Report On Bovina Feedlot Going In: Strengthen Feed Usage

Plans for a cattle feeding operation to ultimately handle 30,000 head of cattle has been announced at Bovina by newly-formed Cooperators.

The feedlot will be located on the south side of highway 60 on land purchased from Jack Dunn, Clovis.

The site is four miles southwest of Bovina and eight miles northeast of Texico-Farwell.

Owners of the cattle feeding operation will be G.D. Anderson, who is co-owner and manager of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman grain elevators in Parmer County; John Douglas Pitman of Hereford, Owen Seaman of Hereford, and A.R. Dillard, Jr. of Wichita Falls in conjunction with Jack Dunn.

Also a stockholder in the cooperation will be Casper C. Neagle of Rosewell, who will manage the feedlot in Bovina.

Construction on the facility is expected to get underway within the next 30 days, Anderson announced this week.

A grain-preparation mill will be installed to handle a capacity of 30,000 head. Pens for approximately 10,000 will be constructed this year with others to be added as they are needed, according to present plans.

"We would like to have the plant in operation in six months, but the beginning time is uncertain now," Anderson commented.

The cattle feeding corporation will be called the Parmer County Cattle Co.

Installation of the feeding facilities will provide another major industry for the Parmer County area. Then the feedlot is operating at capacity, 20 or more people are expected to be employed.

In addition to the payroll, the increased use of locally produced feed will make a stronger market for milo and ensilage. This too can be of economic benefit to the area in general.

"This area is as good as any from the standpoint of feed production," Anderson said. Plans for the feedlot construction have been underway for a year or more.

HUD Approves Grant To Help Develop City

The Journal was notified in a telegram today from Senator Ralph Yarborough that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a grant of $12,440 under the Urban Planning Association program to help pay for growth and development of Muleshoe.

Total cost of the comprehensive plan for Muleshoe will be approximately $19,540, which will leave the city only approximately $7,100 to apply to the plan. Kenneth Larson, Albuquerque, planning consultant, has been authorized by the council to begin gathering data for this plan.

The consultant will perform all the necessary services provided under his contract in connection with and respecting the City of Muleshoe and the area anticipated to be in the process of urbanization through 1986 which shall be designated the planning area.

Thirteen avenues of investigation have been outlined for the comprehensive plan.

They include mapping, Historical Development, Characteristics, Environment, Economy, and Population, Land Use Survey, Neighborhood Analysis, Thoroughfares, Transportation and Central Business District, Utilities, Community Facilities, Long Range Capital Improvements Program, Administrative Controls, Comprehensive Plan, Plan Presentation and Administration, Reports and Publication and Follow-Up Assistance on the Program.

To touch briefly on each of the subjects the mapping phase includes preparation of an up-to-date base map of the corporate area, block lines in re-recorded additions and property lines of unsubdivided land; standing surface water, streams and drainage. Three other phases of mapping is included.

The historical report will include, in part, a report on the general character and historical development of the urban area. Environmental factors will include elements of the regional and local environment which is likely to affect the physical development of the city.

A study will be made along with an analysis of the Municipality's economic base, and a study will be made on population. The total population for the planning area is to be projected by five year intervals.

A survey will be made of each lot and plot in the planning area being used.

The neighborhood analysis established a system for classifying the exterior quality of housing and structure.

Maps will be prepared as to width of existing right-of-ways, types of paving, paving width, and transportation facilities will be investigated.

A study of utilities will be made on the consonance with state criteria, of the essential portions of the water system to determine the adequacy to meet existing and forecasted needs.

Sewage and drainage will also be studied accordingly.

In the study of community facilities, schools will head the agenda in the light of facilities to meet existing and forecasted membership requirements and the projected membership by five year increments.

Parks and recreational facilities and public buildings and facilities will also be under study.

A financial study will be made of municipal revenue programs and thereby determine a forecast to 1986.

Zoning ordinances will be studied under the Administrative controls section.

After thorough review, a discussion of all materials will be held with the Planning Commission. The consultant will prepare a comprehensive plan and give a report that includes essential information obtained, conclusions drawn, and recommendations made for each element of the plan . . . to be adjusted when necessary for compatibility with the long-range capital improvement plan.

Larsen will meet with the Planning Commission and City Council each month to give interim reports. He will also present copies of findings, graphs, maps and other data to the Planning Commission and City Council and be available for a follow-up service in agreement with the contract.

"The comprehensive plan is the first step for a community to take advantage of other Federal aided projects in the future," he continued.

"Each phase of the Comprehensive program will be given equal emphasis or value," Larsen said.

COLLEGE STATION ... Officials of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service here have announced the appointment of a new area agronomist to serve the High and Rolling Plains. The new agronomist, Dr. Robert B. Metzger, assumed duties in the position March 16 at the Extension Service District Office in Lubbock, according to Extension Director John E. Hutchison.

Metzger will be working closely with county agricultural agents of the area on educational programs dealing with the important agronomic crops and will be responsible for providing needed training on subject matter. He will also assist agents with their result demonstration program and will work with other area specialists on short courses and other teaching and training aids, the director said.

Hutchison further stated that the agronomist will work closely with research personnel at the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock and other research stations in the area. He will also give assistance to the South Plains Development (SPD) program which was launched last week.

Metzger holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas A&M University in agronomy and recently received a Ph.D. from Iowa State University in seed technology with a minor in crop production.

Dillman, Rajama To Attend Austin Legion State Session

Three High School boys will represent Muleshoe in the 1967 session of the Texas American Legion Boys State, Commander Morris Nowlin, of the Ben Richardson Post No. 403 of the American Legion here, announced today.

Named to participate in this annual American Legion workshop in the organization and operation of state and local governments are David Dillman, son of school Superintendent and Mrs. Neal Dillman and Mike Rajama, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rajama. Alternate is John Embry, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Joe Embry.

The 1967 Texas American Legion Boys State will be in session from June 10-17 at the University of Texas, Commander Nowlin said.

Departments of the American Legion will sponsor 51 of these boys for the summer session.

Two outstanding youths from each American Legion Boys State will go to American Legion Boys Nation in July in Washington, D. C. where they will study federal government organization and operation in much the same manner as the Boys State delegates participate in training in state government.

During their Boys State sessions, the Muleshoe youths will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within a mythical state.

"As one of the Legion's outstanding youth training programs. Boys State affords youngsters an opportunity to learn the functions of government," Commander Nowlin said. "Also, they will see the importance of the role a good citizen has in discharging his citizenship responsibilities. They soon discover how good government depends upon the active interest of every citizen."

One of the Muleshoe youths is being sponsored by the Rotary Club and the other by the Muleshoe Ben Richardsons Post.

Importing Water Topic Of Meeting

"Water can be imported to the Texas High Plains," Tom McFarland of Lubbock, manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District told members of the Farmer County board, their wives, and representatives of Partner County newspapers Thursday night at a dinner meeting at Bovina Restaurant, McFarland said that it's possible the people of the Plains will be asked to the next six to eight months if they want water imported here. It will be necessary to vote a tax on the entire area to bring the water here, he said.

McFarland handed his audience an information sheet which listed the following pre-conditions:

1. The Engineering can be done.
2. The price will be feasible.
3. The crops will be needed.
4. The present water will go.
5. The plains people will pay for the water, and will vote to do so at a reasonable time.

He then explained that there will be a Master Water District with taxing power.

McFarland said it is too early to determine how much the water will cost, but he mentioned $30 an acre foot as a possible cost figure.

Ross Goodwin of Muleshoe, who is a member of the water district's board of directors, showed slides made on a recent trip to California to learn how that state transports water to dry areas.

"Twice the present amount of water being used now will be needed in this nation by 1980--just 13 years from now," McFarland said.

He explained that the High Plains Water Conservation District is the oldest in the state in point of service. It has been in operation 15 years.

Time Drawing Near for Auto Safety Sticker

Less than a month remains for approximately 2,000,000 vehicles registered in Texas to secure the 1967 Safety Inspection Sticker.

The period set by law for securing the 1967 sticker ends at midnight, April 15, and there can be no extension of that deadline.

The Department of Public Safety Sergeant stated, "Any motorist whose vehicle bearing Texas license plates that does not display a 1967 inspection sticker after April 15 is subject to arrest by any Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff, City Policeman, or any officer of the Department of Public Safety and upon conviction will be subject to a fine not to exceed $200."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a copy of a newspaper a March wind blew through a hole in my back screen door, sure, I know the screen ought to be fixed, but first things first--the back step ought to be fixed, because that loose board's what caused me to stumble and push a hole in the screen in the first place, and the reason the board is loose is because I couldn't find my hammer, and the reason I didn't find my hammer was because there wasn't any use wasting all day looking for it, I'm out of nails may not be an easy answer to a lot of things, whether it's Viet Nam or a hole in my back screen door; so, to get on with this sentence, according to the article in this newspaper which you might say had been carefully screened, the United States needs to pay more attention to its image throughout the world.

"The image we create in the minds of people of the rest of the world is vitally important to our success in maintaining world leadership," the article went on.

I had not paid much attention to this matter before and personally have never been very much interested in leading the world, not in view of where it seems to be going at the moment, but after giving it some thought I can see some advantage in maintaining the proper image abroad.

"What do you mean?" I was asked, not exactly pleasantly.

"What's our present image?" I asked, and went ahead to explain it's mechanized. "Every other nation on earth knows American farming is mechanized. We do everything mechanically. You're not going to catch me tarningish our international image by picking up a post hole digger and digging by hand. What do you think it would do our position or world leadership?"

"You could do it after dark."

"And increase the credibility gap? There's too much deception and dishonesty in the world already."

I got tired of arguing and moved out of ear range. There are some things some people will never understand. The world is more complicated than you think.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

LIBRARY News

Story hour for pre-school children was held Wednesday at the Muleshoe Area Public Library, with 21 attending. Coming for his first story time was Scot Baker, son of the Jacques Bakers. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Shawna Eubanks. The children brought colorful pictures and cut-outs of Spring and Easter, and these were placed on the library bulletin board, along with those made and colored at this meeting. The small fry lined up and each had a try at shooting the old hen and if lucky enough to hit her on the target, she laid an egg. The story this time, along with the Easter theme, was "A Tale of Peter Rabbit." Each child then had time to select a brand new book, if he desired from the 50 NEW Easy books in children's section. "The library will not have a story hour two weeks from now, March 29 as many will be on Easter vacation. Next Story-hour will be April 5, and all children are welcome," Librarian Anne Camp said.

BIBLE HOUR
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Ben Haden, a Miami Presbyterian pastor, and a one-time newspaper man and attorney, is the new speaker for the weekly NBC radio broadcast, the Bible Study Hour, produced by the Evangelical Foundation of Philadelphia.

With the 60th Session half over in terms of days, bills are beginning to pour out of the various committees for floor action. The Governor's proposed tax measures, which if enacted in total would produce around $145 million in additional State revenue, appears to be in some difficulty in the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Speculation that parts of his proposal will not be passed this Session means that legislators may begin looking to other sources of taxation. Included in the Governor's tax package are increases in the natural gas production tax from 7 to 8 percent of the wellhead value, the motor fuel tax from 5 cents to 6 cents per gallon, and 2 percent sales tax on alcoholic beverages, which are presently exempt under the selective sales tax act. The most controversial portion of the tax package hinges around the Governor's recommendation to open the door to legalized liquor-by-the-drink, and to levy a tax of 5 cents per ounce on the liquor. This particular proposal would add approximately $15 million to the General Revenue Fund. In his original address to a joint session of the Legislature, the Governor recommended repeal of the Colson-Briscoe Act, commonly known as the farm-to-market road program. Repeal of the measure would add $300 million to the General Revenue Fund during the biennium. The farm-to-market roads program is extremely beneficial to our West Texas

Area and total repeal would be detrimental. Since his original recommendation, the Governor is now advocating that the repeal of the Colson-Briscoe Act not be done, but that the source of the $30 million merely be transferred from the General Revenue Fund to the Gasoline Tax Fund. This transfer, if enacted, means that our important farm-to-market road program would remain in effect. Various tax measures in addition to those advocated in the tax package have been introduced and others are being considered if the need necessitates. Bills have been introduced to raise the beer tax and to raise the college tuition fee, a measure advocated by the Coordinating Board, College and University System, but not by the Governor in his remarks to the Legislature. There is considerable comment that the selective sales tax may be raised one-half a cent or even to 3 cents, with the possibility of making the tax an across-the-board tax, removing present exemptions. Because of the importance of the taxation measures, I have sent material on the subject to the Secretary of the Bailey County Legislative Council, Mrs. Betty Jennings, in order that the tax measures might be further discussed at the next Council meeting. Also included in the package mailing to the Legislative Council Secretary is material on the proposed traffic safety program, education, and the controversial daylight-saving time.

Heated discussion on major state issues is beginning to dominate legislative activities. In later columns I will discuss the minimum wage proposal, revenue bonds issued by local governmental entities for industrial development, annual sessions of the Legislature, prohibition of eavesdropping by electronic devices, and the traffic safety program. Please continue to express your view and your suggestions on these critical matters.

Sincerely yours,
s/ Jesse T. George
State Representative

Curriculum Guide

ALGEBRA I
 Algebra I expands all the manipulations of arithmetic to algebraic skills. It enlarges understanding of the basic concepts and principles of mathematics. Emphasis in the course is on mathematical principle and understanding. The pupil learns and uses methods of expressing mathematical relationships through equations, inequalities, sets, Venn Diagrams, etc. He achieves more power in mathematical reasoning through problem solving; learns to organize and arrange ideas in a logical sequence, as well as develop and use a mathematical vocabulary. In algebra, you master the skills needed which you will need in geometry, chemistry, physics and shop work in high school; and, in future work, in fields such as electricity, television, engineering, medicine, aviation, atomic energy, etc.

Not only is algebra a requirement for college entrance, but you learn the basic number language of hundreds of occupations in all parts of the world.

PLANE GEOMETRY
 In plane geometry course the student meets a type of mathematics that differs widely from any that he has studied before. Previously his answers have been numbers. In geometry, he is asked to prove that a statement is true or false. This calls for understanding, learning, and applying many theorems, rules, and definitions. In addition to knowing these, he must see relationships and analyze each problem. This plane geometry trains pupils in the technique of the discovery of truth. Through the study of plane figures, plane geometry acquaints the pupil with effective methods of clear, impartial thinking, critical evaluation, and intelligent generalizations. Geometry is used by the artist, draftsman, pilot, engineer, scientist and in numerous other fields in this wonderful space age in which we live.

RELATED MATHEMATICS I

This subject matter can be taught successfully as a one-year mathematics course to that part of the high school enrollment for whom the regular first-year algebra is considered too difficult. Indeed, the tempo of the regular first-year algebra is too rapid and leaves many of these youngsters bewildered. The majority of these students come to their ninth year of instruction in mathematics with very little understanding of the structure of mathematics. Too often their idea of mathematics is to arrive at an answer to a problem with an application of some operation picked at random. Practically all students can understand that there is a structure to mathematics if it is presented from the structural viewpoint. As they begin to understand the beauty and nature of mathematics, the applications of the various operations will begin to be meaningful to the pupils. Then the operations will be used in problem solving with true understanding.

Through this course, students who have learned the four fundamental operations and have learned to apply them to a few problems are often considered to have achieved the ultimate goal in mathematical training for those students not going to college. A basic knowledge of the nature and structure of mathematics, as this course gives, causes even the weakest students to have more security. It is for this reason that this course is taught with the invention of mathematics as a tool and is continued to build up this idea through the study of the set of real numbers in Related Mathematics II.

RELATED MATHEMATICS II
 This course can be taught successfully to that part of the high school enrollment for whom plane geometry is considered too difficult. This course includes the second-semester content of first-year algebra with inclusions of three-space geometry, trigonometry and other related topics. The pace of a regular first-year algebra course followed by a year of plane geometry study, with its highly deductive nature, usually proves to be entirely too much for students near or below the national average as reflected by the curve of normal distribution. The course presents a structural viewpoint of the development of mathematics. Without this approach, the students too often have the idea that mathematics consists of some application of an operation picked at random to effect a solution to a problem.

VICA Planning For Contest

Elesie Joe Johnson
 Ronnie Farmer, president of the members March 12, 7:30 p.m. The group practiced the opening and closing ceremonies for the contest to be held in Amarillo. Paul Wolfe, VICA member, tried out for the Parliamentary Procedure Part. Group discussion was held regarding those who miss called meetings.

Practically all students can understand that there is a structure to mathematics if it is presented from the structural viewpoint. In this course, the importance of a basic understanding of the nature and structure of mathematics is stressed. Likewise, continued emphasis on the development of mathematics as a tool is maintained, with the concept of set being built into a presentation of the set of real numbers. The student may take this Related Mathematics II after taking Related Mathematics I and graduate from high school on the vocational plan.

Areas of classroom study include:

- A. Soil and Water Conservation. Where the functions of agencies assisting with soil and water conservation are studied. Advanced study in the areas of land use, erosion control, cover crops, contouring and other conservation practices are also studied. Irrigation problems including selecting equipment and land preparation are also studied.
- B. Livestock Production and Management includes studies in the areas of providing shelter and equipment, advanced feeding, handling the sire, breeding, artificial insemination, evaluation of on hoof and slaughtered animals, and commercial grading of beef animals. Livestock and Dairy Cattle judging teams are selected from Vo. Ag. III students. These teams

Vacation Coming

MHS Students are finding it difficult to make the next two weeks, but from all indications, it seems that each individual will survive. Yes, just another week of school, then nine days vacation! For the first time, Muleshoe Schools will dismiss school for an entire week for Easter vacation. Next Friday, March 25, school will be dismissed at the regular time. For those wishing an extended fishing trip or a trip to Six Flags Over Texas, they will have two full weekends with a week between them. School will resume on April 3.

AGRICULTURE COOPERATIVE TRAINING IN VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Agriculture Cooperative Training in Agricultural occupation prepares high school youths for useful employment in occupations of their choice. Two years of agriculture cooperative training is made possible by cooperation between local schools and agricultural related enterprises. Students will:

1. Develop basic manipulative skills in the occupation of their choice while working for pay in an approved agricultural enterprise.
2. Develop an understanding of the technical and related aspects of the occupation through daily class work under the direct supervision of a Vo. Ag. teacher.
3. Develop appreciations, attitudes and work habits that will contribute toward the development of good citizens by developing their physical, social, civic, cultural and economic competencies.
4. Earn a minimum of two elective credits per year toward high school diploma on completion of 175 class periods of related study and 325 hours of supervised work experiences.

Blackburn-Moore Chapter of Future Teachers sent ten representatives to the State FTA Convention in San Antonio Feb. 23-25. The group traveled by means of a chartered bus with groups from Sudan, Otton, and Littlefield. The trip was highlighted by the election of the State officers for the 1967-68 school year. Also the Muleshoe High FTA yearbook won the title of State Yearbook in the Commercial division for the second consecutive year. that have ever judged the contests. In previous years the A Capella Choir has received a III and a II rating in concert and a V and a Y rating in sightreading. This is the first year of participation for the Girl's Choir.

Needmore Family Forms Portion of Area History

Evalyn Parrott Scott
Material submitted by their daughter, Ruthie (Wofford) Bates who resides in the Needmore Area. Two checks given by her father in 1925 and 1928 are now on display in the First National Bank. One is in payment for twelve acres of land, Barney Wofford and wife, Cora (Johnson) Wofford and children moved by wagon to Sudan in 1924. In 1925, Barney purchased land from a Mr. Clements (at the present day site of the Central campus) and built the family a two room slant topped house. Barney worked as a carpenter and farmed near the present day colored town. He was the son of J. W. Wofford who was born in 1849, coming to Texas from Missouri in a covered wagon. Making the trip with him was a brother and tradition is the brothers had a disagreement, parted company and the brother of J. W. changed the spelling to Wofford. Barney's mother was named Skelton and like another Skelton, the famed entertainer, they too were noted for red hair and dimples. J. W. and wife settled at Shannon, Texas (near Henrietta) bought two labors of land, some of which is still in the Wofford family estate. He died in 1942 at the age of 93 years. Cora L. Johnson was born at

Weatherford, Texas, Jan. 20, 1896 and was the daughter of Joe H. Johnson and Roxie Alwood, who were married in Hood County, Dec. 26, 1891. Cora attended Oklaunion High School and married Barney Lee Wofford in 1914. The couple lived on a ranch near Crowell before moving to Sudan. The death of Barney Wofford in 1927 cut short his life as a Sudan Pioneer. He died from a ruptured appendix at the Methodist hospital in Lubbock. Following the death of her husband, Cora Lee Wofford ran for, and was elected to the post of Public Weigher. The office in which she worked was located in the area of where the City Hall now stands. She worked there and weighed feed for 10¢ per load until she married, G. C. Briscoe, Aug. 3, 1931. Mr. Briscoe died in 1936. By this time all the Wofford children were grown and married. Of a patriotic nature Cora Wofford Briscoe joined the WAC's May 2, 1944, (during World War II). She was stationed at Ft. Riley, Kansas and Fort Benning, Georgia. She served as a cook and as a Mail Orderly T-5; received an honorable discharge, Dec. 9, 1945. Medals bestowed upon her included the American Campaign Medal, World War II Victory Medal, and the Good Conduct medal. Following her discharge from the WAC's she worked at the lunchroom, the local variety store and the dry cleaners. August 1, 1952 she assumed duties as a postal clerk in the local post office where she was employed until her death while on duty, July 9, 1959.

New Courthouse for Moore County

A total low bid of $160,690 -- some $20,000 below the estimated price -- was accepted Tuesday by Moore commissioners when nine contractors put in bids for a large-sized remodeling and renovation of the county courthouse here. All bids were "well within the money" for the project that had been estimated at $180,000 by Rittenberry and Associates, the county's architectural firm. That amount was voted by Moore voters in a November election. The low bid by Timmons Construction Company of Amarillo, the last to be opened at the Tuesday special session, listed a base of $158,830 with an alternate bid of $1,860 on new plumbing fixture for the county jail. The main item of the courthouse facelifting -- the first since the structure was put up in 1931 -- will be completely revamped heating system and installation of air conditions for the entire building. The remodeled Moore courthouse will also have new windows suited for the modern air conditioning and heating systems, a top to bottom painting, and lowered, acoustical tile ceilings. Also included in the plans are remodeling of the district courtroom and some new vinyl tile flooring.

Observing Easter

"Jesus said, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11:25.

Easter, the day on which we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord, should find us worshipping Him in His Church. He is alive! His presence fills the sanctuary! All things are made new. It is the time of beginning again. Attend church and join your neighbors in singing praises to God for His Glory and Power and Love; and some of this Resurrection Joy and Power will come to you.

EVANGELISM IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVANGELISM

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Plains Citizens Meet.

Citizens of Plains area gathered at the District Courtroom in the County Courthouse Tuesday night for the purpose of uniting to build a bigger and better community. The 97 people who attended listened to Cecil Williams urge residents to plan for the future. Williams said a rumor has been spreading in Plains. The rumor is that we are dying. He denied this categorically and urged the people to leave the meeting and stop the rumor. The local minister challenged the audience in asking, "Why are we standing around looking at one another?" He continued in saying there are three reasons for the recent decline in community progress and business. These reasons are lack of leadership, lack of vision, and lack of action. Williams said if we fail in meeting these three objectives that we will fail as a community.

Teacher pay raise voted

Yielding to pressures to meet competition in hiring and keeping teachers in Hereford, the board of trustees Tuesday night voted a pay raise of $300 per year for each certified professional person working in the system except those whose contracts had recently been drawn. This move would exclude noncertified teachers, the superintendent, assistant superintendents and athletic director from the pay hike. Action came after an intense study of area schools' base pay and questionnaires received in the Hereford school from schools of similar size discussing salary possibilities. Base pay for beginning teachers in Hereford will now be $5004.00 per year. (EDITORS COMMENT: "Base pay for Certified teachers with a Bachelors Degree in Muleshoe schools is $4514.00 a year.")

Improvement Bonds Sold

The Cochran County Commissioners Court sold $400,000 in improvement bonds Monday afternoon to the First National Bank of Dallas at an effective interest rate of 5.55991626. This action further paves the road toward actual construction of hospital and courthouse improvements. Bids for the improvements are expected to be let within a few months. The bid from First National Bank of Dallas, which was lowest of the nine received, called for an interest payment of $146,297.75. Other bidders present when the Dallas bank was announced as winner said the county had received an excellent bid. D.E. Benham, president of the First State Bank of Morton, said the Commissioners Court should be commended for saving the county $20,000-$25,000 in interest. This was accomplished by taking bids for the bonds.
