

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

Typical subject of the day: Water! People talk of needing water in the form of rain; they talk of water for irrigation; they talk of the city's new water rates.

And since the first of the month, the towns' water rates seem to take first rating. Since the voting of the $150,000 water and sewer revenue bonds last year, it is just a matter of common sense that the revenue bonds have to be paid out of revenue.

Some are digging their own private wells, equipping them with pumps, in an effort to beat the higher water rates.

Then what's gonna happen if enough water users cut off from the city that its revenue from water remains the same as last year?

The bonds have been voted, issued, and sold. And now they must be retired.

The consulting engineer who helped the city officials work out their water and sewer problems gave the City Council four schedules of water rates that were designed to make available $9,000 annually to service the water and sewer revenue bonds.

The City Council adopted the schedule most favorable for those citizens who use larger amounts of water—realizing that those who use it are paying for the improvements.

We decided to check with the city secretary on the water rates as follows:

Minimum, 6,000 gallons for $3.00 per month, which included $1.00 per month for garbage collection. The next 5,000 gallons came to us at 15 cents per thousand, and all above 11,000 gallons at 8 cents per thousand. We could use a total of 20,000 gallons per month for $4.47.

The rate adopted by the City Council, which is now our new rate, revealed the following figures:

Minimum, 3,000 gallons for $3.00 per month, still including the garbage charge. The next 3,000 gallons at 40 cents per thousand; the next 10,000 gallons at 20 cents per thousand; all over 20,000 gallons at 10 cents per thousand.

We can now use 20,000 gallons for 7.40, a total of $2.93 per month more.

It seems high. We heard, too, about other towns having such cheap water rates. We asked about this.

We were presented an official compilation sent in by citizens to the League of Texas Municipalities. We got to checking other towns. Here's what we found some other towns had for 20,000 gallons of water.

Stamford, $7.89; Elecetra, $11.10; Olney, $8.05; Anson, $6.25; Hamlin, $7.10; Merkel, $10; Paducah, $6; Crowell, $7.45. Maybe their rates included a garbage charge; maybe they didn't.

While at the City Hall, a few same in to complain about their water bills.

We're always a month late in learning about our water bill, since the city secretary is authorized to draw on our bank account, if any, for the monthly charges. Just for curiosity we asked about our February bill.

The records showed we used 11,600 gallons of water, and we'd been drawn on for $7.30. Deducting our sewer charge of $1.50 and our garbage charge of $1.00, we found that this amount of water cost us $4.80.

We watered our lawn and flower beds some; we had three faucets that dripped some. At one period—it might not have been February—we had a comode that'd get hung and the water would keep running.

One person estimated it cost $150 to dig and equip a well; another figured it would take (Continued on last Page)

Munday's Bonds Of $225,000 Are Approved By Texas Attorney General

The three bond issues totaling $225,000 for Munday's water and sewer system improvements and for public building improvements were approved recently by Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas, prior to final registration by Comptroller H. S. Calvert.

The $150,000 Munday waterworks and sewer revenue bond issue the largest of the three, was provided for in an ordinance passed by the Munday City Council on January 30, 1952, and is for improving and extending the Munday waterworks and sewer systems.

Numbering one through 150 and valued at $1,000 each, the bonds will be retired by annual payments of $1,000 in 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957; $3,000 in 1958; $4,000 in 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, and 1964; $5,000 in 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, and 1969; $6,000 in 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1973; $7,000 in 1974, 1975, 1976 and 1977; $8,000 in 1978, 1979 and 1980; and $9,000 in 1981 and 1982.

Interest rate is 3 1/2 per cent per annum on bonds one through 23, 3 3/4 per cent per annum on bonds 24 through 74, and 4 per cent per annum on bonds 75 through 150, payable on August 15, 1952, and semi-annually thereafter. The city has certain options for early payments of bonds before maturing.

The $55,000 Munday waterworks and sewer system tax bond issue was provided for in an ordinance passed by the Munday City Council January 30, and, like the revenue bond issue, is for improving and extending the Munday waterworks and sewer system.

Numbering one through 55 and valued at $1,000 each, the bonds will be retired by annual payments of $1,000 in 1963, 1964 and 1965; $2,000 in 1966; $4,000 in 1967, 1968 and 1969; $5,000 in 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1973; and $6,000 in 1974, 1975 and 1976. Early payment options are given the city.

Interest rate is 3 3/4 per cent per annum on bonds one through 32 and 4 per cent per annum on bonds 33 and 55, payable August 15, 1952, and semi-annually thereafter.

A tax of 23 cents per $100 valuation has been levied on the property in Munday, assessed this year at $1,585,821, to pay the interest and principal on the bonds.

The $20,000 Munday public building bond issue was provided for in a city ordinance passed January 30, 1952, and is for construction of a new city hall.

Children's Photos To Appear Again In This Paper

Through arrangements with this paper, a representative of Walt Studios in Des Moines, Iowa, is returning to Munday to take pictures of children of this area. This studio has been here twice in the past under a like agreement—that all children's pictures taken will be published as a "Future American" series in this paper.

An expert children's photographer for the Studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Monday, March 10. This special studio will be set up at the Munday Hotel and will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

To add interest and fun to the event, the studio will award $500.00 in cash prizes—$250 to the cutest girl; $250 to the cutest boy, and a special award of $50 to the most attractive family group picture. The contest covers the Mid-West States only, and studio judges will base their selections upon the personality and charm as portrayed in the pictures.

No Charge To Parents There is no charge to parents. You do not have to be subscribers to this paper, neither are you obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints will be given an opportunity to purchase them when the studio representative returns for you to select the pose you want printed in the paper.

The Munday Times wants the pictures of all youngsters, and the more the better—but be guided by your own desires as to whether you purchase individual pictures.

Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey Passes Away At Home In Goree

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Saturday, March 1, from the First Baptist Church in Goree for Mrs. J. H. Bilbrey, who passed away early Friday after an illness of about seven years.

Mary Jane Reeves was born March 22, 1875, in Smith County, Texas, and was 76 years, 11 months and 7 days of age. She was united in marriage to James Henry Bilbrey, who survives her, on February 4, 1891. In 1895, Mrs. Bilbrey was converted and united with the Baptist church, serving her church faithfully for over 56 years.

This couple resided in Wise County until 1918, when they moved to Knox County, where Mr. Bilbrey was engaged in farming until ill health forced him to retire several years ago.

Nine children were born to this union, seven of whom survive. They are: Mrs. J. B. Justice and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman, Goree; Mrs. M. L. Barnard and Mrs. Jim Gaines, Munday; Alfred Bilbrey, Wichita Falls; Lavelle Bilbrey, Andrews; Glen Bilbrey, Brownfield. The two deceased were Mrs. Ora Holland and Mrs. Olivia Wall.

Other survivors include 17 grandchildren, 13 great grandchildren, three sisters and five brothers.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. E. Stevenos, pastor of the Goree church, who was assisted by Rev. J. W. Baughman, former Goree Methodist pastor, and Rev. Huron A. Polnae, pastor of the Munday Baptist Church. Burial was in Goree cemetery.

Grandsons acted as pallbearers, and granddaughters were flower bearers. The high esteem for this good woman was shown by the beautiful floral offering and the large number of relatives and friends who gathered to pay final tribute to her useful Christian life.

Three Knox County 4-H boys were well pleased with the results of the Wichita Falls Fat Steer Show, by bringing in a total of $1588.50 for sale of their calves in addition to $175.00 in prize money.

Sifting of the calves was carried out in the morning of February 27th, and the Hereford calves exhibited by Gary Cure, Gilliland, 4H; Bobby Miller, Gilliland 4H and Donnie Ryder, Benjamin 4H were all passed by the committee, and allowed to remain in the show.

A Junior Steer Judging Contest was held on the afternoon of the 27th under the direction of J. A. Scofield, District Agent, and assisted by Frank Martin and Bill Palmeyer, Haskell and Knox County Agents. Thirty-four 4H and FFA teams from Texas and Oklahoma took part in the contest, and winner of the contest was the Frederick, Oklahoma FFA team. Knox County 4H members who were exhibiting steers formed the Knox 4H team, and made a fine showing. Team score was 530 points with Miller high with 188 points. None of the boys are regular members of the Knox County Beef Cattle Judging team, and all the instruction they had received was a few minutes briefing before the contest. Their fine work in the contest indicated three more good members for the 4H judging team in future contests.

All steers were judged on the 28th, and the 1,035 lb. Hereford exhibited by Bobby Miller, and bred by the League Ranch of Benjamin was graded prime by Judge John Burns of Fort Worth. Prize money was $79.00, and Lamar Fain of Wichita Falls purchased the calf for 70c per pound, for a total of $724.50. The 880 lb. Hereford exhibited by Gary Cure, and bred by the John Jones Ranch of Jayton was graded choice. Prize money was $57.00, and George Cooper of Wichita Falls purchased the calf for 55c per pound for a total of $484.00.

The Hereford calf exhibited by Donnie Ryder, and bred by the Beavers Ranch of Benjamin was graded good. Prize money was $39.00, and George Cooper and Everett McCullough of Wichita Falls purchased the calf for 50c per pound, for a total of $380.00.

The boys were accompanied to Wichita Falls by Mr. and Mrs. Omar Cure, Gilliland, Mr. Bill Ryder, Benjamin; Mr. O. R. Miller, Gilliland, and Bill Palmer, Knox County Agent. Also present for the judging were Mrs. O. R. Miller, Mrs. Bill Ryder and daughter, and Peggy Cure. This group was entertained along with the boys at the luncheon of the Rotary Club, Times Publishing Company, and the Farm and Ranch Club.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SOMERSET, OHIO, PRESS: "The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has been figuring out how much of the Federal debt is owed by Los Angeles. They find out that the amount is greater than the assessed value of all Los Angeles property. There are also local government and private debts to be considered, and that means bankruptcy under the usual rules of private business."

MOUNT JOY, PA., BULLETIN: "Senator Taft, Republican, of Ohio in a speech . . . said, 'Government spending threatens American liberty and independence because it is leading the nation straight down the road to Socialism.' We believe you got something there, Senator."

FORT PAYNE, A. L. A., TIMES-NEW ERA: "The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do for themselves," said Abraham Lincoln. The New Deal and Fair Deal idea of government is to convince the people they should let the government do for them more and more things that, heretofore, they have done for themselves. That's another name for creeping socialism."

CCARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "We are somewhat disturbed by the government's expansion in the public utility field. In New Mexico, and every other state, the utility companies are among the largest taxpayers and most dependable taxpayers in good times and bad."

NOBODY LIKES INFLATION

At intervals, surveys have been made among consumers to get an idea of what they think the retailer's profits amount to. It is evident that a great many people believe that retail profits are excessively large, and that the retailer is greatly to blame for high prices. Some people even believe that retail markups are all profit. Such beliefs as these, of course, are totally fallacious. In the best of times, competition holds retail profit margins to very modest levels—one cent to four or five cents on each dollar of sales, depending on the type of store and the character of the goods it sells. Strange as it may seem, high prices may not benefit the retailer profit-wise, they may have quite the opposite effect. That was generally the case last year. Practically all retailers did more business and handled more money. But in instance after instance the profit left all the bills were paid was smaller than before. Price increases at retail levels tended to lag behind the increases in wages, wholesale costs, taxes and other expenses.

The difference between markup and profit in retailing is not widely understood as it should be. The markup is the percentage that the retailer adds to his wholesale costs to arrive at a retail price. It may run between 30 per cent and 40 per cent. That sounds like a lot—but all his overhead costs must be taken out of it. So the profit that is left is but a fraction of the original markup.

Retailing didn't cause inflation, doesn't like inflation, and is a victim of inflation. It has fought inflation with all its resources. But the root causes of inflation are beyond retailing's power to control.

THE REAL "PRICE FIXER"

As everybody knows, a great many commodities—especially those of a perishable nature—cost more at certain seasons of the year than at others. And many consumers undoubtedly wonder why this should be so.

Actually, there's no mystery to it at all. The basic reason for it is a law which is as old as civilization itself, and which was made by natural forces, not by man—the law of supply and demand.

Take pork as a typical example. More than half of the pigs first came into the world in spring. All summer and a part of the fall they spend eating and growing. During this period the supply of pork in the consumer markets is naturally less than it will be later on, while the demand remains fairly constant. As a consequence, pork prices reach their annual peak along about September.

Then, during the late fall and winter the new crops is marketed. The supply rises swiftly and the relationship between it and the demand changes accordingly. So pork prices slide downward, reaching their low during December.

There is nothing theoretical about this. Government charts and figures show it to be an established fact, that occurs year after year as a matter of economic routine.

Here is simply one instance of how prices are made in a free market. No human being or combination of human beings "fixes" them. The only "fixer" is good old law of supply and demand—the soundest economic law that ever existed or ever will.

VICTIMS

It is an interesting fact that one of retailing's biggest headaches today is declining profits. Stores of all kinds and sizes, including both chains and independents have reported that in many cases profits are at so low a level that it is extremely difficult to carry on operations in the normal fashion. And it must be remembered that in the best of times retail profits are always very modest, representing from one cent to about five cents of each dollar billed in sales.

This is the best answer to those bitter consumers who believe, quite sincerely, that inflation and high prices are a boon to the storekeeper. The fact is that he handles a lot more money than he would otherwise—but it goes right out again in higher material costs, higher wages, higher taxes, and higher everything. So, very often, next to nothing is left, and in the occasional case actual losses are the result. Retailer and consumer alike are inflation's victims.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Falls Out With Congressman Who Wants To Buy Chairs Without A Test

Editor's note: We don't know whether the Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has his tongue in his cheek or not, but here's his etter just like we received it.

Dear editor:
I read in a paper the other day where a Congressman was denouncin a government agency for spendin 60 days testin a new-type super de luxe upholstered typist chair for "safety and durability," since it was figurin on buyin 20,000 of em to replace the chairs it had and did not want to go wrong. He was pretty scathin about it, sayin it was the silliest thing he'd ever heard of, that chairs already have been "researched" adequately and the government has no business wastin money in such a fashion.

PARK benches in Evanston, Ill. park on Lake Michigan need no signs to discourage picnickers and dogs these days!

ELBOW does it. Typical of latest ideas for making things easier for housewives is this elbow-easy door latch on new Servel refrigerator. Company officials figure it cuts down "trips" to refrigerator by 40 per cent.

I do not look at it that way. That is, I'm not in favor of wastin money, unless it's in this area but about chairs now, the way I look at it is, there is no time limit on how long a chair should be tested. Sixty days seems to me like leanin over backwards to get on with the defense effort in a hurry. Why, I've been testin a chair of mine out here on my front porch on my Johnson grass farm at Circleville for 35 years, and I ain't prepared to say whether it's gonna work out satisfactorily or not! So far it has proved durable and safe, but I ain't makin no snap judgment.

One thing wrong with this modern generation is its craze for speed, its intolerable haste to get on with things. It would be just like this Congressman to throw any kind of chair he could grab under 20,000 government typists and then have them break down right in the midst of a crisis. Legs fallin off all over the place, backs splittin in two, blisters showin up in the wrong place, errors in the typin, too much time out for coffee, I tell you this mad rush to sling things together, take things for granted, tear into a new program without adequate aforethought, is one of the things that's makin taxes so high.

I may not know anything about being a Congressman, may not know anything about typin, may not know about the economic index and the far-flung complexities of the defense program, but if there's anything I know something about it's chairs and I'm here to tell you and the entire Congress that selectin a chair that'll bring the best out of a man's mind is a life-time job. Washington ought to slow down.

Only 60 days to test out a chair? That ain't long enough to test out a new mayor. Why nearly any movie director will take longer than that just to test out a wife.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Be safe. "Curb" your car when the fire alarm sounds.

Save That Old Barn

Building a new barn these days is an expensive undertaking. Many farmers, however, are finding that old, weather-beaten barns can be given a new lease on life through a comparatively inexpensive re-siding procedure. It consists of covering the battered building with large sheets of asbestos-cement board, a modern material that is weatherproof, ratproof, termite-proof and incombustible.

Asbestos-cement board is available at lumber and building materials dealers in 4x8-foot sheets. Each sheet covers an area of 32 square feet, thus speeding the work of application.

Numerous farmers who rehabilitated their barns in this manner report they are enthusiastic about the service the material has given. They say the buildings no longer need painting and that the new siding does not rust, rot, burn or flap.

Miss Gale Littlefield visited with Miss Kay Sharp in Lubbock over the week end.

Ban Lifted On Returning Burrs Back To Fields

AUSTIN—The State Department of Agriculture has lifted the ban on returning cotton burrs to the land in 42 counties of West Texas.

In revoking the regulation under which burrs have been burned as "gin trash", Agricultural Commissioner John C. White stated: "Those counties in West Texas are only lightly infested with the cotton pink bollworm and we feel that the cotton burr can be returned to the land without danger of spreading pink bollworm infestation."

"The pink bollworm is one of the most serious threats the cotton farmer of Texas has ever faced. We have to maintain rigid controls wherever there is evidence that infestation is spreading to the point where there is a chance of damage to the grower. There are now 193 counties of Texas under pink bollworm quarantine measures, and this year planting and plow-up deadlines, with penalties under the law for non-compliance, have been extended to include 59 counties."

"Lifting the ban on return of the cotton burr to the land in West Texas does not mean, of course, that the quarantine itself is lifted. Other quarantine regulations will remain in effect. It does mean, however, that since there is little likelihood that it will cause pink bollworm infestation to spread at this time, the grower can put the burr to profitable use on his land. "The growers of West Texas have been anxious to return the burr to the soil for its important organic and fertilizing effect. During the drought the burrs will also prevent soil erosion from blowing."

"The cotton yields of this area were annually getting lower. At the same time, the area occupies a high place in the nation's cotton production, and the Department felt that measures should be taken to balance insect control regulations with the economic situation of the area."

The burrs are released from ginning time in 1952 until March 31, 1953.

Commissioner White made his announcement after conferring in Lubbock for two days with cotton growers, ginners and oil millers of West Texas.

Counties released include Gray, Hall, Childress, Hardeman, Foard, Wabarger, Wichita, Motley, Cottle, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley,

A Safe Hog House

A truly safe individual hog house is something any farmer who ever has been attacked by a vicious sow will appreciate. Such a hog house has been designed for simple construction from durable materials.

The hog house is an eight-foot square at the base, tapering on all four sides to a four-foot square at the top. The top opens upwards, enabling the farmer to walk erect through a door on one side. If attacked, escape is easy.

The house is built on three skids or runners. Its low height (3 1/2 feet) and small size conserve the heat from the sow.

The entire structure is built by applying asbestos-cement board over a wood framework.

Plans for building the safety hog house can be obtained free by writing the Asbestos Farm Service Bureau, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.

LIVESTOCK
(By Ted Gouddy)

FORT WORTH, Feb. 27—As the livestock business turns the corner from February into March or early Spring season, many large question marks are uppermost in the minds of the thousands of livestock producers we meet at Fort Worth from day to day.

As the forces in Washington marshal their facts and figures in their efforts to gain extension of prices and wage controls, the Southwestern farmer and rancher is justifiably puzzled by the need for controls on his livestock and the meat they produce.

Example: Early in March, 1951, shorn fat lambs sold at $34 and later in March topped at $37 per hundred. Currently at Fort Worth the better kinds of shorn fat lambs sell in the $25 to $26.

Spring lambs (milk fat lambs) last March topped at $36 to $38.50 and currently have a practical top around $26.

Wooled old crop lambs a year ago in March topped at $38.50 and reached an all-time record high of $41.50 later in the month. Currently such lambs topped at $26.50.

Feeder lambs at $37.50 to $40 last March, currently command $25 to $25.50.

Wool prices have declined even more drastically and move values and currently wool price supports loom as important and some congressional leaders are strongly in favor of higher tariffs on some imported wool to protect the home raised staple in Lamb feeders facing losses currently of $5 to 8 per head will face the coming season with definitely bearish ideas about feeder prices if the usual pattern develops.

It is traditional that feeder and stocker prices are determined in the main not so much by what the animals bring when ready for market, but by the result of the previous season's operations. Since at the present time feeders of all kinds of livestock are having a rough time of it, they can be expected to be reluctant to purchase replacement stock at a price that would not show a profit at present fat lamb prices.

Currently hog prices are around $4 below the same time a year ago. Many corn farmers in feeding up their corn and selling it as fat hogs are getting only around $1.80 per bushel for corn, that could have easily been sold for 40 to 50 cents per bushel in its original form.

doubt but that a sizeable drop in hog production is in the cards for 1952. Large numbers of sows and pigs have been going to market for slaughter in the past few months. These sows and gilts would have been the basis of a large hog crop for 1952 and without them on the farms, production has to decline considerably.

It has been freely predicted in the Fall that this Winter, cattle feeders were in for some rough sledding. This has come to pass.

At Fort Worth many feeders tell us that their fed cattle are losing money because the cost of feeding a steer per day has averaged around $1.15 per day in the feedlot. The weight thus gained is bringing only 80 to 90 cents, thus each day in the feedlot represented a loss.

One large feeder with 2,500 had on feed estimated his loss as $1,000 per day.

Comparative prices tell the story on the present bearish feeling on cattle. A year ago during March stocker calves drew $45 to $50 per hundred at Fort Worth. Stocker yearlings sold around $40. Currently these classes sell mostly at $5 to $8 under those prices.

Stocker calves in some cases are more than $10 under a year ago. Choice fed steers and yearlings at $37 last March, currently stop around $34 to $36. Cows at $27.50 a year ago, sell generally in the $24 to $25 bracket now. Bulls topping at $35 a year ago currently stop at $34 to $34.50.

All these factors make it appear to the producers that we see at Fort Worth that the "marginal" or the "inefficient" livestock producer probably will have to improve his operational procedure, or face heavy liquidation of his livestock.

Changing Times Bring Challenge To Texas Banks

DALLAS—The bankers of Texas through sound financing practices today were urged to speed the inevitable changes on our farms which in the next 25 years will completely change the agricultural landscape of Texas.

as. This appeal came from a fellow banker, Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank in Dallas and a member of the board of trustees of Texas Research Foundation at Renner.

"Our agriculture is caught in the march of science and mechanization, and within our own lifetimes I can see our whole agricultural landscape changed beyond recognition," Wooten observed. "Our banks—all of them, the big ones and the little ones, have a vital responsibility. The challenge to us is through sound financing to speed this inevitable change which will raise the level of living on the land by increasing its dollar productivity."

Wooten's remarks are contained in a January issue of the "Texas Bankers Record." Wooten said that he is very much interested in the crusade which Texas Research Foundation is leading to build back our agricultural economy and put farming on a permanently productive basis.

The Foundation, he said, is seeking through new farming systems to rebuild the productive capacity of our soils and to provide a virtual economically self-sufficient region, growing what it needs and processing what it grows.

Wooten said that as our agricultural landscape changes during the next 25 years, fewer and fewer acres will be devoted to row crops, and there will be a greater diversification of crops, particularly on the small farms. The greatest change of all will be a return to grass, which is already in process. Texas Research Foundation findings have indicated that grass and farming coupled with more and more beef and dairy production, is this region's best approach to a permanently productive agriculture.

"As a banker, I am specifically interested in the tremendous investment in capital which will be required to bring about this change in our agricultural landscape. Think of the outlay which will be needed to fence several million acres of pasture, the millions of dollars which will be spent to improve these soils, the farm tools and machinery which will be purchased, and the many other expenditures as we convert from a wasteful soil-depleting one-crop agriculture to a modern system of farming," Wooten said.

M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN—Ringworm of the scalp appears to be increasing in some sections of Texas, and action is under way to contain it.

Know in medical circles as "tinea capitis," ringworm of the scalp is said to be prevalent in the Rio Grande Valley, Houston, San Antonio, and Dallas. Reports to the State Department of Health say skin specialists in those areas are seeing increasing numbers of infected children.

A preliminary study conducted by the state health agency among 891 children in the Rio Grande Valley schools shows 5.5 percent positive infections, in one group and 5.7 percent in the other. Positively infected girls outnumber the boys four to one, although there were more boy students, the study showed.

Ringworm is contagious. Children are most often afflicted, although adults, while less disposed to infection, often have more severe and longer lasting attacks.

Ringworm is marked by round, scaly areas on the scalp, and patchy baldness or short, broken-off hairs. It is caused by growth caused by spores. Sources of infection, health officials and skin specialists say, that a fungus—a vegetable-like scalp lesions of infected persons, articles of clothing containing the spores, of the infected hairs or scales shed by an infected person.

Easy Roberts finally got rid of the noisy pigeons that used to whoop it up under his eaves.

He must have tried a dozen ways to scare them off. But no matter what he did, they would be right back cooing by his window the next morning.

Then Easy thought of an old stuffed owl he had in his attic. He propped it on the roof so's all the pigeons could see it. They left . . . and three hoot owls have taken their place. Easy swears the hooting is even worse than the cooing of the pigeons.

 structing permanent improvements for the Munday City Hall and fire station.

Numbering one through 20 and valued at $1,000 each, the payments of $2,000 on August bonds will be retired by annual 15 of each of the years 1967, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975 and 1976.

The city reserves the option to recall any bonds for redemption prior to maturity on or after February 15, 1967 at par and accrued interest.

Interest rate is 3% per cent per annum on bonds one through 12 and 4 per cent per annum on bonds 13 through 20, payable on August 15, 1952 and semi-annually thereafter. A tax of 8 1/2 cents per $100 valuation has been levied on Munday property, assessed this year at $1,585,821 to pay the interest and principal on the bonds.

Oil Activities

Oil activities in the North Knox City Canyon Field continues to be active, as the Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. No. 1 S. H. Ferguson has been completed as a new oiler. Location is one and one-half miles northeast of Knox City.

On the daily potential test, the well flowed 177.26 barrels of 39 gravity oil through a 15-64 inch choke. It is reported to be producing from four perforations in the sections ranging from 4,176-4,202 to 4,321-31 feet. The well was treated with 300 gallons of acid. Total depth was 4,371 feet, plugged back to 4,335 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 275-1.

Stanolind No. 2-A G. F. Stubbs, Lot 4, D. G. Burnett Survey 6, located two miles northeast of Knox City in that same field, is testing.

4-H Members Given Pointers Of Rifle Club

The February 4H meetings for Knox County 4H members was devoted to rifle marksmanship, with the film, "How to Shoot a Rifle" being shown to all clubs.

Eleven new members were added to the 4H club enrollment bringing total enrollment to 317. Of these boys, 104 belong to the Knox County Jr. Rifle Club. Membership for 1952 has closed for boys that are now members of the 4H club, but as new members are added, they may join the rifle club if they wish by paying the 25c dues, and obtaining a written certificate from their parents that they may join the rifle club. 4H club members who have failed to fulfill the requirements for joining the rifle club, must wait until 1953 before they become members.

An outdoor rifle range has been constructed on the League Ranch, and even though rifle supplies have not arrived, many of the boys own 22 rifles, and practice firing will commence in March under the supervision of Bill Pallmeyer, County Agent, and adult leaders selected by the rifle club members. One adult leader for each 10 boys is the requirement before any firing will be done. Safety, Sportsmanship, and Marksmanship will be the theme of the club.

The club will be affiliated with the National Rifle Association, and rifle, ammunition and supplies will be furnished by the Department of Defense.

13. H&TC Survey, wildcat seven miles northwest of Knox City, was drilling ahead after taking a drillstem test.

No. 1 Hamilton was tested at 5,678-5,700 feet. The tool was open for 45 minutes with a recovery of 45 feet of drilling mud.

"Here's the tire you want!"

GOODYEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP TRACTOR TIRE

First choice for 2 reasons!

1. Deeper soil penetration — greater pull. Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip — don't "plow out" soil at the sides.
2. Balanced straight lug tread design — longer wear. Goodyear open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly.

Goodyear Super-Sure-Grips don't cost a penny more. Get them for your tractor.
