Untimely Errors Costly to Homers In Game Sunday

Two high throws to first and one to second proved too great a handicap for Munday in Sunday's game against Stamford, and gave the visitors the best of the argument by a 7-9 score. While the visitors were chalked up with an equal number of errors, the half dozen made by the home guard proved more expensive than those made by the visitors and gave them the decision.

Chick Smith went the entire nine innings for the home aggregation as did Hollis for the visitors, and they both pitched far better baseball than the score would indicate.

Following is the box score for Sunday's game:

RHINELAND

The Senior Play entitled "His Uncle's Niece," postponed from May 10 to 25, was staged in the school auditorium here last Thursday night, May 25, 1933. In spite of the heavy rain the day before the auditorium was filled to capacity with an appreciative audience. The seniors wish to extend their sincere thanks to those who attended their play and helped by their contribution to make this play a great success. The appreciation and compliments expressed by you compensate us fully for the efforts expended to present this difficult play under very trying circumstances.

A motorcade, consisting of thirteen cars, motored to the headwaters of the Wichita river last Tuesday, May 30, to participate in a fish fry. Approximately seventy people participated. Two hundred pounds of fish were provided by Messrs. Jno Albus, and son Robert, Matt Kreitz, Richard Blake, John J. Hoffman and son T. J., and the Rev. Boniface Spanke, O. S. B., who had gone down to the stream previously. Some as early as Sunday afternoon. The fry was given in honor of the Altar Boys of St. Joseph's Church. Their mothers and friends accompanied them. Everyone reported a most delightful and enjoyable time.

After the rains of last week, which reached almost the torrential stage, many farmers of this community are busy replanting their cotton; but in spite of this, they are rejoicing over the fact that enough moisture has been put into the soil to last for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Albus entertained a group of young people with a supper last Sunday night. Refreshments were served later in the evening. Those entertained were: Misses Leona and Veroyca Schumacher, Bertha and Loretta Kuehler, and Genevieve Albus, and Messrs. Alois and Lenard Kuehler, Clement

D. T. Mauldin Is Chosen Secretary Chamber Commerce

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Munday Chamber of Commerce on Friday afternoon D. T. Mauldin, who recently tendered his resignation as city secretary, was elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for a term of two months, during which time the organization plans some very constructive work for the community, and it was the sentiment of the board that Mr. Mauldin was the man to put over the project.

The newly elected president of the organization, plans some very constructive work for the organization during the year, and has been assured the fullest cooperation from the board of directors.

Thinking Out Loud

By J. A. K.

Of course we know how easy it is to get things wrong in print, figures especially, and we would like to remind the sports writer on the Rule Review that Munday has lost only two games to date this season, including the one Sunday.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt recently quoted the late President Theodore Roosevelt as having once said that if he could be right seventy-five per cent of the time he would be satisfied, and we are sure that Editor Harris' batting average is equally that good, even though he did get his baseball figures balled up last week.

And that's one thing we like about our President. He readily admits that he may be wrong about some of the things he is advocating and doing, but anyway, he is doing something, which to our way of thinking beats anybody's inactivity, and the folks of this country are about 103.2 per cent behind him.

Naturally, there are those who "view with alarm" the unprecedented powers vested in Mr. Roosevelt. And certainly some of the fundamentals have been shattered to smithereens, but these are times that require drastic and unprecedented action, and we believe with millions of others that with almost unlimited authority he can solve many of the great economic problems without exercising some of these powers vested in him to any degree. In fact he has shown an inclination to use these powers to the smallest degree to accomplish his purposes.

Expenses Small At Summer Term At John Tarleton

John Tarleton Agricultural College will open for summer school here on Monday, June 5 to July 15, and the second from July 17 to August 26. Expenses for the summer have been cut to the minimum. Rooms in the college dormitories are $5 per month per student, and board $16 per month. Tarleton is a member of the American Junior College Association and of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States.

Mr. and Mrs. Avis Maples and little daughter came in the latter part of last week from Streetman, Texas, where Mr. Maples has been teaching the past two years, and they will spend the summer months in Munday.

Albus, Tony Peyson, and Alpha Moore.

Miss Frances Bruckner left Sunday to accept a position in Olney.

COUNTY AGENT TO DISCUSS FARM EMERGENCY LOANS IN MEETING IN MUNDAY ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

A mass meeting has been called for Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the hall over the Moore Chevrolet in Munday by County Agent W. E. Jones, at which time he will explain fully the new Farm Mortgage Act which is designed to enable farmers to secure loans from the Government at a low rate of interest to take up outstanding loans. If you are interested in securing a loan to retire an outstanding mortgage or desire to make a loan on your farm, don't fail to attend this meeting.

Some facts concerning this new measure will be found in another column of this paper.

"The Big Drive," Official, Authentic World War Picture, Is Scheduled At Roxy Theatre Here At Early Date

The scroll of history unrolls before one's eyes on the screen at the Roxy Theatre beginning June 14. Serpentine showings have recently been completed in all major cities, where been sensational.

Never before has there been a motion picture such as this. Albert L. Ruel, the producer and himself a veteran of the A. E. F., has spent the last 14 years in getting together the finest collection in existence of official war films from military archives of every nation which participated in that epochal struggle.

These separate films have been put together in a picture of engrossing interest. One follows German troops in their invasion of Belgium, witnesses those first battle beyond the Marne, and the German push toward Paris; sees British, Russian and French troops as they went into the first battles of the war.

And, through those long years when nations were locked in combat, one follows the fortunes of their armies. Every scene is authentic. One is transported behind the German lines and witnesses the action of batteries whose siege guns crumbled the forts of Liege and Namur into dust. There are pictures of desperate hand to hand combat in trenches and in beleaguered towns.

Down the dusty roads of France trudge again Poilu and Anzac, Canadian, British Tommy and Yank. Tanks rumble into action, machine guns chatter their song of death.

No other picture could be like this. These unknown, unsung actors play their little parts in grimmest earnest on a stage whose curtain is death.

During the entire picture is heard the voice of Mr. Ruel, the producer, in an informative explanation of all scenes.

CORRECTION

In giving the list of graduates who received diplomas from the Munday High School last week we inadvertently omitted the name of Mary Fritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fritz, and we wish to add her name to the list.

One of the interesting features of the class this year was that three families had two graduates each in the class, these include Madeline and Mary Fritz, Ruth and J. C. Rice and Chalmer and Chaney Hobert.

Rev. W. H. Albertson Delivers Address at Sunset Exercises

The Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered Sunday morning to the graduating class of Sunset by Rev. W. H. Albertson of Munday.

Bro. Albertson delivered an interesting and inspirational talk on the Warfare of Life. He emphasized the fact that he is not attempting to give the class advice, observing that he felt that often too much advice was given, but he brought out the fact through apt illustration that faith in one's self, faith in fellow-man, faith in God, and the untiring labors of the individual are necessary attributes to win in this warfare.

Thirteen Receive Diplomas In 7th Grade at Sunset

The seventh grade graduation exercises of Sunset school were held in the auditorium Friday evening, May 26, with Superintendent Duff of Weiner delivering the principal address.

Certificates were awarded to thirteen graduates of grammar school. The class this year is much smaller than last year, but the class next year will be much larger. Due to the raising of standards in the school, quite a few pupils have dropped out, but the percentage of withdrawals is growing less and less.

The Senior class this year is also small, but next year's class will be larger.

MARVIN JONES GETS PEN

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Representative Marvin Jones of the Amarillo district is the possessor of one of the pens with which President Roosevelt approved the farm bill at the White House Friday. The group was photographed with the President in the executive office.

The new farm bill, more sweeping than any measure of the kind that Congress has enacted, was piloted through the legislative shoals in the House of Representatives by Mr. Jones as chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, and in the conference the burden of defending the measure with its proposals of farm relief, farm mortgage relief and currency inflation fell to Mr. Jones, and in which he was the administration's spokesman.—The Dallas News.

COUNTY COUNCIL P-T-A WILL MEET JUNE 6TH.

The Times has been requested to announce that the County Council of the Parent-Association will meet at the Christian church at Knox City at 2:30 on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 6th, and all who are interested in this work, and especially the "Summer Round-Up," are requested to attend.

Local Missionary Society Joins In Big Treasure Hunt

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church has joined in a nationwide "Treasure Hunt" inaugurated by the Board of Missions for the church, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. J. D. Kethley, president of the local unit of the organization, and the public generally, and especially Methodists, are urged to ransack their premises for old discarded pieces of jewelry, silverware, platinum or other valuable metals and turn same in to the society as a contribution to the work. These metals will be sent to a central assembling point and sold and the funds applied to carrying on the mission work in home and foreign fields.

Most every family has tucked away some old pieces of jewelry, silverware, or something containing gold, silver or platinum, and regardless of how small the contribution might be, they urge that it be turned in to the local organization.

SIDELIGHTS

BY MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress from Texas

One of the most important phases of work in Congressional committees during recent years is the investigation now being conducted before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Already a number of facts have been brought to light concerning the international banking establishment of J. P. Morgan & Co., which has come to be looked upon by the American people in an almost legendary light because of its great power in the financial world.

The outcome of this investigation, which will embrace not only the Morgan interests but other big banking institutions as well, will no doubt result in beneficial legislation which will enable the federal government to strengthen its control over the money and credit of the nation. It may also lead to further banking reform and to the strengthening of other laws as well. Work along this line has already been started.

An example of the inadequacy of present statutes can be found in the testimony that J. P. Morgan gave to the Senate investigating committee, in which he said that he paid no income taxes during 1931 and 1932, and very little in 1930. However, he did pay income taxes in England.

The American people may well be astonished by such a revelation. The fact that America's symbol of money power paid no income tax is startling. Mr. Morgan explained this fact by saying that he had to partake of the losses of his company as well as the profits.

In this country capital losses are not taxable, while in Great Britain they cannot be deducted in making individual returns.

Another interesting revelation which has been made is the extensive control which the company has through its twenty partners. These partners hold eighteen directorships in banks and trust companies and 167 directorships in corporations.

These points are only a few examples of the many things which the Senate committee is learning, and as the hearings progress, ore interesting developments are likely to result.

It is the intention of the investigators to bring into the open the practices of these private interests which have held such a grip on our economic structure.

If present laws have been violated, punishment should follow immediately. If the laws have been evaded by various methods, then they must be tightened and revised to insure justice to every American citizen.

No matter what the final outcome of the investigation may be, already the little individual has come to realize how insignificant he is in the midst of this enormous centralization of holdings and control.

The balance must be restored, and the irregularities must be corrected.

Moffett Explains Provisions New Law On Taxes

The Times has received the following communication from Hon. George Moffett, Representative for the 114th district, explaining the terms of the new delinquent tax bill, and we publish it in order that the citizens of this county may know the terms of the law. Neither the city nor the local school board have made any provisions as yet to comply with the extensions permitted by this law.

The bill which releases penalties and interest on delinquent taxes is a fusion of the O'Neil bill in the Senate and the Leonard bill in the House.

The bill provides that all taxes delinquent to the State, any county and other political subdivisions of the State on February 1, 1933, may be paid at any time prior to July 1, 1934, with interest and penalties which have already accrued deducted. If these taxes are paid prior to October 1, 1933, there will be added a penalty of one per cent; if they are paid between October 1, 1933 and December 31, 1933, there will be added a penalty of two per cent; if they are paid between January 1, 1934, and March 31, 1934, there will be added a penalty of four per cent; if they are paid between April 1, 1934, and June 30, 1934, there will be added a penalty of six per cent.

The above provisions shall not apply to cities, independent school districts or special school districts unless and until the governing boards thereof pass an ordinance or order adopting the plan.

Delinquent taxes due all self-governing political subdivisions (not including State and county taxes) may be paid in the following manner if this plan is adopted by the governing boards thereof.

The taxpayer who is unable to pay all of his delinquent taxes at one time may, prior to September 30, 1933, make affidavit of such inability to pay and tender the affidavit to the tax collector, together with a sum equal to no less than 20 per cent of the taxes due. The tax collector shall accept this payment and the taxpayer will then be allowed to make four subsequent payments, each to be not less than 20 per cent of the total due. These four payments shall be made on or before June 30, 1934, December 31, 1934, June 30, 1935, and December 31, 1935. The first of these payments, that made on or before September 30, 1933, shall have added to it a penalty of one per cent. Subsequent payments shall have added to them interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from September 30, 1933.

The failure of the taxpayer to comply with the provisions of the law shall cause the addition to the taxes of all penalties and interest released by the law.

HOGAN-DUNNING

J. H. (Hilton) Hogan and Miss Carra Mae Dunning were united in marriage on Sunday morning, May 21st, at Sapulpa, Oklahoma. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Adams, pastor of the Methodist church in that city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Dunning of Dewey, Oklahoma. She is a graduate of the Oklahoma General Hospital and was head nurse in the Parmlay-Ogden hospital in Electra for three years. She is prominent in music circles, having served as president of the Harmony Club and treasurer of the Electra Music Club.

Mr. Hogan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogan of this city. He was reared in Munday and graduated from the Munday High School. For the past three years he has held a position with the Waggoner Refinery at Electra. His many friends here join with us in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chapman of Winters, Texas, were week end guests here in the home of his brother, W. H. Chapman.

C. S. Ameen of Knox City is in charge of The Economy Store while the proprietor, Sied Wahed, is taking a vacation at Corpus Christi. Mrs. Wahed is a daughter of Mr. Ameen.

The Rev. H. C. Hand is engaged in a meeting at Throckmorton and will be here for two weeks. The regular services will be held at the Methodist church on Sunday morning, with a visiting minister filling the pulpit, but there will be no evening services.

THE OIL PROBLEM

Every newspaper in the country is being flooded with all kinds of oil propaganda. Some of this propaganda is urging one kind of regulation and some another, but all of them are urging citizens outside the oil producing areas to interest themselves in their individual efforts to relieve the condition of chaos in which the oil industry, and more especially the independent oil producer, finds himself.

The oil producer's condition is very much the same as that of the cotton producer. He is producing more than the market demand, and so long as this condition exists there will not be a profitable price for oil nor cotton or anything else. The law of supply and demand is as unfeeling and as sure as the law of gravity, and there can be no means of control unless it is nation-wide in its scope. Texas might pass laws regulating the amount of oil or cotton produced within its boundary lines, but such a move would only spur other states to an increase in production as soon as the price of these commodities reacted from such restrictions, and imports would be materially increased unless tariff walls were thrown up to a prohibitive point.

If relief is to come through the restriction of production to either the cotton farmer, the oil producer or the producer of any other commodity it must come through virtual dictatorship from the Federal Government, and unless such a dictatorship is established production cannot be regulated, and therefore no relief can be found through legislation for the ills that beset the oil and numerous other industries.

DIGGING OUT FACTS

Peter Molyneux in his Texas Weekly has a convincing way of dealing with facts and figures. He is convinced that prosperity can be returned to the Southland only through a resumption of world trade whereby Texas would have an outlet and a competitive market for its cotton, and he points out that in 1928 when the world's commerce was running along harmoniously Texas cotton represented $628 for each family in the state, while with reduced export trade in 1932 the fleecy staple represented only $210 for each family.

Mr. Molyneux protested vehemently against an article published some weeks ago in the Saturday Evening Post by a nationally known writer urging Americans to buy American-made goods exclusively, contending that a revival of world trade will be absolutely necessary for the restoration of living prices for farm commodities.

Since there is a potential market for only a small percentage of the cotton of the Southland in the United States, it is necessary that the cotton farmer look to export trade for a market, and if the farmers of the Southland are to refuse to buy European goods how can the European buy cotton from the southland?

Indeed such a policy as suggested in the Saturday Evening Post article would most certainly prove beneficial to some degree to the North and East, where manufacturing provides the staff of life to millions, but such a policy would most certainly further reduce the people of the South to poverty, and we are grateful for able writers like Mr. Molyneux, who, with facts and figures, carry on the battle for Texas and the South.

J. H. LOWRY

The newspaper fraternity of Texas lost one of its outstanding members on Monday when J. H. Lowry died after a prolonged illness at his home at Hozy Grove. Following a recent operation in 1927 Mr. Lowry wrote an editorial urging his readers to use buttermilk as a substitute for liquor, and the article was reproduced all over the nation, and thereafter Mr. Lowry became universally known as "Buttermilk Jim." A gifted writer and orator after the fashion of the Old South, he was universally loved by all who knew him.

Mr. Lowry had not been active in newspaper work for the past few years, having sold his newspaper interests at Honey Grove to Hugh Moyer, who consolidated it with the paper published there for many years by his father, the late J. D. Moyer.

MUNDAY CHAMBER COMMERCE HAS ITS BANQUET

Seymour Banner—

It was the happy privilege of several members of the Seymour C. of C. to attend the annual meeting and banquet of the Munday Chamber of Commerce, which was held in the dining room of the Munday Hotel on Tuesday evening of this week.

The occasion was dampened to a slight extent by the rain that fell just before the meeting. This kept away visitors from all neighboring towns except Vernon and Seymour, and the Seymour party laid up at Bonarton some twenty minutes while a small flood vented its worst force. But those who braved the storm were well repaid for making the trip. There was not so much rain at Munday, and the attendance there was not cut down heavily.

The meeting was given a great start by music from the orchestra, with a snappy song by two of the young people. A Mr. Tucker was then called upon for his famous imitations of animals, and his production should entitle him to a place in a road show. The address was delivered by Editor R. H. Nichols, of the Vernon Record, who was recently elected vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Nichols has delivered quite a number of similar addresses, and he had a message that gave hope for the future of the small town, one animated by such a spirit as is manifested by his host city. Secretary Wilson of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce accompanied Mr. Nichols.

The retiring president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce is R. B. Davy, and he presided at the meeting. No president there has ever accomplished more than he. The incoming chief official is Tom Haney, another good man. The vice president is W. V. Tiner, and the secretary is to be selected by the directors.

After Mr. Nichols address all the other visitors were called upon for a few remarks, and made appropriate responses. The principal speaker was introduced by Editor J. A. Kennedy of The Munday Times. Those attending from this place were: President George S. Plants of the local Chamber of Commerce, Hon. Joe A. Wheat, L. E. Loveless and O. C. Harrison.

Sickly, weak, underweight children are usually lacking in rich, red blood. When blood becomes poor, a child becomes rundown. Already weak, he loses appetite, which makes him still weaker. Take no chances on a child gaining strength by himself. Start giving him Groves' Tasteless Chili Tonic right away. This famous tonic contains both iron and tasteless quinine. Iron makes for rich, red blood while quinine tends to purify the blood. In other words, you get two effects in Groves' Tasteless Chili Tonic. Put your child on this time-proven tonic for a few days and see the difference it makes in him. Good appetite, lots of pep and energy and red roses in his cheeks. Children like Groves' Tasteless Chili Tonic and take it eagerly. It is absolutely harmless and has been a reliable family medicine for half a century. Get a bottle today at any store.

We want to express our heartfelt thanks to our many kind friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of kindness in the death of our son and brother. Especially do we appreciate your expressions of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings. May you all be blessed with the same true friends when sorrow enters your home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fr. A. family, and relatives.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Gilbreath were through here on Tuesday morning with a group of boys composing the baseball team of the Higgins Methodist church who were enroute to Abilene for a game with McMurtry College. The party spent the night at Crowell and drove here for breakfast, and during their brief visit here Rev. and Mrs. Gilbreath met a number of their old friends, they having resided here some few years ago when the Rev. Gilbreath was pastor of the Methodist circuit. At the time he left here he was in very poor health, and his many friends will be pleased to know that he has fully regained his health and is feeling fine. He is pastor at Higgins, Texas.

LAUGHING AT MISFORTUNE

Joe Wheat, Seymour Attorney, dropped a very beautiful thought at the recent Chamber of Commerce banquet here when he stated that he had learned to think more of his neighbors and people generally for the optimism with which they had faced financial reverses since the beginning of the depression. By looking around us we find many who have "taken a rap" financially, who can still smile, and who still view the future with hope and determination to succeed, who view the reverses suffered during recent years as merely a temporary set-back in their plans to achieve some measure of success, and are not in the least despondent, but rather enjoy relating incidents and making comparisons bearing on their plight.

No single agency has contributed to this feeling of optimism more than the new administration at Washington. During the few weeks that Mr. Roosevelt has occupied the White House his official acts have put an entirely new aspect on the outlook. People generally feel that a real "new deal" is being inaugurated in these United States. They feel that the cards are no longer stacked against them, and that in time our government will restore to some degree that great fundamental principle of democracy, "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," and that is about all that the average American citizen asks in his pursuit of happiness.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself. The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery. There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before. My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice. Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users. We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world. We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect. I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it. The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience. We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

Federal Emergency Farm Mortgage Act Expected To Relieve Much of Financial Strain On Homesteads

In the first two days after the passage of the Federal Emergency Farm Mortgage Act, applications for relief were received from 1,269 farmers. Most of these applications were sent to Washington, indicating that few farmers know where the Federal Land Banks for their district are located. There are twelve of these banks, and in connection with each of them a Loan Commissioner to operate under the new law has been appointed. These new loans are made to refinance farm indebtedness, provide working capital for farm operations, and to aid in the redemption of foreclosed farms. They are not primarily made for the purpose of refinancing farm first mortgages. That is to be done through the Federal Land Banks working in connection with the present holders of first mortgages.

THERE ARE LOAN LIMITS

Loans under the new law are limited to $5,000 to any one farmer. The amount that may be loaned, added to existing mortgages or other debts secured by farm property, cannot be more than sufficient to bring the total debt up to three-quarters of the appraised value of the property. These are second mortgage loans, repayable over a series of years, and an agreement has to be obtained from the holder of the first mortgage that he will not proceed against the farmer for failure to pay the principal of the first mortgage.

Applications for loans under the new law should go to the Federal Land Banks for the district in which the farm is located. These districts are:

First District; Springfield, Mass. Serves the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. Charles Windholz, Commissioner's agent.

Second District; Baltimore, Md. For Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and the District of Columbia. George Stephenson, agent.

Third District; Columbia, S. C. For North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Henry S. Johnson, agent.

Fourth District; Louisville, Ky. For Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. Agent no yet appointed; address simply Federal Land Bank, Louisville.

Fifth District; New Orleans, La. For Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana. William L. Pryor, agent.

Sixth District; St. Louis, Mo. For Illinois, Missouri, and Arkansas. Ernest J. Bodman, agent.

Seventh District; St. Paul, Minn. For Michigan, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Minnesota. Jerry P. Riordan, agent.

Eighth District; Omaha, Neb. For Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. Bert Waddell, agent.

Ninth District; Wichita, Kansas. For Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. Graves Shull, agent.

Tenth District; Houston, Texas. For the state of Texas alone. A. P. Graves, agent.

Eleventh District; Berkeley, Calif. For California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. William H. Woolf, agent.

Twelfth District; Spokane, Wash. For Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. J. A. Scollard, agent.

How To Get Loan

Farmers desiring to borrow under the new law should write for information to the agent for their district. Address "Loan Commissioner's Agent, Federal Land Bank" and the name of the city in which district headquarters are located.

It takes a little time to get action. Local appraisers have to be called amine title and records of existing mortgages, but the Farm Board promises to move as fast as possible in each case, and some loans were actually made within a few days after the law was passed.

The first loan was to Elijah Purvines of Sangamon County, Ill., on a farm which he has owned and operated for 31 years. This was for $3,500 and was made through the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. The second loan under the act was to W. H. Chapman of Whitney, S. C., who borrowed $2,000 under the act on a first mortgage on his property.

Gulf Refining Co. Announces A New Idea In Gasoline

HOUSTON, Texas, May 25th—Lubricated gasoline, a distinct innovation in motor fuels, was announced today by the Gulf Refining Company through O. H. Carlisle, District Sales Manager. The new product is the result of extensive experimentation in the Gulf Refining Company laboratories, and is the answer to the problems presented lubrication engineers by the increased demand of the motoring public for high speed motors.

The new product is being marketed under the slogan "That Good Gulf Gas—Now Lubricated" at no extra cost. Mr. Carlisle pointed out. Salient features of the new fuel, according to Mr. Carlisle, are: correct lubrication of the valve seats and top of the valve stems, which tend to prevent drying and pitting of valves; plus lubrication to the upper part of the cylinder walls, thereby reducing wear on cylinders and pistons as well as rings.

Through use of lubricated gasoline it is now possible to design motors with smaller clearance between piston and cylinder wall and also to use tighter-fitting oil rings. In some cases two oil rings are used, all of which reduces crank case motor oil consumption.

Ease of starting with lubricated gasoline is believed assured by the fact that when combustion chambers are flooded with lubricated gasoline in choking the motor valves are less apt to stick, while use of "That Good Gulf Gas—Now Lubricated" assures longer life for certain parts of the motor such as valves, guides and piston assembly.

With reference to the lubrication of gasoline, Mr. Carlisle, quotes C. B. Veal, Research Manager, Society of Automotive Engineers, as follows: "We are now facing a rather new type of automobile engine—the tendency for the past few years has been to increase the speed of our engines."

"At first we encountered excessive oil consumption above certain speeds, but blow-by and other features of ring and piston functioning have so improved to prevent excessive oil consumption even at high speeds now common. Personal experiences and reports from others lead me to believe that some of these engine may come close to experiencing a deficiency in oil supply at moderate speeds."

"If the oil supply actually failed, I agree that lubricated fuels would not solve the problem, but if some of these new engines are coming close to the danger point in the meagerness of the oil supply at moderate speeds it seems reasonable that a lubricated fuel would offer a sufficient panacea to bring about satisfactory car operation."

In Germany and England lubricated gasoline has been used widely for as long as two years with notable success. Mr. Carlisle pointed out. Also, the lubrication of outboard motors is taken care of through mixing lubricating oil with the gasoline. Many large truck and bus operators have been using lubricated gasoline for some time even though it was necessary for them to purchase a popper oil to mix with their gasoline. Most car manufacturers recommend mixing lubricating oil with gasoline during at least the first 2000 miles of driving the new car.

"I would like to state," Mr. Carlisle said, "that in using 'That Good Gulf Gas—Now Lubricated' automobile owners may be assured of correct special upper cylinder lubrication under normal driving conditions and at the ordinary driving speeds. No extra charge is made for our new product."

Miss Thelma Atkelson has returned from Berkeley, New Mexico, where she was a teacher in the public school.

Miss J. D. MeStar and T. E. Dickerson were visitors to Abilene Tuesday.
