Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Others were getting ahead of him, and he was unhappy.

The story goes that Gene Thompson had a real beef coming, and he was exercising his rights during the week end.

It was 'tater planting time; others were getting their seed spuds in the ground, but Gene's ground was too wet to plant.

As we've stated before, around February 15 is when the potato farmers really get in high with their planting. We've heard of them wearing overcoats and planting the spuds when it was snowing—that was in years past.

Not that the growing season is too short—it isn't but by planting in mid-February, the crop comes off at just the right time—when the potatoes to the south of us are already off the market, and just right for our local crop to hit the market ahead of those further north. So the practical farmer wants his spuds planted at the right time.

This little rain flurry the first of this week has put all those who have yet to plant in the same category as Gene, however—just too wet to plow.

If one doesn't know when the planting time is by other means and methods, he could very well guess by the appearance of Jack Colville of Colville and Renfro. Jack has been making this area at 'tater planting time practically ever since we went in for potatoes—and he was in our office the first of this week.

Judging from the truck loads of spuds and fertilizer that passed our office during last week, quite a number of farmers have the seed in the ground. We asked Herb Partridge Monday if he reckoned his would come up. He thought they would. We asked if they'd get up in time to catch a late freeze that would play havoc with them. "Well, that's another story," he replied. We hope nothing like that happens, that every persons does good with hit 'tater crop.

Another column writer came out with the statement a few days ago that a Buffalo, N. Y., firm is selling a dashboard machine for your car which warns you of a police radar trap a quarter of a mile before you get to it.

It is supposed to be about the size of two packs of cigarettes and works off batteries. As soon as it picks up that radar beam, it starts buzzing.

On first thought, that thing wouldn't sell. About the only time it would really be useful would be when your car and the radar group were the only ones on the road—most of us are, for that matter—who give the warning of a radar trap to other motorists, and we don't have to put up with that buzzing sound.

That's why, we were told once, that radar contraption doesn't stay long in one place. After a few cars have passed, the warning has been spread on down the line and when a motorist hits the radar area he's plumb within the speed limit!

Did you ever signal a driver you were meeting that there was radar ahead? You can get some big, lusty waves and big, friendly, ear-to-ear smiles that way! We've entertained the idea at times of giving such signals when there was really no radar—like the little boy that cried "Wolf, Wolf"—just to keep everybody friendly and smiling! We'd likely wind up getting caught by the big, bad wolf, though.

You may vote for your kin-folks if you vote in the U. S. Senate election of April 4. The number of candidates was boosted to 36 on Tuesday, when a Sherman teacher announced.

We'd hate to come out editorially for any candidate until the filing is over on March 4. Our own brother might decide to run! Editor O. C. Harrison of Seymour came out for one candidate last week, only to find out too late to change the print that one from his own county had entered the race. George F. Moore of Bomarton, a Baylor county farmer, is the nearest one to Knox County to announce for this office. The more there are, the more pleasure voting will be!

Accidents Cause $2,225 In Damage

The Highway Patrol investigated 6 rural accidents in Knox County during the month of January, according to Sergeant Fran Jreik, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks have accounted for no persons killed, no injured, and a property damage of $2,225.

The Highway Patrol Supervisor pointed out that the motorist public has begun the new year with an improved traffic record over last year. You can continue to help keep it that way by doing two things, he added. Know and obey traffic laws and defensive driving. Defensive driving is the ability to recognize an accident producing situation and compensate for same by your own driving, being careful to commit no driving violations yourself. In other words, simply drive ahead of yourself, and be prepared for the other man's actions.

One of the greatest faults of the American driver today is that he hides behind the false security of the fact: I have the right-of-way. Just because you have the right-of-way does not necessarily mean that you will not have an accident; so give the right-of-way, don't take it. And you will help in the reduction of traffic accidents.

Cotton Farmers Reminded Of Acreage Release Date

Farmers who do not plan to plant all or part of their cotton allotments in 1961 can protect their cotton acreage history by releasing the allotment to the ASC County Committee. Such acreage must be released before the deadline, which is April 14, 1961.

A farmer who plans to plant at least 75 per cent of his cotton allotment this year need take no action to release any acreage in order to preserve the allotment base for his farm. But a farmer who fails to plant at least 75 per cent of his 1961 allotment will find his cotton allotment will be reduced in 1962 if he fails to release the unused part of his 1961 allotment to the ASC County Committee.

By releasing the unused part of the cotton allotment to the county committee, the individual farmer's 1961 planting history will be preserved and also the planting history of the county and State. The released allotment will be apportioned by the County Committee for use by other farmers within county.

Here are the requirements which cotton farmers must meet in 1961 in order fully to protect their future farm allotments: The farmer must (1) plant at least 75 per cent of the 1961 allotment, or (2) release at least 75 per cent of the 1961 allotment to the ASC County Committee by April 14, 1961, deadline, or (3) plant and release a total acreage which is equal to at least 75 per cent of the 1961 cotton allotment, and (4) actually plant some cotton in 1961 if the entire allotment was released in both 1959 and 1960. (Acreage in the Conservation Reserve program at the regular rate may be regarded as "planted" under this program provision.)

The Knox County Committee urges farmers who do not intend planting all of their cotton allotment in 1961 to get in touch with the ASC County Office to discuss how to protect their future cotton acreage history.

Those completing the electric welding short course are: Jimmy Albus, Philip Bruggeman, Omar Cure, W. H. Everett, W. E. Kirchner, Dwight Key, John E. Nelson, Fred Perez, Alvin Reid, Pete Ramos, Gene Thompson, Kenneth Whittemore, Herman Redder, Arnold Wilde, and David Bardin.

Coates Funeral Is Held Sunday At Knox City

Funeral services for Lee W. Coates, Knox City resident for half a century, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the First Baptist Church in Knox City with Rev. Larry Young, pastor of the O'Brien Baptist Church and Rev. M. Johns, Knox City pastor, officiating. Burial was in Knox City cemetery.

Mr. Coates, 69-year-old retired farmer, passed away Friday night in a Wichita Falls hospital following a lengthy illness. He had lived in Knox City since 1911.

A native Texan, he was born March 11, 1891, in Nacogdoches. He married the former Miss Mable Deaver on January 26, 1916, in O'Brien. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife; two sisters, Mrs. Lockie Angle of Haskell and Mrs. Fannie White of Plainview; four brothers, Ernest, Curtis and Cecil Coates, all of Knox City, and Jesse Coates of Plainview.

Safety Inspection Lagging In County

Of the 4,509 registered motor vehicles in Knox County only 25.2 per cent had been inspected to date, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection supervisor, of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Drivers are urged to have their vehicles inspected early to avoid the last minute rush. This time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which may predominate during the next two and one half months. As a result the number of inspection days will be cut down since stations cannot inspect vehicles under these adverse conditions.

"Texas law requires all registered motor vehicles in Texas to display a valid inspection sticker," stated Johnson. All motorists not displaying a valid inspection sticker will be subject to a fine of $1.00 to $200.00 plus court cost.

Captain Johnson further advised that all licensed trailers having weight exceeding 4,000 pounds are required to be inspected.

"By having your vehicle inspected today, you will be driving a safer vehicle," Johnson pointed out.

Additional Funds For Farm Housing

An additional $50 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans, Mr. Wilburn A. Satterwhite, the agency's county supervisor announced today.

He said that the new loan funds assure adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available.

Farm housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service buildings.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the local office of the Farmers Home Administration, located at 115 W. McLain Street, Seymour, Texas, Mr. Satterwhite said. Mr. Satterwhite also said he could be contacted any Tuesday, from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 Noon at the ASC office in Knox City, Texas. The loans bear 4 percent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years.

The major demand in Baylor, Knox, and Throckmorton Counties is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses, and most of the funds are used for new construction.

Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating, and pressure water supply systems, the addition of bathrooms and modernization of kitchens.

Many local farmers also use the loans to adjust their service buildings to the changing requirements of agriculture.

To be eligible a farmer must own a farm that will annually produce for sale or house use at least $400 worth of commodities based on 1944 prices and be of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan. In addition, he must lack the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere and have sufficient income to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments when due on his debts.

The Knox County Committee is composed of Burcus E. Smith, Murval H. Jackson and Lloyd W. Waldrip who will review all applications and certify as to eligibility.

THE GREATEST SERVICE

President Kennedy's Inaugural address closes with a statement that may come as a surprise to those who have been taught to believe that the federal government is a provider and a protector for all. He said, "... my fellow Americans: ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

Persons in all walks of life are striving to create a new awareness of the principles of American government. Typical of these in William G. Walters, an official of a large retailing firm. While speaking before a group of retailers he declared in commenting on the founding of our government, "For the first time in known history, certain institutions and human relations were to be outside the authority of government. The government was specifically forbidden to infringe or violate them."

"... The idea of inalienable rights and individual freedom had never before been incorporated into any form of government. Never before had the people said to government, 'Thou shalt not.' Always government had been able to say, 'You may or you must'."

"... Where do we stand today? Our freedom is gradually being lost! ... We... are discarding the concept of government that brought forth the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Few of us seem to want to keep government out of our personal affairs and the responsibilities, yet personal freedom cannot exist without individual responsibility."

The greatest service that American citizens can render their country would be to cease expecting the federal government to carry all the burdens of life for them.

IMPERTINENCE

Impertinence of public servants reached a new high in the State of Washington. A bill was introduced in the Washington Legislature to prohibit service operators from exhibiting signs showing how much gasoline tax motorists have to pay. Violation of the Act would be a misdemeanor. Under the proposed law the only manner in which the station operator could post such a sign would be by conforming to regulations requiring him to explain what portion of the total tax goes to the federal government, for state highways, for county roads and for city streets.

Gasoline taxes—federal and state—now total an average of about ten cents a gallon. Gasoline is a necessity and yet the tax on it is far higher than on luxuries. It is widely believed the tax has reached the point of diminishing returns so far as a source of revenue to government is concerned. Motorists are turning to the new compact cars. If the tax excesses continue unabated they will be forced to drive less and everyone will be penalized—consumers, industry and government.

Is the public supposed to accept this abuse of the taxing power without a murmur? Apparently so, if legislation such as proposed in the State of Washington is adopted.

FREEDOM WITH RESPONSIBILITY

Figures indicate that unemployment is rising, that in all probability over 5 million people will be out of work this winter. Unemployment for the individual striving to find a job can be tragic. On the other hand, the nation should not lose sight of larger truths.

If the world were miniaturized to a community of 1,000 people we would find that it includes 60 United States citizens, says the January Investors News Letter. These individuals—6 per cent of the total—would receive half the community's income, possess 15 times as much "goods" as all the rest and have a surplus of food while a large percentage of the remaining 940 were hungry. It should never be forgotten that this condition was brought about under a system that extolled the virtues of individual freedom with responsibility.

PORT HURTON, MICH., TIMES HERALD: "Remember this: The Federal government, or anyone else, cannot give anything to anybody without taking it from someone. Who are the 'someones'? They are the workers and producers in America, who must surrender more and more of the fruits of their labors, as one giveaway program is piled on another in Washington."

"For every giveaway, there must be a take-away. And there is, no matter how it's disguised or to what extent the giveaway is played up and the take-away is played down."

This nation really has a sweet tooth. According to Chain Store Age, candy and gum purchases in food chains hit a new high of $411 million last year—close to 12 per cent above the 1958 total. Today the average supermarket stocks 380 to 520 items in the candy and gum categories.

Chips From The Carpenter's Workbench

By JAMES HALLMARK

"And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgement;" (Heb. 9:27). Since all of us, without exception, shall one day pass from this life, it behooves us to learn all that we can concerning what lies ahead. Most are aware of the teaching of the New Testament on the subjects of heaven and hell, but did you realize that men do not enter either of these a bodes immediately upon death? Consider the word of God on the matter.

The New Testament teaches the reality of an intermediate state between death and the judgement. This is not to be confused with the erroneous doctrine of purgatory. Once a person enters this state, his destiny is decided, only the formal sentencing remains. The soul, upon death, enters the Hadean world, which simply means the "unseen" world, or the realm of the dead. Hades is not Hell, although the King James Version translates it as such in many instances. Such is the intended usage in Matt. 16:18.

The righteous and the unrighteous are segregated in the Hadean world. The godly person awaits judgement in what Jesus designates as "paradise" in his conversation with the thief on the cross. Note that Jesus said, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise" (Luke 23:43). Since the thief was to join Christ that day in "paradise," and it was approximately forty days before Christ ascended to heaven, "paradise" and heaven are not one and the same. The ungodly await judgement in "prison" (I Peter 3:18-20). This is further described by Jude. "And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgement of the great day." (Jude 6). We will enter our eternal abode following the judgement (Matt. 25:46). Also a very vivid picture of the Hadean world is painted by the Lord in Luke 16:19-31).

NEW FARM OUTLOOK IN WASHINGTON

An immediate attack on the vital short range operating credit problem for farmers, along with a more favorable prospect for cotton producers, are the major developments of the new Kennedy-Johnson administration anticipated for the near future by Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Returning from a visit to Washington which included conferences with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and renegotiation of Federal-State cooperative agreements, Commissioner White found the attitude of the new agricultural team in Washington both realistic and enthusiastic.

"It was my impression," said White, "that Secretary Freeman and his assistants are demonstrating a profound sense of obligation to agriculture. They are sincere in their determination to help the family-size farmer to maintain a reasonable standard of living and to stand on his own feet."

"As a group, I found them to be highly intelligent and quite young. Their average age is probably 40 or 41 years. They are coldly realistic about our farm problems—that is, they are fully aware there is no panacea which can be instituted to provide any quick or easy solutions. At the same time, they are enthusiastic in their approach to the job."

White said he was impressed by John Baker, the new farm credit administrator, and his grasp of both the short range and long range credit problem of American farmers. The commissioner pointed out that the provision of immediate operating credit is vital to farmers in some parts of Texas where unfortunate weather conditions last year created situations approaching hardship.

"I found them willing to listen to our problems," said White.

Can you remember the days when there were real political speakings? They were held in the daytime, in the inadequate shade of a grove on a blistering day in July. Can't you see, in your mind's eye, the speaker seated on the platform as he waits to be introduced? He was a portly man and wore an alpaca coat. He piled a palm-leaf fan vigorously and, to keep his standing collar from wilting, he tucked around it a handkerchief which was removed when he began to talk.

On the table was a white pitcher and, of course, a glass—for a speaker spoke for an hour in those days and he spoke with great force so that his brow and bald head glistened with perspiration and his voice grew husky and he shed that alpaca coat; and, in spite of his precautions, his collar wilted.

Present-day political speakers use a microphone and never march up and down the platform or lean over an point a finger in the face of those on the front row—why, they never even stomp one stomp or hit the table with a fist for, if they did, they'd lose their place in the manuscript they are reading from—and chances are they didn't even write the speech themselves.

Back in 1928 or 1930, I ventured into politics, purely involuntarily. You have heard the expression that "the office should seek the man" and that this—or that candidate was "drafted." Well, I really was.

When I was the editor of the Ranger Times, a primary was held for State and County offices. No one filed for public weigher and so one of the linotype operators launched a write-in campaign (unknown to me) on my behalf, with the result that I received three votes. This was a tie with the town that serves you in your home. The more of it you use, the bigger the bargain... the less you pay per kilowatt-hour for it. In fact, in homes served by WTU the average cost of electricity is 22% less than it was 10 years ago.

RIDDLE: What costs less the more you use it?

ANSWER: The electricity

Think how many new uses you have for electricity these days... from your TV to your work-saving appliances for cleaning and washing. This is why your over-all bill may be a little higher than in the old days.

But what else in your home can give you so much value yet cost so little?

The Future Farmers Of America

(By David Bardin)

What is the F. F. A.? I am surprised day by day at the number of Moms and Dads who ask this question. I would like to take this opportunity during F. F. A. Week (February 18-25) to explain why the F. F. A. was organized, what it is, and what its members do. Almost every high school in Texas has a vocational agriculture department and an F. F. A. chapter—870 in Texas.

The Future Farmers of America was organized in November, 1928, as an organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture. Today, we have only 11 to 12 per cent of the U. S. population actually engaged in farming, but approximately 40 per cent of the population is involved in agriculture and agriculturally related business.

The present trend of vocational agriculture should be to prepare the students for farming, or the related business in agriculture. The F. F. A. organization goes beyond classroom teaching in helping students to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship, which is the primary aim of the F. F. A. Future Farmers are students of high school age studying vocational agriculture in our public schools.

What do F. F. A. members do? The students begin with an introduction to vocational agriculture and what will be required of each student. Parliamentary procedure and good qualities of leadership are taught each member to enable him to be active in F. F. A. chapter affairs with a meeting time of at least once each month. A first year student will probably study parliamentary procedure and develop his leadership ability. He will also study improving plants and animals, proper procedure for record keeping, advantages and disadvantages of various breeds of livestock, different varieties of crops such as cotton, milo, wheat, etc., along with information obtained from our agricultural experiment stations and land-grant colleges. Each student is also instructed in the proper use of a number of hand tools, power tools such as table saw, portable saw, drill press, grinder, band saw, etc. Also included in shop study and work in electric welding, oxyacetylene welding, cutting, brazing and soldering.

The second and third year students are taught advanced methods in parliamentary procedure, plus farm electrical wiring, care and management of cattle, swine and poultry, and feeds and feed-methods of shop work are taught, progressing according to the student's abilities.

The teaching of soil and water conservation has long been recognized as one of the most important phases of vocational agriculture departments of the public schools. This topic is of prime importance in every region of our state.

Although the problems of conservation vary greatly, every local vocational ag department makes an intensive study of the area's particular soil and water problems. The solutions of these are taught, demonstrated and practiced on many of the home farms of students who are F. F. A. members. Our entire way of life depends on our disposition of this vital problem of soil and water conservation—problems of the land—our greatest resource.

In attempting to fully understand the F. F. A., one needs to know what the members study and the outside activities in which they participate.

F. F. A. members participate in leadership contests with chapter members of other schools, after they have studied and practiced parliamentary procedure to the best of their ability. There are also judging contests in land, cotton classing, grass, crops, livestock, dairy cattle, dairy products, meats, poultry and wool. The members enter these contests after extensive study as an out of classroom activity for educational improvement and as competitive recreational activity.

F. F. A. members are also noted for their camping and fishing trips, tours, visits to agricultural shows and livestock exhibits, and other wholesome educational, entertaining or recreational activities.

In summing up the activities of F. F. A. members, this fact should be made known: University of California studies show vocational agriculture graduates do as well, and frequently better, in college than those with only traditional academic background. Students also show excellent leadership abilities gained in F. F. A. As far as science is concerned, vocational agriculture is one of the most useful sciences—an applied science.

4-H Girls Prove Culinary Ability; Win State Award In Foods Project

Carol Bennett

Patricia Simons

A high school junior and a college freshman were selected for state awards in the 4-H dairy foods demonstration competition. Both winners were presented 19-jewel wrist watches, donated by the Carnation Company of Los Angeles, in recognition of their achievement in the individual and team categories.

Patricia Simons, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simons, Burkburnett, took top honors in the individual dairy foods demonstration. The winning entry, her first in the annual state contest, was a presentation showing the use of Neufchatel cheese in a "Dip to Delight a Teenage Appetite."

Patricia and her family produce their own dairy foods on their wheat farm. She stresses milk and milk products as one of the stable products in the human diet, and accomplishes this in her home by the use of cheese dips, casseroles, frozen salads and sauces.

During her six years in 4-H work, Patricia has served as president of her local 4-H Club for four years, been active in community affairs, and has added many county and district level awards to her record. For their demonstration on "Dairy Foods Party Refreshment," Carol Bennett and her co-worker won the number one spot in the Team division at the county, district and state levels. Included in the demonstration were cottage cheese cookies, a ribbon loaf sandwich and a sour cream dip.

Carol, a freshman at Texas Women's University, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Bennett, Texarkana. She is in her ninth year of 4-H work, and has been enrolled in the dairy foods project for the last four years.

Miss Bennett has participated in many projects during her 4-H career. She is presently coaching a group of younger 4-H members in foods and nutrition, and after encouraging them to enter the junior dairy foods demonstration, they placed first in the county and district contests.

The Cooperative Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College System supervises the 4-H program, and annually selects award winners.

District T.H.D.A. Meeting Held At Matador Recently

The district training meeting for the Texas Home Demonstration Association was held Monday, January 30, in the Motley county courthouse at Matador. Mrs. Wesley Trainham, district vice president, presided at the meeting. Thirteen of the fifteen counties were represented, with forty nine in attendance.

The ladies of the Home Demonstration council of the host county served coffee and doughnuts to the guests upon arrival after which the business session was conducted in the court room.

Some of those appearing on the program besides Mrs. Trainham were Mrs. Clarence Davis, state treasurer, of Quanah, who spoke on the THDA fund. She stated three scholarships for girls were granted with part of this fund; Mrs. Douglas Davis, Wilbarger county, gave the duties of the county THDA chairman; Miss Fern Hodge, district agent of Vernon, brought the main thought for the day which was "Let's All Grow Together." Using a flannel board to illustrate her talk, she used a train motif and showed how all must work together to make a success of THDA work through Home Demonstration clubs by working with the extension service, the local council, local clubs and the individual club member. Mrs. Travis Smith, Haskell county, reported on the work of the education committee.

Mrs. A. L. Graham, Wichita county, reported on the civil defense; Mrs. E. T. Cook, Knox County, reported on recreation and Mrs. J. O. Strite, Hardeman county, reported on the 4-H committee recommendations of work. Mrs. Trainham announced the district THDA meeting to be in the memorial auditorium at Vernon on April 10.

Lunch was served at the noon hour by the Motley county club ladies. Those attending from Knox county were Mrs. Wesley Trainham, Clyde Beck, Hoyle Sullins, Fred Wiles, Cleon Russell, W. T. Cook and Miss S. C. Kinsey.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander and sons of Wichita Falls visited with his brother and family, Dr. and Mrs. Delmon E. Alexander and daughters, last Friday night and Saturday.

John Walter Massey of N. T. S. C. in Denton spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Massey, Sunday guests in the Massey home were Mrs. Massey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Josselot of Haskell.

Are they less than the standard 10% deduction of adjusted gross income (item 11, page 1 of 1040) allowed everyone? ($1,000 maximum). If they are, use the standard deduction, if they are more, itemize on page 2.

A new law permits you to deduct all medical expenses for dependent parents over 65. Be sure to check the limit allowed.

Remember you lose an exemption for a dependent who is over 19 and not a student if he has over $600 income. To qualify as a student, your child must during some part of each of five calendar months of the year (not necessarily consecutive) be a full time student enrolled for the number of hours of courses which is considered to be full time attendance at an education institution which maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and has a body of students in attendance. Knox Prairie Philosopher Willing To Stimulate The Economy, But He Finds Business Men Won't Cooperate

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is misinterpreting the economists, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: The trouble with a lot of business men in this country is that they don't pay any attention to the economists.

For example, I was reading last night in a copy of a newspaper a man in town handed to me earlier in the day. I imagine to get rid of me, that an economic adviser told a group of business men the other day "America's economy is geared to a general expansion of prosperity." He said if everybody stopped buying, the economy would collapse. We've got to keep using all these things business is producing, or we'll be in trouble, he said.

In this connection, I notice Washington is concerned over the present economic state and is taking steps to inject a little stimulation.

Therefore, taking both the economic experts and Washington at their word, I have been trying to do my part, but you'd be surprised at the number of business men who don't seem to know about the importance of injecting new life into business.

There are plenty of things I could use and would be glad to help stimulate the economy by buying them, but stores don't see it that way.

One of them just flatly told me, "You haven't finished paying yet for the stimulation you gave my business eight years ago."

This is what I'm talking about. How are you going to have an ever-expanding economy if people keep dragging in things that happened years ago and letting them get in the way?

I could use a new tractor, new fences, new gates, a new roof, a new back porch, a new front and back steps, a new well, a new pump, fifteen gallons of paint, etc., every one of which would go toward stimulating business and expanding the economy, but business men just don't pay enough attention to the experts.

I hope you're not in this category, and if my subscription to the Munday Times is coming due, just renew it, and you and me will do our part to stimulate the economy.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.

Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royally as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less bounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less . . . well you name it.

Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voila, you've got Chevy's formula.

And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Jack Moore, Knox County Agent

Wichita Calf Show

There were three Knox Co. 4H members at the Wichita Falls Calf Show Feb. 8-10 held in Wichita Falls. Johnny Cook of Gilliland, Leon Groves and Tom Moorhouse placed their calves in the show 20, 14 and 21 respectively. Most of the Leaders, Ag teachers and Co. Agents that have regularly made the show for the past years, stated that they believed the show to have the best stock exhibit in the 30 years history of the show.

Leon's calf showed in the light weight class and weighed 865 lbs. Tom Moorhouse's calf weighed in at 925 and Johnny Cook's at 885 and both showed in the middle weight class. The calves grossed $1,240, which include sale price and prize money obtained at the county and Wichita Show.

The boys will tell anyone that the net profit was no place close to the gross and only hard work, patience and luck can make a profit.

Vegetable Demonstration Planted

Dr. Clyde Singletary and the Vegetable Sub-Committee are planting the potato demonstration in Knox County. A variety test of over 150 varieties of Irish potatoes are scheduled to be tested on Lonnie Offutt's farm, and a fertilizer test on Jams Smith's farm. The demonstrations will be conducted this year for the second year. The test is to run for several more years before any one thing can be definitely decided with regard to fertilization.

Last year's tests show that there was no limit established as to the amount of Nitrogen that is profitable and that no potato is required in the Munday soils. This year will be a wide variation in the amounts of Nitrogen applied and that an indication of the effective level will be shown. Phosphorous will be tested. The

Garden Club At Knox City Meets

The Knox City Garden Club met February 14 in the home of Mrs. B. B. Campbell, Jr., with twenty-three members present. Roll call was answered by "A rose I would like to have in my garden."

Mrs. B. B. Campbell gave a talk on preserving our native trees and shrubs.

SHE'D BETTER FIND OUT WHAT TO DO!

purpose of the variety test will be to find a potato that does the best in the Munday area. Results of the test this year will be known some time in early fall and a comparison of the two years will be a basis for next year's tests.

Members of the Vegetable Committee are: Lonnie Offutt, Gene Thompson, James Smith, Clint Norman, Leland Floyd and Bill Langford.

Soil Testing

Roy McClung, Co. Agent in Baylor County, who is in charge of the Soil Testing Lab in Seymour, reports that many of the counties are down in the number of samples being submitted at this time of the year. The main reason for fewer samples is due to the moisture condition of the soil, as most farmers and ranchers know soils are tested dry. With the present moisture condition of the soil, many fertilizer dealers and Ag. Leaders are predicting a favorable year for fertilizer application and hopes are high for continued favorable moisture.

Soil tests are the best way to determine the amounts of fertilizers to apply. The cost of a soil sample in many cases will save a farmer money if he will follow the recommendations rather than going on the trial method. Under dry land conditions, the soil analysis does not change much from one year to another, but under irrigation and in dry land with favorable moisture conditions, soils should be sampled at least every 2 or 3 years.

Soil sample instructions and forms are available at the county agent's office.
