Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

We picked up a newspaper last Friday and read a news story that brought sadness to our heart; yet, with it came back memories, and pleasant ones, of nearly 40 years ago. We read of the death of Mrs. J. A. Mahan, truly a pioneer mother, who was buried at Wellington last Saturday. She settled in that area with her husband before Collingworth County was organized, and as a child we heard her tell of Indians coming to their home after drinking water. The sight of a redskin in those days brought fear to a woman's heart, especially if she was alone.

k-k

We moved neighbors to her in 1917, then when the Mahans moved into town two years later, our father rented their farm. She was the mother of Wade Mahan of Kerrville, former resident of Munday, and we played together as children.

k-k

It was a pleasure for the two families to have dinner together after church services in the country schoolhouse on Sunday morning. Before we became owners of the "the surrey," and our mode of transportation was the wagon, we'd get a thrill out of riding home from church in the Mahan hack, drawn by those two bay horses, Sport and Selem.

k-k

Mrs. Mahan was a "second mother" to the children of the neighborhood. The welcome mat was always out a her house. She would go about her duties in the home humming those old hymns of Zion, just as happy as any Christian mother could be. She was gracious, generous, even-tempered, kind and forbearing, loving and loveable—Christian. It seemed the sunlight of God's love shone from her very countenance. A truly wonderful woman whose influence will live in Collingworth County long after her passing.

A great man in the newspaper field was honored in Abilene on Tuesday of this week, as a part of the city's 75th anniversary celebration. He is Frank Grimes and Tuesday was Frank Grimes Day in Abilene.

k-k

A luncheon was held at 1 p. m. at the Windsor Hotel honoring this senior newspaper man of West Texas, and many newspaper people from over the area were present for the occasion. We had an invitation by mail and another by telephone to be among those attending the luncheon, but Tuesday is a bad day for a small town editor to be away from his post, and we had to decline. Although not present, we join in paying tribute to Frank Grimes, who has served the Abilene area in the newspaper field long and well.

According to J. C. Harpham, local chairman of the annual Red Cross drive, Munday has made the puniest effort in raising her funds this year of any time in the past. Munday has the largest quota of any town in the county, and Appleknocker Jim said we've raised the least amount.

k-k

This doesn't ring true for Munday people. Is it because you have not been contacted? Or just because you don't care any more? Something's wrong. Anyway, the drive has been extended through April 20. Make your contributions before that time.

Mr. Harpham, chairman; Winston Blacwlock, Don Wardlaw, Gene Harrell, L. R. Frost, Lee Haymes and Bill Quattlebaum.

WHAT'S HAPPENED IN EDUCATION?

Some time ago 1,500 high school students in a typical industrial community were polled as to their views on certain economic questions.

The result, according to Ralph T. Moore, writing in the Orgeon Voter, was as follows: "A majority of those polled favored the totalitarian system of price controls over free enterprise wherein the consumer controls prices through exercise of his preference franchise. Most believed that owners of a business get too much compared with employees. A large majority subscribed to the Communist axiom that from each should be taken in accord with his ability and to each should be given in accord with his needs, the latter of course being only vaguely defined. And the majority also subscribed to the Communist manifesto that no worker should produce all he can. The replies more resembled those to be expected from a Russian youth organization than from American high school youngsters."

About the best single word that can be applied to this symposium is "shocking." It is evident that if such views are at all representative of youthful thinking, something has gone terribly wrong with our educational system. That means education in the schools, where the truth is supposed to be taught. It also means the education that children should absorb in the home. And it points to failures on the part of business and other groups which have the duty of speaking for free enterprise.

The young people of today will, tomorrow, determine what kind of country this is to be. That is a sobering thought, in the light of this poll.

1,062 EYES

There are 531 members of Congress and they meet every year. "But every fourth year," Economic Intelligence observes, "a transformation takes place. All eyes—1062—turn toward November. Subjects for debate are determined, not by their bearing on the national interest, but by their capacity to get and hold votes."

The public should keep this election-year transformation in mind—especially when one side attempts to persuade us that the other side is made up of nefarious characters intent on selling the nation down the river to greedy special interests.

PAYING FOR FEDERAL HIGHWAYS

The enormously costly proposed federal road program, now being discussed in Congress, has sharply focused public attention on the problem of how to pay for highways.

Robert S. Henry of the Association of American Railroads recently observed that if the cost of highway construction and maintenance is to be distributed equitably, some kind of adequate user charge should be collected from heavy vehicles. This charge would simply reflect their greater use of the roads and the higher construction and maintenance costs they impose.

Mr. Henry added that neither the fuels tax nor the license fee is equitable. Then he said that the most equitable tax of all would be one that, in effect, "weighed" a vehicle and "measured" the distance it runs. As an example, a tax on tires would not only take into account the weight and number of tires used by a vehicle on the highways but would measure the miles run. Such a tax is also feasible in administration. Mr. Henry pointed out, since it would be collected at the relatively few points of manufacture and would be paid but once during the life of the tire.

This certainly seems reasonable, as well as eminently practical. The user charge idea is in no way punitive. It distributes the costs of road building and road maintenance fairly in the light of the benefits the various kinds of users get—and in the light of the costs that their operations entail to the road builders. It looks like the best proposal yet made.

PARENTS ARE DELINQUENTS

J. Edgar Hoover, an authority on crime if there ever was one, has placed the blame for juvenile delinquency squarely on the parent.

He said: "The regrettable fact is that the irresponsible parents who neglect their duty continue to do so because they are not held responsible for their dereliction. . . . The startling crime conditions existing today reflect that in America the home is failing in its traditional function as the first and foremost classroom—a place of learning how to live as well as a place of living."

Beaver Falls, Pa., News-Tribune: "The Chinese Year of the Monkey—4,654—has just begun. The year of the Sheep has just ended. One could wish that China's subjugated millions, instead of knuckling down to their Red overlords like sheep, would emulate the monkey during the coming year. For monkeys are individualists. Moreover—monkeys can bite!"

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

What Does The Bible Say? — OBEDIENCE

Some things about obedience have been the same in every religious age. Some people try to obey God without praying. Prayer is a part of obedience. One can do every thing else that God commanded, but if he never prays, he has not obeyed God. Since the fall of man there has never been a time that he did not need to pray.

The same thing holds true concerning repentance. Since Adam and Eve transgressed God's law in the Garden of Eden there has been constancy needed for repentance. Through all the ages it has been necessary for the best of men to repent and pray. In thought, word and deed, men sin. No one can go many hours without thinking evil, saying the wrong thing, or doing something that is wrong. Abraham, Moses and David were stalwart men of God, but their conduct was not so perfect that they never stood in need of repentance and prayer.

It is unfortunate however, that many have misunderstood the place of repentance and prayer under the Christian dispensation, many have turned the plan of salvation entirely around. They teach alien sinners to do what the Bible teaches Christians to do. They also teach that Christians should do what the Bible tells alien sinners to do.

Peter told alien sinners to repent and be baptized, in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38). Many today turn this around and tell their converts to be baptized, because they are already children of God. Simon the sorcerer believed on Christ, and was baptized, like other of Samaria. When he fell into his old way of sinning, Peter said, "Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee" (Acts 8:22).

Now what Simon did to become a child of God is very plain. What he was commanded to do as an erring child of God is also plain. Don't forget this what God commands an erring child to do will not save an alien sinner, and what God commands an alien sinner to do will not save an erring child of God.

MUNDAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

BOX 211 — PHONE 6151

FAYNE HATTOX, Evangelist

Carl Springer arrived in Eastland during the big oil boom, a young lawyer just out of the army after World War I. He was quiet but friendly, with a greeting for everyone.

One day, the manager of the Western Union said, "Deliver this telegram." The messenger boy looked at the name and address, actually no name but simply "Leading Lawyer, Eastland, Texas"—and Eastland then had more than 50 attorneys.

The lad remembered the young attorney who always said "Howdy" to him and he delivered the telegram to Carl Springer. The result was a client, a lawsuit and a thousand-dollar fee, perhaps the biggest he had ever received up to that time. It was virtually the beginning of a brilliant career which ended in the summer of 1955 when Carl Springer died. He had ability, energy, courage, loyalty, patience, courtesy—which last is another way of saying "consideration for others." He was my friend.

We are continually told, we who live in any city, that taxes have to be increased because the population has increased. If the city adds 50,000 people, it is true that you you need more policemen, more firemen, more garbage collectors but you also have 50,000 more people to pay taxes so why can't they pay enough to provide for these services just as we who already here were doing for ourselves.

I reckon I just ain't right bright.

A Conan Doyle sold his first Sherlock Holmes story, including all rights, for approximately $125. It was "A Study in Scarlet."

The author did not realize that he had created a character who would gain world-wide fame and immortality, his exploits read eagerly by each new generation. In fact, Doyle grew tired of Holmes and "killed" him but had to bring him back, because of public demand. The writer thought his historical

IT'S THE LAW

HOMESTEAD MAY BE SOLD FOR TAXES

Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

In a previous column, it was indicated that the deadline for rendering property for taxation is April 1, so far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Collector.

Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments.

When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000, or 200 acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to county or city taxes.

The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence.

When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30, the taxpayer loses his right to the 3,000 or 200 acre-acre exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay.

Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership.

One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his pro-rata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year.

When taxes are not paid by the deadline prescribed for the particular taxing unit (city, county, State, or district), monetary penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

News From The U. S. Congress

Congressman Frank Beard

The way the Rulers of Russia are bouncing around the world, it is very apparent that the Soviets have completely changed their policy. A few years ago, they were "rattling the saber" and trying to scare everybody to death with their military might. After having learned the hard way that the Free World would not be bullied, they have now reversed their field and are traveling anywhere in the world that they can get an invitation wearing their best smiles and trying desperately to win friends and influence people. No doubt, this new policy of theirs may convince a few people that they have abandoned all of their plan of world conquest and have given up the idea that it is their duty to spread the evil Communistic doctrine around the Globe. In spite of all their smiling and peaceful antics, the Russian philosophy has not changed one bit. They are still dedicated to the proposition that is only one way of life and that is the one that is offered by the Communists. They still consider the United States as their prime enemy in the world, and they seek by whatever means they can devise to eventually take over lock, stock, and barrel." During the coming months and even years, it seems to me that it is very important that we always remember this, that no matter what overtures they make, they are being motivated by their same old desire of world domination.

To anyone who looks closely at current events, it is very clear that while the Russians are extending their hands and smiling, all the time in the background they are working desperately to stir up trouble in the Near East and in the Far East and other parts of the world, and trying always to lure more people behind the Iron Curtain.

If Congress is to adjourn the first week in July as everyone now seems to think it will, it will mean the next two and one-half months will be extremely busy ones. Most of the major legislative matters are yet to be considered, and July adjournment would mean that Congress would be quitting about six weeks ahead of the normal schedule.

Visitors from home this week were Dr. Juanita Kinsey and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Williams, all of Wichita Falls.

Abraham Choucair and Sied Waheed were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kay Waheed and daughter in Killeen.

Here's why the engine that started the high-compression era still tops the field today!

THE ROCKET BROUGHT high-compression performance to motoring... set the standards... broke the records. Today it's the same. With a high in compression of 9.25 to 1 and a displacement of 324 cubic inches, the Rocket packs a potent new wallop.

NEW BAG FASHIONS AVAILABLE FOR SHOWS

Twelve new wardrobes have been prepared by the National Cotton Council to show the fashion appeal of modern cotton bag fabrics, and they are now available on loan for fashion shows.

The attractive outfits in the wardrobes show how cotton bags, an economical source of home sewing material, can lead a round-the-clock life with the farmer's wife this summer. They include daytime dresses, tailored classics, sports clothes with the "little boy look," and off-the-shoulder date and dance frocks. All the fashions are made from the sturdy, handsome cloth used today for feed, flour, and fertilizer containers.

Styled by Simplicity or McCall patterns, the cotton bag clothes were chosen for their smart lines, coolness, and comfort.

Bag fabrics used in the wardrobe fashions range from bright and fanciful prints to pretty pastels. Some prints are splashy enough to have come from the canvas of a modern artist. Other feature Early American motifs. Soft cambrics and sturdy osamburgs (a beige linen-like fabric) were dyed to harmonize with many prints.

Style show commentaries, news releases, sewing booklets, and program leaflets are available with the wardrobes. Reservations may be made by addressing requests to the Council, P.O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee.

Research and practical on the ranch use of chemicals for controlling mesquite, post and black-jack oaks have proved the value of this practice.

MOST CATTLE OPENED STEADY ON MONDAY

FORT WORTH—Trade on fed steers and yearlings was steady at Fort Worth Monday, despite the fact that the largest run of cattle in several weeks was reported around the major livestock market circle. With estimated receipt above the 100,000 cattle and some cornbelt points reporting the largest offerings in three to five weeks, most market in the midwest turned lower. However, fed cattle were unaffected at Fort Worth due to the small supply.

Canner and cutter cows were weaker, some bids and sales 25 to 50 cents lower. However, the bulk of the run avoided the decline. Fat cows were steady. Bulls sold unchanged. Slaughter calves were inclined to ease, and most stockers were weaker, except the higher quality kinds.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $16.00-21.00, the latter for a load of 753-pound yearlings from G. R. Hill of Grayson County at the top figure. Common plain and medium butcher sorts sold from $12.00-15.00. Fat cows $11.00-13.00; canners and cutters $7.00-11.00. Bulls $10.00-14.50. Good and choice fat calves $16.00-20.00; cull, common and medium butchers $10.00-16.00. Stocker steer calves quoted from $20.00 down; steer yearlings quoted from $18.50 down. Replacement cows $9.00-13.00.

HOGS STEADY DESPITE BIG RUN IN NORTH.

Choice meat type butcher hogs topped at $15.50-15.75 at Fort Worth Monday, steady with last week's close. This despite the fact that over 90,000 hogs were reported around the major market circle, some 28,000 more than last Monday. Sows were also steady at $9.50 to $12.50. Off weights and less desirable grade and kinds of hogs bulked at $12.00 to 15.00.

SHEEP AND LAMBS WEAKER; RUN MONDAY DOUBLED.

Fort Worth had some 9,000 sheep and lambs Monday and around the major marketing circle the days total was doubled that of a week ago. This coupled with the heavy movements of other kinds of meat animals to market set off a weaker trend on most classes of sheep and lambs.

Milk fat lambs were generally steady to weak, with moved much more readily than did the other kinds. Good and choice milk fat lambs topped at $20 to $21.50, and the medium and good grades sold from $16 to $20. Cull and common sorts sold around $12 to $16. A few stocker Spring lambs sold from $13 to $15.

Old crop shorn lambs cashed at $16 to $18.50, when good and choice. The lambs at $18 to $18.50 were either woolled or had No. 1 pelts. No. 2 pelt lambs sold mostly around $17.00 down, with the club lambs from Coryell County, with No. 2 pelts topping at $17.50. The shorter pelt lambs cashed at $16 to $16.50 down.

Cull, common and medium slaughter shorn lambs drew $10 to $15, with some emaciated culls below $10. Stocker and feeder shorn lambs sold around $12 to $13, a few higher. Old ewes drew $5.50 to $6.50, a few to $7. Old bucks drew $5 to $6.

SHEEP PROMOTION MONEY IS ALLOCATED BY COUNCIL.

The American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., made the first allocations of the multi-million dollar promotion fund last week. It was announced by the Denver headquarters that $800,000 was set for lambs promotion and $600,000 for wool promotion.

A test campaign for promotion of lamb recently was made in the Denver area and consumption was boosted sharply.

Texans average only 1.4 pounds of lamb per capita!

BEEF CHECK-OFF PASSES CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

A check-off of ten cents per head to promote beef was passed by the Legislature in California recently. If it is ratified in a referendum of the producers the tax will be levied on all cattle sold for slaughter there and the money used to promote beef.

Opposition to a check-off has cropped up in some places. The Governors of Iowa and Nebraska are advocating a federal law for such a check-off, the proceeds to be used to promote all kinds of meat.

The Western states, to date, have been more enthusiastic about the beef council check-off than have the corn belt farmers. This is easy to understand when it is recalled that the corn belt farms grow lots of pigs, poultry, milk, etc.

If you're in need of a guest room but don't have the space for one, consider using a sofa bed or studio couch equipped with a good firm cotton inner-spring mattress. This dual purpose bedding quickly converts any room in the house into a spare bedroom.

MILLION DOLLAR COTTON SAVING

Texas cotton farmers can look forward to a million-dollar saving in ginning costs this year.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has revised pink bollworm regulations to eliminate sterilization of cotton seed during ginning operations. The new provision applies to seed moving to area within the state.

Until now, some 928 gins in Texas have been required to treat seed with high temperatures. The heat killed any larvae inside the seed without damaging its growing qualities.

The added cost of this service was passed to the farmers by the gins at approximately $1 per bale. Gins where this measure was in effect normally process about a million bales or more a year.

The new regulations eliminating this treatment resulted from findings of a three-year research project by Texas and United States Department of Agriculture pest control men.

Modern methods of some 35 gins were studied during this period. Goal of the survey was to determine whether normal ginning operations killed enough larvae in the seed without the added burden of sterilization.

Studies of cotton processed in the gins showed the lowest rate of kill to be 89.5 percent. The highest was 100 percent.

These figures indicated that the kill ratio of pink bollworm larvae was effective enough to reduce the threat of destruction in cotton fields. As added proof, all but five gins killed 97 percent or more of the insects and 18, or half the gins, registered complete kills.

Gin operators will find the new regulations to their advantage also. Sterilization involved costly equipment and was time-consuming.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials are in complete agreement with the regulation change in Texas. A revision of federal regulations will follow later in the season.

Farmers Advised On Social Security When Income Is $800

"Self-employed farmers past age of 65 who had a net profit of at least $400 and gross income of at least $800 from their farming activities in 1955 should discuss their cases with a Social Security representative as soon as they have income grossed $800 in farm income in 1956," said Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls district office.

Farmers whose options enabled them to pay the self-employment tax for 1955, and who had done so, may become insured under the old age and survivors insurance program as soon as they have earned a sufficient number of credits to meet the requirement ranges from six to ten quarters of coverage, depending on the individual's exact date of birth. However, credits earned at any time in the past through work covered by the Social Security Act also count toward meeting the requirement.

To assure accurate advice with respect to their specific cases, these older farmers are urged to take with them a copy of their complete 1955 tax returns, including Schedule F, a statement of their gross farm receipts and expenses so far in 1956 and meet their Social Security representatives as soon as their gross receipts in 1956 reach the $800 level. A representative will be at the city hall in Munday at 10 a.m. Tuesday, April 11, May 9 and June 13.

Every dog has his day, and cotton canvas has come into its own as a fashionable fabric for the home and feminine apparel. Multi-striped awning canvas is used in this matching pants and jacket ensemble by Foster-Hochberg. The solid-colored awning in the background shades the house from sun and lowers the temperature inside even on summer's hottest "dog days."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin — Cancer, the second leading cause of death, took the lives of 9,379 Texans last year. This means that a little over one person out of every 1000 of our population died from this disease during that period.

According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, one-third of these deaths could have been prevented by earlier detection and prompt treatment. On this basis 3,126 Texans needlessly died of cancer in 1955, because proper treatment was begun too late. There are some encouraging aspects in the fight against cancer. Deaths from that disease among women in the United States have declined more than ten per cent in the past ten years.

Many thousands could be saved if men and women would have a complete physical examination once a year. Women over 35 should have a mid-year check-up for signs of uterine and breast cancer and men should secure an X-rays for signs of lung cancer.

Dr. Holle says that at least 50 per cent of all cancers are accessible to examination by a physician through sight or touch.

Of all Americans who die of cancer today the deaths of one-third could be avoided if proper treatment were begun before the cancers spread. The profession of surgery is proof of this, as the latest figures show that cancer deaths among surgeons are only 66 per cent of the general rate. Evidently surgeons not only have the proper knowledge of the facts about cancer, but act promptly on the basis of that knowledge.

Today cancer is being attacked by research within nearly every branch of science. Also, studies are being made of large numbers of people to discover if living conditions are in any way responsible for cancer.

A GOOD WELL DESERVES THE BEST PUMP

PEERLESS PUMPS

The last few years have proved that dryland farming in West Texas and Knox and Haskell counties can be a money losing venture. The bright spot in the picture is that more and more irrigation wells are being put down in our territory. In the past year many small wells have been developed in areas that were formerly considered dry. This may be the year for you to try for a well. We are now convinced that somewhere on every 160 acres a good well can be developed. Even though it may cost to find that spot, it will be well worth the effort.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Up With A Novel Plan For Getting Rid Of The Embarrassing Farm Surplus

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses the farm surplus problem this week, without making any noticeable dent in it.

Dear Editor:
As I understand the farm problem, prices are lower than they used to be because of the surplus.

Furthermore, the way I understand it, the surplus is owned by the government, and as long as the market is aware of that surplus, what a farmer gets for what he grows this year is liable to be affected.

Therefore I have been thinking about the problem off and on for the past few weeks, on the theory that whatever this country has, it hasn't got a surplus of thinking and even if it did the amount I do wouldn't contribute to the total very much.

I have read all the suggestions I could find for eliminating the surplus, including one that Congress pass a law abolishing it and the newspapers stop mentioning it, but so far none of them seem very effective and the situation remains the same: the government can't afford to give the surplus away and on the other hand can't afford to keep it, and if it sells it will depress prices worse than ever.

J. A.

But here's the thing: this is an age of scientific experiment, and why can't the government use the surplus to experiment on? As I understand it, in a few weeks the 75 or 80 million dollars experimenting with some new hydrogen bombs, setting them off to see what happens. In previous tests of this kind, bombs have been set off to see what effect they'd have on different type houses, refrigerators, bedsteads, dummies, etc.

Has it ever occurred to you that the government hasn't yet experimented to see what effect an atomic explosion would have on a hundred million pounds of butter?

How would a warehouse full of wheat stand up a mile from point zero? Two miles? Three miles? All over the area? Does fall-out affect the quality, staple length, etc. of cotton?

Here we've got all this surplus stuff stored and nobody knows how it would stand up in an atomic raid. Why doesn't the government haul about half this surplus out to the Pacific or wherever the spring tests are going to be made and drop some bombs on it, purely in the interest of scientific experimentation? If the tests are inconclusive, haul the other half out and try again.

If you don't think this suggestion has any merit, let's see what suggestions you have for getting rid of the stuff.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

IKE'S COLORFUL LIFE PICTURED ON FABRIC

Newest biography of President Eisenhower is done on cotton. It's a pictorial print commemorating the notable achievements of the President's life and career.

Called "The Eisenhower Toile," the cotton fabric was designed by Elizabeth, a well-known New York decorator. It is printed in ten different colors on the cotton cloth, and the designs symbolize various states important to his career, as well as outstanding events in his life.

The Eisenhower toile is designed for home decorating use. One furniture manufacturer already has used it as upholstery material on a small wing chair.

Child Killed When Struck By Family Car

Donald Earl Nichols, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nichols, former Knox County residents, was injured fatally Saturday, April 7, when he darted in front of a car driven by his mother at their home in the Garner community, near Weatherford.

The mother was starting to town and thought the child was in the house. As she drove out a gate, he suddenly appeared from behind a fence and ran into the path of the car.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by three sisters, Mary Jean, Patricia, and a two-week-old infant; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dater of Garner and Andrew Nichols of Vera. The father is employed in Mineral Wells.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Garner Baptist Church, with burial in Bethesda Cemetery.

SMITH-DOXEY COTTON PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Cotton farmers can get the details now about the U. S. Department of Agriculture's 1956 Smith-Doxey program.

This was announced today by Mr. H. J. Matejowsky who is in charge of the Agricultural Marketing Service's Abilene, Texas, cotton classing office.

"Farmers will follow about the same procedures as in past years in signing up for this program," Matejowsky said.

Under the Smith-Doxey program, farmers get their cotton classed without cost. Also, they receive by mail a weekly cotton market bulletin pre-prepared especially for their locality.

Matejowsky pointed out that farmers must take these steps in order to be eligible for Smith-Doxey services: organize a group to promote the improvement of cotton; adopt a variety of cotton that grows well on local soil; file an application with AMS before August 1, 1956; arrange for sampling and meet certain other requirements as to membership in the group.

Applications and more details about the program can be secured at the Abilene cotton office, 1407

So. First, or from county agents, state and county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, or the Southwest Cotton Division, 506 Terminal Annex Bldg., Dallas 22, Texas.

Your Electric Service is even a bigger bargain than it looks

For pennies a day, electricity lights your home, cooks your food, washes your dishes, and serves you in dozens of other ways. It's the biggest bargain in your family budget!

And it's even bigger than it looks.

Out of every $4.00 you pay on your electric service bill, about $1.00 goes for local, state and Federal taxes. Yet, in spite of this, you are getting about twice as much electricity for every dollar as you did 25 years ago.

Actually, the average cost of a kilowatt hour of electric service for homes served by WTU is 26% less than it was just 10 years ago. Part of the reason for this lower price is your greater use of electric service. But more important, is the work of the men and women of your electric service company who constantly are working to find more and more ways to reduce the cost of producing electric power and of delivering it to you.
