WORLD ARSENAL FOR PEACE

"A good research library is the scholar's armory," writes Witold S. Sworakowski, assistant director of The Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace, at Stanford University. "Here he finds the arms and ammunition for his struggle toward enlightenment and knowledge. Without these resources he is like a soldier without weapons, however skilled and dedicated he may be.

"In this sense the library that Mr. Hoover founded on the Stanford campus has become a world arsenal for peace—a center where scholars from any country may come to study man's role in war, revolution, and peace . . ."

Herbert Hoover founded the library in 1919. It is an unique institution which attracts an ever-increasing stream of visitors. In a recent year these numbered 73,000, and represented more than 60 countries. Scholars and historians of the utmost influence and distinction have used the library's magnificent collections of source materials on the conflicts, tensions and world upheavals that have characterized the last half-century.

There is no yardstick with which to accurately measure the influence for good of an institution such as this. A comparatively small number of people are involved in the study and research. But, as with a rock dropped into a pond, the circle ever widens—and the great cause of world understanding and world peace is served.

The Great Falls, Montana, Tribune, says that about one in six employed Americans—more than ever before—have government jobs and the trend is still upward. Something like 11 million people are paid with tax dollars from one unit of government or another. Since the turn of the century, the paper adds, non-government employment has increased 100%—and government employment 660%.

Editor Ralph McGill of The Atlanta Constitution writes: "It is very difficult for a senator to move from the Senate to the White House. In all history, only one, Warren Harding, has made it. Vice presidents have a difficult time, too. Only one has made the direct transfer—Van Buren.

"Governors have the best chance. Especially one who is out of the controversial national issues."

OUR TRACTOR POPULATION

What do American farmers think about the worth of tractors?

A few figures provide an answer. In 12 years—1945-57—the U. S. tractor population increased 95% almost double. In some localities the increase was much larger. In Louisiana and Mississippi, for instance, the figure was 274%.

What is true of tractors is true in varying measure of all modern mechanized farm equipment. And the trend is perfectly understandable in the light of agricultural developments in recent years.

In the period between 1940 and 1956, the number of farms in this country decreased by 22%. The farm population has gone down still more—by 27%, even though the total population soared. The total acreage under cultivation remained about the same. And significantly, the wage rates of hired labor jumped 313% in those 16 years.

This simply means that fewer farmers, working the same amount of land, have to provide food and fiber for a greatly increased number of consumers. And they have to do it in the face of extraordinary increases in the cost of human labor.

Farm equipment, obviously, is the answer. It's the backbone of agriculture as we know it today in this country, and by helping make the family farm a profitable business enterprise it preserves the land as a way of life as well.

PORT GIBSON, MISS., REVELLE: "It is stated in the daily press that the New Testament is being translated into 'native idiom and current usage' in England. Maybe it won't be long before the Bible will be translated into modern-day slang. If it's all the same with the learned translators, why not use all power possible to raise the lives of people up to the high standards of the words of the King James' translation, rather than whittle that great translation down to the talk of the street?"

"IT WORKS"

The socialist minded continually harp on the profit motive as something evil, but none other than Nikita Khrushchev said: "You can't get production without incentive."

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, who was interviewing Khrushchev, asked him if his statement on incentive wasn't capitalistic. "Call it what you will," Khrushchev replied. "It works."

ANOTHER GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE IN 1959?

Agricultural workers are keeping a close watch this year on grasshoppers — that ravenous insect that engulfed much of the Texas Panhandle in 1958.

A late fall survey of insect eggs shows that grasshoppers are likely to be more widespread in the western states this year but not so heavily concentrated as during the scourge of last spring. During the survey, grasshoppers were found on 22,666,922 rangeland acres in 15 western and midwestern states as compared with 18,686,492 in 1957. However, where the previous year's survey showed many areas of extremely heavy infestation, the most recent count revealed most of the acreage to carry only a light or moderate number of hatchable eggs.

Field workers check the hopper eggs in order to give advance warning to farmers and ranchers. Later spot samplings will be made as the year progresses. One encouraging note in Texas and Oklahoma is the fact that they have found considerable parasitism of grasshopper eggs by blister beetles and bee flies, which should reduce the egg hatch.

Colorado, Montana and California have the largest rangeland areas with heavy grasshopper populations, followed by Wyoming, Utah, Oklahoma and Texas. Some 3,460,000 acres in Texas have an egg count ranging from "light" to "very abundant".

The effects of the Texas Department of Agriculture's campaign against the hopper last spring showed up clearly in the survey. Few grasshoppers were found in many of the areas treated with insecticides. Over 1,000,000 (m) acres were treated in Texas during the campaign.

Grasshoppers are a very real threat to the farmers' and ranchers' pocketbook. The average annual loss to crops and range forage in 17 states west of the Mississippi is estimated at $90 million.

Pest control workers urge land owners to keep a sharp eye on potentially threatening areas so they can act promptly if spring surveys show that grasshoppers are hatching in abundance.

In Texas... Ford is the best buy...

...and it's the "best-looker" too

Trust Texans to choose the one new car that's beautifully sensible

This year, with a wide choice of designs, Texans have made their minds up overwhelmingly for the spectacular '59 Ford.

Ford has the classic simplicity that people of good taste prefer . . . wonderfully crisp and clean lines without brassy ostentation.

And just see how sensible this beauty really is. Discover how Ford is built for people. Notice how the extra-wide doors open all the way out . . . make it easier to enter. See how all six passengers—even the man in the middle—have the comfort of full-depth cushions. There's plenty of leg, hip and head room, too.

Of course, every inch of every Ford is built for savings. Ford's standard engines, Six or Thunderbird V-8, thrive on regular gas, saving you up to $1.00 per tankful. Ford's new aluminum muffler is built for double life. You can save on oil, too . . . for Ford needs a change only every 4000 miles. And Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing.

With all this new beauty and economy, is it any wonder Ford's out front for '59? Come see the car acclaimed by Texans . . . now on display at your Ford Dealer's.

For the most beautiful new car of all, come in and check Ford's amazingly low price . . . the lowest price of the top-selling three. — And check the cost of accessories, too. You'll find the savings are even bigger!

PROPERTY RENDERING DEADLINES NEAR
 April 1 will be the deadline for most Texans to render their property to certain taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

 Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provision of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods. The state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

 In some localities a third taxing unit is involved — the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture.

However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Pioneer Vernon Rancher Named To Hall Of Fame Near Oklahoma City

Dan Waggoner, 1828-1902 pioneer cattleman, developer of one of Texas' largest ranching operations, civic and area developer, has been voted into the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, for which a $5 million building and museum will be constructed on a 37-acre plot east of Oklahoma City.

DAN WAGGONER

Texas, only state to have two men voted into the western shrine this year, also had Capt. Richard King, founder of the famed King Ranch, as the second honoree.

Born in Tennessee, 20-year-old Dan Waggoner came to Hopkins county, Texas, with his parents in 1848. His earlier life was spent learning the cattle business and trading from his father. Uneducated in the formal sense, he acquired a vast knowledge of men, horses and cattle in those formative years because of a high degree of intelligence and retention of information that broadened his cultural life as well as his business sense.

At 21 Waggoner went to Wise county when it was wild and unsettled. His own stake, accumulated through work and trading, was 242 head of cattle, six horses and a male Negro slave. Locating originally near Decatur, he later bought a ranch and some 200 cattle from George Isbell in the western part of Wise county. This holding was enlarged until the Waggoner brand was the best known and widest used in that cattle area.

He went through all the troubles of his times; Indian raids, white rustlers, weather, good times and bad but by his knowledge and skill not only held what was his but enlarged it. Additional land to a half-million leased acres and thousands of fee acres were added in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles. The cattle herds grew to thousands with an estimated money value between $5 million and $7 million at the time of his death.

Waggoner branched out from ranching into many other activities and always took a leading part in the business and cultural development of his times, but spread his activities far afield from his own acres. He helped build the country into permanence and stability.

The annual meeting of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council will be held in Houston on the afternoon of March 24 and morning of the 25th, at the Rice Hotel. Those interested in improving the safety record of rural Texans have a special invitation to attend.

Fresh water for laying hens is just as important in winter as in summer. To make one egg, a hen must drink about a pint of water.

Research On Silage Making Is Being Released

Highly palatable silage can be made from spring grasses and clovers when conditions are not favorable for hay making, report research workers of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the Texas A&M College System.

The use of plastic covers and sodium bisulfite preservative reduced spoilage and improved silage quality, the research workers said.

The studies conducted at the Rice Pasture Experiment Station, near Beaumont, showed that good silage can be produced when weather conditions during the spring season are unfavorable for hay making. Farm size silos, incorporating the better known methods of silage making, were used in the tests. The silos used included a 70-ton bunker, two plastic bag silos with capacities of 10 and 25 tons and three horizontal, plastic covered stacks of about 30 tons capacity.

Spoilage losses were higher in 1958 in the plastic bag silos due to difficulties encountered in packing the low moisture silage and from air getting into the bags from punctures in the plastic during the filling operations and from mice damage. In 1957 tests when high moisture silage was put into the bags, no puncture problems were encountered and spoilage losses were very low.

Silage stored in the bunker was successfully self-fed to beef cattle; thus, reducing the labor usually required with silage feeding. The research workers reported that horizontal stack silos covered with plastic are showing promise and that the initial investments in them are low.

The tests are being continued in an effort to improve the silage program for the area.

Mrs. Scotty Ponder and son, Michael, and Mac Hill of Lubbock visited their mother, Mrs. L. J. Hill, over the week end.

Publications Of Farmer Interest Released Recently

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has released two publications of importance to Texas farmers.

One is a leaflet describing RS 608, a red-seeded sorghum hybrid developed independently by the Texas and Nebraska experiment stations in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The leaflet, L-426, describes agronomic characteristics of the hybrid, gives parentage, yield records and other information of interest and importance.

The other publication is progress report 2069, which gives procedures and results of field-plot insecticide tests for the control of the boll weevil and bollworm. The report gives a summary of the tests and then goes into a detailed explanation of the experimental procedure and results obtained. Both publications are available free of charge from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Mrs. Bob Jarvis, Mrs. Kirby Fitzgerald and Mrs. Virgil Williams spent last Friday in Big Spring visiting with Virgil Williams who is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital. Mr. Williams is receiving treatment for third degree burns.

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard
Senator Proxmire's attack on the Leadership in the Senate has been highly publicized. The chief complaint, however, seems to have been overlooked by most of the newspapers that have reported his activities. The Senator's real complaint is that the Southerners and Southwestern ers have, in his judgment, too much influence in the Congress. He has gone to great length to point out that most of the Committee Chairmen are from the South and the West. The seniority system, which is strictly followed in both Houses of the Congress, certainly has its faults, but the Senator from Wisconsin puts himself in an untenable position when he questions that the country is not considerably better off on account of the service of men like Senators Russell, Byrd, McClellan, Fulbright, Smathers, and Johnson of Texas.

There is a possibility that one of the new tracking stations being built to track satellites in outer space will be located in Central Texas. The announcement is expected shortly.

One of the first benefits that we may receive from exploration of outer space is a much more accurate system of long-range weather forecasting. Information gained from space possibly will allow forecasts with a degree of exactness never previously dreamed of.

Cattle population of this country is being built up to the largest in history. We now have 97 million cattle which is 3 million more than last year. Predictions are that we will have 110 million by 1961.

The Export-Import Bank was originally established to make loans to Russia. Recently it celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday without ever having given a single credit to that country. However, during that period, it has made loans of more than 10 Billion Dollars to the Free World. The Bank has paid all of its administrative expenses out of its earnings, has been of great assistance to foreign nations, and has earned a tidy profit besides.

Two things that will probably come to pass as a result of the recent meeting between President Eisenhower and the President of Mexico will be accelerated development of the Big Bend Park both in this country and its counterpart across the border and the construction of the Diablo Dam on the Rio Grande River.

Mr. R. H. Coffee of Vernon; Mr. Gerald Tyler of Burkburnett; and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Akin and Barbara of Wichita Falls were Washington Visitors this week. Mr. E. A. Canatser of Wichita Falls was in Washington also this week.

while related, are quite different. Prevention must take place in the home towns of the State. Prevention must take place within the family, within schools, churches, the family doctor's office, and place of employment. Prevention must begin before nervous and mental disorders appear; or, where not possible, when the child or adult shows early symptoms.

Through seminars, in-service training programs and staff consultation, the Division of Mental Health has helped already existing community health, education and welfare personnel deal with personal psychological problems before they erupt in serious forms of juvenile and adult crime, marital break-up or mental illness which might require hospitalization.

During its 11 years, the Division has actively helped local groups set up seven community guidance centers in Texas plus providing consultation and other assistance to child guidance clinics already established.

Clinical services have dealt largely with the needs of emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children, and their parents. Additional services are needed for adults overwhelmed by difficult adjustments, mounting tensions, and the deep personal problems which too often lead to illness such as alcoholism.

Encouraging regional Mental Health Centers, demonstration projects and aiding local areas in acquiring mental health workers are all part of the giant effort required for the eventual establishment of statewide mental health assistance to every Texan regardless of location. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harrell and children of Falls visited her aunts, Mrs. Lucille Stodghill, Mrs. C. A. Reagan and Mrs. Bess Guinn, over the week end.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Hollo, M. D., State Health Officer

An active division of the State Department of Health for 11 years, the Division of Mental Health has from the beginning keynoted its activities towards the prevention of mental illness through cooperation ranging from private citizens to state government.

It has coordinated its efforts on matters of common concern with such other state agencies as the Department of Public Welfare, Texas Commission on Alcoholism, Texas Education Agency, and Board of Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

With the growth of the State's population, its increased urbanization and industrialization and the pyramiding tensions of everyday living, communities must become the first line of defense against nervous and emotional disorders.

The need for improved treatment of the mentally ill is urgent, but the race will be lost if community preventive services are not developed. The two needs,

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

STOCKER AUCTION AVERAGE $157.80 AT FORT WORTH

Fort Worth, March 9 — An overflow crowd attended the March 5 cattle auction at Fort Worth and the strong prices reflected very good demand for cattle from all parts of the country. Higher quality cattle commanded especially strong prices.

The auction was the first at the Fort Worth market in 36 years and despite blustery weather, the big crowd stayed to the end as the 3,962 cattle and calves were sold. A total of 4,371 arrived for the sale. The unusual feature of having a special sale featuring private treaty, as well as auction selling, attracted nationwide attention.

Of the 3,962 sold, 419 head sold at private treaty. Some of the cattle brought less money at auction than private treaty early in the morning and some of them brought more money at auction.

The cattle and calves grossed $605,748.98 and averaged $157.80 per head.

Manager Ted Gouldy of the Market Institute reported the directors had selected early April as the next special stocker and feeder sale in the series.

Veteran observers reported the speed with which the cattle moved through the ring was surprising and that probably a record for the number of cattle auctioned per hour was set in the first three hours of the sale. During this period criollos of mostly 35 to 40 head were sold, making the average per minute high. A total of 4,185 cattle moved through the arena in slightly over six hours time. Of these, 3,640 sold and 545 were passed out.

Good and choice steer calves ranged from $29 to $39 and heifer calves sold from $33 downward. Stocker steer yearlings cashed at $23 to $33 and stocker cows ranged from $200 to $300 per pair.

Major and independent packers took a number of fat cattle and calves. Typical of the trade was the fact that many of the consign-

Dairy Foods Demonstrators Win State 4-H Award

Ellen Latta

Edith Herring

Carolyn Jones

"Learn by doing" is the motto of one Carson and two Swisher County girls whose talent in showing how-to-do-it won 1958 state and national honors in the 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, Texas A. & M.

They are national winner Ellen Latta, 17, of Groom; and state winners Edith Herring and Carolyn Jones, both 18, of Tulla.

The Carnation Company presented each girl with a 19-jewel wrist watch. Miss Latta was also awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress and the Carnation $400 college scholarship.

Veteran Demonstrator
Miss Latta's demonstration,

which placed her among the six national champions, was "lemon parfait pie." But this Groom High School Junior is a veteran of six years of demonstrating dairy foods. She has been Carson County winner three years for individual demonstrations and three years for team demonstrations.

She has been awarded the dairy foods pin three years, dairy achievement medals twice, and while still too young to compete in the district dairy foods demonstration competition, she won the Carnation pin for her records two times.

She is also the winner of county honors in food preparation, frozen foods, and junior leadership. In 1957, she was county winner of the bake show. She is a 4-H Gold Star.

Swisher County Team

The Swisher County team of Herring and Jones were victors with their demonstration, "start the day the dairy foods way." It featured sour cream pancakes topped with cottage cheese and fruit syrup.

The two Tulla High School seniors were county and district winners in 1957 also with a team demonstration on mocha pudding, placing third in the state.

Both girls are 4-H Gold Stars. Miss Jones was named "Best All Around Girl" in the county in 1956, and Miss Herring was chosen "Most Outstanding 4-H Girl" in 1957.

It was in November of 1920 and I was on a train bound for Laredo when the brakeman came through and asked each passenger if he wanted "dinner" (the noon meal) at Cotulla, there being no diner on the train. Nearly everyone said "Yes" and he wired the number so the hotel would know how many to prepare for.

We hurried across a vacant lot and in at a back door of the Travelers' Hotel and there were long tables filled with dishes of fried steak, gravy, hot biscuits, trijoles and other home-cooked viands.

I went on to Laredo and, being so far from home for the first time and hearing Spanish almost entirely, became homesick — (I was 23). Further, there were three days of chill and rain and I thought fondly of that meal at Cotulla and the home-like atmosphere, and decided to return, which I did.

There I slept on the screened-in porch upstairs, drank half a gallon of sweet milk a day, loafed, took a siesta nearly every afternoon and talked with traveling salesmen after supper. The water was marvelous, with a soft taste, and one never seemed to get enough of it.

I had the sensation of having been there before and I mentioned this to Owen Widener, son of the middle-aged couple who owned the hotel, which was operated by their daughter, motherly, energetic, always cheerful.

Owen asked, "Did you ever hear of O. Henry?"

"Of course I had read his stories and then Owen said that, when the future author was a youth, he came to LaSalle County on account of his health and had spent two years or so on a ranch. Some of his stories dealt with that region and that explained why I felt that I had been there before.

It was remarkable that, purely by chance, I had come to the same county that O. Henry had — and for the same reason.

During his days in LaSalle County, Will Porter (which was his real name, of course) had come into Cotulla frequently for groceries and it pleased me to wander past old buildings that had been there in his time, one of which had been a saloon which he had patronized. This building still bore, in faded letters, "Saloon" though no longer used — in fact, national prohibition was then the law of the land. Of a morning, before the sun became too ardent, I liked to roam through the Mexican part of town, where dogs dozed in the shade in clean-swept yards and mesquite smoke perfumed the air.

In such surroundings, I re-read O. Henry and perused much of Mark Twain for the first time.

The hotel owners were receiving an impressive income, not so much from us "regulars" — (I think I paid $10 a week for room and board) — but from the passengers of the two trains who dined there every day. The couple had purchased a set of Mark Twain and also Stoddard's Travels but the pages of most of the volumes had not been cut until I did so.

The first Sunday afternoon I was there, pistol shots rang out. Thoughts of a gun-fight leaped into my mind but the shots proved to be a "fire alarm" as the town did not have a fire whistle.

It was interesting to look in at the passengers as they dined. One day, a diner was the governor-elect of Texas who had just defeated the fabulous Joe Bailey. I peered in and saw a man with features like a Greek statue. Later, I came to know Pat M. Neff rather well and to count him a friend.

Mrs. G. P. Barus has returned home after three weeks visit with relatives in Fort Worth, Dallas, Gilmer and Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fisher and daughter and Mrs. Charlie Roberts of Altus, Okla., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough.

Glenn Amerson of Texas Tech in Lubbock spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Amerson.

He's "in" when he's out
thanks to the Electronic Secretary Automatic Telephone Answering Unit

This television repairman has solved the problem of being in two places at once.

Now he can make his service calls and still answer the phone!

With the help of an Electronic Secretary* Automatic Telephone Answering Unit, all incoming calls are recorded while he's out. By playing back the recordings upon his return, he knows immediately where he's needed next.

The Electronic Secretary Answering Unit automatically answers the phone and takes messages 24 hours a day. It permits proprietors of one-man businesses to leave their offices and shops, yet "stay in touch." It keeps their establishments "open" when they're away.

The Electronic Secretary Answering Unit makes any phone do more. Call your local telephone business office to find out what it can do for you.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Comes Out With The Right To Wisecrack About Bolivia, And About Himself

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses jokes this week, but we don't know whether he's serious about it or not.

Dear editor: It's a long way from this Johnson grass farm out here to Bolivia in South America and I don't know any more about what's going on down there than the Bolivians know what's going on out here, but it seems to me anybody who'd riot over what a magazine says is hard up for something to riot about.

As I understand it, a U. S. magazine quoted some anonymous person in the foreign service as saying the only way to solve Bolivia's problems was to abolish Bolivia, and the Bolivians rioted.

What I'd like to know is, what are they complaining about? U. S. magazines are always suggesting the way to solve the farm problem in this country is to carry this line of thinking too far. It's possible you might improve banking by abolishing some bankers, you might improve teaching by abolishing some teachers, you might improve children by abolishing some parents, you might improve newspapers by abolishing some editors, you might improve Congress by . . . as you see, this thing can get out of hand.

I understand that some thinkers have pointed out that the suggestion that Bolivia be abolished was just a wisecrack in the first place, and this, they say, emphasizes the great care people should exercise these days in deciding what to joke about.

I don't look at it that way. When a country is in such a fix it's lost its sense of humor, that's no argument the rest of the world ought to tread lightly when talking about it. That's an argument that maybe the country is headed for abolishment anyway, on its own.

If the farmers of this country got mad every time somebody joked about them and rioted, there wouldn't be much plowing done.

Although understand when I'm not plowing, that's no sign I'm mad. In fact, as a rule, I'm a lot madder plowing than not plowing.

Yours faithfully,

Gems Of Thought

"AFFECTION"

Human affection is not poured forth vainly, even though it meet no return. Love enriches the nature, enlarging, purifying, and elevating it. — Mary Baker Eddy

To be the recipient of affection is a potent cause of happiness, but the man who demands affection is not the man upon whom it is bestowed. — Bertrand Russell

The purest affection the heart can hold is the honest love of a nine-year-old. — Holman Francis Day

Talk not of wasted affection, affection never was wasted. — Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Our sweetest experiences of affection are meant to point us to that realm which is the real and endless home of the heart. — Henry Ward Beecher

Happy is he the palace of whose affection is founded on virtue, walled with riches, glazed with beauty, and roofed with honour. — Francis Quarles

Troy B. McKnight, owner of Western Auto Store, entered the Knox County Hospital on Wednesday for treatment for a back injury.

Lot Of Blarney For St. Patrick

Chances are the blarney will be as thick as the shamrocks when the Irish honor St. Patrick on March 17.

But the original "blarney" was an Irish chieftain who proved that you can still win even if you lose.

When the castle of Blarney was besieged by the English, the lord of the manor concluded an armistice with the English commander. According to the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia, he promised to surrender the old homestead to an English garrison in Cork on a certain date.

The Englishman waited politely for the terms of the armistice to be fulfilled... and waited... and waited.

The Lord of Blarney held him off with promises and flattery, until the commander became the laughingstock of the court of England.

And the name "Blarney" ironically took its place in the "English" language, as a synonym for sweet talk.

Would you like more information on Chick-N-Que? It's available in a new Texas Agricultural Extension Service publication, MP-312, and copies are available without cost from the offices of local county extension agents. Barbecued head is mighty tasty eating say the authors, F. Z. Beamblossom and Marshall Miller, extension poultry marketing specialists.

Marketing agencies get about 60 cents of our food dollar now, and the farmer about 40 cents. Approximately half the food marketing dollar goes to pay for labor.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

It always pays to file your income tax early or at least to start work on your income tax return early.

About one-third of our taxpayers are affected with tired blood when it comes to the distasteful task of preparing a tax return each year. Of course, a lot of taxpayers can hardly wait for January 1 to roll around each year so they can file their tax return and get their refund check. Unfortunately, there are more late filers than there are early filers.

A very large number of the approximate 700,000 Texans who receive a refund check each year wait until the last possible minute to work on their tax return. Right now the several hundred thousand taxpayers in North Texas have not taken the time to read the tax instructions, work out their tax return, so the Internal Revenue can work on that refund check. Maybe you should start on your spring tonic early so you can file your tax return now.

Thanks, Friends

We take this means of expressing our deepest thanks to all of you for the many kindnesses, deeds of love, and words of sympathy extended to us in our recent bereavement. We have known through the years just how wonderful our friends are, but your many deeds have again reminded us of this.

Our thanks, too, are extended to all who have patronized the J. C. Borden Agency during the many years this agency was in operation. Your patronage and good will have always been paramount with us.

We have sold the agency to Charles Baker, whom most of you know, and we hope you will continue to patronize him as loyally as you have us in the past. We believe he will be just as willing and anxious to serve you.

Again thanking you and assuring you we value your friendship, we are Very sincerely,

The J. C. Borden Family
