GROUP MEETING LIONS CLUB HERE TONIGHT

MOGULS PLAY WEINERT HERE FRI.

Non-Conference Tilt Should Be Easy Victory

After a two weeks skip in home games, the Moguls will be seen in action again Friday (tomorrow) night when they meet Weinert's team in a non-conference affair, at 8 o'clock.

"We can't hope too strong to win this game," Coach Elmo Cure, of Weinert told The Times this week, "but we're going to work out every day and will put everything we have into the game," he said.

Coach Billy Cooper said his plays are all worked out, and was not planning last weekend to practice for the Weinert game, he said in a conference with Mr. Cure, Saturday.

The Weinert game is considered the easiest contest on the 1938 Mogul calendar, although their record in their own conference has been good, so far. Weinert school opened only last Monday, after a three week's vacation, and practice was suspended during that period, Coach Cure said. Their first game was lost to Holliday, 13-0, but since they have won from Rochester 19-6, Paint Creek 7-0, and Mattson, 20-0. Munday has been scored on for 115 points this year.

ANSON TAKES 31-0 DECISION FRIDAY

The Moguls ran into all kinds of trouble last Friday night when they went to Anson for their third conference game, which ended 31-0.

Winston Blacklock was missed badly from the Munday lineup and other players were suffering from various injuries. Anson scored in every period and the local boys never seriously threatened to score. Anson made 13 first downs to the Moguls' 7 and their playing was marked by long runs that kept them within the shadow of the goal line. A 35-yard run in the first quarter netted the initial score, and before the half ended another 20-yard run and later a short plunge gave Anson 19 points. A 21-yard dash through Moguls' line made 25 points and the one-yard dive through center near the end of the game gave Anson 31 points.

Anson completed two out of eight forward passes for 60 yards, and Munday failed to connect with any of eight flips.

MOGULETTES WEAR NEW UNIFORMS

The Mogulettes, one of the liveliest pep squads in this section of the state, were seen in new uniforms of purple and gold for the first time, at the Anson game.

Their cheering, and a formation during the intermissions, received commendation from everyone at the game. About 39 were present, including three cheer leaders.

AT "WINTERIZING" MEET

Clint Hawes, Magnolia agent, and Glenn Isbell and James Gaither, of Gaither's Magnolia Service Station, were in Wichita Falls Thursday, attending a winterizing meeting, sponsored by the Magnolia Petroleum company.

Among other entertainment was a banquet, at 6:30, planned for all Magnolia dealers of this district.

NEGROES LOSE COTTON MONEY TO TRANSIENT

Had Contracted With Farmers and Failed To Pay Pickers

Our nomination for the meanest man of the year goes to a transient who victimized a number of negro cotton pickers out of their pay here last week.

Local officers report complaints from the negroes that they had been hired to pick cotton by a white man who had contracted with three or more farmers to gather and deliver their cotton to the gins.

He was to receive 50c per 100 lbs. from the cotton growers and had agreed to pay the pickers 40c. His 10c was to cover the use of his own truck in hauling the cotton to town.

Saturday evening the pickers discovered that he had left these parts, and farmers reported to officers that they had paid him in full, according to their contract.

Officers are checking up on the man and it was said that he may be returned here to face prosecution. His truck was reported to be carrying a Texas farm license.

Cotton men in other sections are warned to look out for such a man, and to investigate similar propositions made by transient men.

College Chanters To Be Here Nov. 6

The Chanters, glee club organization of McMurry College, Abilene, will present a program here on the evening of Sunday, Nov. 6, Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wylie, dean of fine arts at the college, notified Rev. H. A. Longino, this week.

More than 30 mixed voices will be heard in this presentation, which is well received wherever given. Ted Longino, son of Rev. and Mrs. Longino, will appear on the program here.

Mrs. W. S. Bailey Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Josephine Bailey, of Abilene, who died at 11 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 19, were held at the First Methodist Church in Munday Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Bailey was born October 22, 1867, and died October 19, 1938. She was 70 years, 11 months and 27 days of age at the time of her death. She had been in ill health for a number of months and suffered a stroke of paralysis last Saturday. Since that time her condition was critical and her death was not unexpected.

She was married to William Sanford Bailey on November 11, 1885, and the couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on the fiftieth year from date, in 1935. Mr. Bailey died May 5, 1936. She came to this section in 1900 and settled with her husband on a farm one mile northwest of town. They moved to Munday in 1915, where he was justice of the peace, serving in that office for almost 25 years.

For the past two years Mrs. Bailey had been living in Abilene and was at the home of a granddaughter there at the time of her death. She had maintained her membership in the local Methodist church all the while and it was her wish that she be brought back here for funeral services and burial. It was not known here Thursday morning who would conduct the services. Mahan Funeral Home of this city was to be in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Bailey is survived by four daughters, Mrs. W. E. Gray, Mrs. Mattie Newsum, and Mrs. Bob Parks, Abilene, Mrs. Forrest Nowlin, Vernon, and one son, Bryan Bailey, of Wichita Falls. Besides these, 13 grandchildren and three great grandchildren survive. Four sisters, Mrs. Charlie Burton, Lamesa; Mrs. Arch Ferguson, Cleburne; Mrs. Minnie Cason, Lamesa, and Mrs. Nannie Walker, Koppell, are still living.

6,680 BALES AT LOCAL GINS MOST OF CROP

County Had Turned in 12,212 On Oct. 1; is Below Last Year

Munday gins turned out only 1,796 bales during the two-weeks period from October 6 to October 20, figures given to The Times Thursday indicated. On October 6, total ginnings here were 4,884 bales, and the total at noon, Thursday, was 6,680. The slight rain last week slowed up picking somewhat, and spotted cotton that was intended for the foreign mills project, County Agent Rice said, but cotton is at least 80 per cent out at this time, one gin estimated. Farmers report from 75 to 80 per cent of the crop gathered, but cotton men place the percentage at slightly higher than that.

Ginning in the county to October 1, was only 357 bales behind the bumper crop of 1937, figures released by the Department of Commerce, bureau of census, at Washington reveal. However, the earlier crop this year made early ginnings compare with those of 1937 but the total will fall far short, as the season was just getting under way at the first of October 1937, it was explained. The report shows 12,212 bales ginned in Knox county to October 1, 1938, and 12,569 ginned in the county on the same date in 1937.

Weinert Takes Mattson, 20-2

Weinert continued their winning streak last Friday afternoon at Mattson when they annexed that game 20-2 for their third straight victory since going down in the season opener at Holliday.

In the first quarter Weinert organized a power drive that netted 60 yards on the first five plays, and a touchdown before they ever lost the ball. McKennon carried it over but the attempt at a running play for the extra point failed. Before that period had ended, fullback Johnson got away for a 60-yard run that netted another score and an extra point when he plunged over.

Weinert completed their scoring in the next frame when they rang up six counters through a score by McKennon. They converted for the point and the half ended 20-0 for the visitors.

Mattson got their two points on an automatic safety when Weinert let the ball get away from them at the 8-yard line, to go over the goal and out of the end zone. It was a confusion just as the ball was snapped and no one took the ball as it left the center's hands. First downs went 7-0 for Weinert and they gained 205 to Mattson's 60 yards.

An unusually good crowd was on hand for the game, including a good representation from Weinert. Gate receipts of more than $70 came from 25c-10c tickets, and enthusiasm was high.

Mattson had scrimmaged Haskell the day before, and had to pull Watson their quarterback, after the first quarter, due to injuries. They appeared not quite up to par in Friday's game, with several changes in the lineup, but played heads-up ball throughout.

Subsidy Checks Total $145,458.08

The County Agent's office received 231 additional subsidy checks during the past week. To date Knox county has received 959 checks totaling $145,458.08, stated County Agent Rice.

Roxy Theatre Host To School Students

Members of the Mogul football team and the Mogulettes, local pep squad, were guests of the Roxy Theatre last Thursday night when the main attraction was "Hold 'Em Navy."

P. V. Williams, manager of the theatre, entertained about 60 students at the show and had neckerchiefs at both runs. Mr. Williams is an ardent booster for the Moguls and local schools.

Queen of Milkmaids

Hazel Drysdale, 19, of Altaloma, Calif., was crowned American Farm Girl Champion at Los Angeles County Fair after winning milking and churning contests.

M.H.S. Pep Squad Seen In Action At Haskell Fair

More than 40 students of Munday High School were seen on the program in Haskell last Wednesday night.

MISS VIRGINIA ATKEISON QUEEN OF HASKELL FAIR

Miss Virginia Atkeison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Atkeison of this city, was chosen queen of the Haskell Fair and crowned at coronation exercises there Wednesday night.

Miss Atkeison was formerly a Munday girl, and is teaching school in Haskell county.

day night at the crowning of Miss Virginia Bess Atkeison as the Queen of the Fair, when the Mogulettes, local pep squad, gave a formation of two other Munday girls were presented as attendants to the queen.

Miss Peggy Jo Haynie, whose escort was Winston Blacklock, and Miss Sylva Barnes, escorted by Charles Herbert Giddings, were seen as duchess and princess in the queen's court, and the Munday pep squad gave an excellent formation along with squads for Paint Creek, Mattson, Hamlin, Weinert, Rule and Haskell. Ceremonies were held in the Haskell school building instead of at the fair grounds as originally planned, because of the inclement weather.

A large number of local people were in attendance at the event, and many visitors from here were seen at the fair each day this week. It opened Wednesday and was scheduled to run through Saturday.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 people (the greatest ever to gather in Haskell), attended the opening day's activities Wednesday. The fair opened with a parade at one o'clock, after which the crowds poured into fair park stadium for a rodeo and that evening returned to witness the crowning of the fair queen.

PRIZE-WINNING HORSE BEING SHOWN

Grady Thornton, local dairyman, has his Palamino horse, which was recently awarded a first and second place at the West Texas Fair in Abilene, on display at the Haskell celebration.

The two-year-old saddle horse is said by stockmen here to be one of the finest ever seen in this section.

Local Girl is Pledged to Club

Lubbock, Oct. 20—Miss Betsy Reeves, junior student at Texas Technological College and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reeves of Munday, was pledged last week to Las Chaparritas, social organization for women at the college.

Miss Reeves is taking arts and sciences courses.

Sixty-five girls were pledged to five clubs on October 6, after 10 days of rushing. The seven men's clubs pledged 87.

DIST. GOVERNOR R. N. RICHARDSON WILL SPEAK TO LARGE GATHERING

More than 100 Lions, from six towns in this district, are expected to attend the district Lions Club meeting, at the new school auditorium here tonight at 8 o'clock.

The principal speaker will be Dr. R. N. Richardson, of Hardin-Simmons University, who is district president of the Lions. Dr. Richardson is well known to Lions throughout this section and his messages on numerous occasions have been well received.

The group will assemble at the large auditorium where a banquet will be served by members of the local home economics class of the high school.

Towns to be represented are Abilene, Merkel, Haskell, Roby, Munday, and the newly organized club at Knox City, which was sponsored by the Munday Lions Club.

Scarlet Fever Scare Subsides

Fear of a scarlet fever epidemic here had died down this week with the announcement of only two new cases by local physicians, and these were among children not attending school.

Last week there were three cases here, and school authorities dismissed the second grade as a precautionary measure, since the children had been enrolled in that grade. The second grade has been out all week, but will start back to school Monday, as usual, L. M. Palmer, principal of the elementary school told The Times.

Mrs. L. D. Camp Dies at Goree

Funeral services for Mrs. L. D. Camp, 79, were held at the Methodist church at Goree Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. They were conducted by Rev. Baker, Methodist pastor, assisted by Rev. Stevenson, pastor of the Baptist church, and interment was in the Goree cemetery.

Mrs. Camp passed away at the family home at Goree, on October 18. She was preceded in death six years ago by her husband, who died on May 20, 1932.

Mrs. Camp was born in Alabama but moved with her parents to Arkansas at the age of four. In 1893 she moved to a farm near Weatherford, Texas, and on December 1, 1888, she and Mr. Camp came to Knox county. Here they engaged in farming and in the raising of wheat and cattle.

Mrs. Camp is survived by four children, T. J. Camp of Goree; Mrs. John Coffman, Goree; Mrs. W. M. Mayo, Munday, and Louis Camp Friona. Two other children preceded their mother in death.

Snow Plow Ordered To Clear Road Wed.

Wading snow knee deep and having to wait on snow plows to clear the road, were experiences last Wednesday of W. R. Cabaness, who returned Friday from a short trip to Colorado.

Mr. Cabaness was camped near Gunnison, and reported an abundance of game. Snow fell regularly and rain was plentiful in the lower levels, Mr. Cabaness said.

LOCAL FIRE INSURANCE RATE IS REDUCED 5 Pct. BY STATE DEPT.

Removal of 2c Penalty And Training of Firemen Cited

Reduction of five per cent in the key rate of fire insurance in Munday was announced this week by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, who set the rate here at 36c.

For some time Munday has been carrying a two cent penalty which local firemen and city officials have been seeking to have removed. The insurance commission allows a three cent reduction for specialized training of firemen, and these credits were responsible for the reduction from 39c to 36c, the commissioner said.

CAKE SHOW TO BE SEEN HERE ON SATURDAY

Large Display By the H.D. Club Members Is Planned

Cakes of all kinds, made by some of the best cooks in Knox county will be displayed at the cake show in Munday next Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The display is being arranged by members of the seven home demonstration clubs of the county, under supervision of Miss Nina Astin, demonstration agent, and is expected to draw a large crowd of Saturday visitors and local people. Everyone is cordially invited to visit the demonstration, which will be in the Jones building.

Miss Helen Johnson, demonstration agent of Cottle county, has been secured to judge the cakes Friday.

Tea or coffee, and cookies will be served to all grown people who visit the demonstration, Miss Astin said, and a committee of judges will select the best in each group of cakes, for special prizes. There will be a table of wedding cakes on the left as one goes into the building, and next to it will be birthday cakes. The third table will display cakes to be judged, as will the table opposite this one on the right. Next will be seen a table of equipment needed in the baking of cakes, and the front table will bear Hallowe'en cookies and decorations. In the front windows will be seen a linen chest and Hallowe'en decorations.

The cakes may be sold after the show is over, Miss Astin said, but there will be no charges or admission to those who attend. Everyone is urged to visit this demonstration and see what is being done along this line by club women of the county.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce, planned for Thursday noon of this week, was postponed until Thursday, Oct. 27, T. G. Benge, president, announced Thursday.

Next week important business will be brought before the body and members are urged to attend, Mr. Benge said.

4-H Club Member Makes $375.65 Profit in Project With One Calf

Subscription Worth $25 Year

Getting $26 worth of good out of a year's subscription to The Times is the estimate one new reader places on her paper.

Mrs. J. D. McClaren, Munday Rt. 2, received her first paper a week ago and she came into the office Saturday to say that it was worth 50c a week to her and Mr. McClaren, who is confined to his home most of the time. At this rate, Mrs. McClaren, pays $1.00 to us for a year's sub, making us happy, and get $26 worth of good from her paper, making her happy.

The Times family is truly a happy set. Other subscribers report savings of more than a dollar a month in specials which are advertised in The Times. This is entirely probable and readers are urged to watch these special prices and others which merchants are not afraid to advertise.

One example of what an industrious youth can do with good livestock is shown in the case of Gaylon Scott, 4-H club member of Knox county, who recently submitted his report in a contest sponsored by the Santa Fe Railway. Selected as the most outstanding boy in Knox county, young Scott is believed by many to have a good chance at a free trip being offered by the Santa Fe to the International Livestock Show at Chicago, in November.

All 4-H boys living in counties through which the Santa Fe passes are eligible to compete in the contest. Gaylon reported as follows on his 4-H calf project:

Cost of calf	$30.00
Cost of feed	25.00
Incidental expenses	4.50
Total expenses	$59.50
Profit
Total prize winnings	$ 30.00
Calf sold, 730 lbs. @ 55 1/2c per pound	405.15
Gross Income	$435.15
Less expenses	59.50
NET INCOME	$375.65

Interest in Munday's new library project, being sponsored by the Munday Study Club, was much better than had been anticipated, with a large group of people attending the tea this (Thursday) afternoon.

The tea was planned for thertime when people were asked to bring books or cash donations to aid in establishing a permanent library here. It is planned to maintain a librarian at least five days a week, and books will be ready for loaning on October 29.

All those who have books they would donate are urged to bring them to the library, or to communicate with any member of the local study club.

Library Tea Today

Members of the Mogul football team and the Mogulettes, local pep squad, were guests of the Roxy Theatre last Thursday night when the main attraction was "Hold 'Em Navy."

P. V. Williams, manager of the theatre, entertained about 60 students at the show and had neckerchiefs at both runs. Mr. Williams is an ardent booster for the Moguls and local schools.

"What a Man Does For Himself Dies With Him—
What He Does For His Community Lives On and On"—

THE VALUE OF MONEY

One hears the remark made quite frequently, that such and such a person does not know the value of money. It is sometimes made about young people who have never earned much money outside the home. Some of these youngsters seem to think their fathers have access to large quantities of money, and they complain if it is not forthcoming for all the things their hearts long for. Some of them grow sour and bitter because they don't have the good times that some of their classmates enjoy. The value of money is the amount of time, effort, industry and skill which it takes to get it. After people go out in the world for themselves and struggle along with its difficulties for a time, they know more about what money is, they look at it with some respect, and do not part with it unless they feel they get the equivalent of the labor and intelligence they had to put into acquiring it.

It is extremely useful for boys and girls to earn some money of their own before they finally quit school. After they have seen how hard it is to get a job and how hard it often is to keep it when they get it, they may have a little more respect for Father's dollars.

Some ready borrowers of money don't seem able to figure on the amount of toil it will take to get the money to pay off the loans. If they can merely get some bill paid, and avoid some creditor pressing their debt, they don't seem to have any plan for paying off their debt. They have the easy feeling that times will be better, and that it will be easier to pay the loan than to pay the bill that now presses them. Such folks need to learn the value of money, and to realize that unexpected demands for it are constantly appearing. It is rarely easier to pay tomorrow or next week than today.

ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE?

It is hardly likely that as many as 40,000,000 people will vote in the elections of this fall. Yet there are probably 60,000,000 who could vote if they would get on the registration lists and go to the polls.

It is unfortunate to have so many people who thus fail to take part in the work of government. We need their help to discover what the people need. The fathers established this country with full confidence that the people could govern themselves better than any outside power could govern them. If people won't take the trouble to vote, or study the questions of government, the hopes which the founders of our republic held for its future are likely to be disappointed.

People should value this privilege too dearly to let it slip away from them.

AUTUMNAL COLOR

When autumn fades away into winter, Nature celebrates the change of season by a burst of glory. It is not a display seen everywhere, but over the greater part of the country, trees, vines and shrubs burst forth into a glorious symphony of color. It is as if Nature wanted to give him a grand picture of her powers, and to offer thanks for wonderful products grown for the nourishment and happiness of man.

Maples and oaks and many other trees burst forth in a flame of glory. If such a display of color was only to be seen in Europe or Asia, countless travelers would cross wide oceans to see it, and the memory of this lavish beauty would linger for a life time. If the glory is merely in some bush or tree on your home street, human nature becomes dull to that wonder and scarcely realizes it. Would we could fully appreciate the near-by glories of this wonderful world.

GOVERNMENT COMPETITION

"I believe that public funds should not be used in any way to subsidize public competition with private industry," said Federal Reserve Board Chairman Eccles recently.

It would be a splendid thing if this belief were held by other high officials of the government who are today spending millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money on projects which oppose private business which makes taxpaying possible. We have government-controlled power companies, penitentiary-made clothing, and among other things—a government printing office which operates at a loss to furnish printed and stamped envelopes to business men at less than cost. This is one way to save 25c on cost and pay 50c additional taxes.

WHITE HOUSE VISITORS

Since last April sightseers have been crowding into the White house at Washington at the rate of 5700 a day. The president and his family must often feel that they don't live in a real home, when a great army of tourists are trampling through their rooms day after day, eager to see every detail which can throw light in the life led by the country's leaders.

The people who attain such high positions have to reconcile themselves to a glare of publicity which must often get wearisome. Not many of us would want to have a procession of tourists peering into all the corners of our homes, analyzing our tastes and ways of living. The quiet life of an obscure home looks preferable to most of us.

Much has been said in favor of being a good listener, but that encourages someone to be a good talker, and we have too much of that now.

The good thing about beginning at the bottom is that you always have something solid to go back to.

A friend is the kind of fellow who is willing to furnish a crutch for the lame excuse you have to offer.

You've met a wise chap, indeed, when you find one who had rather keep his bills paid up than keep up with his neighbor.

SYMPATHY FOR THE CZECHS

The world feels very happy that the threatening controversies that seemed about to produce a terrible war, have been settled for a time at least. Warm sympathy is felt for the fate of little Czechoslovakia, which is to be so carved up that it will be hardly recognizable. It is distressing to see a prosperous little country which was going ahead by superior intelligence and courage, reduced to a small nation.

A mess was made when the map of Europe was made over after the World war. Inharmonious races and nationalities were forced to live together. Millions of them had to become subjects of Czechoslovakia, when they probably wanted to go with Germany, Poland or Hungary.

In America the different races live together peaceably, but in Europe, like quarrelsome children, they are often unable to do so. When the children get to fighting in the back lots, the disgusted parents come out, take them by the collar and separate them. May be about the same in Czechoslovakia.

I O U—$43,000,000,000

A few years ago there was a tremendous amount of public concern over the fact that the national debt had passed the $25,000,000,000 point. Today it is forecast that the debt will shortly touch $43,000,000,000—yet public lethargy and indifference could hardly be greater. This gigantic mortgage against the earnings and property of all individuals and all business no longer makes the headlines.

Such indifference is one of the most dangerous phases of the whole problem of debt and taxation. We will never reduce the debt, even as we will never reduce or equalize taxation, without an awakened, aggressive public demand to compel a change. It means more taxes and higher taxes, a steadily lessened national income that can be spent for productive purposes—and more hard times in the future.

Wake up to the fact that the public debt is your debt. It is inescapably related to your job, your savings, your opportunities, your security.

BEFORE LYING WAS COMMON

The Sunday School teacher had asked a little girl why it was that Ananias, who according to the Bible, was struck dead because of a lie, was so severely punished. The small girls replied that it must have been because they weren't so used to lying in those days.

For a change, this pupil was teaching the class a great lesson that day. Not all men are liars, but few, indeed, are not guilty here and there of misrepresenting things in an effort to help others, or better their own position.

Here is another lesson that could be learned from your newspapers. Usually, when there is nothing good at all that can be written about a subject, newspapers prefer to remain silent entirely. It is never necessary to tell a lie. It is the cowardly, the cheap way, and always the unwise solution to a difficult situation.

THE ARMY OF THE LORD

Some people say the churches are dying out. Yet they made a total gain of 747,000 members in this country last year. The total number of members is now computed at nearly $64,000,000.

That is a tremendous force for the support of all good causes if it could be mobilized to accomplished desired results. In many places, the ministers would say they have too many members who join the church and they do not show interest in church work. They will ask what they can do to wake up their non-active church members. Such clergymen will probably say the Army of the Lord is a great and mighty power, and would be mightier if some folks did not have such long furloughs in their terms of enlistment.

THE EARLY DARK

The days of autumn when the sun is setting earlier are of special peril for automobile drivers. Around cities and towns, especially, people are hurrying to get home. They are tired with their day's work, and probably do not exercise the same care they would when less fatigued. In their nervous impatience, they take too many chances.

In large cities the situation is especially bad. Tangles of automobiles appear at the principal intersections. There are not signals and police enough to control all this traffic. Motorists would better realize that the early dark is a time to go slow, and watch what the other fellow is doing. Better be five minutes late than spend five weeks in the hospital.

The Puritans reared their children in fear of the Lord and did not promise them a life of ease, says the Colorado Record. With social security coming in, heavenly security is less talked of and less thought of. It may prove to be poor security at that.

Facts Worth Knowing

The ordinary pins, so commonly used today, were once so expensive that only the wealthy people could afford them. The term "pin money" dates from that time, referring to the allowance a husband gave his wife to purchase pins. The highest and lowest places in the United States are both in California and only eighty-six miles apart. Mt. Whitney is 14,496 feet above sea level; Death Valley is 276 feet below sea level.

It has been estimated that in a day the average farmer walks 26 miles, a letter carrier 22, policemen 14, boys 15, girls 11 1-2, and housewives 8.

A frown demands a greater expenditure of energy than a smile, fifty muscles being brought into action when frowning, while only thirteen are required for a smile.

Compliments, Criticisms and Casual Comments

BY T. F. FRY

Bicycling stole the show in Munday last week and the tandem (double) bike came in for its share of popularity among the girls. Which leads up to the story about some quick-thinking on the part of a high school junior. They had almost pulled the hill when the girl in front quit pedaling. "We just can't pull it," she said. "Yeah, and we'd have rolled back if I hadn't been holding the brake," the back-seat driver replied.

(No offense to our new library project.) Someone asked this week where the old-time dime novel had gone and a local minister replied it had gone to $2.50 and was being sold "like the wind."

If the following ad indicates what Denison people think of school teachers, we'd hate to be teaching there. It read: "For Rent: furnished front room near high school. Faculty member preferred, or one gentleman. Phone . . ."

Your newspaper has come to the rescue in an item on page two, under "Facts Worth Knowing," telling had to test eggs. Previously, we inquired for a sure method and Leland Hannah said: "You place them in hot or cold water and they either sink or float, and that tells whether they're good or bad, I've forgotten which."

This story may not be true but it was allegedly overheard when a local clerk and his wife come out of the show last week. "Why in the dickens do you cry over some actress you've never seen, when she's just putting on a show?" he asked the tender-hearted little girl. "For the same reason," she replied coyly. "that you yell like a zebra when a man you've never seen makes a show of sliding onto third base, I guess."

"I can ask one question," says a South Texas editor, which will cause every woman in the sewing bee to become suddenly quiet. "Pressed by many hundreds of inquirers, he disclosed that it was 'Which of you ladies is the oldest?'"

And that reminds us of a debate among several ladies once as to which are the ten best years of a woman's life. It was settled by a man who said it was that period between the ages of 21 and 24 . . .

Going back 25 years, your reporter digs up more real history from an old-fashioned mother (God bless 'em) and three older sisters than most columns entitled "Forty Years Ago" contain. Here is the trend of memory of 1912: Ladies wore large rolls of hair over the ears. They wore bustles (it was rumored). Operations were rare . . . and deaths pretty certain. Nobody had seen a silo. Appendicitis had not become fashionable. Only a "city sport" wore white shoes. Cream was 5c a pint. Cantaloupes were muskmelons. Advertisers did not stick to the truth. Doctors looked at your tongue and left some of their patients with tonsils. The butcher "threw in" a big chunk of liver. Jules Verne was the only submarine man known, and he was considered woozy. Girls blushed. Men did, too. Dad gave a negro a quarter to pick his guitar and sing a few stanzas of "De Preacher an' De Bear."

Girls waved pennants and giggled "goody" when somebody made a touchdown. People who drank whiskey were outcasts. The whole family went to Sunday School and church. Mothers visited the kiddies' school rooms . . . and everybody was scared. We had to get in the kindlin' and bank the fires every night. Sister usually spilled coal oil from the lamps on the kitchen table. The groceryman always gave a sack of candy when dad paid his bill. Dad always paid his bill on the first. Children learned to walk before they tried to drive cars.

TIL WE MEET AGAIN
The Irishman had been having a great argument and meant to finish his opponent once and for all.

"The sooner I never see your face again," he said. "the better it will be for both of us when we meet."

Our Own Al Smith Describes Mexico

Albert C. Smith, who has been calling on newspaper offices in this section as a representative of E. C. Palmer & Co., Ltd., of Dallas for the past five years, told The Times force Saturday about his recent vacation trip to Mexico. Al is a true sportsman and pretty handy with a .35 Remington and his two weeks trip, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, was to hunt deer.

He describes the locale of his recent trip as being 325 miles south of Monterey and 90 miles in from the Gulf. Altitude there is 350 feet and 80 miles from that place it ranges from 6,000 to 8,000 feet. As a result, the recent Gulf storm broke up in the mountains nearby and they got six months' rain in 24 hours, Smith says. He was waterbound for two additional weeks.

While there, he was invited to go out two or three miles and hunt mountain lions with a .22 rifle. Government regulations forbid natives owning anything larger than a 25-20, he said, and he declined the invitation. He says the government is especially considerate of tourists and had railways haul automobiles out of the inundated area to the open highway, free of charge.

Mr. Smith shows much enthusiasm about Mexico as a vacation resort. The best hotel in Mexico City he says, is much finer than anything in Houston or Dallas, if not quite as large, and it provides car storage, and room for two with private bath, for nine pesos a day, which is $1.80 in American money. Eight-course dinners, with dancing privileges with a 14-piece band cost the equivalent of 75c per person, and people who drive cars there are the upper class, he explained.

Only two classes of society in Mexico are recognized, the salesman said. There are the peons, and the upper class. There is no middle class, and a tip of one peso, (20c) is ample payment for most any heavy task. The Times force plans a Scotch vacation to Mexico this late fall. That's staying on the job and letting our minds wander to those inviting places we hear about.

LUNCHEON OR BRIDGE
The landlady brought in a plateful of extremely thin slices of bread and butter, which rather dismayed her hungry men boarders. "Did you cut these, Mrs. Brawn?" said one. "Yes, I cut them," came the stern reply. "Oh," went on the boarder. "All right; I'll shuffle the deal!"

Hints for the Household

Nails can be driven into plaster walls without marring the adjoining surface if they are placed in hot water for a few minutes or dipped into melted paraffin.

Before washing men's ties, baste them carefully to prevent the lining or padding from becoming lumpy. Remove the basting before ironing and the ties should lay flat like new.

To test eggs for freshness, place them in a pan of water. If fresh, they will lie on one side; if a few days old they will tilt upward, and if stale they will stand on one end. If very old, an egg will float.

When a garment is stained by perspiration, sponge spot with white vinegar. Wipe dry with a soft clean cloth.

Metal tops of salt shaker will not corrode if the inside of the cover is treated with melted paraffin. The holes may be opened before the paraffin becomes set.

If tea cups have brown stains, rub them with a damp cloth dipped into baking soda. The discoloration will disappear.

Car Speed Fast As Artillery Shell

Capt. G. E. T. Eyston, who set a land speed record of 357.5 miles an hour in his seven ton automobile last month, made the following statement:

"Tires are able to withstand six miles a minute," he said, "prove that tires can be built which will not blow out at ordinary road speeds. Finer steels and light aluminum alloys and the precise workmanship which go into the construction of such a machine as the Thunderbolt with its 4,000 horsepower inevitably mean advances for the motor car intended for the average driver."

After describing how his machine was started by being pushed by a truck just to get the huge engines turning over, and how the change was made from second gear to top gear at a little over 200 miles an hour, Captain Eyston said that when the machine attained its top velocity the eight 48-inch wheels were revolving forty-five times a second. Sped reached, he added, 550 feet a second, which compares with 700 feet a second for the bullet of a .45 calibre revolver and about 400 feet for a howitzer shell.

"During the runs," he said, "the Thunderbolt gives off a streamer of black smoke about three and a half miles long. It passes the timing observers with their electric eyes, simply as a 'swish.' Sound of its passing follows about a half mile behind."

DON'T HUMOR NERVOUS CHILDREN

ALMOST every child develops some habits that may be called neurotic or nervous and most of these habits disappear automatically as the child grows older and as its nervous system develops more fully," according to Dr. Morris Fishbein, president of the American Medical Association. "Thumb sucking," says Dr. Fishbein in an article in the November Pictorial Review, "is a normal habit in practically all infants. In most instances it is given up with advancing years; but if parents, nurses, or guardians overemphasize the habit, it may easily become fixed and continue throughout childhood." To prevent him from becoming nervous, a child should be kept clean and comfortable and out of the company of a large number of adults and other children. He should be left alone when he cries, Dr. Fishbein points out. "These and similar indulgences," he says, "contribute to the development of self-centered, disagreeable nervous infants." "The management of a nervous child requires careful planning. The sooner his condition is recognized, the more can be done to prevent the development of disturbances of behavior, so likely to produce unhappiness."

West Texas Today Has Long Story About Local Men

Recognition of Munday and several of its leading citizens was made in the October issue of "West Texas Today," official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, when pictures of W. E. Braly, W.T.C.C. director, and T. G. Bengel, president of the Chamber of Commerce, were printed.

The story, headed Munday, Home of Cooperatives, Located in the Heart of the Famous Knox Prairie, is Wide Awake, Progressive Small City, is as follows:

Munday, with a population of 2,000, is one of the most progressive small cities in West Texas. The town is located half-way between Abilene and Wichita Falls, in the heart of the famous Knox Prairie, Knox county, and is served by state highway 30 and the Wichita Valley railway.

Principal income of the trade territory is derived from cotton, wheat, maize, livestock, dairy and produce products, and the territorial livelihood is chiefly attributed to farming. A cotton compress, cotton oil mill, four gins and two grain elevators, however, add much income to the city business volume.

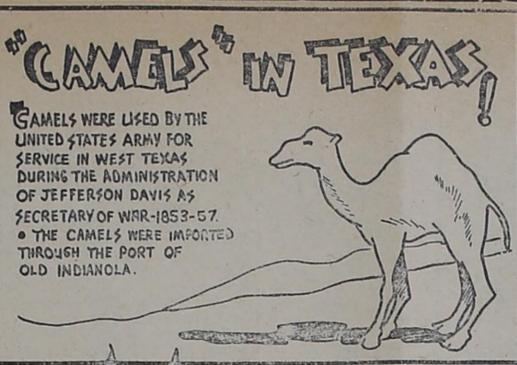

The rich soil is tilled by progressive farmers, using modern farming methods and machinery. Much thought is being given by farmers of the Munday area toward improving the cotton staple in this section. Over 4,000 acres were planted to one variety, acal first year seed, this spring and three-fourths of cotton planted in the area is of long staple variety. Munday is often referred to as the "birthplace of Farmers' Cooperatives," and now has the richest co-operative organization in the state. The state convention is held annually in this city and this year the president and secretary Peter Lorán and J. E. Edwards and one director, August Schumacher, are Munday citizens.

Munday has a large trade territory, and a live, wide-awake group of businessmen. Chief exponent of the city's possibilities and leading civic organizations is the Chamber of Commerce, headed by T. G. Bengel. Last year a Lions club was organized and is fast becoming a leading builder of the city from a "service" angle. A Boy Scout troop was organized last year and is making headway in character building of the youth of Munday. The city is affiliated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and is represented on the WTCC board of directors by W. E. Braly, cashier of the First National Bank.

Four churches serve the city in religious activity, the First Methodist, First Baptist, Presbyterian and Church of Christ. Another church of vital importance to Munday is the St. Joseph Catholic Church of Rhineland, an $80,000 structure. The city is well supplied with entertainments and recreation for the citizens. A nine hole golf course and five clay tennis courts, both club affairs, are accessible. Soft ball and a community-wide recreation program are also popular. The Munday Moguls furnish most of the athletic competition during the school months, and a $1,500 athletic plant including new lighted football field has been erected. The Roxy Theatre is considered one of the finer show houses of this section, and plays latest productions.

Utilities serving the city are the

The Munday Cottonoil Company has contracts each fall to ship feed to ranchers in Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Montana, and also supplies products to feed out some 4,000 head of cattle at Munday.

By MIGNON

Am anxiously waiting to read some new books that are in the making—one an autobiography by Charles Miller; "Blossoms on the Stem" by Mignon; "The Psychology of the thing Is," by one of the Jones boys; and some feature stories by one of the Smith boys, all Oklahoma writers.

On a calendar nearby are two clippings from Dale Carnegie's column. One is 10 rules for young women. The 10 suggestions are vital to girls in finding happiness and are as follows:

1. As a college graduate, you will be judged not so much by what you know as by what you can do and how well you do it.
2. Be sparing in your criticism of others. There is enough snobishness in one's nature without deliberately cultivating it.
3. Do not let your emotional life control you—unless you have first learned to control your emotions. Feel deeply, but think clearly.
4. To look your best you must be your best. Poise and personality are nine points of "good appearance."
5. Be able to do something useful and do it well. Even if you never have to make your own way financially, you will experience a deep sense of satisfaction in being equipped for independence.
6. Choose a man you can respect for his ability and character. The way he wears his manners is more important than the way he wears his clothes.
7. Learn to converse intelligently and pleasantly. Small talk is useful at tea parties but is a questionable diet for daily conversation.
8. Don't pay too much for popularity. Think honestly; maintain a high sense of values; and set your standards accordingly.
9. Keep your confidence in yourself. You will need it not only while you are in college but much more after you graduate.
10. Don't be afraid of an intelligent inquiry into the religious values of life. Whether you know it or not, you are constantly developing a spiritual creed. And your ultimate philosophy of living will be your religion.

—Dale Carnegie

"That's the psychology of the thing." How many times have we heard this egotistic expression used by our acquaintances to bring out some point in a speech or a highlight in an argument? The next time we hear this particular expression would it not be proper to answer, "Whose psychology?" To most of us psychology is a far-fetched entity that only the most learned can deal with. This is far from right. Each individual has his own psychology and uses it to the best of his ability. By experience will all of the people we know we form our own psychology unconsciously, and use it, because that is the main thing that makes us different from other people. We admire some other because they are different to an extreme degree and their psychology is different.

Then, since we are all different why should we not say—"That's my psychology of the thing!"

Proposed Cotton Plan Dangerous, Says J. W. Smith

J. W. Smith, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee, warns farmers to study thoroughly the Domestic Cotton Allotment Plan before advocating it or signing any petition asking Congress to enact it in the near future.

"I believe that every farmer should ask himself: Who is advocating the Domestic Cotton Allotment Plan? Is it the farmers themselves, or is it the handlers of the cotton after it has left the hands of the farmers? Who is sponsoring the petition that you are being asked to sign? Is he a farmer?"

"I believe that the present farm program embodies all the good features of the Domestic Allotment Plan by permitting us to sell all the cotton we raise off our allotted acres, and some of the control features of the old Bankhead act," Mr. Smith said.

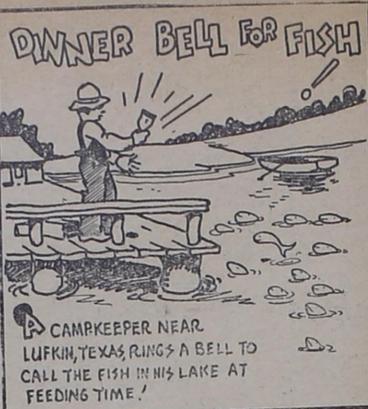

Knox county farmers should be slow, Smith warned in advocating a new program that we know nothing about. Under the Domestic Allotment Plan, cotton production will be turned loose and every available acre in Texas will go into cotton.

"Everyone knows that the cotton farmer realizes less money in bumper cotton years," the chairman pointed out.

WEIGHING A PIG WITHOUT SCALES

You don't have to have any of these new-fangled scales to weigh pigs, or other light livestock, said a college graduate recently.

"There's an easy way to weigh a pig with scales. You get a plank and put it across a stool. Then you get a big stone. Put the pig on one end of the plank and the stone on the other, and shift the plank until they balance. Then you guess the weight of the stone and you have the weight of the pig."

URGES WHEAT TREATMENT TO PREVENT SMUT

Loss of 5c Bushel is Sustained in 16 Cars This Year

Farmers should treat their seed wheat to control smut, warned County Agent W. W. Rice this week.

The past season, 16 cars of wheat were shipped from Knox county which were docked from 2c to 5c per bushel because of the smut, he disclosed.

The seed wheat should be treated before seeding to prevent smut in next year's crop as crop insurance, as well as to save a loss from dockage, he emphasized. The wheat should be treated with copper carbonate or new improved Ceresan and these products may be purchased from most drug stores of the county. Mr. Rice recommends the use of about two ounces of the dust per bushel. It should be mixed thoroughly so that every kernel of wheat has a coating of copper dust, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sied Waheed and George Saleen visited friends in Hamlin, last Sunday.

Albany, Abilene Losers Last Week

Hard luck continued to dog the footsteps of leading 9-B conference teams last weekend as Abilene's B's went down 35-8 to Haskell, and Albany surrendered after a 6-0 battle with Stamford.

Interest in these two games was keen, since one team in each contest has played Munday and Stamford, one of the opponents, is due to play here October 28. Albany took Munday 32-0 on September 30, and their loss to Stamford makes the clouds look pretty dark at the present time.

However, Munday has lost only four of the nine games scheduled, and a win this weekend over Weirnet would stimulate local spirit considerably.

In Class C, Rule beat Paint Creek, 45-7, and Swenson took Rochester, 26-0, last Friday.

$26 is Price of Drunkenness Here

Two men, weighed on the scales of sobriety and found wanting, were jailed here over the weekend on intoxication charges.

One arrested Saturday night, agreed to work out his fine and costs, amounting to $13, on the city streets, as he was unable to pay off. "He's one of the best men the city has," said Judge Osborne of the city recorder's court, Wednesday.

The other, taken into custody Monday morning, paid his fine that evening and was released.

Wheat Allotment Is 16,433 Acres

The wheat allotments for the individual farms have been mailed out from County Agent W. W. Rice's office. Knox county will be allowed to plant for harvest 16,433 acres of wheat.

The original allotment for this county was set at 13,200 acres by the Washington AAA office, based on the 10-year average of harvested wheat. Three efforts of the county committee in presenting additional records of wheat acreages, the allotments were raised from 13,200 acres to 16,433 acres through Washington.

Why Newspapers Ask For "Early Copy"

The Advertiser Is Unfair to Himself When He Sends His Advertisement to the Newspaper Office Just Before the Dead-Line

Early "Copy" Late "Copy"

1. Better position.
2. No errors.
3. Time for store corrections.
4. Good typography.
5. Prompt delivery to reader.
6. Fair to mechanical staff.
7. Advertisement well written.
8. Advertisement inserted.
9. Overhead normal.
10. Illustrations correct.

- Risk of poor position.
- Risk of typographical errors.
- No opportunity for store corrections.
- Risk of poor typography.
- Risk of late delivery.
- Unfair physical and mental strain.
- Advertisement hurriedly written.
- Risk of omission.
- Often cause of rate increase.
- Risk of misplaced cuts.

- While a newspaper is a marvel of mechanical efficiency, there are limits on what can be done by a given force of printers, stereotypers and pressmen in a short, crowded period of stress.
- There is plenty of time to give every advertiser good service when early copy is sent in.
- The Times believes that its advertisers desire to be fair to the printers, stereotypers and pressmen who serve them as well as to be fair to themselves.
- Visitors to the mechanical department are invited so that the process of handling advertising may be thoroly understood and the mechanical problems fully realized.
- Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the entire personnel of The Times.

DURING the month of October, the American Red Cross will carry a safety message into ten million homes and farms throughout the nation, urging a check-up on accident hazards.

Do you know these hazards? How safe are you at home? Do you know that deaths from injuries on the farm are steadily increasing? What are the causes? These are a few of the questions the Home and Farm Accident Prevention Service of the Red Cross will send into homes, on an accident check list to be distributed through Chapters, by millions of school children and members of the Junior Red Cross. And the answers are provided on the check list, too.

National attention was concentrated on the Home and Farm accident problem in 1935-36 by the Red Cross. In that year, 37,000 men, women and children lost their lives in home accidents, which were largely preventable. In 1937, this toll of life was reduced, and only 32,500 lives were sacrificed to carelessness. The spread of knowledge on hazards which were subject to correction was everywhere credited with this cut in the death toll.

The 1937 deaths from home accidents were divided as follows, according to the National Safety Council: falls, 17,500; burns and explosions, 5,600; poisonings, 1,700; firearms, 800; mechanical suffocation, 1,000; poison gases, 1,100.

The Red Cross appeals to those in the home and on the farm to carefully check hazards which may exist inside and outside their houses, and perhaps save a life or prevent a life-long injury.

Meat Curing Plant To Open Wednesday

The new refrigerating vault, for the storage and curing of fresh meats, will be open and ready for business on Wednesday, Oct. 26, George Hammett, manager of the Banner Ice Company, announced this week. A representative from Morton Salt company of Dallas will be on hand to demonstrate curing methods and to assist on the opening days.

Facilities for curing and cold storage of fresh meat are now available to people of this section with the recent completion of the new vault of the Banner Ice company here. The company has 176 bins built into their refrigerated unit and a large amount of storage has already been contracted for.

The new annex to the ice company was built this past spring and all equipment being installed is new. The 30x45-foot vault will be kept at a temperature of about 38 degrees and no loss of meat is believed possible under the new system.

Reduction in Shrinkage
A feature of the new refrigerating system is the humidity-controlled machinery that maintains proper moisture in the air. Ordinary mechanical cooling, said Mr. Hammett, draws moisture out of the air and in turn, causes a noticeable shrinkage in meats. Heretofore, it has been a common occurrence for meat to lose as much as 15 per cent in weight—that is 15 pounds to the 100—because moisture and flavor were drawn from the meats and collected on the cooling unit.

In the modern plant, however, a system of 300 feet of pipe insures proper temperature and in addition the unit replaces natural moisture in the air drawn out by the cooling.

One of Best Plants
The Banner company's system is believed to be one of the best and most complete plants in this section of the state, ice company officials said. Roy Arledge, of the Arledge Ice company of Stamford inspected the plant soon after its completion, and stated that he would install a similar unit in his meat curing plant at Stamford in the near future.

Previously, a small curing plant was moved here from Gore, set up at the present site of the new establishment, but loss of meat was suffered by several farmers because of inadequate refrigerating facilities. The new plant will be probably be filled to capacity by mid-winter, Mr. Hammett said.

County Agent W. W. Rice, Home Demonstration Agent Miss Nina Astin and a large group of 4-H club boys have expressed their intention of attending the opening of the plant. Said Mr. Rice: "I think this is one of the finest things for farmers of this section that could have been done." Mr. Rice has studied meat curing and states that the local plant is one of the best equipped he has ever seen.

GIVE DEMONSTRATION AT WICHITA FALLS

Mrs. Dora Barnes, Extension Service specialist of College Station, and Jane Alden, noted destination for mail order houses, were in Wichita Falls on Wednesday of this week giving a demonstration on clothing.

Special attention was being given to clothing for stout women, and several attended from women's clubs of this county.

Four Candidates Out For Governor

The state supreme court last week overruled the pleas of Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis of San Antonio and Laverne Somerville of Wichita Falls seeking a mandamus to compel Secretary of State Edward Clark to print their names on the November 8 general election ballot. Davis said that he represented the People's Pension Party and Somerville filed as the leader of the Independent American party.

The action of the court upheld the ballot form certified by Clark, which carries four candidates for governor. The candidates, whose names will be printed on the ballot are: O'Daniel, Democrat; Alexander Boynton, Republican; Earle E. Miller, Socialist; and Homer Brooks, Communist.

It is supposed that the two candidates whose pleas were overruled would begin write campaigns as Robert Huson of Refugio has already done. Huson has designated himself as "just a country lawyer," and a "real Democrat" running against two "Republicans," Huson charges that O'Daniel is really a Republican.

Both Davis and Somerville have announced stands for full payment of pensions, charging that O'Daniel has abandoned his pension promises to the people.

Inspects Tank Projects Here

W. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer for the Extension Service located at College Station, spent Friday in the county assisting County Agent Walter Rice and Range Supervisor Frank Glover in the selection and construction of tanks under the range conservation program.

Visits were made to the Big Four ranch located 10 miles northwest of Truscott, and the Beavers ranch, located at Benjamin, where tank construction is under way.

Approximately $25,000.00 was earned in Knox county in 1937 under the range program and the 1938 program is expected to be larger, since more land owners are cooperating this year, stated Mr. Rice.

Game Warden For Knox Co., Is Hired

Censorship, Big Movie Problem, Writes Fidler

A MODERN motion picture producer, in addition to the numberless responsibilities arising out of story-buying, casting, publicity, and other major details, is ever on the alert for the criticism that floods Hollywood from censorship, official and unofficial.

Eight of the United States and 268 of its cities have censorship boards, writes Jimmie Fidler, popular Hollywood columnist, in the November issue of Pictorial Review.

"Every European country and most of the Asiatic and South American nations have censorship boards and no two of them ever seem able to agree on anything," Fidler says. "A Mickey Mouse cartoon, applauded everywhere else was banned in one state because Mickey kissed Minnie on her scrawny neck. 'Hell's Angels,' was scissored and slashed by almost every board on earth; yet not only were no two boards in perfect agreement on their objections but the great majority of them failed to agree on a single point."

"If the villain of a picture is identified as a son of any foreign nation, that nation's ire is kindled," the writer points out, "and by habitually showing Mexicans and Italians as illiterates, Germans as beefy militarists, Frenchmen as 'Ooo-la-la-ing' fops, Englishmen as 'what-ho-ing' silly awuses, and Orientals as menials, Hollywood nearly lost its foreign markets."

"Show an unethical doctor and the Medical Association fumes," Fidler says. "Show a crooked lawyer and the Bar Association boils and show a stupid or criminal policeman and the law-enforcement agencies burn. The butchers, the bakers, and the candle-stick makers threaten to boycott and mayhem if their respective trades are 'reflected' on."

But what Hollywood can't do is well balanced by what it can accomplish and Jimmie Fidler points to two luminous young stars for proof—Hedy Lamarr and John Payne. A pair of promising "grnds," Fidler chooses them in the current issue of Pictorial Review as his "personalities of the month."

Miss Lamarr has become the country's "Ecstasy Girl" since her recent import after a sensational success in a foreign picture bearing that title. "Her face is more than lovely," Fidler says. "It is expressive for it mirrors every emotion effortlessly."

Hedy Lamarr, new "Ecstasy Girl" of film capital who proves Fidler's point.

you will hear more from me later.

Traffic Hazards Increase at Night

One of the most important jobs in reducing traffic accidents is in getting the driver to appreciate the difference between day and night driving, according to Earl J. Reeder, Chief Engineer of the National Safety Council. Mr. Reeder says that all safety educational agencies must teach the motorist to plan his night driving to meet the peculiarities of night visibility.

Explaining the relation of light to safety, the traffic expert points out that in the daytime most objects are seen by surface detail in the diffused light of the sun. At night, however, almost all objects are distinguished in silhouette, and the effectuation of discernment by silhouette is one of the most important principles of good street and highway lighting.

"When two drivers are approaching each other, each looking into the other's lights and not watching the edge of the road, it's a matter of the blind leading the blind," Safe driving at night is a challenge to ingenuity and a partnership job, and in his belief the driver who refuses to depress his headlights is not a partner but an enemy.

As most of our roads are at present not illuminated by fixed lighting, these are the precautions which Mr. Reeder suggests to the driver as essential to safety at night:

1. Watch for objects on the road revealed in silhouette by the headlights of approaching cars.
2. Watch the right hand edge of the road to avoid looking into other drivers' headlights.
3. Slow down at sunset to compensate for lower visibility.
4. Whenever there is a curve or hill crest ahead, revealed by the other headlights, slow down to the proper speed corresponding to the lack of view of what is around the curve or over the hill.

Orphanage Needed; Not Just Pensions

Pension promises and pension plans have become pretty much of a standing joke to all except those who have to pay them and those who depend upon them for their livelihood. Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel for instance, finds it rather difficult right now to break that famous smile that followed him all over the State in the recent gubernatorial campaign, at the mention of the word "pensions."

But Governor James V. Allred got a couple of laughs this week as he opened his mail and found letters from pensioners. Both were worthy of Ripley recognition.

"Governor, take our names off the pension roll. We are able to take care of ourself. Benjamin Clayton, Mertildy Claytons Leah Thompson, Centie Cox." The letter came from Bastrop County.

The governor turned the letter over to the old age assistance office, as he faked that anyone else who wanted their names withdrawn should write him.

Another letter from Mrs. Sarah Womack of Dallas asserted that she was the mother of 37 children. "They tell me I am entitled to a large pension," she wrote, adding that she was in "great need of these checks."

One of radio's strangest contracts went into effect with the initial broadcast of Joe E. Brown's new Saturday comedy series, over the CBS network. Gill and Demling, comics who support the screen's "Owh-h-h-h" man in the regular line-up, also are contracted to write the entire show. "We're in a swell spot," Frank Gill, senior member of the versatile team, declares. "On Mondays we'll send the script over to Gill and Demling, and they'll call up the sponsor and say it smells. On Saturdays, we'll get together after the show and blame it all on the actors—they always louse up a good script! We can't lose!"

Bands may come and bands may go, but when the history of American music is recorded for posterity it is very probable that the name of Paul Whiteman will stand at the head of those conductors of popular music who have contributed most to the modern trend. From his original title, "The King of Jazz," Whiteman has grown to the status of his present cognomen, "Dean of Modern Music," and his popularity is apparently unabated.

When Zasu Pitts, sad-voiced comedy star of the films, made her debut on Fibber McGee's program, she had but one admonishment. "Please," she asked Cecil Underwood, producer of the top-flight broadcasts, "don't ask me to flutter my hands. Dearie me, if anyone else asks me to do that I think I'll scream." Underwood assured her that she needn't worry. She couldn't flutter her hands and read her script, too.

Parkyakarkus, the Greek dialect comedian, is writing his own dictionary, says he, in self-defense. Parky says too many people have been misunderstanding him.

Even though Benny Goodman has been playing personal appearance dates in the mid-west, his swingsters have been causing near-riots in the Boston vicinity. Seems that so many jitterbugs got to gathering at the WEEL transmitter in Medford, Mass., to hear the broadcasts that police have to be assigned every Tuesday night to keep them from trucking the station off the air.

Here's a tip for farm boys and girls. Joan Blaine, star of the daily Valiant Lady dramas on NBC, reveals that she won her early declamation honors, which led to the stage, by reciting to the cows and pigs on her father's Iowa farm. They can't talk back, either.

According to statistics, only 8 per cent of the people in the United States attend church, but Dr. Charles E. Fuller, conductor of the Old Fashioned Revival Hour on Mutual each Sunday night, estimates that 20 per cent of the population are among his listeners. He is heard over 117 stations—a modern-day version of the old-fashioned country parson.

Jerry Colonna, the mad professor whose opera singing mimicking on Bob Hope's Tuesday night NBC show is such a hit, wears a set of real handle-bar mustaches that he has had for thirteen years. They are preserved in wax—and most opera singers think Jerry should be, too.

NEWS AMONG THE CLASSES

Senior Report
The seniors report a grand time during their cotton picking vacation, but they are all glad to be back in school.

These seniors received their rings Monday and are very proud of them.

Junior Report
Monday morning the Juniors returned to school to take up their school work where they left off when school was dismissed for cotton picking.

They found that they survived the six weeks exams and have started in on the next six weeks work.

In English the study of biography is to be taken up and the lives of great men studied. In History the study of the Declaration of Independence will keep the class occupied for a while.

Freshman Report
Back to school again after a month's vacation. There are a few pupils who have not started back, but they will probably be with us in a few days.

The girls in Home Economics have ordered their uniforms, and they surely will be proud of them.

Seventh Grade Report
Howard Walker is a new pupil in the seventh grade this term. Elma Lee Brewer is back in school again.

A Junior Looks On
The time was shortly after one o'clock Monday afternoon, the place, study hall of S.H.S. A Junior reposed at ease in his seat when suddenly a group of wild-eyed Seniors burst into the room. They were talking enthusiastically, and in their hands was a package. Immediately the cry went around, "the Seniors have their rings!" The next twenty minutes was chaos and confusion among the Seniors.

The Junior leaned back in his seat and smiled contentedly. He was amused. "Silly nonsense," he thought, "going wild over some old rings, I won't be like that." Little did he realize that when the eventful day does arrive, he too will be just as silly.

Extra! Extra!
The editors of the paper received the following information this week from some unknown source, and were asked kindly, but commandingly, to print it in this week's paper. We don't know who wrote it any more than you do, but I've got a hunch that someone is spying on Sunset High School. It seems to be someone's idea of how certain High School students would look in the world news.

So here 'tis—
Orville Strickland—Adolph Hitler. Hm-mm-mm, we wonder??
J. E. Hunter—W. Lee O'Daniel.
Louise Gray—Dorothy Dix. (Here's some inside dope on Louise. She wants an adding machine for Christmas.)
Wardell Sweatt—Francis Perkins.
Junior Matthews—Mussolini.
E. G. Parkhill—Dr. Dafoe??
Sounds fishy!!
Donnie Partridge—Charles A. Lindbergh.
J. R. Hill—John L. Lewis.
Odis Smith—William Green.

Speaking of Fortune Tellers...
Do you believe in fortune tellers? I can't say that I do exactly, but anyway, I went to a fortune teller last week just for curiosity's sake. I really went to have my fortune told, but she asked me if I would like to look into the future with her and see just what the Seniors of Sunset High would be doing in 1946. I told her that I would, so the old Gypsy lady beckoned me over closer to her, offered me a chair, and she set the crystal out on the table before us. She quickly made some signs I couldn't attempt to repeat, and then quickly but quietly, motioned me to look into the crystal.

I at once saw J. E. Hunter seated on a very modern tractor plowing away in a large field of cotton. He was listening to the radio and who do you think he was listening to. None other than Dr. Brinkley! Well, that was enough for me. At least the radio program was.

The Gypsy lady made another movement over the crystal, and told me to look again. I could faintly see Orville Strickland tossing the old dark one over the plate in one of the World's Series games. The score board they flashed before me told the score was 13 and 0 in favor of the Cubs which was the team Orville was playing for. I was very glad to see that he had made good.

The gypsy lady again waved her wand over the crystal, and I saw Wardell Sweatt teaching a civics class in a large school in Washington. Another senior who evidently made good—or did she, I'll leave that up to you.

Upon looking into the crystal again I saw Nettie Griffith writing an editorial for the largest newspaper in the world—the New York Tribune. Nice work.

I looked again and saw Junior Matthews with a pair of boxing gloves on in Madison Square Garden getting ready to fight some English champion. Junior had won the World's Heavyweight Championship. I was only a little surprised.

Another look into the Crazy Crystal, pardon me, I mean another look at the crystal, exposed E. G. Parkhill sitting at a modern desk dressed in a spotless white gardener suit. He was looking over some X-ray plates. I noticed that the room had all the modern conveniences and also very modern and expensive medical machines filled the room. Another look at the crystal showed a newspaper—the New York Tribune—with headlines like this, "Dr. Parkhill saves another infantile paralysis victim." Nice work if you can get it!

I looked again and saw Louise Gray seated at a desk with an adding machine near by, and she was writing an article for a large newspaper giving advice to the lovers.

As this picture faded away, I saw Mamie Tankersley washing dishes for her farmer husband and their thirteen children.

By the time I had recovered from this picture, I saw Mary Herring teaching an English IV class in one of America's largest public schools.

I looked again and saw Winters Groves setting some good-looking lady's hair in a large beauty salon in San Francisco.

I looked once more and saw Traphene Wren standing at the door of a small white cottage near the city limits of a small town in Texas waiting for her husband to return from his work in the city. Several children were playing in the yard, and Traphene looked down at them and smiled. As she smiled, the picture faded away slowly, and I knew that this was all. I paid the old Gypsy lady a dollar and went happily on my way, content and glad that the Seniors of '39 had made good.

P.S.—I forgot to tell you that Hallie Phine Clark was sitting in the grandstands cheering for her pitcher husband. The lucky man was pitching for the Cubs in the world series, and you can guess the rest.

Yours while they last,
Frenchy.

Trial For Fraud Is Postponed

HINTS ON STEPPING OUT

If you are old enough to go to a dance, you are old enough to dress appropriately—is the advice of Henrietta Ripperger, staff-writer for Pictorial Review. In the November issue of the magazine, Miss Ripperger goes on to explain "that a dress should enhance a girl's looks by sheen and color. Black won't do a thing for you, and you're apt to appear scrawny in a dress there isn't enough of. Soft colors and fullness are what you need."

"Before buying a dress for a dance we think every girl and her mother ought to sit on the sidelines and look over the dresses on a dance floor. What do they do for the wearer?" Miss Ripperger writes. "Dark colors, however smart, tend to make a girl look old—especially the navies and wine reds. White is often characterless, no matter how pretty the gown may be; but a colored detail might heighten its effectiveness."

Seek Cattle Buyer After Okla. Fraud

Oklahoma officers are looking for a cattle dealer who last week used the name of Don Drake, Hardeman farmer, worked a ruse by which he defrauded several people out of cattle and money. A call last week came to the Security National Bank of Quanah from Hollis asking if a check on Don Drake was good. Later four checks came to the bank signed D. N. Drake, issued in Hollis for the amount of $207. Drake was contacted by the bank employees and stated that he had not been in Hollis for over a dozen years. Drake's initials are T. D. and his checks are signed Don Drake.

Investigation showed that the buyer gave the worthless checks for the cattle, and later hired a son of the Oklahoma sheriff to haul the cattle across the line into Texas, where they were picked up by another truck. A worthless check was given for the hauling. Oklahoma officers have been in Texas for a week searching for the swindler but no trace of him or the cattle has been found.
