Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Next Friday is Farm and Ranch Day for Knox County.

This event, sponsored jointly by the Extension Service and the Burlington Railroad, has been brought to Munday for several years. A program of interest for all farmers and ranchers has been planned, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

This is an opportunity for farmers and ranchers to gather and hear specialists in their fields discuss phases of farming and livestock raising that might help to iron out some of your individual problems.

Portions of the program are of special interest to the ladies, too, and this should assure a larger crowd than usual. It's an event for everyone in the county who is interested, and you're invited.

A Texas Vegetable Growers Council was formed on January 10 at a meeting in San Antonio. It resulted from a series of conferences and meetings covering some two years. Its purpose is to promote production, distribution, consumption and continued improvement of Texas vegetables.

A local producer and booster for vegetable production in this area for several years was selected as one of the directors in this council. He is Herbert Partridge, and one who will do a good job of representing vegetable growers of this area in such an organization.

A whole batch of 'taters have been unloaded in Munday during the past week. These are seed 'taters—which means that this area will have quite an acreage in potatoes again this year, and the planting time is not too far off. Formation of the Texas Council should be a boost to farmers of this section who have gone in for vegetable production.

We don't know just how far they will go toward raising vegetables other than potatoes, but we've heard it mentioned a few times of late that quite a few cantaloupes will be grown again this year.

We've maintained all along that Knox County cantaloupes are the best flavored of any grown in Texas, but that might just be our opinion. What flooded producers a few years ago was the problem of marketing them.

Our "Dean of the Texas Legislature" is a work horse of no mean reputation.

Senator George Moffett holds the record for the length of service in the Legislature. He has served in the Senate for 23 years and the House of Representatives for eight years. Just this week, Moffett was appointed on 12 of the 24 committees of the Texas Senate, and our guess is that this is pretty much of a work load. Moffett said "There's a lot of work involved here" in talking about the appointments.

It was evident last week that Sen. Moffett would receive these appointments, so he released the story to us ahead of time so we would not be "scooped" by daily press. Later, we received a wire that appointments had been delayed, so we held up the story. The daily papers carried it Monday—and we were scooped after all.

We used to think the boys in the Legislature did a lot of playing around. To the ordinary layman it might seem that way when the bodies sometimes adjourn at noon Thursday for the week end. But when you're on 12 committees, as is Mr. Moffett, we imagine there's a lot of work to do even when the main bodies are not in session. We've never considered George Moffett as a "playboy" Senator. He's generally busy doing something for his state and his district.

Even so, we've never had occasion to write him about anything, but that he gave us a prompt reply. Such is the man who represents us in the Texas Senate. His devotion to duty is probably the reason he's been sent to Austin to serve us through all these years.

School Census Is Now In Progress

The annual school census for Munday Independent School is being taken during the month of January by Willie Apple, superintendent.

Parents of any children between six and 18 years of age on September 1, 1961, who have been missed in the school census are asked to call the superintendent at 4771 or 2771, and he will take necessary steps to include these students on the census roll. This needs to be taken care of by February 1, 1961.

Moffett Named On Twelve Committees

Permanent organization of the Senate of the 57th Legislature was completed this week with the announcement of committee appointments by Lieutenant Governor Ramsey. Members of the twenty-four Senate committees are chosen by the Lieutenant Governor largely in accordance with their familiarity with the legislation dealt with by the particular committee to which they are appointed.

Senator George Moffett of this district has been made a member of twelve of the Senate's twenty-four committees. He drew the post Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and Livestock and Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Oil and Gas. In addition to these two assignments, he was appointed to ten other committees in the Senate, as follows:

Welding Classes Are Being Planned

The Munday vocational agriculture department is interested in sponsoring an adult evening class in electric welding. The school would include instructions in different phases of arc welding, including hard surfacing.

The instruction would be three hours each night for four nights, excluding Wednesday night. A small fee will be charged for materials used.

A minimum of ten adult men are needed for this course, with a maximum of 15 being acceptable. Lack of space in the shop prohibits a larger number.

If you are interested in learning electric welding, or becoming more proficient in welding, please contact David Bardin or Joe Canafax, who need to know if there is a need for this instruction at this time.

The first 15 adult men to enroll will be the ones accepted. However, if there is a great need, another week of the school could be scheduled. Dates for the instruction will be set as soon as a sufficient number enroll.

Contracts Let On New Church Building Tuesday

Some of the major contracts in the construction of the new auditorium for the church of Christ here in Munday were let at a special meeting last Tuesday night.

Graham Electric Company of Knox City was awarded the electrical contract. Guinn Brothers of Knox City will handle the heating, air-conditioning and plumbing for the new auditorium. The roofing contract went to the Lydick-Hooks Roofing Company, Texas Clay Products, Inc. of Malakoff, Texas, will furnish the brick. Although other contracts are pending most of the materials will be purchased locally.

Weather permitting, the foundation and floor slab will be poured on February 1. The completion date has tentatively been set for June 1. The new auditorium will seat 640. Following the completion of the new building, the existing structure will be converted into class-room facilities.

The Paden Construction Company of Cleburne, Texas, is supervising the project. During the past seven years, the Paden Company has completed in excess of 400 buildings for the churches of Christ across the nation. The attractive meeting place for the church of Christ in Haskell was the second building that they constructed.

$70,000 in church building bonds were issued last week. All but $1000 was sold here in Munday. It is quite rare for a church to issue this amount in less than four weeks, but the sale here was concluded in less than one week.

PENALTY OF INFLATION

Few businesses today raise prices of products or services as a short-cut to easy profits. The competitive market sees to that. This is an era when price increases can be attributed to just one thing—insidious, creeping inflation which spells higher costs over which business management has no control. No industry is immune. Even the most stringently regulated public utility must bow to inexorable economic necessity.

Not long ago the Railway Express Agency, a regulated privately-owned package-carrying service, was forced to go to the Interstate Commerce Commission with a request for moderate increases on certain classes of express traffic. During the past year spectacular economies and revolutionary operating improvements have greatly increased the efficiency and quality of service of the express agency. Among other innovations a new "compatible" highway-rail-sea-container system for moving express traffic has been successfully tested and found to provide faster, cheaper and safe service for certain movements. These changes and economies enable REA to make giant strides in reducing out-of-pocket express losses—from an anticipated $38 million in 1959 to about $7.5 million in 1960.

William B. Johnson, president of REA, in filing proposed tariff increases, observed: "If the express business is to be assured of continuance under the reorganization program now in progress, virtual elimination of the deficit in the near future is a necessity." Unavoidable increases of more than $10.5 million annually in REA wage rates, payroll taxes and fringe benefits under labor contracts made no other course of action possible.

So again we see the effect of inflation which no business, no individual can combat as long as government deficits and a depreciating dollar are tolerated as a "national policy."

RECORDS SOARING

The Edison Electric Institute has issued a review of the industry's experience during 1960. As in other years, it tells a story of constant and dramatic progress. Production records have been set; the power-producing capability of the industry has reached another new high and the lead over the Soviet Union has been further extended, and by a big margin. Use of power by the average family has jumped again, and during the year the utilities spent the tremendous total of $3.35 billion on new construction.

Moreover, the outlook for coming years is for more new records of every nature. By 1970 the investor-owned companies plan to double their present capability and their production. By 1980, they expect both capability and production to be nearly quadrupled.

There is one more phase of this industry's operations that deserves heavy emphasis—taxes. Its total 1960 tax bill was about $2.35 billion, $160 million more than in 1959. The payments went to government at all levels from the community on up, with the federal government receiving the greatest share. If the electric industry were socialized and free of taxes, as the public-power zealots devoutly wish, that huge sum would have had to be made up by all the rest of us, individuals and enterprises alike.

To sum up, this basic industry had another good year—and the benefits were universally shared, among investors, customers and government.

Dr. Bela ablian writes in the Saturday Evening Post: "Few people know that in the Soviet Union under Nikita Krushchev Jews must carry passes with the word 'Yevrei' (Jew) stamped on them, a serious handicap in employment and in other respects. Krushchev has a long a long-standing record of anti-Semitism. When after the Nazi withdrawal in 1944, Krushchev became the Prime Minister of the Ukraine and the First Secretary of the Ukrainian Communist Party, his rule was marked by anti-Semitic incidents."

Piggybacking, or the loading of truck trailers on rail flatcars, is leading a quiet revolution in railroading in the United States. This new service is expected to shift up to a million truck-loads of freight from congested streets and highways to rail tracks this year.

Health Information Foundation reports that the number of patients hospitalized for mental illness in this country has recently decreased, after rising steadily for most of the century. Moreover, it adds, recent medical advances have increased the probability of early release for many of these patients.

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

Divorce and re-marriage are highly controversial subjects, and yet we cannot afford to neglect to "speak as the oracles of God" in this matter. If the Scriptures were silent on the subject, our opinion would be permissible. However, the Bible provides the instruction as to the re-marriage of the divorcee. The Word of God is plain in presenting the ONE ground for divorce and the condition of the guilty party that remarries. The following words deserve your careful attention.

Hear Christ! "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery; and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery." (Matt. 5:32). Also read Matthew 19:9.

Hear the apostle Paul! "And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband: But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband; and let not the husband put away his wife." (I Cor. 7:10-11). "For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband. So then if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress; but if her husband be dead, she is free from the law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man." (Ro. 7:2-3).

We had best honors God's law in this matter. Conform your thinking to God's revealed will. Be narrow-minded! You can't afford to be otherwise!

What Price Balanced Diets?

As a result of present-day food buying and eating habits, many experts or dietitians are convinced that this nation's livestock and the family pets have a better chance of getting a balanced diet than do many children.

This analysis was discussed recently by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White before a woman's club in San Antonio.

"We recoil in horror over the fact that millions of people in the Far East and Latin America are underfed," said Commissioner White. "But there are 25 million people in this country who are just as bad off from a health standpoint."

"America is well off so far as an abundance of food is concerned, but we are not properly selecting and using our foods to their best advantage. Instead, our food products are becoming victims of a fast-paced civilization.

"We have become a nation of the skipped breakfast, the quick lunch and the pre-cooked supper. The food industry has kept up with this demand. Their production methods are geared to this harassing cry for quick and easy meals. These time savers often prove to be great robbers of nutrition from our meals—and they help deflate our pocket books as well."

In the highly competitive race for the housewife's shopping dollar, White pointed out, food industry advertising concentrates on "easy preparation" and attractive packaging of food.

"Very little is said about the amount of health-giving properties of the product," he said. "As a matter of fact, many of these properties have been refined away in an effort to make it more appealing to the eye—and less nourishing to the stomach."

"When it comes to feeding livestock, the farmer knows that it isn't the fancy feed bag or even the taste of the feed that counts. He realizes that the importance of any food lies primarily in its nutritive value. The farmer's grasp of dietetics is often superior to that of the housewife."

A vast education program might be part of the answer, Commissioner White suggested, to convince "the housewife that a proper balance should be maintained between fresh foods and staples and the highly refined processed products. Both processed and natural foods have a place on her table, but one should not be excluded entirely for the other."

Mrs. David Robnett of Pecos and Miss Carolyn Hobert of N. T. S. C. in Denton are spending this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Hobert, and other relatives and friends.

It's the Law in TEXAS

LEGAL CHECKUP IS SAFETY MEASURE

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home buying, installment paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer. Often under prodding, one may get a lawyer to write a will. But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.
2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long term obligations.
3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration", something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e. g. unsigned contracts, vexing tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

ORCHIDS TO YOU!

ORCHIDS TO YOU!

Rain or shine, dust or snow, sleet or ice, dry your clothes indoors and have them sunshine fresh coming from large dryers where there is ample room for one to four loads. A customer gets the most for his money drying (at the rate of 10 minutes for 10¢) in large roomy dryers. Small dryers will make the most money for the owner but they will crowd the customer's clothes and limit the customer to only 2 loads in a dryer. At the WESTINGHOUSE LAUNDROMAT dryers are safe and gentle for thermostats control the heat. This prevents yellowing.

Think twice about the sanitary condition of the machine in public in which you are washing. WESTINGHOUSE LAUNDROMATS are self-cleaning thus this insures your clothes being washed in the most sanitary manner and machines—a machine as clean as a new one after every wash regardless of who has used the machine before you. Plus all that rain-soft, abundant hot water you find at the Laundromat.

Every human has to have bread to eat to live; every human has to have a place to wash dirty clothes in order to have clean clothes to wear. Edgar Morgan who is the attendant at the Westinghouse Laundromat in Munday will give you soda ash if you ask for it to use when washing greasy or badly soiled clothes and this is a courtesy to you for which you do not have to pay. The Laundromat in Munday is across from Reid's Hardware Store. (adv.)

Mrs. Elliott And Jerry Lemley Are Married On Friday

Mrs. Patricia Elliott and Jerry Lemley were married Friday evening in the First Methodist Church in Munday. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, pastor, in the presence of members of the immediate family and close friends.

The bride wore an original suit of beige silk with brown accessories accented by a strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with pale yellow rosebuds tied with showers of stephanotis and ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, were honor attendants. After a wedding trip to south Texas the couple will be at home at 2233 Amarillo in Abilene.

Mrs. Lemley will continue her studies at McMurry College where she is a senior. Mr. Lemley is employed by Reliable Insurance Co. of Abilene.

Activities of The Colored People

Sunday school was well attended at all churches Sunday.

A white minister and his wife visited West Beulah Sunday school. He taught a wonderful lesson. It was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Annie Bell Brumley is asking all the missionary ladies to continue to fast over Friday that the whole town might be blesed.

West Beulah church went to Seymour Sunday evening and worshipped with the members of that church.

The Methodist church pastor preached a wonderful sermon Sunday night. Rev. Beaver, W. C. Chandler and Mrs. F. M. Johnson worshipped with them.

Dennis Williams and Frank Scott seem to be improving greatly.

Little Diana Cunningham has come home from the hospital. Rev. and Mrs. Clay visited Rev. and Mrs. Walker Saturday in the home of Mrs. F. M. Johnson.

Master Jimmy Lee Thomas has returned home after spending a week in Stamford.

Mrs. Kenneth Jones is in the Knox County Hospital at this writing.

Elijah and Mack T. Thomas spent last Thursday in Dallas.

There was a young newspaper reporter in a Nevada mining town many years ago. He and two friends staked out a claim but each thought the other would do the small amount of work that had to be done within 30 days to complete the title—and so they lost the claim. The new owners developed one of the richest gold mines in Virginia City.

Anyone would say that for a man to lose a million dollars is certainly a misfortune—but the newspaperman was Mark Twain. If in his twenties, he had riches dumped in his lap, he might not have had the incentive to write and so the world would have lost "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn."

Sometimes, what appears to be a misfortune later proves not to have been.

When Billy Rose (with whom I worked at the Fort Worth Casa Manana in 1936 and 1937) was a young man, he had an ambition to write songs so he went to the New York City library and studied titles, tunes and techniques of the hit songs of the past dozen years, then he composed such favorites as "Wedding Bells are Breaking up That Old Gang of Mine" and "Without a Song."

It is said that a newspaper writer, who was sent on an out-of-town assignment, returned to New York by a different route than the managing editor had instructed him as the writer figured it made no difference, anyhow. But the Johnstown flood hit just then and, if he had gone the route he had been told, he would have been the first out-of-town newspaperman on the scene. The result was that, when he got back to New York, he was fired.

In Big Spring, a drive-in cafe features "chicken gizzard basket." And in Abilene, the slogan of the Hill & Hill Company is, "Head for the Hills."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

The supersonic speed of modern life is costing us one of the most vital ingredients of good health—sleep.

Twenty years ago people got plenty of sleep and were better off for it, because sufficient sleep is unreplaceable if denied. People knew about fission in those days, but it was the hook and line variety, rather than nuclear. Things have changed.

Say you stay up for 20 hours a day. If you follow this routine for a week or so at a time, first thing you'll notice is your hands jumping from nervousness. A dull ache will begin gnawing at the base of your skull. You'll be picky and different toward food. You'll be quarrelsome—projecting casual remarks all out of proportion. It will sound like an insult when someone says hello. You might think a good night's sleep will fix you up. Maybe it will—on the surface. The nervousness might leave you and the headache might disappear. It could be that a single night of sleep will give you the sweet disposition that was formerly sour grapes.

But it's all on the surface. During the stretch of sleeplessness your heart may have been strained, your blood pressure increased, your digestion upset.

Sleep gives the human body a chance to recover from the fatigue of one trying day before the assault of the next. And it has to be natural to be beneficial. That's why sleeping potions are undesirable as a steady diet.

A few hints may help you get a better night's sleep. Do your heavy thinking before supper. Make it a rule that after the evening meal your brain gets a rest. Subdue the lights around the house. Lights keep you alert, besides being tough on the power bill.

Get lots of fresh air. Sitting quietly on the porch might encourage the relaxation so necessary for dropping off into sound sleep. So might a short drive—if you avoid main travelled roads. Reading light fiction is also relaxing, but stay away from the gory private eye stuff.

Develop a bedtime ritual, the more sedate the better, to condition your mind for bed. And when you do retire, deliberately try to blank out those random thoughts that steal into your mind.

Dollars And Sense

By Mrs. S. C. Kinsey, Knox County H. D. Agent

More about buying a car. If you are one who wishes to keep a car as long as it is financially practical, you will probably consider trading in your car when its costs of maintenance and operation begin to climb, or just before major repairs are needed.

It is generally assumed that a car, given ordinary care and operation, will require little special servicing during the first 15,000 miles.

There is a possibility of greater maintenance cost the second 15,000 miles, depending upon driving skill, and the use and care the cars have received. Brakes may require relining or replacing.

During the third 15,000 miles, maintenance costs are likely to rise. Minor and sometimes major parts may begin to show wear and need replacement or repair.

Between 45,000 and 60,000 miles more costly repairs or replacements may be necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and Johnny took little Valerie Scott, who had been visiting here several days, to her home in Electra last Thursday. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duke in Wichita Falls.

Barton Carl and Mrs. Joe Bailey King attended market in Dallas the first of this week.

A Winter Almanac

January 15:

Remember last fall's resolutions for a fresh start in house cleaning this year? A supply shelf kept up-to-date with small cleaning items is a good beginning. Stock it with powdered and liquid cleansers, a plastic mesh ball, oval blue soap pads, extra wax and saran wrap and spot removers. Be sure to keep at least one package of each—replace as you use.

February 2:

Ground Hog Day started in Punxsutawney, Pa. If the ground hog sees his shadow, it's a sign that spring is still six weeks off... so take stock of your indoor cleaning jobs. Has the oven been cleaned lately? Use S.O.S. blue soap pads on the broiler for stubborn spots. And remember, daily care takes less time than once-a-week cleaning sprees on the stove and around the house.

February 28:

No leap year in 1961—so one last day till spring. An all-out spring cleaning is unnecessary if you get the big jobs done gradually on your regular work schedule. Remember to go over the bathroom walls occasionally with a damp cloth (on painted walls or water-proof surfaces as well as tile). Tuffy, that little plastic ball, is a handy gadget to keep in the bathroom for cleaning the tub and wash bowl (along with a mild cleanser). It can't scratch or mar the finest porcelain. Good for kitchen sinks too.

March 21:

The first day of spring! Now you can move outdoors on warm days... even a bit of window-washing can be agreeable when the sun is out. So divide your chores between the inside and outdoors. Either place, blue soap pads are handy aids to have along.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Puzzled Over The Conflict-of-Interest Laws Which Congress Has Worryed With

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek probably is too literal-minded, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
I'm not interested in any appointment in Washington, I can get talked about enough right here at home where I'm comfortable without going to the national capital for it, but I have been following the newspaper accounts of hearings on appointments made by the new President and it looks like I could qualify for nearly any of the jobs.

That is, I wouldn't have any conflict of interests. I wouldn't have to sell off any stocks and bonds. I got a clean bill of health on that score, which seemed to be the only point the committees were interested in checking into when a prospective appointee came before them.

As I understand it, conflict of interest means if a man owns stock in a big company doing business with the government, he's got to get rid of his stock before he can serve, or else he might have a natural tendency to let government contracts where it would do the most good for his stock.

I have been thinking this matter over, and while I'm not going into the fairness of the law, it's probably a pretty good one, still I'm afraid Congress is going to have trouble enforcing it, if it goes into it far enough.

For example, take the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. As I understand it, his job is to promote the health, education and welfare of the people, consequently, to avoid any personal conflict of interest, does this mean he has to get rid of his family and all his other relatives and friends? Obviously, he can't be promoting measures which will rebound to the interests of his own family.

Or take the Secretary of Agriculture. He ought to know something about farming, and about the only way I know to learn something about farming is to own some land, yet clearly a landowner would run head-on into a conflict of interest if he promoted something for the good of the land or the good of the farmer, although there are people who will say there have been Secretaries of Agriculture who could never be accused of promoting anything like that.

This thing requires considerable study. And to top it off, I understand President Kennedy has converted his possible conflict-of-interest holdings into government bonds. And there you are. Every time he promotes something for the good of the government, isn't he promoting the soundness of those government bonds?

Getting qualified men for government service is getting harder and harder all the time, but I doubt if it'll ever get hard enough to where I'll qualify.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Improved Sampling Method Is Aid To Brucellosis Tests

The State-USDA campaign to eradicate brucellosis has received a substantial boost, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Savings of time and labor have been effected through an improvement in the method of pin-pointing dairy herds affected with the disease.

This improvement consists of taking the test samples from the milk used in butterfat tests, thus eliminating the need for getting separate samples.

Dr. O. J. Hummon, of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, says that sample collection is greatly simplified by the new procedure because samples drawn from butterfat test bottles can be handled much faster than others. The veterinarian notes that there is a potential saving of an estimated 50 percent in collection and laboratory work time, and that records are more accurate, plant routine is not upset, and more flexible scheduling of tests is possible.

With the incidence of brucellosis declining each year, greater efforts must be made to detect remaining centers of infection. Because of the savings made possible by this new procedure, many states have been able to increase the frequency of tests from two to three times a year. This additional surveillance helps speed up efforts toward brucellosis eradication.

You're Protected If "Seeing Red"

AUSTIN—The Texas Highway Department has announced a highway safety measure designed to protect the motorist by making him see red—literally.

The Department said it will require flagmen directing traffic at highway construction and maintenance projects to wear red vests and to use a flag of the same color.

The men in the red vests will begin appearing on Texas highways by mid-February, when Highway Department employees working on maintenance jobs will don the eye-catching apparel. Made from fluorescent red nylon, the new vests are designed to make flagmen more easily visible and recognizable to motorists both day and night. At night the vests and flags will be supplemented by flares.

Red flags have been used by flagmen in the past but the fluorescent color and the vests are new requirements, made "to insure added safety and convenience for the public in the movement of traffic to and through highway construction and maintenance operations," said D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer. He hailed the new vests as a safety measure not only for motorists but also for highway workmen.

Beginning with the February contract letting, he said, the specifications for all highway projects will require that flagging be done with the use of the special vests and flags.

The same flag signals will be retained: flagman's arm fully extended horizontally to indicate "STOP"; movement of the flagman's free hand without use of the flag to indicate "PROCEED".

ATTENTION FARMERS

We wish to announce that a Forney Arc Welder Factory-trained Representative will hold a free welding demonstration in the Goree School Vocational Agriculture Shop on January 31, 1961 at 7:00 p.m.

This demonstration will pertain strictly to the fundamentals of repairing farm machinery, hardsurfacing of plow shares and cultivator shovels, as well as techniques of welding cast iron and aluminum.

If you own an Arc Welder, please bring your own helmet.

Mrs. Muriel Mitchell visited relatives in Abilene over the week end.

Bob Cude and Don Bowman left Wednesday morning for Lubbock where they entered Texas Tech for the second semester.

American farmers fed us and our allies during two world wars without drawing on the manpower needed by the armed forces or by industries producing war materials.

Based on January 1 conditions, the Crop Reporting Board forecasts the winter vegetable crop for fresh market will be 4 percent less than last winter, but 6 percent above average.

Research work done in Throckmorton county by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that evaporation retardation by chemical means offers a promising method of conserving surface-stored water.
