Look To The East

By Aaron Edgar

Nepotism.
You know, most of us have words pushed to far back in our vocabularies that we don't use them much. Therefore, they kinda seem like a foreign language when they crop out. So it is with that word "nepotism!"

We knew it existed, but nobody paid a whole lot of attention to it, so it was just a harmless little word stuck in there to help fill up the dictionary. Now, nearly every child is familiar with the word. So are a lot of legislators!

We were kinda that way with Sharpstown, too. But look what a mess it got a batch of people into.

Then, too, we had always looked upon the word "Tussey" as the brand of some sort of beautiful cream that the ladies used--without having to call on the ladies for help. Guests passed by and served themselves cafeteria style, and the men did the kitchen chores later.

The influence of Mr. Samuel J. Tussey, who they said operated a chain of success clubs in Texas cities, permeated Abilene, and some of it rubbed off in the Munday area. Now, we don't think of a cleansing cream when we hear "Tussey."

Not all are get rich quick schemes, we reckon, but most were designed to replenish the till.

The most disappointing to us is nepotism.

Earlier in the year, during the Sharpstown cloudburst, we had expressed concern over the fact that redistricting had thrown Senators Jack Hightower and David Ratliff into the same district. We remember quite well saying that both men "had kept their noses clean" in this Sharpstown mess and that both had enviable and outstanding records in Austin.

So, you can see how our disappointment ran rife when this word, nepotism, began to assert itself. Somehow, we held on to the belief, or hope, that David Ratliff would weather the storm in good shape.

Then he resigned! It seems that he'd kept his nose clean on one side, but messed it up good on the other. Our ideas of an ideal exploded.

They kept digging around in this nepotism compost pile until they unearthed some other political figures. This resulted in Gov. Preston Smith offering the remark that "maybe Ber Barnes and Sissy Parenthold should resign."

They took the spading fork and pried deeper into the compost pile, coming up with the information that Gov. Smith had hired Speaker Rayford Price's wife in 1965. This brought us to this conclusion:

If you want to steer clear of this viper, nepotism, don't hire anybody's kinfolks. Figure that out, and you've got it made! We can't. Everybody we know seems to have kinpeople--so guess we'll just stay out of politics.

As many skeletons as they're pulling out of closets during this campaign, though, we might do well to have a brief fling as politics. Cleaning the skeletons out might make more closet room for storing other things!

This mess won't last much longer now. Come Saturday, the mudslingers and the mud have just about another month to go.

We reckon you are going to vote Saturday, aren't you? That's the best time in the world to talk politics--during the primary election. You won't have to say it with words--just say it with a pencil! At the polling place, we mean.

One candidate has come out with the admonition to "clean up the mess in Austin." It's a mess we're in, all right. Surely you'll want to help clean it up--that is, if you can find out where to start! Say "howdy do!" at the polls!

OUR TURN NOW: These ladies seem to be saying that as they were the ones being honored by Masons last Thursday night. They are, from left, Mrs. M. L. Raynes, Mrs. J. C. McGee of Knox City, Mrs. Joe B. Roberts, Mrs. E. Y. Johnson and Mrs. Joe Lane.

Masons Honor Ladies

It was "turn about" for the ladies last Thursday night!

Every year, ladies of the Order of Eastern Star, have a special program honoring members of the Masonic Lodge. Thursday night, it was the Masons honoring their ladies.

The event was promoted by members of Knox Lodge No. 851, AF&AM, and the men prepared the dinner--as nearly as possible--without having to call on the ladies for help. Guests passed by and served themselves cafeteria style, and the men did the kitchen chores later.

E. Y. Johnson, who is known for his ability in juggling the coals of fire and applying barbecue sauce, was asked to volunteer as a cook. He prepared

To Voters Of Knox County

Dear Voter,

The single most important vote you may cast, in this democratic primary, may be a vote for your present county law enforcement organization, your Sheriff's department.

In these days of higher crime rates in cities, it is inevitable that smaller towns will be the next target. To be sure crime does not gain a foothold in this county, you need an experienced Sheriff, to head county law enforcement.

I, have served as Sheriff of Knox County for eleven years. I am a proven law officer, a capable officer, who deals fairly with all, and will continue to do so if re-elected.

Give serious thought, before casting your ballot. Your vote will be appreciated, H. C. Stone, Knox County Sheriff For Re-election

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cutbirth of Abilene and Mary Eva Rigsoy of Ruidoso, N.M., visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Booe Jr. visited Sunday with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Melton in Peaster.

Goree Church To Show Graham Film "His Land"

Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place.

This begins "His Land," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times, which will be shown at 8 p.m. Friday, May 5, at the First Baptist Church in Goree.

This one-hour color feature motion picture takes you on a ed a batch of delicious barbecued chicken, someone else fixed the salad and stuff, and an appetizing meal was ready, come 7:30 p.m.

M. L. Raynes, master of the lodge, rapped on a kitchen utensil for attention, then expressed his appreciation for the attendance. He said he learned that nobody can do things by himself, and he thanks all who had a hand in promoting the event.

Then followed some "pop-up" talks--you know, when different people pop in the group and say a few words.

Everyone was "cautioned" to do just what he wanted to. A good many decided they wanted to sing. Mrs. M. L. Raynes presided at the piano, and a real songfest was held. This continued until all work in the kitchen was done, and folks were ready to go home.

Between 40 and 50 people attended--and had a wonderful time!

Former Business Man Of Munday Promoted By Southwestern Life

A former Munday businessman has been named to a vice-president's post with Southwestern Life Insurance Company at Dallas.

Winston Blacklock, 50, who owned and operated retail establishments in Munday for 10 years during the 1940s and '50s, was named vice-president and director of general agencies. He is responsible for recruiting and developing general agents throughout Southwestern Life's operating territory, which consists of 35 states plus the District of Columbia.

Dr. Mack Fuqua and Glen Ray Howell were in Albany last Friday to present a program on activities of the Munday Vegetable Research Center at the regular weekly luncheon of the Albany Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Fuqua made a short talk outlining different projects of the local research center, while Mr. Howell showed interesting picture slides of the different types and varieties of vegetables grown and studied since the center has been in operation. Interested people asked numerous questions regarding the research work.

The local men were accompanied by Aaron Edgar, who visited his nephew, Ed L. Edgar, who is manager of the Albany office of West Texas Utilities Co.

Journey along the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets: Galilee, the wilderness, Jerusalem, the Mount of Olives, and you'll mingle with the people of modern Israel as they work, play and build a nation. The film will feature Cliff Richard, England's popular star who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs.

"His Land" is truly a feast of color, sound and song--an unforgettable experience. The public is urged to see this inspirational film.

For Pete's Sake Film To Be At Baptist Church

"For Pete's Sake!", a film credited as "unique in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of people, will be shown on Monday, May 8 at the First Baptist Church in Munday.

The full-length, comedy-drama, filmed in brilliant Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:45 p.m., and is open to the public at no admission charge.

Filmed entirely on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies, this is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again, to face life anew.

The film has been cited by one critic as "the perfect mixture -- it's drama at its boldest, comedy at its lightest, and action at its liveliest. It is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties."

"For Pete's Sake!" stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in "The Restless Ones", Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well-known for her Broadway appearances and television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by H. B. Graves Jr., who has made arrangements for this special showing of "For Pete's Sake!"

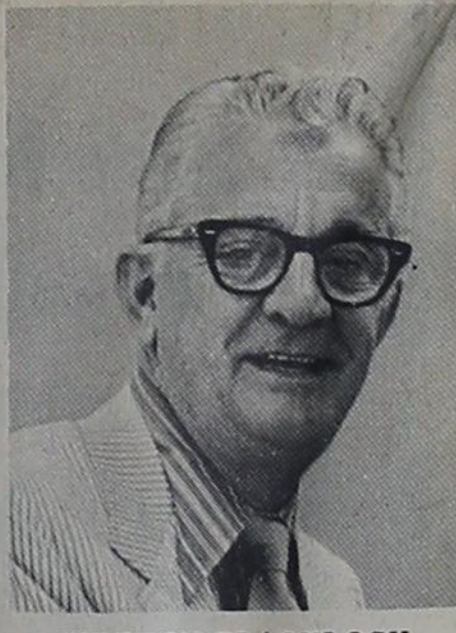

Small Grain Field Tour May 10th

Twenty-five varieties of small grains will be observed Wednesday, May 10, on the Knox County small grain field tour at Munday and Knox City, according to County Agent Herman H. Collier.

Dr. Dale Lovelace, area Extension agronomist from Vernon, will be on hand to discuss varieties.

The tour will start from the Shamrock Cafe in Munday at 8:50 a.m., May 10 with the first stop being the Edwin K. Johnson farm 3/4 mile north of the Johnson Cemetery. This trial was seeded by personnel of the Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Station, cooperating with Mr. Johnson and the county agent.

The second stop of the tour will leave from the City Cafe in Knox City at 10:45 a.m. (Continued on Page 2)

WINSTON BLACKLOCK

A native of Munday, Blacklock graduated from high school here and attended Tarleton State College. He was a Southwestern Life agent in Munday from 1954 through '57 and since then has served the company at Longview, New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., and Dallas.

The new vice-president and his wife, Flo, reside at 6211 W. Northwest Highway in Dallas.

Blacklock is a past president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, and Country Club.

Turbulent Weather Tantalizes People

Two particular types of people have been keeping their eyes peeled weatherwise, as brief periods of turbulence have been playing havoc with them.

These are the farmers--particularly wheat farmers--and those who are scared of tornadoes.

Wednesday, April 26, was an example of how tantalizing the weather can be. During the mid-afternoon an angry cloud formed, caused the storm warning to be sounded, and sent people scurrying to cellars.

Deputy Pete Hatfield, who was keeping an eye on the cloud radioed from the Earl McNeill place that hail the size of golf balls was pounding his vehicle. Later, his car looked like it had been beaten with a ball-peen hammer.

The hail almost wiped out McNeill's small grain crop, as

Large Turnout Expected For Primary Election Saturday

The political pot is gonna boil over, come Saturday, if not before!

It's been getting hotter and hotter, as hopefuls in the county, district and state levels are nearing the end of the campaign trails. They'll soon still their tongues, retreat into the background, and watch the election returns as they start coming in.

Two of the most heated races statewide are those of Governor of Texas, and Attorney General, although others have become warmed up lately.

Of principal interest to Knox county are two races which will likely be the "drawing card" to get voters to the polls Saturday. These are the three-way races of District Judge of the 50th Judicial District, and Sheriff of Knox County.

A complete list of offices and candidates filed with Colthins Moorhouse, county Democratic chairman, follow:

For Congress, 13th district: Graham Purcell.

For State Senator, 30th district: Jack Hightower.

For State Representative, 101st district: W.H. (Bill) Heatly.

For District Judge, 50th judicial district: Joe Redder, Jr., R.J. (Judson) Bajer, D.J. (Bill) Brookreson.

For Sheriff, H. C. Stone, Don Frank McAuley.

For County Attorney: D. Burnett.

For Tax Assessor-Coll: John A. Smith.

For Democratic Chairman: Collins Moorhouse.

For Member State Board of Education: Herbert D. Willis of Potter County.

For Commissioner, Precinct One: J. V. (Bud) Carver.

For Commissioner, Precinct Three: R. C. Daniel.

For Constable, Precinct Four: Raymond L. Franklin.

For Constable, Precinct Five: Leroy Davis.

For Constable, Precinct Six: J. T. Whitworth.

Precinct chairmen for the various voting precincts in the county are as follows:

Benjamin, Clara Sue Glover; Fruscott, J. T. Adcock; Gilliland, Dolph Martin; Vera, Carl Coulston; Goree, S. C. Roberts; South Munday, W. R. Moore, Jr.; North Munday, open; Rhineland, C. H. Herling Sr.; James Partridge, Harold Partridge; South Knox City, Abe Watson; North Knox City, Doyle Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Anderson picked up Mrs. Andy Anderson and Rob in Dallas last Sunday and brought them here for a weeks visit with them and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, while Andy is attending an accounting school in Chicago, Ill.

Sale Of Bonds Slow In March

In releasing Treasury figures, County Bond Chairman M.L. Wiggins announced that sales of United States Savings Bonds in Knox County during March totaled $10,670. During the first quarter of 1972, sales were $44,018 for 28 percent of goal achieved.

Texans purchased $18,288,542 in Savings Bonds during the month compared to March 1971 sales of $17,180,080 -- an increase of 6 percent. Quarterly sales totaled $56,927,138 for 28 percent of the state's goal of $202.3 Million.

National sales of E and H Bonds amounting to $582 Million were reported for March, 13.3 percent above 1971 sales of $513 Million. Sales for the three-month period totaled $1,640 Million -- 31 percent of the National goal of $5.3 Billion.

performing "Light My Fire," "Gypsies, Tramps, and Thieves", "What the World Needs Now", and "Help Me Make It Through The Night." Each song will express this year's theme of "Love, Peace, and Happiness."

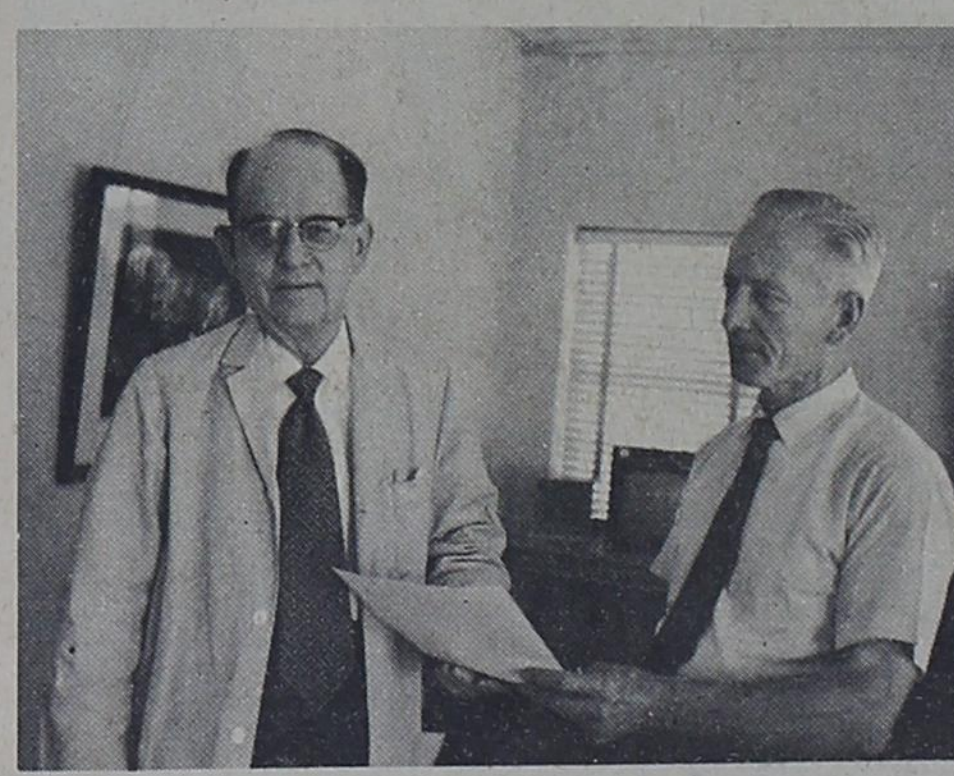

The recipient of the John Phillip Sousa Band Award will be announced during the proceedings. Our nominees this year are LaVerne Fetsch, Mary Kane, and Kathy Nix.

Tickets for the performance are available from any bandmen or at the door. Prices: Adults - $1.50, Students - 75¢. All proceeds will go to the Band Boosters for the purchase of new instruments and other equipment.

Sewing Fair At Knox City

Home sewing is of prime importance to homemakers these days, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service wants them to have the latest information. According to Mrs. Elaine Carmichael, Home Demonstration Agent, eight counties in this section of the state will do their part to teach the latest clothing construction. (Continued on Page 2)

Because of his dedicated service to people of his community, and especially to the elderly people, some 20 units of the new construction for the Munday Housing Authority will be named for Munday's beloved physician, Dr. R. L. Newsom.

Hearing some expressions from interested parties during recent months, the executive director and commissioners of the Munday Housing Authority decided after several discussions that the 20 units being constructed for senior citizens of this area should so honor Dr. Newsom. These units will be named "Newsom Homes" in appreciation of Dr. Newsom's dedication to duty in ministering to "his people," in this area. Many of those who will occupy "Newsom Homes" will be persons to whom Dr. Newsom has brought comfort and his "knowledge of healing" during the almost 40 years he has practiced medicine in this area.

Those connected with the local housing authority met with Dr. Newsom in his office at 3 p.m. Thursday, April 27, and informed him of their desire to so name the units. They presented him a resolution, which read:

"You have been so kind and generous of your time in seeing to the needs and ailments of the 'elderly' of our community, as well as those of all other age groups, so the Board of Commissioners of the Munday Housing Authority wish to do you the honor of naming the elderly units of Project TEX-120-2 "Newsom Homes."

"We hope that our action meets with your approval. The elderly of this community join us in congratulating you on a job well done in caring for our many needs."

This was signed by Winters Matthews, executive director; H. C. Hughes, chairman of commissioners and J. H. Amerston, Richie Smith, Aaron Edgler and Dorse Collins, commissioners.

In his acceptance of this action, Dr. Newsom said: "This is a very great honor, and I appreciate it very much."

Thus a community honors one who is devoting his life to bringing healing and relief to the ill and suffering humanity of his home town.

and proceed to the District Judge Joe A. Reeder farm 4 miles north and 1/4 mile west of Knox City. This demonstration was established with Mr. Charlie Herring Cooperating with the county agent.
Wheat, oats, barley, rye and Triticale varieties will be observed. All interested persons are invited to make the tour.

Some remained there until after midnight.
During the two periods, Munday received a total of .54 of an inch of rain and very little hail.
The northern part of the county reported heavy rain Wednesday night, ranging a between four and five inches in the Truscott-Gilliland area. Hail did considerable damage to crops around Gilliland, and water sent the South Wichita River out of its banks for a while.
Everybody, we guess, needs the rain--but nobody needs the hail. One wheat farmer remarked Thursday: "I don't want a rain. I don't want anything until this wheat crop is gathered. We're getting too much hail with these clouds."

Farmers who reported hail damage in Wednesday's afternoon's storm, which cut a swath from southwest of Munday to the Goree area, are as follows:
Toby Yates, Vernal Zeissel, Don Bowman, John Earl Nelson, Wendell Partridge, Bobby Owens, Earl McNeill, E.D. Earle, Bill Goode, J. D. Hicks and Tommy Greenwood.

SEWING FAIR

ion. This is part of the campaign to move Sewing Fairs Across Texas.
The new method of teaching started in the large metropolitan shopping centers. Now it is being moved out by County Home Demonstration Agents and their Family Living Committees.

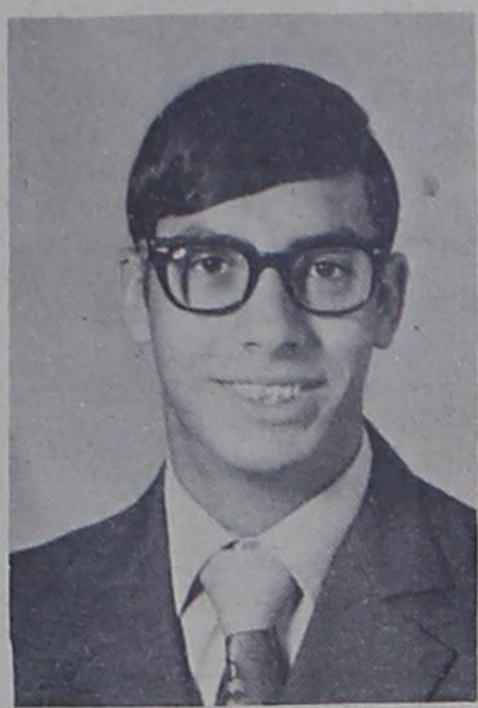

The Masonic Hall in Knox City will be the scene, May 4, for the Knox County Sew Fair. The times are 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Demonstrations will be given by a commercial company representative clothing specialist for the Extension Service and County Home Demonstration Agents.

Program titles include "Synthetic Fabrics--Selection and Care" by Roxanne Schnorr, Clothing Specialist; "Fashion Tailoring with Polyester Pellon" by Eileen Foley with Pellon Corporation; "Pressing" by Barbara Elliott, Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent; and "Men's Fashion" by Elaine Carmichael, Knox County Home Demonstration Agent.

Exhibits will be on display and homemakers will have the opportunity to register for Fact Sheets and Bulletins to help them as they begin to practice what they have learned.

The old saying is that "clothes make the woman" but with retail sales zooming, the saying might become "women are making the clothes". Recent surveys reveal that two out of every seven garments worn by women and children are made at home. Thus, enthusiasm runs high as Extension Sew Fairs spring up in District III of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Let's Elect

Don Daniel SHERIFF Of Knox County

Some businessmen and citizens of Munday, who are deeply interested in our county affairs, have made a thorough investigation of Don Daniel, and we believe him to be well qualified to be our next sheriff.

He is 31 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel of Truscott. He is married to the former Margaret Bullion, daughter of Clyde Bullion, who served as county commissioner for ten years, and they have three sons, Duane 14, Jerry Bob 13, and Michael 12. He and his family are active in church work, and other affairs of the community and county. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Daniel has conducted his campaign on a high level, has not talked of his opponent's personal affairs in order to get votes; which, we think, is the way a race should be conducted.

Don Daniel has promised he will devote his full time to the office of sheriff, will co-operate with other law enforcement officers of our county and area, as well as representatives of the Cattle Raisers Association. This, we believe, is very important in these times.

We firmly believe your vote for Don Daniel will never be regretted.

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

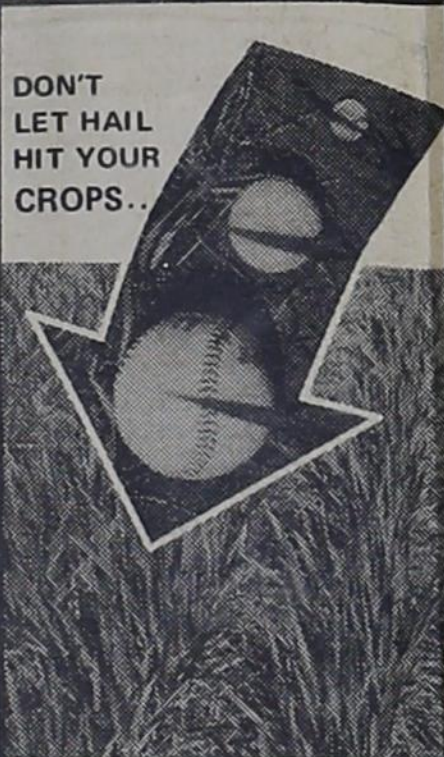

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And you get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For love's sake.

texture, calcium carbonate content of the soil and probably several others.

Practically speaking it is not always possible to apply herbicides for brush control under optimum conditions, but one should strive for the best conditions possible within reason.
Theoretically the mesquite should be actively growing, the plants should be just past full bloom with small pods developing and the trees in the stand fairly uniform as to stage of development. In addition, the plants should have turned from a light green to a dark green color. This usually occurs about 40 days after initiation of spring growth.

Soil conditions will influence results obtained. Mesquite root kills have been best on sandy sandy loam soils and poorest on heavy clay soils. This may be partially a function of soil temperature. For best results soil temperature at 12-18 inch depth at time of spraying should be about 75 degrees or higher. As a rule clay soils are slower to warm up in the spring than are the sandier soils. If you wait until soil temperature reaches 75 degrees or higher then range areas with heavy textured soils should be sprayed a little later in the spring than the sandy soils.

Weather conditions at time of herbicide application are extremely important. Both the physiology of the plant and the physical application of chemical are involved. Herbicide applied early in the day when the air is humid and cool has been more effective than herbicides applied up in the day after temperatures rise and humidity decreases. This may be partially a function of getting the herbicide to the plant. The percentage of herbicide delivered to the target in a diesel oil-water emulsion varies from 40-80% and is affected by temperature and humidity.

When you spend your money and apply herbicides for brush control and range improvement take time to see that it is applied properly. For assistance brush control programs contact your county agricultural agent.

the feed nutrition position a few weeks ago said, "The aim of every wheat grower is to work toward prices so high relative to the amount is trending upward."

Research Center Has Variety Trial Tests In Area

The Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Station in Munday in cooperation with Herman Collier, Knox County Agent, and two local farmers, Kenneth Baker and Edwin Johnson has planted variety trial tests of wheat, oats, barley, triticale and Dekalb 9290. The tests were planted on Nov. 5 and Nov. 12 on the C. P. Baker farm and Edwin Johnson farm respectively. Thirteen varieties of wheat, two varieties of triticale, seven varieties of rye, one variety of barley and five varieties of oats on the Johnson place and eight varieties on the Baker place were planted. Dekalb 9290 was not planted on the Edwin Johnson farm.

One clipping was made for forage yields on both tests.
Protein content was determined on selected samples. Date of heading was recorded for all varieties. Grain yields on a per acre basis will be determined.
A report of all results will be available when all tests have been completed.

Signs have been used to identify the different varieties in each test. Anyone interested is welcome to inspect the plots.

Wonder Of The Week

By GAT RODGERS

The person said to be to world's greatest trencherman (person who consumes large amounts of food) is "Bozo" Miller of San Francisco. He once entered a restaurant and ordered 27 whole fried chickens! Each weighed over two pounds. He cheerfully ate every tidbit in front of the large crowd that had gathered there.

But even Mr. Miller's records do not match those of persons suffering from the rare disease of bulimia. It has been noted that children with the disease sometimes eat over 300 pounds a week!

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Curd and children of Arlington visited Mrs. Beatrice Hutchinson over the weekend.

last Wednesday to flood the stock tanks, creeks, and back yards of those in Truscott and Gilliland. Over four inches was reported in many cases. Those who had cellars were in them as the wind and hail proceeded to wreck havoc in wheat fields.

On the Dugat Creek watershed, when the force of trash took out one fence, it washed down and hung on a second which then gave way to the water and debris and sent a wave down to the next fence.

Water marks are at least six feet high near where the creek crosses a county road. This creek was the highest it has been in many years. China Creek water mark was only exceeded in recent years by the time it rained 2 inches in twenty minutes. After the Dugat Creek flow joined China Creek the water spread deep and wide, going up over all the China Creek bridges and damaging fences all the way to the North Wichita River. Newell Looney said the water came across his land "like a wall". He believes he lost a calf in the flood.

West of Truscott, at Antelope Flat, Charles Carroll reported less than 2 inches of rain. The tanks in the Antelope Flat-Good Creek area are still low, even after a 2 inch rain Saturday night. West of town all spillways were running Sunday. *****

Bill's Blabbin

By Bill Bowley

Believe you me we were deeply hurt last week when we walked to the rear to do a little proofing and saw above our column, which was left out the week before, the words "left out last week for more important news".

Of course we pitched our little fit, and that utterly devastating imphish and mean co-worker, Cheryl, of ours nearly got down with laughter. She had planned the whole thing and could hardly wait for us to find it.

She takes a delight in needing us, and we can't understand why because we are always so nice to her. Well nearly always. Sometimes we only make up things to tell her to get her upset, but that strikes our funny bone as she sure can get in a dither.

We would blame it on old age if we hadn't been this way all our lives. When we get to sleep, especially at night, and someone calls us, we forget what they say or else fit it in with our dreams and whenever know which is which.

So if you call us from our deep sleep, and we fail to do what you tell us, please forgive us and try us when we are awake. It is real embarrassing sometimes to be confronted with facts when we had attributed them to dreams.

Guess as how we will survive, but we are going to suffer until we get used to this new time. We think the reason why it bothers us so much, is the fact that it exists. We are early risers, so we know that is not what grips us. We have decided we are nothing in the world but gripsers anyway. Yeah we know you will agree to that, so that makes it unanimous. -123456789-

Home is where the heart is.

You know the feeling. The familiar things that make a home or even a hometown just a little bit different. In fact, how many times have you said there's no place like home?

This same unique feeling can even hold true of your hometown merchants. There's really no one else like them.

So why go elsewhere for your business or personal needs? For instance, at Olney Savings, our lending and savings rates are competitive with rates of any association anywhere. The same holds true for our services. When you're ready to add that third bedroom, or redo the kitchen, check into an Olney Savings home improvement loan.

And when you do, you'll see an added bonus in doing business with Olney Savings. You will be served by your friends and neighbors, not to mention that your money will be working for you at home.

Why not drop by Olney Savings today and give us a chance to show you there really is no one else like us. Because home is where our heart is.

BANDSMEN AWARD NOMINEES

JR. HIGH BAND CONCERT
On Tuesday night the Munday Jr. High Band gave their annual Spring Concert. The performance was well attended by many parents and students. The high point of the concert was the announcement of the winner of Jr. High outstanding Bandsman award. The three Bands-men nominated were Cindy Brown, Phyllis Hutchinson, and Susan Stewart. The winner was Cindy Brown. David Huff, Band Director, presented the plaque. The Band will be going to a contest for Jr. High Bands on May 13, at Iowa Park to conclude a very busy and rewarding year.

DERYL BRUGGEMAN
A friendly and admirable lad, is the one pictured above. The many happy times he's had, Are those he greatly loved.

This guy has been in a couple of good ones, Like the time he lit up a box of fireworks; Afterwords getting in trouble wasn't any fun, As it was while seeing flying sparks.

Deryl hasn't yet made up his mind, What he wants to do or be; For a while a good job he'll try to find, College? Let's just wait and see.

NOMINATED FOR The John Phillip Sousa Award are: LaVerne Fetsch, Mary Kane, and Kathy Nix.

Instead of going to college in September, She plans to go in May; To Texas Tech starting this summer, Where many happy times will come her way.

Each of these 4-H'ers are to be commended for their hard work and good showing.

Questions and Answers

Q. When I became 65 recently, I signed up for Medicare. Can I use this coverage for all doctors and hospitals?

A. You can of course go to any physician of your choice. Most hospitals participate in Medicare, but not all. Any social security office can tell you whether a hospital participates in Medicare.

Q. I will be 72 next month and I am still working. I know that I can collect my full social security benefits and still keep on working after my 72nd birthday. But will my employer also stop deducting social security contributions out of my weekly pay checks starting next month?

A. No. Regardless of your age, as long as you continue to work in employment covered by social security you pay social security contributions.

Q. I would like to take my young son to a social security office and get him a social security card. Does he have to be a certain age?

A. No. There is no minimum age for getting a social security card.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the phone number and address of the nearest social security office.

R-PEP Alfalfa Hay Producers In New Directory

Vernon -- It's a big Rolling Plains business getting bigger, that of producing and selling alfalfa hay.

And a directory of producers has just been released by the executive committee of the Rolling Plains Economic Program, or R-PEP, as it is now widely called.

Said R-PEP Chairman H. H. duce annually in parts of the Rolling Plains because the hay is extremely important to the success of the beef cattle business in our area.

"The directory, intended only as a convenience for the producers and the buyers, was prepared with help of Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service personnel."

In the directory, being distributed by county agricultural agents, are the names, the addresses and the telephone numbers of 120 producers in these counties: Baylor, Clay, Cottle, Dickens, Fisher, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Mitchell, Motley, Wichita and Wilbarger.

Tommy's 8 and he's still collecting Social Security

... and he has been ever since his father died.

If something should happen to you, your family is protected, too, under social security's survivors program. It provides regular monthly checks until children reach the age of 18. Or 22 if they stay in school.

If you think social security helps when you retire, you're right. But it's also something you can depend on now.

For more information, contact any social security office.

$15 Million Is Invested In Pollution Control

Intalco Aluminum Corporation has announced completion of the first stage in a comprehensive pollution control program entailing expenditures in excess of $15 million over a two-year period at its Ferndale, Washington, primary smelter. Intalco is jointly owned by Howmet Corporation and AMAX (American Metal Climax, Inc.).

The overall pollution control program, which involves ultimate complete treatment of all effluent air and water, is the first such comprehensive modernization of facilities known at an operating aluminum smelter.

Consumers Want to Know

by MARGARET SPADER
Director of Consumer Affairs
National Association of Manufacturers

I'd like some advice about locating a reliable TV repair service. Is there any way to check them out before entrusting your set to an unqualified technician?

It's probably too late now, but at time of purchase, ask about franchised or service agencies approved by the manufacturer of the set and be sure you understand the terms of the warranty. If your set is an old one, check the yellow pages of the telephone book, call a distributor of the brand of TV you own and ask for a recommendation. You might also check the experiences of friends or neighbors; they may know of someone in your neighborhood. Should you be attracted to an ad offering low prices for check-ups and repairs, call the Better Business Bureau for its file report. Repair persons who trick unwary consumers usually show up in complaint records. It's a good idea to always check the reputation of a repair shop and ask for a written estimate.

What can consumers do about dishonest advertising? When you feel that a product doesn't meet advertising claims, speak to the retailer or drop a postcard to the manufacturer. Most businesses work hard to earn customer goodwill. If their products are to be successful, your second, third and fourth purchases are important and it would be shortsighted to antagonize consumers on their first purchase.

Can a Veterans Administration loan be arranged for a mobile home?

Yes, mobile-home purchase contracts are eligible for both Veterans Administration and Federal Housing Administration loan guarantees.

Interest Shown In Roadside Erosion Over Knox County

Interest continues on the roadside erosion control project in Knox County reports Arche Lieb of the Soil Conservation Service. Work on this special project, sponsored by the Wichita Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District, Agricultural Stabilization Conservations Service County Committee and Knox County Commissioners Court, began in March of this year. To date twenty-six applications for assistance have been received by the A.S.C.S. office in Knox City. Projects have been completed on the Vic Thomas, A. C. Tackett and J. C. Elliott farms. Work is under way on Ora McCullough, Howell Estate, and League Ranch projects. Five more projects have been designed and are ready for construction. This special Rural Environmental Assistance project will improve our roads system, curtail silt pollution and protect cropland along county roads from water erosion. Roadside erosion project money is now available from the A.S.C.S. at 80% cost sharing. If there is a roadside erosion problem near your farm, you are urged to request assistance from this program.

Bethania Hospital Dedication Slated

Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls will dedicate new hospital facilities in civic dedication ceremonies to be held May 7 at 2:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend the civic dedication, which will be held on Eleventh Street in front of the hospital. The dedication will climax a $5.25 million construction and renovation project which began in September of 1969, and includes the addition of four floors providing 100 additional beds for the hospital.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q Since my son took a part time job between school semesters, he has been paying me $5 a week for room and board. Does this count toward support he furnished when I figure out whether or not I can claim him as a dependent?

A) Yes. Any amount your son spends on such items as food, shelter, clothing, education, medical and dental care, etc., counts toward his support. However, if the actual amount spent by you for his room and board exceeds $5 a week, that excess counts as support you furnished for your son. For more information on dependency exemptions write your IRS district office for a free copy of Publication 501, "Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents."

Q Can I deduct the legal expenses I incurred trying to collect the alimony my ex-husband owes me?

A) Yes. You may deduct as an income-producing expense attorney fees attributable to the collection of alimony or separate maintenance that is includible in your income. However, purely personal expenses, such as the expense of property settlement in a di-voice or defense of property claims incident to a divorce action, are not deductible.

Q I had the IRS compute my tax for me and received a bill for the amount due. How much time do I have to pay it?

A) The additional tax should be paid within 30 days of the date at the top of the bill.

Q I paid a tax preparer to help me with my return for last year. Can I deduct his fee on my return for this year?

A) Yes. If you itemize deductions, you can deduct expenditures connected with the determination, collection or refund of tax.

Q Since all my kids have grown up and moved out, I'd like to sell my home and get an apartment. Doesn't the tax law give persons 65 or older a tax break when they sell their home?

A) Yes. If you are 65 or older and sell or exchange your personal residence, you may, under certain conditions, elect to exclude from your return all or part of any gain realized from the transaction. For details see IRS Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home. It's available free by mailing a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q I use my den to do work I occasionally bring home from the office. Can I deduct the cost of maintaining this room as a business expense?

A) The voluntary, occasional, or incidental use of a part of your residence in connection with your employment does not entitle you to a business expense deduction for any portion of the depreciation on, or expenses of maintaining, your home. However, if, as a condition of your employment, you are required to provide your own space and facilities for performing your duties, and regularly use a portion of your home for that purpose, you may deduct a pro rata portion of the maintenance and depreciation expense on your home. For more information, write your IRS district office for a free copy of Publication 530, Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners.

Q My wife and I are filing separate returns this year. I want to itemize my deductions. Can my wife take the standard deduction?

A) No. If you and your wife file separate returns and one itemizes deductions, the other must also itemize and may not take the standard deduction and may not use a tax table.

Call (800) 424-9300 To Report Chemical Spill

CHEMTREC (Chemical Transportation Emergency Center) gives quick accurate answers for the handling of hazardous chemicals involved in transportation accidents.

The Center is sponsored by the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, Washington, D. C., and can be reached by a toll-free telephone service throughout the nation. The number is (800) 424-9300. In addition to providing vital information in a matter of seconds, a staff member contacts the shipper involved, so that additional counsel or on-site assistance may be offered.

Labor Reform Program Proposed by Sen. Fannin

Sen. Paul J. Fannin (R-Ariz.) has outlined a 7-point program for labor law reform.

"Labor has developed overwhelming power, both political and economic, and this has upset the delicate balance of power between labor and management in the collective bargaining area," the senator said.

In an effort to correct some of the abuses, he proposed that:

- Employers should have equal opportunity to discuss unionization with employees prior to an election.

- It should be illegal for a union to use picketing to force an employer to bargain or sign a contract with a union even though the union does not represent a majority of employees.

- Secret-ballot elections should be required before a union is permitted to act as the bargaining agent for employees.

- Secondary boycotts should be effectively outlawed. It should be illegal to picket or boycott retailers because the union has some dispute with the manufacturer whose product they sell.

- The exemptions unions have obtained from the anti-trust laws should be removed. The anti-trust laws should apply to unions to the same extent they do to employers.
- Food stamps and unemployment benefits should be prohibited for workers who are on strike. The availability of public assistance programs removes one of the key factors which theoretically brings about settlement of labor disputes.

- The Davis-Bacon Act, which requires the federal government to pay the highest prevailing wage in an area, should be repealed. Labor has been able to extract exorbitant settlements in the construction industry largely because of the lopsided power of unions.

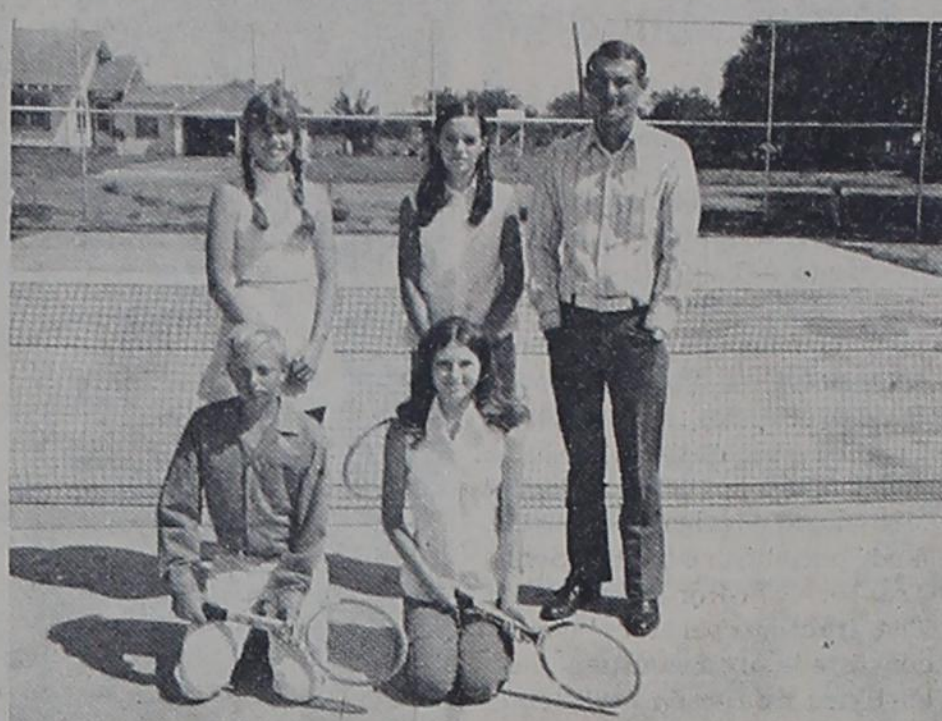

Sen. Fannin also criticized the National Labor Relations Board as a "government arm of the unions" and called for reforms to prohibit organized labor's spending union dues for political purposes.

"We will never have a fair break for business or the public as long as unions are allowed to exact money from members to finance the campaigns of their chosen candidates," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rodgers of Azle visited her sisters, Mrs. Weldon Floyd and Mrs. John Earl Nelson, and families over the weekend.

Floyd Patton, Perry and Walter, visited his mother, Mrs. Nora Patton, and his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arnold, in Arlington from Friday to Sunday.

This is Goree's first year to compete in District tennis and they have made quite a showing.

ROLLER SKATING FUN

The Goree FHA girls went on a trip to Vernon to the roller rink and bowling alley, Friday, April 28. Most of the girls found out that skating is not as much fun as it is cracked up to be. Some thought that pillows should have been carried along.

Others found that bowling was their cup of tea and some even took a turn or two at the pool tables. Sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reid were glad for the hectic day to come to an end.

NEW FHA OFFICERS

The new officers for the Goree Future Homemakers of America Chapter are as follows: President - Ann Reagins, Vice President - Christye Greenwood, Secretary - Cathy Coffman, Treasurer - Isabella Reagins, Reporter - Sylvia Birkenfeld, Song Leader - Cinda Nuckols, Historian - Suzie Myers.

JR-SR BANQUET HELD

The annual Jr.-Sr. Banquet was held Saturday night in the study hall at Benjamin School. The theme "Love Story" was carried out beautifully in the decorations and much work and planning was put into it by the Junior class members, their mothers and their sponsor, Mrs. Irene New.

The meal consisting of baked ham, green peas, tossed salad, baked potatoes, hot rolls, pecan supreme and tea was planned and prepared by the home-making I, II, III classes and served by the seventh and eighth grade girls.

The program was as follows: Invocation - Rev. K. E. Woolley

Welcome - Kathy Roberson
Response - Ricky Meinzer
Class history - Kathy Milson
Class Will - Barbara Brannon
Class Prophecy - Steve Conner

A medley of love songs was presented by a group of high school students. They were Neta Juarez, Ann and Mary Brannon, Vickie Terry, Debbie Green, Noel Hamilton, Terry Cartwright, David Jones and David Milson. Climaxing the evening was group singing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart".

Approximately 80 persons were in attendance.

Supt. Kenneth Roberts has announced the honor roll for the 5th -six weeks period. Students maintaining a 90 or above average are:

1st grade - Toni Benson, Kim

Conner, Twylah Pierce.
2nd grade - Shelly Bufkin, Eric Redder.
3rd grade - O l a Franklin Mark Oxford, Selma Hudson.
4th grade - Billie Carl Benson, Craig Hertel, Julia Franklin, Jimmy Robinson.
5th grade - Betty Clower.
6th grade - Johnny Brannon, Johnny Pierce, Dicky McCannell.
7th - None.
8th grade - Diane Green.
9th grade - S c o t t y Hertel, David Milson 10th grade - T e r r y Cartwright, Bryan Bumpas.
11th grade - Steve Conner, Kathy Roberson.
12th grade - Carol Lewis, Barbara Brannon, Kathy Milson.

SOROSIS CLUB MEETS

The Sorosis Club met Thursday in the club room. The program was a style show presented by a number of the high school girls. Each girl modeled a garment of her choice from either Jean's or Lowery's of Knox City. And each girl modeled her garment she had made this year in Homemaking. Girls modeling were Kathy Milson, Barbara Brannon, Kathy Roberson, Maggie Montez, Mary Brannon, Ann Brannon, Neta Juarez, DeeAnn Young and Debbie Green.

The business meeting followed and the president Mrs. McCaughey presided.

The social committee served refreshments to 15 members and a number of guests. The final club meeting of the year will be May 13 at which time the new slate of officers will be installed.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John McCaughey and family honored his father, M. D. McCaughey, with a dinner last Wednesday evening in their home in Knox City. The occasion was Mr. McCaughey's 80th birthday. Tr. McCaughey says he is still a young man as he has only lived 29,220 days and with humor like that, we agree he is still young and very alert. Congratulations, Mr. McCaughey.

Herring New Manager Of Rhineland Gin

At a recent stockholders' meeting of the Rhineland Co-op Gin, C. H. (Clarence) Herring, long-time resident of the Rhineland area, was elected gin manager of the gin.

Lowry Wilson, who has served as manager for the past seven years, will devote his time to his farming interests in the area.

Mr. Herring said there would be no notable changes in the gin's operations, and that he would continue "service and economy" for the gin's stockholders and customers. He has served as a director for nine years.

Two new directors, Bernard Brown and L. E. Patterson, were elected. Carry-over directors are Vernal Zeissel, president; Curtis Seale, vice president, and Elvis Blake.

Members and their wives enjoyed a barbecue dinner at this meeting.

James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, was the first to define horsepower numerically as the raising of 33,000 pounds a distance of one foot in one minute.

A new ecology-oriented product can be used as an additive to polystyrene to make it degradable, according to Bio-Degradable Plastics, Inc., Boise, Idaho.

Local Pastor Guest Speaker

H. B. Graves Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church will be a guest speaker for the Loop Baptist Church's 50th anniversary on May 7. The Loop church was organized May 6, 1922. Bro. Graves was pastor of the church from February 1955 until September 1957.

The Loop church is planning an all-day program including a dinner on the ground, worship services and fellowship. Graves will speak in the afternoon service. Mike McKinney of Abilene will supply the pulpit of First Baptist Church on May 7.

4-H Bicycle Program -- Try It, You'll Like It

SPECIAL — Ted Harp of Jay, Okla., witnessed an accident. A young boy was seriously injured riding his bicycle.

Harp, a 4-H'er and active as a junior leader, decided he had to do something to see that other boys and girls were not needlessly injured. He arranged to hold a workshop on bicycle safety at the school the victim attended.

About 400 boys and girls took part in the workshop and at the end of the session, one of the teachers told the youth: "Today you may have saved someone's life."

Harp said that statement from the teacher "made all my efforts worthwhile."

For those efforts the 18-year-old pre-dentistry student received a $700 educational scholarship from The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, national sponsor of the 4-H bicycle program.

Last year nearly 132,000 boys and girls learned more about their bikes while having fun in 4-H.

According to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H activities, the bicycle program emphasized the rules of the road, safe bicycle handling, tire inspection, maintenance procedures, map reading, bike tour planning and bicycle-related community service projects. Adult 4-H and teen leaders directed the work with the assistance of law enforcement and safety officials, schools, parent-teacher groups and Goodyear dealers and stores.

The national 4-H sponsor supports the program by offering incentives and recognition for those enrolled. In 1972 the company will provide funds for 12 trips to the 51st National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. At that time six scholarships of $700 each will be presented. State winners receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and all participants receive an attractive decal.

"We are proud to sponsor this learning-by-doing program which promotes wholesome recreation, health and safety among 4-H members," says Russell DeYoung, Goodyear chairman.

Arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, information on local 4-H bicycle program activities is available from the county extension office.

Cancer Society Meets April 29

The American Cancer Society of the Knox County Chapter met Thursday, April 20 in the Fellowship hall of the Munday Church of Christ, with Cecil Cox, president of the Chapter, presiding over the business session.

The Nominating Committee announced that they would have the new officers for the next meeting which will be May 18th in the Munday Church of Christ.

Dale Rideout of Goree is the Chairman of the Nominating Committee. Mrs. Irma Alhus and Geraldine Koenig are the other members.

A partial report of the Cancer Crusade report of the county was given, which was $2200.00. The final report will be given at the May meeting. Knox County's goal for 1972 is $3200.00.

Sterling Clark of Quanah, and a District Director of Dist. 13, was a guest and showed the group a film "The Million Club".

HD Club Hosted By Mrs. Lain

The regular meeting of the Munday Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. Fred Lain Wednesday, April 26. Mrs. Lain presided over the meeting. Mrs. Cecil Guley led the group in prayer. Roll call was answered with "My favorite recipe". Mrs. Elaine Carmichael gave the program on "Cooking for two." She displayed two cook books with recipes for cooking for two. One is by Betty Crocker and one by Better Homes and Gardens. She gave helpful suggestions on preparation and storage of food. One good one was that is cooking for one or two, that you make meat loaf in muffin tins and freeze the left overs to use later. In the business meeting plans were made to attend the Tri-County Rally Day at Knox City Thursday, April 27. The Munday Club was well represented at the meeting.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to Meses, Gil Wyatt, Otis Simpson, A. L. Roden, A. L. Ressel, Grady Phillips, Joe Patterson, Earl McNeill, Guley, Grace Gollehon, R. M. Almanrode and Carmichael.

Members enjoyed the meeting in spite of a rain and hail storm in progress during the meeting and having to drive home in a lot of water. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Earl McNeill Wednesday, May 10. The program will be on "Sewing machine attachments and sewing threads."

Funeral For Albert Garnier Held On Sunday

Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Sunday for Albert L. Garnier, 82, of San Antonio in Johnson Memorial Cemetery. McCauley-Smith Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Mr. Garnier passed away Friday morning in a San Antonio hospital, where he had been a patient for a week. Rosary was Saturday in San Antonio.

He was born June 14, 1889, in St. Louis, Mo., and married the former Docie Phillips, daughter of the late P. C. Phillips and Mrs. Phillips of Munday, December 31, 1943, in San Antonio. He had lived in San Antonio for 45 years and was a retired sales representative for a shoe manufacturer.

Survivors are his wife; three sons, Albert G. Garnier of Houston, Leroy Garnier of St. Louis, Mo., and John P. Grant-ham of Gonzales; three daughters, Mrs. G. F. Rhode of San Antonio, Mrs. Rose Kremer of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Robert Murray of Mineral Wells; one brother, George Garnier of St. Louis, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. R. W. Tell and Mrs. Della Smith, both of St. Louis, Mo.; and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Former Resident Buried In Abilene

Funeral for Mat Elmo Dillingham, 45, of Fort Worth, former resident of Munday, and son of Mrs. Exie Dillingham of Abilene, was held at 10 a.m. Monday in Travis Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Graveside services were held at 3:30 p.m. in Elmwood Memorial Park in Abilene.

Mr. Dillingham died at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, April 29, 1972, in a Fort Worth hospital where he had been taken earlier.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters of Fort Worth; his mother, two brothers and one sister.

Lost at the Laundry

Katherine went to the neighborhood laundry to pick up her week's wash. But the proprietor greeted her with bad news.

"We had a burglary last night," he said, "and your bundles were stolen. I'm afraid you are just out of luck."

But Katherine decided that he, not she, ought to bear the loss. Filing suit for damages, she pointed out that the back door of the laundry had only the flimsiest kind of a lock, even though the building had been burglarized before. The court found the proprietor guilty of negligence, and ordered him to pay Katherine's claim.

Lions Learn Of Artificial Resuscitation

"It's your breath that can save a life."

Lions of Munday were reminded of this at noon Tuesday when Richie Smith gave a talk, a demonstration and a movie on artificial resuscitation. The film was entitled "The Pulse of Life."

Three important things to be done in artificial resuscitation were brought out: 1. open air passage; 2. establish breathing, and 3. restore circulation. Using a mummy constructed for that purpose, Smith and Jack Tarter gave a demonstration on these points by means of mouth-to-mouth breathing and external heart massage.

Some of the group remained after the meeting closed to try out this "method of life saving."

Pres. Tarter called for all Lions to be on hand at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday for the light bulb sale.

WHEN YOU EAT IS ALSO IMPORTANT

If you are skipping breakfast, it could be upsetting your whole daily balance of food intake. This is even true if you are on a diet. By morning you have already used up two thirds of the energy supplied by your evening meal. By mid-morning there is nothing left and you could drag most all day long.

What about vitamins? We believe a properly planned vitamin supplement can be important and we carry a complete stock of vitamin products made by reputable manufacturers. But, they are in no way a substitute for a well balanced daily diet. Start your day off right. You could feel better for it.

The Payroll Savings Plan is for people who can't save a buck.

Ever notice how your paycheck sort of slips through your fingers before you get around to stashing a little away for the future?

Ever have a dream about a vacation, or a cottage you want, or a college fund you're going to build for your kids... then wake up ten years later just to find out you're no closer to making your dream come true than you were when you first had it?

You're not alone. Everybody has trouble saving a buck these days. And, that's why there's a Payroll Savings Plan. Sign up where you work and an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Before you can get your hands on it. Before you can spend it.

It won't be too long before you have a nice nest egg built up, a bankroll that's really worth something.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan. It's helped a lot of people... just like you.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Spins Good Cotton Yarn

Not only does 1972 Maid of Cotton Debbie Wright speak up for cotton as the natural fiber, but she also spins a good yarn about the research going on in the industry.

Neither of these points comes as a surprise, however, because the job is a natural for the 22-year-old Texas Tech graduate. She grew up on a cotton farm at Tahoka on the South Plains of Texas, where a large portion of the nation's cotton crop is harvested.

Debbie's cotton-farming dad, Bryan Wright, instilled in her a fierce loyalty to the natural fiber that provided their livelihood. She says she has been buying her clothes on the basis of cotton content for a long time, and it was usually okay with her father to bring home anything of cotton. "If it wasn't cotton, though, I had to wait and see how the day went on the farm before I could bring it home."

In the interest of ecology, consumers — and particularly those who make up the youth market — are buying more cotton items. The search is for the natural, "Cotton is the ideal natural fiber," Debbie says. "It's fresher and crisper and it has the real clean look I like. It even looks clean in a pair of blue jeans."

A blue-eyed blond, Debbie was a dean's list scholar as a home economics major at Texas Tech and plans to do graduate work in nutrition therapy when her tour as cotton's first lady ends. Her interest in nutrition has been heightened greatly by the new possibilities of cottonseed as a food source.

"Most people associate cotton with fashion," she says, "and, of course, it's the No. 1 use. But it's also interesting to see the new research going on in the labs today to develop new, high-protein foods from cottonseed."

"Nutrition has been one of my interests for a long time. One of my friends worked with cottonseed when she was doing nutrition research, and these products — cookies and breads, mostly — really taste pretty good."

"Now they're talking about putting cottonseed concentrate in soft drinks so that three of them would give kids their daily protein requirement."

Another exciting phase of cotton research, according to Debbie, deals with new developments in durable press and non-flammable cottons. "For example, experiments with radiation are being done to change the fiber at the molecular level for no-iron fabrics without chemical finishes."

Like any daughter of a cotton producer, Debbie is often asked if she has picked cotton. The answer is a polite "no." Cotton on the Wright farm — like that on 95 percent of the nation's cotton farms — now is machine harvested.

"When I was small, I did go out and pull some to see if I was good enough to keep up with the workers," Debbie says. "I lasted about five minutes."

Another question she hears often is whether she feels exploited in her role as Maid of Cotton. "Definitely not," she says. "You can't say you're being exploited when you're having an opportunity to meet people, and to travel throughout this country and many other nations as an ambassador not only for cotton but for the United States, too."

Debbie says she is finding the tour "demanding in a nice sort of way. It's a matter of discipline. You're no longer representing just yourself, but thousands of people who work in cotton."

She says she likes the idea of doing something for cotton "because it has done a lot for me and the nation. It's brought improved consumer products at lower prices because of research and competition. And it creates thousands of jobs — from growing cotton to manufacturing it."

Her tour includes stops in Canada, the U.S., the Far East, and Europe. Debbie says she's particularly interested in traveling out of the country "to see what everybody else is doing with cotton. Maybe they're doing some things we're not, and we're doing a tremendous number of things."

reduced future sales as buyers turn to other supply sources for the commodities they need, according to Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz.

Agricultural exports increased six per cent in calendar year 1971, compared to a 22 per cent increase in 1970. The increase gave agriculture a favorable trade balance of $1.9 billion in a year when the total U. S. trade balance had a deficit of $2 billion.

"We are naturally very pleased at achieving this record level in the face of a very difficult export situation because of the strikes," the Secretary said, "but we are also disappointed because it would have been a great deal higher if our farm products had been able to move freely to foreign markets."

4-H Automotive Recognizes Kids and Cars Go Together

SPECIAL - "Kids and cars go together. Wheels carry them to new and exciting places and give them an increasing sense of freedom."

Young people today are impatient for the time they may receive their driver's license and get behind the wheel of the family car, the committee spokesman notes. And to prepare for the great day is an exciting and popular program which enables young people to learn about cars even before they are old enough to drive — the 4-H automotive program.

Sponsored nationally by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company and with supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, adults and older teens teach the members about the basic workings of a car, principles of elementary maintenance and safety, Osburn explained.

A new dimension has been added to this year's automotive program, an opportunity to participate in a special defensive driving course which originally was limited to adults.

4-H is the first major youth organization to incorporate DDC in its national program, Osburn reported.

South Dakota, one of the first states to adopt a DDC program (endorsed by the National Safety Council), is highly enthusiastic about what it can accomplish.

"The DDC program is now available to 4-H members 14 years or older who are enrolled in the automotive project as well as to any other youths who wish to take the training," Roy Beard, state 4-H agent, says.

"About half of all traffic fatalities happen to people 25 years old and under," Beard observes. "That statistic alone shows that the defensive driving course is an important addition to the 4-H program," he adds.

Eventually, the State will have 10 public health regions providing services to the State's entire population. All regional offices will have staff representing the major public health disciplines.

"The regional health system will allow state health programs to be brought closer to the people who need them, and will provide better administration of health services," said Dr. Peavy. "It will also provide more efficient use of the limited public health resources, and at the same time provide public health services to all residents throughout the region."

The huge West Texas region covers 21,778 square miles, with a population in excess of 379,000. Dr. John Bradley, former regional director of the State Health Department's TB control program, is now Regional Director of Public Health Region 3.

Region 10 covers a wide area of South Texas in which more than 870,000 persons reside. Regional director of Public Health Region 10 is Dr. Victor Zalma, a former Epidemic Intelligence Officer who served the TSDH Communicable Disease Services Section on assignment from the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

Officials said the West Texas and South Texas regions were selected for activation at this time because of their needs for public health services.

By providing for an automatic escalation of the taxable wage base, the measure could cost employees and employers each $920 a year (an increase of 75 per cent) by 1977 and $1,630 each a year (an increase of 200 per cent) by 1989, as contrasted with today's maximum yearly Social Security contribution of $34.50.

The committee has held hearings on a bill which contains a wide variety of expanded benefits and liberalized provisions, including a 5 per cent across-the-board hike in payout to the 26,000,000 Americans now on the Social Security rolls, effective in June. Because there were benefit increases of 15 per cent in January, 1970, and 10 per cent in June, 1971, the NAM urged that any further increase be postponed until at least January, 1973.

Pointing out that the Association had supported these earlier increases, the NAM said that increasing Social Security costs and ever-higher taxes are becoming "most unreasonable."

The proposed legislation would increase the employer-employee tax rate to 14.8 per cent (from the present 10.4 per cent) within a five-year period. The NAM noted that "this rapidly increasing tax rate" would apply to a taxable wage base which is also increasing, beginning with a sizable jump immediately to $10,200 from the present $9,000.

HOORAY FOR DENIM!—That's how the average American girl feels about cotton denim blue jeans and 1972 Maid of Cotton Debbie Wright naturally cottons to jeans, too. Included in her travel wardrobe are blue jeans embroidered with bright red and yellow stars. They're teamed here with a nautical-inspired cotton knit shirt. Both by Charlie's Girls.

it's a woman's WHIRL

How often do you stop to think about an impressive statistic that is written about glibly? For example, 5 million unemployed. Bet that conjures up an image of desperate breadwinners who were thrown out of their jobs and are hopelessly walking the streets in search of non-existent work.

But such is not the case, according to George Hagedorn, chief economist of the National Association of Manufacturers. It's not that the Department of Labor's statistics are assembled for false impressions, but rather that you would have to wade through masses of figures every month to get the true picture. Also public media are likely to give only the amount of detail they think you and I will read.

Actually, in 1971 the statistics-collectors listed only 1,810,000 unemployed people who were "household heads." That's just 36 percent of the 4,993,000 unemployed. The rest, or 64 percent, were young people without family responsibilities, wives who worked occasionally, and other similar groups.

Less than half the unemployed had "lost" a previous job. The rest were looking for a job for the first time or had left their job voluntarily. Most of them had been jobless for less than three months. In fact, 45 percent had been out of work less than five weeks.

Will finding jobs be hopeless at this time? Not at all. While unemployment remained steady in the second half of 1971, the number of employed persons rose by 1.5 million. Therefore, new jobs are being created at a substantial pace.

That doesn't mean that there are not some people whose inability to find a job over a long period has placed them in a desperate situation. But there are a lot less than 5 million of them, says Hagedorn.
