MUNDAY AND ROCHESTER DIVIDE HONORS EVENLY FOR LEADERSHIP IN THE BRAZOS VALLEY LEAGUE

With honors evenly divided the championship of the Brazos Valley League remains just as much in the balance as it did before either of the games were played, as Rochester took Sunday's game here by a score of 3-1, while Munday retaliated and took the big end of the score at Rochester Monday afternoon 8-6.

Archie Pittman, Rochester's principal reliance led the heavy-hitting Munday aggregation down Sunday with only six scattering hits and registering 8 strike-outs, while Joe Bailey King yielded double that number of hits and struck out only three Rochester lads.

Here's how it happened Sunday:

MONDAY'S GAME.

For the game at Rochester Monday afternoon Skipper Burton had chosen Sam Stone for service on the mound, but the southpaw just didn't have any control, and after walking two men he was relieved by Abbott who held the Rochester lads to 5 hits, while the local lads were hammering Austin for an unlucky thirteen hits. But folks, it was a thrilling game, and things looked bad for Skipper Burton's lads when Rochester grabbed the lead in the seventh, and the thrill came in the first half of the ninth when A. Myers, first man up, popped out, Pogue laid down a nice double and Rayburn followed with a single. Big Jake came to bat with two on, and smacked one for three bases, scoring Pogue and Rayburn. Big Jake later scored on a long fly from McGraw's bat, giving Munday a two-run lead in the argument, and Rochester was unable to find any of Mr. Abbott's offerings in their half of the ninth, and, were our fans happy—we'll say they were.

Funeral Services Conducted Sundry For Pioneer Lady

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at Cache Creek cemetery for Mrs. Alice F. Robertson, 88, pioneer citizen of Baylor county, the services were conducted by the Rev. C. A. Tucker, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Robertson died on Saturday here at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. E. W. McGlothlin, with whom she had made her home for several years, following an illness of several months from the infirmities of advanced age.

Born in Mississippi on April 2, 1844, deceased came to Texas when she was twelve years of age. She was married just prior to the beginning of the civil war to W. F. Robertson, who shortly afterwards went into service for the Confederate cause and who was killed in action very shortly after the birth of their son, W. F. Robertson.

In 1886 she came to Baylor county with her son, with whom she made her home until his death in 1909, hence she is survived by no children, but is survived by the following grandchildren, daughters of W. F. Robertson: Mrs. E. L. Elliott, Mrs. E. Y. Elliott, Mrs. B. M. Higgins, Mrs. C. R. Tucker and Mrs. L. L. Stout, all residents of Baylor county, and Mrs. E. W. McGlothlin of Munday.

Mrs. Robertson was of the hardy pioneer type, and like many others who braved the hardships of pioneers, she was daunted by disappointments and privations of a new country and achieved an unusual degree of success in the management of her affairs, which consisted of extensive ranch holdings in Baylor county.

The Times joins the many friends of the family in extending sincere sympathy to members of the family in their great sorrow.

Munday Gins Are In Fine Shape For Fall Business

The gin plants in Munday are ready for the greatest cotton crop in the history of the Munday country, according to H. A. Pendleton, owner of the round-square bale plant here.

Mr. Pendleton states that he has had a force of men at work for some weeks overhauling and replacing worn machinery with a view of giving his plants the very best turn-out possible and the best staple, which is an important item in ginning business.

Not only has Mr. Pendleton made every provision for giving patrons the best service obtainable, but he has installed machinery for cleaning the staple and handling "bolleys" to the operation of the plant with an aim of giving his patrons the best to be had in the way of ginning the fleecy staple.

Miss Naomi Bowden, who has been a student during the summer in the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton, has been here the past few days visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bowden, and will leave on Thursday for Wichita Falls, where she will again be a member of the faculty of the Wichita Falls Public Schools.

Local Pastor In Revival Meeting This Week at Hood

The Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Baptist church in this week of the Baptist church in Hood, and engaged in a meeting at Hood, will have announced that the meeting will continue throughout the remainder of the week and Sunday without interruption.

Rev. Albertson has arranged with the Rev. Shale Stevenson of Phoenix, Arizona, who is here visiting relatives, to fill the pulpit at the Baptist church on Sunday morning and he will himself preach the evening sermon.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

No, T. O. L. hasn't been ill. We have merely been suffering from an acute attack of Ma-beat-us.

However, the slow manner in which the malady has crept upon us has to some extent alleviated the suffering.

We first felt the attack late Saturday night on the day of election when we experienced a feeling as if we were slipping, and our condition changed from better to worse and worse to down to the point to where the future looks dim and dreary.

Any way, if it's a crime to feel that way about it, we hope Ma will pardon us.

Furthermore, if cotton goes to 16 cents or better, we folks on Knox Prairie will forget who's who down at Austin anyway.

And if Skipper Burton's lads will just beat that Rochester outfit in the final game we'll feel better.

Chas. Foyt is the first Democrat in Munday to show his colors, having come out all dolled up in a tie of the week on which was printed the pictures of Roosevelt and Garner with the following inscription, "Roosevelt, Garner and Prosperity."

Personally, T. O. L. thinks it a tribute to the sportsmanship of Ed Shaver of Knox City that he is almost invariably chosen to umpire games between other teams in the local league where tension is high.

When Rhineland and Rochester met in the play-off for the first half Ed Shaver was satisfactory to both teams. When Munday and Rochester staged the championship play-off match Ed Shaver was chosen as the man whom both teams would trust for a square deal.

Such recognition must be deserved, and should be accorded only to one who stands for clean sportsmanship. Flowers for the living.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Hobert Held On Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. E. R. Hobert, who died at the family home north of Munday, were held Monday afternoon at the Church of Christ, with Elder J. E. L. Harrison conducting the services, after which interment was made in Johnson cemetery.

Mrs. Hobert's death came after a long illness from the ravages of pellagra, and notwithstanding everything that loving hands could do was done, her condition gradually grew worse until the end came.

Mary Florence Gibbs was born at 24 1/2 miles, Iowa, on February 20, 1871, and was married to E. R. Hobert, of Garnet, Kansas, in 1886, and some three years later, in 1889 they came to Knox county to make their home, buying land two miles north of Munday, where they have resided continuously since.

Mrs. Hobert is survived by her husband, one son, L. W. Hobert of Munday, two daughters, Mrs. Cora Plumlee of Ida, Texas, and Mrs. Beulah Harper of San Antonio, Texas. She is also survived by two brothers, W. H. Gibbs of Seymour and Wiley Gibbs of Reagan Wells, Texas.

The Times joins the many friends of this estimable family in extending sincere sympathy in their great sorrow.

Cotton Estimate Slightly Higher Than Last Report

The Federal Government cotton report came in Thursday morning slightly above that of the last report, the late estimate being 11,310,000 as against 11,206,000 a month ago.

Local cotton men predict that the report will have a tendency to strengthen the market, as it will serve to verify the previous report, and will bring about a more stable market. However, everything pertaining to the price of cotton is a mere guess, and nobody knows.

New Gin Will Be Erected at Goree For Present Crop

Messrs. Stevenson, Hampton & Weber, of Weslaco, Texas, operators of a number of gin plants in the Rio Grande Valley, have purchased a site in Goree for a new plant, according to The Goree Advocate, which states that the plant will be a 5-80 stand and work will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible and the owners plan to have the plant ready for operation by October 10th.

"LILLIAS LODGE" ALMOST UNDER WATER AND COLONEL PENICK AND DAUGHTER NOT SIGHTED TODAY

Fear that Col. R. L. Penick, pioneer West Texas citizen, together with his daughter, Lillias Penick, have been drowned in their Leuders home is generally expressed in Stamford today, according to D. Payne, general manager over this district for the H. O. Wooten Grocery company. Mr. Payne stated that when he left Stamford early Thursday afternoon a large motorboat had just been taken toward Leuders with a view of reaching "Lillias Lodge", Colonel Penick's beautiful country home on the banks of the Clear Fork of the Brazos. Mr. Payne stated that Col. Penick and his daughter were last seen late Wednesday afternoon when they waded water almost to their shoulders on their front porch to await the approach of motorboats that were attempting their rescue, but the motorboats were swept under the torrent of water and the occupants were forced to swim ashore, and the fact that they have not been sighted today had given cause for alarm and every effort is being made to rush a craft to the scene of the flooded stream that will withstand the rushing current.

Mr. Payne stated that the waters of the stream had receded about one foot Thursday noon and the fact that the Penick home has an attic in which it would be possible for them to take refuge, gives about the only hope that Col. Penick and his daughter have not been drowned. He stated that all traffic between Stamford and Abilene had been shut off by high water, both by rail and over highway 30.

Four hundred rounds of ammunition will be carried. Salutes will be fired daily honoring distinguished visitors.

Among the horses will be twelve which took part in the Olympic contests.

National Guard and veterans organizations will participate in the parade.

Indiana, cowboys, pioneers, stagecoaches, covered wagons, pack trains, oxen and other things reminiscent of the pioneer days will add color.

Rodeo performances will be given daily. World's champions in riding, bulldozing, roping and other events will compete for $4,000 in cash prizes.

The greatest collection of historical exhibits ever gathered in the Southwest will be on display. A pageant depicting events in the history of this section will be presented. More than 2,000 persons will take part in the presentation.

Each day's program will be opened with a religious service in which outstanding leaders of Jewish, Catholic and Evangelical faiths will speak.

Acc speakers in the national political campaign will represent their respective parties.

Thousand of old-timers, who have made history in the Southwest, have already registered and will hold a reunion during the celebration.

Old fiddlers contests, cowboy dances, athletic events, water polo games, pistol matches, style shows and group reunions, will be among the other features of the three gala days honoring the early settlers of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

O. B. Douglas of Austin, Texas, is here this week visiting in the home of his father, I. E. Douglas. Mr. Douglas has for a number of years been a member of the faculty of the University of Texas. He states that his twenty years absence from Munday has brought many changes, and stated that Munday seemed far more prosperous than only place he has visited.

Observance of our traffic regulations will work a hardship on no one and may be just as easily observed as ignored, and hereafter, those who violate these regulations will be penalized according to law.

Among the most common violations are, center parking, ignoring stop and slow signs, turning in center of block and cutting corners. It will be unnecessary for anyone to violate any of these reasonable regulations, and they will be enforced.

Interesting Events To Be Featured At Wichita Celebration

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 7.—Two battalions of Fort Sill artillery, including eight huge howitzers never before exhibited in this country, will participate in daily parades here during Wichita Falls "Golden Jubilee" celebration September 26, 27 and 28.

The battalions will include full complements of men, horses, and war time equipment. The movement from Fort Sill to Wichita Falls will be in the nature of an army maneuver. The post band of forty pieces will accompany the troops.

Four hundred rounds of ammunition will be carried. Salutes will be fired daily honoring distinguished visitors.

Among the horses will be twelve which took part in the Olympic contests.

National Guard and veterans organizations will participate in the parade.

BOND PAPER FROM COTTON

A recent development that should be of interest to Texas and to the whole South is the perfection of a process for making high-grade bond paper with a 75 per cent cotton content. The making of bond paper from cotton opens up an entirely new field for the use of cotton, and while this new use may not in itself greatly affect the total consumption, it is a step in the right direction of finding many new uses for cotton which taken together will appreciably increase the consumption. And in view of the fact that Texas produces one-third of the cotton crop of the United States, it is fitting that this new use for cotton has been opened up under the direction of a Texas paper company. The process of manufacturing the new cotton paper was developed under the direction of the Olmsted-Kirk Company of Dallas and Fort Worth, and is being marketed exclusively by that company under its own brand—"King Cotton Bond."

Shortly after the first of the year, the Olmsted-Kirk Company decided to conduct a series of experiments looking toward the development of a process for making a good bond paper with as high a cotton content as possible. The paper they wanted was one that would compare favorably in quality with high-priced rag-content bond paper at a price little higher than that of cheap sulphite papers. Having decided on what they wanted they carried their problem to one of the larger paper mills in the East, and commissioned the technical experts of the mill to develop a process by which such a paper could be made.

After five months of intensive experimentation the process was worked out, and the first high-grade cotton paper was produced. The new paper was of such high quality and could be sold at such a low price that Olmsted-Kirk immediately entered into a contract with the mill whereby the company became the sole selling agent in the United States. The name King Cotton Bond was adopted and copyrighted by the company, and under that name the paper is now being widely advertised.

King Cotton Bond is a beautiful, white, twenty-pound paper which compares favorably with much high-priced, rag-content bond paper in both appearance and strength. It far surpasses the cheap sulphite papers on the market and yet costs but little more. Short staple cotton constitutes 75 per cent of its contents and the other 25 per cent is Alpha pulp, the finest grade of wood pulp obtainable. One thousand letter heads of King Cotton Bond weigh ten pounds and therefore contain seven and one-half pounds of cotton. Likewise, every ream contains fifteen pounds of cotton and every ton of the paper contains three bales. Thus the extensive use of this new cotton paper will mean quite a consumption of cotton.

But no matter how much cotton would be consumed by the use of King Cotton Bond, if that were its only basis of appeal, little could be expected of it. Even among Southern users of paper, to whom the increased consumption of cotton means so much, that appeal alone would not be sufficient to create enough demand to have any effect. Southern women will not wear cotton stockings although their general use would bring about a considerable increase in the consumption of cotton, and Southern women do not buy cotton dresses because they contain cotton, but because their appeal is based on beauty, style, and economy. The human animal in the main is rather a selfish and shortsighted being, and seldom reacts to any great extent to stimuli other than those having a very direct bearing upon its interests. The beneficial effect of an increased consumption of cotton upon the welfare of the people of the South is entirely too indirect to have any appreciable effect on their buying habits, just as the economic benefits accruing to the people of Texas or of any other State through the use of goods manufactured in their State is too remote to arouse an appeal to awaken the buying urge. The only appeal that has any real and lasting effect upon the buying public is one that has a direct effect upon its own selfish interests.

The Olmsted-Kirk Company is to be congratulated upon its recognition of this fact in its advertising and merchandising of King Cotton Bond. Although the officials of the company felt that a high cotton-content would be a good talking point, they knew that the paper must sell on its merits, and not until they were convinced that King Cotton Bond offered a real value at the price at which it must be sold, did they decide to place it on the market. Merit and value are the cardinal points stressed in all the advertising of the new paper, and the increased consumption of cotton which its use will cause is mentioned simply as an added benefit to the Southern purchaser, as something extra, like the thirteenth loaf in the failed baker's dozen. Because King Cotton Bond does offer a real value and because all of its advertising is based primarily on that appeal, it should have a wide sale and thereby create a substantial new demand for Southern cotton.—C. M. Hammond in The Texas Weekly.

The Times can supply commercial printing on "King Cotton Bond" at a very small cost over the price of the ordinary sulphite bonds that are used on most printing jobs, and will be pleased to submit samples of this excellent paper to anyone interested in its use.

DO YOUR PART.

Beginning with the 1932 Fire Prevention Week, let us determine to cut the American fire waste, which runs about $500,000,000 a year, in half. That is the suggestion in an article in Safeguarding America Against Fire. The American people could take upon themselves no finer project. In these days of distress, a half billion dollar waste is unthinkable, and even that seems a small matter in the light of the fact that fire destroys 10,000 lives annually.

This year Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 9 to 15. It will open with proclamations from the President of the United States and from governors of states, mayors of cities and other officials, Chambers of Commerce, fire departments, trade associations and state fire prevention groups will give every effort to instructing the public in fire hazards and their elimination. Each of us will have the chance to learn, pleasantly and painlessly! If we fail, we have shirked a duty to the community.

Every fire reaches into every pocketbook—threatens every piece of property in the community—endangers life. It is a tragic, an unnecessary waste. It is only made possible by thoughtlessness, laziness and ignorance. It can be stamped out by thought and care. Do your part!

NAMES IN NAMES.

Down in Taylor county it is said that a woman voter remarked that she hoped Ma would go ahead and beat Hoover. Another Taylor citizen, a man, said he was hoping if he got elected that Mr. Roosevelt would make a good president as he did before. —Baylor County Banner.

This reminds us of a few years ago when an old schoolmate of ours was a candidate for state office for the first time, and as the returns were coming in we naturally felt gratified that our young friend had been elected. Just then a man in the group spoke up and stated that he had always voted for Terrell. Possibly he had, but they were other Terrells than the one he referred to. And who says there's nothing in a name.

Not so many years ago another Terrell than the one referred to above, his father in fact, was a candidate for a state office and it so happened a man by the name of Mayfield was his opponent in the run-off, and Terrell spent many hundreds of dollars in the daily newspapers and in other literature to get it over to the voters that Mayfield opposing him wasn't one of the well-known Mayfields, Earl B. and Allison both being popular officials in Texas at the time.

Of course people in this day of daily newspapers and radios are better informed than in the olden days, but the big obstacle in getting over today is in the name. It is paid to any state races other than that of Governor.

In the recent election Joseph W. Bailey was elected an a pedagogue, Geo. B. Terrell also goes to Congress on a name that has always been a vote-getter in Texas, and while Earl B. Mayfield is among the down-and-outers in Texas politics, temporarily at least, we're wondering what has become of the other Mayfields. It's a good vote-getting name and Mayfields have long been noted for the banker's' for office.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Stevenson and children of Phoenix, Arizona are here visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stevenson, and other relatives.

The second half came in the latter part of the week, having been brought in by Herman Jungman of the Rheinland community, and was given complimentary by the Penitentiary Company.

George McCarty, who has been here for some time visiting in the home of his uncle, G. W. Hancy, left the latter part of last week for his home at Cleveland, Tennessee. George was anxious to get back home to witness between the winner of the Texas League and the winner of the Southern League, which in the latter will be Chattanooga, and George is predicting a victory for his home team.

 The Road to Prosperity Leads Through the Turnstiles at Piggly Wiggly

Chase Elland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Elland, who has been doing interne work at a Temple hospital, is here for a few days visit with his parents before leaving for Galveston, where he will continue his studies in the Medical school of the University of Texas.

R. B. Davy made a business trip to Wichita Falls on Wednesday of this week.

Leonard May, who is attending school at Alpine, Texas, was here first of the week visiting in the home of his uncle, Uncle Tom Cowser, and shaking hands with his many friends.

Reports from J. C. Campbell, who underwent a serious operation in Wichita Falls last week are to the effect that he is getting along nicely and expects to be able to return home within the next week.

Messrs. George Salem and Sied Waheed left Sunday night for St. Louis, where they will purchase merchandise for their stores, The Fair Store, and The Economy Store, and in going to St. Louis to make their purchases they expect to make substantial savings on their purchases, as that is recognized as one of the leading dry goods markets in the United States.

We congratulate Editor Bowen Pope of the Hamlin Herald upon his defeat for re-election to the Legislature. In fact, we've wondered a long time what Editor Pope was sent up for. We don't know the ins and outs, but we'll bet the folks of his county did him a favor when they beat him for office, for now Pope can give his full time to getting out a jam-up-good newspaper down at Hamlin, and besides the association of those Legislators won't do him any good.

Sheriff C. R. Elliott was here Wednesday on official business and stated that he had just returned from Fort Lavaca, Texas, where he went for a prisoner. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Elliott and they went on to Corpus Christi for a brief stay. Mr. Elliott states that crops on the Knox prairie look as good as any between here and the coast and are far better than a vast majority of sections traversed on the trip.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

● Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

	Amount Paid	Per Cent of Total Tax Paid
U. S. Government	$ 61,270.13	.74
State	1,954,435.47	23.54
County	1,146,669.97	13.81
Roads	1,699,764.15	20.47
Improvement Districts	175,606.87	2.12
Schools	1,437,152.74	17.31
Cities	1,792,994.61	21.59
Miscellaneous	35,214.59	.42
Total	$8,303,108.47	100.00

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

● RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERED THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.

MUNDAY

The Oilers are touted as being one of the greatest aggregations in West Texas, and were scheduled for a game here some days ago, but the game was rained out. The Simms Oilers are coming with their strongest line-up, and it is needless to say that it will be a real game.

The Munday team is tied with Rochester in the play-off series for championship of the Brazos Valley League, and during the last half of the season have won eleven out of the twelve games played.

You will see a real ball game if you witness this game.

RHINELAND

Leo Herring, a junior, who had his tonsils removed last Monday, is unable to attend school. Reports are that he is getting along nicely.

Because of the heavy rainfall here and in the surrounding country, our attendance at school was reduced somewhat.

The seniors are glad to have with them their former classmate, Julius Kuehler, who returned to school to complete his high school training.

Mr. Frank Herring and son, Alvin, made a business trip to Henrietta on Friday of last week.

Miss Cecelia Albus and Miss Gertrude Blake of Windthorst motored to Waco. They returned Monday and were accompanied by Misses Clara Albus and Myra Lee McMahon of Waco.

Misses Coletta Stengef and Irma Homer left for Fort Smith, Arkansas last Monday where they will attend school at St. Scholastica's Convent.

Mr. Leo Diersing, who is preparing for the ministry, returned to Subisco College, Arkansas, last Monday.

Mr. Frank Kuehler and son, Alvin, made a business trip to Groom on Monday of this week.

Mr. A. H. Diersing and his sons,

Edmond and Leo, Mr. Clement Albus and Miss Frances Diersing returned from their trip to Lubbock and Pop, Texas.

Mr. Francis Albus made a business trip to Wichita Falls last Monday.

WASHBURN

The rains we have been getting are quite a damage to the farmers for so many of them have raised on the ground to dry.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady of this community were called to the bedside of their son, Loyd, who suffered a severe attack of appendicitis. The last report he was doing nicely.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Gully have been visiting them from East Texas.

Miss Ola Mae Bradley of Abilene made a brief visit in the home of her parents last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Gully made a business trip to Graham, Texas, last week.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. Will Moore is still in bed. He has been confined to his bed for 51 days. This community hopes he will soon regain his health back.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
A chor of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1931, by Hoke, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 13

The informative double is still an important factor in Auction and Contract, and presents some interesting and puzzling questions of bidding. For example, suppose the dealer bids one no trump and second hand doubles (informative), with what type of hand should the dealer's partner make a bid? There is still considerable difference of opinion among the experts as to the proper procedure in this situation, but the writer has very definite ideas in regard to it. There are four distinct types of hands at either Auction or Contract which should be bid by the dealer's partner over an informative double of one no trump. First: with a hand as good as an original no trump, dealer's partner should redouble. For example, with a hand of this type:

Hearts—A, 4, 2
Clubs—K, 7, 4
Diamonds—J, 10, 3, 2
Spades—K, 10, 9

The redouble is a powerful weapon when properly used and the source of many big penalties. After a redouble partner should double any bid made and try for penalties.

Second: If the dealer's partner holds as good as an original bid in a suit, he should bid two in the suit over the double. For example, with a hand of this type:

Hearts—10, 4, 3, 2
Clubs—A, K, J, 4, 2
Diamonds—10, 7
Spades—9, 2

By so doing, you give the exact information to your partner that you have as good as an original bid in that suit. It is the only way you can give this exact information and for that reason the opportunity should not be lost.

Third: If the dealer's partner holds a set-up minor suit, he should bid two no trump over the double. For example, with a hand of this type, bid two no trump:

Hearts—7, 6, 2
Clubs—10, 4, 3
Diamonds—K, Q, J, 7
Spades—J, 4

Here again you have the opportunity to give this exact information to partner and you can only do so by bidding the two no trump.

Fourth: If the dealer's partner holds a hand which justifies a major suit take-out of the no trump irrespective of the double, it should also be bid over the double. For example, with this type of hand, bid two spades:

Hearts—10, 7
Clubs—J, 9, 4
Diamonds—Q, 6
Spades—J, 10, 7, 6, 4, 2

When you hold six or more hearts or spades, it is obligatory for you to bid that suit over partner's no trump and the obligation is just as strong when the no trump has been doubled. Such a bid gives partner exact information that you have a justifiable take-out and that information may be very valuable.

Problem
Hearts—Q, J, 9, 8, 7, 5
Clubs—10, 6
Diamonds—9, 2
Spades—7, 6, 4

A B

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no trump and A doubled. What should Y now bid at either Auction or Contract? In case Y passed, B passed and Z bid two spades, which A doubled, what should Y now bid?

From the foregoing discussion it should be obvious that Y should bid two hearts over the double. He has six hearts and therefore an obligatory take-out of the no trump. After making the mistake of passing, however, the right thing for him to do is not so obvious. When B also passed the double, it was evident that he did so because he was certain of defeating Z's one no trump bid. In other words, both A and B have indicated strong hands. Z's subsequent bid of two spades merely indicated that he realized his no trump bid would probably be defeated and that he figured he had better chance to get out of trouble by bidding spades.

A's double of two spades indicates he could defeat that bid, so Y was confronted with a difficult problem. The fact that he bid three spades was an argument against bidding three hearts, but his outside hand was so weak that there was little or no chance for Z to make two spades. On the other hand, Y had a strong heart suit and, if his partner had high cards in the other suits, he would have a good chance to make his bid. For these reasons, the writer is of the opinion that Y should bid three hearts over the two spade bid at either Auction or Contract. It is a close question and shows the value of bidding such hands at once over the double. Then you don't get into trouble.

The county road grader will be at work in this community next week. Miss Estleene Gully is visiting in Henrietta, Texas, this week.

Rains Do Damage To Roads, Culverts And Bridges Here

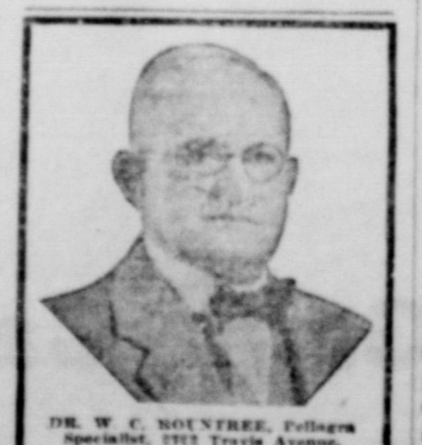

Judge D. C. Osborne was over from Goree Wednesday afternoon and stated that he had been very busy the past few days replacing bridges and culverts that have been washed out by the heavy rains. He stated that he had replaced eleven bridges and culverts in the precinct in one and one-half days, employing farmers in the communities where the work was to be done, thereby speeding up the repair to roads. Judge Osborne also stated that just as soon as the rains subsided and the roads were sufficiently dried up he would put the graders to work repairing the roadbeds and getting them back in good condition.

Judge Osborne stated that he had lost approximately ten tons of maize from the heavy rains and stated that much maize over the country had been destroyed by the rains.

First Bale Cotton Brought To Munday From Hester Farm

J. B. Hester of the Lake Creek community brought the first bale of new cotton to Munday Wednesday of last week, which was purchased by the Baker-Campbell Company for 10 cents. The bale was ginned complimentary by the Farmers Union Gin and weighed 561 pounds.

R. B. Davy and Chas. Foyt, president and secretary, respectively of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, circulated a subscription list on Thursday and secured a nice premium, which was divided $17.50 for the first bale and $7.50 for the second bale, and an additional premium of a year's subscription to the Munday Times to each of the above farmers.

No Definite Date Set For Final of Play-Off Series

Due to the heavy rains during the week no definite date has been set for the final play-off game with Rochester, however, Manager Howell Burton states that the game will be played as soon as the weather clears up and the grounds get dry enough to play ball.

Skinner Burton states that he will take on the Moss Simms Oders of Abilene here Sunday afternoon if the rains subside in time for the ground to be in condition, and it is likely that the final Munday-Rochester game will not be played until some time next week.

No Material Errors Found In Election Returns In County

R. B. Davy, a member of the county Democratic Executive Committee went to Benjamin last Saturday to sit with that body in making an official canvass of the votes cast in the recent run-off primary, and reports that with the exception of one or two minor discrepancies the unofficial report of the vote cast in Knox county stood, and since the results in this election were all decisive, the results were unchanged.

Two Local Gins Close.

Two local gins, the New Floyd Gin and the Texas Gin, ceased operations for the season on Tuesday of this week, due to the apparent shortage of the crop in this section. Three gin plants remain in operation in Henry Grove, while a number are also operating in the surrounding community.—Honey Grove Signal-Citizen.

Mrs. J. E. Courtney and daughter, Miss Lilly, of Fort Worth, have been here the past few days visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bowden.

North Africa is New Mecca For Tin Pan Alleyites

Too busy for my love-in' Too busy for my pet-in' That is all that I've been gettin' from you

Song Writers Get Material from Natives of Morocco

New York City—Tin Pan Alley has invaded North Africa. You can hear jazz humming and the strumming of jazz experiments in the remotest stretches of the Moroccan desert. To get novel rhythms and tempos, the songsmiths of America are studying the drum beats which form the basis of the native Moroccan music, studying them in their local habitat.

Since the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique has made Morocco safe and comfortable, musicians have swarmed in by the scores to attend the native dance and music festivals.

"Just what effect this will have on modern music will be interesting to watch," declares Felix Lachness Heude, official of the French Line.

"The Moroccan is most hospitable and does everything possible to please the foreigners, repeating native dances over and over for the onlooker.

rhythm of these dances that is most gripping, and while I do not think it is exactly the same as the music of the Southern United States, there is a striking similarity. Perhaps at one time all of Africa had the same kind of syncopation. At any rate, Africa is the cradle of modern American music.

"Too Busy" has something of this rhythm. It was the rhythm which the natives oddly enough used, both in warfare and in lullabies. And while there are more notes in the scale of African music than there are in our own, their melodies are as easily learned."

Four Citizens of District Respond To School Appeal

To date four citizens of the Munday Independent School District have responded to the appeal for early payment of school taxes in order that the school term might continue without interruption, according to D. T. Mauldin, tax collector. The citizens who have responded to date are W. H. Sheely, W. L. Lansford, J. B. Reneau and H. F. Barnes. It is known that several others are contemplating paying at an early date and it is the sincere wish of the board that sufficient funds will be received all along to keep the school going, and unless a goodly number of citizens respond to the appeal, the school will be forced to close unless some other arrangements can be perfected for funds.
