

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged
at Random

We got a "shot in the arm" about the deal around 18 years ago.

k-k

The first night we spent in Munday—landing here about dark-thirty with the aim of making the town our home for a spell—we were told that a local civic group was working on a paved road from here to Throckmorton, and eventually the road was completed.

k-k

Through the years all reports seemed to be discouraging, but the group plugged on. Then at long-last paving was done from Munday southeast and into Haskell County a way, but there it seemed the old snag was hit that would not give way to the persistence of those who desired a way to get out of the mud.

k-k

But this year—a time when there was less mud than usual—the road was completed, and just last week the highway department changed its highway signs in Munday, and for the first time an arrow pointed east from our traffic light, with the words: "Throckmorton 40".

k-k

We must drive over the road pretty soon. We understand it takes principally the same route as the old dirt road, through the Swenson spread, and shortens the distance to Throckmorton some 15 miles or more. And after some 18 or 20 years, those who dreamed of a paved road southeast to Throckmorton have seen the realization of those dreams.

k-k

Soon, too, another FM road will be paved from Goree south to connect with this paving. Then when, and if, it rains those who have ploughed the mud through the years can say: "If we can just get to the paving we'll have it made. We can get on into town for groceries."

k-k

We reckon every nationality of people show courtesy now and then, and the following which came to our desk just Tuesday night be of interest to you:

k-k

The Spanish say "Muchas Gracias!" The French say "Merci Beaucoup!" The Poles say "Gonknie!" The Swedes say "Takkor so mykktett!" The Greeks say "Ethanisto!" The Germans say "Danke Schoen!" The Italians say "Molto Grazie!" But we say, "Thank You Very Much!" Frankly, we like our way of saying it better.

k-k

Personally, we'd like to say, "Thank You Very Much" for a great big dab of moisture. It's been a long time since we've had to walk around, jump over or wade through a right sizeable mud puddle caused by precipitation, and we'd like to see if we can do it with enough grace and poise.

k-k

People, especially farmers, have been talking lately about how a good, heavy snow helps the soil. "There's nothing like a good snow to mellow the ground, let the moisture soak in and do a lot of good," they say. Most of us would be willing to postpone a Christmas trip for such an event, we imagine.

k-k

The lowly spud will be coming into its own next year, if plans of area farmers are worked out. Around 400 acres will be planted in the Munday area, and we understand about 200 acres have been contracted for the Knox City-O'Brien area. Along about the latter part of June, we'll likely have more spuds around here than we've ever seen—and those things are fattening, too, we hear!

k-k

Elmer Hendrix comes by every once and occasionally, driving "Old Kracker Krumbs," and we kinda have a feeling of ownership every time we see him pass. You see, that's the name he's given the 1937 model Chevrolet coupe used to own, and we drove the thing 12 years before he got possession of it.

k-k

Elmer says the old auto chugs along mighty fine; but, being mechanically inclined, he can take care of its idiosyncrasies better than we could.

Tex-Man Sam Sez:

When paying your income tax you want to remember that Texas is a community property state. It may come as a shock to your wife but she only gets half of what you and her together made. For tax purpose, in Texas the wife can only have half-not all.

If your wife worked and she files a separate tax return, she must show one-half of the community income of both husband and wife. She also takes credit for paying one-half the withholding tax. You can expect a tax audit if the wife files a separate tax return claiming a refund for the withholding tax she paid and then the husband files a joint return and does not include the wife's income and uses the wife's exemption. You can't do that.

Farmers Contract for 400 Acres In Potatoes; Seed To Arrive January 10

45th Anniversary Being Observed By Atkeison's Store

Forty-five years is a long time—but that's how long Atkeison's Food Store has been serving the people of the Munday trade area. Starting this week end, the store is observing its 45th anniversary.

Founded by the late W. H. (Uncle Henry) Atkeison when the town of Munday was rather young and small, the store has continuously served the Munday area and has grown with the town, adding new features and better ways of displaying and handling perishable merchandise as the years passed.

In keeping with the anniversary celebration, Atkeison's is running a full page ad in this week's issue citing special prices and a store full of merchandise for the event. All prices quoted remain in effect through Christmas Eve, according to J. E. Reeves, Jr., manager.

Farmers of the Munday area have contracted for around 400 acres in potatoes next year, and orders have been placed for seed potatoes which are due to arrive around January 10.

This acreage was determined mostly last week and was announced at the meeting held at the Munday elementary school building last Saturday night. Around 50 persons attended the meeting, including interested farmers, growers and processors.

J. W. Thompson of Acme Produce in Waco, a potato broker, talked to the group on processing and selling potatoes. He invited a number of potato chip manufacturers, who were present, to show that he had contacts with those who processed the spuds. Among those present were the following:

W. N. Falls of Saratoga Chip Co., Wichita Falls; Carl D. Garner, Rutledge Potato Chip Co., Fort Worth; A. R. Simmons, Famous Foods, Inc., Fort Worth; T. W. Creamer of Creamer Potato Chip Co., Waco.

Herman Neff, grower, packer and shipper of Friona, Texas, talked to the group on a contract for handling the 1957 crop. Other growers and processors present were Robert L. Kula of Fort Morgan, Colo., and R. D. Bliss of Bliss Produce Co., Greeley, Colo., also a shipper.

Prior to the meeting the Munday Chamber of Commerce sponsored a chicken supper for the visitors and several local people. Around 30 people attended the supper, which was served by Mrs. Ben Yarbrough at the American Legion Hall.

With the average planting of around 12 sacks of spuds to the acre, members of the local Vegetable Growers Co-operative have estimated that around 13 cars of seed spuds will be used. These have been ordered from North Dakota, it was stated, and will be arriving here during the first ten days of January.

Upon arrival, the seed will be inspected by a specialist from Texas A&M College before planting.

THE BIG THING

No one should forget what inflation has done in past times—or be blind to the dangers of still more inflation and dollar-depreciation in the future. At the same time, we should give due and well-earned credit to those forces and institutions which have done a big job in mitigating inflation's effect on living standards.

The National Industrial Conference Board has issued a chart showing the amount of time it took the average U. S. production worker in August 1951 to earn the money to buy certain items in universal use as against the time it took him in August 1956. It took less work on that latter date to earn 12 of the 16 items listed, including shoes, meats, refrigerators, and suits and dresses. The time-cost of two of the items—bread and gasoline—remained unchanged. Only two—potatoes and hair cuts—showed increases.

There are various reasons for this state of affairs—higher wages, increased efficiency on the manufacturing level, new techniques and materials, and so on. But there is another very important one that may be overlooked. Its name is retailing. Retailers, like other businessmen, have had to deal with all manner of rising expenses. Their answer has been cost-cutting innovations of every conceivable kind. And that has stretched the consumer's dollar to a far greater extent than is generally understood.

Back of all this, of course, is the fact that retailing is as competitive a business as anyone can imagine, and the retailer who is unable or unwilling to please the public never lasts long. The system—the competitive, free enterprise system—is a big thing.

MANCHESTER, TENN. TIMES: "You can always spot a well-informed man when he talks—his views are the same as yours."

VESTA, MINN. VISION: ". . . of all the bad things that a few hunters do, the thing that makes farmers maddest, is shooting around and towards the farm buildings, and in the direction of live stock or human beings."

ROSEBURG, ORE. NEWS-REVIEW: "It takes difference of opinion, difference of policy and political theory to make good government. The best government is obtainable when the division between major schools of thought is nearly equal."

SHIPPING YOUR HOLIDAY PACKAGES

You want your holiday packages to reach their destinations expeditiously and in good order. You can help assure that by following some shipping hints suggested out of a wealth of experience.

Use a sturdy fibreboard or corrugated container large enough to provide a 2-inch clearance all around the gift package. Old newspapers, torn vertically into 2-inch strips, then fluffed and crinkled, make the best cushioning material. Stuff 2 inches of this material all around the gift—firmly, but not too tightly.

Close the container securely, with twine or tape or both. Gummed tape is preferable for shipments going by express. It should be at least 2 inches in width, and should not be soaked but moistened. If twine is used, be sure it is strong, loop it all around the length and girth of the package twice to form a double strand, then knot it securely where the strands meet.

Take some pains with your marking. "From" to "To" addresses should be hand-printed on the top of the package and repeated on one side. Black crayon or heavy pencil are best, as ordinary ink may smudge. Gummed labels, preferably type-written, are also suggested. It's a good idea to place an extra address label inside the package, to provide identification if outside marks become illegible. Beware of sloppy printing and abbreviations. States should be identified fully. For example, there are 28 towns named Madison in as many states.

In holiday shipping, a little care really pays off.

A LIVING THING

We hear much of racial discords and injustices. We should hear more of the opportunities this country offers to people of diverse colors, creeds, and nationalities.

The other day a Hindu, born in India, was elected to Congress. One may approve or disapprove of his particular partisan allegiance and his views on government. But what the Chinese World, published in San Francisco, said of this occurrence is of much greater importance: "In the United States any loyal citizen who devotes himself to public service has an equal chance with other Americans to attain public office." It added that the new Congressman is making a trip to India ". . . to inform the peoples of Asia that in America democracy is a living, active thing, and not just a theoretical device to serve propaganda purposes."

WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY?

The Name Of Christ
It was thoughtlessness that caused someone to coin the sentence, "There is nothing in a name." In all human affairs there is much in a name. And in the word of God names are most important.

When Peter and John healed the lame man, they were questioned by the Sanhedrin thus, "By what power, or by what name have ye done this?" Peter answered, saying, "Be it known unto you, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him does this man stand before you whole."

In his speech to the Sanhedrin in connection with the healing of the lame man, Peter said, "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Salvation is in the name of Christ, and it is man's duty to learn how to secure it. Salvation is not in the name of Moses or John the Baptist. The name of Christ is above all other names because it is the only name in which man can obtain salvation. Paul says, "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name" (Phil. 2:9).

All obedience and service to God must be rendered in this name. Luke says, "Repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem" (Lk. 24:47). This great work started in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost. Many "who heard the gospel were convinced that they were sinners and that Christ was their Savior. They said, 'Men and brethren, what shall we do?' Peter said, 'Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins' (Acts 2:38). Baptism without the name of Christ is entirely worthless.

Those seeking salvation must believe in the name of Christ and confess it (Rom. 10:9-10). Then they must work and pray in the name of Christ. Paul says, "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him" (Col. 3:17).

This would be a dark and hopeless world, if the name of Jesus were blotted out. His name inspires great hope of life beyond the grave. His name is the hope of earth and joy of heaven.

The forecast accompanied an appeal to city and county mosquito control units to begin making plans now for local mosquito abatement programs in the spring.

"sleeping sickness" struck 336 Rio Grande Valley residents in 1954, and an outbreak this year in the Plains area of West Texas accounted for 341 cases.

They constitute two of the biggest outbreaks of the mosquito-borne disease ever recorded. State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle said. By contrast, only 96 cases were reported in 1955.

The Plains outbreak caused an estimated 15 deaths, Dr. Holle reported.

"Encephalitis seems to occur in epidemic waves," the commissioner said. "And for some unknown reason the outbreaks are becoming more frequent."

The theory has been advanced that an increase in the number of water impoundments makes for ideal breeding places for encephalitis mosquitoes. And the more mosquitoes of the type capable of transmitting encephalitis, the greater the chances of it being spread among the human family.

ty health departments to make sure they had both funds and technical personnel available for their mosquito killing campaigns in the spring.

He said State Department entomologists and vector control experts are available to local areas for consultation on their problems of mosquito control.

But he added: "Local programs will be useless without working funds."

Meanwhile, the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, meeting in New Orleans last month took cognizance of "the increasing exposure of man to mosquitoes due to various socioeconomic trends."

The society adopted a resolution in support of "more adequate work" in the field of mosquito control. It suggested that the work be done by the U. S. Public Health Service, in cooperation with state and territorial health departments.

THE EGG BUCKET

The egg bucket is on its way out. The once common sight of the farm boy using "egg wampus" as a means of bartering for groceries and, occasionally, "show money", on the wane.

The agricultural revolution of the last 20 years has taken its toll of this another farm tradition as farming has become less diversified and more specialized. The common reason is that it simply is not worth the time, labor and feed involved to keep a few hens on the side and bring the fruits of their labors to town on Saturday.

Yet a great many Texas farmers may be missing a bet for supplemental income by overlooking the possibility of using egg production as a "specialized" sideline.

While the old "hen house" with a few old tottering birds is an unlikely profit maker, modern facilities and improved handling operations can be made to turn in a nice profit. There is always a market for top-quality eggs, and Texas consumes several times more eggs than it produces.

Best way to get into a profitable egg business is to install an assembly line operation, providing for cooling, proper cleaning and regular marketing. Eggs from such a caged layer plant are not only in constant demand, but usually bring a nice premium in the market place.

For a great many of those Texas farmers who have gone out of the broiler business due to low prices, their empty houses might well be put to profitable use in egg production.

As added incentive for premium egg quality, on-farm grading and candling are certain to up the profit margin. Accurate grading facilities can be obtained at little cost, and free instruction on grading and candling processes will be given on request for the Texas Department of Agriculture or U. S. D. A. extension workers.

Egg producers who provide for adequate grading and standards now will also be getting in on the ground floor of the proposed Texas law which will make grading mandatory.

Texas is the only state which does not already have such a law, and its inauguration is certain to boost Texas' possibilities as a major egg producer.

Miss Joyce Michels of Dallas was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Gene Michels, and family over the week end.

Mrs. Della Parnell returned home last Friday from a ten day visit with her sister, who is ill, and family in Seagraves.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

OUR "BILL OF RIGHTS"

With December 15 being observed as "Bill of Rights Day" throughout the land, many persons are (or should be) thinking about what this important "document" means to them. This column will attempt a brief explanation of its meaning.

The American "Bill of Rights", consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791, specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech, and of the press. The same article protects the rights of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; and against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

(This column, based on Federal law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is full yadvised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts maychange the application of the law.)

Model Train Table Has "Peg-Board" Top

A MODEL train table has been designed to permit the wiring underneath to be brought to the surface at any point. This flexibility of wiring enables the young owner of the model train (and his Dad) to have utmost flexibility of track arrangements and accessories.

The multi-purpose top is a 4' x 8' sheet of 3/4" Masonite "Peg-Board", which has scores of holes spaced one inch apart in rows. Tracks may be fastened along any desired route simply by wiring some of the ties through the holes. The table surface is cluttered by wires, which are strung underneath and permitted to emerge only where needed on top.

Directions for making the sturdy table, as well as putting up a 3/4" "Peg-Board" panel on the wall for keeping accessories of the model train handy, are given in a free plan, No. AE-328. For a copy, send a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

A perspective in the plan shows a typical train layout in a boy's room, including a handy workbench adjacent to it. The bench is covered with Tempered Preswood which, like the perforated panel, is splinter-free and therefore safe for the hands.

FIGHTS ALL COLDS SYMPTOMS AT ONE TIME... IN LESS TIME! IT'S THE PROVEN COLDS MEDICINE

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Just Call Me Cupid

The counter down at Pete's was full yesterday, except for three seats near the end, so I plunked myself down on the middle one.

As I took my first sip of coffee a cute young couple came in—a girl in her early twenties followed by a fellow perhaps a year or two older. Without saying a word, they took the only two seats left—on either side of me.

Remembering my younger days, I insisted the young man take my seat so's they could be together. He hesitated at first, then finally he shrugged, grinned and said to the girl, "Well, let's make him happy. My name's 'Ricky'. What's yours?"

From where I sit, there was no harm done that time, but jumping to conclusions can be embarrassing. In fact, it's sometimes mean and intolerant—like the way some folks jump to the conclusion a man's "wrong" to prefer a glass of beer over another beverage. Lack of facts coupled with lack of judgment introduces trouble.

PANHANDLE QUAIL BEST

AUSTIN—First field reports to the Game and Fish Commission on the current quail season again headline success in the Panhandle.

The original quota for this experimental demonstration area was six hundred bobwhites. The added overall bag, he said, means that eighteen more hunters will be permitted to share in the area shoot, the next of which is December 15.

The Director said the Panhandle has been favored with better habitat conditions in recent years and therefore has been able to produce more bobwhites.

Hunting reports from other Texas areas vary from fair to poor, said the Director. One handicap, he added, is that in areas where there are adequate quail for good hunting the weather has been so dry that bird dogs cannot work successfully.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Hogs $5.00 Above Year Ago At Fort Worth.
Fort Worth—Hogs opened Monday with a 50 to 75-cent advance and choice hogs topped at $17 to $17.25. This was the highest price at Fort Worth since September at the market.

Mid-December a year earlier the hog top at Fort Worth was $12 and $12.25, so swine producers continue to enjoy a much more favorable price range this December than a year ago with prices a flat $5 per hundred better on butcher hogs.

Sows sold this Monday at $14 to $15, a few choice light weights to $15.50. One year ago sows sold from $9 to $10 at Fort Worth.

Cattle Open Steady; Calves Are Weaker

A sharp reduction in livestock supplies around the major market circle was credited with firming cattle prices at most points at the start of the week. Steers and yearlings at Worth sold mostly fully steady. Cows and bulls were unchanged.

Slaughter calves were dull and weak to 50 cents lower and stockers and feeders found a narrow demand and weaker prices.

Comparative price: Good and choice steers and yearlings $15.00-19.50, prime cattle lacking in the run. Fat cows $9.50-12.50; canner and cutter kinds $6.00-9.50; bulls $8.50-12.50. Good and choice slaughter calves $14.50-17.50; lower grades $8.00-13.00. Stocker steer calves $17.50 down. Steer yearlings $16.50 down.

Slaughter Lambs Open $1.00 Or More Off!
Slaughter lambs were around $1 per hundred lower at Fort Worth Monday, some spots 50 cents to $1 off and others on fresh or recently shorn lambs were $1 to $1.50 lower. Feeder lambs were weak to $1 lower. Old sheep held about steady.

Comparative prices: Good and choice wooled fat lambs $16.00-17.50 and shorn lambs with No. 1 pelts $17.00 down. Shorter pelt lambs sold from $16.50 down. Stocker and feeder lambs $13.00-16.00, shorn feeders $15.00 down. Cull to medium slaughter lambs $9.00-15.00.

Goree Wildcats Honored Monday At Grid Banquet

Football reigned again Monday night at Goree High School where the football boys were honored at a banquet given by the Pep Squad girls and the mothers of the players and girls. The school colors, black and gold, were carried out in the theme.

As the 150 students and guests entered the gymnasium, they passed under goal posts decorated in the school colors. The tables were decorated in black and gold, with gold footballs as center pieces with a name and number of a player on each, these in turn presented to each boy as a memento of the occasion.

Mr. J. B. Lawson, superintendent of schools, gave the invocation.

A quartet of girls composed of Jean Orsak, Linda Latham, Gaylia Mobley and Nell Beecher sang "Memories are Made of This" and "Tonight You Belong to Me".

Linda Latham gave the welcome, and David Moore in turn gave the response.

The football sweetheart, Martha Rodgers was crowned by the co-captains David Moore and Clifford Bradley, and presented with a corsage and was told she is to receive a jacket for the gift.

The football hero, Clifford Bradley, was crowned by Linda Latham, drum major of the Pep Squad, and a boutonniere by Samye Sue Bates. The entire group sang "Memories" at the close of the ceremony.

MODERN HOMEMAKING RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter
HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Christmas calls for cookies. They make ideal gifts, a welcome dessert for holiday meals and, with coffee, they come in handy as quick snacks for friends who drop in to say "Merry Christmas". Cookies and the making of them are a traditional Christmas treat. Here are some tips to help in your cookie baking pursuit:

There's no need to rub the baking sheet with shortening unless the recipe says you should. Except for bar cookies, always use a straight flat baking sheet small enough to allow circulation of air within the oven. Pans with deep sides prevent proper browning. Pans that touch the sides or back of the oven cause over-browning on the sides and under-browning in the center.

Baking sheets should be bright and shiny to prevent excess browning of cookie bottoms. If you don't have a baking sheet with no sides or very low sides, invert a pie or cake pan and bake on the bottom.

Cookie cutters add to the appearance and disappearance of rolled cookies. For the unusual, cut stiff cardboard to desired shapes, place on rolled out dough and trace around with sharp point of knife. The open end of a tin can makes a fine cookie cutter and the can may be used later as a sturdy mailing container for the finished cookies.

Keep cookies uniform in size and thickness so they will bake evenly. With drop cookies, heap teaspoons to the same height each time. Bake two inches apart on cookie sheet. Time cookies accurately by using the automatic timer on your range or an alarm clock. Do not wash cookie sheets between batches of the same cooking. Scrape them clean and wipe with paper towel. To test for doneness, press finger lightly on bars and squares (as for cake). If no impression is left, they are done. Crisp cookies are done when they are delicately browned.

Store bar cookies in a tightly covered container or in the pan in which they are baked. (Cover the pan tightly with foil or waxed paper). Store crisp cookies in loosely covered container. If they absorb moisture from the air, crisp them in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) about 5 minutes. Soft cookies should be stored in tightly covered container. A slice of apple stored with soft cookies will keep them moist.

To freeze bar cookies, arrange bars on waxed paper or cardboard. Place in freezer bag; seal; freeze. Or wrap in freezer wrap; seal; freeze. Allow 15 minutes for thawing. To freeze other cookies, pack carefully in freezer boxes or freezer bags. Seal; freeze. Allow 15 minutes for thawing.

For additional free information on cookie making send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Company, Room 601 at 301 South Harwood, Dallas 1, Texas.

Recipe Of The Week

Fruit Cake Cookies: Cream 1/2 cup butter or margarine. Add, creaming well, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/3 cup jelly. Add, mixing well, 2 eggs. Combine, stirring until soda is dissolved, add to creamed mixture 2 teaspoons soda, 1/2 cup milk. Sift together 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture gradually, mixing well. Chop coarsely 1/2 pound citron, 1/2 pound candied cherries, 1/2 pound candied pineapple, 1 pound raisins, 1 pound pecans. Dredge fruits and nuts in 1/2 cup sifted flour. Add fruits and nuts to batter, mixing well. Drop by teaspoon on greased and floured baking sheet. Decorate cookies with candied cherries. Bake in low oven (300 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Yields approximately 6 dozen. Cookies keep indefinitely and ripen in storage as fruit cake does.

Bob Ballinger of Texas Tech in Lubbock spent the week end with his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crockett of Winters visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keel and Leona last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duncan, Jr. and children of Dollarhide were week end guests of his sister, Mrs. Orville Peddy, and family.

Billy the Kid is the best-known outlaw of the Southwest—and his deeds are the most exaggerated.

He has been pictured as gallant, courageous, the champion of the poor. The fact is he was a killer whose gun was for hire. Quick on the draw and a crack shot, yes—but not satisfied with the advantage which these attributes gave him, he never allowed the other fellow an even break—unless he had to.

For example, he killed a sheriff from ambush.

Another example—when a faithful follower had been wounded as he stepped from a house and sprang back inside where Billy and his gang were holed up, Billy put a pistol in the man's hand and said, "They've got you; get as many of them as you can" and shoved him out the door and into a rain of bullets from the besiegers. Billy and his crew, facing hunger, surrendered.

It is true that on one occasion, Billy fought it out—but he was in a burning house and he and his men retreated before the flames till they were in the last room. Their enemies lay in waiting. One by one, Billy sent his men out until he was the only one remaining; then he leaped out the door, shooting, and killed a man, got over the wall and escaped. But that was a deed born of desperation. He had no choice. To surrender would have been suicide for his foes were sworn to kill him. Under those conditions, any man with a gun would have acted as he did.

When he was under sentence of death, he gained freedom by shooting one guard in the back, then—laying in wait—shot the other guard.

On one occasion, Billy and his men were riding along at night. Billy usually rode in the lead but tonight he changed places with one of his men. They entered an ambush and the man in front was killed. Did Billy have a premonition and give his follower the place of greatest danger? Quisenabe? In view of his record, however, it's likely.

Palm Springs Means Pools And Beauties

With pools and beauties galore, and abundance of celebrities of stage, screen, music, radio and television, Palm Springs, California is fast becoming the most talked about resort in the world.

These two lovelies are shown at the edge of El Mirador's fabulous olympic size pool—ready to dive into the warm desert water. One of these beauties inspired the new popular song "Back Door."

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Warren last week were her brother, Walter Medley of Santa Rosa, N. M., and her mother, Mrs. J. W. Medley of Haskell.

His admirers have expressed indignation at "the deep damnation of his taking off." The truth is, he knew that Pat Garrett was after him and he would have shot Garrett without compunction had opportunity presented. In the dark room, Garrett was questioning the owner of the rancher when the Kid entered. Garrett knew that in a moment Billy would see him and would recognize him because of his extreme tallness so Garrett drew and fired and the bullet found its mark. And so died Billy the Kid who in his 21 years of life had killed 21 men, "not counting Mexicans and Indians."

The man died but the legend has lived and grown.

How To Put A Punch In Your Party

Winter is the time for entertaining, and nothing is such a symbol of good cheer as a hearty punch bowl, placed on the table with your favorite help-yourself dishes. Punch comes from the Hindustani word meaning five, which is the classic number of the ingredients, and includes a wine or spirit, some other liquid, spices, sugar and fruit juice. British Army families spread the wonders of this drink as a way of solving the problem of entertaining friends without spending all the time serving them, and the punch bowl was a part of every Victorian buffet.

One of the best punches uses a dry Spanish sherry as a base, either an extra-dry fino, or a nutty amontillado. To two bottles of sherry, add the juice of three lemons and three oranges, half a cup of brown sugar, and such spices as grated nutmeg, ginger, cinnamon, allspice and cloves, as you wish, the total amount equaling a teaspoonful for each bottle of sherry. Chill the mixture in the refrigerator, and serve in a punch bowl containing a block of ice, adding a quart of soda water just before serving. You might decorate the bowl with long strips of lemon and orange peel, or wedges of pineapple and apples, although many people prefer to serve their punches ungarlished. This punch makes about 25 servings and can also be served hot, with cider or apple juice substituted for the soda water.

CLEAN FENCE ROWS CONSERVE MOISTURE; ADD TO FARM INCOME

Have you ever stopped to think how much undesirable trees and brush in the farm fence rows cost? A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says a recent study showed that a single large mesquite tree was using all of the water from one-sixth acre of cropland.

The farmer on whose farm the study was made reported that the tree cost him $9.10 last year. He averaged a half bale of cotton to the acre on his other cropland but got nothing from the area around the tree. He stopped and did a little figuring and for less than five cents killed the tree.

On another farm, Walker said, no crops were growing for a distance of 90 feet from a brushy fence row. In one mile of fence row the farmer was losing 10 acres of cropland. Countywide surveys have shown that in many counties upwards of 5,000 acres of cropland are not producing crops because of fence row thives.

Walker says if fence rows, trees and brush are not controlled, the farmer would at least save his planting seed, time and labor by not trying to produce crops close to brushy fence rows. This he adds would be a waste of good cropland and not very good management.

Now is the time of the year to apply chemicals to these moisture and soil nutrient robbers. Walker says research and many farm demonstrations have shown that best control is obtained by spraying the cut-off stump, the trunk base or by applying a solution in frills to the standing trees. The accepted chemical is 2,4,5-T which should be mixed with diesel oil or kerosene and applied with a hand or backtype sprayer. For the hard to kill trees, Walker recommends a pound of the chemical in six gallons of oil. For easier to kill trees a pound to 12 gallons of oil is suggested.

December, January and February are good months for carrying out the control program. Labor is usually available and working conditions more desirable. Too, few broad-leaf crops are growing which might be damaged from drift from the chemical. The chemical is nonpoisonous to man or livestock in the recommended formula.

MARINE CORPS SEEKS SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS

Young men who plan to join the Marine Corps for assignment to duty in the field of aviation and those who plan to enlist for electronics schools are urged to make application early to insure their acceptance either in December or January.

Aviation duty and electronics schools assignments are given on a "first come, first served" basis and the monthly quotas in these fields cannot be exceeded.

Staff Sergeant William Gallegly of the Wichita Falls office announced this week that "Men who make application now can elect to enlist in either December or January depending on quota limitations. Those who do so will have the opportunity of spending Christmas and New Years at home and will be enlisted early in January."

Additional information on these two programs may be obtained by visiting or writing the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, 10th and Lamar Streets, Wichita Falls, Texas.

This reminder from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council . . . fireproof the family Christmas tree by keeping its base in water; by using nonflammable decorations; by not using candles on or near the tree and by placing the tree away from heating units. Too, they say, make sure, lights, sockets and wiring are in top condition. Don't spoil Christmas by having an accident in the home.

DO YOU GIVE ENOUGH TO YOUR CHURCH?

The bulk of church members give little more than pittances to keep their churches going, according to a copyrighted article in the November issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

The overwhelming majority of giving is on a $1-a-week basis. But many occasional church attenders contribute as little as $2 a year for the support of the church to which they are anxious to come on Christmas and Easter.

Of the ten Protestant churches receiving the greatest total contributions, Presbyterians (U. S.) gave the most, an average of $75.54 per member a year. Lutherans (Missouri Synod) were next with $67.82 and Presbyterians (U. S. A.), third, with an average member contribution of $61.47. The other seven: Congregational Christian, $54.76; Protestant Episcopal, $51.84; Lutheran (United), $50.25; Baptist (American Convention), $43.17; Baptist (Southern Convention), $42.17; Methodist, $37.53; and Disciples of Christ, $34.77.

If you really want to help your church financially, pledge for the year. Your pastor will appreciate knowing he can count on a certain sum from you.

If you don't go to church very often, there is even more reason for you to make a firm pledge for the whole year. Your church cannot function on mere token support. And you expect the church to be operating when you go.

If you already use envelopes, you might give thought to a substantial increase.

Pay on time, too. Remember church expenses take no vacation.

A church that has to fight to get ahead usually is a live church. But don't let this thought comfort you too much. Most people, say church leaders, could double their contributions without straining their pocketbooks and with considerable beneficial effort on the church. The question is, the editors ask, could you?

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES AS CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Small electric appliances, such as fryers, mixers, waffle irons and coffee makers, make useful, interesting gifts. Extension home management specialists point out that such gifts are appreciated the year round by homemakers.

Before you buy, however, make sure the person you have in mind really has good use for such a gift. Next, consider storage space. Only when such pieces of equipment can be placed on counters, movable tables, or open shelves will they get frequent use.

QUAIL WINGS GAIN NOTICE

AUSTIN—Mailing of more than five thousand envelopes for quail wing collection purposes indicates the sound cooperation attitude of Texas hunters, reports the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said some individuals, including game wardens and other field personnel, have asked for as high as one hundred of the envelopes to be distributed among hunters.

Bobwhite wings are needed by wildlife biologists in their studies leading up to game management decisions, said the Director. The wings show age, growth, hatching data and other information. Persons returning the envelopes with wings from the quail they harvest are requested to separate male wings from female wings. Males are distinguished mainly by a white throat and a white stripe on the side of the head.

Results of the 14th annual beef cattle performance and progeny test at the Balmorhea substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have been released in Progress Report 1899. It is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims His Cattle Deal Has Turned Out Like England's Big Suez Canal Adventure

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is confusing a local problem with an international one, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
I read in the paper the other day where England, having spent a lot of money invading Egypt to protect the Suez Canal and winding up with the canal blocked and its money wasted, is asking the United States to postpone the next interest payment on its loan from this country, in the amount of around $70,000,000.

I know exactly the shape England's in, and I can tell you it's not comfortable.

While I never have spent any money on a canal, I spent money practically everything else at one time or another and I can report when you take on a money venture on borrowed capital and the thing doesn't turn out right, you can have a lot more respect for the feelings of me and England both.

Of course, I figured England was smarter than me, but I should've known better, as the more I learn about big outfits, the more I discover that frequently the difference between a little man and a big one is that the big one just

I understand the United States is looking favorably on England's plea to postpone the interest payment and I want you to know I'm in favor of it, provided the U. S. will save some of this favorable attitude for me and my situation.

I have some taxes coming due before long and I would like to call attention to the fact I invested in some cattle a while back and to put it in international language they turned out about like the Suez Canal. As I understand it, England captured the canal, but found it blocked with 49 sunken ships and out of commission for six months to a year, with the British winding up controlling the sand along the sides, and I can report my cattle venture wound up with me having control of a few barbed wire fences sagging between posts and a pasture that was producing about as much grass as the desert sands along the Suez Canal.

My question is, do you suppose there would be any way to get a small paragraph added to the agreement postponing England's interest payment to include postponing my taxes?

I'll promise to pay them later on, or at the same time England gets around to paying the interest on her loan, which I figure will give me considerable breathing time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hill visited his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hill, in Stamford last Sunday.

Mrs. Orville Peddy visited her mother, Mrs. R. C. Duncan of Electra, who is ill in the General Hospital in Wichita Falls, last week.

CARD OF THANKS

With hearts full of gratitude, we attempt to express our thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness to us during the illness and in the death of our beloved mother. Especially do we want to thank the doctors, ministers, nurses, hospital staff, and all those who helped in any way to make our burden of sorrow easier to bear, those who contributed floral offerings, food and for every kind deed.

Our prayer is that God will richly bless you all.
