Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged at Random

Errors in the paper are always regrettable, and many times can not be fully explained.

And our friends call our attention to error a lot more quickly than they'll brag on our sheet for its excellence. Nit that ours is of such excellence that it'll support a great amount of bragging, but often it seems people are prone to say "you're wrong" more often than "you're right."

A few have been the times our customers have said to us "That was a nice ad we had in your paper. We couldn't find an error in it."

But more often—much more often—we've had them call up and say: "There was an error in a price in our ad. What are you gonna do about it?"

Then's when it's embarrassing—but errors always are. When over 1700 copies have been printed and gone into the mails, there isn't much we can do about an error except wait until next week and print a correction, or something.

And in case of an error in price, especially when the price is too low, the "horse of a different color" bobs up. There isn't much point in printing a correction after shoppers have insisted on buying the article at the low price.

We strive for correctness—although our finished product doesn't look it sometimes.

We've glanced over our paper on Thursday nights and wondered where we were, where the proofreader was, where the makeup man was while the thing was in the process of getting ready to be printed.

But there's so many chances of making an error that they're liable to happen when everyone is at his best.

Take the lowly local, for instance. This little item is what we often call the life-blood of a weekly paper.

That little local news item is juggled around nearly a dozen times before it's finally printed. First, you give the item to a member of the staff, who types it up on the typewriter.

Then it's read by another person, who takes it to the operator, who places it in type.

Then the thing is proofed and read by the proofreader, who marks all errors that don't get by the weary eye.

The little local takes another journey back to the operator to have the errors corrected.

Another person comes along and picks up the proof sheet with the corrected lines and places the corrections in the proper places.

Sometimes they don't get in the proper places, then when you pick up your paper and start to read the little local, you've got a mess on your hands.

After being corrected, the local stands in the "galley" until the makeup man is ready for it. If he is extremely lucky, he will get all his type in the form without any "pi" among it. If he isn't lucky, he may come out with some "pied" lines in the paper.

Then when you pick up your paper to read it, you've got another mess on your hands.

So when you consider all the rounds a little news item has to take before it gets into print, you sometimes wonder how in the world it comes out correct, anyway.

We've often aspired to get out a newspaper without a single error in it. We've just about given up hopes.

When we do, we think we'll retire for the remainder of our life, and rest upon our laurels of having gone through one week without a single error!

John Michels, Knox County farmer who resides, 10 miles northwest of Munday, was named 1952 King of Wheat at Wichita Falls last Saturday, as he brought in the nation's first load of 1952 wheat.

Michels launched the nation's wheat harvest on Friday, and rushed his 56-bushel load to Wichita Falls in an exciting race to qualify for the Wheat-time prizes.

He arrived at General Mills in Wichita Falls shortly before noon Friday and found his wheat too wet, the same experience he had last year, then qualified for the 1951 King of Wheat with his second load. He spent Friday night turning his grain, and a third test made at 7:45 a. m. Saturday revealed an even 14 per cent moisture to qualify him for the second successive year.

U. A. Hide, executive manager of Wheatime in Wichita Falls, said Michels would be crowned King of Wheat in ceremonies in front of the Kemp Hotel on June 5. He will be awarded $100 in cash, a Stetson hat and a pair of fancy cowboy boots, a complete Western suit and a 17-jewel watch. His family including himself, his wife and five children, will receive tickets to all events of the big Wheatime celebration next month.

Several farmers in the 15-county area were giving Michels close competition in the Wheat-time race; however, Michels is declared to have opened the harvest of over a million acres of wheat in the area.

He has 540 acres of wheat this year, and says early wheat will make from 12 to 15 bushels per acre and his late wheat from 20 to 25 bushels. His first load was Early Black Hull variety.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

FAIRFIELD, IOWA, DAILY LEDGER: "The Pacific Gas and Electric Company is said to pay $2 tax every time the clock ticks. Its total tax last year was $66,000,000 . . . Where will government get this $66,000,000 every year if it puts that company out of business? The only place it can get it is by piling more taxes on Mr. and Mrs. Average Taxpayer."

INTERATIONAL FALLS, MINN., DAILY JOURNAL: " . . . the editor of Christian Economics wrote: 'Freedom is the most constructive force in the realm of economics. Pointing out those things which interfere with it and destroy it, and seeking the abandonment of such practice, it seems to us, are the most constructive services we can render.'"

WEST MEMPHIS, ARKANSAS, NEWS: "The Socialists and their followers are always hammering away at the American business man. Yet, when all the facts are known he is revealed as the truly great progressive vision, leadership, know-how and willing services in America's march toward a still better life for all."

WILMINGTON, N. C., MORNING STAR: "Obviously we cannot afford to support so large a portion of the world's population and meet its economic and military requirements as we have been doing these last few hysterical years without going broke ourselves."

BROWNSVILLE, PA., TELEGRAPH: "Human destiny is dependent on voluntary self-control, on human intelligence and integrity, on an inward energy . . . Our salvation lies wholly within ourselves. It cannot be gained or guaranteed by 'enforceable laws', statute books, constitutions, commandments or any of the rest of the paraphernalia of external controls."

WHO ARE DRAGGING THEIR FEET?

Shortly after the disastrous mid-west floods, the President flew across the stricken area. In the course of subsequent remarks, he charged that the governors of the region have been "dragging their feet" on the flood control problem.

This statement was immediately answered by Governor Kohler of Wisconsin. The fact is, the governor said, that the administration has been using the flood to gain political ends, and to urge "flood control programs which the Hoover Commission has branded as exceedingly wasteful." He added that the President should have studied conditions on the Wisconsin River, and continued: "Had Mr. Truman done so, he could have observed that there will be no flooding of cities on the Wisconsin River because of the dams and reservoirs constructed on the river with private capital."

"He could have observed that long before the Democrats seized on flood control as a political issue, and another means of forcing America into socialism, private enterprise in Wisconsin, with legislative authorization and encouragement harnessed the Wisconsin River, ended its floods, and put the river to work."

Twenty-one storage reservoirs have been built on the river—entirely without tax money! The water is stored during periods of flood danger, and subsequently used for hydroelectric power production. There are also 21 power dams on the stream, and the millponds behind them are raised or lowered as conditions dictate. The flood menace has been removed, even as the river's economic, scenic, and recreational values have been greatly increased.

Wisconsin has established a precedent that the whole nation could profitably follow.

WORTH KNOWING

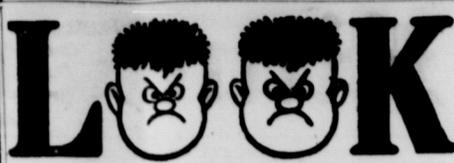

The Connecticut Farmer recently carried an interesting article by Mrs. Raymond Sayre, a farm housewife who is also president of two national organizations of farm women, which will come as something of a surprise to those who think that food prices are outrageously high.

Mrs. Sayre relates food prices to the average family's earning power—which is the logical way to get an accurate perspective. In 1950, she found one hour of factory labor bought 16 per cent more food than the same amount of labor before the war. During the 1935-39 period—when all prices were depressed—Americans spent 23 per cent of their disposable income on food. If we were willing to eat the same amount of the same quality foods now as we did then, the cost would be only 18 per cent of income. Actually, our average food spending in 1950 amounted to 26 per cent of disposable income, due to the fact that we Americans have been eating much better than in past time.

What is true of foods is true of many other commodities in general use—including some which almost everyone believes to be excessively expensive. The average family's income will buy more goods and services than it ever bought before. That, in part, is due to more efficient production methods in agriculture and manufacturing. It is also due, in part, to greater economy and efficiency in the retail level. These splendid machines, mass-production and mass-distribution, work in concert to the benefit of all consumers—and they work for a far smaller unit profit than is generally realized.

"The most important obstacle to government retrenchment lies in the false philosophy that large government expenditures are themselves an essential element in developing our economic progress and promoting the welfare of the people."—John G. Forrest.

There are still a few people who can radiate friendship and conversation without running for office.

Draft Boards

To Supply 384 Men For June

AUSTIN—State draft boards will be called on in June for only 384 men, Brigadier Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, announced today.

Quotas to local boards for this call, smallest received by the state since July 1951, will be figured and placed in the mail on or about May 7. The June state quota of 384 is Texas' share of a national quota of 10,000.

General Wakefield predicted that calls on Texas will increase greatly, beginning in July. He pointed out that the first draftees inducted after invasion of South Korea will be eligible for release late this summer and early this fall.

He said everything points toward heavier calls the remainder of this year and the first four or five months of 1953.

COURT. NUMBER OF COATS

All of the interior will receive one coat of paint, two where necessary in order to make satisfactory job.

The June induction call probably can be filled with examined and acceptable men 21 years old and older. Latest available information from local boards shows state draft boards have around 500 men of this category.

The boards are authorized to induct men 20 years old, if necessary, but can go no lower unless a man is a delinquent or a volunteer.

General Wakefield indicated that the state will have a physical examination schedule of around 3,000 men a month during the summer, beginning in June. He said such intention is subject to revision month-by-month.

A total of 2,965 are scheduled for the pre-induction physical and mental examination in May. In addition, a May call for the re-examination of 624 4-F registrants was mailed to 43 boards from state headquarters yesterday.

A total of 89,690 Texas youths have taken the regular physical and mental examinations and 37,427 have been inducted since the beginning of the conflict in Korea.

Everybody has heard of that most famous of all railroad engineers, Casey Jones, whose renown is kept alive by the old song which begins, "Come all you rounders if you want to hear, the story of a brave engineer."

gineer? There certainly was. Your columnist spent part of his boyhood years in Memphis, Tennessee, and talked to old-timers on the Illinois Central Railroad who knew him. In the yellowed pages of the files of the Memphis Commercial-Appeal can be found, in the issue of May 1, 1900, the account of Casey Jones' death in a wreck near Vaughn, Mississippi, not long after the fast "Cannonball Express" pulled out of the Poplar Street station with Jones at the throttle.

"Dead Under His Cab," reads the headline. The article related: The Southbound passenger train No. 1 was rushing under a full head of steam when it crashed into the rear of a caboose and three freight cars which were standing on the main track, the other portion of the train being on a side track. The caboose and two cars were smashed to pieces, the engine left the rails, plowed up an embankment, overturned and was completely wrecked. Casey Jones was killed outright, his body was found lying under the cab. The fireman jumped just in time to save his life. The express messenger was thrown against the side of the car and two of his ribs were broken.

The engineer had not realized the danger until within a short distance of the caboose, when he made a violent effort to put on the air brakes but the distance was not sufficient.

The Commercial Appeal account concluded: "Engineer Jones had been in the service of

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—How much is a year of health protection worth to you?

How much is it worth to you to have maintained a staff of experts to control flies, mosquitoes, rats, and disease-bearing vermin? How much is it worth to conduct those well child conferences and supervise immunizations in your town?

How much is it worth to you that your food supply is protected and that it is fit for human consumption? How much are the tuberculosis chest x-ray services, and the state's venereal disease control organization worth?

How much is it worth to insure that your city water supply isn't full of contamination? These public health nurses who teach expectant mothers how to handle themselves and their new babies—what are these services worth to you as an individual?

Would you say all this is worth more per year than the cost of a single package of cigarettes?

That's exactly what Texans are paying for health services today—20 cents a year per capita. And there are many other services besides those mentioned.

It isn't enough to pay for the sort of health protection State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox would like to see Texans have. Out of every tax dollar collected in this state, about one cent is spent on the protection of public health.

"Too much economy in health work is dangerous," the health official cautioned.

With the expenditure of fifty cents per capita, Texas could approach the national average in this country, Dr. Cox said. As things stand today, Texas is near the bottom among the states in the amount spent for health work.

"When you cripple a health department by fund cutting, you end up with more—rather than less—expense. Money put into public health is repaid many times over in reduced sickness and lives saved," Dr. Cox said.

How to spot an expert

An expert makes hard work easier.

When it comes to hauling, a GMC truck is your expert — for this very sound reason:

GMC — as the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles — concerns itself 100% with the development of new and better ways to transport goods.

Each model is the careful answer to specific, tough hauling problems.

The new GMC "302" engine is a case in point. In addition to being America's highest-compression standard gasoline truck engine — it packs more horsepower for its weight than any other on the road! The result is savings in useless "dead weight" by as much as 500 pounds over other engines of equal horsepower.

It's this kind of expert engineering that makes us sure of one thing: whatever model you select at our showroom — panel or pickup, stake rack or platform — you'll have an expert on your next job!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Texas Is Slipping When She Comes To Certain Types Of Transactions

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has an odd idea this week, his letter reveals:

Dear editor:
I would like to know if you think Texas is slippin'?

J. A.

It's generally recognized we got the biggest state, the biggest ranches, the biggest oil supply, the widest highways, the most cattle, the worst droughts, the roughest rides, the prettiest women, the most boll weevils, the biggest hats, the richest millionaires, the best football teams, the fattest wallets, the only Dallas, the biggest Houston, etc., but there's one thing we ain't doin' so well on.

It's bank robbin. Not only bank robbin, but generally robbin in the higher brackets--any type of dereliction of a financial nature. You take Boston, they had a million-dollar robbery up there last year. Or Nevada, where they had a

F. H. A. Awards Going To Three Texas People

L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, said today that three Texas employees of his agency are among the 14 who reported to the National FHA Office in Washington May 12 preparatory to receiving Superior Service awards in a May 15 ceremony, when resident Truman was the principal speaker.

The three Texas award winners in FHA, all county Super-visitors are E. H. Cook, Edinburg; Sam R. Ellison, San Saba; and Herbert E. Roark, Bellville. Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan presented the awards, and people from all U. S. D. A. agencies participated in the annual ceremony.

The Farmers Home Administration award winners were guests of the Administrator, Dillard B. Lasseter, and his Washington staff during the week. Activities included visits two-million-dollar burglary. Or that place where robbers took three-quarters of a million in cash out of an armored truck while the drivers were drinkin' coffee. And it ain't nothin' to read of $100,000 or $50,000 robberies or big jewel thefts in other states.

But what happens in Texas? Two or three thousand dollar loots is about all we can manage. Measley jobs probably pulled by outsiders from Oklahoma. A first-class Texas editor won't even mention em in his paper, and if somebody does embezzle a few thousand from his bank, what happens? He puts it back.

Now I'm not proposin' that Texas surge to the top in this profession, but I would like to know how it is those other states come to have so much loose change lyin' around. Seems to me they're goin' to a lot of trouble and expense to out-brag Texas.

Or take the ordinary tax collector, it looks like Texas ought to be able to produce some just as dishonest as those they got in New York or Boston or St. Louis. Can't Texans make off with as much tax money as a Yankee? Thunder, Texans just ain't tryin'. Why, we haven't had a basketball scandal, and when a government official resigns down here on account of his health, he's actually sick.

Texas is gettin' left out in the cold. Ain't we worth influencin' just as much as anybody else?

Yours fraternally,
J. A.

Attention Ladies!

Cakes lined up—each with a number. Judges looking, breaking off pieces, tasting. The winner? Number 4—a cake with a wonderful, glossy chocolate frosting.

This was at the Women's Club last night. Then Duke Thomas stepped up—his cake was Number 4! Seems his missus was laid up, so Duke took over—and won!

Here's Duke's prize-winning frosting recipe:

Melt 2 square unsweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat, add 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar and 2 1/2 cups hot water and blend. Add 3 egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add 4 lbs. butter, beating thoroughly after each the. Fill and frost 8-inch, 2-layer cake.

From where I sit, we all have different abilities and tastes... and these differences are sometimes surprising. Duke bakes prize-winning cakes. My wife, for example, can beat most any man at checkers. Same when it comes to beverages—you may like coffee or tea while I prefer a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not have any "half-baked" ideas that people are all the same—or should be.

Cotton Fights Fires, Claims New Booklet

Cotton can save you home or business from fire.

And, in the event of fire, cotton nearly always plays a part in putting it out, for 95 per cent of all fire hoses are covered with cotton.

This is revealed in a report, "Cotton in the Hose Industry," just issued by the National Cotton Council. The booklet, compiled by the research department of the Council, contains data on all major types of hose in use today.

Cotton fire hose can be dragged over rough pavement or gravel, in fact any kind of surface, and still maintain its strength, the report says. Flying sparks or dampness do not injure cotton hose as readily as other types.

In 1951, the report says 10,588,000 pounds of cotton or the equivalent of 221,100 bales of cotton were consumed in the manufacture of fire hose coverings. Cotton comprised 70 per cent of the total of all textiles consumed in all types of hose.

The Council's report attributes cotton's superior wet strength and resistance to abrasion for its lead in hose consumption.

In addition, the cotton casing has good adhesion with the rubber inner-hose and can withstand internal pressure the report shows.

Copies of "Cotton in the Hose Industry" are available on request from the National Cotton Council, Post Office Box 18, Memphis, Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCaulley visited with her brother, J. Bryan McCallum, in Wichita Falls last Friday.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

ITS NEW KIND OF HORSEPOWER IS SOMETHING TO FEEL!

With its 180 HP V-8 engine, on 125 1/2 inches of wheelbase, many people think the Saratoga is the best Chrysler car of all.

We invite you to take the wheel and feel what happens! There's a new sense of easy power, of reserve power that make driving a new experience.

Its revolutionary combustion chamber develops more of the power in each charge of fuel than other engines can do. One result is performance, even on non-premium fuel, such as you have never felt. Another result is new economy. It's an engine that scarcely forms carbon at all. It creates less heat. It will last much longer, stay younger on the way!

And with Chrysler full-time Power Steering*, you steer with one-fifth the usual effort . . . drive with five times the usual control! With Power Brakes you need up to two-thirds less foot pressure . . . and still stop in many feet less than other cars can do.

Yes, behind Chrysler's new engine you'll find a new kind of car. Won't you come in and feel what we mean?

*NOTE: Power Steering included on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on 1951 new Chrysler.

TEXAS HYBRID CORN
The history of corn is as old as the history of mankind. From the earliest records which ancient man left round his campfires down through medieval and modern history, civilizations have achieved greatness or have crumbled according to the supply of corn. "Corn," in this sense, applies to all cereal grains—those abundant streams of golden white kernels which are literally the lifeblood of healthy, vigorous nations. Ancient Egypt's strength was derived from its corn crop. The annual inundation of the land by the Nile River provided fertile soil to produce grain for thousands of slaves who built huge temples and monuments that are still wonders of the modern world. The energy which produced these architectural marvels came from products of the soil.

One of the first incidents concerning the foundation of our nation is woven around this grain. When the Pilgrims landed on the rocky eastern shore, they were met by friendly Indians who helped them prepare for the hard winter ahead. Perhaps one of the most valuable acts of friendship by the Red-man was to teach the newcomers how to cultivate a corn crop. The fruits of this act were served for the first Thanksgiving meal.

We have come a long way in the development of corn since those early days. The Pilgrims merely dug a hole in the ground and dropped a kernel of corn fertilized with a small sliver of fish. Today, through a process of scientific research, improved fertilization, and careful certification, we are developing better strains of corn which will assure the farmer of maximum yields.

Your State Department of Agriculture each year studies results of extensive tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station in principal corn production areas. These tests prove the superiority of one strain of corn over another.

Yield and stalk lodging, shelling qualities, disease resistance, and good shulk coverage are factors in rating merits of the strain. These merits determine the certification number which the Department of Agriculture requires on every bag of grain sold in Texas. As newer and better strains are developed, certification is extended to include the improvements and the old strains are dropped.

To bring history up to date, the Division of Field Seed Certification has announced that Texas Yellow Hybrid Corn Numbers 8, 12 and 20 are being replaced by Numbers 26, 28 and 30 which show in conclusive tests to be superior. Considering both yield and vegetative characters, Texas 30, 28, and 24 are recommended for the East Texas farmer; Texas 30, 28 and 26 for the Blackland region and Texas 30, 28, 16 and 24 for the "drier" areas.

Texas Certified Hybrid Seed Corn producers are expanding production of the newer hybrids in 1952 and sufficient quantities of the better strains should be available for farmers next year.

Plaintiffs allege that on or about the 1st day of April, 1932, they were lawfully seized and possessed of the above described lands, surface and minerals, in Brewster, Knox and Baylor Counties, Texas, holding the same in fee simple title; that on the day and year aforesaid, while plaintiffs were such owners and in the actual peaceable possession of said lands and premises, surface and minerals, the defendants unlawfully entered upon said lands and premises, surface and minerals, and ejected the plaintiffs therefrom, and unlawfully withhold from plaintiffs the possession thereof to their damage in the sum of $10,000; that plaintiffs are still the owners of said lands and premises, surface and minerals.

Plaintiffs allege peaceable, continuous and adverse possession, use and enjoyment of said lands, surface and minerals, claiming the same under deeds and instruments duly registered, and promptly paying all taxes thereon for a period of more than five years prior to the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiffs allege peaceable, continuous and adverse possession, use and enjoyment of said lands and premises, surface and minerals, under claim of ownership, and under good and sufficient enclosure for a period of more than ten years prior to the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiffs further allege that they and their predecessors in title, claiming to be the true and rightful owners of said lands and premises, surfaces and minerals, under deeds and instruments duly recorded and registered in the Deed Records of said Counties, made entry upon all of said lands and premises, surface and minerals, and have had and held peaceable, adverse and continuous possession of all of the same, under a claim of right, and in good faith, and under said recorded deeds and instruments for a period of more than twenty-five years before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiffs allege that the defendants and each of them are asserting some claim of right, title or interest in and to the said lands and premises, surface and minerals; that plaintiffs are unable to state the exact nature, character and extent of such claim on the part of the defendants. That the assertion by the defendants of some claim of right, title or interest in and to said lands and premises, surface and minerals, constitutes a cloud on the title of the plaintiffs thereto.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs pray and promptly paying all taxes thereon for a period of more than three years prior to the commencement of this suit.

NOW I'M REALLY LATE FOR WORK!

COTTON "PURCHASE AGREEMENTS" AVAILABLE IN '52

Cotton farmers have an additional means of price support on their 1952 crop. J. C. McGee, Chairman of the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, reminded county growers today. This should make it easy for farmers to get at least the support price for their 1952 cotton crop, according to the chairman.

Mr. McGee explained that the new method of supporting prices is the so-called "purchase agreement," which has been used for several years to support prices of various other basic farm commodities.

Under a purchase agreement, the farmer files an application to cover a specified portion of his crop. A small fee is charged for this service. The producer himself has control of his crop throughout the season, and may sell it at any time in the open market. Or if the market price is not favorable as the support rate, the owner may hold his cotton and sell it to the government.

Mr. McGee said that cotton loans will also be available this year as a means of price support for cotton growers. Cotton under loan may be stored either in warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation or in farm-storage structures approved by PMA county committees. Any cotton put under purchase agreement may be stored on the farm but must be in a warehouse approved by CCC at the time of delivery.

The average support for the 1952 cotton crop will be either 30.91 cents a pound, basis Middling 7/8 inch cotton, or 90 per cent of parity, whichever is higher. The rate for Middling 15/16 inch cotton will be 1.05 per pound below the rate for Middling 7/8 inch.

The 1952 goal for home gardens in Texas is 600,000. Where moisture conditions are favorable, home gardeners should begin to turn their attention to the planting of the warm season vegetables. Grow more, eat more and preserve more vegetables.

Bug Catcher Effective Weapon On Cotton Insects

An effective weapon in the war against the insect enemies of the cotton plant, the Nisbet Bug Catcher, is now available to farmers of this area. This announcement comes from E. W. Harrell of Harrell's Hardware and Furniture, who have contracted for the sale of the bug catcher in this trade territory. The machine is now on display in their salesroom in Munday.

The Nisbet Bug Catcher has been on the market for several years and is now being used by cotton farmers throughout the cotton growing area from California to the Carolinas. It has proved superior to any other method of controlling cotton insect pests, and it has cut the cost of the fight against these bugs.

The bug catcher catches the usual insects, such as the boll weevil, flea hopper, boll worm, aphid (plant lice), tarnished plant bug, stink bug, etc., and controls them effectively. In addition it will eliminate pests that can be controlled in no other way.

A high-speed fan, driven by the tractor belt pulley is the heart of the bug catcher. This fan creates a strong blast of air which blows the bugs off the plant into receiving bags where they may be easily destroyed.

Attached to the front of the tractor, the bug catcher does its work as the farmer cultivates his crop. This, of course, means a tremendous saving of the time as well as his money. The Nisbet Bug Catcher is available for all makes and models of cultivating tractors.

According to Mr. Harrell the machine will remain on display several weeks in order that interested persons may see the machine and get additional information on its operation.

Drive carefully—the life you save may be your own!
