Maskat Temple Shriners Receive Warm Welcome

As scheduled, on Saturday afternoon about one hundred Shriners and their ladies of Wichita Falls, as well as a number of nobles from neighboring towns, paid a visit to Munday for the purpose of staging one of their good will meetings, and, with the creation of good will and fellowship as their aim, the visit to Munday was a one hundred per cent success.

Recorder Albert Ellis of Maskat Temple came down early in the day and worked with local members of that organization in making final plans for the coming of the Shriners to Munday, and upon their arrival their initial activity was a banquet at the Klan hall, which was attended by local Shriners and ladies and a few friends. At the banquet D. T. Mauldin presided as toastmaster, and introduced the local folk to the Wichita delegation. Recorder Albert Ellis then introduced the Wichita delegation to the Munday folk. Music for the event was provided by the Hawaiians from KGO, who accompanied the Shriners.

Immediately following the banquet a band concert was given on the square by the Maskat Temple band, and the uniformed body put on their drill work.

Following the band concert and drill team exhibit the people were invited to go to the community auditorium, where the program of the evening was presented. This program consisted of music by the band, and by the Hawaiians, readings, songs and talks, and was largely the program as was published in last week's issue, except in a few instances. In the absence of Walter D. Cline, who was scheduled to tell of some of the accomplishments of this branch of the Masonic fraternity, Recorder Albert Ellis made a brief talk and set out some of the things that are being done by the Shrine.

Every number on the program proved very delightful and those who heard the program are of the opinion that Maskat Temple might make these little visits a regular event.

Following the program a dance was held at the Klan Hall for the visiting Shriners and their ladies with music furnished by the Hawaiian Trio of Wichita Falls.

Rainfall During October 9 Inches Says Whittemore

Wednesday again brought rain to the Munday country, and this time the register of A. E. Whittemore shows that 1.45 inches fell during the night, bringing the total rainfall for October up to 9 inches, and the total for the year to 30.64, which is far above the average rainfall here, which is around 26 inches, however, the big rain on the 13th of June and the rain during the past twenty days represents more than half of the total rainfall for the entire year.

Farmers are now anxious for clear weather, and if the rains continue longer much of the matured feed now in the fields will be a total loss, as it is sprouting. Cotton is also beginning to suffer from the prolonged damp weather and in many fields the bolls that are unopened are turning black.

Roads to the south are practically impassable, and will be until the low places have dried out. To the north traffic has been opened over the highway between Goree and the Baylor county line and there is pavement all the way to Wichita Falls.

Call Issued For Legion Meeting On October 30th

Foy Easley, secretary of Lowry Post No. 44, American Legion, has requested us to announce that a meeting will be held at the Masonic hall on Thursday evening, October 30th, at 7:30 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and all ex-service men are urged to be present. Don't forget the date and hour, and be on hand.

Former Munday Citizen Returns With Photo Studio

E. L. Adams of Spur, Texas, has located in Munday and is this week opening a photo studio in the Penleton-Eiland building over the Eiland Drug Store.

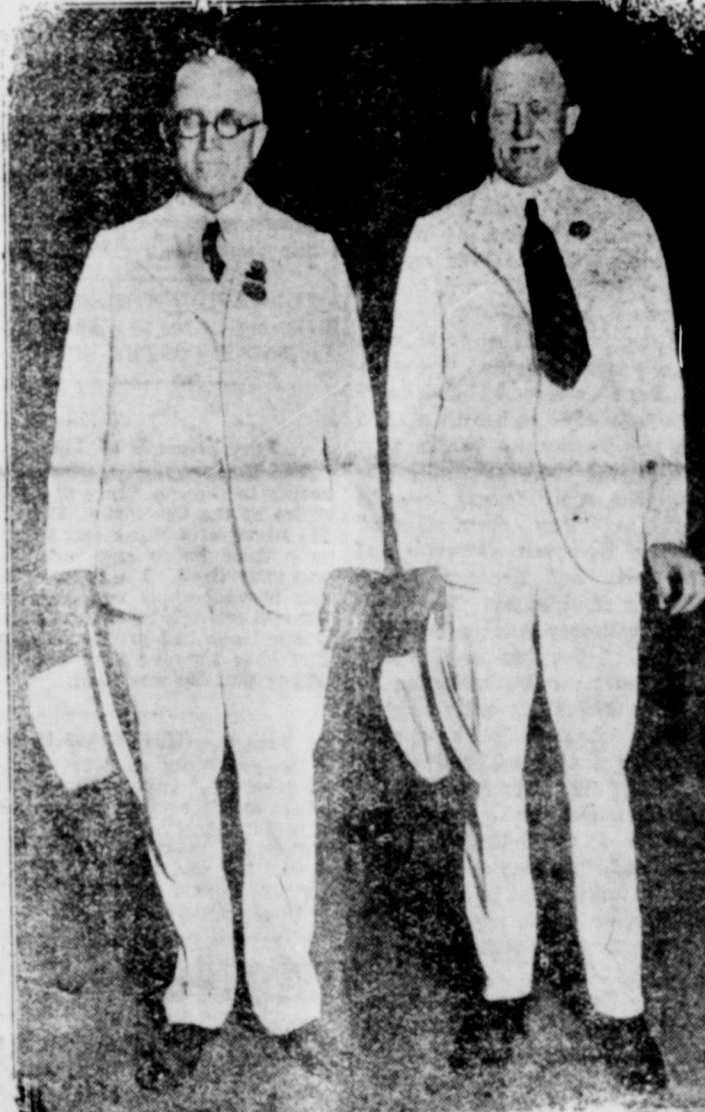

Mr. Adams is not altogether a stranger in Munday, having been engaged in the same business in Munday more than twenty years ago and is remembered by many of our older citizens. He moved from this city to Haskell and a number of years ago went to Spur, where he has resided since.

Mr. Adams has made a life study of the photograph business and he respectfully asks that the public inspect his work. He will also make a specialty of kodak finishing.

The duck season opened on the 16th and Munday sportsmen have been making the best of it, and some of them have been bringing in a goodly number.

School Carnival Will Be Held On Tuesday, Oct. 28

Supt. Riley sent us down an article about a big carnival that is to be held at the community auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 28th, but in the mad scramble around this sanction it has been lost, but we're just passing the information along to our readers that it's going to be a real feature event, with all of the fun of a regular carnival, but with none of the objectionable features that accompany such organizations. In fact, the entire program is being worked out for fun purposes only, to get ready now to give this big event, and be sure to bring along a little pocket change, for the event is being staged to raise funds for school purposes. The faculty and student body are endeavoring to provide the entertainment. You'll find it a rare cure for the depressed feeling so prevalent now, so remember the date and come with a clean handkerchief, for they're going to make you laugh—and how!

Gov. Moody Wears All-Texas Made Clothing In Attending East Texas Dinner At The Texas State Fair

Gov. Dan Moody, guest of honor, and John W. Carpenter, toastmaster, are shown arriving at the East Texas Dinner in their all-Texas-made clothes. Though the suits were of white cotton Gov. Moody declared that "Texas-made clothes are never out of season."

Both Mr. Carpenter and Governor Moody wore suits, shirts, socks, neckties, underwear, and handkerchiefs made by the Pool Manufacturing Co. of Sherman, Texas. Hats were furnished by Willard and Davis Hat companies of Dallas, and shoes by H. J. Justin & Sons of Fort Worth. The more than one thousand people gathered at the tables under a huge circus tent on the State Fair Grounds were unstinting in their praise of the dinner and were equally enthusiastic in the applause with which they greeted Gov. Moody, Senator Conally and other speakers.

Gov. Moody stated that East Texas in its natural beauty shows the hand of the Divine, and while its present is romantic and developing, its future cannot be foretold by anything short of divine foresight. "All Texas is great," stated the Governor. "We are proud of every section of it. When we go out of the state and the people ask us where we are from and our chin tilt upward, and we say with pride that we are from Texas."

United States Senator Tom Conally was equally lavish in his praise, pointing out that the early pioneers had stopped in East Texas and quickly realized its boundless resources. Guy A. Blount, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, gained the good humored applause of the audience when he pictured East Texas ten years hence as a land free from land and valorem taxation, and a land replete with "hills, rills, thrills and stills."

That the dinner was an outstanding success was amply shown by the unanimous vote of approval given to a motion by Judge Hayne Nelms of Groveton to make the dinner an annual affair. Others introduced at the dinner were Lieutenant Gov. Witt of Waco, Frank P. Holland of Dallas, Representatives Summers, Morgan Sanders and Sam Rayburn; Daniel Upthegrove, president of the Cotton Belt Railroad; Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and Pat Neff, Chairman of the Railroad Commission. The invocation was offered by Dr. F. S. Groner, president of the College of Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ura Wilson have gone to Fieldton, Texas, where Ura is building a residence on a farm of Mrs. R. B. Wilson, his mother, and where they will make their home. Ura plans to put in a large acreage in alfalfa and engage in hog raising extensively.

Fourth Quarterly Conference Will Be Held Sunday

The fourth quarterly conference will be held by the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. R. A. Stewart, presiding elder of the Stamford district presiding, and the officials of the church are making an effort to bring the business of the church to a close and make all collections prior to the holding of this conference. The Rev. J. W. Mayhew will leave on the 11th of November for Sweetwater, where the annual conference will be held, and the stewards of the church sincerely hope that he will be enabled to carry with him a good report from the local church.

Good Program Is Carried Out By PTA Wednesday

The Parent-Teacher Association met Wednesday, October 17, for an educational program. The program was opened by a sing-song led by Mrs. L. M. Palmer, accompanied by Miss Mildred Kennedy.

"Motherhood" was chosen by Mrs. J. O. Bowden for the devotional. Several talks were given, first, "Child Study" by Mrs. J. C. Campbell; "Child Study in School" by Mrs. D. T. Mauldin, and "Relation of the Child to Our Government" by Mrs. G. R. Eiland.

It was stressed in business meeting that we find some method to provide poor children with necessary materials to attend school.

In the check up on attendance it was found that room 3B, Miss Williams teacher, won the picture.

The Southwest Coaches, Inc., which operates eight bus schedules each day through Munday, has made a change in two of these schedules. Teachers of Three Counties To Meet Haskell Oct. 30-31

According to an announcement received from Mrs. Ethie Lee P'Pool, county superintendent of Haskell county, the teachers of Knox, Haskell and Stonewall counties will meet in Haskell on October 30th for a two day institute.

Supt. C. B. Breeslove of the Haskell schools will be the general chairman of the institute.

Prof. J. E. Blair of the North Texas Teachers' College, Dean E. M. M. Kewen of McMurray, and Mrs. C. T. Cobb of Johnston county will be instructors for the high school, intermediate and primary departments.

The Times is a day late this week, the delay having been occasioned by a breakdown in our mechanical department, and we hope that it will not happen again soon. It has been the custom of The Times to go into the mails on Friday morning and it has been a very few times that we have failed during the past ten years, and we hope that it will not happen again soon, and our advertisers can assist us in this respect materially by getting their advertising copy in early in the week. With a number of ads coming in late it is a task to get them up and on the press even when everything runs smoothly, and when something goes wrong it is impossible.

Leavell Bros. tent show, which was here last week, is in Knox City this week. This show is one of the best tent shows that has ever visited this city, and the personnel made many friends while here.

President of State Federation Urges Support Changes

Mount Pleasant, Texas, Oct. 20.—Support of the pending constitutional amendments was urged by Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, speaking here. Mrs. Lindsay said: "The constitutional amendments that have been submitted to be voted on in the general election will result in wholesome and desired changes in our fundamental law, and I hope that the voters of Texas, both men and women, will not be negligent of the civic duty that good citizenship imposed upon them, but will vote without regard to party or factional differences for these wholesome changes."

"The amendment enabling the Supreme Court to sit at any time, has long been needed. The measure permitting the taxing of university lands by the counties in which they are situated meets a just need, and the one broadening the investment field for university funds will increase the income of this institution. The legislative amendments, providing as they do for an improved legislative procedure and for more appropriate salaries, are deserving passage."

Large Attendance At Lion Luncheon Thursday Noon

Forty-one members and two visitors were present at the regular semi-monthly luncheon of the Munday Lions Club Thursday at noon, at which time the luncheon was served by the Munday Hotel, which has been recently re-opened under the management of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murphy, and who served the lions with a turkey dinner, and a feature of the luncheon that was especially appealing to the lions during these depressing times was the fact that it was served for only 50 cents, and if there were any present that felt that they didn't get their money's worth in the matter of good things to eat they have not been heard from.

The visitors present were Dr. N. L. Davidson of Pharr, Texas, a former citizen of Munday, who extended to the Munday Lions a cordial invitation to visit his studio, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murphy, and who served the lions with a turkey dinner, and a feature of the luncheon that was especially appealing to the lions during these depressing times was the fact that it was served for only 50 cents, and if there were any present that felt that they didn't get their money's worth in the matter of good things to eat they have not been heard from.

SENTIMENT IN BUSINESS

Regardless of what may be said to the contrary, sentiment is a big factor in business. Friendship, for example, makes more satisfactory sales, quality and values being equal, than all the cleverness and high-powered sales talks in the world.

You like to trade at a certain store—not because its counters are arranged in an attractive way, but because the folks who serve you are friendly and helpful.

Just that very thing—friendly service—is the power that draws people together in communities like this, where everybody can enjoy the many benefits of neighborly cooperation.

Friendly service and an effort to retain it is the reason why you will find it decidedly to your advantage to trade with Times advertisers—to buy where your friends will see that you are well satisfied.

There is no need to go to larger trading centers to supply your wants. Our merchants have the goods, the quality, the variety and they give big values.

Dr. E. M. Ammons went to Stamford the latter part of last week to attend a meeting of the Wichita Valley Dental Society, of which he is secretary, and he reports a most profitable meeting, one of the features being a talk on porcelain inlays by one of the leading authorities on that kind of

THINKING OUT LOUD

BY J. A. K.

This column has been omitted for the past two weeks, but since Lage McCord and a few of the boys have complained about it being left out, we'll just jot down a few little installments of this continued story.

It has been a custom since time immemorial for folks to talk about the weather when they run out of anything else to comment on, so we shall refrain from saying anything along this line, except that we've been longing for the sunshine.

But we must admit that this is excellent duck weather we're having, and as the duck season opened on the 16th, some of the birds around here have been making the best of it.

However, the plans of some of the boys have gone awry during the past few days.

Firsthand, Bud Roberts and Loyal Lovelace planned the other day to crawl out of the alfalfa at an early hour the following morning and be out at one of the lakes when the little ducks opened their eyes to the approach of a new day.

Being humanitarians, and possessing within their hearts an aversion to such slaughter as was anticipated, the wives of the aforesaid hunters did a little maneuvering to forestall their proposed early morning visit to the haunts of the little ducks.

Bud had placed implicit confidence in the prattle of an alarm clock to rouse him gently from his slumbers, and having fetched him forth, he was to arouse his companion hunter by the tingling tone of the telephone.

But, neither gong sounded. It is no discredit to either of them that they failed to function.

Mrs. Roberts put the kishosh on Bud's part of the program by the simple method of stuffing paper in the bell of the dependable alarm clock.

And, naturally, Loyal's telephone remained quiet throughout the early morning hours, and as the hunters awoke they could see the morning sun glimmering at intervals through the ark clouds, which is pronounced ideal for duck hunting.

COMPENSATION FOR HOMEWORKERS

"Are you safe when you are at home?" the Women's Bureau asks in a recent bulletin on domestic accidents. That the question isn't a foolish one is proved by the Bureau's statement that about 24,000 persons lost their lives in home accidents during the past year. The figures are derived from statistics compiled by a nationally known insurance company.

More than one-third of these home accidents are caused by falls, and more than one-half of the falls are suffered by elderly persons. Little children most frequently meet injury or death from burns and scalds. Gas and electricity, twin hazards of modern housekeeping must be handled carefully. It is important to buy gas fixtures of approved design, to have them installed by competent companies, and to watch unceasingly for leaks and clogged tubes or burners. There is also a word of warning in regard to turning off electric currents and guarding against broken or worn cords and attachments.

Officials of the Women's Bureau feel that workmen's compensation laws should be made to apply to the domestic worker as well as the industrial employee. New Jersey is the only state in the Union which provides for such compensation at present. This situation is partly due to the fact that industrial accidents are more spectacular and therefore attract more attention than home accidents.

POLITICS AND PERSONALITIES

Selecting presidential candidates will be a serious business in 1932, but right now it is just good, clean sport with free admission tickets for everybody.

In Republican ranks, the situation is simple. Unless Mr. Hoover completely astonishes the country by "not choosing to run", his renomination is practically assured. True, the name of Dwight Morrow has a powerful appeal, but even Mr. Morrow's most ardent admirers look to 1936 rather than 1932.

In the Democratic garden plot, however, the cultivation of candidates goes on all the way from the East to "way down South." Franklin Roosevelt, Governor of New York, and Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas head the list. Mr. Roosevelt is perhaps the stronger of the two possibilities, but he must win his reelection as governor this fall in order to preserve his presidential prospects. Defeat on that score will throw him out of the picture, while victory will immeasurably strengthen his position. Mr. Robinson, on the other hand, has won a senatorial primary, tantamount to election in Arkansas, and he is regarded with immense favor in Southern strongholds.

Former Senator James Reed of Missouri, fire-eating Democrat, has excited much attention by his recent speeches and political pronouncements, and observers are wondering about the Missourian's place in the 1932 setting. Governor Albert Ritchie, of Maryland, is also a force to be reckoned with. And Al Smith's defeat in 1928 has evidently not served to eclipse that gentleman's political prestige. It isn't entirely impossible that the next campaign will again see the

BEAUTY COSTS A BILLION

Catering to personal beauty has developed into a relatively "shock-proof" industry, according to C. C. Concanon, federal commerce expert. The beauty business, although comparatively new, already ranks among the first ten industries in this country with an estimated annual volume of about one billion dollars. That amount represents the value of cosmetics, toilet preparations, personal services in beauty shops, and equipment for enhancing appearances.

Mr. Concanon attributes the industry's remarkable growth to increase consciousness of personal appearance and to successful selling appeal.

About one-tenth of America's women buy approximately fifty-percent of the beauty devices sold annually. Here are some of the items that go to satisfy the craving for beauty in a single year: 2,000 tons of rouge; 4,000 tons of vanishing, nourishing and other facial creams; 9,000 tons of complexion soap; 25,000 tons of skin lotion; and more than 50,000 tons cold cream. This does not include related products such as containers, compacts, powder puffs and similar articles.

Bride's Pet Dog Placed in the Receiving Line

Boston.—"Smudge," the tiny pet Pekinese of the bride, occupied a place in the receiving line at the wedding reception of the former Miss Ellen Hemmaway Talbot, who became the bride of Yann Dedons de Pierrefeu in the Unitarian church at Manchester-by-the-Sea. The little dog, arrayed with neck bow of broad white satin ribbon, keenly felt the importance of the occasion as he greeted the fashionable guests with short, snappy yelps and extended paw, from a ribbon-trimmed basket, which rested upon a table in the reception room.

It is believed that the polygamists have been diminishing at a great rate during the last few years, and special statistics will be drawn up regarding them in the forthcoming general count of the Turkish population.

Boop-Oop-O-Doop
October 28

Can you imagine what all these Boop-Oop-O-Doop signs mean? Well, it is the name of the high school carnival. Each year the high school has a carnival, with a fortune teller, prize fighters, queer drinks, baby shows, candy, cold drinks, and the coronation of a high school queen. A queen is elected by the class that raises the most money, and in this year's case the Seniors once again elected their candidate. Candidates were Jess Campbell, Freshmen, Katherine Milam, Sophomores; Ethel Isbell, Junior, and Blanche Newcome, Senior. The Freshman class raised $425; the Sophomore class $1375; the Junior class $20.00, and the Senior class $61.17, thereby crowning Blanche queen.

The chorus club is at last getting what consideration it has deserved for the past two years. The members of the club have been excused from physical education for two days of each week. Of course, some think this is unfair, but if they stop to consider Mrs. Ingram's earnest efforts in this work, and the trouble of the members, they will realize the fairness.

We wish to thank the business men again for closing their stores for the football game. This gives an added zest to the game, and the players and the pep squad, and to the visitors it gives an impression of undivided support.

Gib's Gab
The Munday Moguls proved to be far superior to the Rule Bob Cats Friday afternoon. Within five minutes and fifty seconds after the whistle blew the strong Moguls had marched sixty yards for a touchdown. They continued this style of offense throughout the entire game and their defense was still better. Rule was rushed through the line and around the ends. Time after time Eastland's print was the only means of advancing the pig skin in the direction of the Mogul goal line. It was here that our fleet-footed Pruitt and the interference furnished by the remaining Moguls would return the ball over half the distance.

The Mogul subs. participated in over half of the game and made things look dull for some of the first string men. This proved that the football team of next year will not be without spirit.

The thrill came for Rule near the finish. The Mogul backfield was completely exhausted from running double the amount of the average game, and a couple of passes were completed and a goal kicked for an extra point by the Bob Cats.

Seniors
Whoopee! Happy days are here again—examinations are over for awhile! It isn't that we seniors dislike examinations; it is the thought of having to break a physical education rule just the night before examinations because most of us do not get in eight hours sleep that night and if we do happen to go to bed in time to get the eight hours rest we have—not exactly "night-mares" but "exam-mares."

The seniors selected their rings the other day and did you say pretty, well, we should say so. Now we will not say that they are quite as pretty as "Uncle Jim's great mogul diamond," but we will say this, he may have us beaten on the mogul part but he can not outshine us on the mogul part, because ours are going to have two outstanding moguls on them.

Those Juniors
The boys on the team from the Junior class certainly helped in the game with Rule Friday. We hope they continue loyal to Munday High.

Those six weeks examinations were given last Friday and they have been heard about them from all the Junior class. But everyone hopes to pass them and this seems to get harder to do every six weeks.

A number of Juniors took in the Haskell Fair last week and they seemed to have had a great time. A great many Munday people at the princess representing Munday attended the coronation of the queen on Thursday night. Miss Wonna Williams, of the Junior class, was day. Reports are that this was a glorious affair and we were glad that "Miss Munday" was a Junior. But you know these Juniors are always seen everywhere, and they are always in every important affair.

Sophomores
We, the Sophomores, are going to keep you informed throughout the year of the many things we do. We are going to boost our class, and we are hoping that our "Stand by Class" will appreciate our boosting.

The Sophomore class met September 11, 1930, to elect officers for the on-coming year of 30-31. Don Sadler was elected president; E. W. McGlothlin, vice-president; Eunice Perdue, secretary-treasurer. The president appointed Weldon Warren, Mildred Burnett, Lowry Riggs and Mildred Moore to serve as social committee. Dorothy Campbell, Jesse George Kenney and Ha Wyche to serve as program committee. Mrs. Martin was elected room mother. We hope she will be pleased with the Sophs.

We are indeed glad to have Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrell with us this year as our class sponsors. The Sophs hope to show them a grand year.

The class colors, flower and motto mean a great deal to us. We selected the white rose as class colors, and "Not at the top, but climbing," as our motto.

The Freshmen
"Green But Growing"
Here come the Freshmen again this week leading in everything as usual. We have been quite a while learning the ways of high school, or it seems that way to the teachers. But we are "just learning", and learning fast at that. We have the pep in any class does, and we can show sportsmanship to everybody. We are the ones that can make a spotlight for dear Munday High! Just wait and watch us shine.

The first thing we wish to do this week is to apologize for not mentioning our most worthy room mother, Mrs. P. V. Williams, last week. She will make a worthy and pleasant room mother and help guide us to the best things.

This week we have been having almost a 100 per cent class. There have been very few absent on account of bad weather.

We are proud to have a few peppy Moguls in our class this year. They are Troy Burleson, Earl Michaels and Ernest Harrison. Come on boys! Do your best and show someone you can be as good

Wise Old Coyote Takes Few Chances on Traps

Ordinarily the coyote does not band like the timber wolf. The person unacquainted with coyotes and their habits would hardly believe the above statement after listening for the first time to the howling of one or two of these animals. The coyote can make more noise for his size than any animal in the woods and a solitary male can so change the volume and direction of his voice that one would almost swear there were a dozen coyotes doing their stuff.

If a coyote locates dead game and is afraid to run chances of getting his leg into the air, a sort of hunting cry which signals for help. The nearest coyote, particularly if it be a young and uninitiated fellow, will answer the call and come post haste. While the wise one holds back the newcomer will walk up and investigate. Presently, providing nothing serious happens, the old one will come on in and partake of the feast. But, as sometimes happens, if the younger steps into a steel trap, the other unceremoniously takes his leave, another sly wrinkle of wisdom forming on his shrewd face as he steals cautiously away.

Two-Dollar Bill Called "Just Darned Nuisance"

The idea that there is something unlucky about the $2 bill—so that many persons tear the corners off them to avert misfortune—occasionally arouses curiosity.

A number of our readers have written in with suggestions to account for the belief in the unluckiness of this particular note. One, however, a merchant in Pennsylvania, says from his experience as a retailer that "there is no question of superstition in connection with the $2 bill, it is just a darned nuisance."

"There is no compartment provided in our cash register for them," he writes, "and when we are handed one by a customer we have to scotch it away somewhere until we get a chance to pass it on to the bank. We can't very well hand it out to another customer for change, that is if we want to retain their good will."

"The only possible use it has is when some one purchases a 2-cent stamp and hands us a $2 bill in payment. Then we can get back at him by unloading all the $2 bills we have on hand."—Literary Digest.

The Mannekin
A few minutes away from the Grand place of Brussels—"noblesse of medieval squares"—at the corner of the Rue de l'Etour and the Rue du Chene, stands the famous Mannekin fountain. This is a small, round, ornate fountain, with a new suit of clothes. He has costumes of many nations—from a Napoleonic uniform to a garly embroidered Japanese kimono—all of which are kept by the city for him to wear on special occasions. But whether naked as he was made, or decked out in an admiral's gold braid, he continues to fulfill his role of being the merriest fountain in Europe.

Holding a Husband
How to keep a husband in nine chapters, is told by the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Here are the rules: Dress prettily for breakfast. Get your husband to take you out two evenings a week, but let him stay at home the rest. Pay the household bills before buying new dresses. Never make your husband dry dishes. Never permit your mother-in-law to visit on holidays. Listen to your husband if he likes the sound of his voice. Ask his advice on everything. Be clinging, but not too clinging. Make him think you're a weak, small creature and he is a 9 foot tall with the strength of a lion.

Free for All
It was Freddie's first visit to the country.

During a walk with his grandfather in the woods he kept looking round as if expecting to see some one.

"Why are you looking round?" asked the old gentleman.

"Where's the policeman?" asked Freddie.

"Policeman?" cried the other. "We have no policemen in the country, Freddie."

The boy looked more puzzled than before.

"Then who keeps the people off the grass?" he answered.

Ornate Royal Tombs
Every Persian ruler, like all the great rulers of all the lands, of all time, took great care to see that his body would be preserved and protected after death; and much money was spent in the erection of tombs and the carving of caves to receive these royal remains. Many of them can be seen today not far from the ancient city of Persepolis, near the Persian gulf. Some of these tombs were built of huge blocks of stone, but many others were carved out of the solid rock and their entrances then mortared up with stone.

as Capt. Pruitt when you get to be a Junior or Senior. We are behind the Moguls.

Last Friday morning everyone came to school feeling a little uncertain of themselves. It was the examination day for the first six weeks.

On Thursday afternoon we were turned out to meet the Wichita Boosters. When we got to town the boosters were there and we were entertained by the lovely program they gave.

Look for us in the paper every week, for we will be there boosting our class.

POULTRY

CUTTING DOWN ON FEED MEANS LOSS

Containing Mash in the Late Summer Reduces Eggs.

Cutting down the poultry feed, especially the laying mash, in summer means that laying will be seriously curtailed not only for the present season, but later.

"Our experimental records show that to curtail or discontinue the laying mash to hens during late summer will result in poor yields of eggs later," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college.

"The body of the hen must be maintained first, and if sufficient feed is not furnished, she will use that given for egg production to build up her body. Production of eggs will fall off if the hen draws on her body supply of nutrients, she will suffer in vigor so that production later will be satisfactory.

If not sufficiently fed, the hen will draw on her body supply of fat to build the yolk of the egg and her storehouse of minerals and vitamins to get into the egg. This drainage effects the condition of the body, says Doctor Kaupp, and undermines the health of the bird.

Insists that the hen needs a mash feed along with the right amount of grain each day. When putting on the new growth of 8,000 feathers, she needs additional care and attention.

White corn feed alone will not give a hen all the food nutrients needed. While the egg is 95 per cent water, it also contains 10 per cent of fat, 14 per cent of protein, and 11 per cent of minerals, mostly in the shell. Therefore, laying hens must have a good laying mash and grain feed each day in the year.

In addition to this each hen must also have at least seven pounds of green feed to each 100 birds every day.

If these requirements are met there is no reason why some eggs might not be secured through the summer and the body of the bird suffer no diminution in vigor for future production.

Mites Are Infallible Indications of Filth

Lice and mites are infallible signs of filth and neglect. When a hen house becomes thoroughly infested it is no small job to get rid of the vermin. If the hen house is small and of little value it is advisable to burn it down, provided other buildings are not endangered. If this is not practicable the house must be turned inside out, thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Throw out the roosts, feeding and watering utensils; litter, droppings boards and even the floors if necessary. Burn old litter. Scrub roosts and floors, walls and ceiling with hot water containing a 10 per cent solution of carbolic acid or some coal tar preparation that will destroy all insect life and even the nits. When perfectly cleaned and dried out put on a generous coat of whitewash containing a weak solution of carbolic acid, with brush or better, with a sprayer.

Insulation or Curtains to Keep Out Icy Winds

All that can be done to the farm poultry house in the way of insulation or storm curtains or banking around the outside, will tend to keep keep out the icy winds and hold in the bird heat to make the pullets more comfortable. But ventilation must not be reduced to a point that makes the house damp. A damp poultry house always makes colder than a dry ventilated house at the same temperature. Dampness seems to be a cause of colds and low vitality and leads to such things as frost-bite and even the nits. When perfectly cleaned and dried out put on a generous coat of whitewash containing a weak solution of carbolic acid, with brush or better, with a sprayer.

Weed Out Boarders and Save High-Priced Feed

Weed out boarders that cost thousands in feed. Failure to weed out and sell the unprofitable hens during the summer costs poultrymen thousands of dollars each year. Profit that could be realized from the laying hens is used to feed these boarder hens that eat high-priced feed without producing any eggs. This loss can easily be stopped by culling the flock about once each month during the summer. Culling at regular intervals makes it possible to remove from the flock all unprofitable hens shortly after they cease production.

Alfalfa for Hens

If your laying hens are getting yellow corn every day, give them all the green, leafy alfalfa hay they care to eat, advises W. C. Tully of North Dakota Agricultural college. With no green grass or other fresh leafy feeds, biddy has a hard time keeping thrifty and laying eggs, too. Vitamin A is a feed element not North Dakota hens find lacking in their winter rations, unless they are getting either yellow corn, alfalfa hay or cod liver oil.

Early Fall Layers

Some people have objected to the early layers in the fall, as they will often molt in the early part of the winter and thereby slacken up in egg production. On the other hand, when such birds do go into the molt, they will again start laying in the early part of the year, and the eggs will be especially suitable for hatching purposes, as the birds will be better matured. In fact, many hatcheries prefer eggs from this age of pullets for hatching purposes.

Number of Nests

The number of nests in relation to the size of the laying flock during the heavy laying season is important. With a sufficient number of nests properly placed there is less danger of eggs becoming deposited in the litter and becoming lost, stepped on or otherwise broken. Authorities suggest one nest for three or four hens. Nests should be darkened; they should be so constructed that it is easy for one to see and remove the eggs.

"You Can't Afford to Miss Electric Range Conveniences"

"Hundreds of progressive and enthusiastic housewives have told me about the many electric range advantages, and I feel sure that now we've adopted this new, convenient and more economical system of rates, even more of you will profit by the superiorities of electric cookery, and at the same time lower the average rate for any other additional service used."

"You see, an electric range uses about 125 kilowatt-hours a month, and under the new rate system, practically all of this current would come on the lowest rate."

"In the average five-room house, normal use of electric service, without an electric range, water heater or refrigerator, will consume most of the 45 kilowatt-hours of the initial and second rates, after which all service—electric lighting, refrigeration, heating, cooking or any other use, will be figured on the 3c basis, when you use an electric range or water heater—4c when service does not include heating or cooking."

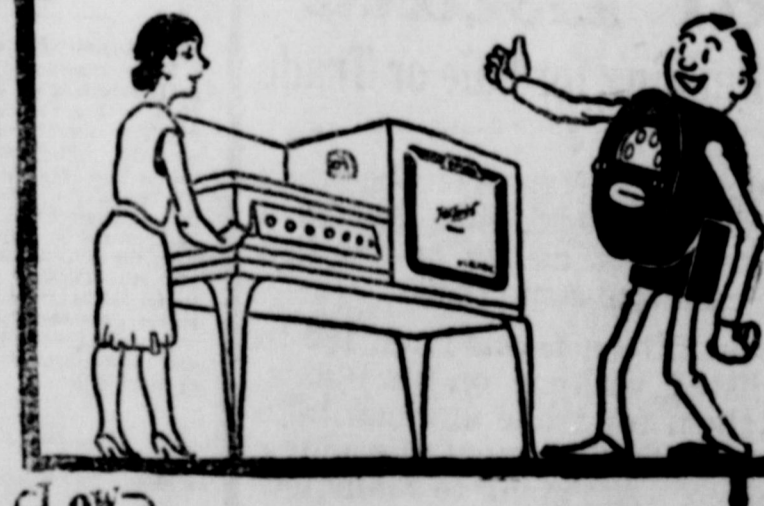

"Under the new one-meter rate an electric range will be appreciated more than ever, and is no longer a luxury."
