

for ANY BABY

WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but a remedy can always be the same old Castoria! There's comfort every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as your baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, cries and can't sleep, let Castoria take and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that could always be checked without any. Just keep Castoria handy, and it will promptly follow its course. If it doesn't, you could call a physician.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Synods of the two larger groups of Presbyterians held their annual sessions in Fort Worth last week. They were well attended by representatives from all parts of this great State. The meetings were of great inspiration to all. The two groups came together in joint sessions for several inspirational programs. The most outstanding feature was sermons by two brothers who represented the two groups: Dr. James I. Vance of the Presbyterian Church U. S., and Dr. Joseph A. Vance of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

On Oct. 13 there will be a meeting of Presbytery, a lower court of the church, at Ellisville, Texas, in which the local people will be more interested than in Synod for it deals more directly with the local church.

There is an earnest appeal for all members of our congregation to be present at the morning services Sunday. Some of the Sunday school classes will reorganize and make general plans for more effective work. It makes us all feel good when there is good attendance, so make a special effort to come. Visitors always receive a most cordial welcome. Come.
C. A. TUCKER, Pastor.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

Why don't somebody say something? If you don't like the way things are going in this class why don't you say so? Are you satisfied with the class, with yourself and with God? If not why place your shoulder to the wheel and let's all work together and see if the Lord does not bless us more than we really deserve.

Men you are missing a real treat, and blessing every Sunday morning by not being in this class for the lesson. You are more than welcome to come to this class and study the word of God with us. Ask any question you wish about the lesson, we are studying and in this way we learn more about the Bible.

We are still looking for a visit from you, so don't feel us Sunday. Come.
—Reporter.

BAPTISTS LET'S GO!

Baptists watch this paper for announcements, you may miss a great blessing if you don't.

Sunday brought us a most needed message on Job—How we need more people today like that great character, true to God no matter what happens.

The week of prayer in our Women's Work has been truly helpful and inspirational. Let us never forget to pray and especially during such times as we are now passing.

The B. Y. P. U.'s were exceptionally well attended and so many read their Bible. Have you read yours daily this week?

We need more women in Sunday School—the men are way ahead. Plan your dinner Saturday and be on hand Sunday a. m.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach serves as over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

SECOND TERM FOR STERLING

Peter Molyneux in his Texas weekly discredits the many rumors that have been going the rounds of the press to the effect that Governor Sterling will not seek a second term. Indeed Mr. Molyneux denies the further rumor that Jesse Jones, publisher of the Houston Chronicle, has broken with Sterling, and goes on to say that the rumors as being far from the facts. In fact Mr. Molyneux goes on to praise the administration of Governor Sterling and predicts that he will defeat any opponent that might run against him by a majority of better than two to one.

of its career. The speech was delivered at Warrensburg, Johnson county, Missouri, in March 1870. Charles Burden and Leonidas Hornsby were farm neighbors with a little abolitionist feud running between them. Burden owned Old Drum, one of the best bred and smartest hound dogs in the state. Hornsby owned sheep—and he found some of them killed by prowling dogs. He put the blame on Old Drum and his neighbor and one day Old Drum was found riddled with bullets in the creek. "The never answered the horn again." Burden brought suit before a justice court at Warrensburg against Hornsby and got a verdict, but Hornsby appealed the case to the Circuit court at Warrensburg. When the case came to trial the town was like a fair day—all Johnson and Cass counties turned out. Burden retained the firm of Phillips and Vest and Hornsby secured the services of T. T. Crittenden and Francis M. Coker. In that group of lawyers were two future United States senators, one future governor of Missouri and one federal judge. George G. Vest made the closing argument for his client, Burden, and it literally swept the jury off its feet. The speech was printed in full in the Warrensburg papers the following day and started upon its rounds. It became a Missouri classic. All the leading newspapers reproduced it and schoolboys recited it in the little red schoolhouses, and it is probably today the best-remembered speech of a man who for 24 years enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most eloquent men in the United States senate. Missouri had many hound dog cases in the courts in those far-off days and it became a common saying that every lawyer who afterwards put up a plea for an erring dog would begin with Vest's "The best friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy."

Purina Mills Make Reduction of Salary All Its Employees

Beginning September 1, officers and employees of Purina Mills, makers of commercial feeds, received salary cuts up to 15%, according to an announcement by the company's executives. This is one of the first of the companies doing business with the farmer to share with him the effects of the present business depression. The announcement of the cut in salaries was preceded by a cut in price of the company's products. "We feel in making this salary cut and in cutting the price of our feeds that we are passing on to the feeder every extra dollar and every extra value that it is possible for us to give," says E. J. Cherronier, secretary of the Purina Mills. "We know that we are in a business that depends primarily on the prosperity of the American farmer and for that reason feel that we can most help to bring back good times by giving the farmer greater values today than ever before. In cutting the price of our feed and in cutting the salary of thousands of employes, we have not taken away one bit of the quality that is in our products. Like the farmer, we know that we must at this time take less for our products and less for our labors. Every member of the Purina Mills field force has been urged to give diligently of his time and efforts to every livestock feeder to help him to reduce his production costs and to increase his margin of profit through better methods of care and feeding. Herein fail not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Newspaper Classic Is Reprinted More and With it a Bit of Explanatory Comment

A recent issue of The Publishers' Auxiliary contained a little story as to who was responsible for preserving Senator Vest's famous tribute to the dog. Prof. William Lyman Phelps, well known writer and critic who conducts a column in the New York Evening Post, recently published a version of how the classic was preserved, which is being challenged by numerous journalists of Missouri. Prof. Phelps' version as to how the classic was preserved was that St. Wells H. Blodgett of St. Louis, a famous lawyer of the time, was in the courthouse at Warrensburg, Missouri when the classic was delivered by Mr. Vest, who was an attorney in a case involving the killing of a dog and he quoted the famous classic to Walter Wellman, a famous Washington correspondent, who later published it for the first time in the Chicago Times-Herald. In reprinting Prof. Phelps' version as to how the classic was preserved, the Kansas City Star recently added the following: In the interest of Missouri history and tradition the foregoing bit of learned research into Missouri dog lore seems to call for an explanatory footnote. We are willing to admit that Professor Phelps may just have come into knowledge of Vest's famous speech and also that Chicago may have preserved it, through the ministrations of our former genial townsmen, Mr. Henry Wollman, some thirty or thirty-five years ago, from eastern oblivion, no doubt, those gentlemen may have rescued the senatorial eulogy. But Missourians who are endeared both to memories of Senator Vest and to traditions of their hound dogs will resent the implication that they ever overlooked this tribute to man's best friend at any stage

..Locals..

Remaines W. S. Bailey, W. H. May and F. N. Warren and daughter, Wynne, were in Wichita Falls Tuesday visiting relatives and friends, and while there Mrs. Warren attended the meeting of the 12th District Parent-Teacher association.

A. N. Morrow, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis and was carried to the Knox County Hospital at Knox City, has recovered sufficiently to be brought home, where he is gradually improving.

A. V. Branch came in Saturday and entered his address changed to Green, route 2. This route has recently been extended to cover several miles in that vicinity, and a number of families in that country who have been getting their mail from the Munday office will be served by the extended route.

Mrs. W. S. Dickson, who some two weeks ago underwent an operation in the Knox County Hospital at Knox City, has recovered sufficiently to be brought home, having made the trip in the R. G. Campbell ambulance on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baggett, who have been operating the Munday Hotel for several months, left last week for Denton, Texas, where they will operate the coffee shop in the Greatness Hotel. They are succeeded in the Munday Hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, who have operated the hotel before.

Editor and Mrs. C. G. Berts, of Chillicothe, stopped over here for a few hours last Friday afternoon to witness the Monday-Afternoon City football game. They were enroute to Haskell to spend the weekend with relatives. Mr. Roberts is editor and publisher of the Chillicothe Valley News, one of the very few West Texas newspapers that seems to have entirely ignored the depression and gone right along publishing an eight-page newspaper.

Mrs. C. A. Elliott and children have gone to Lubbock, where they will remain through the school term, and where Helen Frances will be a student at Texas Tech, and the other children will attend the public schools. Omelia Blanton and Vera also will stay with Mrs. Elliott and attend Texas Tech.

D. T. Mauldin attended the meeting of the Texas League of Municipalities at Fort Worth last week in which a large number of West Texas towns sent representatives to discuss the gas rate situation. More than three hundred towns were represented in the meeting and united action will be taken by practically all of the towns represented to get a reduction in gas rates. Mr. Mauldin was accompanied by Mrs. Mauldin and the children and they visited with relatives in Fort Worth.

Max Bentley, managing editor, and George McDaniel, circulation manager of the Abilene Reporter News were here Tuesday. The Reporter News is planning an edition calculated to create confidence in the future and dealing with conditions in West Texas, and they are gathering material for this issue.

Mrs. M. A. Harp left on Monday for Dumas, Texas, where she will remain for an indefinite period.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS
What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits those delicate organisms. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients. When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish, and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative for a million women!

with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Thornton, and will later visit with another daughter at Grand Prairie, Texas. She will keep informed about happenings here at home through the columns of The Munday Times.

Mrs. J. D. McStay is in Benjamin at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. A. H. Sams, who has been quite ill for several days.

PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHERS

to work better equipped for teaching.

And may I say that every teacher should be a consistent reader of the magazines and periodicals devoted to the work of his profession. I think it nothing less than professional neglect of the rank and file for a teacher to fail to read one or more teacher's journals. In fact, I should not think of employing a teacher in my school system who is not a reader of "The Texas Outlook" or the "American School Board Journal" or some other good teacher's magazine. In addition to this we should read a good daily newspaper and our local newspaper. It is not by chance that I read the "Munday Times", "The Green Advocate", and "The Baylor County Banner." I believe such reading keeps me in closer touch with the affairs that are a part of my work as a teacher.

As another means of professional improvement I mention that of visiting other schools while in session as a means of comparing notes, and gaining an insight into what may be a superior method of teaching on the part of a fellow teacher. In this connection we might consider the proposition of self-rating. Score ourselves against the master some card of our profession; make a conscious effort to improve where weakness is apparent.

Finally, we find a great facility in professional improvement in extension work. The University of Texas offers more courses through correspondence work than a number of eastern colleges offer in residence. One half the work required for a degree may be done in this manner. Other leading schools offer this same class of instruction. In addition to correspondence instruction a number of our larger colleges and universities maintain extension centers and arrange group courses of study where work for residence credit may be done in your own town.

Every trustee should have a secret desire to make his respective community a better place to live than when he became a trustee just as Edward Bok was admonished by his grandmother. He should be found playing the part of a Good Samaritan to every backward and unfortunate boy and girl by being a Christian and law-abiding citizen and ever keeping his face toward the sunsets and the hilltops of life where beauty and truth dwell.
