Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We're not the student of law changes that we should be.

"Ignorance of the law is no excuse," is a saying we've heard most of our lives, and we're glad we finally got informed about the change in our election laws in time to keep from going to the polls to vote on the last Saturday in July for our first primary. From Vern Sanford, secretary and general manager of the Texas Press Association, we recently received this paragraph of information:

"Due to changes in the election laws, the 1960 primary will be held nearly three months ahead of the usual date. Instead of voting the last Saturday in July, as heretofore, the First Primary of 1960 will be held on May 7. That's not far away for campaigners."

Many of this area will regret the passing of O. L. Jamison of Knox City, who died Saturday in a Houston hospital. Jamison was among the first people we met when we came to Knox County. At that time he was business manager of the Knox County Hospital. He was a man of sound thinking and has been of value to his county and community.

Another old timer of the area also passed away Saturday morning. He was B. M. (Mac) Haymes of O'Donnell and brother of our postmaster Lee Haymes. Mac made tracks in Knox County a number of years before going to O'Donnell in 1925, and his influence will continue to live among those who knew him well.

Reports were that crappie had begun to bite at the lake with this cool spell coming along. We are relying principally on reports — they seem to be better than any fishing activities we experience — since we didn't make it to the waters during the week end.

We were reminded of a trip to Lake Phantom Hill a number of years ago, when we engaged a colored man in conversation who apparently was afraid of boats and water. He referred to some of his own color who were anchored in a small boat a little way off shore, and then remarked: "My mind just didn't lead me to get in that boat." Our mind just didn't lead us to head for Kemp this week end.

By the time you read this — if you do — Mr. Khurshchev will be on American soil, and from reports the best - guarded visitor in American history.

Which brings to mind the many opinions regarding Mr. K's visit. Some think it well for him to visit us and see America in action, strikes and all. Others believe he's over here to pick up some of our secrets, if any. But one person quoted our banker, W. E. Braly, with the best remark we know of. "I don't mind him coming over here," Mr. Braly was quoted as saying, "I just hope he can send him back home safely." Yes, no better excuse for another world-wide conflict could be manufactured than for something to happen to Mr. Khurshchev while he is visiting us. And that, in our opinion, is why some 20,000 men and women, in and out of uniform, will be looking after his safety during his 13-day stay here.

"Making mountains out of molehills." That in a nutshell is the opinion of local school officials regarding the publicity the local school is receiving about being placed on probation for "violating school standards." Supt. W. C. Cox states the school is in no immediate danger of losing its accreditation and that in the due time the school will be taken off probation.

"There's nothing wrong with our schools that money will not remedy," he said in stating that most of the criticism regards the Dunbar School. The situation was thoroughly explained by school officials at a recent public meeting.

When school officials decide on a feasible plan for improving the situation, we believe the public will be advised fully as to the plan of action. The situation must be remedied in time — and we believe it will be.

In charge of the office is Mr. Vokel, and two classers are now working in the cotton classing rooms. More will be added if needed, it was stated.

This office serves ginners and farmers of Knox, Baylor and Haskell Counties, and is a great aid to them in getting the cotton classed and grade cards returned as early as possible.

Rev. R. L. Young New Pastor Of Baptist Church

Rev. Robert L. Young, former pastor of the Rush Springs, Okla., Baptist Church, has accepted the call as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Munday and will preach his first sermon as pastor of the local congregation next Sunday night.

Rev. Young and family established residence in Munday last week so their children could enter the local schools. Rev. Young is presently engaged in a revival meeting in Oklahoma and could not be here until next Sunday.

They have three children: Bob, who is a junior in high school; Yvonne and Kay.

Rev. Young preached his "trial sermon" here several weeks ago, after which the congregation voted to call him as pastor. Prior to becoming minister at Rush Springs, Rev. Young served the First Baptist Church at Duke, Okla., as minister. He attended Decatur Baptist College, Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Young were reared at Turkey, Hall County, Texas.

The local church has been without a pastor since the resignation of Rev. G. N. Allison several months ago, and the local pulpit has been filled by supply preachers. The local congregation and community welcome Rev. Young and family to their new church home.

Soil Bank Regulations Are Eased By Two Changes, Chairman of ASC Says

With the deadline nearing for farmers who are interested in the 1960 conversation reserve, Chairman Gaylon C. Scott of the Knox County ASC committee, recently announced two changes in Soil Bank regulations that should make more farmers eligible to participate.

One change effects situations where a tenant leaves the farm voluntarily and the owner takes over the operation. The other covers situations where land has been lost for public use under eminent domain procedures.

Under the program as originally announced for 1960, a farm which was operated wholly or partially by a tenant or sharecropper in 1958 or 1959 could not be placed in the conversation reserve next year unless a tenant or sharecropper was designated to share in the annual rental payment. The purpose of this provision was to protect tenants against being forced off Soil Bank farms.

The new provision permits a contract with a land owner where a tenant leaves the farm voluntarily and the owner finds it necessary to take over the operation. In such a case a conservation contract for non-tenant operation may be entered into for 1960 provided it can be established definitely that the tenant left the farm of his own accord. This may be proved either through a statement signed by the tenant or sharecropper or, if he is not available, through statements signed by three disinterested persons who know the situation.

The other newly announced change provides an exception to the general rule that land purchased since Dec. 31, 1956 is not eligible for the conversation reserve. Under the new rule, a farmer who has lost land through eminent domain since 1956 and has bought replacement land can place this new land in the 1960 conversation reserve, subject to certain limitations.

Any farmer who was ineligible under former rules but is now eligible for a 1960 contract still has until September 30 to request his county ASC office to set a basic annual rate for his farm.

Moguls To Host Knox City Team On Friday Night

The twice defeated Munday Moguls will be hosts to the twice victorious Knox City Greyhounds for their third football game of the season next Friday night. This will also be the second home game for the Moguls.

In the season's opener, the Greyhounds defeated the Chilli-cothe Eagles, while the Moguls were going down in defeat at the hands of the Rochester Steers.

Last Friday night, as the Moguls were downed 33-0 by the Class AA Seymour Panthers, the Greyhounds again hit their stride and defeated Trent to the tune of 56 to 6.

The Mogul - Greyhound game has always been a sensational one since the Knox City team has entered eleven-man football, and next Friday night will likely see both teams at their season's near best. The Moguls will be fighting to break their losing streak, while the Greyhounds will want to remain in the winning column.

The game is expected to attract a capacity crowd from the two towns.

Munday Man Named County Chairman Of Independent Business Organization

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. D. E. Alexander Munday dentist, as Chairman of the Knox County Chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business, was made today by Leo Bennett, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballot each month on the bills and issues that affect independent business enterprise in the nation.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life, and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their own personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to Dr. D. E. Alexander, who makes a tabulation of the total number and in the manner in which they voted.

This tabulation is sent, with the signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman Frank Icard in Washington. Inasmuch as all this action takes place before Congressman Icard and other members of Congress are required to vote on these debatable legislative issues that are proposed to become law, it is the only manner in which it is possible for Congressman Icard to know the personal opinions of his independent business constituents in an organized manner.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-profit organization that has the largest individual membership of any business organization in the United States and independent business and professional men of every vocation participate with voting memberships, regardless of the other civic or trade affiliations.

DISENCHANTED CITIZENS

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink. And you can raise the gasoline tax to any figure, but you can't stop people from using less and less gas.

That point, in substance, is made by a marketing representative of the Sun Oil Company. He illustrates with an interesting example—the strong consumer trend toward small economy cars. It is estimated that 1959 sales of foreign and domestic small cars will reach the million mark. And that is exclusive of the new "compact" models that are scheduled to come out of Detroit in the fall.

Thus, in this spokesman's view, one effort of rising gasoline taxes has been the setting in motion of a "vicious cycle" in which the lowered fuel consumption of smaller cars yields reduced tax money and ultimately prompts another round of tax increases.

The motorist has been taking a severe beating. During the 10-year period ending in 1958, combined state and federal taxes have increased six times as much as the national average retail price of regular grade gasoline, exclusive of taxes.

Higher federal gasoline taxes are urged on the highway trust funds is in the red, ut that condition can be cured by halting the diversion of federal highway user taxes to non-highway purposes, or by stretching out the highway building program over a longer period of time.

TOWARD BETTER MEALS

The September 14-26 period will witness one of the largest promotions in the history of the "Better Meals Build Better Families." Sponsors and supporters include newspapers, the food chains, food trade associations, and all segments of the food manufacturing industry.

There's a small doubt that a campaign such as this, commercial considerations to one side, can perform a real public service.

Many people still have fallacious ideas about what proper eating and sound diet amount to. For example, the value of meat is not as thoroughly understood as it should be. In recent years the dietitians have learned that, due to its protein content, substantial amounts of meat are needed by virtually everyone. It builds mental as well as physical health and strength. And it is one of the few foods which we can eat with relish twice or more each day. Some old wives' tales still abound. One is that "tea and toast" is the basis of an adequate diet for the elderly who exercise little. Again, science has disproven this. The elderly need a balanced diet just like the rest of us.

During the promotion, everyone will have a chance to learn more about food, and how to get the best out of it. It's an opportunity to welcome.

WHY TRADE GOES ELSEWHERE

As the ancient ballad tells, for want of a nail a kingdom was lost. A modern paraphrase could be that for want of the right kind of advertising great amounts of business are lost.

The Windsor, Missouri, Review, points out that "The chief competitors of the small city retailer are not other local merchants. His most serious competition comes from nearby metropolitan centers." Prices on standard brands of merchandise, the Review goes on, are virtually the same everywhere. Low overhead sometimes gives the small-town retailer a competitive advantage over the big-city merchant. So the Review asks and answers a question: "Why, then, do so many shoppers travel fifty or a hundred miles to buy the same items they could obtain at home for the same price? Many retailers who ask this question should look to themselves to find the blame. Inadequate advertising is likely to be the answer."

The merchant who just opens his doors and waits for the customers to enter, without attracting them through advertising, is going to do a minimum of business. The merchant who sees to it that people know what he has to offer is going to do the maximum. And the local newspaper is the outstanding advertising medium for the retailer.

A new study, reported in a publication of the American Medical Association shows that nearly as many Americans die from bee stings as rattlesnake bites. Over a five-year period rattlers killed 55 people in this country, and bees 52.

National Review says that Khrushchev didn't believe a Nixon statement that there are more than 60,000,000 cars in this country. The statistical fact: World car population is 111,000,000, of which 67,000,000 are ours.

Progeny and performance testing of beef cattle is rapidly coming of age and has already progressed beyond the experimental state of the application of research findings in breeders' herds.

Research findings by a number of colleges have shown conclusively that cattle differ in their ability to make rapid gains, to use feed efficiently and to develop desirable carcasses, and that these differences are heritable and transmissible from parent to offspring.

Studies also prove that rate and efficiency of gain are rather highly correlated and brood cow performance is important to the total economy of beef production and is a repeatable trait.

In establishing an on-the-farm testing program breeders must first decide what traits are to be measured and included in the selection program. Traits selected probably will be determined by the ease with which they can be measured, their heritability estimates and their economic value.

Important points include pre-weaning growth rate, weaning grade or type score, regularity of reproduction of the dam, milking and mothering ability of the dam, daily gains, feed efficiency and grade of the end product.

But performing testing will not obtain the status it should in the cattle industry until a unified national program is established for all state organizations, Performance Registry International, and the national breed association.

predict the steer of tomorrow will be reasonably wide over the top, deep bodied and will have more length than people have looked for in recent years.

If the meaty steer has these characteristics, he also will be a fast doing, healthy, efficient steer for both the cow and calf man and the steer feeder. This will result in a product the packer will enjoy processing because it will suit the consumer's demand.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

This is a noisy world we live in. There's no doubt about that. And things are getting noisier!

Sounds like the loud radio next door or all of the neighboring kids enjoying their games with squealing delight are major offenders.

Medical experts show that noise where we work, where we live and sleep, where we travel to and from work can cut down our efficiency, impair our peace of mind, our health and our comfort.

Noise, they reveal brings sleeplessness, tired nerves, and poor digestion, or more, it has a definite ill effect on the digestion.

Normal sounds in a business office will combine to create a noise that measures 60 decibels. A noisy office often hits 70 decibels.

A whisper five feet away amounts to 25 decibels. The loud radio next door probably registers 65 or more. An automobile horn blasted at you from a distance of ten feet jumps the count to 120 decibels, hurts your ears, and probably makes you mad. An ordinary conversation averages 50 decibels.

Occupational deafness seems to be more and more common. As our cities become noisier there is more deafness among road builders, bus and traffic drivers, printers, and traffic policemen.

Organizations of employers and insurance groups are analyzing this hazard and beginning to develop control technics.

Experts tend to agree that a sudden loud noise causes about the same reaction in a person as does a great fright and may be followed by a general feeling of depression and loss of vitality.

Surveys of the most annoying noises list automobile horns, squealing brakes, city buses, cut-outs, and motorcycles as the worst offenders.

Close to the top among other objectionable sounds are those from overloud radios — that belong to someone else factory whistles, riveting, pneumatic drills and noisy games and parties.

Strangely enough barking dogs and yowling cats were not given as too annoying.

HOME FROM GALVESTON

Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse returned home last Sunday night from Galveston where she has been undergoing treatment in the St. Mary's Hospital the past four weeks. She reports that she is feeling wonderful and glad to be back home.

Jimmie Dale Seale left Sunday for Beaumont where he entered Lamar College.

Man From Mars?

Nope—this isn't a visitor from outer space, but "Tracto," a mechanical man fashioned from different parts of an International Harvester farm tractor. Eight-foot robot moves hand up and down, turns its head and is wired to talk back. Apparently, it likes children, too. Harvester is exhibiting "Tracto" at various state fairs throughout the country.

The lobby of the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville is in the grand manner of the 1890's and early 1900's: a carved, arched ceiling; marble columns, chandeliers, a roof of stained glass, huge windows with red-and-white drapes, plants and a painting of Andrew Jackson's home, from which the hotel derives its name.

Nashville is the hillbilly — or folk — musical capital of the nation. I never saw so many young men with sideburns and guitars as there were on the streets. The Grand O'Pery is each Saturday night; fortunately, I was in Nashville on Thursday night.

As I passed through Powhatan, Va., on the courthouse lawn there were several packs of dogs. I wondered if they were going to have a dog show or a fox hunt. Or mabe they were going to track down a jail-breaker. I'll never know.

Abingdon, Va. advertises, "Second most healthful city in U. S." Makes a fellow speculate as to which Texas town they concede is more healthful.

About 50 miles west of Nashville, there is a stream with a name which suggests a story: Defeated Camp Creek.

The Chisca Hotel, erected in Memphis about 1912, has guest rooms with window sills made of marble. They don't build hotels like that anymore.

A Memphis car dealer has a sign, "Itty Bitty Down Payments; Teeny Weeny Monthly Payments"

In the 1900's there was a young cowboy appearing in a Fort Worth theater. He did fancy roping and the climax of the act had a man running down the aisle as the expert tossed a loop from the stage and caught him. No one in the applauding audience dreamed that some years later the cowboy would become the most popular man America has ever known. Almost a quarter of a century after his death it isn't necessary to mention — exact for youngsters — his name Will Rogers.

Farm Organizations Working Together, Says Farm Leader; To Speak At Ralls

DENTON — "One of the most erroneous impressions being spread to the general public today is that farm organizations are not working together." Stated Texas Farmers Union President, Alex Dickie, Jr., at a recent meeting of farm organization leaders. "The only dissident 'farm organization' that is not working hand-in-hand with other farm groups is an organization of farmers headed by leadership that is working with other reactionary groups whose principle motives seem to be the destruction of family farms and the reduction of family farmer's economic status to that of peons," continued Dickie.

These issues will be joined and fully exposed when James G. Patton, President of National Farmers Union, addresses West Texas Farmers at the New Cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. on September 22nd in Ralls. President Patton is noted for his vigorous and unswerving attacks on all organizations whose apparent interest is the destruction of family farm economy and of the eventual elimination of family farmers from the scene of American Democracy. Patton's address will constitute a major pronouncement of the present and continued policy of Farmers Union to fight the forces of reaction whenever and wherever its traces are discovered in the rough economic sea which is trying to engulf American Agriculture.

Mr. Patton is also President of the International Federation of Agriculture Producers which is the Free World's Organization of farmers with about 37 million farm members. In his capacity as President of I. F. A. P., Mr. Patton has traveled all over the free world during the last six months and is looked to as voice of hope for free farming throughout the world. Patton's "Food for Peace" idea, proposed several years ago, is now accepted in nearly all circles. "Texas farmers have expressed a fervent desire to continue in a concentrated effort to fight to improve farm prices and income in order to achieve a parity with other parts of economy," said Dickie.

"We believe Jim Patton's message will serve to spark a renewed effort to stay behind the things Farmers Union stands for and to see that legislation is continually pushed in Congress for our farm families to earn and receive income from their work, management and property ownership equivalent to that earned and received by people in other walks of life," President Dickie stated.

Seymour Downs Moguls, 33 to 0 Friday Night

In a game replete with fumbles on both sides, Seymour's District 6-AA Panthers downed the lighter but scrapping Munday Moguls here last Friday night by a score of 33 to 0. It seemed the Mogul fumbles were the most costly, as the more experienced Panthers took advantage of them.

The big noise for the Panthers was Billy Joe Carlock, who scored in both the first and second quarters. Carlock was the first to hit the goal line, but his attempted run to add the two extra points failed.

Carlock came back to score in the second quarter, and Joe Bob Chandler attempted to run for the extra points. Also scoring in the second quarter was Jerry Underwood, who caught a jump pass on the goal line. Chandler added the two extra points.

The Panthers scored twice in the third quarter. Chandler ran 20 yards for a touchdown, and Jerry Lee Howell failed on the kicking attempt. The other TD was made by Billy Tom McCarty following an 86-yard drive. Jerry Lee Powell kicked the extra point.

Seymour netted 320 yards rushing, compared to 130 for the Moguls. The Panthers racked up 13 first downs, compared with six for the Moguls.

WHICH ONE DO YOU WANT?

you can have your dream house — this easy way!

A dream? Not at all. Thousands of people with modest incomes have been able to save the down payment, or the whole price, of the home of their dreams—because they invested in U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where they work.

You, too, can accumulate enough money for the down payment on a home. Or enough for your children's college education or a retirement income. And by saving only a few dollars a week, too.

The answer is that you save systematically on the Payroll Savings Plan.

All you have to do is tell your pay office how much you've decided to save each payday. After that your money is saved for you, before you get your salary. Then each time enough has accumulated, it is invested in a Bond, and the Bond turned over to you.

And remember—your U. S. Savings Bonds pay a good return and are fully protected against loss or theft. There's no finer, safer investment.

Why don't you start—today? Sign, where you work, for the Payroll Savings Plan. Or, buy Bonds regularly at your bank.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

STOP FOR SCHOOL BUSES

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rules applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the protrusion even when passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line of a highway when the left side of ten road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the roadway.

Pay attention to what you're doing.

We all know how that applies to our work. But we shouldn't forget that it is most necessary when we are behind the wheel of a car.

Don't be a daydreamer. You might hit a youngster crossing the street from between parked cars.

Don't window shop while driving past your favorite shops and stores. You might crash into the car ahead of you.

Don't comb your hair on the way to your bridge club meeting. You might not be able to stop in time to avoid hitting a blind man crossing the street.

Don't wave to your friends walking on the sidewalk. You might not see the stop light in time to stop at the intersection.

Don't visit with your passengers. You might not see the car pulling out of a parking spot.

Don't turn around to discipline the youngsters in the back seat. You might not see the jay-walker crossing in front of your car.

Illegal Kills Keeps Wardens Of West Texas Busy

Law enforcement duties in the West Texas area have picked up considerably since the first of September, according to the director of law enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Within a week's time, 42 cases were made against hunters in the West Texas area, who killed curlew, plover, and quail out of season. The shooting of curlew and plover is a Federal offense as well as a State offense.

Although there seems to be a bountiful supply of doves throughout the State, shooting in some areas has been somewhat erratic. Weather changes started the bird movement and wardens of some counties report slow hunting. Water hole shooting has been slowed in many areas because of rains. On the other hand, a bountiful grain crop has provided so much food in other areas that doves are not inclined to leave.

The director warned against hunters killing more than their

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

Every year the Internal Revenue people are somewhat startled and perhaps a bit amused at the comment, "Well I guess you folks don't have very much to do now that you have got all caught up with the income tax filing."

Of course, income tax is only one of the many Federal taxes that internal Revenue enforces, even though it is a big one; however, tax payments and filing deadlines fall throughout the year. There are several tax deadlines in every month of the year. Perhaps the most conclusive proof the Internal Revenue Service can offer, that taxes are collected on many dates throughout the year besides on April 15, is the figure of $83,925,591.71 collected from North Texans living in the Dallas District during the month of July.

July is a small collection month. The biggest collection month has run as high as $173 million in the Dallas District. But January and February are almost bigger tax paying months than April. Any way you look at it, it takes lots of money to run a big country with big problems.

TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, brawnier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

Mass Production Auto Service

Mass production, the secret ingredient in Henry Ford's famed Model T is now being applied to preventive maintenance. At Seaway Motors, Inc., Detroit, Volkswagen owners leave their cars for service. Thirty minutes later, they drive away, their automobiles completely checked and serviced. Called Inspect-O-Line, the novel service system incorporates hydraulic lifts and small, strong track-mounted dollies. The car is backed onto a hydraulic lift at Station One and raised off the ground. A trained mechanic drains the engine oil, checks transmission oil level, greases the chassis and adjusts the brakes. The car is lowered onto a dolly which rolls on tracks to the next five stations. At each, a trained mechanic makes various adjustments and inspections. At the last station, another lift raises the Volkswagen for final inspection. After fifteen minutes on this maintenance line and a thorough road test, the keys are returned to the owner. This idea of high-production preventive maintenance is being used in Detroit for the first time in this country.

National P.T.A. Sets Goal: Over 12,000,000 Members

More American children than ever before are enrolled in school this fall.

And more and more of their parents and teachers will be P.T.A. members by the time the National Congress of Parents and Teachers concludes its annual October membership enrollment.

Through the efforts of the millions of parents and teachers already working in P.T.A.'s, children all over the United States are assured the closest kind of home-school cooperation on their behalf. Out of this working together of home and school have come higher educational standards, curriculums geared to the needs of today's world, more adequate school facilities and more effective parent education programs and, of course, good playgrounds, safe sidewalks, driver-training classes, and continuous health programs.

Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, Michigan, president of the National Congress, points to such P.T.A. achievements as "a significant factor" in the growth of the National Congress, which already ranks as the world's largest voluntary organization.

"A membership of more than 12,000,000 is our goal this year," she says, "and we intend to call on all the families we can to enroll new members—whether parents or teachers or other citizens with a real interest in children."

Work for All

The variety of P.T.A. activities, Mrs. Parker believes, "offers all members an opportunity to work on the many problems that involve the welfare and advancement of the nation's children."

Because the P.T.A.'s chief concern is for children, its action before they're ready for school.

—A pre-school program emphasizes the child's health, his safety, and his sound emotional development. It may take the form of an immunization project like that undertaken in Tennessee's Washington County, where children started to school this fall protected against diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough, and polio—because P.T.A. members took the lead in a county-wide fight against communicable disease.

—When a child takes the big step into school, the P.T.A. offers a ready-made meeting place where parents and teachers work together for the child's academic and social development. The Kenosha, Wisconsin, Council of P.T.A.'s, for example, sponsored a summer-long elementary school clinic for children who had difficulty in reading.

—Youngsters who have special problems get attention in another phase of the National Congress' program. Language barriers are being breached for Puerto Rican children attending school in Camden, New Jersey, because local P.T.A.'s sparked a move to hire a Spanish instructor who works with these children in their daily English classes.

Teens Get Attention

—Teenagers are helped, too, by P.T.A. programs designed to spur their development into responsible citizens. In Evanston, Standing beside the P.T.A. oak tree emblem, Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, prepares to sow symbolic acorns in an effort to reach the goal of more than twelve million P.T.A. memberships. She urges P.T.A. members to "call on all" during membership enrollment month.

Illinois, high school students can look forward to receiving sound advice on future vocations, thanks to a P.T.A. guidance program that culminates in a day-long career conference.

—Because of its interest in children, the P.T.A. also offers adults many chances for constructive community work that will benefit children.

Through the years, the National Congress consistently supported kindergartens, promoted hot lunch programs in schools, alerted the public to violations of child labor statutes, improved the standards of treatment for juvenile offenders, and backed programs to focus attention on the urgent needs of the public schools.

"The more members we enroll," Mrs. Parker points out, "the more opportunity the National Congress will have to work for the well-being of all the nation's children."

and daughter are visitors in the home of Mrs. McCracken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Staunbough, last week end.

Homer Lambeth is a patient in the Knox County Hospital. He injured two fingers on his left hand in an accident at the gin last week. There is still danger of losing his fingers.

Homecoming Set At Stamford High

The first homecoming of ex-students and teachers of Stamford High School will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24, with headquarters in the high school gymnasium, according to Brad Rowland, chairman of the steering committee.

Letters are being mailed this week to all exes whose addresses are available, and an earnest effort is being made by the committee to make the initial homecoming a success.

Schedule of activities includes registration of classes, and a hamburger supper preceding the annual Anson-Stamford football game Friday evening. A barbecue will be held in Bulldog Stadium Saturday at noon with a business session and class reunions to follow.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Prepared To Present Khrushchev With A Bag Of Selected Johnson Grass Seed

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek takes note of Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the United States, his letter this week reveals.

Dear Editor: I understand Mr. Khrushchev is on a tight schedule and won't be able to stop by my farm out here, which is perfectly all right. I'm on a tight schedule myself and wouldn't have much time to entertain him anyway.

But what has interested me most about his trip to the United States is the reaction of those big-time columnists who write for the big dailies.

One group is arguing Khrushchev shouldn't have been invited at all, but I don't have much feeling on this point. As far as I'm concerned anybody including a dictator, is welcome to come over and look us over, so long as he doesn't bring his army with him.

Another group says Khrushchev won't be here long enough to get the feel of America, won't get to know what we think. Some Congressmen have lived here all their lives and every once in a while they prove they don't know what the people think either. They then become ex-Congressmen. I don't know how long Khrushchev would have to stay here to figure us out, but it would be too long, except for the people in the dozen or so countries he has enslaved. As far as they're concerned, he could stay here forever.

Personally, I can't get very excited either way about his visit. I understand he's very interested in studying American farming methods. I am too. I've got one field out here I've been studying for years and never have made up my mind what I ought to do with it.

In case Mr. Khrushchev's caravan has a flat while he's on tour and he should get to this vicinity about that time, I'm all set for him. I have a bag of carefully selected Johnson grass seed I want to present him with. If he'll take it home with him and scatter a few seeds around, it'll set Russian agriculture back 50 years.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Tirwell and Tammy of Lubbock visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tidwell, last Thursday night enroute for a week end visit in Dallas. Tammy remained with her grandparents while her parents were in Dallas.
