Today And Tomorrow

BOOZE—and automobiles

Before prohibition there were only about 2,000,000 automobiles in the whole United States; now there are more than 25,000,000. High speed has been encouraged; the fastest road speed allowed by law in 1920 was 25 miles an hour; now there is no limit on modern open highways.

The automobile reached its present stage of development in a period during which sobriety was the rule. It is perfect nonsense to say, as the "wets" have contended that there was more drinking under prohibition than before. Everybody who thinks straight knows that is not true. But there is a great number of motorists who have yet to learn that even legal booze and automobiles don't mix. New Jersey has had to suspend more driving licenses for driving while intoxicated in the past month, than in several years.

The only way a motor-car can be driven with complete safety to the driver, the occupants of the car and any others who happen to be on the road, is by a driver who has not had a drink of liquor for the past twenty-four hours.

ROADS—of the future

Gradually we are learning how to build motor roads for high-speed traffic. There isn't any question that the best road material is concrete; its higher first cost is more than repaid by the lower cost of annual maintenance, if the road is properly built.

Roads wide enough for two cars to pass used to be thought sufficient; but a single slow car would hold up traffic for miles, so the three-car road was tried, the middle channel for faster cars to pass the slower ones. Soon, however, a new breed of road-hogs developed, who used the middle channel continuously, preventing cars in the other direction from making speed. Now no highway is considered really modern unless it is wide enough for four cars abreast without crowding.

The ideal motor road of the future will keep the traffic in one direction separate from that going the opposite way, by a wide parked space between the two. It will be built of concrete on deep rock foundations, and each side of it will be wide enough for two or possibly three cars.

WEALTH—and the man

The current talk of "a more equal distribution of wealth" doesn't worry me. Communists talk as if wealth were static, as if there were only so much of it, so that to give the poor more meant taking from the rich. They forget that one hundred years ago we were all poor, and got rich not by robbery but by creating more wealth.

Money is not wealth, neither is raw land. Wealth is the product of labor applied to land and its products. Money is merely a convenient form of storing and transmitting ownership of wealth. If any man has the capacity to create wealth, he is entitled to what he creates. But if he has to call on others to direct his energies into profitable channels, to risk their wealth in the effort to help him create more, then they, too, are entitled to their share.

I have lived more than 60 years, and I have never observed that any really competent man did not get all of the wealth to which his competence entitled him, nor have I seen any incompetent man benefit by well-meant schemes to make everybody rich.

MESDAMES KETHLEY AND WILLIAMS HOSTESSES AT MAPLES FAMILY REUNION

Mesdames J. D. Kethley and P. V. Williams were hostesses for a family reunion in the P. V. Williams home on Christmas Day, this being the first time the family had been together for several years. Quartet tables were placed and a turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served to Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Maples, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Avis Maples and little daughter Opal Louise. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maples of Spearman, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maples and son Carl Jr., of Haskell, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owens and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Christie, all of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kethley and children Jerry, Joe Lynn and Shirley; and Mr. and Mrs. Williams and children, Jack, Rupert, Wanda and June, Jean and Charlotte Ann.

Farm Contracts To Be Explained In Meeting January 11

W. E. Jones, county agent, has requested that we announce to the farmers throughout the Munday and Gorse sections that a meeting will be held at the community auditorium in Munday on Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, January 11th, at which time he will explain the 1934 cotton acreage plans and contracts and terms will be explained by him, and he requests that every farmer and land-owner through this part of the county attend this meeting.

Vernon Brewer of Benjamin In Race For County Supt.

Vernon Brewer, principal of the Benjamin high school, was in the city Tuesday afternoon and announced that he would be a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction in the summer primaries, and at a later date would make an announcement outlining some of his ideas pertaining to the office and its duties.

Mr. Brewer has been a member of the faculty of the Benjamin schools for the past four years, the last three of which he has served as principal of the high school. He is 28 years of age and finished his high school work at Littlefield, later attending Texas Tech at Lubbock.

D. C. Osborne Seeks Re-election Office Co. Commissioner

D. C. Osborne was in town Monday and authorized that we announce him as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner Precinct No. 4.

Mr. Osborne stated that in again seeking for the office he is doing so purely upon his own record in the conservation of the county's funds, and he asks that the voters investigate his record and ascertain for themselves as to whether he has faithfully worked toward the economical operation of our county government, and he states that it will continue to be his policy to safeguard the interests of the county and his precinct if he is again honored with the office.

First National To Provide Depositors Guarantee Feature

Effective January 1, the First National Bank here became a member bank of the newly enacted law which provides a guarantee of all deposits up to $2,500. The law creating this protection to depositors is one of the Roosevelt administration, and should prove of great benefit to both depositor and bankers, and the local institution is to be congratulated upon providing this feature.

Cotton Production For 1933 Slightly Below 1932 Figure

Knox county's cotton ginnings for 1933 were 53,890 bales up to December 13, according to figures given out by Hoyle A. Sullins, enumerator for the Department of Commerce, as compared with 57,772 on the same date last year. This brings the total ginnings for the past year up to within 2,882 bales of the record-breaking figures for 1932, despite the plow-up campaign.

Clarence D. Knight Is Called By Death At Abilene Home

J. A. Kennedy received a telegram Wednesday morning advising him of the death in Abilene of Clarence D. Knight, who died at 7:30 Wednesday morning from a heart attack. Mr. Knight had suffered for several days with influenza but his condition was not considered serious.

Mr. Knight was well known in Munday having been one of the early day printers here during the days of Thom. Durham, and only recently conducted the subscription campaign for this paper, during which time he renewed many old friendships and formed many new, and his many friends here will learn of his death with great sorrow. Mr. Kennedy was named as an active pallbearer but due to illness was unable to attend the funeral, which was held at Eastland Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Knight is survived by his wife and one son, C. D. Knight, Jr., of Abilene.

Ben Guinn Sustains Painful Injury In Highway Accident

Ben Guinn sustained a very painful injury last Thursday evening when he and Fred Broach were returning from Haskell on Highway 30. They were driving at a rapid rate of speed with Mr. Broach at the wheel when they ran into a trailer behind a car, and since there were no lights on the trailer they did not see it in time to avoid hitting it, and the impact which followed one of the timbers from the truck struck Mr. Guinn in the cheek, knocking several teeth loose and inflicting a very painful wound, which required several stitches to close.

Depositors Receive Dividend Checks On State Bank Deposits

Depositors in the defunct First State Bank here are this week receiving their first dividend checks, which are for 8 percent. The bank closed in October 1931, and this is the first dividend check that has been paid to depositors.

MRS. J. A. COUCH, SR., DIES

Death claimed a former pioneer Munday citizen Wednesday night in El Paso when Mrs. J. A. Couch, Sr., passed away at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Walter Roberts. Mrs. Couch had been in poor health for several months and had only a few weeks ago left the home of her son Carlton, for a visit with her daughter at El Paso. Mrs. Couch and her husband were among the early settlers of this section of the state. She is survived by several children. Funeral services will be held in Haskell Friday afternoon. Mrs. Couch was 88 years old.

Mother W. R. Moore Succumbs at Home At Ardmore, Okla.

W. R. Moore returned home early this week from Ardmore, Oklahoma, where he attended the bedside of his mother, Mrs. W. R. Moore, Sr., who passed away at her home in that city last Saturday, and the following facts concerning the life of this good woman are taken from the Daily Ardmoreite, which in addition to the beautiful tribute paid in the news item below gave her a beautiful editorial tribute on its front page. The item from the Ardmoreite follows:

Mrs. Jeanette Manning Moore died at her residence, 626 Stanley, Saturday morning at 2 o'clock following a three weeks' illness.

Christian Science funeral services at 2 o'clock this afternoon will be held at the residence. Burial, with Harvey Bros. funeral home in charge, will be made in Rose Hill cemetery here. Pallbearers will include George W. Strawn, James Colbert, Mike Gorman, Ed Sandlin, Garnett Johnson and J. W. Davis.

Here for the funeral are W. R. Moore of Munday, Texas; Arthur Moore, Vicksburg, Miss.; Barton W. Moore, Ardmore; Mrs. Fred Ellis, Ardmore; and Mrs. S. E. Elder, Tulsa. Other survivors include four brothers, W. L. Manning, Albany, Texas; J. W. Manning, Fort Worth, Texas; J. A. Manning, Rowell, N. M.; Walter Manning, New York City; and three sisters, Mrs. Mary E. McNulty and Mrs. Fannie L. McGinty, twin sisters of Alvin, Texas, and Mrs. Ida Hagerty Snell, New York City.

Held in High Esteem

Esteem in which Mrs. Moore, a truly generous person, was held in the hearts of Ardmore folk is best demonstrated by a conversation between two small boys shortly before her death. Said one: "She's a saint, isn't she." To which the other replied, "no, not exactly a saint, I don't think, but something like a saint." They may have been two of the many children whom she frequently invited into her spacious home. She was noted for her many gifts and her devotion to children. At Halloween time she frequently stood on the great veranda of her home and handed out sacks full of candy to children who were passing by. "Her kitchen was ever stored with food which she gave generously to charitable agencies," one of her sons said Saturday, "but she always kept food here at home and gave it freely, along with her money."

Mrs. Moore was born in Bellville, Texas, in Austin county, Feb. 4, 1860, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Manning, farm folk. As a girl she attended public schools at Bellville, and later attended college at what is now Sam Houston college at Huntsville, Texas, and graduated. While visiting her sister in Albany, Texas, she met W. R. Moore, a typical Texas cattleman, generous and likeable, and after a short courtship, they were married on Dec. 5, 1883, at the Manning home in Bellville. They lived for a time in Albany and later moved to Fort Worth. Hearing of the riches of the vast Indian territory north of Red river, the Moores moved here in 1889. Mr. Moore was active in cattle and oil mill business until his death, Aug. 18, 1914. A daughter, Mrs. Harold Wallace, died on Oct. 10, 1918 during the wartime influenza epidemic.

Devoted to Her Religion

Mrs. Moore, a Christian Science practitioner, was staunch in her belief in Christian Science. It was largely through her efforts that Christian Science was first planted in Ardmore. Back in the first years of her life here, she conducted a little Sunday School, and later when the Christian Science church was established, she was an active member. Her eldest son, W. R. Moore, said Saturday that "she never wavered from her faith in Christian Science, neither at the death of her husband and her daughter or in her own illness. In her recent illness," he said, "she consented to physical and material aid simply in deference to her children's wishes, but for her, her own religion was ever sufficient. Her devotion to that religion was one of the beautiful things about her life."

Her big brick home was always brilliantly lighted, and at Christmas-time the place was one of the show places of Ardmore. Gay Christmas lights were used effectively in decorating, a feature which was sadly missing this Christmas due to Mrs. Moore's serious illness.

Letters From Our Readers

December 30, 1933.
Munday Times:
Dear Editor:-

If you refuse to print this communication I shall charge you by way of posters throughout the county of conspiracy to blindfold and hood-wink the citizens of Knox county. This is just exactly what is being done with the citizens of Knox County and your esteemed paper is made the executioner of the dark scheme. I wish to serve public notice that I am going to join the so-called caterpillar club. When I see that one of the pilots of our bridge and road promotion plane is beginning to play sheenigans, I will slip on my parachute and quietly leave the plane. I wish to be present at the inquest which is going to be held in the year 1934. If you ask me why I leave my post I have held for four months at the request of county on my own individual expense, I would answer that the first reason is that the whole south of the river project is going to be ditched, and secondly I cannot stand the stench of rotten politics. I have worked on this progressive scheme from the standpoint of common sense and social justice, I have fought against private profit for county benefit. If the selfish and the jealous part of the community is gleefully anticipating the destruction of this scheme and is getting ready to join in a boisterous hurrah because they succeeded in destruction if they could not get their way, all that leaves me as a dog's nose. I can sit by and smoke my pipe and await the time when we will have a regular dogfight about this affair that will make the fight over the location of the first bridge dwindle into insignificance. But, you may ask what got you all het up? Well, if you wish to know it was your article on the construction of the road from the bridge. In spite of the inclemency of the weather I did not hesitate to look over the proceedings on this side and then went across the river to look over the proceedings there. I found the entire right-of-way cleared and neatly fenced, found the river bottom cleared, I found a bunch of freemen busy on the rough breaks to change this part of the line into a veritable highway. Further up I found the large grader working on a two-mile stretch to build up the road bed. On the second hill I found the road-bed completed and wagons busy hauling gravel. The whole scene was rapturous. What can be put up to make any showing on this side of the river? There are about one dozen of ten inch stakes driven in the ground by the highway engineer. That is absolutely all that can be shown although according to your article this scheme had been "started" in the beginning of the week and had been "pushed" now nearly to end of that week.

It is stated in your article that for the project of the road from Rhineland to the river EL799 had been lately approved. That is an absolute falsehood. There is no project of any road from Rhineland to the river on the books of the CWA but only the project from the river to Munday, and no money is available unless that entire project is executed. I went to Benjamin to get first hand evidence about the amount of money approved for the south side project and I find on the records of the CWA open to everyone who desires to verify for himself that $17,218.60 have been approved for this project. The south side has received $2000 more than the north side and now go and look it over and you will say that the looks on this side do not even come up to the proverbial thirty cents. Knowing that no money was available till the first step had been completed the acquisition of the right of way, I had gone over to Munday last Saturday and implored some gentlemen to work a few hours on Sunday to get this right of way. What happened? They met the commissioner and announced to him the goods news that they were getting the right of way gratis. He told them there was no hurry in that line till the location had been authoritatively decided by a highway engineer, when Mr. Garrat of Crowell had gone over both roads in question last Friday in the company of the commissioner and had declared for the west road. I immediately sent a special delivery letter to Mr. Garrat requesting him to put his designation black on white and have it sworn to before a notary public. Before this will appear in print I shall have the sworn statement of the commissioner that he will build the road that shall be designated by a highway engineer, I shall also have the sworn statement of Mr. Garrat that he did really designate the west road and then the gentleman will have to do some tall explaining to the citizens of Knox county to get around perjury.

As far as I am concerned they can do with the road what they please, my time to laugh will inevitably come. But I wish to know and the citizens of Knox county have a right to know and especially the citizens of south-east part of the county have a right to know why they cannot get as good road on this side of the river to go to the county site as they have on the north side, and especially have they the right to know why the people of the south side cannot get $1000 a week flowing out of the open coffers of Uncle Sam unless stopped by selfishness and bullheadedness on the side of individual citizens and the political handoffs of the county leader. Anyone who obstructs this progressive move will have to answer the citizens of the county at the next election if he runs for office and every progressive citizen will consider it an insult to be asked the favor of his vote by an obstructionist.

Allow me in this swan song of mine to strike a pathetic strain; whereas, the State Highway Commission, has consented to our petition for designation only on condition that both ends of the road be put in number one class without expense to the state.

Therefore, the Highway commission will refuse to open the bridge to traffic when located, until these conditions have been fulfilled to the satisfaction of said Commission.

Therefore, the commissioner, if he does not make use of Uncle Sam's bounty at the present will dig into the hoarded shackles of his district before the expiration of 1934, or his successor will be elected on that very platform.

Here is hoping that while I can no longer play in the band, that leads the progressive triumph, I may be able to foot in the band that leads the procession to the political bone-yard.

Yours for progress and social justice.
P. Boniface O. S. B.

We gladly give space to the above letter, not because of the threat to charge us with being a party to the "dark conspiracy" which the good brother seems to vividly see hovering in the mist. While there have probably been some inaccuracies in our items pertaining to the work, especially as to the progress made, we are sure that our friends will know that no intentional mis-statement has been made, and will not charge us with any previous offense.

Indeed, even the casual observer may detect from the above article that there is an unimpeachable desire to build up a political issue, and in this we feel that influences outside the precinct have prompted and abetted the writing of the above.

If we choose to discuss "conspiracies" we might go back a little further and point out that Munday, the largest town and most densely settled community within the county, is without representation on the said welfare board. We might even mention that one of the men now active in the CWA board in Knox county has stated that he was going to defeat the commissioner in this precinct, even though he does not reside within the confines of said commissioner's precinct, and official action of said board to date would indicate that the work on this project is going to be hampered by certain members of said board and other officials.

Yea verily, we might go even further and say that two members of the commissioner's court of Knox county together with the county judge are at this time striving to incur an obligation of more than $100,000 on the part of the tax payers of this county without their permission or sanction for the construction of a new court house, and while this paper has not raised its voice in protest, it is not a party to said conspiracy.

It may be news to the good brother that any project that might be of any benefit to Munday has been "ditched," but it is not to us, for we have in a measure become accustomed to such action. Indeed, we were ditched when we were denied representation on the board which is in charge of the distribution of these funds in Knox county, and it is gratifying to us that some other community in Knox county has recognized this rank discrimination.

And when you, Father Boniface, have the answer to your question as to why he south-east part of the county cannot get as good a road on the south side of the river as they have on the north side of the river, and when you have the answer to your question as to why $1,000 per week is flowing out of the coffers of Uncle Sam on the north side and practically nothing on the south side, we will again open these columns and enlighten the public, allowing chips to fall where they may.

Indeed we believe that an open and above-board discussion of the matter will be enlightening to the citizens of Knox county, and if we are guilty of any conspiracy the people have a right to know it, and if someone else has been guilty the people have the same right to know it, and we propose that they shall know it.

Respectfully submitted,
J. A. Kennedy, Editor,
Munday Times.

A SELF-CONTAINED NATION

In developing a program under which the United States will be independent of foreign influences upon our internal domestic economy, the present Administration is taking a line which is almost forced upon it by the increasing super-nationalism of the rest of the world. It is the fashion among nations at present to make themselves independent of each other, or to attempt to do so. As a result of that nationalistic policy, one after another of America's foreign markets has been cut off so that, as we have lately had occasion to realize, the outlets for our surplus agricultural products has been steadily shrinking.

Until the nations of the world resume their old policies of free exchange of commodities, subject only to tariffs which will equalize cost of production as between them, it is the manifest duty of the United States to restrict its production to our domestic needs, and to import only such commodities as we cannot produce ourselves. But that is easier said than done. We cannot buy without selling.

We think the steps which are being taken to reopen certain foreign markets are, in the long run, likely to be more beneficial than the narrow policy of self-containment; but we must be sure that, when we open the door to the goods of any foreign nation, that nation will take enough of our own goods to strike a balance. France is a perfect example of a self-contained nation, but when it found it could not export its wines to America as freely as it wanted to, it was ready enough to agree to lower its tariff barriers on certain American products. The result of the recognition of Russia should be a similar freedom of exchange. Russia has many things that we need and do not produce, such as manganese ore, but Russia must be prepared to buy our goods with the money we pay for hers.

We think the equalization and stabilization of the world's currency systems, on some new standard, will go a long way to break down international trade barriers and restore the free flow of commerce, without which no nation can realize its full possibilities of prosperity.

In conjunction with our regular Brazos Valley Basketball League games, Sunset High School offers something extra this week end. Sunset extends to the public an invitation to a series of tournament games on January 5th and 6th. Nine fast quintets will be represented. The teams represent the following schools: Rochester, Bomarton, Knox City, Sunset, Vera, Old Glory, O'Brien, Truscott and Munday. The competition is going to be keen because every team is out to take back the trophy which is to be awarded to the winning team. Remember the date—January 5th and 6th.

Don't forget the regular Brazos Valley Basketball league game on Thursday night. The Sunset Eagles have their claws sharpened for the fray and anticipate sending Weichert home in tatters. Sunset vs. Weichert at Sunset, Thursday, January 4th.

SENIORS

Well, here we come again. It seems queer that we would wait until a new year before visiting you again, doesn't it? But that's just what we have done. We hope that this New Year finds us Seniors improving in our studies.

Christmas time is over, and we are feeling far better than we did before it happened. It seems that Santa Claus visited all of us this year. We have enjoyed quite a few amusements during the holidays. In fact, we have had such a nice time until it is rather difficult to calm down to studies again. However, we are starting the New Year of 1934 with better recitations than we had in '33.

We are now looking forward to mid-term, when we can show our teachers what we really are capable of doing.

Happy New Year to the paper and Editor.

JUNIORS

Gee, but we have enjoyed the holidays. We are happy to be in school again, though, and we wish everyone a prosperous and joyful New Year. Since 1,34 is here at last, it is but proper that we make some resolutions, so here goes:

I resolve to find every means by which I can make life miserable for the teachers.

Elvis resolves not to go to too many shows. (Where have we heard this resolution before?)

Verna resolves to become an accomplished flirt.

Rogers resolves to give the girls a break-up, a breaking heart. (After this one, what good will it do us girls to make resolutions?)

Several of us have a sore throat to begin the New Year with. (I wonder why?)

Why is Edna so sleepy this morning? (Something tells me she saw the New Year arrive.)

The Juniors are happy to have Elsie Redwine back with us. She has been in bed nursing a sore throat.

Our favorite peat, Veleria Stephens, is leaving us. (Oh, aren't we tickled?) We will really miss her, though, and we wish she could stay with us.

SOPHOMORES

Well, Christmas is over and we all had a very nice time. Each one seems to be proud of the gifts they received. There are very few that have made complaints about their gifts. Mat is one that seems upset about his gifts. He told Miss Leath that Santa did not bring him what he wanted. She asked him what did he want and he said he wanted everything. Jack seems to be well pleased as Santa brought him a "nigger" doll. Miss Leath broke Lillian's pretty doll that Santa brought her but she told her not to cry and maybe Santa would bring her another one next year.

New Years is here and there are oh so many new resolutions made. We wonder if they will hold out 'till next year. Jimmie told Miss Leath that his resolution was to be just as mean in her classes as he could and I think that the whole class should help him in this. P. M. said he was going to be a better "little" boy, (but he's not so little that I can see.) J. C. says that he will study Spanish more. (But he doesn't.)

Gladys seems to like to ride in a certain new Plymouth. (We wonder why?) Jeannette seems to like curly headed boys. Oh yes, Gwendolyn had fortune told last night. We are all wondering who she's going to marry! Mat seems to like a Freshman girl but we can not find out just which one! Pete seems to like to go to Knox City for some cause. (Don't know why?)

FRESHMEN

By a close observance of the Freshmen we can see that old St. Nicholas made a cheerful visit. Perhaps it is just the intent glow of the brightness of the Freshmen above all the other high school that makes them so colorful. It also may be the good old school spirit which we have learned to cultivate in recent years. With most of the Freshmen, Christmas spirit and school spirit are truly different. It's going to be hard to get back to studies.

The Freshmen have agreed not to make any resolutions for 1934 so that we will have none to break and save time worrying and thinking over the making. Although we have had good times the past year together, we are going to have many more this year. We are going to start the New Year off with a bang and end it with a—well, wait and see. (There we go making resolutions.)

Juanita Fleminken, as she walked up the hall, sang, "Did you ever see a dream walking?" Somebody heard her and asked if she really had. She said she had, and she had also seen him skating. No wonder the skating rink monopolized her thoughts.

Vieta to the skating rink by Juanita Forehand led her to catching frogs. She caught one from Lake Creek whose initials are B. C. There is plenty of water around Lake Creek, so why doesn't he stay over there?

Two of our Freshman boys are not present today. We wondered what the matter was, and by picking up statements here and there we found this:

J. T., a well-known Freshman. One dark night last week. Went to the cellar with a match. In search of a gas leak. (He found it.)

Carl Strieng read that human eyes. Of hypnosis were full; He went to see if it would work. Upon an angry bull. (It wouldn't.)

—Heart Throbs.

PERDUE FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held in the J. M. Perdue home New Years Day when Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Perdue were hosts to twenty-four guests for an elaborate dinner. Mrs. R. A. Perdue, who lived here twenty-five years ago, came here to meet her sons in a family reunion. Others present were R. M. Chunn of Clarendon, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Chunn of Groop, Texas; Rev. and Mrs. Chunn of Shamrock, Oklahoma; Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Chunn and daughter, Edygene of Waco—Rev. Chunn is pastor of Herring Ave. Church at Waco—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chunn of Dallas; F. L. Chunn of Mineral Wells; Mrs. M. F. Hammons and children, Jimmie Frank and Ideella of Baird.

E. U. Parchman, who works in the First Nat'l Bank received a message telling of the death of Walton R. Crawley, of Lamesa, in an automobile accident, and left Monday morning to be present at the funeral. He was accompanied as far as Lubbock by Misses Helen Frances Eiland and Frances Diering who are students in Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Miss Margaret Frances Whitmore of Anadarko, Oklahoma, was a recent guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reeves, and was accompanied home by her grandfather, D. M. Wallington, and Miss Lera Wallington, who will spend a few days visiting in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Porter Wilhite.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, of Tahoka, Texas, were holiday guests here in the home of their son, Felix Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson of Mountain Air, New Mexico, were also guests in the Franklin home. Mrs. Robertson is a sister to Mr. Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Morris were week end guests of her parents at Haskell.

1933 ACREAGE REDUCTION NEARLY DOUBLES COTTON INCOME

CROP INCOME $437,500,000
POTENTIAL PRODUCTION 17,500,000 BALS
ESTIMATED PRICE 5 CENTS

CROP INCOME $749,300,000
ACTUAL PRODUCTION 13,100,000 BALS
ESTIMATED PRICE 9 CENTS

THIS graph shows what happened when the cotton grower cooperated with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to reduce the cotton acreage in 1933. Had it not been for the plan-of-campaign and the best spirit of co-operation exhibited by southern growers, disaster would have befallen the Cotton Belt in the fall of 1933. The above graph tells this better than words. A potential yield of seventeen and no half million bales was reduced to thirteen and one-fifth million bales by the action of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and, as a result, the income that the cotton grower received from his list cotton was nearly doubled. Realizing these facts, cotton growers are expressing a desire to cooperate in future adjustment programs.

NEWS!!

We are filling this space with the names of some of the graduates of dear old Munday High School who are now attending some college or school of higher training. These are the only ones we had the pleasure of seeing during the Christmas holidays.

Mildred Burnett, Simmons University, Abilene.

J. B. Reneau, Jr., A. & M. College, College Station.

Mildred Moore, State College for Women, Denton.

Barbara Eiland, State College for Women, Denton.

Madalynne Fritz, Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

Arlene Kendall, University of Texas, Austin.

Arnold Matlock, Junior College, Wichita Falls.

Marvin Myers, West Texas Teachers College, Canyon.

Geraldine Burnison, the University of Texas, Austin.

Maxine Burnison, the University of Texas, Austin.

Jesse George Kennedy, the University of Texas, Austin.

Mrs. Maurye (Smith) Blacklock, Teachers College of Oklahoma.

Noley Farrington, Medical College, L. S. U., New Orleans.

Ellen Frances Eiland, Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Chase Eiland, Medical Branch of the University of Texas, Galveston.

Those good old Mid-Term Exams that we have so long awaited, only for the reason that we would know that the year was half gone, will be given beginning Thursday of next week.

The Grammar School is getting a good start for the New Year by receiving new dictionaries and getting its windows remodeled.

THE BANQUET

On Thursday evening, December 21, the Pep squad entertained the football squad of M. H. S. with a banquet at the Klan Hall. Paul Pruitt and Aristo Thompson, both graduates of M. H. S. and ex-Moguls, and the High School faculty were present as guests.

Speeches were made by Mr. Bass, Coach Palmer, and members of the team.

In the customary annual election that closed the affair, Joe Kethley was elected captain of the squad of 1934. Jack Williams, Joe's cousin, was elected the most valuable man of the squad of '33 and Mary Eva Rigby was elected Pep squad leader for '34.

You noticed the relation between the captain-elect and the most valuable man. It must run in the blood. "But," you say, "where was Jerry, the other member of the family?" Well, folks, here it is; his name was brought up for the most conceited man on the squad, but the officials refused to hold the election, because of lack of competition! But time will tell, time will tell!

AB, How'm I Doin'?

Jerold Dudley Kethley, Jr., was born May 13, an unlucky day, in the year of 1917. The "thirteenth" is considered an unlucky day, but luck or otherwise, modified talent has been with "Jerry" since he started to school in Munday, his birthplace.

He graduated from the Munday Grammar School with the class of 1936, with the consolation of having taken off all honors prior to that year in junior and sub-junior declamation.

When he came to high school the following year his ability and influence brought him many friends and unknown popularity.

He has won two years of senior declamation and one year as a junior since he has been in high school, and we are expecting him to take awards in the county this term. He was also the representative for the F. F. A. Ass'n some two years ago in an oratorical contest held in Abilene.

He was Associate-Editor in '32-'33, head librarian, President of Junior Class, and a member of the Student Council. That's a record, isn't it? And this year he is Editor-in-Chief of the Press Club.

Just jumping from conclusions from all I could gather it is my hunch that with the literary ability he possesses it could be that he would make preparation for law, or at any rate a literary career.

Here are his favorites:

Hobby: Puttin' bugs in innocent girls' ears.

Sport: Football.

Expression: "Hie Hie."

Ambition: To walk straight. Story: The one about the woolly worm! Poet: Edgar Allen Poe. Weakness: Walking and talking in his sleep. Song: "Show me the way to go Home."

JUNIOR REPORT

Not much to say this week, folks, but we have a girl in our class to be very proud of, Mary Eva Rigby!! The president is doing the report until the next meeting because she is being kept too busy. This girl certainly will make 1934-'35 a good year for M. H. S.'s Pep squad. At the football banquet before the holidays she was elected to this office. We wish you all the luck!

High School is the same dull old place. Well, not as dull as you'd think. Mr. Bass is keeping the wheel turning! In History IV, we just got through having a court session. Miss Rosalyn Houser filed suit against Mr. (or should I say Master?) Weldon Warren for $5,000 for breach of promise!

SOPHOMORE REPORT

We believe that all the Sophs had a real nice Christmas (and a happy New Year). We are sure that a few had too good a time! Feature it! But it can be done you know—and how!

We are all ready to start studying again now (?) for the mid-term exams, and we are sure most of us will make dandy grades.

Old Man Winter surely is here now and Jack Frost nips our toes and noses every morning when we come to school, but it gives us pep, and makes us feel just fine (except for a few who just can't get up in time for school!).

Everyone enjoyed the football banquet very much—especially Buddy Rayburn—just ask him about it! Some boys (not football players) also enjoyed letting air out of the tires and disconnecting spark plugs!

We think that Darwin got her wish Christmas, except for the pair of mules.

Rupert surely did get a pretty ring for Christmas. We wonder if Santa Claus brought it to him.

Sylva Barnes has got so when she goes driving down town she just begins yelling—why the sudden change?

FISH

Did we fish have a nice Christmas? You bet we did. Even if we were having a good time during the holiday's most of us are glad to get back to school.

We are very proud of a certain freshman even if he is a Knox City goer, he is the captain of the 1934 football squad—Joe L. Kethley. 'L' stands for Long which means it's been a long time since I have been to K. C. (day before yesterday.)

The Freshmen are expecting our football letters soon, if we have any. If I am not mistaken there are some freshman boys who have made a New Year's resolution not to throw ink. (I wonder who it is.)

The reason nothing ever appears about the eighth grade girls in the paper is because they are so nice. Some of them are trying to Mae West or Jean Harlow.

TINER'S TICKLES

"So you are undertaking to keep bees?"

"Yes," answered farmer Si Low. "I don't want to miss anything, and I've been stung every other way there is."

Martha Nell: "I dropped Geometry's B.B.: 'Make much noise'?"

Bill: "How can you make a wire-less set?"

Bob: "Dunno."

Bill: "How is a bundle of wires I take one away and that makes the set a wire less."

C.B.: "You're going to drive me out of my mind."

Sam: "That ain't no drive my dear, that's a putt."

Mr. Pugh (catching Duane fishing): "See that sign 'Five Dollars Fine For Fishing'?"

Duane: "I am not fishing, I am just teaching my worms how to swim."

Mr. Pugh: "Let me see your worms."

Duane: "Here they are."

Mr. Pugh: "That's five dollars more for letting your worms swim without bathing suits!"

Boogy: "What sort of a grade does Joe expect to get on his English Mid-Term? Is he worried?"

Randy: "Worried is right. Why, he has so many wrinkles in his forehead that he has to screw his hat on."

Diner: "Waiter, can't you hurry up that turtle soup?"

Waiter: "I'm afraid not sir, you know how turtles are."

Rupert: "Hear about Jack? He swallowed the film of 'Hold Your Man.'"

Mrs. J. D. McStay Entertains New Deal Club

Placing three tables for bridge Friday evening the New Deal Club met in the home of Mrs. J. D. McStay for five game set bridge.

Dainty refreshments of chicken a la King, congealed fruit salad and tasted tid bits was served Mesdames Dorsey Rogers, Ike Huskinson, Jimmie Harpham, Jack Mayes, E. M. Roberts, R. C. Johnson, T. E. Dickerson and Mrs. L. C. Moushouse of Benjamin and Misses Angel Jones, Thelma and Louise Atkeison.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Bengé Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Bengé were hosts for a party of pretty appointments when they opened their home Tuesday evening to entertain a number of friends with six tables of bridge.

The entertaining suite was especially attractive with red carnations and ferns used for decorations with palm-trees making an attractive centerpiece for the dining table.

High score was held by W. H. Atkeison and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton. Dainty refreshments were served Messrs and Mesdames E. H. Bauman, J. D. Kethley, E. W. McGlothlin, W. H. Chapman, H. A. Pendleton, Fred Broach, J. L. O'Dell, H. F. Barnes, Oates Golden, W. H. Atkeison, Mesdames C. L. Mayes, R. H. Neff and Louise Ingram.

Mmes. Bauman and McGlothlin Entertain.

Mesdames E. H. Bauman and E. W. McGlothlin entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bauman on Friday evening at which Christmas decorations predominated. High score at bridge was held by Mr. and Mrs. Oates Golden, while low was held by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Borden. Angel food cake and hot grape juice punch was served to Messrs and Mesdames T. G. Bengé, Chester Borden, Oates Golden, R. D. Atkeison, J. D. Kethley, W. H. Atkeison, Pitzer Baker, Fred Broach, Tom Haney, H.

Jerry: "Gosh, I hope nothing had develops."

Mr. Moore: "Son, these are pretty poor marks for the first month. Don't you know that a good start is half the battle?"

W.R.: "Maybe so, but I work on another theory. I start out with poor marks so that my improvement encourages my teachers."

Darwin: "I don't like that Tiner boy."

Lucille: "What's wrong with him?"

Darwin: "He's one of those persons who always turns around and stares after you."

Lucille: "Is he; how do you know?"

A K.C. Fem.: "Were you really on the football team? What position did you play?"

Joe: "Well, I did the air work."

Fem.: "Oh, you're the forward passer, is that it?"

Joe: "Well, no; I blow up the footballs."

Mr. Bass: "Your history was bad, and I ordered you to write out the lesson 20 times, but you have done it only 17 times. Explain, please."

Rosalin: "Yes, sir. My arithmetic is bad, too."

In another section of this school report you will find a reference to a court, the amount was $50,000 and a "hung jury" was found. As Jack said to Duane, "I smell a rat." I smell the same rat.

MATLOCK-PHILLIPS

A wedding of the Christmas season of which we failed to get particulars last week was that in which Miss Dorothy Matlock became the bride of Mr. Donald Phillips, the ceremony having been performed in the presence of only a few close friends and members of the families at the home of Rev. W. H. Albertson at 7:30 p.m. on Christmas Day.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Matlock of this city, and was practically reared here, having gone through school from the first grade to graduation, finishing with the class of '31, since which time she has been associated with various business concerns in this city, and is one of our most charming young women.

The groom is also one of our own young men, being a son of Mrs. J. B. Phillips, a pioneer resident of this community. While he has spent much of his time in California and other western states in recent years, he has always regarded Munday as his home, and for the past year has been associated with the Magnolia Service Station and the Munday Cotton Oil company here.

We join the many friends of these excellent young people in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

A. Pendleton, Mesdames Louise Ingram, R. H. Neff, C. L. Mayes and Mrs. Granger of Tyler and Messrs Bauman and McGlothlin.

Mrs. C. L. Mayes Entertains

Mrs. C. L. Mayes entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon, placing three tables for members and guests. Creamed tuna fish salad on rosettes, fruit cake and coffee was served to Mesdames Whit Smith, Pitzer Baker, U. R. Houser, E. W. McGlothlin, W. H. Atkeison, E. H. Bauman, Fred Broach, H. H. Langford, Matt Dillingham, R. L. Blackwell, T. G. Bengé and Joe Davis.

Juanita Golden Diner Hostess

A festive air pervaded the Oates Golden home when Juanita Golden entertained a number of her friends with a dinner on Friday evening. Appointments were in keeping with the Yuletide, a beautiful white Christmas tree being the centerpiece with a red candle on either end of the table. After dinner was served bingo and other games were played and prizes given. Later in the evening Mrs. P. W. Williams was hostess for a theatre party for this same group at the Roxy Theatre. The guest list included Mary Moore, Ann Atkeison, Jean Williams, Dorothy Waites, Jimmy Boone, Peggy Eiland, Alva Salem, Peggy Joe Haynie, Fern Jones, Wilma June Burnison, Shirley Nell Kethley, Maxine Eiland and Joe Ann McKenzie of Bomarton.

Mrs. J. D. Kethley Hostess As You Like It Club

Mrs. J. D. Kethley entertained the "As You Like It Club" and a few invited guests Thursday afternoon, placing three tables for bridge. Mrs. Pitzer Baker held high score. Nut pie topped with cream, and coffee were served to Mesdames E. H. Bauman, W. H. Chapman, H. A. Pendleton, H. T. Maples, P. V. Williams, Matt Dillingham, M. F. Billingsley, R. D. Atkeison, Whit Smith, Chester Borden, Pitzer Baker and Jimmie McKenzie of Childress.

Mrs. U. R. Houser Entertains

Entertaining Friday afternoon with an attractively arranged party, Mrs. U. R. Houser entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club and a few friends with three tables of bridge. High score was held by Mrs. E. H. Bauman. A dainty refreshment plate was served to Mesdames Fred Broach, H. H. Langford, C. L. Mayes, Matt Dillingham, T. G. Bengé, Pitzer Baker, E. H. Bauman, Carl Jungman and Mrs. Jimmie McKenzie of Childress and Misses Mary and Winnie Langford.

Miss Wilma June Burnison Honored

Entertaining for Wilma June Burnison who is at home for the holidays, Ann Atkeison made a happy occasion for the twelve little girls in the sixth grade. The entertainment suite was in Christmas dress in which a glistening tree and holly featured the decorations. Hearts were the diversion of the afternoon with guest prize a Cutex box, going to Wilma June Burnison, and high score prize, candy in a cellophane package, going to Jimmie Boone.

A lovely salad course emphasizing the Christmas colors of red and green with favors of candy mints with tiny lighted candles, was served to Peggy Joe Haynie, Maxine and Peggy Eiland, Jimmie Boone, Alva Salem, Fern Jones, Jean Williams, Juanita Golden, Geraldine McClaren, Dixie Nell Atkeison and Sue Duval of Abilene.

Don't Prolong The Agony!

Next time you suffer from Gas on Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, a Cold, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains; That Tired Feeling, That "Morning After" Feeling. Get a glass of water and drop in one or two tablets of

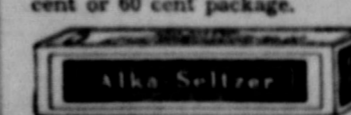

Alka-Seltzer

The New Pain-Relieving, Alka-lizing, Effervescent Tablet. Watch it bubble up, then drink it. You will be amazed at the almost instant relief.

It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of every-day ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

After trying many brands of medicine—no-called relief for gas, and all of them a failure, I gave up hope. By chance I tried Alka-Seltzer—I am more than satisfied. Geo. Bennett, New York, N. Y.

This Tractor gives you a new working capacity

2 TRACTORS in 1 For All Purposes

IT'S what you get out of a tractor that determines how profitable it is to you. When you can get, as in the new Case Model "CC," a tractor that is as well fitted for plowing, tillage and belt work as it is for planting and cultivating row crops.

You've got the advantage of a new and broader usefulness. And when you can get in that same tractor the dependable power essential to handling good-sized loads, the light weight desirable for planting and cultivating, and in addition to that, fast speeds and easy handling for quick work, you've got the qualifications that mean greater working capacity.

The rear wheels in the Model "CC" can be moved out, from standard 48-inch tread for plowing to various treads, up to 84 inches, for row crop planting and cultivating.

Come in and let's go over the tractor together. You'll be interested in examining its many new and practical features.
