Funeral Rites For Dave Eiland Held Sunday Afternoon

Funeral services for Dave Eiland, pioneer Munday citizen, were held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the Baptist church, with the Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor, conducting the services, assisted by the Rev. H. C. Hand, pastor of the Methodist church. Following the services at the church the remains were laid to rest in Johnson cemetery.

Mr. Eiland died at his home at the Munday Hotel, which he and Mrs. Eiland had been operating for several months, the last several weeks of which time he had been confined to his room, and his death had been expected for several days.

In the death of this good citizen Munday has lost one of its pioneer citizens and business men, he having come to Munday back in the days when the town was located in what is now called West Munday and is said to have established and operated the first barber shop to be operated in Munday, and had been associated with the business interests of the city almost continuously since that time, being for a number of years local manager for the Haskell Telephone Company here, and later engaged in the barber business in the city, in which business he was engaged at the time of his death.

Dave Eiland was born in Denton county, Texas, May 19, 1880, and came with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. R. G. M. Eiland, to Baylor county in 1889, and he has resided in this section continuously since that time except for one year spent in Colorado. In 1910 he was elected District Clerk of Knox county and served in that capacity two terms, returning to Munday following his official tenure.

In 1907 he was married to Miss Exie Rosser and to this union four children were born, all of whom survive. They are Chase Eiland, a student in the Medical school of the University of Texas at Galveston, Miss Hazel Deane Eiland, Andy and Laverne. In addition to his immediate family he is survived by his father, the Rev. R. G. M. Eiland, two brothers and two sisters, G. R. and C. A. Eiland, Mrs. A. U. Hathaway and Miss Dottie Eiland.

The death of this good man has cast a pall of gloom over our town and community, and we join with the many friends of the family in extending to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy, for we know in his passing they have lost a devoted and faithful husband, a kind and sympathetic father, and our community has lost a real worthwhile citizen, and the beautiful floral offering at his bier spoke mutely of the high esteem in which he was held by those who had known him throughout his many years as a citizen of this community.

Promise Boys Rare Thrills

AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION readers are due for a rare adventure thrill in 1933, according to word just received from America's favorite boy's magazine. Boys will welcome the news that a modern Robinson Crusoe story, in which two boys and a man battle with savages and build a civilization with their bare hands, is on the way!

In this story the three heroes escape into the depths of the Amazon jungle; there they are stripped and left to die by hostile natives; and there, from the natural abundance of the jungle, they build their fortress. From advance notices, it's a story readers will never forget.

Other good things, we learn, are on the way in THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION for 1933. Adventures in all parts of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin, and neighbor. It's a character-building, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. At the latter rate the magazine costs only a dollar a year. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

Some two weeks ago we carried a story in these columns to the effect that one "Froggy" had died in a Seymour hospital as a result of wounds inflicted by his wife at a dance for colored folks in the Goree community.

The information came to us on no less authority than the editor of The Goree Advocate who, in fact, wrote the story for both The Times and Advocate.

The dusky damsel who is alleged to have wielded the razor was a daughter of Mrs. Simon Williams of this city (one-eyed Simon's wife).

Mrs. Simon read of the demise of her son-in-law in The Times, and took it at its face value, and so even one of the Caucasian race might be somewhat frightened to have the "dead" appear in the night-time.

And that is what Mrs. Williams (col.) was nothing less but when the aforesaid "Froggy" put in his appearance at the Williams home a few nights ago and inquired the whereabouts of his wife, who had taken to the tall and stout a fugitive from the officers of the law, believing possible that she had committed murder.

"Froggy," according to reports, is willing to forget the incident and take his lady back, stating that it was possibly beneficial to his physical well-being to have lost all the blood he did when his throat was carved from ear to ear with a rusty razor.

Anyway, one thing is certain, and that is when Darktown throws a party it throws a party.

This is the time of year when we receive those friendly little greetings from our friends, and TOL has already received several, some of which carry sentiments of originality that make them all the more pleasing to the recipient.

A very beautiful sentiment is expressed in one received from our good friend, Walter Cousins, which we quote below:

Home . . . Home
I have seen a marble palace
With a glitterin' golden dome
That held more Hell than happiness
Yet a feller called it home.
Tain't the gold that comes in sluices
From a thousand cattled hills
That makes this life wuth livin'
By a curin' of its ills.
I hain't agin' gold an' riches
An' houses with marble floors
But I've seen some rich that had 'em
That I thought was awfully poor.

The richest home that I remember Did not have no golden dome
'Twas a ranch house by the Brazos
Where Mother had made her home.

And here's another from our old friend, Ralph Shuffler, who for many years gave his talents and efforts toward making Olney a good town, as publisher of the Olney Enterprise, but who is now engaged in putting Olney on the map as publisher of the Olney newspaper:

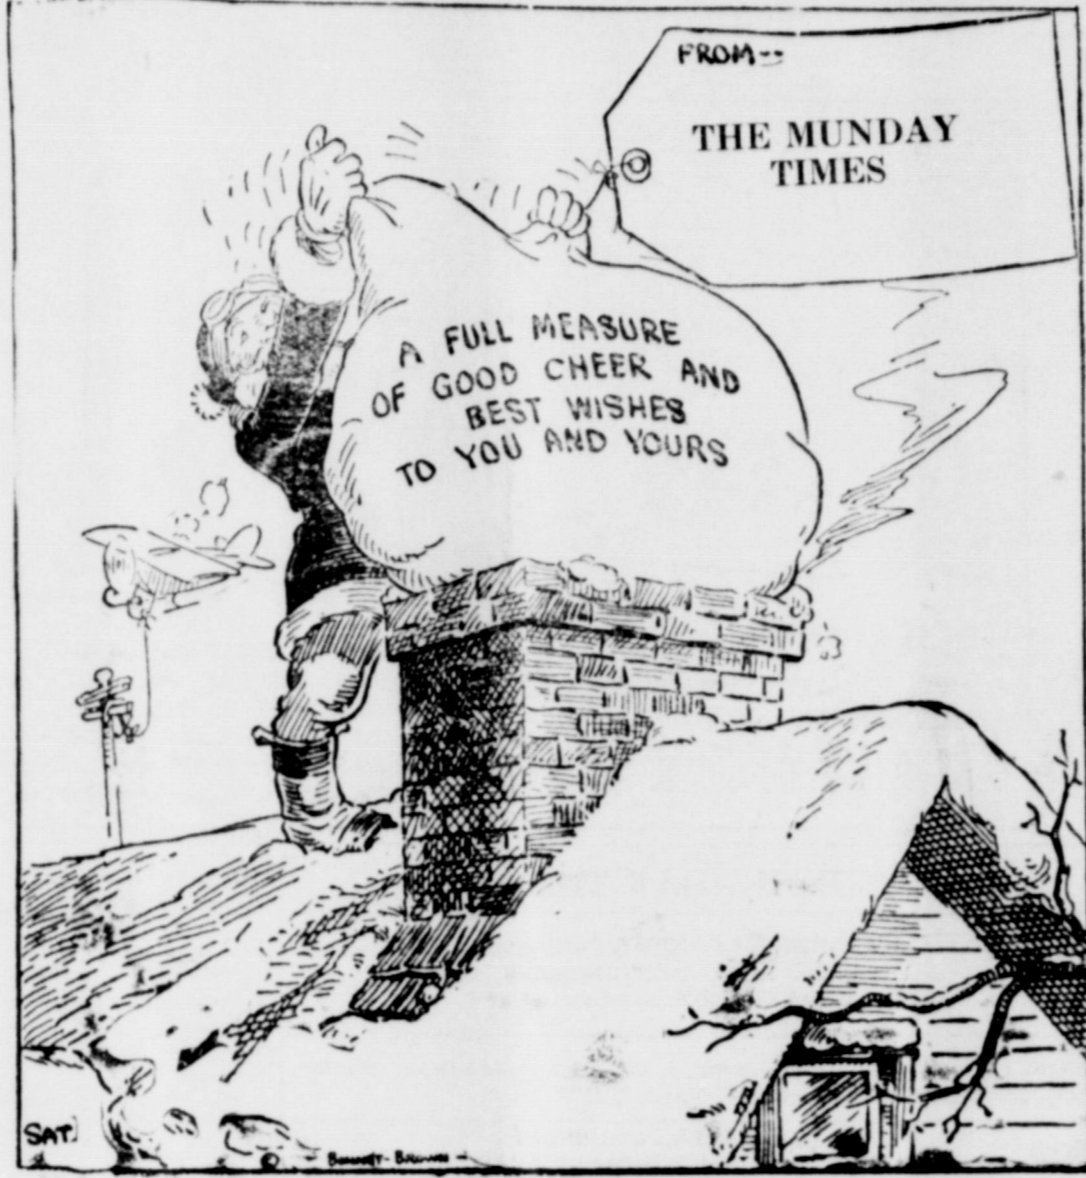

It's mighty nice, throughout each year,
To have the fellowship and cheer
Of an old-time friend.
To know that somewhere on this earth
There is a Pal of proven worth—
A true-blue friend.
And so, this Christmas Day, Old Boy,
I wish you loads an' loads of joy!
—Ralph Shuffler.

And then from Jones & Eiland there comes a very nice sentiment in which is enclosed a perfectly good lead pencil, which is an ever useful article around a newspaper sanctum, and which will be used with a spirit of appreciation.

And since this is the season when folks are prone to express their appreciation, we would join them in expressing our sincere appreciation for the many courtesies and patronage that has been accorded us during the past year, and join the many others who are using space in this issue of The Times in wishing for each and everyone a Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

TOL erred last week in stating that Dr. Farrington had the "flu." And we have an idea that he is pleased (Continued on back page.)

OUR SENTIMENTS

Hawaiian Musicians Will Be Featured At Roxy, Dec. 23-24

Manager P. V. Williams has been fortunate in securing some excellent features for the Holiday season, and among these attractions are the famous Kailu Family Troupe of Hawaiians in their native folk songs, music and dances, in which they will introduce every kind of native Hawaiian musical instrument, producing the sweet, weird music that is so fascinating and pleasing. In addition to their own instruments they play violins, mandolins, Chinese fiddles, hand saws, shovels, files, and even produce music from an inner tube. Mr. Kailu will play a guitar with his toes and play a violin in thirty-one different ways, and you'll miss a treat if you fail to see their performance at the Roxy Friday and Saturday.

Dear Santa:
I will be at Weatherford, Texas, but please don't forget that I want a little car that I can ride in, a ball, gun and plenty of candy, fruits and nuts.

IT MAY PROMOTE INDEPENDENT VOTING.

The State Democratic Executive Committee, at its meeting at Austin on Saturday, adopted a resolution calling on National and State heads of the party to appoint only "loyal" Democrats to public offices. It was made clear that the committee has no intention of attempting to dictate the distribution of patronage, but will confine its activities in relation to appointments to insisting that no "bolter" be named to any office, State or Federal. It is expected that the committee will work out "effective means" of protesting against the appointment to any office of any applicant who did not support Mrs. Ferguson for Governor.

This is a very interesting development, and it may turn out to be an important one. We find that our reaction to it is rather mixed. There is the natural resentment, of course, of the assumption by the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas of the prerogative of saying to President-elect Roosevelt that he shall not appoint to any office any competent person among the many thousands of Texans who voted for him, but who failed to vote for Mrs. Ferguson. But inasmuch as it is certain that there are enough competent supporters of President-elect Roosevelt who do not labor

Representative of Tipton Home Will Speak Friday Night

We are requested to announce that a representative of the Tipton Orphan Home of Tipton, Oklahoma, will speak at the Church of Christ on Friday evening at 7:15, and members of the church are urged to be present and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear him.

under this disability, and there is no danger of the public service suffering as a result of the action of the committee, we do not feel impelled to magnify this resentment into a public grievance. We fancy that our Congressmen and Senators, who undoubtedly have many "bolters" among their staunchest supporters, may find it a little inconvenient to carry out the dictum of the State Executive Committee to the letter, but that is their grief, and not ours.

Of course, the action of the committee places the editor of The Texas Weekly in the category of those who are ineligible for appointment to Federal office, but fortunately that is of no consequence because he is not an applicant for any such appointment, does not intend to endorse anybody for such appointment, and does not expect to seek any personal favors at Haverstocks Will Appear at Roxy Week of Jan. 2nd.

The Haverstock Players—Harvey and Lotta—will appear at the Roxy Theatre during the week of January 2nd, according to an announcement made this week by Manager P. V. Williams. The Haverstocks will present a series of plays, comedies and dramas during the week that will appeal to the show-going public, and Mr. Williams feels that he has been fortunate in securing an engagement with these popular players during the holiday season.

The Haverstocks are well-known all over West Texas, having shown for many years under canvas, but during the winter months they are making a few engagements with theatres over this section, and we are sure that they will please the public with their offerings.

Mrs. J. H. Bates Dies At Her Home At Hefner Sunday

Mrs. Adella Roxana Bates, widow of the late J. H. Bates, died at her home at Hefner on Sunday and funeral services were conducted at the Friendship Baptist church at Hefner Monday afternoon with the Rev. J. C. Parks of Goree officiating.

Mrs. Bates was one of the early settlers of Knox county, coming to this county with her husband in 1886, at which time there were but a few families in this section and she had witnessed the development of this section from an uninhabited country to its present state.

Deceased was born in Cherokee county, Georgia, March 14, 1859, and was married twice, first to David Arnold, to which union one child was born, M. L. Arnold, who is head of the history department in San Marcos Teachers College. In 1879, following the death of her husband, she was married to J. H. Bates in Denton county, Texas, and to this union four children were born, only one of whom survive, Ross Bates, who resides at Hefner.

The passing of this good woman means the going of another one of the ever-thinning rank of pioneer spirits who came to this section and endured the hardships of a desolate and uninhabited empire in the early days, and who have contributed much toward making it a better place in which to live, and we join the many friends of the family in extending our sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones in their great sorrow.

The hands of either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Garner. He is of that very large class of citizens who exercise their suffrage, in accordance with such light as may be vouchsafed to them, with the object of promoting the public interest, and with no thought of personal advantage. So such mild resentment of the committee's action as we feel is not of a personal character.

There is no denial of the committee's right to assume the attitude of separating the sheep from the goats among Texas Democrats. Indeed, recalling that the "official spokesman" of their candidate for Governor pronounced the faithful that they should have the job, we are inclined to think that something of a duty rests upon the gentlemen of the committee to do whatever lies in their power to fulfill that "campaign pledge". So there is something to be said for their point of view. In any event, we find it impossible to work our mild resentment up to a pitch resembling indignation.

This is due largely to what may be called the other side of our mixed feelings. It has been our conviction for years that one of the real needs in Texas is the creation of a body of independent voters sufficiently large to be of importance in the general election. The safeguard of this nation is in the large body of independent voters in most of the States. If every State in the Union was like Texas and Pennsylvania, let us say, one or the other of the two national parties would become permanently dominant in the nation, and the consequences of this would be destructive of good government and of the liberties of the people.

Fortunately for the country, however, (and we may say fortunately for the Democrats this year) there is in most States a large body of independent voters who must be courted by both parties, and who vote some years for this party and some years for the other. And the interests of the people are better served in such States than they are in Texas and Pennsylvania. It has been our conviction for years that a large body of independent voters would be a good thing for Texas.

Pneumonia Fatal To Raymond Jones; Funeral Thursday

Friends and relatives were shocked on Wednesday afternoon when it became known that Raymond Jones was dead. He passed away at his home in this city about noon following an illness of one week from pneumonia, and but few of his friends knew that he was critically ill.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Thursday afternoon by the Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Baptist church, assisted by the Rev. C. A. Tucker, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services were under the auspices of Lowry Post, American Legion, of which deceased was a member. Following the services the remains were laid to rest in Johnson cemetery.

Raymond Ross Jones was born in Hunt county, Texas, July 13, 1887, and came to this community in 1888 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Jones, hence he has been reared and has resided in this community all his life with the exception of the time he spent in the army.

In 1918 he was married to Miss Mabel Hayden, and to them five children have been born, four daughters surviving him, and a baby son died in infancy. In addition to his wife and four little daughters he is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Emma Jones of the Kouten community, seven brothers and two sisters, Theodore Jones or Weinert; Alex Jones of Munday; Pat Jones of Sierra Blanca; Henry Jones of Globe, Arizona; John Jones of Holbrook, Arizona; Edgar and Grover Jones of Munday; Mrs. Cam Sullivan of Greenview and Mrs. Clem Wilson of McAllen, Texas. All the brothers and sisters were here for the funeral services except the two who reside in Arizona, and the distance made it impossible for them to get here.

That the deceased had a large host of friends has been evidenced by the many expressions of sorrow that have been heard, and we join the many friends of the family in expressing our sincere sympathy to them in their great sorrow.

The eldest daughter, Drucilla, is critically ill with influenza, and it was due to her condition that the services were held at the home.

RHINELAND

While a few of the schools of the county had to discontinue school on account of the flu, the Rhineland school is still able to continue with an almost perfect attendance. There are only three or four students out with the flu at the present time.

The Rhineland school will only have the Monday following Christmas free, because of the long fall vacation.

Rev. P. Mosler, O. M. S., of Seymour, and Mr. L. Kelley, of Wichita Falls, visited our school, Thursday of last week. The students were very glad to have them visit the school, and they also hope that no long time will relapse before they come again.

Mr. Martin Schumacher and Mrs. Mary Zimmer were quietly united in marriage on Thursday morning, December 15, in the St. Joseph's Church of Christ. The Rev. Boniface Sparks, O. S. B., performed the ceremony. They are making their home in Rhineland.

We join their many friends in wishing them a long and happy married life.

Mrs. Fred Redler, who has been sick for sometime, was removed from her home in an ambulance to the Knox County Hospital last Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

While one of the seniors, Clarence Herring, and his two smaller brothers and sister, were motoring to school last Monday morning, the steering wheel became disconnected and his car ran into the ditch. The car was slightly damaged, but none of its occupants were injured.

Miss Mary de Aquirre spent the week-end in Wichita Falls, visiting the Hopkins family. She was accompanied by her father, T. de Aquirre, as far as Seymour.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Kuehler made a business trip to Wichita Falls, Saturday of last week. They were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Bruggerman.

Messrs. George Simanick and Aloysius Urbanzych left for Pep, Texas, last Sunday.

MAKE EVERY CHILD HAPPY!

The Christmas season of 1932 finds more Americans in financial trouble than ever before. It comes in a year that has seen bright hopes fade, and it finds children by the millions suffering with adults in a land that is literally fleeing in abundance.

That these children should not lose the joy of the Christmas season is an opportunity that presents itself to the citizen of every community and city. In Munday there are doubtless hundreds of individuals who are anxious to share, to a limited extent, that which they have with those who have not.

Let's see that the work is done thoroughly, that no child in this section goes through Christmas without some evidence of human love, and that no adult is forced to face the pangs of hunger on the occasion of Christian celebration.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

The annual sale of Christmas seals in Knox county presents an opportunity to assist in the fight upon tuberculosis without giving up an adequate return for the money used.

Christmas letters, packages and cards should bear the seals which make them more attractive and take the place of other that might be used for the same purpose. However, the Christmas seals also help finance a warfare against disease that is of the utmost importance to every citizen. Let's everybody buy Christmas seals and use them this year.

ROOSEVELT'S BASIC FACT

Americans may be interested more in what President-elect Roosevelt thinks than they were in what Candidate Roosevelt said.

In the January issue of a magazine Gov. Roosevelt explains "Your New National Leadership", and it is interesting to find him on record with this: "The basic fact is that the farmers must immediately get a living income from the domestic market. I intend to attack the problem where it is most urgent—in wheat and cotton, for these are the money crops of one-third of our people."

This ought to be good news to agriculturalists, who are anxiously waiting for something to better their lot. Moreover, the president-elect says "an artificial or even temporary measure to create this benefit for agriculture is justified."

That future American prosperity must have its root in the soil is about admitted by everybody today. That American farmers have need of some assistance to escape the economic pit in which they find themselves is also admitted. The debate centers on how to afford adequate relief and the question is yet to be answered.

WEALTH EVERYWHERE BUT NO MONEY

In a world of wealth we have no money. That, it seems to us, sums up the present economic situation of the United States and of most of the rest of the nations, so far as we know anything about them.

It doesn't take much actual money to transact the world's business when people are more anxious to buy than they are to sell. Money moves faster and so does work under those conditions. A dollar that changes hands ten times a year is as useful as ten dollars that only changes hands once a year.

We didn't need so much money when everybody had confidence in the banks. Checks did the work of currency. In these times, with money moving slowly, with more sellers than there are buyers, with thousands of banks closed and public confidence in all banks still severely shaken, we find ourselves without enough currency to do business. The natural result is that our basic money, gold, has gone up so high in price that most people have difficulty in converting their labor and commodities into gold. Gold is the basis of our money and that of the other principal nations. And it is increasingly clear that there is not enough gold in the world to meet the world's need of money.

Many able economists and statesmen say that a large part of this money trouble is due to the fact that silver has been almost abolished as money since the war. They say that if the monetary position of silver, which is the money basis for more than half of the world's population, could be restored to what it was in 1914, there would be plenty of good money available for all the world's needs. Few want to revive the old scheme of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at any fixed ratio to gold, but we see no reason why silver should not be used again as freely as it was in the years before the war, by all the nations of the world for money. We think the world economic conference, which is going to meet and discuss this subject, has been too long delayed, and we hope that, when it is held, the American delegates will insist upon the rehabilitation of silver.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Container for Ashes

Metal containers should be used for ashes. This is to insure safety as ashes should be removed from the ash pit as soon as the fire is shaken. If ashes are allowed to cool in the pit it is very apt to destroy the grate where there is too much of an accumulation.

To Clean Small Pieces of Velvet

Fill the teakettle with water. Let water boil strenuously until steam escapes. Tie piece of muslin over the sprout. Pass pieces of velvet through this steam and they will be freshened almost like new.

How to Buy Grapefruit.

Judge grapefruit by its weight. The heaviest ones are the juiciest.

How to Buy Cucumbers

Medium sized cucumbers are usually the best as the large ones are not generally very tender.

Grease casserole. Peel apples. Cut apples in fourths. Arrange in casserole with layers of butter, sugar and nutmeg in between. Bake about one hour. They will be puffed up and firm. Serve with whipped or plain cream.

Advertisers quarreled with a newspaper because it headed a story "Advertising Agent Convicted of Swindling," or some such title as that. The point was that the advertising agency was merely a want ad telephone station. "There are hundreds of such concerns," said the man, "and if they are advertising agents, what are we?" It often seems as though there was too much quibbling over terminology, yet it has been said that most wars have been fought over definition of words.

Whether a young woman who takes dictation and writes letters is a stenographer or secretary frequently means a lot to her if to no one else. Whether a man who enters figures in ledgers is a bookkeeper or comptroller may be a vital factor in his social progress.

Benjamin Franklin, although he had earned the right to a hundred honorable titles, requested the humble designation of printer on his tombstone. That was his trade, and he saw no need for calling himself anything else. Does not Franklin furnish a clue to a way out of the dilemma of terminology? Must not the individual bring distinction to his calling instead of asking the calling to bring distinction to him.—Ex.

CHEVROLET

PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

THIS is Chevrolet Week throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—is now on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Synco-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try!

LUCKY 400

Million Dollar Annual Incomes Limited — Reduced Since 1928. More than 400 persons in the United States have annual incomes of over $1,000,000, according to recent estimates.

Producers of "If I Had a Million," fifteen-star drama which comes to the Roxy Theatre, Dec. 25, discovered that fact in research that they set under way in preparation for the filming of the picture.

The film, which includes in its cast Gary Cooper, George Raft, Wynne Gibson, Charles Laughton, Frances Dee, Jack Oakie, Charles Ruggles, Alison Skipworth, W. C. Fields, Mary Boland, Roscoe Karns, May Robson, Gene Raymond, Lucien Littlefield, and Richard Bennett, centers around an eccentric millionaire who distributes his fortune among nine persons whose names he selects at random from a city directory.

Producers, checking up on the number of persons who actually have an annual income of a million, found that in 1928, last year for which figures were available, 513 persons paid income taxes on more than $1,000,000 each. However, authorities they consulted agreed the number has been reduced considerably since, due to the stock-market crash and the depression which followed. But the figure is still over 400, it was estimated.

The million-dollar incomes of 1928 were pretty generally concentrated in the east. In New York alone, almost half of the millionaires—243 to be exact—were found.

Of the total, 357 had incomes ranging from one to two millions; 92, between two and three millions; 21, between three and four millions; 20, between four and five millions; and 23 had incomes of over $5,000,000.

The millionaire of "If I Had a Million" possesses a fortune of some $10,000,000. Of this, he presents $1,000,000 to each of the nine persons he selects as his beneficiaries. Comic, tragic, romantic and ironic are the results that occur in the wake of his gifts, for each of the nine persons reacts to them in his own characteristic fashion.

Boys Offered Best Stories

Bad times are good times for magazine readers, according to the editor of youth's favorite magazine, THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION. More people are writing than ever before, he states, and finer adventure, more gripping yarns, more downright reading thrills are due the magazine subscriber than ever in history.

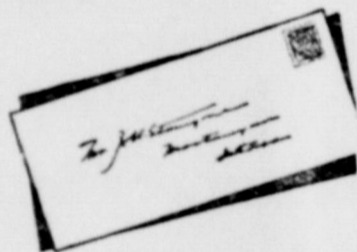

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION in 1933 will be loaded from cover to cover with great experiences. For adventure, the reader will travel with the Royal Canadian Mounted through forests and mountains, penetrate to the military posts of Boreno; ride with cavalry in India, plunge into the Amazon jungle.

There'll be character-building stories of the professions, of school and college life. There'll be articles on sports, travel and science, that take boys to the Orient, the explain the mysteries of ocean liners and air transports. There'll be stories that satisfy the boy's wholesome appetite for fun and thrill, and his keen desire to learn.

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION costs just $2.00 a year or $3.00 for three years. In other words, when you subscribe for three years, the magazine's savings enable them to give you a subscription for one dollar a year! It's the ideal gift for that boy you're interested in, be he son, nephew, neighbor, cousin, or son of your business associate. Work Weary "NERVES"

Do they make you Restless, Cranky, Tired, Sleepless, Dyspeptic, Head-achy? Do they spoil your pleasure and interfere with your work?

Tens of thousands have found a way to get relief from over-worked nerves—a way so simple, so pleasant, so low in cost, that we are constantly receiving letters that say, "If I had only found Effervescent Nerve Tablets sooner." Simon Brandt writes: "I was very nervous from over-work. I couldn't sleep well, appetite was poor, and I felt weak for a long time. "Used Dr. Miles' Nerveine and now feel fifteen years younger and I am working the same as I did before—fourteen to fifteen hours daily."

"Sorry I did not learn about this wonderful medicine sooner as I had tried everything I could hear of, without results, until Dr. Miles' Nerveine put me back on my feet."

When you are nervous, try this—put a Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerveine Tablet into a glass of water. Watch it bubble up like sparkling spring water—drink it—enjoy the feeling of calm and relaxation that follows.

Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerveine Tablets a splendid formula for soothing overworked nerves is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid which tend to correct hyper-acidity—a frequent cause of nervousness.

Rev. W. H. Albertson Sends Greetings of Season To Citizens

The Christmas Season comes again with its many reminders of other years, and the blessings, joys, and privileges of friendships, home-comings, opportunities to spread good cheer and render service. The Christ who came into the world so long ago still brings the spirit of Grace, blessings, and heavenly benedictions.

May, at this Season, there be such a spirit prevail that all of us shall be drawn closer to Him and to His cause and Kingdom in the world. To those of you who are in the youth of life may there be the hope of Christ and the stability of high ambitions anchored in the Eternal. To those of all ages may it be that the light of the Divine life shall be the guide and consolation.

May the music of heaven bring that abiding rest and peace to those who are sick. May the Christ who walked with the sick in the long ago be with you in this season.

In some homes the hearts are sore and heavy because of the going of loved ones. For you we are praying, and may the very presence of God comfort and help you.

To one and all we extend cordial greetings, and a sincere prayer for your welfare and happiness.

Yours very sincerely,
W. H. ALBERTSON.

Our Greetings To The Citizens Of Knox County

At this Yuletide Season we are pleased to have an opportunity to extend the Season's Greetings to our many friends, and to wish for each and every one a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

To us the past years have held many pleasant experiences. We have enjoyed our work with the citizenship of Knox County, and to the excellent citizenship of the county, in a large measure belongs the credit for the efficient law enforcement in the county, and it is with no small degree of pride that we point to the fact that the court records of the county will reveal that our county is one of the cleanest in Texas insofar as law observance is concerned, and it affords us great pleasure to feel that this condition has been brought about, not solely by the law-enforcement officers of the county, but more largely through the cooperation and good will of the citizens.

Let us again extend the Season's Greetings and express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the friendships and cooperation that has been extended to us, and we would say in conclusion that at any time we may be of service, we sincerely hope that you will command us.

EVERYONE SHOULD SHARE IN SOME MEASURE CHRISTMAS CHEER AND HEED THE PLEA OF THE CHILDREN

The mails of Munday these days are filled with mysterious missives.
The writers are the children of the nation. They are being sent from the homes of the rich and the poor alike.
Many of these letters will reach their destination. Many will fall by the wayside, and never be delivered. Some of them are coming in to the editorial office of this newspaper.

Where postage can be obtained, the letters are dropped into some mail box, while others—from the homes where the breadwinners have been without employment—they are sent up the chimney with confidence by the sender that they will reach Santa Claus and that he will surely answer the letters on Christmas Eve.

How many of these children will be disappointed when they awaken on Christmas morning?

How many of them will be disillusioned—have their faith shaken in the fanciful myth which has gladdened their hearts in years gone by at the cars to furnish each of the company's 10,100 domestic dealers with representative display models was carried out very closely to schedule.

According to Mr. Knudsen, the full quota of people directly dependent on Chevrolet operations for a livelihood are assured of employment throughout the winter and spring, the number of work-hours naturally depending on the extent of the demand for the new cars. He added that, by following a sliding scale of weekly work-hours, a policy carried out by Chevrolet for several years, the company is able to adjust production to demand with little variation in the number of workers actually employed. As an instance of this, he pointed out that though operations on the 1932 Chevrolet were discontinued in September the lowest number of employees throughout 1932 was reached the week ending October 29, when the payroll still carried 27,525 names, within 3,000 of the present total. This was accomplished by staggering inventory, requating hours of work per week to meet demands on given manufacturing departments and by using workers on pattern, tool and die centers, and plant rearrangement.

It was emphasized by Mr. Knudsen that, while work on the new program had been under way since Oct. 1, no formal announcement of the company's payroll was made, in order to prevent an influx of excess labor. He stressed the fact that all plants are now fully manned by regular Chevrolet workers, with no work available for outsiders.

approach and arrival of the Yuletide?
How many of these boys and girls will go to their stockings Christmas morning with gleeful hearts, to find that the one saint in whom they had been taught to believe, has forgotten them?

How many, experiencing this disappointment will come to a realization at so tender an age, that this is a hard world.

Some of the requests are simple.
Many of the writers are unselfish, asking that others be remembered to a far greater degree than the writer.
Of course, there are in some, long lists of things which old Santa is asked for, but by far the majority of these requests would require but a very small expenditure to satisfy. Yet in the majority of these simpler requests there is just the barest possibility that even these will be granted.

While demands in recent months have been heavy for charity, yet an effort should be made to bring Santa Claus to as many of these unfortunate ones as possible. The grown-ups of today have realized all too soon in years gone by the seriousness of life, the hardships and the battles and difficulties which daily confront them.
Why not put off as long as possible for these youngsters a realization of this condition, and let them for a little

Everyone in Munday has contributed at one or more times in recent months to appeals for aid of one kind or

Yet there are still those in this

With the announcement of the new

000 workers in the plants and sales-

This number represents a complete normal working force, Mr. Knudsen explained. About 30,000 are on direct Chevrolet payrolls in the company's 20 domestic plants, the central office group and factory sales forces in the field. An additional 21,000 are em-ded 36,000 dealers and their salesmen,

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Everybody has a remedy for the present condition of the country but few public servants indicate a willingness to work for less.

Big business men who complain about government in business seldom object to a special favor being thrown to their industry.

The first evidence of a progressive community is an appreciation of the advantages that exist rather than wasting envious glances upon the assets of other towns.

Maybe it would be a good idea to let the political prognosticators run the government until a new crop can grow up to tell us where they make their mistakes.

GREETINGS

With Every Good Wish For Your Happiness and Well-Being . . .

We are glad of this opportunity—this annual custom to send greetings from one to another. We'd like to meet each of you in person for a friendly little chat so we could tell you in such a way that you would understand our sincerity when we tell you how much we appreciate your patronage and the pleasure we have derived from doing business with you. Strange as it may sound, our greatest joy comes from our daily life in this business—the privilege of dealing with folks we know and the satisfaction of feeling that we are rendering a service and making friends. That is the greatest profit this business yields. May this Christmas season bring you a full measure of happiness. May it bring peace of mind, contentment and pleasant recollections—and bring these in such abundance to last throughout the days of the coming year.

that it was an error.

When we make errors like this we are reminded of a newspaper which we once worked on which carried under its masthead the following: "I know not what the truth may be, but I'll tell it to you as 'twas told to me." And that wouldn't be a bad line for any newspaper to carry, for it is seldom that we have news items given to us directly from the source of origin of the item, and we naturally are compelled to rely upon the things we hear, which are sometimes inaccurate, but we always strive to get the facts and present them.

We are indebted to our advertisers for their liberal patronage in this, our final issue of 1932, and we urge our readers to read the advertisements inserted in this issue. The advertiser is sincere in expressing the sentiments expressed in their various ads, otherwise they would not spend their good money to carry these messages to the readers of The Munday Times.

Some weeks ago we sent out statements to a number of subscribers, and to date the response hasn't been anything to brag about. However, we hope to hear from others during the next few days, and if we fail to get a remittance on the statement sent out we will assume that you don't want this paper any longer and will lift your name off the mailing list. Don't let the old home paper stop. We need you on our list.

The chief obstacle in the way of the development of such a body of voters in the past has been the circumstances that our revolts are sporadic and ephemeral. We have heretofore had a habit of burying the hatchet after election day. As soon as the votes are counted in Texas, no matter what the character of the contest, the successful candidates begin to talk about "harmony". Mr. Ferguson did some talking of that kind recently. But it appears that the State Executive Committee is going to break that precedent. And from a certain angle, it seems to us that this may be a good thing for the State in the long run. If our Congressmen and Senators will fall in with the plan heartily, and if the policy can be kept up long enough, it seems to us that it might tend toward the development of such a body of independent voters as the State needs. The gentlemen of the committee may be performing a public service. That is not their intention, to be sure. Their intention is to discipline the voters. But human nature is curious in that the better it is, the less it can be disciplined by such methods.—The Texas Weekly.

Will Modern Jazz Music Become Classic of the Future?

Singers Think Radio Performers Do Not Fully Appreciate Modern Method

New York City.—Will our grandchildren speak in some kind of our jazz as "classical"? Lulu Quinn Weyant and Ethel Horton, nationally famous radio performers, think they will.

"I am sure that we here in America do not hold jazz any more lightly than Germany held Wagner in his youth," declares Lulu Quinn Weyant, who speaks with the knowledge of a music teacher. "There has never been a single innovation or great step in any art that the same thing hasn't happened and jazz must be an art or it could never have become the universal language which it has," explains Ethel Horton, pianist of the team. "For the first time in history there is an international music. Not understood by its general appeal we regard it as highly and often rare. We are right in the midst of what is probably the world's greatest forward step, musically.

"That, many of the members are, is an emotion and a distinct contribution. For one thing, it has a new type of lyric which is especially successful for singing. It is in the class of 'Pop Song' the 'Woods' which has existed since before the advent of the Big Band and which we think of as a real classic. Probably our generation, hence will be singing 'Around the Corner'."

As We Say Goodbye To 1932

We seem to want to pause to look back over the days that have passed. Yes, we know there have been better days, but after all we find a lot to be thankful for. Among the joys of the year we count the pleasure of the frequent visits from our patrons and our happy associations with them. To us that is worth a lot. We thank each of you. AS WE LOOK FORWARD TO 1933 we do so with hope and with good intent. We are going to put forth our best efforts to make it a good year—a year of BETTER service to our patrons. We hope it will bring to each of you many of life's choicest blessings.
