Odd Bits Salvaged

You would have seen the "frost on the pumpkin" Sunday morning if you had gotten up early enough, and if you had had a pumpkin!

It was the season's first frost, and since the thermometer didn't dip to the freezing mark, we suppose it didn't do a great deal of damage. It was right nippy, through.

We're not a very early riser on Sunday mornings, whether they are nippy or not, so we actually didn't see the frost. We registered somewhat of a surprise upon hearing of it, since there was none showing when we ventured out to the post office sometime after nine o'clock. We were assured the frost was showing earlier.

"Mr. Sam," as he is known in Washington, said in Texas last Saturday night that he is starting a drive for Senator Lyndon Johnson as the presidential nominee in the next election.

Mr. Johnson has for months said he was not a candidate for the nomination, but Mr. Rayburn, who said the drive would begin right away to organize Johnson-for-president clubs in each of the 254 counties in Texas, may know just what the score is.

Although Johnson was non-committal on Rayburn's plan, going on at the Johnson ranch — both in the past and those scheduled for the future — indicate to us that he would be receptive to being the "dark horse" in next year's political doings. And some predict a "dark horse" will win the nomination.

Macyl Orman, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad, is our friend. He met some Munday people in Fort Worth about a year ago and told them he was. Only thing Macyl did that wasn't to our liking was some two years ago when he invited us on an expense-paid trip down into the valley, and his dates were such that we couldn't make it.

Orman is not only our friend, but a friend to all agricultural minded people in Knox County. So is James Simmons, our district agent.

These two men were in town on Wednesday of last week arranging for the agricultural program for January 29 of next year. The program last year was called "Soil Fertility Day," but due to the varied program being planned for this second visit we sorta lean to the suggested name of "Farm and Ranch Day."

When the day arrives for this program, you will want to attend. We're sorta hoping that the railroad will be able to bring the president's private car to Munday for this special event, but Macyl said he wasn't quite a "big enough wheel" in the company to assure us it would be available.

A member of the equalization board told us this week there weren't too many squawks about the raise in tax valuations recently imposed by the city. When the group representing the tax survey which was recently completed explained the situation, very few went on to the equalization board. What a number didn't know was along with the raise in valuations came a decrease in the tax rate from $1.50 to 1.25 on the $100 valuation. When this was figured out, some were paying less taxes, and nobody seemed hurt so very bad.

And the same apparently held true when the board for the schools met. Everyone realizes that our schools must have more money in order to make necessary repairs and stuff to meet the accreditation committees requests. School officials believe that the 10 per cent increase "straight across the board" will get things started in this direction.

To us it appears just as impossible to operate the schools or city government on the same money as ten or fifteen years ago as it is to manage your own personal or household budget — or to buy a new automobile, for instance. It just don't work out that way.

Speed doesn't shorten the road . . . It shortens your life!

Fire Destroys Large Farm House On Saturday; Was Occupied By Braceros

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a 12-room farm house occupied by 42 braceros last Saturday afternoon on the John Earl Nelson farm, two and one-half miles southwest of Munday.

The braceros lost all their personal belongings, including passports and contracts, according to reports, but no one was injured.

The Co-op gin of Munday, which has the braceros under contract for gathering the cotton crop locally, made other arrangements for housing them.

Included in the loss was the house, farm equipment and personal belongings estimated at more than $10,000. All that was saved from the house were 15 mattresses.

The fire was discovered at about 2:45 p.m. Most of the farm laborers were there at the time, having just been paid. Mr. Nelson said the fire probably could have been put out without much loss if the motor in a nearby irrigation well hadn't given them trouble.

The Munday Fire Department fought the blaze for more than two hours with their rural equipment, but was unable to control it.

Estimates of the losses included: House, $4,000; personal equipment of the laborers, $100 each, or $4,200; butane tank, $275; cotton planter, $650; potato planter, $850, and tractor tires, $150.

Rhineland C. Y. O. Meeting Is Held; Officers Named

The Catholic Youth Organization of Rhineland held a meeting Sunday, October 18, 3:30 p.m. Eight new members were enrolled into the organization by Rev. Anthony Schroeder. The new members are Dwight Albus, David Albus, Marian Kuehler, Leon Michels, Lyndon Moore, Anton Friske, Diana Bruggeman, Carol Bruggeman, Glynda Herring, Velma Bellinghausen, and Melanie Verhalen.

New officers were elected as follows: President, Evelyn Bellinghausen; Vice-President, David Albus; Secretary, Marilyn Albus; and Treasurer, Jerry Bellinghausen. The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served to all present.

Bracero Hit By Stray Bullet Here Sunday

Cirilo Perez, who is in the area working in the cotton harvest, was hit in the left shoulder by what police said was possibly a stray .22 calibre bullet at about 4:20 p.m. Sunday. He had just crossed main street at the traffic light, walking north, and was stepping on the curb when the bullet struck him.

It penetrated his clothing and went into his flesh only a short distance. He reported the incident to Constable A. R. Booe, who was standing nearby but who did not hear a shot. It was supposed the bullet came from one of the labor camps several blocks away.

J. W. Massey, local chief of police, and T. W. Bullington, county attorney, called Sheriff H. T. Melton and notified members of the highway patrol. They, with permission of gin managers, searched the labor camps and took several guns and some ammunition. No liquor or beer was found, they said.

Chief Massey said the laborers had been "shooting wildly" on several occasions, and it was believed that Perez was not an intended victim of the shot. He was treated by a local doctor and released.

"Atom at Work," a free mobile exhibit presented by the United States Atomic Energy Commission, is shown above. The walk-through exhibit deals with the peaceful uses of atomic energy. It will appear in Munday on Wednesday, November 4th under auspices of the Munday Junior Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the exhibit as a public service.

Moguls To Play Henrietta Friday

The final chapter in home football activities of the Munday Moguls will be written on Friday night of this week when they meet the Henrietta Dragons on the local field.

It has been a dismal story for the hapless Moguls this season, as they have failed to reach the win column thus far. Knowing their lack in weight and experience, the little Moguls have tried to make up for this in courageous fight against their larger opponents.

Henrietta has fared some better in the season's play, and while the Moguls were suffering another loss last Friday night, the Dragons won 12 to 0 over Chillicothe.

Mogul fans will be out there Friday night, backing their team in their last home game of the season. The Moguls have three more games remaining on their schedule — with Crowell, Holliday and Chillicothe.

F. F. A. Chapter Travels To Fair

Thirty-five members of the Munday chapter, Future Farmers of America, and their advisor, Elmer Kuntz, spent Saturday and Sunday in Dallas, attending the Texas State Fair.

The boys toured all the exhibit buildings livestock barns and the midway, and by evening were ready for a well deserved rest.

The group spent the night in the Y. M. C. A., arose early for breakfast and sightseeing in downtown Dallas on Sunday morning.

They arrived back in Munday on Sunday night, a tired group, but happy with arms full of prizes which they won at the fair.

Mechanization Of Cotton Harvesting Seen In Future; Meeting Set In March

The cotton subcommittee of the county program building committee met Thursday afternoon, October 15 at 2 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce Office at Munday.

Purpose of this meeting was to plan work to be done on the county cotton program for next year. The committee felt the most important problem now facing the cotton farmer was mechanization of harvesting as hand labor was inadequate and too expensive. Two other important problems listed by the committee were losses due to plant diseases and improper use of fertilizers.

In an effort to improve these situations the committee planned to hold a general cotton meeting in March which would include: land preparation, soil fertility, plant diseases, cultivation, irrigation, and harvesting of cotton.

Members of the committee were L. B. Patterson, chairman; W. M. Ford, H. H. Partridge, E. H. Nelson and Ancei Waldrup. Troy Dean Jones, County Agent

Methodist Youth To Canvas Town In C. R. O. P. Program

On Wednesday Evening October 28, 1959 the Methodist Youth Fellowship of First Methodist Church will canvass various homes in the city seeking donations for the Christian Rural Overseas Program. This is an annual event in the local M.Y.F. The money that is collected will be forwarded to the C.R.O.P. headquarters.

In America we have tremendous quantities of surplus food owned or controlled by the government. There is enough of this food to fill a freight train extending two-thirds of the way around the world. The C.R.O.P. Program makes it possible to ship this surplus food overseas where thousands of refugees await their new life and hope.

Every penny that you give to this program will send three pounds, every dollar will send over three hundred pounds. The Youth will call between the hours of 6:30 and 7:45 p.m. Wednesday night.

Vegetable Growers Plan 1960 Program

The Vegetable subcommittee of the County program building committee met Monday afternoon, October 19, at 2 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office at Munday. Purpose of the meeting was to plan a program for next year in an effort to eliminate part of the problems now heeding the vegetable growers of the county.

Problems to be worked on listed by the committees were losses due to insects and diseases, weed control, adapted varieties, irrigation methods and cultural practices, and marketing. In an effort to combat these problems, the committee planned field demonstrations on weed control (24D pellets), variety test, and irrigation practices. A meeting was also planned for May where diseases and insects would be discussed to help the producers with these problems. Following the meeting, a tour would be made of the field demonstrations listed above and also to fields where various disease conditions could be pointed out.

Members of the subcommittee were H. H. Partridge, chairman; Gene Thompson, L. D. Offutt, J. D. Offutt, J. B. King, and B. E. Smith.

Members of the Agriculture Committee were: Leroy Leflar, Tommie Harper, Elmer Kuntz and Doris Dickerson. Troy Dean Jones, County Agent

Mrs. E. W. Harrell Passes Suddenly Here On Monday

Mrs. E. W. Harrell, prominent resident of Munday since 1936, died suddenly at her home here at about noon Monday, supposedly of a heart attack. She had suffered from high blood pressure, but had been in town earlier Monday, apparently feeling well and in good spirits.

Mr. Harrell, who is serving as city secretary here, called home to ask his wife to come for him at lunch. When she failed to answer the phone, he started walking home, thinking he would meet her on the way. When he reached home, he found her body in the bathroom.

A native of Anson, Mrs. Harrell was born Willie Dick Davis on November 10, 1887, and was 71 years, 11 months and nine days of age. She and Mr. Harrell were married at Anson on April 14, 1912, and lived there until coming to Munday.

Mr. Harrell had operated a hardware and furniture store here from 1936 until a few years ago, and Mrs. Harrell was closely associated with him in the business. She was a member of the First Methodist Church and had been very faithful in attendance and work of the church.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday from the First Methodist Church in Munday with the pastor, Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, officiating. Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery with McCauley Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Serving as pallbearers were Worth Gafford, John C. Spann, Sherman Hill, W. R. Moore, Sr., R. D. Atkinson and Gill Wyatt. Members of the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church were named as honorary pallbearers.

Survivors include her husband, E. W. Harrell of Munday; two sons, Gene W. Harrell of Portales, N. M., and Dr. Dick Harrell of Rosemont, Pa., seven grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Sid Castles of Anson and Mrs. Lilla Bailey of Stillwater, Okla.

Boy Scout District Camporee To Be Held This Week End Near Bomarton

Probably nothing in the Scouting program appeals more to boys than the opportunity for adventure in the great out-of-doors. This week end the Brazos Valley Boy Scout District is having their Fall Camporee at the Miller Creek campground south of Bomarton.

The man in charge of camping, Mr. Norman McCluskey of Throckmorton, announced this and reminded all parents to visit the Camporee grounds at 5 p.m. Saturday for a barbecue followed by a court of honor for those boys who are to be recognized for advancing in Scouting.

This camporee is a demonstration of the camping skills of all of the troops in the district, which set up their own camp Saturday on the same campsite, for fun and good fellowship, and the opportunity to learn more about camping from each other. This camporee is offered to Scoutmasters as a tool to be used in capitalizing on this interest and developing the ability of their Scouts to camp comfortably and safely and in the most Scout-like fashion.

Out of the Camporee should come many values — the improvement of equipment for camping, greater skills, more enjoyment, strengthening the patrol system, development of leadership, pride in achievement, and character values through the actual living in camp under Scout ing conditions and in fellowship with other Scouts. It is primarily designed to support the local troops program.

The Camporee officially begins at 9 a.m. Saturday and lasts through the campfire that evening. Previously elected candidates for the Order of the Arrow, who have not yet been tapped out, will be called out by the District Chapter of the Order of the Arrow, the boy honorary camping organization, at the evening campfire.

Cub Scouts are invited to visit the camporee, with their parents, beginning at 7 p.m., Saturday. Some troops will remain at the camping grounds through Saturday night, but will return home in time for Sunday School the next morning.

DRAWING PEOPLES TOGETHER

The introduction of jet planes into the international air travel picture has met with an enthusiastic reception. The jets offer new high standards of speed and comfort, and the volume of intercontinental travel has shot upward.

The jets are enormously costly — in the neighborhood of $6 million for each one. Total jet investment by all the international airlines will run into the billions. But this does not mean higher fares. To the contrary, the purpose of the jets is to hold costs down by keeping the plants full of passengers. Speed and capacity are thus economy factors.

Indeed, jet travel may, in time, be cheaper than travel by the conventional piston planes. President Juan T. Trippe of Pan American World Airways, the leading international American airline, now proposes an extension of lower, economy class fares to trans-pacific and round-the-world flights. Extension of these fares would bring about a 25 per cent increase in travel, and thus make the move beneficial to the airlines as well as to the passengers. The proposal must be approved by the governments of all the countries which have international airlines before it can go into effect.

The prospect is a happy one — finer, swifter air service between the nations, and lower-priced service which is bound to result in better understanding among peoples of the world.

The New York Times says editorially " . . . the performance of the Soviet press in its coordinated effort to discredit the authenticity of the American Exposition can be overlooked only at our peril . . . The Soviet press attacked our exhibition, denounced the American guides there as liars, and in general strove frantically to neutralize our exhibition's impact on the Soviet people. There is nothing in this unhappy performance to suggest in the slightest that Premier Khrushchev's regime really wishes the Soviet people to know the truth about the United States or to further the sincere mutual understanding which is required for durable peace."

THE COLOR OF THE TIE

The State of Oregon has long used yellow dividing lines on its highways. The evidence indicates that most motorists feel that they provide much better visibility than white lines, particularly in bad weather, and so are an important safety factor.

But now Oregon's Highway Department announces that white lines will replace the yellow. Reason: The Federal government dictates that states must adopt white lines — or lose their share of the funds allocated to the multibillion dollar interstate highway system.

The significance of this goes far beyond any merits and demerits of white lines vs. yellow lines. The Portland Oregonian makes the big point with admirable clarity: "When one accepts a 'gift' from Washington, one gives up the free choice that states, as well as individuals, hold dear. When Uncle Sam puts up the money for a new suit, he not only decides what kind of suit it shall be but also picks the color of the tie."

This truism should surprise no one — the principle is as old as government. Centuries ago, someone remarked that "he who pays the piper calls the tune." Now a swollen central government pays more and more pipers, and calls more and more of our tunes.

PASADENA, CALIF., TRIBUNE: "In the wake of the . . . death of President Eisenhower's tax-saving proposal for a government-private industry partnership in the development of Trinity River Project power, taxpayers may as well tote up all the bad news.

"Multiple millions of dollars were lost by local, state and federal governments because of Congressional insistence that Trinity be added to the growing domain of public power. Those millions must be added to the total bill that public power already has presented to the American taxpayer—5 billion, 500 million hard earned dollars."

In the view of Senator Bridges, the future welfare of the railroads cannot be left to "stop-gap" or "patch-and-mend" legislation enacted in emergencies. He said that railroad and other carriers should be permitted to have the same freedom of action other industries enjoy, and added that the Transportation Act of 1958 had not helped the railroads as had been anticipated.

By John C. White, Commissioner

Improving the grazing ratio from one animal on 30 acres up to one for each five or 10 acres in a two-year period at an average cost of $12 per acre may seem not only amazing, but downright unbelievable.

Yet those of us who made a two-day fall range tour in Southwest Texas last week, sponsored by the farm and ranch committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, not only saw this miracle in process of accomplishment but were shown the beginnings of even greater plans.

The tour took us from San Antonio west to Sonora, then almost due south to Del Rio, from there back to San Antonio, through areas of rock-ridden brushland that used to provide — and to a large extent, still do — grazing as sparse as can be found anywhere in Texas. The trip was made on the heels of a week-end of rains that amounted to 15 or 16 inches in some stretches of an area where the average annual rainfall is only 22 inches, and we were able to view at first hand what conservation of water and soil can really mean.

In Sutton County, Dr. Leo B. Merrill, director of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station at Sonora, showed us a sample of what can be done by means of rootplowing and seeding on what had been a barren 68-acre tract at the station. In two years, this tract has produced a lush growth of blue panic grass, along with native cane bluestem and sideoats grama capable of grazing one animal to three acres. We were treated to even more

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman—even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

CLEVER ADS

Like some newspaper columns, newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1903 Justice Oliver W. Holmes declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a "general notice of copyright." One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't sell these maps to a rival publisher.

In another case a clever picture ran in one ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

You cannot copyright some things such as a list of names publicly available or an ad so common it lacks uniqueness.

Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine.

Ads which are run to get business may also create property right in a "trade name" of great value to a business even without a copyright.

Besides, a business or product name itself may often be copyrighted. Now and then, unfortunately, a company name may become so well known that without proper protection it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

Trying to gain from someone else's ads may well get you in trouble.

It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits. And then some.

False or misleading ads can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the post office sometimes gets rough if someone uses the mails to advertise fraudulently.

Of course ads aim to brag about one's product which is well known by the public and therefore, within limits, such "puffing" is allowed. But the Federal Trade Commission often stops certain advertisements if they are false or misleading especially as to factual claims.

pret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Can you remember when a representative of the weekly paper in a little town was at the depot at train time to get "personals" about who was leaving and who was arriving?

And do you recall when a small town post office had boxes that did not open? They were covered with window-glass. You could see if you had any mail. If so, you asked for it at the delivery window. If you had no mail, you went on about your business. Only thing was, if you visited the post office "after hours" or on Sunday and there was a letter in your box, it was "so near and yet so far." You would have to wait till next day to get it and you wondered and worried meanwhile.

Usually, it turned out to be of no importance.

Turning through the forgotten biography of a forgotten man, Senator Forsaker of Ohio, I came across this passage, speaking of President Benjamin Harrison:

"He was one of the ablest men who ever occupied the White House... Someone truthfully said he had a great faculty for measures but not for men. Nearly everyone who called upon him came away with the feeling that he had been an unwelcome visitor. This made him much trouble, so much so that it was with difficulty he secured a re-nomination. The defeat that followed was due almost altogether to the fact that, while everybody had great respect and admiration for his integrity and ability, nobody had any enthusiasm for him personally."

Forsaker also quotes Mark Hanna, the Ohio Senator and political power who made McKinley president, as saying of Theodore Roosevelt, "That lunatic in the White House..."

A pound cake is called a pound cake because 16 ounces of one weigh exactly a pound.

And a "Cincinnati bankroll" is a large bill wrapped around a lot of one-dollar bills.

Brown Patch In Lawns Can Be Controlled

Brown patch disease in St. Augustinegrass and Bermudagrass is taking a heavy toll in central and east central Texas now and will probably continue until late winter and early spring. This disease can be controlled if proper measures are used, according to Harlan F. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Pentachloronitrobenzene (PCNB) 75 per cent wettable powder can be used for control. One pound mixed with water will cover 1000 square feet of turf. Enough water should be mixed with the chemical to thoroughly soak the solution throughout the old grass clippings and down to the soil beneath the grass. Smith cautions against applying excess amounts of the chemical. Only two applications a year will give control, and more than this may result in a toxicity problem.

Where the disease is already present, applications are more effective if made during the first 24 hours following a rain or irrigation. If the disease covers a large area at time of application you can expect some results in two to three weeks.

Proper use of fertilizer and water will help prevent the disease, notes the pathologist. Brown patch is apt to occur on lawns that have received excess amounts of water and fertilizer. Grass should not be watered late in the evening.

Other hints for preventing brown patch are: fill in with soil and level low spots where water tends to accumulate, avoid letting thick layers of old grass clippings or "thatch" accumulate, and mow properly.

Atoms For Peace Exhibit To Be Here November 4

Spike Bryan announced Monday that the "town and Atom" presented by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission's mobile exhibit is scheduled to be in Munday on Wednesday, November 4. The time the exhibit will be open will be announced later.

Bryan is chairman of the "Atoms for Peace" committee of the Munday Jaycees, who are sponsoring the exhibit.

Visitors to the free exhibit will obtain a comprehensive picture of the many ways in which the peaceful atom is playing a more important role in our everyday life. The exhibits, some of them operated by the spectator himself, explain research and development in the atomic energy field, ranging from the mining and refining of radioactive ores to the construction of nuclear reactors designed to provide electric power. The mobile exhibit is operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by the museum division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Atomic energy also has many agricultural uses. Radioactive elements and compounds in fertilizers, for example, have provided much information on the value of these fertilizers in many types of crops. Studies with "tagged" fertilizers reveal which part of the plant uses the fertilizer, and what time of the year they are most effectively applied. Knowing these facts, farmers will be able to save large amounts of money on fertilizer, and to derive more benefits from its correct application. Similar studies have also been of value in connection with plant growth and nutrition, and in tests of insecticides.

The rays given off by radioactive substances have been used in genetic tests to produce new and different types of plants—disease-resistant wheat and corn, and thin-shelled peanuts. Work is now in progress using this same radiation to kill the bacteria which cause spoilage in foodstuffs, eliminating the need for freezing and canning for preservation of food.

Savings Bonds Are Attractive

Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike. W. E. Braly, chairman of the Knox County Bonds Committee, said today in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Mr. Braly said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

The new law does two things: (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1 draw 3 1/2 per cent interest when held to maturity, and (2) it increases by at least one-half of one per cent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds, regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1950, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E or H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Mr. Braly continued. "I would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

Intensified Soil Fertility Program Aimed To Increase Farmers' Profits

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has announced a new intensified soil fertility program to increase net profit for farmers through proper use of fertilizer and other good soil management practices.

Director John E. Hutchison said, "Three 'pilot' areas have been selected where an all-out effort will be made to use fertilizer the way it should be used."

This entire program is designed to fit fertilizer into farming to make farmers more money, he pointed out. Fertilizer alone, however, is not the complete answer. All other phases of crop management necessary for efficient production will be included.

The areas include Hale, Lamb, Lubbock and Terry counties on the South Plains; Hopkins, Red River, Smith and Wood in Northeast Texas; and Brazoria, Matagorda and Wharton on the Gulf Coast. They include three of the major soil types and crop producing areas of Texas.

The program will be supervised by personnel of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Locally, members of the County Extension Program Building Committee, in cooperation with the Texas Plant Food Educational Society, will assist in planning the program.

Support for the work also will come from the Texas Agricultural Limestone Association, the National Plant Food Institute, the American Potash Institute and other segments of the fertilizer industry.

Initial work in the pilot areas is planned for the coming crop season, Director Hutchison added. The first step will include testing soil to determine the kinds and amounts of fertilizer and limestone needed. Additional phases will include balanced fertility, and soil, moisture and crop management.

The use of fertilizer has increased steadily in Texas. In the last decade its use has grown from 492,541 tons in 1949 to 676,210 tons during the 1958-59 crop season, he concluded. But the potential profits resulting from fertilizer still are much greater.

Tips On Safety For Hallowe'en

Reminder to moms and dads from the National Safety Council:

The highway isn't the only hazardous spot for Hallowe'eners. The home and its surroundings can be just as big a boobytrap.

That tip from the Council—which feels adults have an obligation to keep the trick-or-treaters safe as they tramp from house to house Saturday night—served as advance warning to parents that the annual observance of All Saints Day (Hallowe'en, to you) is drawing near.

"Most motorists," the Council said, "know you can't count on excited youngsters to play it safe, so they exercise extra caution when driving on Hallowe'en."

"Many homeowners, though, haven't learned their lesson quite so well."

"Homeowners have a moral responsibility to keep youngsters safe at Hallowe'en. Furthermore, in many instances homeowners can be legally responsible if someone is injured on their property."

How can you guard against a tragedy that may mar a child's Hallowe'en? Follow these, and similar, suggestions, the Council recommends:

1. Light your porch if there's any chance of a visit from trick-or-treaters Saturday evening. An excited youngster is ripe for a tumble in the dark.

2. Make sure your yard isn't an obstacle course for children. Cover excavations. Tie strips of white cloth to temporary fences around shrubbery or newly seeded grass.

3. If you have a dog, keep it secured. The strange sights and sounds of youngsters dressed up to look like ghosts and goblins could excite it—with dire results.

"Keep Hallowe'en happy," the Council advised. "Don't let a needless accident spoil some child's fun."

Old Time Cars in State Fair Exhibit

A nostalgic exhibition of antique automobiles, like this marvelous old 1914 Packard touring car, will be a feature of the 1959 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 9-25. Each of the vintage autos has been painstakingly restored to its original running condition.

property damage. Worse still, there was some loss of life.

Often accompanying such sequences is contamination of rural wells. Heavy flooding invariably deposits surface contamination into such wells. To remedy the situation, certain steps must be taken. The well should first of all be thoroughly pumped out to remove all sediment.

Next the well should be treated with a suitable chlorine-type disinfectant. Local health departments will recommend the one that is best for a particular situation.

After the chlorine compound is deposited the water should be circulated so that the chlorine solution reaches every part of the water system. Well, pump, all water lines, spigots—every where should be thoroughly disinfected by circulation and recirculation.

Following treatment the well and water system can then be flushed to remove the excess chlorine from the system.

In 72 hours, samples should be taken and sent to the local or State Health Department for testing to determine that all of the contamination has been removed.

If any contamination is present, the entire process should be repeated.

Other post-flood measures should include ridding the premises of all possible mosquito breeding sites. Every possible container should be emptied or turned over. Not a single possible water catcher should be overlooked.

Mosquitoes can cause diseases such as encephalitis (sleeping sickness) and should not be permitted to breed on your premises.

All eating and drinking utensils should be disinfected also.

his sister in 30 years.

Insurance Companies Finance Needs Of Property Owners; Many Types Of Loans

Texas property owners had $3,926,142,000 of their mortgage financing needs extended to them by the life insurance companies of the country at the start of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. These real estate loans covered 384,190 individual mortgages in the state and represented an increase of $2,348,219,000 since 1950.

"During the past decade of record construction, especially in the housing field, mortgage debt has tripled," the Institute commented. "The life insurance dollars of the nation's 112,000,000 legal reserve life insurance policyholders have played an important role in providing the necessary financing for this gigantic housing job. During 1958, new mortgage financing extended by the life companies to property owners in the United States totaled $5,200,000,000. This was up slightly from the year before and $350,000,000 more than in 1950."

For the country as a whole, the total funds on loan by the life insurance companies to property owners in the U. S. increased 128 percent in the eight years since 1950 and stood at $36,368,619,000 at the start of 1959. The number of mortgages rose in these years by 1,277,590, and reached 3,002,730 on January 1.

Last year's increase in mortgages held throughout the country by the life companies was 46,050 in number, $1,778,454,000 in amount.

The mortgage financing countrywide outstanding with the life insurance companies has increased 450 percent since the end of World War II, the thirteen year increase amounting to nearly $30,000,000,000. Currently, 70 percent of the life insurance mortgage financing outstanding is on non-farm housing.

Of the total mortgages outstanding in Texas with the life companies at the start of this year, 19,450 for $288,955,000 were on farms, 110,450 for $808,283,000 were on non-farm FHA insured homes; 112,600 for $765,539,000 were on non-farm properties under guarantee by the Veterans Administration; and 142,090 for $2,963,365,000 were on other non-farm properties. The last classification included both urban housing and commercial properties, directly financed by the companies.

ies under conventional mortgages. For the United States as a whole, the life companies showed $2,655,800,000 extended under 212,680 farm mortgages; $7,376,654,000 under 860,990 non-farm FHA mortgages; $7,328,236,000 under 910,590 non-farm VA mortgages; and $18,907,929,000 under 1,018,470 conventional non-farm mortgages.

In addition to the real estate loans on United States properties, these life companies had $692,967,000 of mortgages on properties in Canada and other areas where they do business, bringing total mortgage investment to $37,061,586,000 on 3,065,350 mortgages.

Johnsongrass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock, warns Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Frost damaged Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry.

HERE'S WHAT MAKES the CORVAIR REVOLUTIONARY

Short and sweet! Engine's in the rear—where it belongs in a compact car. With more weight on rear wheels, you get extra road-gripping traction for cornering and driving on ice, mud or snow. Also, by avoiding nose-heaviness of front-engine compact cars, Corvair handles easier, brakes better, rides smoother. Styling of both 4-door models is clean and uncluttered... as fresh and functional as modern architecture.

Unipack Power Team

Engine, transmission and drive gears are neatly wrapped in one lightweight package. Takes less space, leaves you more.

UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER

Body and frame are combined into a single rigidly constructed unit that reduces Corvair's weight, enlarges its passenger space.

Practically FLAT FLOOR

Corvair is America's only compact car with a virtually flat floor that gives you full 6-passenger comfort. For extra space, folding rear seat* converts easily to make room for 17.6 cu. ft. of cargo. *Optional at extra cost.

TRUNK'S UP FRONT

Lots of luggage space under the hood, where it's convenient for groceries, packages.

NEARLY 3 FEET SHORTER

Corvair's almost 5 inches lower, 1,300 pounds lighter, too. Its compact size makes it a joy to jockey through traffic, a pleasure to park. No need for power assists.

AIR COOLED

You never have to fuss with antifreeze. Turbo-Air 6 warms up quicker, with less wear on parts. Air-plane-type heater* goes to work almost instantly. *Optional at extra cost.

Revolutionary Rear Engine

works small miracles with mileage. It's the world's first production 6 with the ultra-smooth power of horizontally opposed pistons.

4-Wheel Independent Suspension

Springs at each wheel cushion bumps independently of each other for a ride that rivals much costlier cars.

...and the most practical thing of all is Corvair's LOW PRICE!

Know-How Sparks 4-H Club Program

"Give a boy a job he can do, add someone to show him how, and you'll have the makings of a 4-H Club," declares Norman C. Mindrum, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago.

Pictured above is a trio of younger club members intent on learning from a junior leader the intricacies of building a bird house. These 4-H'ers, says Mr. Mindrum, are like thousands throughout the state working on projects ranging from leadership to crops. Altogether there are more than 50 different programs in which boys and girls can enroll, he reports. All are planned to increase know-how and improve skills.

"More than two million young people today are learning how to do a better job through 4-H training," says Mr. Mindrum, "and they have a chance to compete for honors and awards. In the process the youth develop character, citizenship, responsibility and good sportsmanship."

The 4-H Club programs are administered by the Cooperative Extension Service, the state land grant colleges and universities, and the USDA. However, awards and much project training material are provided by leading business concerns and private individuals, according to Mr. Mindrum. The role of the National Committee is to arrange for this support and see that it is channeled in the best interests of the Extension Service and 4-H.

Individual awards now include college scholarships, U.S. savings bonds, wrist watches and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago Nov. 29 through Dec. 3. Winners are selected by the Extension Service on a state, sectional and national basis.

Among the award donors this year are: Ford Motor Company, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, International Harvester Company, Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation, The Oliver Corporation, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Allied Chemical Corporation, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, Eli Lilly and Company, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, and Edward Foss Wilson.

Also, Moorman Mfg. Co., California Spray-Chemical Corporation, Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company, Ralston Purina Company, Sunbeam Corporation, Livestock Conservation, Inc., Massey-Ferguson, Inc., Pure Oil Company, Conrad Hilton Hotel, Elgin National Watch Company, Chicago and North Western Railway, Santa Fe Railway, Chicago Board of Trade, Cities Service Oil Company, Cudahy Packing Company.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Predicts Russia's Space Work Will Fall Off As Installment Buying Shows Increase

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek believes he has discovered a fatal error by the Russians, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:
I've got other things to worry about which I haven't gotten around to worrying about yet, without spending too much time worrying about the Russians, but since everybody else seems to be concerned about them and what they're up to, I think it should be a public service to point out anything we can find that indicates the Russians aren't perfect and a race of supermen.

Well, I have now found a chink in their bobwire fence, if you want to put it in modern terms. According to a small item on an inside page of a newspaper

Paducah Rips Munday Moguls

The Paducah Dragons out-manned the Munday Moguls, 32 to 0, last Friday night in a District 11 A game at Paducah.

Paducah now stands 2-1 in district play, and has a 3-3 season record. Munday has lost all six of her season's games.

Paducah's first TD was made when fullback Doyle Beauchamp intercepted a pass from Jerry Jetton and raced 10 yards.

Halfback Johnny Worley was the next Dragon to score when he went over from the 21-yard line. This climaxed a 71-yard drive.

Paducah started its second quarter scoring when end Gene Heatly blocked Jetton's punt on the five. The ball rolled into the end zone and Heatly recovered for the TD. Wade Cowart kicked the extra point.

Beauchamp ran over the goal from left tackle for 17 yards just before the half ended. This climaxed an 88-yard drive. Cowart again kicked the extra point.

Final Paducah tally was made by halfback James Hanks when he went over left tackle from the one-yard line.

The Moguls threatened in the third period when driving to the Paducah 17, but losing there on downs.
