School business is big business

This is evidenced by the programs under way for improving and enlarging schools of Knox County. Outside of the regular school and classroom activities, which involve nine months of the year, the building programs, etc., is big business. And the business of training our youngsters for life and educating them for handling activities and problems of the future is, and should be, big

This amount of money is not to be sneezed at. It is probable that the full amount will not be used in either case, but school authorties were looking forward to being assured of the amount needed for the work needed to be done. Recently, Knox City also voted bond issue for building to and mproving its school system.

This tragedy we speak of is in the fact that so few people took an active-or voting-interest in these issues. Only 103 people in the entire Munday Independent School District voted in the election. Vote On Wheat Quotas Slated For July 20th Marketing quotas for the 1957 wheat crop have been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, H. H. Partridge, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds the farmers.

"This proclamation does not automatically put quotas into effect for the crop," the Chairman declared. "The accounement also set July 20 as the date for a referendum when wheat growers who are affected by the quotas will vote on whether or not to put the quotas into operation. A twothirds vote favoring the quotas is necessary if the quotas are to be in effect."

Growers who are affected by the quotas, are therefore are eligible to vote in the referendum, are those farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain in 1957.

In his proclamation, Secretary Benson said: "This marks the fourth successive year that abnormally large wheat supplies have required the proclamation of marketing quotas for the next wheat crop. It is the third successive year for which the national specified by law.

"All the wheat we are likely to need from 1957 production, determined according to the formula in the legislation, could be produced on an acreage of about 12.4 million acres. Under the basic rules of eligibility, acreage designated for the acreage reserve must:: (1) Be representative of the land used for the crop, (2) result in the harvesting of an acreage of the basic crop less than the farm allotment, and (3) not be grazed, cut for hay, or cropped for the entire 1956 calendar year. Noxious weeds must also be controled on the "reserved" acreage.

In order to participate in the acreage reserve, a farmer must comply with all acreage allotments for the farm. Participation will be on a voluntary basis, it was stated.

A SACK OF GROCERIES

Just how good were the good old days of some 50 years ago, when prices were much lower for practically everything than they are now?

The Sun, of Saratoga, Wyoming, has something interesting to say in this regard. Back in the '90s, round steak sold for 12 cents a pound, butter for quarter, and a loaf of bread went for a nickel. The cost of the grocery order which came to 85 cents then would be about $2.98 today.

So it looks as if we were taking a fearful beating, price-wise. However, as the Sun points out, there is another side to the cuin-earning power. Government figures show that a worker who averaged 16 cents an hour in the '90s averaged $1.88 last year. So, to quote the Sun directly, "The factory worker who bought the list of staples in The Texas Safety Association says there are the 1890s would have worked about 5 hours and varying degrees of the malady. And every driver 20 minutes for the money it took to pay the bill. Today be can earn enough for the same sack of groceries in about an hour and a half."

The situation would be generally the same in he case of goods other than foods. Many causes have contributed to this great increase in purchasing power. One of the important ones has been the change within retailing itself. Mass distribution—based on big turnover at a very small unit profit--was unknown in the '90s, The percentage of profit on each transaction was far higher then. Today the food chains commonly earn as little as one cent net on each dollar of sales; other stores also earn very modest profits. That helps the family budget enormously.

TWO-WAY OBLIGATION

The president of the Chamber of Commerce of or warning . . . it's a pretty safe bet that you're have both the obligation and the right to speak on political and other issues of the time He then in order to form an opinion on mentioned certain things that businessmen should a legal subject. However, it is bad be solidly against-among them, government in business, and high taxes.

This is a logical position. At the same time, businessmen must realize that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. RECORDS

Not too many records are kept for an entire lifetime. The official records of birth and death are kept longer than a lifetime, of course. On the other hand, the records of virtually all business enterprises are rarely maintainced beyond a period of 5 or 10 years.

Among the exceptions are the records kept by insurances companies, physicians, opticians, and pharmacists. Of these, perhaps the most vital are the records maintained by pharmacists.

In an article just published in Better Homes & Gardens, Donald Cooley tells why: Suppose a child swallows a handful of tablets from an old forgotten bottle. Are the tablets harmless or dangerous?

If there's a prescription number on the bottle, a call to the pharmacy that dispensed the drug-maybe many years before—will instantly give the attending doctor the information he needs for emergency treatment.

Yes, the pharmacist's records are kept a lifetime on the possibility that they may be needed to save a lifetime.

TEXAS YAMS ON THE NATIONAL DIET

The Texas sweet potato indussweets found their way to nation- prize crops al markets.

Ability of Texas sweet potatoes to compete successfully with those from other states in the big markets was made possible through a grading and inspecting law passed by last year's state legislature. Until last September when the measure became effective, Texas yams were shunted at national marts in favor of graded potatoes from other areas.

Since then, however, the Texas Department of Agriculture which administers the law has processed 1,938,847 bushels for the industry. An additional 100,000 bushels were graded and inspected for individual farmers.

Since the program began, market vutlets for the Texas product have developed in Detroit, Chicago, New York and several western states where buying is strictly on a graded basis.

high-even higher than those re- his nickname quired by the federal government. This is borne out by the fact that Texas sweet potatoes remain in better condition when shipped to distant markets than do those of many competing states.

The state inspection and grading service is operated on a selfsupporting basis with no additional cost to taxpayers. Small service fees collected on the large movement take care of all expenses and add up to bigger profits and expanded markets for the producers. Principal growing area for Texas sweets is centered around East Texas, although there is scattered production throughout the state Last season's production amounted to about 3,480,000 bushels. This was slightly below the 10year average of 3,664,000 bushels, mostly due to reduced acreage. Only 29,000 acres were planted to sweet potatoes, compared to the average of 46,000 acres. However, yields were extra good last season. Average production was 120 bushels per acre.

Most school systems require a birth certificate to prove the cessed more than 60,000 requests child was six years old on Sept- during the months of August, ember 1. .

"Making early requests for birth records will save parents

Carroll, director of the health department's Division of Vital

But tens of thousands of rework without overtime pay.

"The overtime work isn't important," Carroll said, "But it is important when a youngster can't enter school for lack of a birth record.

ETERNAL FATHER

We hear much of God the Father but we can only know Him through His Son, Jesus

Christ. God's Word declares: "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him." John 1:18.

Birth records keepers shudder when they think of the estimated 260,000 kids who will be eligible to enter the first grade this fall.

Many of them have copies of birth records and will create no problems. Others live in areas where school officials do not require proof of age before admitting the child to the hallowed halls of learning.

But the majority do not have ment of Health today asked all the fact that they live in areas in September to make requests that gives health department stat-"now" for copies of the children's sticians and clerks sleepless nights.

"This year we're trying to avoid the fall bottleneck," Carroll said. "We're ready to give immediate service to applications coming in between now and mid-July.'

All parents have to do is furnish the child's name and date the statutory fee of fifty cents, will buy anyone a copy of their birth certificate-provided the original certificate is on file.

It's a good bet the original will be on hand. Carroll's office keeps track of some ten million birth and death records, some dating back to 1903. There's just one more thing:

if you don't care to write to the State Department of Health in Austin, check with your local registrar or county clerk. Chances are he can supply the record.

In either case, do it soon. Carroll says that fall bind can get mighty tight.
