Odd Bits Salvaged

"Too many Americans has less to spend for items that cost more to buy."

k-k
We noticed particularly that statement Monday in President Kennedy's state of the union address, his first major address before a joint session of the Congress, and wondered just how he had secured detailed information of our own situation!

k-k
There's lots of gravity and concern in that fact, however, when you get down to brass tacks. Even on a state-wide basis, the situation is something to stagger the imagination. Senator Ralph Yarborough revealed some startling figures in this week's letters to newspapers.

k-k
"Texas Public Welfare officials inform me," he said, "that 68 counties and cities in our state were distributing surplus food packages to some 137,000 Texans at the end of the year 1960. What's more, with above normal seasonal unemployment it is expected that surplus food packages will be needed for several thousand more Texans in the next few weeks." He continued:

k-k
"Latest state employment figures, which are for November, show there were 25,600 people hunting jobs in Houston, 33,450 in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and 7,650 were looking for work in the Beaumont - Orange - Port Arthur vicinity. Total unemployment in Texas in November was 184,300, the highest for that month since the 1930's, according to reports by the Texas Employment Commission. It is estimated that a nationwide unemployment is now approximately 5 1/2 million."

k-k
If you didn't pay your poll tax by midnight last Tuesday, you're going to miss out in the fun. The privilege of voting during 1961 has been denied you, because of your unconcern or carelessness.

k-k
We'll have an election for school board members, one for members of your city council, and on April 4th we'll fill the important place in Washington which has been vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson. There's a likelihood of a runoff in this race, too, since the field is becoming pretty crowded.

k-k
Heard via TV newscast Monday night that a candidate, the 20th on the list, has filed for the Senate race. He paid his filing fee of $50 all in pennies—50,000 of them. We don't remember the name, never heard of him to our knowledge, but our guess is that if he had to save in that amount and that long, he should have kept on hoarding his pennies instead of plunking them down on a 20-to-1 chance!

k-k
We haven't personally selected our man in this race—if we did, you'd probably best select another if you want a winner—but we have thought of this: If you want experience, maybe Sen. William Blakley is your man. He's been up there on two occasions, now, by interim appointment.

k-k
We were glad to learn Monday that Carl Wheatley, our own State Representative for the 83rd District, was appointed to five important committees in the House of Representatives. This is Carl's first term at Austin, and his appointments indicate that the freshman representative is already fitting into the scheme of things and is gaining recognition among his fellow members.

k-k
Looks like we'll be taxed further before the Texas lawmakers are through. Be it a sales tax, natural gas tax, salary tax or state income tax, it will likely be Mr. Ordinary Citizen who foots the bill.

k-k
How do you spend your time? According to a recent survey, the average man in his lifetime spends 20 years working, another 20 sleeping, 16 years playing, five years shaving and dressing, five years eating, and three years just waiting. In a lifetime he spends 8,760 hours telephoning, the equivalent of one full year. Gee whiz! Figure it up. By that time he's wasted a full 65 years and hasn't gotten in a bit of fishing!

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Jack Moore, Knox County Agent

4-H SWINE PROGRAM

Members of the boy's 4-H Clubs in Knox County this next month will be getting information on the swine program that is conducted in almost every county in the state. The swine program places in the hands of 8 Knox County 4-H members a registered Duroc gilt and one boar to another 4-H member. Both boys and girls are eligible to participate in the program. The pigs are awarded on the basis of an essay contest and the facilities that a member has for caring for a pig. Contestants for the pigs must write an essay entitled "The Value of Producing Pork on My Farm as a Source of Cash Income," and sign an agreement blank that states:

Should they win a gilt pig, they agree to feed and care for this pig under the direction of the county agent. They also agree to carry out the following:

1. Exhibit their gilt at the county show, if eligible, at the store area show.
2. Have the gilt bred at the proper time to farrow a spring litter.
3. Raise a litter and compete in the store area spring heavy litter contest.
4. Return the choice gilt pig or $15.00 to the program. The county agent will make the choice between returning the choice gilt or the $15.00.
5. Provide a certificate of registration on the gilt pig returned to the program.
6. Have the sow bred at the proper time for a fall litter.
7. Raise this litter and compete in the store area fall heavy litter contest.
8. Keep accurate records on his swine demonstration.

Should a member win a boar, they agree to furnish free service to the other Sears-Roebuck Foundation gilts in the county for the first litters, and agree to keep accurate books of breeding records. Should they win a boar, the member agrees to show the boar at the store area show.

GOPHER DEMONSTRATION PLANNED

Several of the farmers and people in the county have been complaining about the gopher problem in the county in their fields and yards. The problem has caused the loss of crops in some areas of the county to an unusually high amount this year and the build-up seems to be more than usual this year. V. R. Smith of the Fish and Wildlife Service Rodent Control Division will have, in cooperation with the extension service, a demonstration on Monday, Feb. 20, at 10:00 a.m. The demonstration will be conducted on the Kenneth Whittemore farm south-west of Munday. The demonstration will feature the use of the newly developed gopher machine. The machine is designed to be pulled by a tractor that has a three point hitch on it. Smith said the machine was being produced by a commercial company; however, that a farmer who had a small shop on his farm could make a similar machine at a relatively small cost. The older hand method sometimes called the hill or run method of poisoning will be demonstrated. Smith stated that in some sections of the state that the economic loss caused by the gopher was not really realized until an effective control program was used.

Child Rescued From Stock Tank Leaves Hospital

Pat Cartwright, who narrowly escaped death by drowning late Friday afternoon when rescued from a stock tank by his father, has been progressing satisfactorily and was released from the Knox County Hospital last Monday. Pat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Cartwright, had progressed rapidly since entering the hospital.

His father, who farms 5 1/2 miles east of Munday, was working nearby when he heard his son scream. The boy had been skating on the icy pond and the ice broke with him. Cartwright saw that heavy ice prevented the boy from swimming, and he immediately plunged into the 20-foot deep pond to rescue the boy. He was forced to return to shore to shed his heavy clothing, giving the boy instructions all the time, and once more leaped into the water to pull Pat, then unconscious, to safety.

The father applied mouth to mouth respiration until Pat groaned, and then drove him to Munday, where a physician worked on the lad until he regained consciousness. He was then taken to the hospital. Clothing on both the boy and father, who was in a state of shock, had frozen on them. Cartwright, who had brought the boy to Eiland's Drug Store before he was taken to the doctor's office, was changed into dry clothing inside the store. The father was soon released from the hospital, after being treated for shock and exposure. He said the boy followed his instructions nicely until he became unconscious in the icy waters.

Munday Girl Is Named Winner In Homemaking Event

Neva Bell Morgan has been named the 1961 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Munday high school.

Having received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating seniors in her school, she becomes a candidate for the state Homemaker of Tomorrow award which will be announced in March.

Each school Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive an award pin, manufactured by Jostens and representing the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart Is." The examination papers of school Homemakers of Tomorrow will be entered in competition to name the state's Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The $110,000 homemaking education program sponsored by General Mills offers a $1,500 scholarship to the first ranking girl in each state and $500 scholarship to the state's second ranking participant.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Martin, and Ernest Allen, local agent, attended a Texas Farm Bureau membership rally in Abilene last Monday.

RECEIVES AWARD—W. E. Braly, president of the First National Bank of Munday and county U. S. Savings Bonds chairman, is shown here receiving the U. S. Treasury award for Knox County for having exceeded its 1960 quota of bonds sales. The award, presented by J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, district bonds chairman, was an event of the district savings bonds meeting held in Wichita Falls last Thursday night.

County Exceeds Quota In Bonds

During 1960 citizens of Knox County purchased $266,296 in Savings Bonds, 133.1% of the county sales goal was achieved.

This announcement was made today by W. E. Braly, Chairman of the Knox County Savings Bonds Committee.

The total bond purchases in Texas during 1960 were $152,823,432. This figure equaled 92.3% of the year's goal of $165.5 million. December sales of $13,539,528 were the highest one month's totals since last February.

"Last November the members of the Texas Press Association staged a one month's Savings Bonds Contest. The contest, based on news stories, editorials and advertising donated by each newspaper, resulted in increased savings bonds support by Texas newspapers and played an important part in the record December sales," Mr. Braly added.

Farm Bureau To Meet On Monday

A meeting of members of the Knox County Farm Bureau will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, February 6, in the American Legion Hall in Knox City.

This is an important meeting, and all members are urged to be present.

Saves Lions From Big Rattler's Bite

Lion T. W. Bullington, arriving late at Tuesday's meeting of the Munday Lions Club, noticed a huge rattlesnake apparently sunning on the walk near the door of the American Legion hall.

A man of alert thinking and quick in action, Bullington rushed to a nearby pickup, secured a heavy steel bar and bashed the reptile's head into bits. As he completed his task, he noticed no wiggle and heard no rattle—then discovered the snake was already dead.

He later learned the snake had been killed and placed there by Lloyd Patterson, local farmer. But Lion Bullington's protective act was appreciated by all Lions!

Benjamin Couple Honored Sunday On 50th Anniversary

Approximately 80 friends called at the Club House in Benjamin between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m. Sunday, January 29, 1961, to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were married January 29, 1911 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Detwiller, in Paducah. They lived the first thirty years around Paducah before moving to Munday where they lived several years before moving to Benjamin when he was elected County treasurer, the position he now holds.

Wheatley Named On Five Committees

Carl Wheatley of Haskell, serving his first term in the Texas House of Representatives, for the 83rd District, was appointed to five important committees in the Texas Legislature, it was announced Monday. The committees are:

Oil, Gas and Mining, Agriculture, Highways and Roads, Penitentiaries, and State Hospitals and Special Schools.

The 83rd District is composed of Haskell, Throckmorton, Baylor and Knox Counties.

Large Crowd Attends Farm and Ranch Day Friday, Despite Inclement Weather

It was cold, bitter cold, with snow and sleet falling intermittently, but despite the weather a crowd that exceeded expectations attended the annual Farm and Ranch Day program here last Friday. And those attending were repaid for their efforts by hearing discussions of problems of interest to this agricultural area.

The program started at 10 a.m. in the school auditorium with the address of welcome by Mayor V. E. Moore. During the morning session, a discussion on cotton was given by Billy Gunter, area agronomist with the Extension Service; and one on farm management by Tom Hunter, area farm management specialist. Following a 15-minute break, the group heard Jack Barton of the Extension Service talk on soil fertility.

Between 150 and 200 persons enjoyed the barbecue dinner served at noon by Underwoods of Abilene. Sponsoring the food locally were: First National Bank, Munday Chamber of Commerce, Farmer Co-op Gins, Paymaster Gin, Production Credit Assn., West Texas Utilities Co., Knox County Farm Bureau, and the City of Munday.

A program of special interest for the ladies was held in the afternoon with Jack Barton discussing fertilization of lawns, trees and flowers, and Harold Shahan presenting a program on insect and weed control.

During the afternoon, the men's group heard Paul Marlon of the Spur Experiment Station discuss beef cattle, Lloyd Bergman discuss economics, and Ray B. Bowden of Fort Worth talk on grain and grain sorghums.

Soil Conservation Stamp Is Issued

The world's first Range Conservation Commemorative postage stamp will be issued February 2, 1961, at the annual meeting of the American Society of Range Management in Salt Lake City, Utah. This stamp will go on sale at post offices on February 3.

The new 4-cent stamp is in three colors—blue, reddish brown and black. It is a split-frame stamp, one part being a reproduction of "Trail Boss," a famous sketch by Charles Russell, noted western artist, and the other showing a modern range conservation scene.

Game Official Warns Of Contamination

A little carelessness can cause extensive damage," warns H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. "This was the case recently near Austin when insecticides were washed into a storm sewer which in turn poured these deadly chemicals into the Colorado River."

A few days back an Austin firm washed down some pallets on which insecticides had been carried. The chemicals flowed through a storm sewer and into the Colorado River. It wasn't long until hundreds of edible and rough fish began surfacing. As the river current carried the liquid death downstream, more fish fell victim to the chemicals. At last report, literally tons of fish had been destroyed. The destruction was carried into Bastrop County, and then into Fayette County, and on past La Grange.

In all, it has traveled over 100 stream miles, spreading death to the fish along the way. For the first few miles the chemicals produced nearly a complete kill of all fish in the river.

"Pollution is a serious problem in the state," said Dodgen, and most of it is caused by neglect and the lack of interest in keeping our lakes and streams clean and healthy for all forms of game and fish.

"Many times if a person would give just a little foresight to the possible results of an action, there would be less contamination of these lakes and streams. So, think twice before washing any type of chemicals into drains. Let's stamp out pollution."

NINTH WORLD WONDER

The Ancients listed seven wonders of the world—the Pyramids, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Phidias' Statue of Zeus, the Temple of Ephesus and the Pharos of Alexandria. Now the New Haven, Missouri, Leader, suggests that two additional wonders be added — "The American Economic System" and the "Lack of Understanding About How it Operates."

That economic system has brought us unprecedented material benefits—and, a degree of personal freedom never before experienced in organized society.

But the Leader says: "The ninth wonder of the world might be described as an apparent willingness of the American people to give up this system because of a lack of appreciation and understanding of how the system works! . . . there is an increasing dependency upon the very thing (Government) which leads to socialism, restricts our freedom, and hinders the incentive which made this country successful."

The history of our time has been a sorry record of the destruction of freedom and of every human right and privilege by all-powerful governments. We have seen it the world around. Yet, step by step, we have been beguiled down an ominously similar path. It isn't too late to turn back and to limit government to powers which only government can exercise. But that turning can't be delayed too long.

COSTLY CONTROLS

Profits of many industries show declines in spite of higher gross sales and evidence is piling up that American business is having tough sledding in international markets. As the new Congress goes to work, legislation to raise the federal minimum wage is slated for early consideration.

The cost to the country of raising the minimum wage at this time is well described by a paper box manufacturer of St. Joseph, Michigan. "We believe this would be very detrimental to our industry and will cause more inflation and unemployment. When the cost of packages such as our industry makes reaches a certain point, the customers turn to some other form of packaging which is less expensive and, as a consequence, we lose orders and in turn have to reduce our working forces . . . It is almost impossible to compete with foreign imports with our present wage structure and if the minimum is increased by 25 per cent, we are sure more unemployment and inflation will be the result."

Multiply this paper box manufacturer by tens of thousands and you have a fair picture of what such legislation could do—in dollars and cents costs, and hardships imposed on marginal workers.

There are longer range "costs" that are beyond calculation. These involve matters of principle such as whether the free market, free enterprise system can endure this kind of increasing centralized government control.

COMMERCIAL TRANSPORTATION SAFEST

When there is loss of life on a public conveyance people are emotionally upset. But the disgraceful record of casualties piled up in highway traffic accidents is accepted with indifference. Tens of thousands of men, women and children are needlessly killed or injured every year by automobiles and the sorrow and suffering is shrugged off, except by the unlucky ones involved.

If commercial transportation casualties were as high as private, the uproar would be heard around the world, but the unfortunate victims would be no deader or more maimed in one accident than the other. Apparently the public faces death on the highway as inevitable. Based on the record so far, private transportation will never be safe as that provided by commercial land, air or water carriers.

The reason for this seeming anomaly is that the people demand responsibility from organized transportation while accepting individual responsibility as a way of life.

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "Communism uses poverty, illiteracy and illness to conquer nations, as in Cuba to establish a base for new aggressions. Reduce poverty, illiteracy and illness and you reduce opportunities for communism to spread and overwhelm us. But we must never lose sight of the fact that the ultimate goal is a free world."

MARION, IOWA, SENTINEL: "Freedom of opportunity is related in one of the parables of the Bible. You will remember the parable of the talents, wherein three men were given one, two and five talents. The man who had one talent buried his, but the other two worked hard and they increased their holding two-fold."

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

The Word of God teaches three distinct dispensations or Bible Ages. When an individual arrives at an understanding of these principles, the whole of God's Word is brought into sharp focus. Although man has always been subject to the laws of God, he has not always been subject to the same laws.

Adam, Noah, Abraham and others of the patriarchal fathers lived during the first Bible Age or period. During this period there was no written law. God spoke directly to individual families. The commands which God issued were not necessarily binding upon others. For instance, only Noah was commanded to build an ark. Noah was singled out to be the recipient of this command. However, this dispensation was to come to an end.

With the giving of the law of Moses on the mountain, the second period was ushered in. God singled the Jews out as his chosen people. His law, man's first written law, was given exclusively to this nation. It was understood that they had to obey the law if they were to please God. This age is commonly referred to as the Jewish Dispensation.

When Christ died upon the cross, the third and present dispensation was born. "He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second." (Heb. 10:9). The New Testament did not come operative until Christ shed his blood upon the cross. Please read the following passages that teach this truth. (Heb. 9:15-18, Col. 2:14 and Eph. 2:13-17).

You and I are subject to the New Testament today. We no longer have to build an ark or offer animal sacrifices in order to please God. When you understand what the scriptures teach in this matter you will no longer be able to accept the thief on the cross as an example of New Testament conversion. Think upon these things.

MILK OUTLOOK, 1961

Increasing population and the government price support program are expected to keep milk prices stable in spite of expanded production in 1961 which may exceed 1960 by one billion pounds or more.

The North Texas Producers Association, through its publication, the North Texas Dairyman, has made this appraisal on the basis of U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. In general, it estimates the 1961 outlook about like this:

1. In 1961 it appears that total milk production will show an increase of about one billion pounds over 1960 and will be at a record high level.

2. Recent declines in beef cattle prices and their expected continuing decline in 1961 indicate higher milk production.

3. Due mainly to an increasing population and to the government price support program milk prices are expected to remain stable. The key to any improvement in milk prices is the level of price supports, to be announced in April. Through March of 1961 it appears that prices will average slightly higher than they were in 1960.

4. Per person consumption of milk continues to decline. Consumption of milkfat has continued its long term decline but consumption of non-fat milk solids has increased.

5. The number of dairy farms has declined about 50 per cent during the last 10 years but the volume of milk produced on such farms has increased about 15 per cent during the same period. This increase is due to higher production per cow and larger herds.

"Dairy farmers in Texas," the North Texas Dairyman points out, "are now undergoing significant adjustments. It is estimated that an investment of about $75,000 is the minimum needed to operate an efficient dairy farm at current prices. This will, no doubt, continue to increase."

"Say Gal—
 Who did you say owns the Electric Company?"

PEOPLE do—Big Boy—thousands of people . . . farmers, housewives, engineers, doctors, lawyers, secretaries, storekeepers and business men . . . all kinds of people.

They own the electric company because they invest money in it, and thus help it grow and serve you better.

This kind of ownership made this electric company an investor-owned company. We are not owned by the city nor by the state, nor by any government agency. We are owned by people—many of them are our customers and employees.

We think this is the best kind of ownership in America.

LANKART COTTON

Planted by More Farmers in Texas and Oklahoma than any other variety!

There is a reason. When planted year after year it gives more satisfaction and profit. This is to be expected when one realizes that during the past fifty years the desirable qualities of vigor, high yield, drought resistance, large stormproof boll and quality standard staple have again and again been bred into this cotton by close line breeding methods.

Lankart cottons can be successfully harvested by either of four methods: hand picking, machine picking, hand snapping or by stripper machine. Many thousands of bales of Lankart cotton are stripper machine harvested in the Southwest, annually, at a saving of up to $25.00 per bale. Cotton harvesting may be an important item to the farmer this fall. Now is the time to determine what harvest methods will be used. A prime factor will be to save cost. Many farmers gin their Lankart cotton carefully to prevent gin mixtures and save the seed for their own planting. It has pure-line breeding back of it and does not "run out" in a year or two. We fully recommend this practice to all good farmers.

We produced a good crop of planting seed the past year but our supply of saw cleaned fuzzy Lankart Selection 57 has all been sold for this season. We have a limited supply of acid delinted seed of this variety. In our early maturing Lankart Selection 611 we have a supply of both saw cleaned fuzzy and acid delinted seed at this time.

We have sold our Breeders quality seed in our Trade Marked bags to many cotton gins and seed dealers throughout the state. May we suggest you see your ginner or seed dealer, if he cannot supply you with our seed contact us. Write for circular.

We are the originators and breeders of Lankart Cottons.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims That He Has No Plans To Modernize Any Of His Old Dilapidated Diggins

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm stands up for his principles this week, which is hard to do from a sitting position.

Dear editor:
A town friend of mine I hadn't seen in a long time dropped by to see me out here the other day and he got to looking the place over and finally he said, "Why don't you modernize things around here a little? This is 1961 we're living in, not 1932."

Well, I know what year it is. I've got a calendar, that's one of the splendid things about democracy, one man's calendar is just as good as another's and the man with 500 is no better off than the man with only one, but I didn't say anything, just sort of laughed apologetically as though maybe I would, although the truth is this place suits me like it is.

Well, maybe not exactly like it is, but the amount of work it'd take to make it more modern isn't worth the difference.

Moreover, what's modern is something that's hard to put your finger on. At the very moment you buy a new model, branded 1961 and made only two hours ago, engineers are off in a corner somewhere scheming up a newer model to replace the one you just bought.

Sometimes it seems to me there's no use in getting something new, there'll be something newer out tomorrow.

For example, take refrigerators. I've always contended that a refrigerator, when it manages to maintain a temperature of around 36 degrees, has reached its full purpose, and anything below that is ridiculous. Refrigerators have been doing this for years, maintaining the right temperature 24 hours a day, but they're still bringing out new models.

I've got me a refrigerator out here on this Johnson grass farm, but if I bought a new one, it'd be out of date 12 months from now, and if you're going to be out of date 12 months, you might as well be out of date 15 or 20 years. An ex-convict is an ex-convict, whether he served one year or twenty-five. My notion is that the time to buy a refrigerator is when you haven't got one or the one you've got plays out. Some people say this theory is bad for business, that it'd stand in the way of progress and mass production. This is because they don't have enough confidence in business. Business, as I see it, will always manage to sell the consumer a little more than he can pay for, regardless of what bracket he's in. If I ever get through paying for my 1939 tractor, I'm going to buy me a new one.

Miss Merle Dingus and Henry Clay Dingus visited in Springtown and Fort Worth last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Machen visited with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Machen and daughters in Abilene over the week end.

as Farm and Ranch Safety Council wants to express its appreciation to those responsible for making life more pleasant and enjoyable in the state, especially the rural areas.

Nominations are now due for their "Rural Heroism Awards" and should be mailed immediately to Heroism Award, Texas Safety Association, 830 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

The Council will award three properly engraved plaques to as many state winners during the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association in March. Certificates with local presentations are planned for all nominees.

Any heroic act involving personal danger or sacrifice to aid or assist others in time of crisis is eligible for entry provided the act was performed during 1960. Nominations may be made by any person or groups and should include complete information and substantiating evidence of the heroic act. This material will be used by the judges in determining the winners. Local county agents, teachers of vocational agriculture and local Farm Bureau representatives can give assistance.

L. O. Tiedt of Houston, chairman of the Council's Award Committee, said last year's single award went to Manuel Corral, a Mexican bracero laborer who was lowered into an abandoned irrigation well to rescue a three year old boy.

Tiedt said such acts of bravery as removing a person from a burning building, saving a person from drowning or rescuing another involved in a machinery, tractor or automobile accident should certainly be nominated. A person who rendered exceptional service in case of a tornado, flood or other disaster would make a worthy nominee, he said.

By recognizing heroic rural service, the Council feels that the award will serve to emphasize the continuing need for improved safety conditions in rural areas—in the home, on the farm or ranch or when the family is at work or play. Do your good turn by nominating a friend who made life more pleasant for you, Tiedt said.

Charlie Partridge, who has been attending Texas A&M College, came in last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Partridge.

John Walter Massey left last Monday for Denton to resume his studies at N. T. S. C. after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Massey.
