday afternoon watching the skies and wondering if it was going to rain when a puff of dry wind landed a newspaper right at my feet and since I'd noticed a red ant crawling on my shoe and needed to bend over to knock it off anyway I went ahead and bent over and while I leaned back against the tree trunk and the first thing my eyes encountered was an article on rain-making.

I know a lot has been written about rain-making, some cities have hired rain-makers and while it's hard to say whether they stirred up any rain, there's no doubt about it they stirred up a lot of letters to the papers.

But this article was by a man who wasn't proposing we hire a rain-maker for a few isolated spots, but for huge sections of the country. As he viewed it, an attempt should be made to make more rain fall over wide areas of the United States where it's dry.

Now this sounds like a good proposal to me and won't cost nearly as much as foreign aid with very little difference in the results. In fact all it lacks really is one thing: a man who has discovered the trick of making it rain for sure. I know in every dry spot in the country candidates invariably include in their platform a mention of the need to do something about the drought situation but it's sort of like being opposed to higher taxes, all candidates are but taxes haven't gone in any direction but up during my lifetime.

But what I started out to say was if they can't find this man, I'll substitute. I'll admit I can't make it rain, anymore than Dulles can make Egypt behave, but I'm perfectly willing to take credit for any rain that falls, if there's pay in it for me. And if I go into this type of work, I'd want to go in on a big scale. No small, isolated spots for me. I'd like to undertake to make it rain somewhere in the United States at least once a week, every week in the year. Any week it didn't rain somewhere, my services wouldn't cost the government a cent. I'm all set up for this type of work and will appreciate your help in landing this job for me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WARNING GIVEN TO TRAFFIC MIS-FITS

Don't be a traffic misfit—the fellow who's out of step is out of luck!
That warning was given to motorists today by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, as he discussed the Share the Road program of the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the Slow Down and Live program of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators.

"Safety on the highway depends to a great on the smooth, even flow of traffic," McFadden said. "Whenever you interrupt this flow, you're in trouble—and so are the drivers around you. Here are a few examples of stunts that will foul up traffic in a hurry.

"Stopping suddenly can cause an aggravating pile-up of the cars behind you. Making a turn from the wrong lane is sure to jam things up in the lane you barge into. Hugging the bumper of the car ahead makes you a sitting duck for a serious accident if the fellow in front stops suddenly."

"Speed is another thing that must be adjusted to the traffic flow," he said.
"If you go barreling down the road faster than the drivers around you, you're likely to tangle with them," he said. "But it's not safe to drive too slow, either. You can throw a monkey wrench into the traffic pattern if you force every other car on the road to take chances getting around you."

He advised motorists to drive at a rate of speed that fits in smoothly with the speed of the cars around them. He said this is especially important when driving on superhighways, where higher speed gives the driver less time to think in an emergency situation, and increases the severity of any accident he may have.

"Remember, you're not alone on the highway," McFadden said. "Share the road if you want to stay safe."
