Odd Bits Salvaged

We used to grow the lowly castor bean.

Or rather, we planted the seed and just let the plant come up and grow.

That was one of our projects as a kid, merely to pass away the time, rather than putting any value on the bean itself.

About the only value we considered it to have was that the plant would hide some ugly and remote corner in the back of the farmyard, and it also furnished an excellent shade for the chickens.

Now the castor bean is considered quite a money crop.

Local farmers attending a recent meeting in Benjamin were told that the castor bean crop would compare favorably with cotton as a money crop.

"Once the farm laborers get started gathering the castor beans," they were told, "it becomes a hard matter to get them back to the job of picking cotton."

And quite a few farmers are making plans to try out the bean as a crop. A poll of those attending the meeting in Benjamin indicated that 888 acres would be planted in Knox County this year.

One farmer, who plans to plant around 50 acres this year, put it to us this way:

The worms and insects that try to destroy the cotton, and pest the life out of the farmer, just don't take to the castor bean.

The bean doesn't agree with the insect—just like onions don't agree with the editor—except its' more fatal to the insect.

"If a worm takes a chew from the leaf of a castor bean," we were told, "he never leaves that leaf—and soon he's a dead worm."

Then the idea is that the mere presence of the castor bean is a boon to the cotton, since it is believed that said insects will try to shy away from cotton planted too near the bean.

So our farmer friend thinks he will try row cropping with his cotton and beans—four rows of cotton and four rows of castor beans.

If he can make a crop of cotton without having to poison so much, then he'll be ahead. If he can make a crop of both cotton and beans, he'll be further ahead.

Those in the know seem to think a crop of castor beans can be produced more cheaply than a crop of cotton. They say the beans require less plowing than does cotton.

They say, too, that the beans will net as much cash per acre as does our money crop—cotton.

It won't entirely take the place of cotton, in our opinion. How in the world could we wear a shirt or pair of breeches made out of castor beans?

But with the farmers of this area it might compete with cotton as a money crop. Some beans and some cotton would give them a chance at two money crops.

After the beans are harvested, they're taken to a hulling plant. The nearest for this area right now is at Vernon.

Then we asked what becomes of the bean.

We were told they make castor oil out of them—and we begin to pity all the kids with tummy aches who don't like to take that stuff any more than we did.

But another thing we heard of it that they use the castor bean oil in airplane motors, and we reckoned that's pretty good (Continued on last Page)

Buy placing bulletin racks in different places in the county it is hoped that people can be served better.

Variety Tests Discussed At Meeting Here

Results of the cotton variety tests carried out in Knox, Haskell and Baylor counties in 1951, were discussed by 26 agricultural workers at Monday on February 15.

The meeting was held in the vocational agriculture building with Roy A. Saunders, supervisor of the variety tests, being the host for a supper which was served to the group. Mr. Saunders also led the discussions on the variety tests. Eleven variety plots were checked, and results obtained were about the same as those carried out by Extension Service experiment stations over the state. Results of the tests were as follows:

Delatphine, first with a yield of 163 pounds per acre; Empire, second, 155; Hi-Bred, third, 148; Paymaster, fourth, 144; Qualla, fifth, 138; Western Proflite, sixth, 130; Macha, seventh, 129; Northern Star, eighth, 128; Acala, ninth, 125, and Lankhart, tenth, 119.

Geo. Moffett Announces For State Senate

The Munday Times is authorized to place the name of Senator George Moffett, of Chillicothe, in our announcement column as a candidate for re-election to the State Senate from the twenty-third Senatorial District, composed of Archer, Baylor, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, King, Knox, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young Counties.

Senator Moffett is well known over the district which he represents. He has been a leader in the State Legislature for several years, and is the author of more amendments to the State Constitution than any other member. They range from mandatory redistricting to speeding up court procedure, and permitting service men to vote without the payment of poll tax. He is also the author of the County Veteran's Service Officer Law.

Often called "Cotton George", Senator Moffett has vigorously championed efforts to find new markets for farm and livestock products—especially cotton. He says that cotton puts more money into other peoples' pockets than any other source in the State and that livestock men need an abundance of cottonseed products, which are sure to be available if there is a good market for the lint.

Senator Moffett has been chairman of the Agricultural Committee in the State Senate for many years, and has also been Chairman of the Committee on State Affairs, which is considered by some to be the most important committee in the Senate. He has shown strong interest in matters of statewide importance, as well as those affecting his district, including oil development, the schools and war veterans. He is regarded an independent, middle of the road thinker, who votes his honest convictions. He voted against the Auto Inspection Law, while most members voted for it. He served as an enlisted man in World War I, and is the first native of this district to represent it in the State Senate.

"The time has come," states Mr. Moffett, "when we must conduct our public affairs with the greatest possible foresight, prudence and honesty. Essential functions of government must be continued, but waste must be eliminated. I will sincerely appreciate your vote and support in the July primary election."

Munday's Moguls, decisive winners over the Roscoe Plowboys in the first of the round robin 3-games series, will enter the district play-off games with Merkel tonight (Thursday).

The second game of the series will be played in the Munday gymnasium on Friday night, beginning at 6:45 o'clock. This could well be the last game of the series, since either team could win the first two games of the series.

While the fighting Moguls were taking the decision over Roscoe, the Merkel team was engaged against Throckmorton. Merkel won the first two games of this series by scores of 47 to 41 and 54 to 39, making them contenders for the district crown against the Moguls.

The game Friday night is one which will attract many cage fans from over this area, and it will be followed by the exhibition game between the Vagabond Kings and the Hardin-Simmons Buttons.

The Munday high school cagers hit their stride in the last night at S-tamford last Monday night and displayed some excellent teamwork to defeat the Roscoe team in the third of a series of games in the district play-off.

Trailing at the half by a score of 19 to 23, the Moguls tightened up in the second, playing the rebounds to near perfection and taking a lead over the Plowboys which they maintained throughout the game. The final score was 44 to 35.

This won the Moguls the right to meet the Merkel Badgers in a three-game series to determine the District 8-A cage champions. Merkel had previously defeated Throckmorton two straight in their three-game series.

Sonny Lang, Munday ace, received excellent support from his teammates as he flipped the goal for 19 points and high point honors. Bucky Nix led Roscoe with 17 points.

City Election Set April 1st

Tuesday, April 1, will be more than "April Fool's Day" for the people of Munday. It will also be election day.

Members of the city council whose terms expired are: Mayor W. R. Moore, and Councilmen E. B. Littlefield and Don L. Ratliff.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DEHAVAN, WISC., ENTERPRISE: One of the primary editorial policies of the Delevan Enterprise has been to create an interest in local government. This purpose is founded on the fundamental belief that a true and working democratic federal government is based on strong small units of democracies self-government such as is found in small cities and townships. We believe that strong democracies at the very core of our life will protect us from socialistic tendencies of government on higher levels.

SOMERVILLE, MASS., JOURNAL: "There have been frequent speculations as to the limit of the total tax 'take.' It would appear to us, judging from the outcry in Congress about the President's $5 billion dollar budget, that the limit has been reached, and this belief is given added substance by the almost unanimous agreement among Congressmen that economy is an inevitable 'must' if an incentive-economy is to be maintained and enterprise is to be encouraged to progress."

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: "Very few of the great corporations are owned or even controlled by wealthy stockholders. More than 18 million stockholders and individual owners of property pay taxes and employ men and women. The stockholders of man of the great corporations, such as U. S. Steel and American Telephone and Telegraph actually outnumber the employees of the corporation."

OSKALOOSA, IOWA, DAILY HERALD: "In the hills north and west of Duluth are the world's greatest known reserves of iron ore, sufficient to meet the nation's needs for centuries to come. Then why build the St. Lawrence Seaway?"

EAGLE RIVER, WISC., NEWS-REVIEW: "The thought came to us that if you want to know the results of letting the government take over every department of your life, all you have to do is look at an Indian reservation, where there is no opportunity and no hope for advancement."

SAVE THE NATIONAL PARKS

Congressman Leroy Johnson of California has introduced a bill which would totally prohibit the construction of dams and reservoirs in any national park or monument. In theory, such structures are already banned under the Antiquities Act. However, as Wildlife Management Institute has pointed out, the Act "contains loopholes through which the Federal construction agencies could pour a lot of concrete."

Mr. Johnson's bill is essential if the threat to irreplaceable beauty spots is to be removed. To quote the Institute once again, "It is no secret that the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation have been seeking to exploit dam-sites which exist in or just outside the national parks themselves. Only strong public reaction against the construction of reservoirs in Glacier National Park and Grand Canyon National Park have reserved these invaluable scenic and recreational areas from ruin. With the current national emergency as a handy lever to apply against Congressional resistance, the construction agencies will not stop their fight until holes in the present law are tightly plugged." At present, Reclamation wants to build two dams in Dinosaur National Monument—despite the proven fact that alternative sites outside the area would provide more water storage at less cost.

This is all part and parcel of the "dam craze" which has spread through government agencies like a plague. The basic plan behind it is to put the government deeper and deeper into the electric power business by direction or indirection. The cause is flood control, reclamation, navigation, or some other such objective. But when the chips are down, we always find that the result is more socialism, more deficits, more taxes—and more destruction of invaluable resources. Congress should pass Mr. Johnson's bill without delay.

SERVICE IS THE MEASURE

A few months ago, during Oil Progress Week, an interesting demonstration was held. Old-time and modern motor cars participated, to graphically demonstrate the results of scientific tests proving that two gallons of today's gasoline can do the work that required three back in 1925.

Moreover, that gas costs more than it did in 1925—save for taxes. The taxes, over which the oil people have no control have gone steadily up.

In view of the incredible quantities of gasoline we consume in this country, this is an achievement of no mean proportion. It is one of the wholesome fruits of thousands of oil companies competing for business and consumer favor—each trying to offer a better product.

It is also a testimonial to the structure of the oil industry. Some of the companies which are part of it are very big. They have to be to carry on enormously costly major operations, and to provide all the equipment and highly-trained personnel and the other facilities which are needed. But thousands of other companies are small or medium-sized, and there is plenty of room in oil for them. In fact, the existence of the big companies does much to make the existence of small concerns possible. As an example, there could be on corner service station until there was some big concern to supply it with the products it sells.

That is important, in these days of vicious and misleading attacks on bigness. Size is not the arbiter of worth and virtue. The real measuring stick is service.

Success is built on small margins. The fastest runner in the world can't run five per cent faster than ordinary runners.

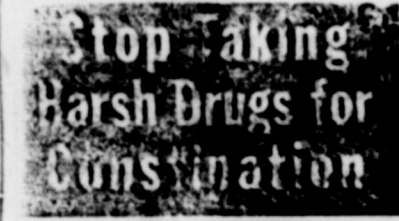

Did you know that there was one outfit of Confederates who wore blue uniforms—yes, sir, they wore the blue uniforms of the Union forces. It was through necessity, however—and it is a part of the story of the life of Joseph D. Sayers who, many years ago, was Governor of Texas.

Sayers was born in Grenada, Miss., in 1841 and, at the age of 10, moved to Bastrop, Texas. There he read law under Col. Wash Jones, a noted attorney and orator, who served a term in Congress as a Greenbacker and, in 1882, ran for Governor on the Greenback ticket and reduced the majority of the Democratic candidate, Gov. Ireland, to 40,000. Sayers, though learning law and acquiring an interest in politics from Col. Jones, did not follow him outside the Democratic party.

Sayers was still in school when the Civil War broke out and he enlisted in a company of mounted volunteers under Gen. Sibley. The Sibley regiment was ordered to capture the federal military posts along the Mexican border and proceed to take possession of New Mexico and Arizona. On Feb. 21, 1862, a battle was fought at Val Verde near Ft. Craig, N. M. Gen. Canby being in command of the Federals and Col. Tom Green in command of the Confederates. Though largely outnumbered, the Confederates were victorious.

Lieut. Sayers distinguished himself in this battle by charging across an open plain in the face of the enemy's fire and capturing a battery of light artillery in a hand-to-hand contest with ten gunners. He was promoted to a captaincy and placed in command of the captured Val

Verde Battery, as it was known thereafter. The Confederates were poorly provisioned and scantily clad and they suffered great hardships in the New Mexico campaign. They defeated the federals in the battle of Glorieta where they captured enough Union uniforms to outfit the entire Confederate command in regulation blue. A straggler might therefore have mistaken the Southern force for a Northern one. As one historian says, "When the snow was flying, those old Confeds did not scruple to wear Yankee wool to keep their backs warm."

The region being sparsely settled and so far from the real theater of war, it was decided by the high authorities that the quarry was not worth the chase, so the Confederates were recalled and marched to San Antonio. After the battle of Galveston, they fought in Louisiana where on Bayou Teche, Capt. Sayre was severely wounded and had to use crutches until the end of the war, though as soon as he could ride a horse, he returned to the army and was again badly wounded in the battle of Mansfield.

At the close of the war, he returned to Bastrop, served in the State Senate, then as Lieutenant Governor, and seven Matching Motor-Mates For The M.

Look what happened when the fashion world and the automotive industry put their heads together! They looked down at the hood, up at the roof, and came out with a fashionable, functional coat designed to travel with the Mopar.

Designer Donald Norris created this collection of travel apparel in Kalaking—a new all-weather fabric that is soft, yet durable. Called Motor-Mates, these coats match perfectly two-tone colors of the car, and are lined in a taffeta stripe that takes its design from the Cadillac Nylon upholstery inside.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS 4-H CLUB WEEK

Governor Allan Shivers has designated March 1-9 as 4-H Club Week in Texas.

In issuing the proclamation, Governor Shivers said, "Aggressive and trustworthy citizens are vital to the future of the world today, and we take great pride in these characteristics of the 116,000 Texas 4-H club boys and girls."

"Organized through county agricultural and home demonstration agents and assisted by volunteer leaders, 4-H club members are learning and demonstrating to others better methods of home making and farming. More important still, they are developing deeper appreciation for their country and the democratic way of life which it assures."

The governor concluded, "With complete confidence, I look upon the 4-H club members of Texas as capable leaders for tomorrow in agricultural, home, community and world affairs."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is expected to show an increase during the coming months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious, our family physician should be called at the first sign."

"The first symptom of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

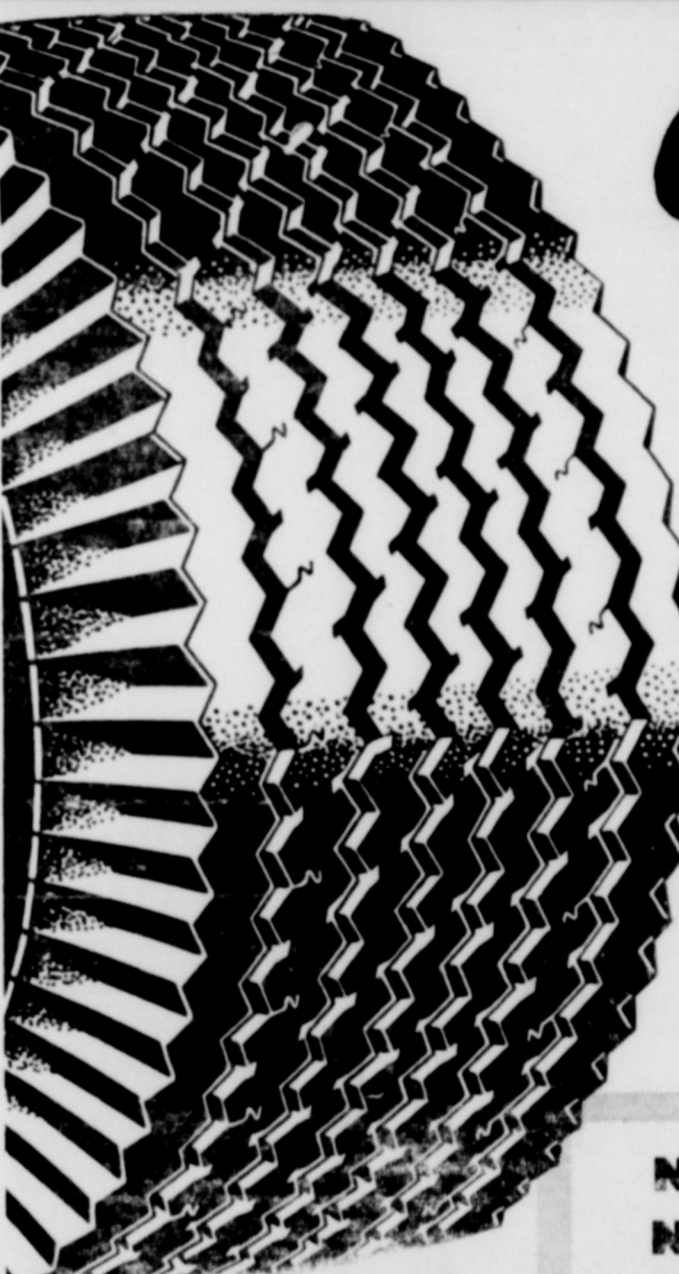

Mrs. Dee Mullican and Mrs. Roy Bullington spent last Sunday in Seymour, attending the bedside of Mrs. Mullican's aunt, Mrs. Jim Robertson of Vera, who is recuperating in a Seymour hospital from injuries received in a car accident last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wren and Erwin Wren and Mrs. M. D. Sherrell of Seymour visited Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Snow in Colorado City last Sunday.

SUCCESS STORY

The thrill of making her own clothes has paid off doubly for Gloria Dawn Watson, 20, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. She has entered Colorado Woman's College on the $500 scholarship she won last year in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" Home Sewing Contest for exceptional proficiency in sewing. The 1951 contest is now nearing its climax.

No Fires Are Reported For The Last Week

The Munday Volunteer Fire Department has been using a new, effective type of fire fighting equipment.

Prevention: Due to the cooperation of Munday's citizens, firemen are happy to say that no fires have been reported during the past week.

The rural fire truck, to which many people have contributed money, is nearing completion after much strenuous labor. It is hoped the truck will be ready for operation in the near future.

We appreciate the cooperation we have received on the problem of local citizens following the fire trucks to fires. We hope that everyone sees the difficulty and danger this causes and will help us to eliminate this problem entirely.

Wire Soldered to Oil Can Spout Prevents Clogging

GREASE and dirt can easily clog the spout of an oil can. The home mechanic can readily prevent this clogging by drilling a small hole in the bottom of the can and inserting a length of piano wire. It should extend to a point slightly below the top of the spout. The wire may be fixed firmly in place with a drop of solder, which also seals the hole.

Any dirt or grease that collects in the spout may be immediately ejected merely by pressing the bottom of the can in the usual way.—Illustration reproduced through courtesy of Popular Mechanics.

Lloyd Bowden of McCamey visited here awhile Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Russell and son and Mrs. J. B. Bowden on his way to O'Donnell.

Build a Poultry Feeder

The farmer who is handy with tools can make rainy days pay off by using them to put together needed equipment. A weatherproof outdoor poultry feeder, for example, is simple to build and once in use it will encourage proper feeding, reduce waste and prevent contamination of feed.

For ease of cleaning and durability, it is suggested that the feeder be made principally of asbestos-cement board.

This feeder holds one and three-quarters bushels of mash. During the summer months it should be placed in a shaded area. Pullets will go without feed during the heat of the day unless it is easy to get to and protected from the sun.

Complete instructions can be obtained free by writing the Asbestos Farm Service Bureau, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell spent the week end in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Allen.

Methodist Men Of Goree Receive Charter Recently

A new organization of Methodist Men in the First Methodist Church of Goree has been chartered by Methodism's general board of lay activities in Chicago. The group has become one of 5,000 Methodist Men organizations which the board plans to charter in 1952, and 10,000 by 1956.

Officers are: Mack Tynes, president; Buster Coffman, vice president; Grady Williams, secretary and treasurer; Billie Hutchens, Methodist laymen representative.

It is estimated that 2,000,000 men in the Methodist church are prospective members of Methodist Men clubs. According to Dr. E. Lamont Geisinger, acting executive secretary, "Our aim is to so inspire and organize this immense manpower for Jesus Christ and His program that through the Christian stewardship and material possessions they may become of tremendous value to the church's whole program of Christianization."

The next meeting of the Goree club will meet on Monday night, February 25, at 7:30 o'clock, at which time Pat Morrison of Wichita Falls will be the speaker.

Exhibition Cage Game Slated Friday Night

The score will likely be incidental, when the Vagabond Kings, professional basketball team of Detroit and Dearborn, Mich., meet the Hardin-Simmons Buttons here on Friday night. It will be the smooth handling and accurate shooting of the touring five that will catch the eyes.

The midjet of the Vagabond quintet is Lou Black, who is pictured above, and he's just four inches short of six feet. Other players are: Coach Earl Dodd, six feet five; Bud (Pappy) Ormond, six and five; Jim Cascia, six three; Ross Lunbeck, six two; and Paul Lindy, who towers on inch over six feet.

The Vagabond Kings are being lauded as the new wonder team that is rapidly climbing into the spotlight, and one which puts on a unique show.

Giving them a run for their money will be the Hardin-Simmons gang which performed here about a month ago, defeating the Wichita Falls Jets. They this should be a good ball game do not fool around, either. So that will be long remembered by local fans.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at Blacklock's Grocery, Gulf Service Station, Magnolia Service Station, Munday Implement Company, Gafford's Barber Shop, the C. D. A. office, Cobb's Department Store. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children.

Plan Ahead For Control Of Cotton Insects

High acre yields, efficiently produced, determine the profit from growing cotton. One of the more important determining factors in high cotton yields is keeping the damage caused by insects to a minimum. Another important item is the weather but man has been unable to do much about solving this problem. He can, however, through the use of the right insecticides at the right time materially increase the production of quality cotton.

It is not too early to make plans now for carrying the fight to the cotton insects, says A. C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He suggests that every cotton producer in Texas obtain a copy of C-182, "1952 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in Texas" from his local county agent's office.

The recommended control program for 1952 is divided into three phases; early season control, late season control, based on actual infestation and early stalk destruction and farm cleanup, says Gunter.

Right now, the specialist says is the time to get the spraying or dusting equipment repaired and ready for use. Labor is expected to be in short supply when the heavy work season arrives and unless everything is in readiness, valuable time may be lost getting equipment ready for fighting the bugs. Time is on the side of the bugs, adds the specialist and unless cotton producers get in the first "lick," the job of controlling the harmful insects is made more difficult and expensive.

It's good management to plan ahead, says Gunter and especially in view of the expected shortages in labor and farm equipment.

A Times Want Ad Pays

Lou Black, above, five feet and eight inches, 165 pounds, graduate and star player of Albion College, will appear here with the Vagabond Kings, professional basketball players, on Friday night. Black is a natural born showman who can dribble a ball as clever as any man in the game today. He does acrobatic stunts and ball juggling besides being an excellent long shot artist.

Miss Carolyn Hannah And Jim Keith Choate Marry In Church Rites Here

Sunday, February 10, at 4:30 P. M., the First Baptist Church in Munday was the scene of the marriage of Miss Carolyn Hannah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hannah, of Munday, to Mr. Jim Keith Choate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Choate, of Lubbock. The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. S. E. Stevenson, uncle of the bride, who married her father and mother on the same date some years ago.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white nylon tulle and chantilly lace. The tightly moulded strapless bodice was covered by a lace jacket, fashioned with Elizabethan collar and long fitted sleeves, which came to petal points over her hands and were edged by a narrow band of accordion pleated tulle. Tiny self-covered buttons extended from the waist line to the collar. The very full accordion pleated tulle skirt was accented by a gathered tunic lace overskirt. Her veil of imported French illusion extended beyond her fingertips from a band of matching tulle. She carried a cascade arrangement of lilies of the valley, centered with an orchid. Attendants were as follows:

MRS. JIM KEITH CHOATE

Matron of honor, Mrs. Troy Denham, of Leuders, sister of the bride; Maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Hannah, Munday, sister of the bride; Junior bridesmaid, Nancy Denham, niece of the bride; Bridesmaids, Misses Gwynn Lee Smith and Charlotte Williams of Munday, Miss Marilyn Petty of Lubbock, and Mrs. Wilton Davis of Abilene. Best man was Bill Turpin of Austin and the groomsmen were as follows: John F. Nixon of Munday, Roy Keith Moore, William Duff, Harold Brockett, George Edward Morris, all of Lubbock, Odell McCloud of Wichita Falls, and Troy Denham, brother-in-law of the bride.

The altar was banked with a lattice arrangement of fern. Potted palms, baskets of gladioli and candelabra flanked either side of the altar. Mrs. William Rippetoe, was the violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Borden at the organ, who played pre-nuptial music, and accompanied Mrs. Rippetoe in "Indian Love Call" and "Intermezzo." Mrs. Joe Williams of Ozona, vocal soloist, also accompanied by Mrs. Borden, sang "The Pledge." During the ceremony quiet organ music of "To a Wild Rose," parts of Tschalkovsky's Fifth Symphony" was presented by Mrs. Borden.

Both the Maid of Honor, Matron of Honor and Junior bridesmaid wore a dress of coral nylon net, fitted bodice, shirred top with tiny shoulder straps and wore watching stales caught at the waist to form a bouffant loop. They carried a cascade arrangement of chartreuse gladioli. The bridesmaids wore chartreuse nylon net over taffeta made like those of the maid and matron of honor. They carried cascade arrangements of coral sweetpeas. They all wore face veils, to match dresses, with rhinestones in a design along one side.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy sheer with matching accessories and wore camellia corsage. The groom's mother wore navy faille with matching accessories and a camellia corsage.

The reception in the church social hall immediately followed the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by both the brides' and groom's parents, and bride's attendants. The house party at the reception were: Miss Mary B. Turner and Mrs. Kelton Tidwell, both of Lubbock, and Mmes. A. L. Smith, J. C. Campbell, G. R. Eiland, J. E. Reeves, B. L. Blacklock, John F. Nixon, Frank Fancher, S. E. Stevenson and Rhoades Allen. The table was beautifully decorated with candelabra on either side of cake, arrangements of coral sweetpeas and fern around the cake, which was solid white. Baskets of gladioli were on either side of the table.

Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Sweetwater, Abilene, Seymour, Lamesa, Dallas and Fort Worth.

After the reception the couple left on a short wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The bride was attired in a navy blue original suit with matching accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home at 2818 35th Street in Lubbock after February 15.

Mrs. Choate is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, where she was a school beauty, University Summer Queen, Hunter Hall Dormitory president, a member of Cowgirls Service Organization and served

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants Law Requiring Inspection Of Men Who Passed The Car Inspection Law

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd idea this week, but we always let him have his say, regardless of where it takes him.

Dear editor: I've been talking to a few people about the Texas car inspection law and judgment from the complaints I've listened to the law ain't so popular.

As I understand it, it costs a dollar to have your car inspected and anywhere from there on up to have it brought up to specifications on the theory I suppose that a car that's in good shape doesn't have accidents, which is true if you've got it parked in your garage with the door shut and you take your keys with you and your wife has lost hers, although I could have sworn most cars I've seen wrecked on the highways the past few years were nearly brand new.

But I've been thinkin, the law doesn't go far enough. In addition to havin all cars inspected twice a year, what we need is a law requirin the inspection of the Legislators who passed the car inspection law.

I don't know whether twice a year would be often enough or not and I ain't sure where you'd put a sticker on em, but at any rate there ought to be a periodic inspections of them Legislators, with pretty stiff regulations on keepin em in safe workin order.

I ain't prepared a list of all the points needin checkin, different parts of the state have different weaknesses, but here are a few:

(1) All Legislators should be gone over carefully for cracked ideas.

(2) Worn or burned out brain cells should be discarded. Where no replacement parts are available, especially in older models, the Legislator should be held in storage until the parts arrive, and in the meantime his votin license temporarily suspended.

(3) Opinions ought to be checked scrupulously on an alignment machine, with those varyin as much as one-thousandth of an inch requirin adjustment, what they shouldn't vary from bein a matter subsequent Legislators can argue over.

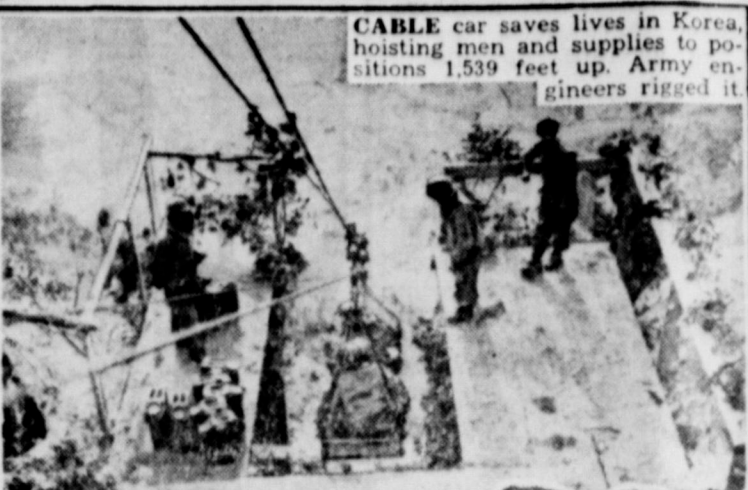

(4) All Legislators of a model earlier than 1902 should be banned from the Legislative halls, although here again the argument will creep in that most Legislative wrecks of recent years have been caused by brand new Legislators.

(5) Off-brand or foreign-built Legislators, such as models with the steerin wheel on the wrong side or low-slung axles, should be banned as public nuisances.

(6) All models with hidden retainer fees should have these stripped, as these, like too many stickers on a windshield, prevent the Legislator from drivin in the public's interest.

(7) Smooth-mouth models, those with faulty vision, lumbago, rheumatism, one-track minds, etc., would have to have these things patched up before being allowed to legislate.

No doubt there's a good many other points others will want to add to this list, but this is as far as I got the time for at the moment. Only other suggestion I could make is that there ought to be a very limited number of inspection stations, thus requirin the Legislators to wait in line several hours each time they're inspected. Will be glad to open up an inspection station out here. Let's get this started. A defective Legislator can be just as dangerous as a defective car.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Jiggs Gets Four "Hot-Foots"

Cappy Miller's bought himself a new car. We won't be seeing his old jalopy bouncing over the back roads any more. I'm going to miss it, too.

Many a morning Cappy and I drove off in that rattletrap for a day's hunting or fishing. We'd pile rods or guns in back, and prop open the trunk compartment—so Jiggs, Cappy's pointer, could jump in and go along.

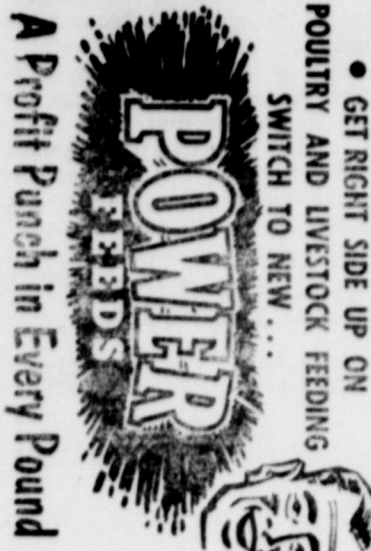

They say when Cappy brought the new car home he opened up the hood to show off the engine—and poor old Jiggs hopped right in! Figured it was the trunk. He hopped right out in a hurry, too. That cylinder head was mighty hot.

From where I sit, old habits are hard to shake, once they get a hold. Like, for instance, too many people are still in the habit of trying to run their neighbors' lives—telling them how to act, what to wear, whether or not to enjoy a refreshing glass of beer. I say that kind of thinking's outmoded... ought to be turned in for a new model!

Jane Wyman In Stellar Role Sparks Drama "The Blue Veil"

The remarkable story of a woman's devotion is told in "The Blue Veil," starring Jane Wyman, Charles Laughton, Joan Blondell, Richard Carlson, Agnes Moorehead, Dan Taylor and Audrey Trotter, which will be shown at the Roxy Theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Uniquely presented in several episodes that form an integrated whole, the plot revolves around the character Miss Wyman portrays, that of a World War I widow who loses her baby at birth and leaves the hospital facing the problem of earning her own living. In a temporary job she becomes a nursemaid for a motherless youngster, and much to her surprise she finds real happiness in being of service to the children of others. The color of her costume as a nurse maid gives significance to the title.

As the years go by she takes on one young "client" after another, and devotes herself entirely to each one's welfare, neglecting more than one chance at romance and marriage. A surprising and warmly dramatic climax is developed in the appealing film.

Laughton plays Miss Wyman's first employer and Miss Blondell enacts an actress who later puts her daughter in Miss Wyman's care. Carlson portrays a tutor who falls in love with her. Miss Moorhead and Miss Trotter are also cast as mothers for whom Miss Wyman works. Taylor is seen as one of her former charges who has become a prominent doctor.

Covering the period from 1918 to the present, the film has its locale in and around New York City, and it affords Miss Wyman opportunities to display her acting talents in perhaps the most dramatic role of her career.

Knox, Haskell, Baylor To Form Agri. Council

Twenty-six agricultural workers from Knox, Haskell and Baylor counties met in Munday at the Veterans Agriculture Building for the purpose of organizing a district Agricultural Council. Purpose of the organization will be to coordinate agricultural thinking, recommendations, and work.

Membership of the Council will consist of Agricultural Workers, farmers and ranchers of the county who will meet once a month to discuss current problems, and plan a program for each. A program will be planned for each monthly meeting, and speakers are invited to appear before the group.

A temporary program committee consisting of Roy Saunders of Munday as chairman, Roy McClung, Baylor County Agent, Frank Martin, Haskell

County Agent, and Bill Palmeyer, Knox County Agent was appointed by the group which consisted of Farmers, Ginners, P. M. A. members, SCS workers, FHA advisors, PCA members, Vocational Agricultural Teachers, and Veterans Agricultural instructors.

Munday was selected as the site of the monthly meetings, and in addition to the planned organization of the Council, irrigation possibilities was selected as topic of the meeting, with the Chairman instructed to obtain a speaker for the program. A meal will be served at the beginning of the meeting, and those in attendance at the first meeting are to contact other farmers, ranchers and workers to increase membership.

Set up of the organization is to be patterned after the District Agricultural Workers Council now in operation in Wichita, Clay and Archer counties.
