THE WORD IS INSANITY

In a recent column, Joseph Alsop writes with chilling vividness of the menace to this country of Soviet ballistic missiles. These weapons, of incredible destructive power, strike without warning. There is no doubt that, in the event of attack, the prime initial targets would be the bases of our principal retaliatory force—the Strategic Air Command.

The only measure that can be taken now to reduce the risk, Mr. Alsop goes on, is to put the SAC on a state of maximum air-borne alertness, with a certain percentage of its planes in the air at all times, armed and ready to blast the enemy on order. SAC's commander, General Power, has "begged the authorities in Washington" to permit this. But the cost would be in the neighborhood of a billion dollars a year, and he has been turned down for budgetary reasons.

So, we cannot spend a billion for what may be the most essential of all defensive measures in this period of terrible risk. But we do go on spending federal money by the bucketful for non-essential projects which could be abandoned or deferred, or undertaken by local government. And we spend more money by the bucketful for projects, such as socialized power, which would be carried on as a matter of routine by private enterprise if the government stepped out.

About the only word that covers this situation is "insanity".

"The Russians are using trade as a weapon," said Vice President Nixon in a recent press conference. "The United States will be priced out of the world market if we do not recognize the Soviet use of world trade as a cold war weapon and meet the threat by dealing with the problem of rising costs and inflation here in America."

The 46th anniversary of the federal income tax occurred last February 25 — and the baby certainly has grown! At the beginning, in 1913, the rates ran from 1% to 6%, as against 20% to 91% now. And where the per capita tax averaged $2c in these long-gone days, it has risen to $397.

Writing in The New York Times Magazine, Kingsley describes the increase in the earth's population as an "explosion". Sixteen years from now, it is estimated, the earth will contain a billion more people — and in 41 years nearly four billion more.

NEW FORCE IN THE SKY

The first Jet Clipper, now in international service, was christened by Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower. And the significance of the occasion was eloquently described by President Juan T. Trippe of Pan American World Airways.

The jets, he said, will move people, mail and cargo more swiftly, safely and economically than planes yet built. Their purpose is not to serve "an elite of the fortunate" but all the people who wish to go to other lands. Then he dealt with the biggest thing of all in these words: "How can such a movement of the people fail to inspire greater understanding of the world in which we live? How can it fail to help the nations and peoples of the world reaching out toward one another—reaching out to know, to appreciate, to understand one another? How can it fail to smash and shatter the petty provincialism and narrow nationalism, which for so many centuries has fragmented the world . . . making of this world a tragic mosaic of hostility and hate? In short, how can this fabulous new force in the sky fail to serve the hope of the world—and the peace of the world?"

Peoples who know, understand, and sympathize with the problems of one another are peoples of peace—and if there only are enough of them, their governments will ultimately become instruments of peace. That is the hope of the future.

EYE OPENER

Does anyone still believe the fiction that most of the cost of government is borne by the well-to-do, and that government spending isn't of much consequence to the rest of us?

If so, something said by an official of a leading manufacturing company should be an eye-opener: "Few people realize it, but 84 per cent of all the revenue obtained by the personal income tax comes from the basic 20 percent rate and only 16 per cent of the revenue arises from progression. If the income presently taxed in excess of 50 per cent were taxed only at that rate, the direct loss in revenue to the government would be just $734 million, which is approximately one per cent of federal revenue collections."

Columnist Sylvia Porter finds that in the past 88 years — as long a period for which reliable statistics exist — stock prices have advanced an average of 1.060%, as against a cost of living increase of 232%.

Reduce Accidents By Using Safe Office Practices

"We don't often think of office work as being dangerous, but it's their inconspicuousness that hides office hazards."

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, made the above statement, today, as he discussed office practices that will reduce employee accidents.

"In offices, as anywhere else, the right way is the safe way — and the smart way," Musick said. "It has been frequently demonstrated that many accidents happen in every office. Fortunately, most of them are minor, but a few have been very serious."

The safety expert said that employee falls and handling materials were the cause for most serious injuries, but that many other office "gremlins" were about, just waiting to be the cause of an accident.

Musick listed the following "baker's dozen" rules that should be followed to help reduce office accidents:

1. Keep all drawers of desks, cabinets and files closed when not in use.
2. To avoid pinched fingers, use only the handles in closing doors or drawers.
3. It is dangerous to open more than one of the top drawers of a filing cabinet at a time. Some files will tip over easily.
4. Never operate a machine until you have been trained to operate it safely and always turn off electrical machines before cleaning or adjusting them.
5. Keep all waste baskets in their proper places.
6. Typewriters, adding machines, small computers and other desk machines should be securely anchored to avoid "creeping."
7. Electric wires and cords are excellent "trip teasers," so keep them out of walking areas.
8. Don't use boxes, chairs, small desks, etc., as a ladder or you will be inviting a dangerous fall.
9. When sitting in a swivel chair, sit firmly in the center and keep your feet on the floor. Leaning "way back" may be your idea of an executive-look, but it is also one of the leading causes of serious falls.
10. Hold railings when using stairs.
11. Use "horse sense" not

"horse play" around an office. Thoughtless practical jokes often turn into serious accidents.

12. Get help when moving boxes, desks or other heavy objects.

13. Report all accidents, however minor, to your superior. "These warnings may seem unnecessary, to many persons," Musick said. "Yet approximately 25,000 American office workers receive disabling injuries, each year, simply because they did not follow common sense safety precautions."

HUMANE SLAUGHTER OF LIVESTOCK

Following considerable pressure from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Congress passed the Humane Slaughter Law in 1958.

The law resulted in about $5 million being spent by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for a research project to find livestock slaughter methods which would comply with the law.

Three methods have been approved. They are: chemical, the use of carbon dioxide gas for sheep and swine; mechanical, the use of captive bolt stunners or gunshot on sheep, swine, goats, calves, cattle, horses, and mules; and electrical, the stunning of swine, sheep, calves and cattle with electric current.

Designated methods require that the carbon dioxide gas or electric current be administered so as to produce surgical anesthesia in the animals quickly and calmly. The captive bolt stunners and firearms must produce immediate and complete unconsciousness with a minimum of excitement and discomfort. In addition, the animals must also be driven to slaughter-preparation areas with little excitement or discomfort. Areas through which the animals are driven must be free from hazards that might accidentally produce pain.

These provisions might raise the eyebrows among old-time slaughtermen — and the law has caused considerable controversy, as well as expense. Nevertheless, the designations were made after advice and consultation with the Humane Slaughter Advisory Committee established in accordance with the law.

Packers offering meat products for sale to federal agencies after July 1st of next year must comply with the law. Ritual requirements with respect to slaughter are deemed by the Humane Slaughter Law to comply with the public policy it expresses and so are exempted from the terms of the Act.

Research is still continuing to update acceptable slaughter methods. As new methods are developed they will be considered and evaluated by the Advisory Committee.

Harvey Lee spent the week end in Fort Worth with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the hold which the late Pop Boone, sports editor of the Fort Worth Press for many years, had on the sports fans of West Texas. That spell went back to the palmy days of the Fort Worth Cats, when Pop was sports editor of the old Record.

By the way, the team was originally known as the Panthers—for the Panther City. Was Pop the first to shorten the name to Cats and to coin the phrase "Atz's Cats"?

I was editing first one and then another paper in the Oil Belt—at Eastland, Ranger and Cisco—and, along with Pop's other followers, read his column avidly. He used to write a lot of amusing things about a pitcher, name of Tiny Goodbred, who worked mainly in relief and in keeping his teammates in a good humor.

Pop called him "the sheriff of Muleshoe" and was always quoting him — like once when he said that Tiny said it was so dangerous in the pitcher's box that he had just about perfected two inventions. One was a spring that, as soon as the ball left the hurler's hand, would cause a shield to shoot up in front of him and the other was also a spring that, soon as the ball was thrown, would open a trap-door and the pitcher would drop into a pit.

First time I ever met Pop was in Abilene in 1924 when Abilene, defending state champions, met (and lost to) the Cisco Lobos. Pop remarked that both teams had the same colors — gold and black, whereupon a smart-aleck young newspaperman said, "Yes — an act of the legislature requires all West Texas teams to have the same colors." Pop didn't get offended; in fact, he quoted my remark in his column.

Cisco that season had a mascot, who weighed about 85 pounds and his number was "100". Right near the end of the game, when the Lobos were way ahead, Coach W. B. Chapman might send the tiny fellow in as quarterback for a down or two.

Cisco was going to meet Oak Cliff in the state semi-finals and the day before the game the mascot chatted with a graying, quiet-spoken chap. Afterward, the coach asked, "Well, Jack, what did you think of Pop?" The lad's eyes widened and he gasped, "Was that Pop Boone?" and nearly keeled over when he realized that the man he'd been talking to with such ease was the famous sports writer. That will give you an idea of how friendly and unassuming Pop was.

Incidentally, the Lobos lost to Oak Cliff and the next day, Pop published a picture of the mascot with a headline that was a classic: "Oak Cliff broke his little heart."

Pop Boone was a man in whom were mingled the qualities of sympathy, humor, sentiment and affection.

Munday P.T.A. Plans For Summer Program

The Munday P. T. A. has outlined a summer program for boys and girls of ages 8 through high school. They plan to offer tumbling and trampoline, softball and tennis for the girls. For the boys they will sponsor tumbling, trampoline, boxing, tennis and weight lifting.

Each sport will be under the sponsorship of an individual or a couple. All of these sponsors have not been appointed but their names will be announced later.

In a survey of our Munday schools there were 142 girls and 84 boys who signed up for trampoline, 124 girls and 52 boys for tennis. There were 51 boys interested in boxing, 76 in weights and 97 girls interested in softball. The P. T. A. has purchased a trampoline on a start toward this program.

The youth committee of the P. T. A. include Mr. and Mrs. Doris Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Beaty, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. Waydelle Hill and Harold Paden. As soon as schedules are made for these sports they will be printed in the Munday Times.

Mother's Day is just around the corner and the P. T. A. is sponsoring a "Cake Bake" in behalf of the Youth Center Activities for the summer. All proceeds will go to help buy equipment for the program. Cakes will be on sale May 8th and 9th at Jean's Specialty Shoppe (formerly Bertha's Babyland). The mothers of the P. T. A. and the mothers of any child who will benefit from this program are asked to contact Mrs. Winters Mathews at the Specialty Shoppe for information regarding the "bake."

Progressive Party Is Sponsored By Munday Study Club

The Munday Study Club expresses their thanks to all who helped make their "Progressive Party" a success and a success it was netting them $185, which will be used toward the City Park project.

Games of bridge were played in the home of Mrs. C. P. Baker and the door prize from her home went to Mrs. Doris Collins. Games of 84 were played in the home of Mrs. G. R. Eiland and the Tasting Party in the home of Mrs. Helen McClure. Door prizes from these homes went to Mrs. Sargent Lowe and Mrs. Hal Weigel. The prizes were two tickets to the movie "Inn of Sixth Happiness."

A total of sixty members and guests attended this gala affair and expressed their hopes for another one in the future.

Some Like It Hot—Some Like It Cold

While ski enthusiasts stem and slalom on icy northern slopes, sun-lovers this winter can enjoy sliding of another sort—on water—in the delightfully warm climate at Cuba's famed Varadero Beach. Here a lively quintet of U.S. visitors to the Cuban resort area send up a spray of water as they race across the open ocean behind a speedy motor boat. No matter if they take a "spill"—a swim in the refreshing surf at Varadero always gives an added "lift" to the pleasure-bent vacationer.

Local Boy Injured In Auto Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patterson visited with their son, Kenneth Patterson, in the Medical Arts Hospital in Brownwood last Thursday and report him much improved and able to be back in school at Howard Payne College this week. Kenneth was injured in an automobile accident on April 11 when the small foreign car he and three other students from Howard Payne were riding in overturned on State Highway 279 1.3 miles north of Brownwood. Kenneth received multiple cuts on the head and knees and bruises and was hospitalized. Karl D. Hutcheson of Hereford was critically injured, suffering a fractured neck. The other two boys, A. T. Illsing, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Illsing, Sr., of Dallas, former residents of Munday, and Al Goodwin of Brownwood received cuts and shock but were reported in good condition.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heavy hearts from the loss of our loved one, Billie Hutchens, were made lighter by the many expressions of sympathy through words, cards, flowers, food and visits. You will never know how much you helped with your watching with us at the hospital also. Our sincere thanks to all and God's blessings on you.

The turkey industry in Texas contributes about $35,000,000 annually to the agricultural income of the state, says George Draper of the Poultry Science Department of Texas A&M College. But, he adds, Texas, in the past decade, has dropped from first to fifth in the nation in turkey production and failure to increase consumption of a food high in protein and low in fat was cited as a cause for the drop. Plans are underway to remedy the situation.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McClellan of Seminole visited the first of this week with his sister, Mrs. C. N. Smith, and with his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. McClellan in Seymour.

IT'S ROUND-UP TIME

Round up those blankets and quilts after the cool spell, anything else that washes. Get down to the Westinghouse Laundromat for there the water is kept regenerated and filtered through chemicals so no hardness is left in it. This means a big saving can be made on soap and soft clothes that do not feel stiff will result. For wool use 1/2 cup of mild soap flakes and wash on "Warm," not hot water. Your blankets will be moist sprayed free.

Westinghouse automatics do not agitate, that is, they do not slap or pound the clothes with force that in time weakens fibers and removes quantities of lint. The finest garments can be trusted to come out unharmed. The old rub board and the Laundromat wash on similar principles for the inside of the Westinghouse tub is built like a circular rub board. It is so quick to fill up with steaming hot water (just 1 1/2 minutes) thanks to the electric booster pump which is another fine feature of all Westinghouse installations. Every minute of the 30 minutes the clothes are washing in a Laundromat—the wash is not delayed as in some types of washers during the time the tub has to be filling up (to avoid injury to clothes) and washing time cut short because of this—but keeps right on washing. And those three wonderful rinses after the wash, not just two, for two will not get the job done as well. A beautiful job even if twisted, a sign that they have tumbled and rubbed good. And peace of mind? Yes indeed. You or anyone else is not required to clean the machines before they are used or afterwards either to keep it safe and rid it of dirty settlements and prevent the shaft from sticking. So sanitary because it is absolutely self-cleaning, safe and built to be a protection to the user in public—regardless of who the person is that uses it. This is the reason: "When it is Westinghouse it is GOOD." — Adv.

Car Costs A Factor At Tax Time

By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

WHETHER we like it or not, the time for filing income tax returns is here again. Car owners should remember that certain auto expenses, as outlined here, are deductible.

BUSINESS USE. People who use their cars exclusively for work may deduct the full cost of upkeep, including gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance and depreciation.

But if a car is used for both work and pleasure, only the percentage of business use may be claimed. The expense of driving a car to and from work is NOT deductible.

PERSONAL USE. If you plan to itemize your deductions on the long form (Form 1040) you may claim:

- License tags and annual car registration fees.
  - State gasoline taxes.
  - State or local taxes on the total purchase price of a car bought during 1958. Federal excise taxes on new cars are NOT deductible.
  - Interest on auto loans. If you are financing your car on the installment plan, you may deduct the interest portion on your contract.
  - Casualty and theft losses not compensated for by insurance. You may claim any loss resulting from an accident not caused by your willful negligence. Car damage from fire, lightning, storms, hail or flood also is deductible.
- But remember, tax or no tax, your biggest saving comes from driving safely.

MAY FIRST HAS SPECIAL MEANING FOR AMERICANS

May Day in America has always been a pleasant day, more or less dedicated to spring. It is the custom of the young in heart to celebrate with outdoor festivities such as dancing around a May pole and crowning a May Queen.

Or — we think, grimly, of another nation, half a world away, defiantly dedicated to the memory of the day when lawlessness became triumphant in their land — a day set aside to worship the rule of might; the glorification of the rule of the jungle.

But beginning last year, May Day took on a new significance in this country. Again this year, by proclamation of President Eisenhower, May 1st is LAW DAY U.S.A. This is a special day dedicated across our nation to observance of the fact that we have a government of law instead of men. It is particularly appropriate that Americans set aside this day each year to demonstrate to the world — and to ourselves — that our belief in individual freedom under law remains strong and unshakable.

Why is it that some men are able to live in freedom while others cringe under a rule of tyranny? We owe our rights and freedoms to our state and national constitutions, our laws, and our courts. In other lands, there are no rights and people are subjected to the edicts and whims of individuals unhampered by legal restraints.

Most of us tend to take it for granted that an individual is free to think for himself and that his rights are protected by law. We know without actually admitting it that our whole way of life is governed by this rule of law.

Law is the intangible force guaranteeing all of us freedom, peace and progress — ideals which have been, and are, dependent upon the adequacy of our legal system and the protection awarded the individual by our courts.

On May 1st, then, this year and every year, with the nation's attention focused on LAW DAY U.S.A., it behooves us to re-dedicate our belief and faith in this rule of law that is the birthright of all Americans.

It is this liberty and equality under law that distinguishes our system of government from communism. Without laws and the courts, these freedoms we take so for granted would be meaningless.

Our respect for law is vital to the continued growth and strengthening of our nation; our thoughtful observance of LAW DAY U.S.A., in a real sense distinguishes America from those who today live under tyranny; it is our answer to communism. LAW DAY U.S.A. is the American way.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Henry A. Holle, M. D., State Health Officer

How often have you asked yourself, after reading a newspaper account of the authorities swooping down on a narcotic den, what would prompt a person to willingly become a slave to the drug habit?

It seems unreasonable that any normal, healthy person would deliberately endanger his life, family and future by allowing himself to become enmeshed in a net from whence there is often no escape.

Yet, many thousands have developed the sleeping pill habit without considering the possibilities of becoming an addict to the drug. A habit of this type is a menace to health as well as the cause of an alarming number of deaths.

Sleeping pills, or "goof balls" as they are commonly referred to by addicts, belong to a group of drugs known as the barbiturates, which when properly used have a high medicinal value. The too frequent or indiscriminate use of the drug may lead to serious illness, mental crackups and death.

As an individual continues to use sleep-inducing medicines without consulting a physician, the dose required to relax and put him to sleep grows larger and larger. It is here that the grave danger lies — the tentacles of addiction have entangled him and he is unaware of the fact.

His tolerance to the drug has been so greatly increased that to be effective, the dose must necessarily be greater than a physician would ordinarily prescribe for a patient.

In severe cases, to overcome the habit of inducing sleep with these pills, the help of a physician is advisable. But in most cases good living habits, moderate exercises and sufficient rest will insure sleep.

Often drinking a glass of warm milk before going to bed and light reading to relax the mind will help produce sleep. Regardless of how the habit is broken, it should be broken before it causes serious damage.

(A weekly public service feature of the Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Beard

Everywhere expressions of regret have been heard over Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' having been forced to resign as Secretary of State. Mr. Dulles' experience and diplomacy go back for fifty-two years during which time he has had close contact and association with the foreign affairs of our country. Before becoming Secretary of State in 1953, he had worked with Cordell Hull, had served as a Delegate to the San Francisco Conference which wrote the United Nations Charter and served for a number of years as a member of the United States Delegation to that Organization. He served with Secretary of State James Byrnes in drafting the World War II peace treaties and as an Assistant to Secretary of State George Marshall. Mr. Dulles will probably be best remembered by the dogged determination which he displayed in his contacts with the Communist Powers. His uncompromising attitude toward the Communists' way of life was always inspiring. This country has lost the services of an able, dedicated, and devoted public servant.

Fidel Castro is the most heavily guarded celebrity to visit the United States in recent years. In view of the security measures that are taken to protect him from harm, it is doubtful that many people in this country will have a chance to see or hear him. Even though his visit is unofficial, he, no doubt, will try to negotiate for loans while here and strengthen the relations between his government and the United States. It seems that Dr. Castro has a long way to go to prove that he is just not another dictator. While many of his speeches have been encouraging, he has yet to demonstrate his devotion to the Democratic principles.

Visitors this week were Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Parker, Mr. Oral Jones, Mr. Fred Parkey, Mr. Jack Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Rhea Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puckett, all of Wichita Falls, Mr. Johnny W. Agee, Jr., and Mrs. John Agee of Bowie.

Quail Harvest In The Panhandle Sets New Record

Reports coming in from the Texas Panhandle now indicate an exceptionally heavy harvest of quail during the season just recently closed, according to the assistant secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist, provided a breakdown of information on several ranches. Warden Weldon Fromm of Mataro reported 29 shooting preserves in his area, covering 30,000 acres, yielded 12,000 bobwhites and scaled quail. According to Jackson, this is an average of a bird harvested for every 2½ acres. A bird per acre is a figure generally accepted as a maximum population attainable.

Warden Charles Boynton of Quanah broadcast an appeal through a local radio station for hunters to leave quail wings at a centrally located grocery store. He received 2200 wings, which he thinks represented perhaps 10 per cent of the county harvest.

A Baylor county rancher who kept a record of bobs and blues told of taking 1030 quail off a two-section rectangle. About two thirds of the birds were bobs. Influx from saturated range resulted in a still higher population by the end of the season.

Hotels, motels and restaurants in the area also did an overflow business during the quail season. One small store in Seymour sold 225 cases of shotgun shells, and another sold 120 cases. This is a town of 4000 population where most of the hunters were non-residents and could be expected to bring their own ammunition.

Summer Pastures Must Be Planned

"The need for summer temporary pastures is greater than usual because winter pastures gave so little grazing and because of the dry spring," says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Trew said summer temporary pastures are our most dependable source of summer grazing. They permit permanent pastures and give better quality grazing than permanent pastures.

For your summer temporary pastures, Trew recommends Sudan grass, Pearl millet, Perennial Sweet Sorgrass or Sorghum alnum.

Sudan gives the best quality grazing of all, Trew said. Pearl millet is suggested for use where Sudan does not produce satisfactorily, mainly on acid, sandy soils of East Texas and severely eroded, heavy soils of Central Texas. It is also recommended for use where Sudan and other sorghums "yellow out." Varieties of Pearl millet are Georgia Hybrid No. 1, Common, Starr and Texas No. 7.

Perennial Sweet Sorgrass has a sweet stalk but is coarser than Sudan. It is an annual and gives more grazing in mid-summer to fall than Sudan.

Sorghum alnum has a larger stalk than Sudan and is nonsweet. It gives more grazing in mid-summer to fall than Sudan but may give trouble from prussic acid. It will likely act as an annual when grazed heavily.

You can plant after danger of frost is past. You should plant in 36 to 42-inch rows to get the longest grazing period. Stock will not trample row planting as badly as drilled plantings, Trew said.

The planting rate per acre for 36 to 42-inch rows is Sudan, 7 to 10 pounds; Pearl millet, 5 to 7 pounds; Perennial Sweet Sorgrass, 4 to 5 pounds; and Sorghum alnum, 3 to 5 pounds. Stagger plantings at two to four week intervals to prevent all being ready to graze at the same time, suggests Trew.

Put fertilizer down in a band as needed before or at the time of planting. A soil test is the best way to determine your soil needs, he says.

SLIDING PANEL DOORS CREATE UNIQUE CLOSETS

A home builder in New Jersey is providing double closets in all bedrooms with two 3-foot-wide panel doors of ponderosa pine hung on sliding hardware. The massive doors, painted to match the decorating scheme of each room, lend richness and dignity to the bedrooms, and carry out the panel door theme used throughout the houses. The doors are the same as the popular panel styles usually hung on hinges throughout the interior of the home.

Cutting Of Costs Needed By Texas Cotton Farmers

"Cotton Producers have made their final decision on their 1959 allotment, either plan A or B," C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist said, "and unless disaster occurs, growers know the exact acreage they are permitted to harvest."

He said proper fertilization, good stands, control of weeds, and effective insect control are some important considerations in getting the highest production at lowest cost from the cotton crop.

Producers should be made to use every practice that will help to reduce unit production costs, as lower costs per bale of cotton marketed will mean greater profit for Choice A and B producers alike.

In some areas the importance of certain practices rank higher than others. Cotton growers should check with their county agricultural agent for local practice recommendations, Bates suggested.

Like other enterprises, cotton deserves the best management that can be given, he said. Extra attention to cost-reduction practices are especially important this year, advised Bates, since price support levels are below those for 1958.

Mrs. Muriel Mitchell visited relatives in Baird over the week end.

Pioneer Village A Glimpse Into Our Past

Fifty years ago, wide-eyed listeners paid a nickel each to huddle around Thomas A. Edison's first "talking machine"—a mechanical octopus which played wax cylinders and had a dozen set of headphones. To its inventor's dismay, it was most popular in saloons.

The development of music in America is pictured panoramically in the "Music Room" at Harold Warp's unique Pioneer Village, at Minden, Nebraska, on U.S. Highways 6 and 34. Fore-runners of today's modern electronic miracles of stereophonic sound, high fidelity and juke boxes are on display at the fascinating showcase of Americana.

Hundreds of other collections, 20,000 items in all arranged chronologically, are housed in 20 buildings. All are restored to original working order at Pioneer Village, where America's pioneer past is preserved for all to see.

Weinert Matrons Present Books To School Library

In keeping with the observance of public library week, Mrs. C. T. Jones, chairman of the library committee, presented some books to the Weinert school library and a check to be used on material for the library.

Every year since its organization in 1923, the Matrons Club has given money and books to the library. Its main project has been to help maintain the high school library.

Last year, the club gave money to pay for research material sent out of Texas University. The material furnished supplementary aid for any class in school that wanted to use it.

Mrs. Bill King is this year's president of the club.

The club has sponsored many worthwhile things for the community, and the school appreciates its continued support of the library.

Survey Ordered On Bald Eagles

What is happening to the American bald eagle? Made famous as the national emblem, and representative of liberty and freedom, it is fast decreasing in numbers.

The National Audubon Society has instigated a study in an attempt to ascertain the present status of the species and the cause of its decline.

All field personnel of the Texas Game and Fish Commission have been asked officially to cooperate in this study. A notice has been sent out by Howard Dodgen, executive secretary, asking wardens, biologists and others, to cooperate in a three-year study.

They will be asked to report on finding nests, young eagles, and even sighting eagles in flight. They are to make confidential reports on the nesting areas, so they will not be molested by the general public.

Mr. Dodgen also suggested sportsmen assist in the project by notifying game department personnel when these bald eagles or their nests are found. At the same time, he warned of the heavy penalty in court for the killing of these eagles.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wonders Just Why Seven Top Space Men In The U.S. All Come From Small Towns

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek discusses education this week. It's a free country, and he seems to be taking advantage of it.

Dear editor:
When it comes to talking about education, I can speak without any conflict of interest, if you understand what I mean, and I was interested in an article I read some time ago about a famous educator who has surveyed the public education system in this country and announced that it was his opinion a high school to be really first class has to have at least 100 members in the Senior class.

Since I didn't go to a high school that big when I was in school, I guess you can say he has a pretty good argument, but something turned up in the newspapers the other day that has got me to thinking.

It's about those seven men the country has picked to be the first to fly off into space. As I understand it, the armed services searched from top to bottom to find the best equipped men, physically, mentally, etc., to make this attempt, and where did the top seven men come from? From small towns most people never heard of before.

Now I know some educator is gonna bust out and say the purpose of public schools isn't to train men to conquer space, but you'd think at least one or two of these superbly equipped men would come from a big city with a big school.

I know it's nicer to have well-equipped schools, and the bigger the school the better chance it has of being well equipped, but I have a notion there are some people in this country it wouldn't make any difference what size school you put them in, they'd miss the boat. And on the other hand, there are some young peo-
