GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DAVIS, CALIF., ENTERPRISE: "Victory of the Glidden and DuPone companies in Federal court over the Justice Department may give a lot of other bureaucracy-oppressed industries new heart in resisting the war of extermination ceaselessly waged upon them by Washington. Control by taxation, legislation, or judicial harassment, seems to be the goal of the Administration in its relation with all industry, large or small."

TOMAH, WISC., JOURNAL AND MONITOR-HERALD: "The expanding influence of power of the national government in local affairs was shown on . . . Wisconsin political fronts . . . The state board of vocational and adult education decided to postpone selection of a chief of the division of rehabilitation for three months, because its favorite candidate for the job had hit a snag. He couldn't meet the qualifications imposed by Federal officials who controlled the purse strings."

FREDERICKSBURG, TEXAS, STANDARD: "We get something for nothing and then complain because we don't get any dividends."

WHICH WILL IT BE?

In a recent speech, Senator Hugh Butler of Nebraska dealt forthrightly with the price control controversy. He said, "I would suggest that it is time our nation fact boldly up to the issue of price controls and decide whether we intend to have a free economic system or a controlled economic system from now on . . ."

"These price controls are supposed to be temporary, yet we know from experience that supposedly temporary legislation very frequently is allowed to become permanent. National emergencies seem to have become the normal thing in Washington."

"The excuse usually given for these controls is that they are necessary to counteract inflationary pressures. Actually, these so-called inflationary pressures are caused by the gigantic increase in government spending."

Controls are a form of political buck-passing. In effect, they say that retailing, manufacturing, agriculture, labor and other groups are responsible for inflation, and so they must be controlled by fiat. What they never say is that these and other groups are the victims of inflation, rather than its creators. The whole inflationary spiral was caused by the insane spending of the government. The whole inflationary situation is maintained and fattened by the insane spending of the government."

Senator Butler is right. We must choose between a free economy—or an economy in a political straightjacket which will ultimately undermine representative government. And we must make that choice soon.

PROFIT CAN BE TOO LOW

Under the competitive system, the profits per dollar of sales earned by all kinds of stores has been very low—much lower than most consumers realize. This is all to the customers' benefit and is one of the fine fruits of low-cost mass distribution. However, if profits are forced down too low, the inevitable result will be poorer service, reduced operations, and stagnation. Nobody does his best when he must work for nothing or next to nothing.

Today, many retailers face a critical profit situation, due to OPS policies and orders. A short time ago a food chain association submitted to an OPS official a certified public accountant's report on what has happened to 32 of these organizations, all of them typical of the industry. Sales increased 14 per cent in the third quarter of 1951 as compared with the same period a year before. Yet net earnings after taxes, decreased more than 67 per cent, and amounted to only 41/100 of one per cent on each dollar of sales. As the letter accompanying the report said, "For an industry that historically operates on a net profit of 1 per cent to 2 per cent of sales, you will agree that less than 41 cents for handling $100 worth of merchandise through warehousing, transporting and retailing functions is dangerously low."

A comparable situation exists in retailing operations other than food—and it exists for independent stores as well as chain systems. No retailer is asking or demanding exorbitant profits—indeed, when competition is open and free, that is automatically made impossible. But government policies which take almost all of the profit out of progressive and essential enterprises menace everyone with a stake in the strength and welfare of America.

THROTTLING THE FREE PRESS

(The Following is Reprinted from The Freedom Press)

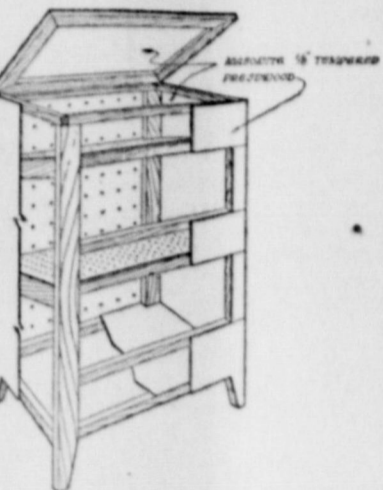

"It is scarcely news that President Truman hates the press. But it came as news to us that the Administration was within an inch of getting a throttling hold on the finances of a free press during the closing minutes of the last session of Congress. The legislative clause in question was contained in Senate 2170. It would have given the Administration's price-control czar full authority over the size and allocation of the advertising budgets of private industry. This authority would have permitted the Administration to decide what constitutes 'reasonable' advertising expenses and to exclude from the 'cost of sales' any outlay deemed 'unreasonable.' The proposed legislation, tucked in an 'amendment' to an amendment, passed an absentminded Senate by a 49 to 21 vote. It would have passed in the House of Representatives if John E. Lyle, Jr., of Corpus Christ, Texas, hadn't spotted the danger in the legislation to the whole concept of free speech. Mr. Lyle, it seems to us, deserves an editorial garland in every magazine and newspaper in the land."—The Freeman.

For Vegetable Storage

FRUIT and vegetable storage usually is a problem unless there is a specific place for these perishables. Illustrated is a table-height bin for the temporary storage of fresh vegetables and fruit. It may be built of 1 by 2-inch lumber strips and Masonite 1/2" tempered hard-board. A hinged cover provides extra working or storage area.

The top and center shelves slant to give ample storage space and assure that the potatoes, dried onions, oranges, lemons, bananas and other commodities won't roll out. The bottom shelf is flat. Each of the shelves is perforated for ventilation.

Lumber strips in the framework serve also as legs of this bin, which may be used in the kitchen, basement, utility room, or entry hall. Covers may be placed under the legs. Shelves could be put in place during the assembly of the bin, as they are not removable.

This time and work saver may be left in its natural, attractive color, dark brown, or painted to match or contrast with the furnishings.

Back in 1938, it was my good fortune to visit Langtry and to talk to Postmaster Dodd, whose father was Judge Roy Bean's adviser and closest friend. Postmaster Dodd said the stories about Bean ever having hanged anybody were untrue. "There wasn't a tree around here big enough to support a man's body," he said, with a chuckle.

Did you ever hear of the town of Ben Franklin? It was the county seat of Tom Green County until in 1882, it was swept away by a flood that claimed about 65 lives. Some years back, the San Angelo Standard-Times published an interview with Mrs. Felix Probandt, who was 14 when the flood occurred. She recalled vividly the disaster, which claimed the lives of her father, an aunt and a cousin.

There had been three weeks of heavy rain and then it let up for a day to such an extent that prospective landbuyers went out to inspect property. But the next morning the angry waters of the Middle Concho

Big Job Ahead For Farmers Of Texas In '52

Farmers the nation over are asked to produce more in 1952 than ever before. The demand agricultural products is great and seems likely to continue that way. Factors behind these great demands are our fast growing population, the needs of the military and a margin for exports and safe reserves.

According to C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the job at hand calls for wise planning and the efficient use of farm labor, equipment and materials. He says that allocations of steel, copper and aluminum for farm machinery and implements for the first quarter of 1952 are sufficient to turn out about 70 to 75 per cent of the estimated equipment needed by farmers during the period.

RED SHIELD AWARD TO PRESS OF TEXAS—Lt. Col. John P. Morrison, right, Texas commander of The Salvation Army, presents the Army's Red Shield Award to Brad Smith, Weslaco, president of the Texas Press Association. The gold plaque is inscribed: "To the Press of Texas in appreciation of outstanding and sympathetic coverage of the human welfare and religious activities of The Salvation Army." The shield was presented in Austin at the 5th annual Mid-Winter meeting of TPA. "How well you have told our story is evidenced by the fact that last year The Salvation Army in Texas spent one and one-half million dollars in a far-reaching spiritual and welfare program throughout the state," Colonel Morrison said. "You let the people know the need, and they furnished the means to meet that need."

The items most likely to be in short supply are large tractors, automatic balers, combines, field chippers, cotton pickers, power sprayers, fencing, metal roofing, portable irrigation systems, and galvanized pipe. Bates urges farmers to get machinery repaired well ahead of the time for using it; keep a few extra parts on hand; use the best possible maintenance methods for they will add years of the life of machinery and equipment and last but not least get all scrap metal back on the defense job by selling it.

The goals for all major crops have been set as high as USDA specialists consider it sound and practical to set them, says Bates. They have aimed to provide a balance of crops to meet the greatest needs. Available crop land is limited and every acre should be put to its best use.

Bates says more nitrogen fertilizer is expected to be available but substantially less than farmers need. There'll be about 10 per cent less phosphate than last year. The outlook for chemicals for pest control indicates that supplies will be adequate though some substitutes may need to be made.

Bates believes the labor situation may be even tighter than in 1951 and especially during the harvest season.

These are but a few of the problems ahead and are the reason why Bates says the solution will call for expert management and greater efficiency on every farm job. He says the entire has a part to play in this great drive for more production, for defense farming really begins in the farm home.

Right now, says Bates, is a good time to check all farm machinery and equipment. Replace the machines that cannot be repaired and get those that can be repaired in top operating shape because breakdowns and accident during the production seasons can materially reduce the output of an individual as well as the farm. Proper maintenance and big operating efficiency for all farm machinery and equipment is a must for 1952.

Last Rites For Colored Minister Held On Friday

Funeral services for J. W. Williams, local colored minister, were held at 2 p. m. Friday from the Church of God in Christ in Munday. Supt. W. W. Fields of Coleman officiated.

Williams died Monday, January 21, of injuries received in an automobile accident in O'Brien late Saturday afternoon. The 1941 Buick belonging to Williams and driven by Clifton Wallace, was being driven onto the highway when it was hit by an oncoming pickup driven by J. W. Oxford of O'Brien. All occupants of the cars were hospitalized in the Knox County Hospital.

Williams was apparently improving when he suddenly became worse on Monday and died within a short time.

He was born in Louisiana on April 3, 1879, and came to Knox City in 1934. He had served as pastor of the Church of God in Christ in both Knox City and Munday for a number of years.

Survivors are his wife, Irene, and four nieces and nephews whom he and his wife reared. Burial was in the Knox City cemetery.

Colored People Activities Of The

Many friends were present last Friday afternoon when final rites were held for Elder J. W. Williams, beloved pastor of the Church of God in Christ of Munday and Knox City. He sustained injuries in an automobile accident which later claimed his life. Elder Williams was the oldest minister in the district and was affectionately called "Father Williams." He was always ready to do his duty when called upon and was faithful to the end. He had pastored both the Munday and Knox City churches for several years. The eulogy was delivered by Elder W. W. Fields, superintendent of the Coleman District. He is survived by a wife, several nieces and nephews and a host of friends. Burial was in Knox City. Other Elders here for the funeral were: H. Brooks of Breckenridge, H. V. Spears of Brownwood, A. Green and C. H. Bates of Abilene and S. L. Sanders of Munday.

We wish to thank Mrs. Sidney Winchester and Mrs. Bowden for the magazines received this week.

We also wish to express our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Jr., for the swing. It is providing so much enjoyment for the smaller children.

The Army Secretary emphasized that training, operations, production and administration must be streamlined to produce greater results per individual.

Draft Delinquents Are On Increase

AUSTIN—The number of draft delinquents in Texas increased during the last quarter of 1951, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service Director, said today.

During the last quarter of 1951, draft boards added 301 men to their delinquent rolls, during the same time disposing of 225 cases.

Boards at Dallas, Houston, Edinburg, San Antonio, and Fort Worth have the most delinquents. This is partly due, of course, to the big number of men registered with these boards as compared to many smaller boards.

Thirty-five of 137 boards had no delinquents listed at the end of the year. These boards are located at:

Lufkin, Pleasanton, Angleton, Alpine, Brownwood, Linden, Coleman, Eastland, LaGrange, Richmond, Fairfield, Pearsall, Fredericksburg, Lockhart, Sulphur Spring, Big Spring, Cleburne, Anson, Jayton, Benjamin, Giddings, Bay City, Bowie, Perryton, Huntsville, Brenham, Mineola, Graham.

A delinquent is defined in Selective Service regulations as "a person required to be registered under the Selective Service law who fails or neglects to perform any duty required of him under provisions of the Selective Service law."

One thing you'll like about the Ford Tractor . . . it's simple in design and built right. Doesn't take much servicing. Yet when it needs something done here or there, it's easy to do.

For example, we can reline brakes in almost no time . . . don't have to pull the axle. Transmission, steering . . . everything is designed for efficient service.

With this new Ford Tractor, you won't need us often but when you do, you'll like our work. We service all Ford Tractors, and Dearborn Farm Equipment, with genuine parts.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wonders Why The Economists Don't Stake Their Own Bank Rolls On Their Own opinions

Editor's note The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is off on economics this week, which is as good as anything else for him to be off on. Dear editor:

After the old year is definitely over and I'm convinced the new year is well underway, along about this time, I generally get to speculation on what's gonna happen in an economic sort of way in the months ahead. It it gonna be better or worse and this mornin I was out here speculating as hard as I could without being inconsistent with my philosophy of not doin all your thinkin or workin in one lump, when a newspaper blow across my face, I was reclining under a tree at the time on the south side of my barn, and later in the mornin I got to wonderin if any rain clouds was formin and since it was necessary to move the paper in order to see I went ahead and removed it, noticed there wasn't any clouds, and since I wasn't ready to get up anyway I glanced over the paper and noticed an article on what the economic outlook is for 1952.

Accordin to a group of ten of the nation's outstandin economists, 1952 is gonna be a good year. But they go further than that, they tell in detail how much the stock market is gonna go up, how much it's gonna go down, how much department store sales will increase (7 percent), how much farm prices will go up (1 percent), etc.

Now it's good to know this in advance, but what has always puzzled me is why an economist don't have more faith in his in advance what the stock market is gonna do, you wouldn't catch me holdin down an economist's job, I'd quit and clean up on the stock market. If I knew in advance what the price of cotton would be this fall, you wouldn't catch me workin any land, I'd use my foreknowledge and take things easy from here on out. In fact, when a man can guess so what the cattle market is gonna do, he ain't got any business raisin the critters, he ought to just start buyin and sellin.

But I have noticed you don't find many economists stakin their bank roll on their opinions and consequently I don't either. As far as I know, 1952 is an unanswerable problem, same as 1951 was, but I got confidence in making it through the year all right and I expect to enjoy it. I guess economists are like sports predictors, they don't know any more about how a game is gonna come out than anybody else, but they got to live, too.

Your faithfully,
 J. A.

Moffett Comments On Weaknesses New Auto Inspection Law

The Munday Times has received the following statement from Senator George Moffett, concerning the auto inspection law. His statement follows: "When the auto inspection bill came before the Senate at Austin, I recalled the old headlight inspection law which we had in this state about fifteen years ago. It proved to be unsatisfactory and was repealed. In some respects this auto inspection law follows the pattern of the old headlight law; and I am not surprised at the objections which have been made to it. It has nothing to do with speed, yet accident records indicate that speed causes about 90% of the accidents.

ty upon our highways, I do not consider that the present auto inspection law is an answer to the problem, and therefore voted against it. A few other members of the Senate did likewise; however, the bill passed by a majority in both branches of the legislature. My belief is that it will be modified or repealed when the Texas Legislature meets again."
