

Richard Dickerson Rites This Afternoon At 2:00

Funeral services for Richard Lee Dickerson, 18, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) at the Church of Christ with the minister, Cecil Cox, and Richard Pectol, minister of the 10th and Broad Street Church of Christ, Wichita Falls, officiating. He was a member of Munday Church of Christ. Burial will be in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home.

Richard, a freshman at Abilene Christian College, was found dead around 5 p.m. Tuesday in his room at Edwards Dorm. CID Lt. Bill Davis, investigating officer, said that he thought Dickerson's body had been lying in the room for possibly 12 to 14 hours when it was found after the student's girl friend had become worried. He was born May 29, 1951 in Knox City and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doris Dickerson. He graduated from Munday High School in May of 1969 where he was active in student affairs. He was a member of the Munday Mogul football team for three years.

Mrs. Dee Mullican Rites Held In Methodist Church

Funeral services were held Friday in the First United Methodist Church, the Rev. Marvin James officiating, for Mrs. Dee Mullican. Burial was in Johnson Cemetery under the direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mullican, 65, died at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday in Knox County Hospital where she had been a patient for four weeks. She was born February 28, 1905, in Kaufman County and came to Munday with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, in 1935. She was married in June of 1940 to Dee Mullican in Munday.

Mr. Kitchens was born in Comanche County and moved to Knox County in 1913. He married Beulah Lee in Munday in 1920. They moved to Sand Springs, Okla., in 1939.

County Launches Rubella Immunization Campaign

Knox County is among the first in Texas to launch a county-wide rubella immunization campaign aimed at eradicating the disease in Texas and the entire nation. Knox County Health Officer Dr. Robert G. Howell urges parents of children ages one through fifth grade to take advantage of the availability of this vaccine.

County Launches Rubella Immunization Campaign

County School Nurse Mrs. Alton Fitzgerald reminds parents that this vaccine is for rubella, commonly called German or 3-day measles, and should not be confused with the vaccine that has been offered in the past few years for regular red or 10-day measles which does not protect against rubella. Also, since many childhood diseases look and act like rubella, it is impossible to know for sure that

National FHA Week Observed By Local FHA'ers

April 5 through 11 (1970) has been designated National FHA Week. During this week members of Future Homemakers of America, homemaking students in junior and senior high schools, will carry out special projects and activities designed to share their experiences and achievements with family, friends, and neighbors. The theme chosen for this year's National FHA Week is "25 Years of Sterling Opportunity," tying in with the objective for this 25th anniversary year of Future Homemakers of America, "To Promote Communication for the Improvement of Human Relationships."

*Bulletin

The week of April 12th has been designated as Cancer Crusade Week in Rhineland. Volunteer workers will call on every family in the Rhineland Community for contributions for this worthy cause.

About 14 Attend Free Driving School Taught Here Last Week

The countywide free driving school taught here last week was successful, according to Ralph Briscoe, guest instructor and safety officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety. About 14 students attended the school Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights for six hours credit. The school features "visual aid," in a series of slides on traffic signs and questions and answers pertaining to driving regulations.

"SEE HERE, KATE, I'LL NOT BE SPIED ON BY A WOMAN!" says villain Randy Herring to vamp Karen Crawford in one of the "dramatic" scenes of the "Pot Boiler."

"I DON'T THINK ANY OF YOUR BUSINESS TO BE LOOKING HIS WAY JUST THEN, MR. IVORY!" Ricky Kuehler portrays Mr. Sud, the director, in the play and John Russell is characterized by Mr. Ivory, the father.

"The Pot Boiler" To Enter Contest; Presented By MHS All-Star Cast

"The Pot Boiler," a one-act satire by Alice Gerstenberg, will be presented by members of the All-Star cast of MHS in a contest to be held Thursday, April 9, in Crowell against those of other schools. The cast includes Ricky Kuehler as Thomas Pinkles Sud, the author; Mike Putnam as Harold Wouldby, the novice; John Russell portrays Mr. Ruler, the hero; Brenda Stone plays Miss Ivory, the heroine; Mr. Inkwell, the villain, is portrayed by Randy Herring; and Karen Crawford plays the part of Mrs. Pencil, the vampire. Managers of this magnificent play are Vickie Matthews and Richard Albus.

Weinert Voters Pass City Sales Tax

Voters in Weinert passed a one percent city sales tax Saturday by a margin of 50 to 2. There were no contested races for either the city council or the school board. Glenn Caddell and Walter Breidhauer were running unopposed for reelection as school trustees, and incumbent city councilmen Don Griffin and Marvin Phemister will serve another term, as will Mayor Ted Jetton. Roy Wiseman received 24 votes as trustee-at-large on the county school board, and J. A. Mayfield, county trustee for Precinct 2, got 28 votes. There were 29 votes cast in the school election and 52 in the city election.

Cure Makes Statement To Voters

J. Omar Cure, candidate for Commissioner for Precinct 4 has given the following statement to the Munday Times: "I am a native of Knox County. I was born 57 years ago in Gilliland, the son of J. O. Cure and the late Mrs. Cure of Seymour. I am married to the former Gwendolyn Baird and we have two children and six grandchildren. Before moving to Munday in 1953, I owned and operated a grocery store for two years and farmed."

"Since moving to Munday I have served as vice president of the Chamber of Commerce. I am a former member of the Lions Club. I owned and operated the Gulf Station for a year. I served as manager of Knox Prairie Seeds for four years and served for two of those years as manager of the Munday Vegetable Cooperative. I am presently farming.

"I feel that with this range of business experience, I am qualified to serve you as your commissioner and solicit your support and vote. "I am making an effort to contact each voter. If I have failed to do so thus far, I will endeavor to do so prior to the election."

TANE Speakers To Be Here Sun.

Subjects of many sermons Sunday will be alcohol abuse and drug abuse. Speakers from Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) will occupy pulpits in three Munday churches on Sunday April 12, 1970. "Problems of alcohol and drug abuse are growing daily. It is going to be up to the people who care, to do something about these problems," said Rev. Albert F. Tucker, TANE Executive Director. "We find people who care in Texas' churches," he said. TANE's purpose is to prevent, through education, problems that arise from use of alcohol, narcotics and other dangerous drugs. Churches in Munday to have TANE speakers include The First Baptist Church, H. B. Graves Jr., pastor, Templo Baptista, Larry Ortega, pastor and The First United Methodist Church, Marvin James, pastor.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) My only income last year was from a summer job between semesters at college. To get a refund, can I just send in my W-2 or do I have to fill out a whole tax form?

A) You must file a tax return to obtain any refund due. Copies of Form 1040 and instructions are available at local IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices if you did not receive one in the mail.

Q) I lost the forms needed to deposit taxes withheld from my employee's wages. Where can I get more?

A) Write to either your IRS district office or the service center where you file your returns. Give your business name and address, and employer identification number. Be sure to indicate the type of tax and the taxable period for which you need the Federal Tax Deposit forms.

Q) I drive over 40 miles a day going back and forth to work. Can I take a mileage deduction for this?

A) No, commuting is a personal expense under our tax laws and not deductible. However, you can deduct the state gas tax you pay as a result of your driving.

Q) My brother and I each contribute 1/3 the support of our grandfather, he furnishes the remainder of his support from his Social Security. Can either of us claim him as a dependent?

A) The support test for claiming your grandfather as a dependent has been met since each of you contributes over 10 percent of his total support and the sum of your contributions was over half of his support.

When this and the other dependency support tests are met, then either of you, but not both, may claim your grandfather as an exemption. The person not claiming the exemption should complete Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration, which should be filed with the return of the one claiming the exemption. Form 2120 can be obtained from your local IRS office.

Q) I have two sources of income, a regular job and part-time work for myself. Do I have to pay both social security and self-employment tax?

A) It depends on the amount of your wages. The maximum amount of income subject to social security and/or self-employment tax is $7,800. If your wages reached that total, then no self-employment tax has to be paid. If your wages were under $7,800, then you should pay self-employment tax on part or all of your earnings from self-employment but only if your net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more. Remember the combined total subject to social security and self-employment tax is $7,800.

Q) I'm itemizing deductions. Can I deduct the service charges I pay in installment purchases?

A) The interest portion of service or finance charges is deductible. If this amount is not stated separately, you may deduct the lesser of an amount equal to six percent of the average monthly unpaid balance or the actual charge for the year.

Q) I'm claiming a deduction for the braces my daughter needs to straighten her teeth. Should I send in the dental bills I've paid with my return?

A) No, but keep them for your tax records. They will be needed if this item on your return is questioned.

Q) Are tips considered taxable?

A) Yes, and they must be included in gross income. Also, cash tips of $20 or more that you receive in a month while working for any one employer should be reported to that employer. This will enable your employer to withhold Social Security and income tax on tips from your salary.

Q) The address shown on the label that came with my return is wrong. Should I correct it?

A) Yes, make the change right on the label and send it back on the return you file so that IRS records can be corrected.

Q) I have two sources of income, a regular job and part-time work for myself. Do I have to pay both social security and self-employment tax?

A) It depends on the amount of your wages. The maximum amount of income subject to social security and/or self-employment tax is $7,800. If your wages reached that total, then no self-employment tax has to be paid. If your wages were under $7,800, then you should pay self-employment tax on part or all of your earnings from self-employment but only if your net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more. "Reading Is For Everyone" Is Library Week Slogan

"Reading Is For Everyone" is the National Library Week slogan, April 12-18. Mrs. Edith Hobert, City-County Librarian, says that she encourages everyone in Knox County to "take advantage of their library," especially during this week.

Established in 1921 by the Munday Study Club, the City-County Library moved to its present location, on the north side of the square, in 1968. Prior to that, the library was located in the City Hall. In the past year the library has received about 50 books — from both donations and purchases — and has acquired a card catalogue, a dictionary, a book truck, new children's table and chairs, and a record file.

The library provides its readers with adult fiction, children's fiction, western fiction, law books, encyclopedias, books on religion, flower arrangements, history books, biographies, books on hobbies and music, and several other books under the category of non-fiction.

Mrs. Hobert feels that an important asset of the library is its memorial fund, that enables a person to donate a book or books to the library in memory of someone.

Plainview Firm Has Low Bid

A More Ringing Cry For Cancer Research Needed

With a terrible urgency, about four million persons in this country wait for science to solve the riddle of why human cells go wild and kill the host that nurtures them.

These four million include the loved ones — the families — as well as the one million Americans who at this instant suffer from a disease that may kill at least two-thirds of them. The other one-third will survive because some of the answers are known and medical science was summoned in time to save them.

For those suffering from cancer there is a constant question: "Will research find the answers in time to save my life?"

It's not an unfair question. When you look about and see the immensity of science today with its computers, gathering limitless facts about market trends and product potentials; about the tensile strength of wings to carry jets at speeds faster than sound; to compute the course of missiles to the moon and projectiles between continents; or even to improve the taste of toothpaste.

These loved ones might think it is fair indeed to ask if the billions spent by research to find these answers to a better life are matched by billions more to find answers to preserve a life.

In truth, of course, only a tiny fraction of the nation's research expenditure is spent on cancer.

The fact is that cancer will not be controlled until the public demands, yes, insists on it. As a past President of the American Cancer Society put it, "Until a more ringing cry is raised by those affected by cancer, progress in the direction of research will not occur."

What Business Skills Needed in the 70's?

What skills are the most important to sales executives during the critical years—1970-75?

Richard O. Bailey, president of Sales and Marketing Executives—International and vice president of Burroughs Corporation, says, "Understanding and communicating space age technology."

"The alert marketing executive must learn more in the next five years than during his entire business career to date," Bailey points out. "If he represents a new Laser product used in eye-surgery, the marketer had better know what he's talking about. Particularly if this same product also glazes teeth to prevent decay."

Bailey cites other emerging products including: master communications controls for household use; video telephones; household computers; business robots; public data banks; computerized car parts, and automatic traffic monitors.

"We know these products and services will be here during the critical years," Bailey states. "Hundreds of other developments will also emerge."

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

In an unprecedented move in the history of agriculture, 32 farm organizations met in St. Louis, Missouri, on Monday, April 6 to demonstrate grass root support for new farm legislation.

Termed a "Farm Leadership Conference" by its organizers, the meeting featured a keynote address by Congressman Graham Purcell (D-Tex), a member of the House Agriculture Committee and primary sponsor of the so-called Coalition Farm Bill. Speakers included Congressman John Zwach (R-Minn) and Senator Thomas Engleton (D-Mo). Aim of the rally was to show the Nixon Administration that most farmers are united in support of Purcell's bill, calling for an extension of the basic principles of the present farm program.

Invited to represent Texas cotton farmers at the meeting were four officers of Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.: President Charles Stenholm of Stamford, Secretary-Treasurer Bill Golden of Seymour, Director A. D. May of Rule, and Executive Vice President Charles Bragg of the headquarters at Stamford.

Stenholm reported that all four men attended the meeting and are confident that RCG's legislative policy will be accorded serious consideration by the conference.

"I believe we are in a key position," Stenholm said.

"Since our group is one of the few invited to represent cotton. Most of the associations invited to attend the meeting represented grain farmers in the middle west and northern states. Certainly we are the only group speaking specifically for Texas short staple cottons. We think the meeting gave an excellent opportunity to get our ideas into national farm policy."

Beaned by Baggage

Wheeling around a corner, the bus driver cut so sharply that a suitcase fell out of the overhead rack. It landed squarely on the head of an unsuspecting woman passenger, inflicting painful injuries.

In due course, she sued the bus company for damages. At the trial, the company protested that it should not be held responsible for such an unlikely accident.

But the court felt otherwise and ordered the company to pay the woman's claim. The judge said it was part of a driver's job to handle his bus with full regard for the dangers of falling luggage.

As it does on all common carriers, the law imposes substantial responsibility on a bus company for the safety of the travelling public. This responsibility extends not only to the way the driver handles the bus but also to the way luggage is placed—either on the rack overhead or in the seats and aisles.

Consider this case: A passenger set his suitcase on the floor, where it protruded more than two feet into the aisle. Another passenger, coming through, stumbled over the suitcase and suffered a broken leg.

Here, too, a damage suit against the bus company was successful. The victim won his case on the ground that the suitcase had been in that obstructive position long enough for the bus driver—if he had been reasonably alert—to have noticed it and taken action.

Nevertheless, while the law demands due care of the driver, it does not expect the impossible. In another case, the driver did check the position of all luggage—above and below—before starting out. Furthermore, he drove his bus with proper care.

Yet, unbeknownst to him, a satchel on the overhead rack contained a kitten. During the ride the kitten moved, shifting the center of gravity and bringing the satchel crashing down upon a passenger's shoulder.

Under these circumstances, a court could find no basis for holding the bus company liable. The judge said he saw no way by which the driver, no matter how conscientious, could have foreseen and forestalled an accident like this.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Statistics may seem like a bore to a lot of people, but to the Texas State Department of Health its Records and Statistics Section is an active—and very necessary—part of its services to the people of Texas and a tool to plan and evaluate health programs.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is the one place for storing the vast numbers of records of Texas births, deaths, marriages, divorces, adoptions and other matters.

In the old days the fact that you were on the earth and breathing was enough to satisfy any inquiry about your birth. Most schools require a birth certificate for children entering the first grade. A birth certificate is the best proof of citizenship for your passport. You may need it to satisfy military requirements, to satisfy the Internal Revenue as to your dependents, to satisfy Veteran Administration or other claims against the government, or to apply for Social Security.

The big three today, according to W. D. Carroll, chief of the Records and Statistics Section and state registrar, are schools, passports and Social Security.

Last fall more than a quarter-million children entered school for the first time and most needed a certified copy of his or her birth certificate. These were obtained in the counties or cities of birth, or from the Austin office of the State Health Department for a $1.50 fee.

The records on file of births, deaths and fetal deaths come in from some 1,000 registrars throughout the state. In many cases the registrar is the city or county health officer. Each of the 254 counties of Texas has one or more local registrars. In rural areas it might be a justice of the peace. In towns of 2,500 or more it may be the city secretary, city clerk or some other person designated as the city registrar. In some counties the county clerk is the registrar. In larger health departments in Texas, the person in charge of vital statistics normally is the registrar.

Reports of marriages are forwarded into the central office at Austin by the county clerks of each county. Divorces and adoptions come from the district clerks. The reporting network fans out into every nook and cranny of the state.

Just having records on file isn't enough. They must be indexed and stored with easy access in order to be useful; therefore, the records are placed on microfilm and now are being placed on magnetic tape for adaptation to computer reference and recall.

As an example of the numbers involved, by the end of 1970 total vital records on file will reach the 17 million mark. Last year more than half a million current records went into the files—deaths, fetal deaths, births, marriages and divorces.

Food for Thought

By Mary Lee

Many a good wholesome American meal has been inspired by French cooking, and the dishes are not necessarily of the sophisticated gourmet type either.

It takes only the sketchiest knowledge of French to realize that many of our culinary terms are also French—cheese, saute, souffle, fricassee, parfait, a la mode, aspic, to mention but a few.

And the dishes we have adapted to our own menus can be from the haute cuisine of famous hotels or the "cuisine de famille"—like "mama" cooks at home. Peasant cooking, called "cuisine du paysan" in rural areas, also inspires American versions.

Actually French cooking differs according to regions. Generally the seasoning is the clue in a flavorful way. For example, Alsace-Lorraine is famous for marvelous sausages which are spiced very much as they are across the Rhine in Germany. Sauerkraut is cooked with onion, cloves and herbs. Cheese is studded with anise, fennel, or caraway seeds.

In Burgundy natives demand lusty, well-spiced sauces. In fact, Dijon, the town famous for mustards and fancy gingerbreads, is in this province.

On the Mediterranean, in Provence, Marseille is world-renowned for its bouillabaisse, that great "gathering" of seafood and spices. Natives of Provence love to cook with highly aromatic herbs—thyme, sage, bay leaf, tarragon and garlic which has been called the "truffle of Provence." In Nice at the eastern border, cooks swap recipes with neighboring Italians.

KEEP IT CLEAN

By Virginia M. White

DEAR VIRGINIA WHITE: Enzymes and enzyme products are big on grocers' shelves, yet I keep reading articles in the newspapers and national magazines about the Federal Trade Commission investigating the cause of itching or rashes, respiratory problems, etc. by enzymes. What is your opinion of enzyme products? LEERY SHOPPER.

DEAR SHOPPER: I, too, have read the many items about the dangers of enzymes causing itching or rashes, etc. I would suggest that you try a product such as Miracle White Powerizer Super Cleaner in order to rid clothing of enzyme residue. As clothes are washed there is a build up of soap, detergent and enzyme residues. To prove that your clothes contain these residues make this simple test. Fill your washing machine with water, add 1/2 cup Powerizer Super Cleaner; DO NOT add any detergent or soap. Add clothes; allow to agitate ten (10) minutes and notice the impurities, detergent, etc. that have left the clothes and are in the water. Get a glass and hold it to the light, and note how really clean the clothes become.

Hint of the Week!

To keep Tupperware storage containers free from odor fill with hot water; add 1 or more tablespoons baking soda to each container; allow to stand overnight. Wash in hot sudsy water, rinse and dry. If odor remains, place open containers in freezer overnight, remove and repeat washing instructions as above.

New Fashion Breed: Any-Weather Cottons

MAXI COATING — Colorful lions and tigers in pink, blue, or yellow adorn this jungle-printed cotton gabardine maxi coat. The side-fastened Dani Juniors design has hidden pockets and a matching muffler.

Fashion's dictionary for spring '70 drops the word "rainwear" and replaces it with "any-weather gear."

The term refers to a whole new range of on-the-go outfits that keep their fashion cool in any climate. Styles include coats, dresses, skirts with jackets, and tunics with pants.

Seasonless fabrics that perform well in a variety of environments are essential to this new breed of fashions. And cotton answers the need, showing up in many different fabrications and patterns.

Headlining the look are the cotton knits—in ribbed or cabled heavyweights and in flat double knits. Translated into clingy, sweateery designs, all have natural comfort built-in.

Sharing the spotlight are dramatic cotton prints, immersed in color and graphically patterned in flowers, lions, or tigers.

Cotton canvas is slicked up for any-weather wearing with a polyurethane coating that's slightly crinkled to mimic crushed patent. Developed to shed the hardest downpour, these outfits come in a shower of bright, clear colors.

Weather-gear accessories include rain and stain repellent boots of cotton canvas or vinyl-coated cotton in vivid hues.

THE SHINY LOOK — Vinyl-coated cotton interprets the important longtongue look in any-weather gear. By Addenda, the contemporary outfit features a stylish battle jacket belted on either side to snug the waist.

ANY-WEATHER KNIT—Aquala designs a coat that keeps its fashion cool in any climate. String-colored cotton knit with wide thick ribs is shaped into a jaunty cardigan style with tie belt.

Syruping In Vermont

Each spring the sap flows in the maple trees of Vermont. The onset and cessation of flow varies according to weather conditions, with the run usually starting in late February or early March and continuing through April. Thus, the sap run is brief, and the syrup produced by concentrating the natural sap is a precious commodity.

Syrup from the sap of Vermont maples has become symbolic of fine cooking with a real American flavor. Cooking with syrup has always been a tradition in Vermont. Because pure maple syrup is hard to find and then often rather expensive, many cooks are recreating the spirit of Vermont in their kitchens by using flavorful Vermont Maid maple and cane blended syrup, available in supermarkets nationally.

Add Vermont Flavor To Foods

Inventive cooks are bringing the spirit of Vermont far beyond the usual confines of pancakes and waffles. Take advantage of the ease and popularity of fondues and give foods that distinctive maple flavor by dipping them into it. In warmed or room temperature syrup dip bite-size bits of fresh fruit, doughnut sections, poundcake squares, toasted marshmallows. Or, for an unusual glazed flavor, pour syrup from the bottle over turnips or sweet potato quarters just before baking. Substitute Vermont Maid syrup for sugar the next time you make baked apples and applesauce. Keep a bottle handy for giving the spirit and flavor of Vermont to planned and impromptu dishes.

and premises, situated in Knox County, Texas, to-wit:
All of Lots Nos. Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7) and Eight (8) in Block No. Two (2) of the Orville Bullington Addition to the City of Munday, Texas, as shown by the map or plat thereof, which is of record in the office of the County Clerk of Knox County, Texas, to which reference is hereby made and being the same property conveyed by Weldon Burney and wife, Creola Burney, to Jewel Havran by deed dated January, 1950, and recorded in Book 101, Page 433, Deed Records of Knox County, Texas, to which reference is hereby made.

Plaintiffs specially plead the five (5) and ten (10) year statutes of limitations of the State of Texas, as a basis for their title to said lands and premises, and pray that on final trial, they have judgment against the defendants, and each of them, for the title and possession of said lands and premises, and that writ of restitution issue, and for rents, damages and costs, and for all such other and further relief, general and special, legal and equitable, to which they may show themselves justly entitled, as is more fully shown by plaintiffs' petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to the requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at Benjamin, Texas, this 26th day of March, A. D. 1970.

It appears that Internal Revenue overdid the job of simplifying the 1969 red, white and blue tax forms. As soon as the tax returns reached the computer, the computer started objecting to the taxpayers' entries on line 15b. This line was provided for taxpayers to adjust their gross income by deducting allowable sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to self-employment retirement plans. However, in changing the 1040 tax form, IRS took several computations such as itemized deductions and dependents off Page 1. Many taxpayers obviously decided that Internal Revenue intended for them to put these deductions on line 15b. Entering the additional items on line 15b, in effect, gives the taxpayer a double deduction and creates a larger refund, which is erroneous.

Internal Revenue has a campaign on to get you to read your tax instructions carefully and to adjust only the items listed in the tax instructions for 15b. It appears that even the good tax folks can get too simple for us taxpayers even though we have been wishing that they would do just that for years.

RUSSELL PENICK

Penick Equipment--Complete Line Of Farm Equipment

In February of 1952, after having been with the Veteran's Vocational School for several years, Russell Penick bought the Massey-Ferguson farm equipment store in Munday from Sharp Motor Company.

At the time of Penick's purchase, the business featured Massey-Harris equipment. In 1955, Massey, Harris and Ferguson combined and the line of equipment became known as Massey-Ferguson.

Russell Penick Farm Equipment includes Massey-Ferguson tractors, implements, combines, as well as the Eversman line of landlevelers.

Penick's staff, Nolen Phillips and E. D. Welch, service all the equipment they sell.

According to Mr. Penick, business is at its peak during wheat harvest when transit custom cutters are in Munday.
However, he said, "we sell equipment and parts all year round, and we service the equipment we have out."

Russell Penick says that Massey-Ferguson has the only
V-8 power tractor on the market today. "A V-8 motor runs smoother than a 6-cylinder motor; that's why many people prefer an 8-cylinder engine to a 6-cylinder engine in a car," says Penick. "We should have V-8 power tractors in stock this summer."

According to Mr. Penick his business, like any other, has both advantages and disadvantages. He says, however, that "one of the main advantages of owning a farm equipment store is that I can contribute - even in a small way - in selling and servicing equipment that helps feed and clothe the nation."

HERE IS AN EXHIBIT of continents studied by Annie Martinez, Patricia Hemphill, Kay Ussery, and Rebecca James, of the fourth grade.

HOLDING HIS REPRODUCTION of the continent, North America, is Kerry Shawver, Rickey Jo Santella shows us a drawing, like the one on the bulletin board, of the layers of the Earth.

FLIGHT SIX LEAVING AT GATE TWO
"We have just visited the seven continents, and the individual countries that we have experienced on our journey are the United States, Brazil, Japan, India, Greece, Egypt, Switzerland, and the Netherlands. We have yet to visit Norway, and there the journey ends."
Does this sound like an airline hostess informing her passengers on the sights they have and will encounter? But in this case, it was Mrs. Elsie Stewart, fourth grade teacher, explaining their geography book entitled, "A Journey Through Many Lands".
With the help of this book, the students have learned a great deal about the people of the earth, their habits, how they make a living, and how they are like us and how we differ. Interwoven are the two subjects of Geography and Science,

TOO MUCH MILK CAN LEAD TO INFANT ANEMIA

Although milk is a wonderful substance by itself, it does not alone supply all the essential nutrients. Sometimes new parents keep infants on "milk alone" for too long. A leading Pediatrician suggests that baby should be started on solid foods early; when the milk or formula intake reaches one quart; when the infant weighs 10-11 pounds, or baby is three months old. Your doctor will tell you when.

Other suggestions are to offer milk by cup at 5-6 months, encourage early self-feeding, avoid force feeding, and eating specific foods. For needed iron — enriched baby cereals, meat and eggs are the best sources and should be started as early as your physician directs.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

HERE IS AN EXHIBIT of continents studied by Annie Martinez, Patricia Hemphill, Kay Ussery, and Rebecca James, of the fourth grade.

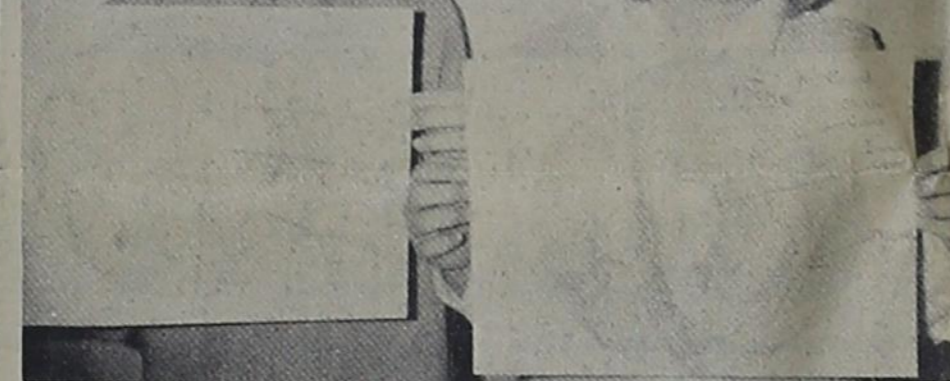

THE POWER OF LEARNING is revealed through the writings of Jimmie Cook and Dennis Dockins.

art, fourth grade teacher, explaining their geography book entitled, "A Journey Through Many Lands".
With the help of this book, the students have learned a great deal about the people of the earth, their habits, how they make a living, and how they are like us and how we differ. Interwoven are the two subjects of Geography and Science, because from both, we learn about the planet, Earth.

Right now, the fourth grade is studying the "Nature of The Earth". They have studied the characteristics and appearance of the planet. Also, they learned the layers of the Earth.

Next, the students will study the ever-mysterious, "Waters of The Earth".

SHOWING THEIR DRAWINGS of the Earth's crust are Linda Gail Tidwell and Mary Kim Myers.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mickey Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hutchinson, entered the General Hospital in Wichita Falls last Monday afternoon. Mickey underwent surgery on her knee Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Her room number is 218.

Winston and Aletha Cobb of Dallas visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hill last week.

BRENT PATTERSON

Brent Patterson is the name of this young lad, And when you meet him, you'll know he's not all bad. A firm believer in having a ball, He'll always remember this year's seventh period study hall.

A member of the Mogul band for three years, He was in the Dirty Dozen Group of which everyone hears. To prove he's interested in drama, he was in plays, He acted, was manager, and helped in countless other ways.

When the time comes in the month of May, He will, like other graduates, be going away. At the moment, he's not sure where to go, To North Texas or the State College named San Angelo.

JAN HOSEA

Member of FHA, on the Annual Staff, and cheerleader, You'll know how great she is when you meet her. She's a senior and her name is Jan, She's shown her ability again and again.

A faithful observer of the world of sports, Jan is active in games of all sorts. When the football season ends, she's in basketball, Or smacking hard at a flying volleyball.

Sunshine, Dr. Pepper, rodeos, and 3:37 each day, Are some of the things that make her life gay. When graduation time comes this year again, She'll go to Cisco, where Psychology she'll major in.

BARBARA VADNEY

Barbara is the name of this pretty lass, And a lot of interests she now has, Sewing and dancing give her lots of joy, But not as much as one certain boy.

An active member of the club of FHA, She was manager, this year, of a senior play. A member, for eight years, of band, She's proved to be a loyal helping hand.

After her graduation in the month of May, She won't be going so very far away. To major in Elementary Education, as of late, She's planned to attend Angelo State.

DORIS NAVRATIL

Doris, whom we all know is quite mod, For four years has been a member of Pep Squad. This being not the only evidence of her interest in sports, Since in her Junior High years she played on basketball courts.

And this Senior, who laughs most of the day, Spent three of her high school years in FHA.

Coming from Gilliland, to go to school, she has quite a ride; But once it wasn't so boring with a opossum by her side.

In the fall, Cisco Junior College is where Doris'll be, To further her interest and knowledge of P.E.

Interstate Road Code

Topics and Trends reports that there is a logical pattern for the new interstate highway numbering system. East—West routes are assigned an even one or two digit number. North—South routes receive an odd one or two digit number. Three-digit signs indicate proximity to cities—if the first digit is even, expect to go through or around a city—first digit odd will take you into a city. What all this amounts to is that should you be lost on an unfamiliar interstate road some night, without a map, you would know that you're traveling either East or West, or North or South, or by a city, or into a city.

WAYNE ZEISSEL

Lettering three years in football, basketball and track, In sports, this Senior's qualities do not lack.

Being Secretary in his Freshman year, FFA President, a member of Student Council and FTA, Show that in many things Wayne is a leader all the way.

As starters in grade school, 4-H and Little League Baseball, Did cause Wayne to set high goals that will never fail.

For in Rhineland his goals did start, And as graduation nears, with Munday, he will have to part.

He plans to attend Tarleton State College, where you will see Wayne put to use his love for sports to major in P.E.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Embree of Abilene were Sunday guests of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hobert.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Amerson of Hobbs, N. M. visited his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Amerson, the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson returned home Monday noon from a two-week visit with their daughter and family, the E. C. Elliotts, in Portland and Sherwood, Oregon. They reported a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fetsch visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fetsch and family and Beatrice and her fiancé, Richard Watkins, over the weekend in Waco. They brought back their son, Clarence, who had been visiting in Waco over the Easter holidays.
