MUNDAY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1956

Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

Spotted rains that came after we went to press last Thursday have touched other spots in the area that didn't receive any of the rain Sunday night before. One of these areas was Knox City, which received a boost to the half inch that came on Sunday night. To the northwest of Munday, near the Johnny Michels farm, the draws were running and the Michels car was drowned out while crossing the stream.

k-k

That's something that hadn't happened in a long time. And another thing kinda unusual was that the Brazos river was running pretty swift, the first time in a number of months. We still have a strong feeling that this is the beginning of the end of the drouth.

k-k

How will our Moguls fare, come Friday night? A number of Mogul fans are wondering that, and so is Coach Stewart. All the dope points to the fact that the Iowa Park game will be the deciding one in the district, but still there are those who believe our team better not let down until after the Holiday game, if then.

k-k

"If we can keep our men off the injured list," Coach Stewart said recently, "we stand a good chance of winning the district." Funny thing, too. Most of the injuries the Moguls receive are in practice sessions—not in the games. Which caused one fan to remark in a street conversation, "We'd better quit practicing so hard."

k-k

Win or lose, we don't believe we've ever seen a time when fans are so whole heartedly behind the Moguls—if that means anything, and we believe it does.

k-k

Politics takes on some funny angles. Sid McMath, former governor of Arkansas, making a Democratic speech at Henrietta Monday night cited the fact that our own Governor Shivers was in Tennessee, making a Republican speech. . . . Nearly each time the political mess comes on the radio, our wife asks: "Let's see, just how much longer do we have to listen to that?" . . . A farmer, after receiving his soil bank check, walked into a place of business and said, "Well, I got that Eisenhower bribe."

k-k

Munday continues to grow. Three local families are building new homes. The W. G. Welborn home is nearing completion, and the Bully Ratliffs and Charles Bakers have theirs under way in the Golden addition. Cameron Lumber Co. has started another one and plans two or three more.

k-k

Another addition to the growth of our town hadn't been made official Tuesday, but steps are under way for constructing a modern tourist court and cafe just out the Seymour highway. The City of Munday is completing papers for the sale of some 14.6 acres of land to an Amarillo man for this purpose, and construction is expected to get under way within 10 days.

k-k

Another building program is the new parochial school at Rhineland, on which construction will soon be started.

Mother and baby are doing fine and the feverish father is going to survive. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edd Mooring of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Spann of Munday.

Oil Activities

Garvin Oil Co. of Dallas has made location for the No. 1 Mrs. Ida Hale, eight miles northeast of Munday, to go to 2300 feet.

R. Clay Underwood has staked the No. 1 Allie F. Benedict et al, one mile northeast of Knox City, as a 2500 foot test.

Abandoned recently as failures: Timerlake, Kelleher and Hester No. 1 G. L. Hunter, 3 1/2 miles southwest of Munday, at 2257 feet; Ted A. Norwood et al No. 1 A. H. Word, three miles north of Knox City, at 2431 feet.

Five more explorations were staked in Knox County last week, three of which were Ajax Oil and Development Co. ventures. They are:

No. 1 E. O. Jamison, 3 1/2 miles east of Knox City, a 2300 foot test; No. 1 S. N. Reed, 3 1/2 miles northeast of Knox City, slated for 2300 feet, and No. 1 E. C. Claburn, seven miles northwest of Munday, to go 2200 feet.

Christie-Stewart Drilling Co. made location for its No. 2 Charlotte C. Farrington, two miles northeast of Knox City, a 2300-foot test.

McMahon and Bullington Drilling Co. staked the No. 1 W. H. Clonts, 3 1/2 miles east of Knox City, to drill to 2600 feet.

Ajax last Thursday staked locations for five more wildcats in the county, each contracted for 2300 feet. They are:

No. 1 Alvin and Marvin Huskinson, 6 1/2 miles northeast of Munday; No. 1 John E. Jones, six miles northeast of Benjamin; No. 1 W. E. McNeil, 1 1/2 miles south of Munday; No. 1 H. M. Michels, 4 1/2 miles north of Munday, and No. 1 C. F. Moorman, 2 1/2 miles northwest of Goree.

Other new exploratory ventures in the county are: Bill Lisle and G. H. Elliott of Olney No. 1 Perry Cartwright, at the east edge of Goree, to 3000 feet; W. H. Hammon No. 1 R. L. Ratliff, 3 1/2 miles south of Goree, to 2200 feet.

Completions reported are: Tom B. Medders No. A-2 John W. Goode, three miles southeast of Goree, bottomed at 1875 feet, which pumped 86.23 barrels of 35 gravity oil, plus 10.7 per cent, per day; W. B. Omohundro No. 1 S. E. Vandever, at the Goree townsite, finished for daily pumping potential of 46.84 barrels of 30 gravity grade from perforation at 1762-72 feet. Hole was bottomed at 1875.

W. H. Hammon also reported a failure in the No. 1 V. F. Burnison, four miles southwest of Munday, abandoned at 2207 feet.

18 Club Boys To Feed Out Lambs

Eighteen 4-H Club boys will feed lambs as a project demonstration this year. Forty-two lambs from the San Angelo area are scheduled for delivery in Benjamin Thursday, October 25, at 2:00 p. m., at which time they will be delivered over to the 4-H Club members who ordered them.

Mr. Bruce Campbell, of the Citizens State Bank of Knox City, furnished the financial assistance that enabled the lambs to be shipped to Benjamin and purchased locally by the 4-H members.

These lambs will be fed a well balanced, commercial ration that will be gradually built up into a fattening ration over a 120 day feeding period. Afterwards, they will be displayed in the County Livestock Show, classified according to market grade, and shipped to Fort Worth for slaughter.

This program, while requiring only a small initial investment, offers a boy a chance to learn, first hand, the job of feeding and management of livestock from a practical standpoint.

W. E. Braly, County Savings Bonds Chairman, reported today that Series "E" Savings Bonds sales in Texas for September had increased 9 percent above sales of September 1955. But sales in Texas must be increased if we are to make our quota, Mr. Braly continued.

The Series "E" sales for September were $12,853,819; Series "H" sales were $1,811,000. These figures compare with Series "E" sales of $11,716,088 and Series "H" sales of $2,378,000 for September 1955.

Sales in Knox County for September were $9,693. Sales in the county for the nine months were $216,271. This represents 67.6 percent of the quota for Knox County.

Mr. Braly stressed the importance of the Savings Bonds Program to the individual, the community and the nation. He stated that 2 million Texans have $2 billion dollars invested in Savings Bonds. That much stored up buying power is reassuring for the future of our economy, he concluded.

Services For Eugene Michels Held Saturday

Funeral services for Eugene Michels, 50, well known and progressive area farmer who died while on a hunting trip to Colorado on Wednesday, October 17, were held from St. Joseph's Church in Rhineland at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Mr. Michels became ill at a hunting camp near Pagosa Springs, Colo., while he and several companions were on their annual game hunt. He was taken into Pagosa Springs, then died enroute to a hospital in Durango, Colo. A doctor said he apparently suffered a heart attack.

He was engaged in farming and was recognized as one of the area's most progressive farmers, having practiced irrigation and diversification in his operations during recent years. His holdings in the area came as a result of hard work and good farming practices.

He was married to Miss Leona Albus on May 29, 1934, and is survived by his wife; four sons, Collis, who is a student in Texas Tech; Leon, Richard and G. Allen Michels, all of Munday; three daughters, Joyce Marie of Dallas, who is an airlines stewardess; Kathleen and Carolyn, both of Munday; and a brother, Johnny Michels of Munday, who also was on the hunting trip.

Moguls Face Crucial Test Friday Night

Despite the fact that the Munday Moguls were idle last Friday night, they have been rated among the top teams of this area this week. But the local boys will face what will probably be their crucial test next Friday night when they meet the Iowa Park Hawks on the Iowa Park field.

Munday holds sixth place in this week's Times-Record News all-area 2A-1A top ten, while Iowa Park is in seventh place.

Plagued with injuries to several of their "key men" the Moguls are working this week toward getting these men in shape for Friday night's game. Glenn Amerson received a broken thumb in practice last week. He will be able to enter the game, but his passing game will be hampered.

Others on the injured list include Don Elliott and Lee Bruce, but they may be in shape for the game. Injuries haven't darkened their spirits of the Moguls, and they will enter the game to win. Officials of the Iowa Park school have reserved 200 seats for Munday fans, and tickets have been delivered to Gafford's Barber Shop for local fans.

Since the game is rated as possibly the deciding one for district championship, many Munday people are making plans to attend.

Mrs. Roy Lane's Funeral Held At Goree Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Roy Lane were held from the First Baptist Church in Goree at 2 p. m. Saturday, October 20, with the pastor, Rev. C. R. Mathis, and Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor of the Goree Methodist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Lane passed away suddenly at her home in Goree on Wednesday, October 17.

Mrs. Eunice Pearl Austin Lane was born June 21, 1904, at Cooper, Delta County, Texas. She was married in November, 1920, at Winthrop, Ark., to Roy Lane, who preceded her in death in 1949.

Mrs. Lane had been a resident of Knox County since 1932. She is survived by three children, Raymond Lane of Breckenridge, Mrs. Wilma Joyce Prater of Anson, and Buster Lane, who is serving in the Navy and stationed in Puerto Rico; her mother, Mrs. P. B. Spencer of Goree; brother-in-law, Charlie Lane, of the home; two brothers, Paul Spencer of La Porte and John Spencer of Lufkin; six grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends.

The members urge all ex-service men and their families to be in the meeting which will begin at 7 p. m. A talent show will be given directed by Mr. J. M. Bradberry of Knox City, then at 8 p. m. a contest will be held to name the district sweetheart. Munday will have a candidate, the judging to be held this week between two candidates.

Sunday speakers will feature Congressman Frank Ikard, State Senator George Moffett and Craig Lane. A memorial service will be held Sunday morning.

FOLIO—A NEEDLESS RISK

Americans love to take a chance. That's why we have peanut vendors and multibillion dollar industrial giants and a way of life that makes us the most fortunate people in the world.

But Americans neither love nor respect the fellow who takes the "you-can't-win" kind of chance. He is the reason for most of our automobile accidents, our sucker lists, for much of our avoidable loss of life, health and fortune.

Until only last year the crippling disease called polio was pretty much like lightning in the sense that we never knew where it would strike and if it happened to hit one of our own, there was little we could do but call the doctor, pray, and turn to the March of Dimes to help us face up to the cruel blow.

That isn't so today. With the backing of that same March of Dimes, science has taken better than 80 per cent of the chance out of polio. We have the Salk vaccine. By that high percentage, we can protect ourselves and our children. And those of us who don't take advantage of this tremendous discovery are now taking the "you-can't-win" kind of chance.

Yes, your young child or your teenager or—if you are a young adult—you yourself, may go through life and get by without the Salk vaccine. But when we didn't have that vaccine, a certain number of thousands of human beings in America were crippled each year by polio. To those who don't get the vaccine injections, it can still happen.

Why risk being one of them? Why subject your children to that risk? Why not take the three seconds required for each of the three shots that will do so much to remove this unnecessary risk from your life and your family—See your doctor about it today!

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK IS COMING

The week of October 15 through 21 is an important one. It will be the 16th annual National Bible Week under the sponsorship of the Laymen's National Committee, an all-faiths group.

The theme for the 1956 observance is: "THE BIBLE—TIMELESS AND ETERNAL." Truth, Hope, Faith, Wisdom and Charity are the five basic virtues. These, too, are timeless and eternal—and these are found in our Bibles. So let National Bible Week be your week, the week to stress the importance of this great book, the treasure house of spiritual strength and faith.

NOT A BAD WORD

"Spread", it seems, has become a bad word in the minds of some people. The word describes the price difference between what producers are paid for raw materials—and what consumers must pay at retail for finished, ready-to-use products. "Spread" would not seem a bad word if there were a better understanding of what its significance is.

A spokesman for a grocery manufacturers association has said: "Without spread not only manufacturers and distributors—but farmers as well—would be out of business. Our bread would be wheat on a Kansas farm; our cheese and butter would be milk in a pail in Wisconsin; and our breakfast juice would be on the trees in a Florida or California orange grove. Without spread there would be no food business as we know it. The food business would consist of local farmers selling direct to local consumers."

This is true of all business—clothing, appliances, household wares, drugs, and everything else. Someone has to take the raw materials, transform them into articles people need and want, and offer them for sale. That's where spread comes in.

There is complaint because in many cases the spread is larger than it used to be. This overlooks the fact that people want, demand and get infinitely greater convenience in the form of processed foods and in other ways—and to "build-in" that convenience takes much labor and cost a lot of money. The fact that all production and retail businesses are intensely competitive guarantees that the spread will be as low as possible.

CENTER OF POWER

Politically speaking, how important are the smaller communities of the nation—those with less than 25,000 population?

Town Journal, working from the best available data, has provided the answer.

Small-town and farm residents hold a clear voting majority in 42 of the 48 states. They control 84 of the 96 U. S. Senate seats—and dominate 775 of the 435 Congressional districts. And—of very great political importance under the rules that govern our Congress—they elect 18 of the 19 Senate committee chairmen and 15 of the 20 House committee chairmen.

The grass-roots is the center of power in this republic.

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

How Are Men Saved?

The New Testament teaches one way to salvation. This is as plain as the Lord could make it. To say that people cannot understand the Bible alike is a misrepresentation. It is true that they do not understand it alike, but the cause of the disagreement rest with the people. Some understand it while others misunderstand it. Those who read the scriptures without any human medium of interpretation usually come to the right conclusion. Those who read the Bible in the light of human creeds always come to the wrong conclusion.

The doctrines that keep people divided are found in human creeds. The doctrine that unites people is found in the Bible. Here are a few things that creeds teach which the Bible does not teach. All orthodox churches are tight; no church has any part in mans salvation; men can belong to the church of their choice; conversion is a miracle; there is nothing in the name we wear; baptism is not essential to salvation; all are saved by faith only. These and many other errors are taught in human creeds. The Bible teaches none of them.

The big mistakes of many religious teachers is in telling people that they can be saved by one thing only—faith only, works only, grace only. The Bible teaches that we are saved by faith; that we are saved by grace; that we are saved by works, that we are saved by the gospel, that we are saved by the blood of Christ, that we are saved by baptism. The Bible does not teach that we are saved by any one of them alone.

A farmer raises one hundred bushels of corn per acre, how did he do it? One says he did it because he had good land. Another says he did it because he had good tools. Another says he did it because he cultivated it thoroughly. If each of these men should say it was done by one thing only, there would be as much disagreement about farming as there is about religion. All of these men may be right, but all of them are wrong if they teach that the big crop was raised by one thing only.

How about the water? Is that essential to a good crop? All of these men left the Lord out, and predicated the big crop on the works of a man. If there had been no rain, there would have been no corn. Yes, water is essential to a crop. The water is not applied because the crop is already made, but to make the crop.

So men are saved by faith, but not faith only. They are saved by works, but not works only. They are saved by grace, but not grace only. They are saved by baptism, but not by baptism only.

WICHITA-BRAZOS SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Many parts of the District have recently received sufficient moisture that will enable landowners and operators to plant that winter cover crop.

Winter cover crop furnish a protective cover on the land during the critical blowing period. They also add organic matter to the soil which helps to increase the water-holding capacity of the soil, plant food and air.

Winter cover crops adapted to most soils in the District include Austrian winter peas, vetch, or a mixture of these two legumes with small grain. When Austrian winter peas are drilled, 20 to 30 pounds should be seeded per acre.

The Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation District has seeding equipment that can be used in the planting of these cover crops. The type of equipment now available for planting these cover crops are: regular grain drills with fertilizer attachments, inter-row seeders (to plant cover crops in the middles of row crops) and special conservation plows that enables the cover crops to be planted on the sides of beds.

All legume seed should be inoculated with the proper inoculant in order to obtain the best results.

Sale Average $77.64 On 3,850 Herefords

A total of 3,850 cattle and calves sold in the special Hereford stocker and feeder show and sale at Fort Worth October 19. The event was the final such affair of the year at the stockyards, and had attracted an entry of about 4,200.

The average per head, straight across, was $77.64. Gross money paid to cattlemen was $298,919.33. Entry was lowered by the recent rains in much of the territory but this factor also served to strengthen the outlets, and a big portion of the supply went back to ranges and feeder lots in the Southwest. The largest single consignment was 1,403 calves and yearlings from the A. C. Ward Cattle Company, Seminole, Texas.

Most of the good and choice steer calves ranged from $16.50 to $21, with extreme top $24 paid for the grand champion pen of ten head shown by J. A. Matthews Ranch Company of Albany. Grand champion pen of heifers sold for $18.50 and came from H. Parrish of Hamilton County.

Cows Open 25 to 50 Cents Higher At Fort Worth

Supplies of cattle and calves were reduced at Fort Worth Monday following rains the previous week in much of the territory. The trade was very active on cows and prices were 25 to 50 cents higher. Other classes of cattle and calves reflected mixed prices and little change from the previous week's closing prices.

Comparative prices included: Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $16.50-24.00; fed heifers $23.50 down; common and medium steers and yearlings $10.00-16.00. Fat cows $9.00-12.00; canners and cutters $5.50-9.00; bulls $8.00-11.50, odd head $12.00. Good and choice slaughter calves mostly $14.50-17.50; fancy heavies to $18.50 and above. Common and medium butcher calves $10.00-14.00; culls $8.00-10.00; stocker calves of medium to good grades $13.00-18.50, choice scarce; steer yearlings $17.50 down; stocker heifers $2.00-3.00 under similar steers.

Hogs Open With Top Of $16.50 To $16.75.

Choice butcher hogs scored strong to 25 cents higher prices at Fort Worth Monday as they topped at $16.50 to $16.75. The less desirable eights and grades scored $13.00 to $16.00. Sows were unchanged at $13 to $15.

Feeder Lambs 50 Cents Higher

Killers Hold Steady

Stocker and feeder lambs reflected stronger demand resulting from the recent rains and some sales to go into North and East Texas were at prices strong to 50 cents above last week's close.

Slaughter types of lambs and older sheep were generally steady. Good and choice fat lambs sold from $18 to $20, and cull to medium sorts sold from $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder lambs sold from $10 to $16.50, with replacement lambs selling above $15.50 usually carrying good shearing pelts and some good flesh.

Slaughter ewes were quoted from $3.50 to $5.50, most sales $4 to $5. Old wethers drew $8 to $12. Yearlings muttons sold from $10 to $15.

Meat Workers' Merger Stalls, Could Be Threat.

With USDA already buying turkeys, potatoes, eggs and beef in efforts to bolster farm prices as the flood tide of food reaches a peak this Fall, there is speculation that a swine support program is also imminent. This could take the form of either pork or lard purchases, but a new threat to the vitally needed labor peace to process farm products loomed this week.

It was announced at Chicago that the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and the CIO United Packing House Workers unions had failed to agree on ways and means of welding their organizations and had called off meetings slated later this month.

One source of jurisdictional difference is the pre-packaged meats that have become so popular in the stores today. The Amalgamated workers, some 300,000 strong, insist this pre-packaging should take place in the retail store where their membership works.

Naturally, the UPWA, with a 150,000 membership, wants to continue expansion of this type of work in the packing plants. Should this jurisdictional dispute progress far enough, there appears a possibility that the processing and marketing of meat may be hampered. This could put added burden on livestock or poultry prices at the season of flush production.

The controversy has been stewing for more than a year and was precipitated when the St. Louis, Missouri, Amalgamated union officers demanded that pre-packaged meats other than that prepared on the premises be kept out of stores hiring their members.

Doleful Senators Due Shock When Ike Wins, Fears Doc

One of the strongest Eisenhower men in our town is Doc Brown. Doc says he just can't put up with Stevenson's socialized medicine program; there are a lot of other things he doesn't like about Adlai, but that one is enough for him, he says. Doc is a pretty outspoken cuss, but he's a good doctor. At least, he's the best one in town, being the only one, and our people always call him when they get sick whether they like his politics or not.

Seedling Texas' Parched Ranges

In the face of lingering drouth which has left countless Texas ranges baked a bare of grass, consideration must be given to re-establishing these pastures in the quickest, surest manner possible. In recent tests to determine best methods and grass strains for re-establish rangeland, significant findings have resulted which would prove valuable in all of Texas' widely-scattered range areas.

Treatments used in the re-grassing study included pitting (a tilled area 3-6 inches deep, 3-5 feet wide) without deseeding, pitting after seeding and pitting before seeding. Grasses used in the tests included strains of sideoats grama and v. mesquite.

In nearly all operations where pitting was used, moisture-holding capacity was improved and active growth was stimulated. Best results came from broadcast seeding following pitting, although operating involving pitting alone proved worthwhile when any significant growth existed. Native grasses that reseeded best on their own were sanduhly, purple threeawn and sideoats grama.

Solid pitting in every instance proved more valuable than skip-pitting done a 6 to 10 feet intervals, because of the greater moisture-storing capacity.

New Regrassing Seed

In tests being held elsewhere, a new strain of sideoats grama grass called Colonado has proved to be probably the most desirable reseed for the bald range.

Among its best qualities are a high seedling vigor and ability to produce stands, a winter-hardiness, and a high average protein content. The good seed strain of the new variety apparently is due to the fact that its seeds are considerably larger than those of other strains of sideoats grama. The sideoats grammas, as a species, are a "mid-grass". They cure on the stem better than tall grasses, but not as well as the short grasses. They are deep-rooted drawing moisture from as far down as seven feet.

This last quality alone makes Colonado, which admittedly was developed in Oklahoma, a good neighbor to thirsty Texas rangelands.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—An ancient pest that has bothered man down through the ages has taken on new significance in Texas in the past year or so. The pest is the lowly mosquito—the new significance is encephalitis, more commonly known as sleeping sickness.

Over 300 cases of infectious encephalitis have been reported in Texas in 1956 and 400 cases in 1955. The principle carriers of the disease are known to bug experts as Culex quinquefasciatus, sometimes called the southern household mosquito, and Culex tarsalis mosquitoes.

Immediate steps to control the disease should be taken to offset the increased incidence of encephalitis, urged Dr. Henry A. Holle, commissioner of health.

Every individual in both rural and urban areas can do his share by following a few simple rules to rid his community, and more particularly, his neighborhood, of the disease-bearing pests.

Both culprits breed in standing water. Culex tarsalis develop in a wide variety of aquatic media, with large numbers being produced in ground pools of rain or waste irrigation water.

However, Culex quinquefasciatus likes to be close to man. It seldom strays more than a mile or two and it develops in sewage or water rich in organic matter. It seems to thrive on a household environment.

By eliminating one square foot of standing water, it may be possible to eradicate up to 43,000 mosquitoes. That many larvae have been found on the surface in a square foot area.

The coming cold weather of winter will greatly reduce the tarsalis, but the Culex quinquefasciatus breeds all year round.

State Health Department authorities recommend these measures against mosquitoes:

Make certain that your house is screened; repair even the smallest tears. Use a space spray such as a gun or aerosol bomb type to rid your home of mosquitoes already in the house. Pyrethrum or DDT found in commercial sprays are acceptable.

Look around the house for vases or other containers that contain stagnant water, including the potato plant, and empty or change the water regularly.

Clean up the premises. Get rid of those cans, old tires, and other rain-catching containers. Those which you do not throw away should be turned over or removed indoors. Make certain that the drainage pipes and septic tanks are working properly with no seepage or standing ponds.

Such danger spots as chicken houses and other outbuildings should be treated with a residual spray of 5 percent DDT. The same treatment may be given the shrubbery. This is to kill those mosquitoes which use these areas for resting places during the day.

Any tanks or ponds should be weed-free and any overhanging grasses or shrubs must be trimmed. The control of large breeding areas will be handled by the various cities, however, it is the duty of everyone to help control encephalitis in his own neighborhood.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. MODERN HOMEMAKING

RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter
HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Feeding a crowd?
The success of any large quantity meal lies chiefly in planning. Plans should include the menu, the grocery order, the service and the clean-up.

The people who are to be served will partially determine the menu. Women's groups will best like one type menu while men's groups or mixed groups will like another. The high school set may be impressed with something entirely different.

In the first planning stage, keep well in mind the money to be spent, for a meal planned within the budget is far better than one requiring skimping at the serving stage or a financial report in the red.

Here are some other planning steps you will want to consider:

1. Suit the menu to equipment available: ovens, steamers, refrigerators, working space, cooking utensils and serving pieces.

2. Balance food that takes a lot of work with those that need little time to prepare, so all may be ready on time.

3. Plan foods that will hold up if a delay in serving arises.

4. Consider the time of the year and use what is plentiful.

5. Look over the amount of help available. Determine the speed of serving and decide if foods that take last minute dishing up and garnishing can be used.

If you serve large groups often, keep a card file of each occasion with the menu, recipes, amounts of food bought, cost per person served and comments on the success of the meal. Such a file can make quick work of planning. To add variety to future menus, include in the file copies of successful recipes suitable for large groups.

Many family-size recipes are good to serve a crowd, but it is better to repeat the recipe several times rather than making twice or three times the quantity all at once. This is especially true for baked products, for in these recipes proportions may need to be altered when the quantity is increased.

Too many cooks won't spoil the broth if the work is arranged properly. So each person will know what to do, furnish her with her own copy of the menu, recipes and work schedule. Assign each person a job to do and a place to work. The same plan of organization should go into serving the meal and the clean-up. With a plan of work from the menu stage right through the clean-up, that Church supper is sure to be a smooth success. For further information on feeding a crowd send a post card to Home Economics Department, Room 601, Lone Star Gas Company, 301 S. Harwood Street, Dallas, Texas.

Recipe Of The Week

Easy Baked Beans: Combine ten number two cans of pork and beans or two number 10 cans of pork and beans, one cup of firmly packed brown sugar, one teaspoon dry mustard, four tablespoons salt, ¼ cup of molasses, 2½ cups catsup and one finely minced onion. Pour into baking dish and strip top with one pound of salt pork, cut in slices. Bake in moderate gas oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour or until pork is done. Yields 50 servings, ½ cup each.

THINK BEFORE SIGNING

Whenever you are asked to sign something, your signature should be a warning signal that in some way you may become legally obligated by what you sign.

Usually you are asked to sign something as a result of a business transaction, such as a contract, a receipt, an order, a release, an option, a mortgage or a deed. For your own protection, you should clearly understand what you sign, why you are signing it, and what the consequences may be. It is rarely possible for a person who has signed a document to avoid its legal effects.

You can decrease your legal risks by always taking these precautions before you sign anything:

Know what you are signing and what the document contains. Understand clearly what it means. Don't be confused by its title—a "statement" may be a release of all your claims, or a "contract" may be a negotiable promissory note. "Co-signing" a note may result in your having to pay it.

Read EVERYTHING in any document. Clauses in fine print may be important. Remember, too, that oral promises not included in writing may be unenforceable. Take nothing for granted.

Check and verify the document. Be sure the dates, prices, names and conditions filled in are correct. You are bound by what it says, not by what you thought it said.

Ask questions. Inquire about conditions and items of importance to you. Don't sign unless you understand what it means. Language clearly stating what you want can be inserted. If substantial sums are involved, consult with your attorney.

Retain a copy. Be sure the proper persons sign. Request and retain a copy. Record it, if necessary, with the proper public official.

Like your fingerprint, your signature is unique. No one else has one exactly like it. Only you can sign it, and affixing it may set into motion events of great legal consequence. Treat it with the importance it deserves, and do not bestow it carelessly. If in doubt, seek information and advice.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

SATISFIED WITH YOUR COMMUNITY?

What is your community like? Is it the sort of place where families enjoy living? Are school, church, health and recreation facilities adequate? Or, do you often hear people say, "Our community is dying... if something could only be done about it." In 1956 more than 900 Texas Communities "did something about it." One hundred and eighty-seven of these were enrolled in the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the Farmer Stockman Magazine. Deadline for enrollment in the contest for '57 is December 31.

"Group action and interest achieved amazing results in communities that were on the verge of dying out," says Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, who assisted other extension personnel in planning with community leaders—"Individuals have different ideas about what is lacking in a community and what should be done about it. They need to pool and discuss ideas, to agree on what solutions are worthy of effort."

Some groups centered their interest around social activities such as recreation, church, school and drives for public facilities. Still others began by improving their homes, farms and ranches. Some organized to improve health conditions and services. In every case, as other needs arose, the programs were expanded to include more activities.

Begin now to do something about your community. Talk to friends and neighbors. Discuss it with your county extension agents. There are bulletins available that give suggestions on how to proceed. Ask for a copy of "Neighborhood Progress Through Organized Action."

participating in the sixth annual national Catholic Youth Week, from October 28 to November 4. The theme of the Week is "Trust in Youth". These young people represent the future of America, a future whose challenge is waiting to be met by the strong, the prepared, the self-determined youth of today. Confidence inspires such preparedness among young people.

National Catholic Youth Week emphasizes the positive aspect of youth. Youth wants, and indeed needs, responsibility. It is up to us to answer that need—to assist them in taking the reins hitherto untried. For today perhaps they have a sharper realization of their future role in society than youngsters of any other time. This is evidenced on every side by the earnestness, devotion and sense of vocation which, generally speaking, characterize our young men and women.

God who gives joy to youth, gives other gifts as well. These gifts, generously bestowed on young men and women in our day, constitute a firm ground for our TRUST IN YOUTH.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

In one of his races for president, William Jennings Bryan told the group of newspapermen who were traveling with him, "There is one subject I would like to discuss in my speeches but I'd rather not bring it up myself. Would there be anything wrong if one of you would call out, 'How about the Philippines?'"

The newsmen said it would be all right and one of them agreed to be the one to do it. One day, this man (let's call him Smithers) saw a bar near the scene of the speaking, which was just starting, so he decided to have a drink. Which he did. Also a second and a third.

Then he returned and, from the edge of the crowd, called out, "How about the Philippines?" Bryan did not reply so, thinking the speaker had not heard, he sang out again, "How about the Philippines?" But still Bryan did not take cognizance of the inquiry.

Just then, Smithers felt his sleeve plucked and one of his colleagues hissed into his ear, "We looked around and you weren't here so, Jones asked that question 10 minutes ago."

Back in the 1940s your columnist attended a pioneers reunion and one old-timer, in a conversation, related a story.

A preacher, in early days, was holding a revival. His wife died. Several nights later, he preached on the text, "Be sure your sins will find you out." He spoke with such fervor that suspicion was aroused. The woman's body was exhumed and examination disclosed that it contained a deadly quantity of poison.

The preacher had fallen in love with another woman.

Just then someone came up and the subject was dropped and I never learned whether the story was fact or fiction.

When Lincoln was a lawyer in Springfield, Ill., his wife bawled out the groceryman. He was offended and took it up with Lincoln. Abe smiled and replied, "You had one experience with her temper; I have to put up with it all the time." And then the grocer smiled, too.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out In Favor Of Brand New Lincoln Theory About Government Assistance

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is no student of Abraham Lincoln, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
You wouldn't exactly call me a student of history, I'm like most or us, I'm not sure what happened yesterday, not to mention century before last, so it was with considerable pleasure I read in a campaign speech the other day what a candidate said about Abraham Lincoln.

According to him, it was Lincoln's idea that the Federal government should "do for people the things they can't do well themselves," and he was in favor of that philosophy of government.

I want you to know that I'm in favor of it, too, but the trouble is not enough government officials will follow up on it. They've left me and Abraham Lincoln high and dry.

For example, take writing a check. I didn't know why it is, but the government is a whole lot better at writing checks than I am; that is, if you take the long-range view of writing a check and include getting it cashed. I don't mean to say the government doesn't write a lot of checks. My complaint is not enough of em are addressed to me.

Or take plowing. That's something I never have been able to do well for myself, although up to now the government has ignored Lincoln and left the job to me, as the shape my farm is in will demonstrate.

Other things I can't do very well are build a fence, patch a roof, clean out a well, butcher a hog, hoe a garden, mow the lawn, etc.

As far as I'm concerned, to take just one example, I think I can prove I can't plow very well for myself, and while I don't know that the government can do it any better, my notion is a lot of government workers are where they are in order to escape the plow, but that's not what Lincoln said. What he said was, according to this candidate, the government ought to do for me what I can't do well myself.

Obviously this opens up a brand new field for government activity, and I am now working on a list of all the things I can't do very well and will appreciate you finding out and telling me where I'm supposed to mail it. I'm on page five of my list now. Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Purpose of the achievement program is three-fold:

2) To recognize outstanding achievements by pastors and churches.

3) To help Texas Baptist realize their responsibilities not only to their own local church and community, but to the nation and the world as well.

Defunct Bank Owns Oil Property In Co.

The defunct River Oaks State Bank, closed by the federal government, has control of a section of a "budding oil field" in Knox County, according to an article recently released by the Associated Press.

"This was apparent," the article continued, "with the disclosure that the transfer of oil and gas lease assignments of 480 acres in Knox County had been made to the bank."

"A source close to those involved said the assignments were made to give the bank collateral for a loan of $250,000. One informant estimated the value of the leases and oil fields rented from $500,000 to $4,000,000."

"He said a loan was being negotiated on other leases on the tract, adding that if it can be arranged all shortages at the bank will be covered."

LOWER FREIGHT RATE FOR DROUGHT AREAS

Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director, was advised today of the designation of Farmers Home Administration to execute certification forms in connection with reduced freight rates recently worked out between the President and railroad representatives to further assist farmers and stockmen in drought stricken areas. This revised tariff provides for a reduction of 50 percent in the freight rate of hay forwarded to destination due to the drought, and applies only in connection with hay purchases of individuals who are entitled to assistance under the Hay and Roughage program.

Farmers Home Administration is authorized to execute certificates in behalf of farmers and ranchers only. Details of the program and forms required may be obtained from local county Farmers Home Administration offices.
