Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Talk about a craze taking the country — this hula hoop fad is not to be sneezed at.

k-k

At first, it seemed to be just for the kiddoes, but now it seems that people of all ages are going in for the hip and body swinging business. Noticed in Sunday's papers where a 91-year-old great-grandfather was getting quite adept at the art.

k-k

And a blacksmith in Brownwood has gone into cahoots with a traveling salesman and started producing the things in quantity at the blacksmith shop. They're turning out around 1,600 a day, but they figure the fad will be going out before long, probably by Christmas. By that time, though, they'll be a lot of hips thrown out of joint — if they can be thrown out of joint that way.

k-k

They've even gone into the business of setting records with hula hooping. So far as we know at present, the record is four hours straight "hooping," which reportedly was set by an Abilene boy, while a Wichita Falls girl, an eight-year-old, also claimed the same record on Saturday. That's a full half of a working day, you know.

k-k

Maybe that's why the eight-year-olds seem more adept than older folks. We figure such activity is definitely not for a cigarette smoker who's past 50!

k-k

Might be, however, that doctors should encourage the fad among people of about our age. That sort of carryings on would probably put a kink in our spinal column that wouldn't quit, and thereby make us a valued patient for our doctor!

k-k

The hula hoop hit Munday some time ago, and it continues to gain in popularity. A little girl out at the P. T. A. barbecue last Thursday night was doing a good job of twirling the hoop when someone asked the Lions Club president, E. B. Littlefield, if he could do that. "Why certainly . . . not," he replied, seemingly disgruntled that a small child could beat him at anything.

k-k

Saw a Polaroid candid shot of such activity recently. Charles Baker had taken a picture of his brother, Kenneth, in the art of keeping the hoop around his body. We certainly wanted to publish the photo, but was afraid of being sued for "invasion of privacy."

k-k

The idea, as you know, is to give the hoop a twirl, then by gymnastic gesturations, contortions of the body, etc., keep the thing twirling about your middle and keep it from dropping to the floor.

k-k

We have quite a few dealers in hula hoops here in Munday, but most of them just sell them without demonstrating them.

k-k

We did walk into Troy McKnight's auto store a few days ago when he was fiddling with one of the hoops with his hands, and we asked if he would give us a demonstration. "Sure will," he said.

k-k

He ran the hoop over his head, gave it a twirl and started wiggling like a crippled hula dancer on the sandy beach. The hoop circled his body a couple of times, dropped past his hips and fell to the floor with a plunk. "See, he says, 'there's nothing to it,' and he placed the thing back on the display counter.

k-k

That demonstration, coupled with some original ideas of our own, convinced us that the hula hoop craze is definitely for the younger generation — and we don't care how many 91-year-old great-grandfathers have their pictures made in the act!

k-k

We had some early experiences with a hoop — but it wasn't the hula. It was a hoop from the hub of a wagon wheel. Using two sticks formed into a sort of cross, we pushed said hoop all over the countryside, but it didn't take a combination of the shimmy and the Charleston to do it!

Children's Photos To Be Made Here Monday, October 6

Monday, October 6, is the day that local kiddoes will again meet their photographer friend, Winston Lucas of Irving, and have their pictures made for the annual children's photo contest.

Mr. Lucas will be at Bertha's Babyland from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. on that date to make the pictures. Photos of each child will be published in this paper, and in addition, the children will be competing for $18.20 in prizes being offered for the three best photographs made during the day.

Proofs will be shown at a later date, and from these you may make your choice for the picture you wish to appear in the paper. You may purchase extra pictures at this time, but no purchase is necessary in order to compete for prizes.

There is no age limit for the children's pictures, and all kiddies of the area are invited to come in on the above date.

New Directories To Be Issued Soon

"It won't be too long before all telephone users, residential and business customers alike in Munday, Benjamin, Goree, Knox City and Rochester will receive new telephone directories for 1958. F. A. Robinette, district manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, announced today.

"Correct initial, names, and addresses are necessary to assure complete and adequate representation in the alphabetical section and the Yellow Pages as well," he said.

The final closing date for making changes or adding new listings to the new telephone directory will be October 3, 1958.

Robinette urged that all subscribers wishing to make any changes should call the business office as soon as possible to enable the telephone company to make the corrections or additions before the new directory is printed.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own!

City Co-operates In Rat Eradication

City of Munday is cooperating with the Farm Bureau and county agent in effort to control rats in the area.

They urge local citizens to attend meetings held in this area, and every member to purchase poison available at the Farm Bureau office and cooperate in eradicating the pests to the fullest extent.

Dr. Eiland, Co. health officer, urges everyone to cooperate. The rat problem as now, he says, is just a nuisance but very shortly may turn into a health hazard.

Poison is not dangerous to human beings or domestic animal life but the Department of Agriculture urges that users learn the proper methods in order to get full benefit from the poison.

Poison will sell for 25 cents per pound, and the small profit will go to 4-H Clubs. All city employees will attend these schools and will be available to advise anyone in the use of the poisons.

The group voted to attend "Youth Day" at the Texas State Fair in Dallas on October 4.

Mrs. Corrine Jetton gave an interesting and helpful demonstration on complexion care. She stressed cleanliness of the skin before applying cosmetics of any type. She also stressed the "natural" look in make-up, instead of a "painted mask."

Forty-seven girls and their sponsor, Mrs. Joe Canafax, attended the meeting.

Benjamin Takes McCauley 57-6

Benjamin's 6-man team defeated the McCauley team, 57 to 6 at Benjamin last Friday night with Bobby Idol and Billy Brenigair scoring three touchdowns each to pace the attack.

Joint Meeting On Program Building And Rodent Control Held On Monday

The Knox County Program Building Committee, an organization of farm and ranch people to assist in the planning of the county extension program of work, met Monday night, Sept. 22, for its regular fall session, with 15 members present.

Mr. L. B. Patterson, vice-chairman, called the meeting to order and new officers were elected for 1959. Mr. Jack Idol of Benjamin was elected chairman, Mr. W. M. Ford of Vera, vice-chairman, and Mrs. O. R. Miller of Gilliland, secretary.

Mr. Idol reappointed committees on Grain Crops, Cotton, and Livestock and Range to be convened at a later date to review problems concerning these three phases of work. Also reappointed were committees on Foods and Home Improvement.

Following the business session, the county agent reported on result demonstrations conducted during 1958.

Following adjournment, a special called meeting was held to plan a rodent control program for Knox County. Mr. R. E. Aday, and Ross Smith of the Predator and Rodent Control Branch of the Fish and Wildlife Service met with community representatives and presented a discussion of the methods to be used in conducting community demonstrations on Rodent Control.

Aw, Rats To You!

Rats have invaded the country and towns, and rat stories have gone their rounds, too. E. Beecher comes up this week with a corker. Here it is:

One morning, he picked up a small board and showed it to his little dog. The dog looked at it, took off and soon returned with a rat about as big as the board. Next day a larger board was used, and the same thing happened — the dog brought in a rat as large as the board.

This went on for a few days. Then one day, according to Mr. Beecher, he took his wife's ironing board and showed it to the dog. The pup looked at it carefully, and took off — and that's the last he's seen of the dog!

Greyhounds Nip Moguls By 6-0 Score Friday

Costly fumbles, which are characteristic of early-season games, played a major role in keeping the score down last Friday night, as the Throckmorton Greyhounds edged the Munday Moguls by a close score of 6-0 on the local field. It was a Class 1-A non-conference tilt.

It was an intercepted pass by Tommy Hibbitts, signal caller for the visitors, which was responsible for the lone score. Each team moved into enemy territory as deep as the 20 yard line, only to lose the ball on miscues.

The visitors were responsible for four of the fumbles, while the Moguls made three. Throckmorton's defense got tough when the chips were down, and the Moguls were unable to push over the counter stripe.

Halfback Phil McAfee got off some lengthy jaunts for the Moguls, but he was unable to get through the defense when his teammates failed in downfield blocking.

"It was a good game, anyway," fans remarked after the game. They are looking forward to a stronger, more effective bunch of Moguls by the time they enter conference play with Paducah on October 3.

Observe 25th Wedding Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Mathis, above, of Goree observed their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, September 21, when members of their immediate family were present. The observance was held Sunday, although their anniversary was not until Tuesday, September 23, so members of the family could be present.

They were married at Roscoe, Texas, on September 23, 1933, about a year after Rev. Mathis entered the Baptist ministry. He has pastored churches in Texas and Oklahoma and has been pastor at Goree a little over two and one-half years.

Rev. and Mrs. Mathis have four children, three of whom were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace Bennett and two children, Jerry and Leta Jane, of Lamesa; Stacy and Mack, of the home. The other son, Pfc. Charles Roy Mathis, who is stationed at Fort Churchill, Canada, was unable to attend.

Rev. Mathis' motto for living is "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself."

Demonstration On Safety Held Tuesday At Local School

A demonstration on safe driving was held at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the Munday School, sponsored by the Knox County Farm Bureau.

The demonstration consisted of a car equipped to show the student the time it takes to stop after one decides to apply the brakes and other safety features. A lecture on auto safety was also given by Vernon Gayle, state safety director.

"Safe driving must be made a personal habit if slaughter on the highways is curbed," Mr. Gayle said. "Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents. When drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway accidents will drop sharply."

Students and teachers took part in the tests, conducted in the specially equipped car.

This was one of three demonstrations being held in the county schools. They reportedly have been very effective throughout the state.

Officers Elected For Mogul Band

The Munday Mogul Band elected their officers for the following year. President, Jackie Matthews; vice president, Elton Floyd; secretary, Linda Guinn and reporter, Martha Jones.

The band went to the West Texas fair in Abilene where they participated in the parade. After the parade the band enjoyed the amusements at the fair grounds.

Wanda Guinn was crowned band sweetheart during the half time of the Munday-Throckmorton game. The band formed a heart and played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" as Wanda was escorted by the band hero, Joe Decker, into the center of the heart to be crowned. She was presented a bouquet of roses and Joe was presented with an identification bracelet.

Mr. Bill Hulise, band director, has worked very hard, along with the band, to perform this coronation. The band appreciates his interest and the time he spends with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stubblefield and Mr. and Mrs. James Amerson spent the week end in Dallas and attended the Texas Tech and A&M football game on Saturday night.

TRIBUTE TO A COURAGEOUS WOMAN

Mrs. Louise Lake of Salt Lake City was recently awarded a unique distinction. She was the first woman to receive from the President himself his trophy as "the handicapped American of the year."

This is an honor given the disabled person who annually makes "the most outstanding contribution to the rehabilitation and employment of the physically impaired."

Mrs. Lake was 34 and the mother of a 10-year-old daughter when she was paralyzed by polio in 1945. She was bedfast for two years. Later, while still in a wheel chair, she made good as a food demonstrator in a Salt Lake City department store.

With the help of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Mrs. Lake went to New York for a rehabilitation course. Though first labeled "a permanent wheel chair case," she learned to walk again and to use her arms. Now on the staff of the Latter-Day Saints Hospital in Salt Lake City, she is teaching other handicapped people.

Mrs. Lake's record for courage and determination well merits the President's trophy. Today, however, thanks to the Salk vaccine, many women who might be paralyzed by polio are well and active, free to pursue happy lives as mothers, housewives and career women. No one need now experience the years of suffering, anxiety and struggle that Mrs. Lake endured.

As you might expect, Mrs. Lake has been active in urging her neighbors to take the Salk vaccine. Take her advice. She knows.

REEDLEY, CALIF. EXPONENT: "To meet the much greater needs that lie ahead, experts agree that the financial market must be expanded. One facet of this is individual thrift. The funds invested by banks and others institutions must come from individuals and organizations. In the final analysis, communities are built not with bricks and stones but with money."

POMEROY, O., DAILY SENTINEL: "Schools overshadow all other community activity. Schools are determining the level of learning of all our young people. Pupils either will be prepared poorly or well for further training beyond high school. They will either be equipped to take a useful part in community life, or they won't . . ."

FIELD DAY FOR THUGS

Congress finally turned thumbs down on enacting any labor reform legislation until the next session. A Republican-Southern Democrat coalition was responsible for the outcome, after the many defects of the Kennedy-Ives bill had been glaringly exposed. But no affirmative action was taken to protect the country against the gangster elements which have infiltrated major unions. In the words of Newsweek magazine: "The ugly picture of terrorism and hoodlumism . . . was steadily growing darker . . . In many cities, it looked as if the thugs in labor were having everything their way. It was an explosive situation, one that decent people, sooner or later, would have to do something about."

President Eisenhower said the Kennedy-Ives bill fell far short of recommendations he submitted to Congress January 23.

It is a sad commentary on representative government when the best efforts of its lawmakers appear unequal to protecting the most elementary rights of private citizens.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TRAGEDY

The great American tragedy lies in our failure to see the signs of moral decay that surround us.

Thus writes Dr. Louis Finkelstein, distinguished scholar and theologian, in the September issue of Fortune magazine. These signs, he adds, "are apparent in the vulgar ostentation all around us, in the sexual laxity revealed by the Kinsey studies, in the demoralization of American captives in the Korean war, in the widespread defiance of law. The signs are apparent in our general toleration of wrongdoing, which is itself an evil and corrupting force."

Dr. Finkelstein believes that it is the primary responsibility of the businessman to "put ethics on the agenda." The businessman, in his view, is necessarily the leading citizen in an industrial society. His morals and attitudes pervade our life. He must have values in life "above profit or economic security."

Can the spread of moral dry rot be stopped and the sorry trend reversed? No greater, more far-reaching question faces us today. And businessmen alone, important as their role is, cannot provide the whole answer. The disease is found in labor, government, everywhere. And it is deadly.

UNDERGROUND WATER—A MYSTERY UNCOVERED

The amazing existence of great quantities of tappable water below certain areas of the earth's surface was for centuries one of nature's greatest mysteries.

The search for such unseen wealths of water was, in past years, sometimes considered a venture requiring supernatural insight by persons whose best guide might be the fabled "witching stick" or an acute physical sensitivity to the imagined presence of water.

However, underground water obeys the laws of physics, and advancements of this generation have shown us that a great deal can be and has been learned about it.

Through scientific calculation, for example, the depth to which a well in a certain locality should be drilled in order to tap the best available water supply can be determined with reasonable accuracy. The areas in which water sinks underground can be identified, and the rate at which it sinks into underground reservoirs can be computed in some areas. Also, the areas in which no important water supplies exist can, in many instances, be accurately mapped.

Thus, the mystery of underground water has been invaded. But, although the vital presence of water is perhaps now somewhat less of a mystery to us, it is certainly no less a wonder. It is a gift which, like the soil we till, is provided for our perpetual use so long as we care for it. If we abuse it, then we may destroy and ravage the work of centuries with which we were blessed.

The tools of science can tell those blessed with sub-surface moisture just how they can both use it now and keep it available for the use of future generations. It is not only practical that they do so; it is their moral obligation.

The use of underground water is divided for several purposes—municipal, industrial, domestic and agriculture. By and far the largest percentage of underground water use in Texas is that directed to agriculture irrigation. This may or may not be surprising, but it is a paradox since agriculture is probably the only single section of our society which could reasonably survive unaided by underground water.

Therefore, underground water is more a blessing to the farmers who have it than to the cities and industries which require it. And blessings must be safeguarded, not abused.

to be very concerned about these two things.

However, this summer and fall there were dire predictions as to the fate of fat cattle prices. The huge numbers known to be on feed in the North and West looked dangerous. Sure enough! When the cattle started to market in large numbers late this summer, prices plunged downward.

However a strange thing happened. Excessive cattle supplies on Monday became more and more rare. Larger than usual numbers of cattle arrived at the markets on Tuesday, Wednesday and even Thursday. This spacing of shipments through three and four days worked another miracle.

While weekly totals of cattle reported around the major markets were just as heavy, or heavier, the prices were stable and even worked higher.

Market men at Fort Worth were wondering this rainy Monday, if perhaps the present generation of livestock folks were just a little smarter than the old timers and had learned to use supply and demand to their advantage.

Certainly, this spacing of receipts through the week has happened too often this season to be an accident, or "just one of those things that happen." It seems that cattle folks have learned that bunching shipments on Monday brings needless pressure on prices.

If so, the rising supply of cattle in the country need not prove difficult to move to market without wide peaks and valleys of prices.

Yes, perhaps this generation of livestock folks is the smartest one yet!

MONDAY CATTLE TRADE STRONG, FAT STUFF UP 50c OR MORE

Cattle and calves found very active trade and stronger prices at Fort Worth Monday. Fat steers, butcher yearlings and fat calves were strong to 50c higher. Other cattle and calves were stronger, with stocker and feeder classes extremely active.

Good and choice steers and yearlings drew $24.50 to $27.50, several loads of just good steers in the $24 to $25 slot. Plainer slaughter stuff drew $18 to $24. Fat cows cashed at $18 to $21.50, with canners and cutters from $13 to $18.50. Bulls brought $18 to $22.50. Good and choice fat calves drew $25 to $27.50 and medium and lower grades sold from $17 to $24.

Stocker calves ranged from $25 to $32.50, some over 575-pound calves at the higher figure and some light yearlings reached $30 and $31. Other stocker yearlings bulked at $27 down. Heavy feeder cattle sold from $24.50 down. Heifer calves sold from $31 down. A few stocker cows $20 to $21.50.

HOG TOP $21.75-$22.00 MARKET VERY STRONG ON OPENING DAY

Butcher hogs equalled the best levels of the month at Fort Worth on Monday as choice butchers ranged from $21.50 to $22, with shippers taking about a load at the top figure. Less desirable weights and grades sold from $20 to $21.25. Sows again bulked at $20 to $21.

SHEEP AND GOATS SCARCE AND VERY ACTIVE AT STRONG PRICES

Good fat lambs scored $19 to $21 at Fort Worth Monday and there were indications the top would be higher ere the week progressed much farther. Feeder lambs sold from $22.50 down. A few old canner ewes sold at $7 to $7.50 and goats sold from $5.50 to $7. Other grades and classes were in scant supply.

judiciary in the amendments, especially the first ten.

Among other things, Congress cannot make a law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting its free exercise, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press or the right of the people peaceable to assembly and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The constitution also curbs the courts (for example, they cannot deny a person a fair hearing duly represented by counsel.) It curbs the executive (he cannot, for example, take private property for public use without just compensation.)

The constitution, which divides the work of the three branches of government, winds up by telling where the rest of the power rests — just in case anybody gets any fancy ideas of dictatorship. There are things no state can do, for instance, "make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

If there are any powers not given to the United States government or reserved to the states, they belong to the people. The constitution does not seem to limit the people.

Count Shows Quail Crop On Increase

Reports from the Texas Panhandle indicate one of the heaviest quail crops in years, according to the director of wildlife restoration of the Game and Fish Commission.

He referred to an official report of A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist of the Panhandle area. Jackson recently made a quail road-count transect over a 48 mile stretch of road near Dalhart. In this 48 miles drive he counted 751 scaled quail or 15.6 birds per mile. This was at the rate of approximately 250 birds per hour. In one covey he estimated 100 birds, while at numerous other places counts ranged from 10 to 40 birds.

In a few spots he found only pairs, indicating some of the birds are still nesting. He saw young birds, some of them only two or three days old, while many others showed to be only about two weeks old.

The count was started on ranch land and continued on farm land.

Other reports from the Panhandle and south Plains areas indicate the best quail crop in years, where there is sufficient cover. A bountiful grain crop has provided plenty of food.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

IS THIS GENERATION OF LIVESTOCK FOLKS SMARTEST?

Fort Worth — On a rainy Monday at the stockyards at Fort Worth, the subject of recent developments on the national marketing scene came in for discussion. One of these was the improved balance that has been noted in the marketing of livestock across the country.

Have livestock folks finally figured out how to make supply and demand work for them? If so, it spells a new era in the livestock business and a much more profitable time, too!

Livestock producers have been told for more years than anyone cares to think about, that "supply" and "demand", the two factors alone, controlled the prices of their cattle, hogs, sheep. Until recently only a small portion of the livestock producers appeared

Inspect Heating Equipment Before Cold Spell Comes

"Don't wait on the first cold day to have your gas heating equipment inspected and adjusted for winter use," was the advice given today by O. F. Gates, Lone Star Gas Company manager.

"The day that cold weather makes its first appearance Lone Star and other heating service companies receive hundreds of calls for service," he said. This could mean a considerable delay in filling many individual service orders.

He suggested that users of gas floor furnaces, wall heaters, unit heaters, central heating plants and other gas heating equipment arrange now to have them inspected and adjusted by calling their heating equipment company or Lone Star Gas Company.

"In this way," he added, "the comfort of the entire family will be assured during the cold weather and with no delay. And the homemaker will have this important service completed and out of the way."

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle,
M. D., State Health Officer

If you have small children or if you have raised them into adulthood, you have at one time or another had a sick child on your hands. Today, if you are like most parents, you call the doctor right away.

This puts the doctor on the spot. He can't see you child over the telephone, so the only way he can get a small understanding of the problem is for you to give him a reliable and full description of symptoms your child is displaying.

An adult or older child can describe his own symptoms — "It seems to hurt right here doctor, a sort of sharp pain..." But a small child, even if he can talk, has a great deal of trouble explaining how he hurts or what is bothering him, because usually he has a fever and is not thinking clearly.

For this reason there are several things you can do to have this information ready BEFORE the call or visit so the doctor will not be burdened with a guess in the dark.

First, take his temperature with a reliable thermometer (a rectal is best) following directions carefully. Feeling a child's skin tells little unless the temperature is exceptionally high and by then the child may be seriously ill.

Notice carefully the appearance of the skin — rash, yellowish cast, grayish, pale — and make certain to note the type of rash, whether it is flat or raised above

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has recently released two publications which should be of interest to Texas broiler growers. Both have to do with quality products and were authored by F. Z. Beamblossom and Marshall Miller, poultry marketing specialists. "Markets Demands on Broilers" is B-910 and "How to Select Poultry for Market Qualities" is L-404. Both are available from the offices of county agents.

the skin level. Is the breathing unusually heavy or light? Take count of the breaths per minute and pass this information on to the physician. It is often as important as a temperature reading. Also, check other symptoms, such as wheezing, coughing etc.

Important to the doctor, is whether the child is restless, drowsy, or if there are peculiar movements of a jerky or wild nature. If he is quiet, is he unconscious and slow to respond or just tired? The parent is the best judge if these signs since he is familiar with the normal child. Don't omit them from your report.

One of the first questions a physician will ask is the character of the bowel movements. Have they been loose, hard, watery, more often or less often? What color, darker or lighter? Don't forget cramps or stomach pains often associated with digestive disorders. If he has vomited, describe how — with pressure or did the youngster seem to "spill over?"

Have all this information ready before you telephone so the physician can decide whether a personal call is warranted or if you should bring the child to the office. Help the physician and he will be better able to help your child get well.

Hay Ride, Barn Jamboree Ushers In Social Season For Local Teen-agers

The first in a series of parties sponsored by parents for Monday youth of high school ages took place last Saturday evening, September 20, when forty-eight young people with their chaperones caught a hayride which transported them to the John Reneau barn.

First on the entertainment program was a box supper prepared by the girls. Coach Waydelle Hill served as auctioneer, and no bids less than five cents nor higher than a dollar were acceptable. Bidding proceeded at a lively pace as each boy attempted to buy the box which he believed belonged to his date. When all the boxes were sold, the proceeds amounted to $22, which is to be used to defray expenses connected with these parties. The contents of the boxes, along with a fruit drink provided by the parents, were enjoyed by all present.

Following the refreshments, came a two hour period of fun and frolic when all who desired to do so engaged in early American folk dancing, which included the Virginia Reel and various figures of the square dance. Since approximately half of the group were novices, their attempts to follow some of the intricacies of the dances provided merriment for both the participants and the onlookers. In fact, one of the difficulties seemed to be an inability on the part of many to determine on the spur of the moment which hand was right and which left.

The Virginia Reel, in which eighteen couples performed in groups of six couples each, brought the festivities to an end, and at 10:30, after expressing their appreciation to their hosts and sponsors, all embarked once more on the hay truck for the ride back to town.

Young people enjoying this occasion included the following:

Shirley Howry, Charles Partridge, Margaret Clowdis, Melvin Cypert, Nancy Cowan, Jerry Jett, Martha Kay Elliott, Billy Frank Fitzgerald, Jerrilynn Kane, Micky Jackson, Brenda Gass, Jimmy Lee, Barbara Kirschner, Joe Lynn McMahon, Joanna Partridge, John Massey, Nancy Stewart, Jackie Matthews, Evelyn Tomlinson, Carroll Odell, Jan Weigel, Kenneth Parker, Jimmie Del Peysen, Allen Eiland, Bobbie Nelson Johnny Pruitt, Mary Ann Reneau, Charles Elliott, Linda Kay Smith, James Holcomb, Donna Partridge, Jerry Bowden, Sherry Cook, Elton Floyd, Sharon

Cypert, J. B. Rutherford, Shirley Duncan, Charles Phillips, Cheryl Matthews, Tommy Dickerson, Shirley McCarty, George Reed, Patti Patterson, Jerry Meers, Linda Smith, Lynn Montgomery, Henry Pape, and John Reneau.

Sponsors and chaperones included Mr. and Mrs. Waydelle Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Partridge; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell; Mrs. W. H. Stewart; Mrs. F. W. Pape; Mrs. Truman Cypert; and Mr. and Mrs. John Reneau, who provided the transportation and served as hosts for the affair.

Barbecue Honors New Teachers At P. T. A. Meeting

The largest number of people to attend a P. T. A. meeting attended the opening meeting on Thursday night, September 18, when a community barbecue was given to introduce new teachers to the parents. Around 500 were present, including parents, teacher and their children.

Harold Paden, new P. T. A. president was in charge and introduced committee chairmen and their committees. The local P. T. A. has chosen a civic center as the major project this year, believing young people are in need of such a project.

Supt. W. C. Cox introduced the ten new teachers who were added to the faculty this year.

After the business meeting, the barbecue supper which was prepared by P. T. A. members and other citizens, was served by members of the Munday Lions Club.

MODERN HOMEMAKING

Recipes . . . Household Helps

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS CO.

With modern methods and today's food products, yeast breads and rolls can now be made in less than half the traditional time. One of the leading food companies has developed a recipe for combining biscuit mix, active dry yeast and water to make wonderful, light, springy dough. It has to be kneaded only 20 times and rising time is about one hour.

To make rolls, dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in ¾ cup warm water (not hot — 105 to 115 deg. F.). Mix well in 2½ cups biscuit mix. Beat vigorously. Turn dough onto pastry cloth or board well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Shape as desired. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Cover with damp cloth. Let rise in warm place (85 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Bake 10 to 15 minutes in moderately hot gas oven (400 deg. F.). Brush with butter or margarine after baking. Makes approximately 16.

Onion rolls are a flavorful treat with hamburgers and hot dogs. Use ¾ cup warm water, 1 package active dry yeast, 2 2/3 cups biscuit mix and ½ cup finely chopped onion. Put them together as regular rolls adding the onion with the biscuit mix. Roll the dough into a rectangle about ¾ inch thick. For hot dog rolls, cut the dough into oblongs. For hamburgers, cut the dough into large circles with a cookie cutter. Place the rolls on a lightly greased baking sheet and brush them with milk. Let rise in warm place (85 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Bake in moderately hot gas oven (400 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes depending on size and shape of rolls. Brush with butter or margarine after baking. Makes approximately 10. The onion may add moisture to the dough, so if necessary to keep dough from being sticky, add a little more biscuit mix when dough is kneaded.

Marmalade rolls are golden with goodness. Place ½ teaspoon soft butter and ½ teaspoon marmalade in each of 12 greased muffin cups. Dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in ½ cup warm water (not hot — 105 to 115 deg. F.). Add 1 egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2½ cups biscuit mix. Beat vigorously. Turn onto pastry cloth or board well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Roll into rectangle about 16 x 9 inches. Spread with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and 1 1/2 cup thick fruit marmalade. (Amount will depend on thickness of marmalade.) Roll up tightly beginning at long side. Seal well by pinching edge of dough into roll. Cut into 12 slices. Place rolls, cut side up in muffin cups. Cover with damp cloth. Let rise in warm place (85 deg. F.) about 45 minutes. Bake in moderately hot gas oven (400 deg. F.) about 15 minutes. Invert pans on rack or baking sheet to remove rolls. Serve warm.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pizza: Dissolve 2 package active dry yeast in warm water (not hot — 105 to 115 deg. F.). Add 2½ cups biscuit mix. Beat vigorously. Turn onto pastry cloth or board well dusted with biscuit mix. Knead until smooth, about 20 times. Divide dough into 4 pieces. Roll each piece into a paper-thin circle about 10 inches in diameter. Place on ungreased baking sheet or in pizza pans. For the filling, mix together ¾ cup chopped onion, 1 clove garlic, chopped, 2 cups tomato sauce and about 1 cup chopped salami or cooked Italian sausage. Add salt and pepper to taste. Spread mixture evenly on dough. Sprinkle with 2½ cups grated Mozzarella cheese or cut two 6-ounce packages sliced Mozzarella cheese into thin strips and lay strips on top. Sprinkle with oregano. Bake in hot gas oven (425 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Claims Little Rock Has Opened Up Brand New Idea For Much Better Football

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has his tongue in his cheek this week, and possibly his foot in his mouth. You decide.

Dear editor:
I have been keeping up with what's going on in Little Rock, Arkansas, not because I know the answer but because it's interesting to find out what other people's answers are, and I'm just as confused as you and the rest are, yet there's one point that has been developed there that the rest of the country seems to have overlooked.

As I understand it from reading the newspapers that turn up out here on this Johnson grass farm, even though the schools are closed in Little Rock, the football team is going ahead and playing.

This seems to be one of those great historic discoveries that nobody at the time seemed to recognize, but as I see it, it opens up a brand new idea and is exactly what the schools, especially the colleges, have been needing.

As everybody knows, classes get in the way of football practice on most college campuses, you try flying half way across the United States to play football on the week-end and still get back to class on Monday, when you ought to be watching the films of the game and finding out what you did wrong so you can correct it before the game on the next week-end, and you'll see what I mean, although personally I've never tried it. A college team that doesn't eat, sleep and talk football, well, it just ain't headed for any bowl game.

However, if it's possible to have a football team without attending classes — I'm talking about college football, not professional football, as everybody knows you don't ordinarily play professional football until you make a name for yourself in college — then the long-sought answer is at hand.

Don't misunderstand me, I'm not opposed to football, I'm just trying to help the game. You can't tell me colleges wouldn't play a better brand of football if the players didn't have to attend classes and could devote their entire time to it, and if the Little Rock experiment proves it can be done, there's the answer.

By the way, I sure would like to see the Moguls play Paducah on October 3. If you've got a press pass, I'd be glad to borrow it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SPICY APPLE TWISTS
By Mrs. Don Devault, Delaware, Ohio
(Adapted by Ann Pillsbury)
Bake at 450 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 16. Prepare 2 large apples, pared, cored and sliced into eight wedges. Sift together 1 1/2 cups sifted Pillsbury's best all purpose flour and 1 teaspoon salt into mixing bowl. Cut in 1/2 cup shortening until particles are the size of small peas. Sprinkle 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water over mixture while tossing and stirring lightly with fork. Add liquid to driest particles, pushing lumps to side, until dough is just moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball. Flatten to about 1/2-inch thickness, smooth edges, roll out on floured surface to a 16x10-inch rectangle. Cut into sixteen 10x1-inch strips. Wrap one strip around each apple wedge. Arrange in 13x9x2-inch pan sides not touching. Brush with 1/3 cup melted butter. Sprinkle with mixture of 1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Pour 1/2 cup water over pastries. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes until golden brown. Serve warm or cold, plain or with cream.
