Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

"Gentlemen, this is your community. What are you going to do about it?"

k-k

This was the challenge made to a group of young men by another young man a number of years ago. He was Henry Giessenbier, Jr., who was instrumental in organizing the first Junior Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis, Mo., and he was speaking to the first group of members. That same challenge was made to the Munday Jaycees at the installation banquet last Friday night. The speaker was another young man, Herschel Kelly of Stamford, who is a national Jaycee director.

k-k

And so the Jaycees got off to a "flying start" in Munday with new officers installed, and inspiration given to the group by both Kelly and the installing officer, Rubin Covington of Wichita Falls, vice president of Region 18.

k-k

Local Jaycees are ready to take up the challenge, to render service to the community, to assist other civic organizations and to work with the senior Chamber of Commerce. The organization will furnish training in community leadership, public speaking, personal development, as well as an opportunity to be of service to the community. It is headed by a group of fine young men who are ready to "tighten the traces" and do things for the betterment of the community.

k-k

The Jaycee creed is a good one for all men, young or old — and women, too — and if an earnest effort is made to live up to it, a person should make his mark in the community. It is as follows:

k-k

We Believe:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;

That government should be of laws rather than of men.

That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;

And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

k-k

And so we're for the Jaycees and wish them success in their endeavors to render service to Munday. One project they're already working on is repairing of old toys to be distributed to needy families at Christmas. They urge those having toys that can be repaired, repainted and made useful again to let a Jaycee know about it now. Don't wait until Christmas! The Jaycees have already inaugurated "work nights" on these toys, so they'd like to have them as early as possible.

k-k

We liked one thing in particular that Herschel Kelly said in his talk. "Get on the good side of your newspaperman," he said, "and stay there." We've been throwing that up to the Jaycees ever since!

k-k

Munday merchants are planning to inaugurate and "Appreciation Day," which will be a weekly event beginning in the near future. Better than 40 business firms will be taking part in this event, one way or another, and merchants are hoping that large crowds will be coming into town for this day, on which they will express appreciation for the patronage of people of this area. The setup is not quite complete, and it appears that Appreciation Day will be on Friday.

"Savings Bond purchase plans an important part in the U. S. Treasury's task of wise debt management. Each individual who buys a bond is helping to provide for his country's future security as well as his own. Secretary of Treasury Robert B. Anderson pointed out recently that any person who buys a Savings Bond is putting real meaning in the slogan "Share In America," Mr. Braly said.

Soil Improving Crops Are Urged For Farmers Of Wichita-Brazos District

Moisture conditions in the Wichita Soil Conservation District are ideal for that summer soil improving crop this year. Our soil is much like our bank account. If everything is taken out and nothing replaced, they will both play out.

Guar is one of the more popular summer soil improving crops in our area. Possibly the reason for the popularity is the drought resistancy of guar. Two of the more popular strains are the Texas and the Groehler strain. Texas is a single stalk guar, where the Groehler is a branching type guar. Six to eight pounds of seed per acre should be planted when seed is rows. Row seedings can be done with planters used for combine sorghums. The seed should be covered from one to two inches deep, on land prepared in the same manner as for cotton or for grain sorghum. Guar can still be planted during the months of June and early July. A practice that is becoming more and more popular is to overseed wheat or small grain fields with guar. Reports are that co-operators following this method have been averaging around 4 bushel more grain per acre over a period of year.

Cow peas are another annual legume being grown successfully in the district. This legume can also be seeded in June and early July at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds per acre when planted in rows. When planted in a mixture with grain sorghum 5 to 10 pounds should be seeded.

Some of the advantages to be gained by planting soil improving crops are: the roots will increase water intake and waterholding capacity of the soil, add nitrogen to the soil, can be used as a green manure crop to add organic matter, cover soil for protection from erosion, reduces soil temperature, and in some cases help reduce the effect of root rot. Possibly of prime importance to co-operators in the district is the fact that the soil improving crops can be used as a cash crop. Not only a cash crop when harvested but also a cash crop in the fact that crops following soil improving normally produce in greater abundance too.

When you do plant your summer soil improving crop be sure you inoculate the seed with the proper inoculant. All local seed dealers can supply you with the proper inoculant.

A Range Tour is being planned by the District and the Extension Service. The date is June 26. Further details as to exact time and location will be announced at a later date.

Munday Jaycees Install Officers

The Munday Junior Chamber of Commerce installation banquet was held last Friday evening in the Munday school lunch room with around 75 members and visitors attending.

Invocation was by Rev. Grady Allison, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The program consists of a baritone solo by Joe McMahon, accompanied by Sandy Brown, A. L. (Cotton) Johnson, Lynda Gayle King and Bobbie Nilson sang accompanied by Mrs. Allison.

Guests were introduced by the outgoing president, Buster Carpenter. Towns represented were, Stamford, Wichita Falls and Seymour. The Seymour club did much to help the Munday Jaycees get started in their organization the past year and half.

Installation of officers was by Rubin Covington, vice president of Region 18 of Wichita Falls. Troy McKnight introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Herschel Kelly, national director of Stamford. His theme was the "Jaycee Story." He gave the history of the Jaycees, telling of a young man who saw the need for an organization for young men to be trained for civic leadership.

He concluded with a challenge, that if you will accept, you will make a worthwhile contribution to the advancement and betterment of mankind.

Officers installed were: Gene Kirsinger, president; Troy McKnight, first vice president; Bobby Hutchinson, second vice president; Gene Haynie, secretary; Kenneth Stubblefield, treasurer; Carrel McKnight and Gary Cure, local directors, and Hal Weigel, state director.

The well flowed 45.76 barrels of 36 gravity oil in eight hours for a calculated 24-hour potential of 137.28 barrels. Pay was perforated at 1945-60 feet. Hole was plugged back from 2023 to 1980 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 300-1.

Summer Youth Program Sponsored By P. T. A. Gets Underway Next Monday

The P. T. A. of Munday has been working on a Summer Recreational Program for boys and girls, with the emphasis on girls, which will begin next Monday June 15th.

It has been known for a long time that the European boys and girls are stronger physically than the "TV" nurtured American. President Eisenhower has been rather disturbed about the lack of physical "fitness" in our touch-button society, and is alarmed that nothing is being done about it.

The Munday PTA is seeing to it that our community will have the opportunity, at least, to help remedy this situation. Little League is such an asset for the boys, that it is time that someone thought about the girls also. However, this program is to include boys.

A recent survey was made via interest locator among the boys and girls of our community to find out just what the young folks are interested in doing. According to this interest locator there were 133 girls and 79 boys wanting tumbling and trampolines; 97 girls wanted softball; 107 girls wanted swimming lessons; 124 girls and 52 boys wanted tennis lessons; and 76 boys wanted to work out their muscles at weight-lifting. More than twenty other sports were listed but these were enough to get a humble start on.

As a result of this survey, the PTA has allotted $500 dollars to get the program under way. A trampoline has been purchased. Tumbling mats have been requisitioned. The school board has given the community the permission to use the grammar school gym, and playgrounds. The city has given permission to use the swimming pool to realize this phase of the program. Many of the towns citizens and business firms have pledged their support of the program. The tennis court will be lighted.

The PTA is fortunate in obtaining several professional instructors who will lend their time and offer their talent gratis to the boys and girls. Certainly the community is appreciative of such unselfish effort on their part. Mrs. Barbara Ratliff will supervise the girls Softball League. The managers will be selected by next week to train these girls.

Alvin T. Bromley, Gilliland, Dies; Rites Wednesday

Alvin T. Bromley, 75, well known resident of the Gilliland community, passed away at 1 p.m. Tuesday at his home following an illness of several months.

Bromley of Hillsboro; two sisters, Mrs. J. V. Henry of Covington and Mrs. Sally Snelling of Hillsboro, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Gilliland at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday with the pastor, Rev. Bill Hall, officiating. Burial was in the Gilliland cemetery under direction of McCauley Funeral Home.

Harvesting Of Area's Potato And Onion Crops Begins Here On Monday

Activity and lots of it, started last Monday at both the vegetable processing sheds in Munday, as harvesting of the area's 1959 potato crop got under way.

Processing crews were busy at both sheds, and large freighter trucks were being loaded as fast as the potatoes were graded and sacked. Operations at the sheds extended into the night, as field crews work at digging the spuds early in the morning and late in the evening, laying off during the heat of the day.

Bud Bliss of Bliss Produce, Greely, Colo., said Tuesday that about 300 acres of potatoes would be processed at the co-op, shed, while Colville and Renfro, who operate their own shed, also have around 300 acres to be processed.

First to be processed at the co-op shed were those of Gene Thompson and Lonnie Offutt. Mr. Bliss said early indications were that local growers would reap from 150 to 200 sacks per acre this year, and will enjoy a good market if present prices remain in effect throughout the harvest. The market, Mr. Bliss said, is around $5 to $5.50 per sack.

Due to favorable growing conditions in this area, the potatoes grown locally are harvested earlier than in other sections.

Harvesting of onions was also started this week. Mr. Bliss stated the yield this year is not too good, and the market not too good. Around 65 acres of onions will be harvested and processed at the co-op shed. Crews were topping the onions last week in preparation for digging crews that started the harvest Monday.

CHAINS OF MISCONCEPTION

More than three hundred people from all walks of life recently applied a scientific yardstick to the knotty problems of health care for the aged at a Salt Lake City conference. Their conclusion was that private enterprise can handle the job.

A spokesman for the health insurance industry told of progress that has been made in this field — 6 million people over 65 are now covered under voluntary programs, and coverage is expected to increase significantly during the next few years.

Dr. Louis M. Orr, president-elect of the American Medical Association, presented a program designed to "break the chains of misconception" about the nation's aging population. He pointed out that a person at 65 has before him years of creative and active life, provided he is given the opportunity; that the vast majority of our 15 million old people enjoy reasonably good health and are not all in dire need of medical care; that the needs of these senior citizens are far more numerous than just health needs, in that they include occupational, economic, social and psychological factors; that the physicians of the country have taken an active interest in the needs of the aged, and are concerned with helping to provide low-cost health insurance for those who need it, that medicine's program will meet the health needs of the aged while preserving the dignity and freedom of the individual, and that "our effectiveness in meeting the challenges of new world of aging will depend ultimately on our understanding of its magnitude."

Dr. Orr added: "Any government plan would be compulsory, financially back-breaking, subject to political whims and political pressure, and hopelessly snarled in red tape." This is what we must avoid — and what we can avoid if private enterprise, in all the many areas concerned, is permitted and encouraged to do the necessary job.

CLOVIS, NEW MEXICO, CURRY COUNTY TIMES: "When you buy insurance, a home, stocks or bonds, or when you put money in a savings account, you become an investor — a capitalist. The money you save and invest supplies the capital on which industry thrives — builds new plants and products and services — creates employment for the million young Americans who need new job opportunities every year."

USE ALL THE TOOLS

Suppose you hired a carpenter and then learned that government policy would let him use only his saw — no hammer, screw driver, or other tools. That is analogous to the situation in the transportation industry.

Restrictions imposed by the the Federal government generally ban the railroads and other carriers from using the whole range of transportation tools — planes, trucks and barges. They thus prevent the carriers from offering a fully co-ordinated service of maximum public usefulness at minimum cost. It is true that the railroads own some trucks, but their use is usually limited to movements that supplement or are connected with providing rail service.

Airplanes, trucks, barges, and trains are in reality only tools of the transportation trade. Each has its own special advantages; each has limitations of one kind or another. So, if the public is to get top service at minimum cost, the transportation business must be free to diversify in the same way as other businesses and to use all the tools.

In the case of the railroads, the restrictions also add up to severe injustice. The heavy taxes they pay help build highways, airways and airports, and improved waterways used by their competitors. But they are denied the right to make use of these tax-built facilities themselves.

In sum, the country needs "One Package Transportation." The obsolete and destructive restrictions which stand in the way should be repealed.

WALTERBORO, SOUTH CAROLINA, PRESS AND STANDARD: "Recently, an unknown group of scoundrels broke into an Alabama jail and removed a Negro who was charged with rape. The body was found in the Mississippi River . . ."

"Such actions by unthinking ignorant people, do more to agitate the present race question than any other thing, and add grist to the mills of the integrators, as well as nauseate the American people who are ingrained with a wholesome respect for laws, enforced by proper authority."

The nation's railroads have been presented with an "Appreciation Plaque" by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America for the role they have played in the promotion of safety among youths.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH: RECOGNITION OF A VITAL INDUSTRY

This is dairy month, the time of year when we pay tribute to what is perhaps our most vital farm industry because of its essential health-giving products. As the saying goes, milk is nature's most nearly perfect food. To help us to remember that it is dairy month and to make us more conscious of our constant need of milk, here are some interesting facts about milk and milk products:

There are more than 200 nutrients in milk. Considering its cost per pound, milk offers more food for the money than any other food material available.

There is enough energy provided by one glass of milk to: play 9 holes of golf, clean house for 2 hours, walk one mile, sew for two hours or climb 136 stairs.

The record high of almost 60 billion quarts of milk produced in 1957 was enough to fill a river more than 3,000 miles long, 40 feet wide and 3 feet deep. The river would stretch from Boston on the east to San Francisco on the west coast. Square quart milk bottles filled with this amount of milk and placed side by side would form a band around the world 140 times, and these same bottles, stacked one on top of the other, would reach to the moon thirty times.

The fastest-growing milk product, sales-wise, in the U. S., is cottage cheese. Consumption of the popular low-calorie, high-value food increased by 80 per cent from 2.9 lbs. per capita in

CHEVY BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by N.A.S.C.A.R., Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line.

BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Make sure you get the most for your money—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!

Check All These Before Leaving On Your Vacation

So you're going on vacation!
Just load up the trunk, herd
the family into the car and away we go — but hold on a second.
It's not quite that simple.

Lots of things to be done before you start.

Such as:

1. Stop milk and newspaper deliveries. Ask a neighbor to keep advertising circulars off your porch.

2. Don't lower window shades—this is a tipoff for burglars. And make sure someone mows your lawn while you're gone — several inches of grass is a sure sign you're away from home, too.

3. Tell the post office to hold your mail, or arrange delivery to a neighbor.

4. Lock windows and doors.
Don't forget basement windows and the coal chute.

See You In CHURCH Sunday

Hound Chase Can Result In Loss Of Fawn

Now is the time to keep dogs penned or at least prevent them from chasing deer, according to the director of wildlife restoration, Game and Fish Commission.
Right now all over Texas does are preparing to drop their fawns.
Possibly some fawns already are trotting along with their mothers. In either case, the does are in no condition to have foot races with energetic dogs.

Possibly each year many fawns are lost because of pregnant does being chased by dogs. Several reports already have been made of occasions where dogs were seen running does. Most of these dogs have not been trained to chase any one species of animal.

"When a doe is heavy with young," the director said. "She is slow on her feet. Fast dogs would have very little trouble catching many of them. When they do catch a doe, they kill her, destroying both her and her young."

These dogs usually do not eat the deer once they are caught. It is just a hunt for sport and the carcass is left for the free-loading predators and buzzards.

Mrs. Joe Bill Pierce and children of Midland spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. P. V.
Williams.

Local Family To Win $50.00 In Groceries

Jerry Kane, local Gulfane distributor, said today that only two more days remain for people in the Munday area to enter the unique GULFTANE "SHOW-DOWN TEST" contest. Mr. Kane emphasized that a local family would win the $50.00 grocery prize, and that the contest itself was very easy to enter. According to Mr. Kane, the object of the GULFTANE "SHOW-DOWN TEST" is to see how much more hot water a standard LP-GAS water heater will deliver than a standard electric water heater will deliver, over a 30-day period. Although an independent testing laboratory is conducting the tests, engineering calculations have already determined that the LP-GAS heater will produce between 11,000 and 15,000 more gallons of hot water than the electric heater. Or, as Mr. Kane put it, "To enter the GULFTANE 'SHOW-DOWN TEST' contest, all you have to do is put down a single number . . . and the winning number — which will be the entry closest to the actual figure — has got to be somewhere between 11 and 15 thousand!" An official of the GULFTANE company emphasized that this is the first time the two major kinds of home water heaters have ever been operated side-by-side in an impartially-conducted test of this type. With a prize of $50.00 in groceries at stake, nothing to buy, and only one figure to put down, many of this area residents are hurrying to get their entry blanks. Interested readers should remember that the contest closes this Friday, and should contact Mr. Kane as soon as possible if they wish to enter the GULFTANE "SHOW-DOWN TEST" contest.

Engineers Design Safety Into Roads

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

"Drivers who skillfully and intelligently use roads as planned by traffic engineers have better assurance of safe travel and contribute their share to the comfort and convenience of fellow road users," according to Fred W. Hurd, director of the Bureau of Highway Traffic at Yale University.

"As a result of scientific studies of road accidents and congestion made by traffic engineers, we can devise better methods of road design and traffic control," he says.

"But, the human factor still is one of the highway engineers' greatest problems.

"For example, acceleration and deceleration lanes are provided at many intersections to smooth the flow of traffic. Yet some drivers use these supplemental lanes improperly or not at all.

"We use precise calculations to time traffic signals based on traffic volumes and the average time required for a vehicle to pass through the intersection. But drivers who fail to start up promptly when the light turns green contribute to a 'back-up' of traffic which may extend over the entire period of peak traffic flow."

Traffic signals timed in a "progressive" manner also are misused, according to Hurd. "Impatient drivers who exceed the posted speed cause increased hazard and delay for all traffic, and gain little or nothing in travel time.

"Lane straddling, improper parking and many other thoughtless acts by motorists and pedestrians also help destroy the effectiveness of safety and efficiency designed into the road by the engineer," claims Hurd.

Guess What They're Talking About

James F. Stiles, Jr., National Director of the Treasury's United States Savings Bonds Division, is shown here (at left) discussing his favorite subject with President Eisenhower, who holds a handful of Savings Bonds. The occasion was a recent conference in Washington at which the President addressed more than 300 of the nation's leading industrialists. He told the group of business leaders that without the Savings Bond Program, the Treasury's job of managing the national debt "would be much more difficult—I would say well nigh impossible." Mr. Eisenhower said the readiness of the American people to invest their savings in U. S. bonds "bespeaks morale and faith in America."

News From The U. S. Congress

By Congressman Frank Beard

The shift in population in this country is one of the things that most directly affects the National economy. It is well known that there is a strong present trend toward the more metropolitan areas. This week we required figures from the Library of Congress that project this trend in the Thirteenth Congressional District. Since next year is the year the census will be taken, these figures may be disproved when the actual count is made. They show the County-by-County population in our District to be as follows: Archer County population in 1950 was 4,816. The estimate of January 1, 1959 population is 6,100; 1950 Baylor County 6,875 and January of this year estimate is 9,900. Clay County in 1950 was 22,146 and January 1959 estimate is 24,100. The City of Gainesville in 1950 was 9,896. The January 1959 estimate is 7,500. Cooke County 1950 was 22,146 and January 1959 is 24,100. The City of Gainesville in 1950 was 11,245. This year's estimate is 14,300. Denton County 1950 census was 41,365. Estimates of this year are 46,100. The City of Denton 1950 was 21,372. January estimate is 30,000. Foard County was 4,216 in 1950. It is estimated to be 3,200 in January of this year. Figures on Hardeman County were not available. Haskell County in 1950 was 13,736; January estimates

Throckmorton County had 3,618 in 1950 and 3,000 in January 1959. Wichita County in 1950 had a population of 98,493, and for the January 1959 estimate of 132,500. The City of Wichita Falls had grown from 68,042 in 1950 to 97,300 according to the January estimates. Wilbarger County in 1950 had 20,552; in January of 1959 estimates 18,500. In 1950 Wise County 16,141; the 1959 estimates 13,800. Young County 16,810 in the 1950 census and in the January estimates 14,300.

Besides the economic effect of this shift in population to the urban areas, it carries with it also many social and political problems. Historically, the rural population of this country has been the political balance wheel, and its influence has been a most healthy one. Long range, it would be most unfortunate if this very evident population trend continues to develop.

Bill Rogers And Miss Sandra Hyde Marry In Wichita Falls On Saturday

Planning to establish residence at 1521 Malcolm are Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Dorsey Rogers Jr., who exchanged vows Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the First Christian Church in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Rogers is the former Miss Sandra Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hyde, 1696 Dayton. The groom is the son of Mrs. Dorsey Rogers, 1653 Victory, and the late Mr. Rogers.

Dr. George R. Davis, pastor, was officiant for the 1:30 o'clock nuptials before an altar decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli and pink peonies. Silver candelabra, holding white tapers, completed the setting.

Brent Stratton, organist, accompanied Mrs. Shirley Kerbow, soloist, as they provided the traditional wedding selections.

Mr. Hyde presented his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length dress of white tulle with hand painted appliques. The princess-style dress was designed with princess lines, a rounded neckline and short sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls. She completed her attire with a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Jeannie Hyde of Norman, Okla., served as maid of honor. She wore a desert sand colored shirtwaist dress of embroidered silk organza with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of green symboliam orchids.

O. Henry worked in the General Land Office of the State of Texas from Jan. 12, 1887 to Jan. 21, 1891. He was an assistant compiling draftsman and his salary was $100 a month. These four years have been called the happiest of his life.

He wrote bits of humor for newspapers and magazines. "The Final Triumph" and "A Slight Inaccuracy" he said to "Truth" (New York) for a total of $6. An associate (Don W. Hollis, in the Austin American Statesman) in 1925 recalled Will Porter as "a quiet young chap."

A more detailed description pictures him as being five feet, six inches in height, weighing about 130 pounds, with coal black hair, gray eyes and a long, carefully twisted mustache, his voice soft and musical — an inveterate story-teller but never relating a vulgar joke. His narratives often were in the first person and listeners wondered if they were true or invented. He said, "Never question the validity of a joke."

He carried visitors in the Land Office and embellished maps with sketches, sometimes humorous. Some of these maps (Webb, Kent and Tyler counties, for example) are still to be seen in the Land Office and, in the old Land Office building, now a museum, there is a desk which he used. On the desk is a large ink splotch; one likes to think that the light-hearted young draftsman was responsible.

O. Henry (although of course he was not yet known by that name) went hunting and fishing but showed little interest in shooting or in catching fish, enjoying rather the talk about the campfire.

His closest friend in the Land Office was Herman Pressler, who signed his note for $250 when O. Henry bought the press of "the Iconoclast" from W. C. Brann in Austin and established a humorous weekly, "Rolling Stone."

He sang in the chorus of St. David's Episcopal Church and also in the First Baptist choir. Miss Athol Estes was a member of the Southern Presbyterian choir and young Porter sang there also. At a ceremony, Miss Estes placed, in the cornerstone of the capitol, objects representing her high school class and Porter was present as a member of the Austin Grays.

On July 1, 1887, he and Miss Estes were married. His rival had been an enterprising young business man and it has been said that he was the figure on whom O. Henry based a character in "Cabbages and Kings" — the "go getter" who chartered a steamer and took a cargo of cockleburrs to a Central American country.

But this of course was much later.

O. Henry took the part of an able seaman in "Pinafore" and his wife was in the front line of the chorus in the old Millet Opera House on East Ninth. He would sometimes sit in the lobby of the Hotel as he waited for his wife to complete a singing rehearsal.

Their first-born, a boy, died. A daughter, Margaret, was born, Sept. 30, 1889.

He drew on his service in the Land Office when he began to write stories. "Buried Treasure" was based on an experience of Land Office clerks including O. Henry, in treasure-hunting in Pease Park. "Bexar Script No. 2692" is another story which had its origin in the recollections of "Leaves" is indirectly derived from that source. And "Georgia's Ruling," we are told, was so frankly biographical of Land Commissioner Richard M. Hall that the author forbade its publication in book form and it was not until after his death that it so appeared.

IT'S THE LAW
★ in Texas ★
A public service Bureau of the State Bar of Texas

YOUR CHILD AND THE DOCTOR

It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent.

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid — but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request treatment and grant consent to medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show your willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to a hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Texas. The reason: the wide range of climate and soil conditions which produce an assortment of offending flora — trees and shrubs and grasses.

This might be some consolation, though: the state is running generally behind schedule in the rain department. And during dry weather pollen production goes into a slump.

Ragweed pollen is still the biggest enemy of the watery-eyed set, but mountain cedar, scrub elm, and a variety of other plants and grasses also cause their share of sneezing misery.

From mid-winter until early spring, people from Dallas southward are affected by the pollen of cedar, a profusely growing tree with a bad habit of pollinating like it was going to be banned tomorrow.

Fall hay fever suffers probably have the scrub elm to blame for their troubles. A late-summer pollinator, the elm is common over most of the state, but it is particularly profuse in the bottomlands of the Guadalupe and Trinity Rivers. The mesquite causes minor allergenic trouble in West Texas during May, June and July. Cottonwoods and poplars are pesky sources of red eyes and congested noses wherever they are found.

Grass hay fever is possible through spring summer and fall over most of Texas, and in the winter in the Rio Grande Valley. Bermuda grass is the chief offender. Rhodes grass is a potential hay fever factor in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ragweed pollen is now almost as abundant at Dallas and Houston as in the north central states. It is a serious summer and fall problem as far west as San Antonio and all along the Gulf Coast to Brownsville. In arid parts of Central and West Texas, Russian thistle is a leading cause of inhalent allergies. Other local causes are sugar beets and Palmer's amaranth. Sage pollen is a potential factor in West Texas. Sand sagebrush, a dominant native plant in the Panhandle, is suspect as a trouble maker.

How to get relief from hay fever? A sea voyage during "your" season would do it. So would staying in an air-filtered room. But since neither action is practical you'll just have to sneeze and wipe unless you check with your doctor about the best method of treatment in your own particular case. ## Levetta Carroll Claburn And Doyle A. Blair of Odessa Marry On Sunday

The Gillespie Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Levetta Carroll Claburn, Munday, and Doyle Aaron Blair Jr. of Odessa, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Claburn, Munday, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Blair Sr. of Odessa.

Harold Paden, minister of the Munday Church of Christ, officiated. Miss Leona Faye Bartos, of Gilliland accompanied Mrs. Kenneth Myers, cousin of the bride of Knox City, as soloist.

The ceremony was performed before an archway entwined with fern and white gladioli flanked by baskets of white gladioli backed with palm trees.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and hand-clipped Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline outlined with Chantilly lace and had short sleeves. The bouffant skirt of nylon tulle was worn over a skirt of nylon ruffles and the overskirt was outlined in lace to give a side panel effect. Her fingertip veil of gossamer nylon was caught to a cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Nancy Ruth Harber, cousin of the bride from Dallas, was maid of honor, wearing a waltz-length dress of pale pink nylon over taffeta designed with a white collar embroidered in pink roses and a full skirted skirt. She wore a pink headband with short circle veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

M. M. Boone, uncle of the groom, Munday, served as best man. Ushers were Howard Myers, cousin of bride, Munday, and Don Wallace, Munday.

Rev. Marion Burgess, pastor of the Gillespie Baptist Church, gave a prayer after the vows were exchanged.

Mrs. Blair is a 1958 graduate of Munday High School, serving on the annual staff four years and was editor her senior year. She was graduated from Draughon's Business College in Wichita Falls in 1958 and has been employed by the Knox County Hospital since January.

The groom is a graduate of Munday High School, attended Odessa Junior College and is now employed by a construction company in Odessa where the couple will make their home.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception in the Fellowship Hall. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth over blue, centered with large baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Lee Bowden presided at the guest book. Miss Leona Bartos and Mrs. Kenneth Myers served. Mrs. T. J. Partridge greeted the guests. Other assistants were Mesdames M. M. Boone, Roe Myers, Howard Myers, A. J. Gilbert and Grady Phillips.

According to Campbell's commendation the news editors and others have saved millions for our Texas taxpayers by emphasizing the benefits due the taxpayer.

Taxpayers who read their tax instructions (as advised by your paper) prepare a correct tax return paying the tax they owe as well as taking all their deductions. Taxes are necessary but it is awfully important that we each only pay our fair share.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Works Out Some Very Unusual Notions On Monkeys' Flight Out Into Space

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek adds his two-bits worth to the monkeys' flight into space. This is known as inflation.

Dear editor:
As a student of space, by which I mean I guess I've stared off into it as much as anybody, I have been very interested in reading about those two monkeys that were sent 300 miles out into space and successfully brought down.

That is, what has interested me most is what a lot of people have imagined the monkeys' reactions were to the flight, and while a lot of words were written about the "press conference" the two animals held in Washington, nobody seems to have hit on what the monkeys' reaction probably was.

I can tell you. It was, and I will add it's also what the first space men will say too if they ever get out there and back: WERE SURE GLAD TO GET BACK HOME AGAIN.

I still say travel into space may be sort of like some men going off to war. At the time, it seemed like an exciting thing to do, they were sort of bored with life at home anyway, but after they'd been there a little while, home sounded like the most exciting place in the universe.

And as for the death of one of the space monkeys after it got back, I can explain that. Before it was sent up, it was put to sleep with an anesthetic so a small recording instrument could be placed under its skin, then when it got back, you know, it was given another anesthetic so the instrument could be removed. Now here's the thing. Monkeys may not be as smart as people, although I'm not prepared to say this as I don't know as many monkeys as I do people, dumb and he thought, just as they started to give him that second anesthetic: the first time they did this to me, shortly afterwards. I was put into a capsule and blasted 300 miles into space at 10,000 miles an hour. The thought the second time around was too much for him and he died of shock.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Control Of Weeds And Grass In Cotton Cuts Down On Costly Hoeing Operations

Favorable moisture for cotton production also calls for a close look at good mechanical and chemical weed and grass control practices to reduce or eliminate costly hand hoeing. Of the numerous weed control choices available, three are outstanding, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

These include the rotary hoe, lateral oiling of grass and weeds in young cotton and spot spraying with oils and fortified oils or spot spraying of grass with sodium dalapon in water.

The rotary hoe has been and still is the key weed control practice. In 1958, 44,496 rotary hoe equipped tractors were operated in 157 counties, resulting in a saving of over $13 million. The pull-behind or broadcast types proved very popular and easy to operate at the required high speeds. Rotary hoeing alone, not in combination with sweep cultivation, permits fast coverage and getting into fields quicker after repeated rains, Elliott said.

If continued rains prevent getting into the field with the rotary hoe and cause heavy growth of annual grasses and weeds, lateral oiling or spot spraying with unfortified naphtha is an excellent way to get out of the grass or about $1.00 to $1.50 for the five gallons of oil needed per acre. This practice was carried out in 47 counties in 1958.

The naphtha is applied with parallel action oiling shoes at 15 to 25 pounds pressure, with 2 fan-type, horizontal nozzles, staggered and placed 10 inches apart—one nozzle on each side of the row. Direct the spray pattern at the lower 1 to 1 and 1/2 inches of the cotton stem, below the leaves, advises Elliott. Natural wax on young cotton stalks shed the naphtha without injury to the cotton until bark roughens and cracks. Annual grasses up to 3 to 5 inches tall can be controlled, he said.

Spot-spraying established Johnsongrass is faster, easier and cheaper than hand hoeing and Johnsongrass can be eradicated in one year. Use the jet-gun sprayer. Apply the oils in small amounts to the stem of the grass at the ground line. Kerosene fortified with C-56, 1/4 gallon to 100 gallons oil, does an excellent job.

Elliott said. Sodium dalapon in water is a systemic foliage spray and the leaves of the grass must be wet. Again the jet-gun sprayer is ideal equipment for the job. The specialist suggests that you ask your county agent for Bulletin 902, "Spot Spraying Johnsongrass," and for other information on how to fight weeds and grass with machines and chemicals.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Den Boyles were her sisters, Mrs. Gene Moss of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Sid Clarkson and daughter Martha, of Duncan, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richmond and children of Pecos are spending their vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Haynie, Sr. and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. A. M. Moore, Jr., Ariada, Bobby and Ray, took Miss Linda Moore, who has been visiting here, to her home in Pampa last Sunday and visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fincannon and son of Hamlin visited his mother and sister, Mrs. Bertha Fincannon and Mildred, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Harrison of Stephenville visited friends here last Monday and Tuesday.

Among 10 herbicides evaluated for pre-emergence weed control in onions, CDEC gave the best results and neither damaged the crop nor reduced yield, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Satisfactory control of pigweed and watergrass without damage to the crop was obtained by using 3 pounds of CDEC in 40 gallons of water per acre.

What we love determines what we are. — Mary Baker Eddy

The use of infra-red heat for drying crops is much faster and cheaper than methods now in use.

Automatic Pilot Has Been Developed For Farm Tractors

Farmers who want to make their work easier should be interested in an automatic pilot that has been developed for farm tractors, said W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

This new device is expected to increase the effectiveness of cultivation as a means of weed control, he stated. The steering control system enables operators to guide tractors more accurately, thereby making possible finer adjustment of cultivation machinery for control of weeds without damage to the crops.

The automatic pilot was designed and laboratory tested by a U.S.D.A. engineer, and is now being field tested. The main problem overcome in developing this device involved finding a way to use fairly simple equipment low enough in cost to be a profitable investment for farmers seeking to do a better job of cultivation, said Ulich.

The automatic control is intended for use in conjunction with power steering hookups which are featured on many modern tractors. Lightweight feelers, capable of sensing the position of the crop row in relation to the tractor front tires, are used in the automatic pilot to close switches when the tractor moves too close or too far from the row.

The microswitches, in turn, open valves that permit hydraulic pressure to turn the front wheels into alignment with the row. A linkage system between the front wheels and the switches automatically straightens the front wheels as soon as the tractor returns to the correct position, he added.

Mrs. T. H. Armstrong, Sue and Debbie, are in Brownfield this week to be with her daughter, Mrs. Dorris Tuggle, and family who is ill.

Miss Carol Broer of Houston is spending the summer with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Mullican.
