NEW UNITS OF SUNSET SCHOOL ARE NEARING COMPLETION; FACULTY FOR COMING YEAR IS ANNOUNCED

New Wings Will House Shop, Typing and Home Economics Departments; Four New Grade Class Rooms Are Added

Construction of two new wings of the Sunset school are nearing completion and will be in readiness for the summer term of school which starts August 16, Superintendent T. W. Harber announced this week.

Two new wings are being built onto each end of the present structure, and when completed will give that community one of the most modern up-to-date consolidated school plants in this section.

Three New Studies

The east wing will add four new rooms for the primary department and the west end will house the home economics department, manual training department and shop, and typing. Each of the newly added departments will be completely equipped with modern classroom instruments.

The home economics room will have electric refrigeration and cooking appliances for class room work when completed.

Other Improvements

Other improvements of the school plant include removal of the building formerly occupied by the home economics department to the north side of the present teaching. The structure has been renovated and will be used in future to house instructors of the institution.

The foundation, remaining part of the building that burned, has been dug out and will be used in building baffles in the barrow ditches.

Mrs. J. S. Shannon
I. W. Walling
Miss Exa Faye Hutton
Virginia Curry
Mrs. N. T. Underwood

Dates For Summer Encampment Set

Rice Springs Selected as Site for Annual Club Meet

The summer encampment for women of the home demonstration clubs of Knox county will be held July 29 and 30 at Rice Springs park, Miss Nina Astin, home demonstration agent announced today.

Ladies who plan to attend the encampment should arrive at the park by 5 p. m. and are asked to register upon arrival.

Each club sending delegates and representatives to the meet have been asked to have a stunt, which should not last longer than 10 minutes, Miss Astin stated.

Club women of Haskell county will also attend the encampment and will furnish a part of the items necessary for the meals. A list of what Knox county women should take on the over-night trip may be secured from Miss Astin.

George Isbell left this morning for a business trip to the plains.

Farmers to Meet In Amarillo For Farm Discussion

Feeling that the national Congress is not acting with as much dispatch as reasonably should be expected in connection with the new farm bill now before the House, farmers of Extension Districts 1, 2, and 3, are to hold a mass meeting in Amarillo, Wednesday, July 28, to discuss the new bill and to urge Congress to take immediate action.

Unless this or some similar program is enacted this year, farm leaders pointed out, the country may be faced with another agricultural debacle similar to 1933, when prices for farm commodities dropped to such low levels that more than half of Texas farmers were faced with bankruptcy and loss of their homes.

The proposed farm program now before Congress provides prices for farm commodities at or near parity with other major commodities, and farmers, tired of promises and the vagaries of nature, are insistent that something be done toward passage of the bill at this session of Congress.

Although the mass meeting at Amarillo is under the auspices of the Texas Agricultural Association, every farmer is urged to attend and lend his voice to the urgency of the request for action from Congress.

A delegation of farmers from this county is making plans to attend the meeting.

ATTENDS FUNERAL OF KIN WEDNESDAY

The law on Texas statutes regarding transfers reads as follows: "Article 2696, Public School laws of Texas provides that no transfer shall be made after August 1."

Knowles has been a prominent figure in coaching circles of West Texas for several years, being highly successful as a track coach, and will have charge of the athletic program at Benjamin for the ensuing year. Mrs. Knowles will teach in the third grade, while her husband will instruct classes in shop and mathematics.

Heavy Rainfall In Munday Area Booms Fall Prospects

MUNDAY AND HASKELL TO FIGHT FOR WICHITA VALLEY LEAD IN TILT HERE SUNDAY; ANSON DOWNED 5-4 IN GAME

Red Nichols and Lefty Hambright Will Do Hurling

MUNDAY IN GAME LEAD OVER RIVALS

Nichols Allows Anson Only Four Hits In Game

Anson again was the victim of the Munday baseball nine last Sunday on the Anson diamond by the score of 5-4, with Nichols letting the big Anson bludgeons down with four scattered hits.

Errors and home runs produced most of the runs of the tilt. Two Anson homers nearly bringing the downfall of Nichols.

Munday was given a two run lead in the third when Nichols helped his own cause along with a four-ply swat with a mate on.

Munday failed to tally again until the seventh when they pushed three men over.

Grimes, centerfielder for Anson, picked out one of Nichols offerings in the fifth and sailed the sphere out of the park. A home run in the seventh by Jennings, who had relieved Hood in the fourth, was responsible for three runs for Anson.

The Munday infield cracked momentarily and let balls sift through them and allowed two men to pull up on the sacks after two had been retired. It was then that Jennings hoisted one of Nichols pitches out of the park, scoring the two men ahead of him.

Lennie Kuhler's big bat was again very potent, crashing out three doubles and a single in four trips to the plate, for Munday.

Score by innings:

Munday	.002	000	300	5	13	2
Anson	.000	010	300	4	4	2

Batteries: Munday, Nichols and O'Neil; Anson, Hood, Jennings and Parker.

MUST BEAT LEFTY HAMBRIGHT HERE IN HASKELL TILT

Lefty Hambright, 6 foot, 6 inch hurler for Haskell, will toe the hurling mound Sunday in an effort to stop the rampant Munday crew, it was announced from Haskell this week.

Hambright, former hurler here in the 1933-34 seasons has one of the best assortment of pitches to foil batters in the league. Lefty returned to this league last week.

Haskell, who led the league for the first part of the season was dropped to second place last Sunday when their smooth running machine completely cracked under a deluge of run-making hits from the Hamlin Oilers bats.

Munday is now leading the procession, with Haskell a game behind and Hamlin a game and half out of the top rung.

The Haskell tilt, termed as a natural, will have much bearing on finishing of the teams in the season's play. The game is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. at the local park, north of the school building.

BAPTIST REVIVAL RUNS NEXT WEEK

Young Peoples Meetings Held Nightly

Attendance at the Baptist revival has been good considering the inclement weather conditions, Rev. W. H. Albertson, local pastor stated and the crowds are increasing each night.

Dr. H. H. Hargrove, pastor of the Columbus Avenue Baptist Church of Waco, is delivering the evangelistic messages and has been well received by his increasing audiences.

Wednesday night Everett Gunn, song leader of the campaign, started the young peoples' meetings. These meetings will start nightly at 8 o'clock and are divided into the following groups of juniors, intermediate and young people. Two adult meetings are held each night previous to opening of the evening service, and are divided into one group for men and another for women.

The meeting will run throughout next week Albertson stated.

Special Nights Announced

Monday night Dr. Hargrove will have a special message for the women. Tuesday night, men will receive the greatest benefits of the Evangelist sermon, and Wednesday night the young people will be especially addressed. Thursday night the intermediates and Friday night the juniors will have special invitation to hear Dr. Hargrove.

Wednesday night of this week Hargrove's subject will be taken the First Psalm and gave emphasis to sins of slander and gossip. The following poem was read by the evangelist in connection with the sermon, and exemplifies, to some extent, his subject matter.

ODORIZATION OF NATURAL GAS ON LONE STAR LINE

Project to Begin on Monday, July 26, Announced

Odorization of natural gas on the part of the Lone Star Gas System will begin Monday, July 26, Community Natural Gas Company officials announced. The project is in compliance with a recent law passed by the Texas Legislature as a safety measure.

The odorant will be introduced into the system's main lines to permit the detection of leaks, and will not affect the usefulness of the fuel, it was explained. When the gas is burned, no odor is noticeable and it will give off no nauseating fumes nor any gas injurious to clothing, rugs or drapes.

The odorant will be first introduced into main lines at Gordon, Trinidad, and a point east of Groesbeck, Texas; later at Hollis and Fox, Oklahoma, and at a point south of Chillicothe, Texas, and at a number of intermediate points. The odorizing project, reaching most of the towns served by the system in Texas and Oklahoma, will be completed in about three weeks.

Cabiness will move his wife and children here the latter part of the week, and will establish residence in the home formerly occupied by the Dillingham family.

The move to Abilene is a promotion for Dillingham, and the citizens of Munday wish him well in his new surroundings. Dillingham has been one of the civic leaders of this city and the local citizenry will regret his leaving, and the loss of his family from the social life of Munday.

A WHOLESOME BEVERAGE WITH A "PUNCH" TO IT!

HERE'S a summer time drink that "hit's the spot" whether you serve it in your treasured punch bowl, or just pour it out of your every-day iced-tea pitcher. PINEAPPLE RASPBERRY PUNCH: (serves 12-15). Mix 3 cups crushed pineapple and 3 cups raspberry juice thoroughly. Add 1 1/2 quarts of gingerale just before serving. Then add plenty of crystal-clear, taste-free ice cubes which will fill the two-fold purpose of chilling and adding sparkle to the punch. Having a plentiful supply of crystal-clear, taste-free ice cubes is one of the many advantages of having a modern air-conditioned ice refrigerator, for you can make these ice cubes in from 3 to 5 minutes, which, of course, solves the summertime problem of keeping cold drinks cold. To make ice cubes, you just place a simple little gadget called an "ice-cuber" on the cake of ice in your refrigerator and in less time than it takes to tell it, there are your ice cubes—crystal-clear and hard-frozen. Did you know, too, that you can order ice cubes and crushed ice from your modern ice service man? This is a handy something to know when large scale entertaining looms ahead of you, or when your family demands ice cream freezer ice cream at frequent intervals!

INFESTATION OF GRASSHOPPERS WORST IN YEARS

Tons of Hopper Poison Being Furnished For Farmers

The grasshopper infestation in Northwest Texas, described as the worst since 1924, is resulting in farmers putting out large amounts of poison mash in an effort to save their crops, according to county agricultural agents in that section. Governmental supplies of bran and sodium arsenate are helping control the insects.

Shakelford county, which received two carloads of bran and a supply of sodium arsenate, suffered from one of the worst infestations ever experienced there. The general report is that the poison mash was very effective in controlling the insects.

A severe infestation of grasshoppers occurred in Childress county, where 60,000 pounds of poison mash was mixed and distributed during June under the supervision of the county agricultural agent. An additional supply of poison material was later supplied from federal sources. Bran and cotton seed hulls were supplied from local sources to supplement the government's materials.

Cool weather and rains held Motley county grasshoppers along ditches and fence rows for a time, but with hot, dry weather the insects scattered into adjacent fields. Farmers put up bran in equal amounts to that by the government and mixed the poison mash by adding sodium arsenate. The mash was scattered over the infested areas.

Three poison mash mixing plants in Hall county turned out from 1,100 to 1,600 pounds of mash a day in an effort to keep up with the demand for the poison. Government agencies furnished the county with 400,000 pounds of bran and a supply of sodium arsenate. Farmers put up an equal amount of bran and other materials.

Albert Loran, employed in Abilene, is spending several days visiting in the home of his parents.

A group of Rhinelanders were in Seymour Park Sunday afternoon where supper was spread and an enjoyable time reported by all present. Times Want Ads Bring Results

POULTRY EXPERT WILL SERVE THIS AREA IN FUTURE

D. A. Evans, poultry expert, who has had years of successful experience in care and raising of poultry will serve the Munday area in the future, he announced last week.

Mr. Evans, connected with the largest hatchery in Texas where he cared for 65,000 baby chicks and layers, for the past few years at Stamford, removed to Munday only recently.

Evans stated that he can build up flocks in a reasonable length of time until they will pay their feed bill and bring the farmers profit, by use of his services and remedies. He will cull flocks, discuss proper housing for chickens and for baby chicks, and poultry diseases.

Mr. Evans has two advertisements in today's issue and will have ads from time to time, concerning his remedies and services. He will also publish weekly articles on the proper care of chickens.

Munday Loses to Stamford Players Sunday

Lacking only one match in men's singles of taking a clean sweep of the Sunday afternoon matches, Stamford's public courts tennis players visited the Munday Tennis Club courts Sunday. Harvey Lee won over C. L. Moritz 7-5, 6-1, for the only Munday victory. John Easley carried Billy Miller to three sets before losing 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, and men's mixed doubles with Dr. E. M. Roberts and Sheffy Mahan teamed against Miller and Moritz also went to the full three sets, 6-3, 2-6, 6-0.

Other matches and scores were: Anne Atkeison lost to Mrs. R. H. Bounds, 6-3, 6-3, in first game of girls' singles.

Girl's doubles, Virginia Atkeison and Mrs. E. M. Roberts were defeated 6-3, 6-2 by Mrs. Joel Johnson and Miss Lucretia Dickenson.

Mixed doubles, Wade Mahan and Ann Atkeison lost to Miss Dickenson and C. L. Moritz, 6-1, 6-3.

Mixed doubles, Miller and Mrs. Johnson won over John Easley and Virginia Atkeison, 6-3, 6-3.

Munday's weakness seemed to lie mainly in lack of practice in mixed doubles, and the Munday team going to Stamford next Sunday expects to make a better showing, due to the fact that Munday players not in the lineup here Sunday are expected to make trip to Stamford.

A. L. Smith was in Wichita Falls Tuesday afternoon attending business matters.

HOT WEATHER DESSERTS

Desserts are important during hot weather. Where the main-course dish is heavy, an extremely light berry dish is in order. Where the main-course dish is light, homemade ice cream is excellent. Eggless rennet-custard desserts—no baking or boiling—are admirable for summer. Here are two recipes that should please the adults as well as the children:

Fresh Raspberry Dessert

1 rennet tablet
1 tablespoon cold water
1 pint milk
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3-4 cup fresh raspberries

Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Chill in refrigerator. Just before serving, put the fresh raspberries on each rennet-custard and sprinkle with sugar if desired.

Chocolate Ice Cream

2 rennet tablets
2 tablespoons cold water
3 cups milk
1 cup heavy cream
1-4 cups sugar
1-2 ounces chocolate
1 tablespoon vanilla

Dissolve rennet tablets in cold water. Melt chocolate over hot water and add 1-3 cup of the sugar. Add milk and cream. A little at a time stirring until smooth after each addition. Add rest of sugar and warm to LUKEWARM—not hot. Add vanilla and dissolved tablets. Stir a few seconds, pour immediately into freezer can, let set at room temperature until firm and cool. Freeze in ice and salt mixture (4 parts ice to 1 part ice cream salt). Turn freezer about 10 minutes. Remove dasher. Repack with ice and salt and let set until ready to serve.

Farm Tenancy

The Conference Committee agreed on the farm tenancy bill on Thursday. There was little change made in the agreement between the two Houses. The bill as finally passed appropriates $10,000,000 for the first year; $25,000,000 for the second; and $50,000,000 for the third and succeeding years, and permits the tenant purchaser to secure a deed to his farm when paid for, however if paid for before the expiration of five years he must wait until the five years has elapsed to secure the deed. This provision is considered reasonable because the Government furnishes the money for purchasing the farms and for rehabilitation loans, is entitled to know that the tenant will be amply protected and properly supervised during this rehabilitation period.

While this measure did not go as far as many advocates desired, it is a step in the right direction and will assist many worthy farmers to re-purchase farms.

Crime

Mr. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says that 17 per cent of our crimes are being committed by persons less than voting age; that only a small part of these crimes—the more vicious, the more cowardly; the more desperate—totalled 1,333,526 last year. This means that every 24 seconds last year, someone was robbed or assaulted or plundered; or attacked or murdered; that we have an army of 200,000 persons in our Nation, who are free, but who have murder in their hearts and will take a human life before they die; and that there are 300,000 other persons going about their daily lives believing themselves secure, planning for the future, who one by one at the rate of 36 every day must die at the hands of a murderer. The Department of Justice has 7,200,000 finger-prints of criminals throughout the world. The Government has the best law enforcing agency today and is accomplishing better results than at any time in the history of this country. While a special investigator was showing the boy scouts from our District through the FDI Department, in pointing to the scroll of "G" men killed, he stated that each one had been killed by an ex-convict, which should give us food for thought regarding our loosely drawn parole laws.

Farm Loan Interest

Last Tuesday, the House by a vote of 260 to 98, overrode the President's veto of one year extension of 3 1-2 per cent interest on farm Federal Land Bank loans and two year 4 per cent interest extension on Commissioner's farm loans. This measure now goes to the Senate and should it receive the necessary 2-3 majority, this measure would become a law. The above vote indicates the sentiment of the House and the feeling that the farmer is entitled to a reasonable interest rate, especially when it is known that most industrial and manufacturing concerns for many years have received their current loans at less than 1 per cent interest. Friends of the farmer believe his is entitled to the same fair consideration upon interest, tariffs and all other matters, as has been given for years to the brokers, speculators, industrialists, manufacturers and all others dealing in other people's money.

Senator Robinson's Bill

The Congress was shocked to learn last Wednesday of the untimely passing of Senator Robinson, upon whose leadership the President largely depended in passing the remainder of his program this session of Congress. His passing caused a week's delay in the legislative program and gives the reactionaries an opportunity to test their strength, as to whether or not they can force adjournment before the Senate can select a new leader to direct the fight for the remainder of this Session. It is believed Senator Barkley will be selected majority leader and the President has strongly urged the passage of the court bill and the rest of his program before the adjournment of this Congress. The writer believes the President's program should be enacted at this session, and thus give the country a breathing spell and an opportunity to see how the program works before another campaign is upon us.

WPA Projects

The following projects have been approved in the 13th District under the new WPA legislation.

CLAY COUNTY, Blue Grove School gymnasium construction; federal funds, $6,064; sponsor's funds, $4,864; 43 workers.

COOKE COUNTY, county farm-to-market road improvements; federal funds, $7,851; sponsor's funds, $5,597; 77 workers.

JACK COUNTY, county farm-to-market road improvements; federal funds $1,360; sponsor's funds, $707; workers, 45.

DENTON COUNTY, County-State fish hatchery improvements at Lake Dallas; federal funds, $19,780; sponsor's funds, $20,294.

HARDEMAN COUNTY, county farm-to-market road bridge repair; federal funds, $2,855; sponsor's funds, $1,393; 49 workers.

The Calendar

The Senate will celebrate the return of Vice President Garner from his extended vacation by selecting a new majority leader to determine whether or not they will proceed with the Administration's Court and Reorganization programs. The special interests are using all possible pressure to force adjournment. In order to block the court reform, the departmental reorganization, wage and hour, and social security legislation. The country will know by the time you read this letter, whether or not these forces have been successful in their efforts to block this program and force adjournment of Congress. The writer feels that it is the duty of Congress to stay here and vote their convictions on all these matters before adjournment. The House is well up with its work; the Senate filibuster in the Court program has placed them behind the House on the legislative calendar.

One group of students at Texas Technological college at Lubbock employed part-time with funds provided by the National Youth Administration, were engaged in plant and soil studies during the last school year. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, advised J. C. Appearance of Leaf Worms In County is Noted Leaf worms have made their appearance in Knox County, W. W. Rice, county agent, stated this week. The worms, which are very destructive to young cotton, have been discovered in neighboring counties frequently the past few weeks.

Infest Truscott Area

The insects have infested a small area between Truscott and Gilliland, in the northern section of the county. Although their presence is not alarming as they have been held in check by effective poison, Agent Rice asked that farmers be watching their fields for appearance of the destructive worms. Should they be found he urged that the person finding the leaf worms notify him immediately.

Poisons Listed

Rice gave out the following poison formulas to combat the marauding worms with. The first one listed is considered better to rid cotton fields of the pests.

Spray solution: mix 3 pounds of Calcium Arsenate in 50 gallons of water. The solution should be stirred while spraying the plants, he pointed out.

Dusting: Dusting will not get satisfactory results, the county agent stated, unless there is a heavy coat of dew on the cotton plants to retain the poison on the leaves. Calcium arsenate, when used to dust the plants should be used at the rate of five pounds per acre.

Lead arsenate may be used for dusting purposes but the cost is much higher than other poisons and it is not recommended for that reason.

The agent further stated that white arsenate should not be used to rid the worms, as the poison is too strong, and will result in burning of the cotton leaves.

Texas Area To Get 248 Miles Of Power Lines

The Rural Electrification Administration today announced its first allotment from the funds available during the current 1937-38 fiscal year. This allotment, for $200,000, will permit the start of construction on a large project in Arkansas.

Invitations to bids for other projects issued recently included a project for construction of 248.5

miles of rural electrical lines in Brazos, Burleson and Robertson counties in Texas. The bid in whole follows:

Texas 33 Brazos: The City of Brazos has asked for bids on the construction of 248.5 miles of rural distribution lines in Brazos, Burleson and Robertson Counties. Forms may be secured from the secretary of the City of Brazos or from the engineer, William G. Morrison, 204 Professional Building, Waco, Texas. Bids will be opened in the office of the City Commission at Brazos on July 20.

Sky riders, with a flair for acrobatics, will vie for premier honors in stunt flying in one of the almost endless features being planned for the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

County Supt. J. L. Hughes In Address At State Conclave

County Supt. J. L. Hughes returned from the 14th annual Conference of County Superintendents and County Supervisors held at Texas A. & M. College, at College Station, Friday.

Hughes also attended the 4th Annual School Administrators Conference while there, and appeared on the program as one of the lecturers.

Dean Kyle Talks
Dean E. J. Kyle, of the school of Agriculture, A. & M. College, greeted the conference members officially and gave the feature address of the meet.

Kyle traced briefly the history of the land grant colleges of the state and pointed out that the land grant act of 1862 was the first step in recognition of the fact that the boy and girl of moderate circumstances is entitled to a higher education. It was also the inaugural of federal legislation appropriating money for institutions of higher education.

In another address on the conference program County Superintendent J. L. Hughes, Knox County, gave a talk on what he termed the ten crucial issues of society today and the relation between these issues and education.

The ten issues outlined in his address were:

1. Conflict between two principals of social organization, democracy and dictatorship, or tolerance of tyranny.
2. Conflict between two principals of economic opportunity for youth, whether they should work by the sweat of their brows or should have things handed to them.
3. The world-wide threat of devastating war.
4. The need of closer friendship and cooperation between the 21 Latin-American nations.
5. The educational use of Radio.
6. Youthful and juvenile criminals.
7. Automobile safety education.
8. Need of appreciation of cultural things in school.

9. Conservation of natural resources.

10. And, the demand for policies under which our citizens will have reasonably equal and adequate opportunities for education.

The Rexall Drug Store
MUNDAY and WEINERT

By BETTY BARCLAY

"The hotter the day, the lighter the meal" is a motto that should be hung on the wall of every kitchen and kitchenette in the land. Our bodies do not require as much food in hot weather as in cold and thoughtful women take this into consideration when planning hot weather menus.

Smaller portions of heavy foods; fewer hot dishes; plenty of balancing fruits and vegetables; new and attractive dishes that will delight the eye and whet the appetite; cold, healthful, salads, sherbets and desserts—these represent the secret of the successful hot weather diet.

If you are looking for something particularly desirable either for the family alone or when company comes, I suggest any of the following dainties that call for natural, unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice as a base and other ingredients that are just as readily available. These are torrid day dishes that will be repeated, time and time again.

Tropical Sherbet
2/3 cup Hawaiian pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
3 egg whites
1/2 cup shredded coconut
2 green maraschino cherries
1/2 cup chopped coconut
2 red maraschino cherries
1/2 cup chopped coconut
2 1/2 tablespoons of assorted chopped nuts

Mix pineapple juice and sugar, stir until dissolved. Freeze to a mush in refrigerator tray or freezer. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and other ingredients, and finish freezing. Stir several times during freezing. If sherbet is in refrigerator tray, serve in sherbet glasses, with wafers or lady fingers. 6 to 8 servings.

Hawaiian Mousse
2 tablespoons gelatine
2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup Hawaiian pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream

Soak gelatine five minutes in water. Heat pineapple juice to boiling point; add gelatine and sugar, and stir until dissolved. Cool, add lemon juice. When jelly starts to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten cream. Place in mold in refrigerator or cool place until firm. Slice and serve with whipped cream and a cherry. 6 servings.

Juice a la Russe
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups Hawaiian pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
6 drops lemon juice
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
Pinch of salt
1 cup sliced pineapple diced
12 lady fingers

Whip the cream, add vanilla and keep in a cool place. Soak gelatine in cold water 5 minutes. Heat 1 cup pineapple juice to boiling point, add gelatine and sugar and stir until dissolved. Then add remaining pineapple juice, lemon juice and rind, and salt. Set bowl containing mixture in a pan filled with crushed ice, and beat mixture until it begins to thicken. Then fold in the whipped cream and sliced pineapple, turn into a mold lined with lady fingers, and chill.

When ready to serve, turn out on a platter and garnish with whipped cream, if desired. 8 servings.

I've been thinking a lot lately of influence. You know there's a lot more to it than a nine letter word to be used in crossword puzzles. We were discussing girls smoking cigarettes not long ago and I happened to say somehow, I just didn't like it much even though I was accustomed to it now and wasn't shocked or on my eyebrow or anything when girls smoked, since it is entirely not a whit of my business. Just a case of being born thirty years too soon, most folks think, and I hate to wear that mark so obviously. Nevertheless a little girl in whom I have a very great interest for her future and her happiness told me she didn't smoke any more. And put her arms around me with a little knowing squeeze as she said it... Gollie... I had to blink several times to understand that she wanted me especially to know she had quit. That made me get to thinking more than anything has made me in a long time. It humbled me, somehow.

Influence is given you as the most potent gift of all; you can strengthen it by thought, study, care and the right heart, or you can dissipate and misuse it and so weaken it, yourself and the race. Your influence is your birthright and your epitaph. It can make you ephemeral, inconsequential—or it can sing through the years.

FIVE-MINUTE SERMON

Self-Control
"He that ruleth his own spirit," says the wise man in the Book of Proverbs, "is greater than he that taketh a city. And he that could take a city, in the times when those words were written, was regarded as the greatest of men.

War was the chief occupation of the ancients; or so it seems to a modern reader of ancient history, so full is history of the clashes of clans and races and nations. It was crude war, judged by our modern standards, with weapons of bows and slings and battering rams. But much deadly work could be done with these. The safety of a community lay in congregating mostly in cities, and walling themselves in, or in living adjacent to such a walled refuge to which they could fly.

But history memorializes a few great military geniuses who scoffed at walled cities. Like Cyrus, mentioned above; or most noted of all, Alexander of Macedonia, called the Great. Alexander, in his world conquests, left no walled cities behind him. He laid siege to such, and did not move on until the city had capitulated. He was a taker of walled cities, and his fame and the dread of him spread the world over.

It may be seen, then, how striking is the comparison used in the proverb: "He that ruleth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city." And there is no exaggeration there—no vain or careless use of words. He that ruleth himself—keeps himself under control, his tempers, passions, words; his very thoughts, emotions, feelings especially under great provocation or trial is greater than he that taketh a city. Certainly he is. Alexander could take cities, but he could not govern himself. In a drunken celebration at one time he flew into a rage and slew his faithful lieutenant and friend, Clitus—a deed which filled him with terrible remorse.

Self control is one of the water-marks of great and noble character. As it is, undoubtedly, one of the hardest states to attain and maintain. But there is great personal satisfaction, nay, peace, that compensates us for every effort in that direction. And he that has secured for himself a measurable degree of self-control has just that far mastered one of the secrets of a happy life.

We have no way of knowing the bitterness of the inward struggle through which many have to pass in pursuit of this prize. What a man does outwardly we can see and measure. But what he endures inwardly, and often in silence, we cannot know. As Burns puts it: "What's done we partly may compute, but know not what's resisted." And it is often that which we do not see and know about another that is the most heroic and worthy part of him.

And so it is, that the greatest battles are not those celebrated in history, where there is the booming of cannon, the evolutions of cavalry and the sweep of musketry; the greatest battles were not those of the hills of Gettysburg or on the plains of Waterloo; but the world's greatest battles are those silent ones which have been fought on the plains of the human heart, where "the world, the flesh, and the devil" meet and contend for mastery over a human life. And he who can come off victor in such a conflict is greater than he that ever took a city, or even a score of cities.

Not much has been heard of late concerning Matanuska, the government colonization scheme in Alaska. Perhaps that is due to the fact that the total cost of the settlement to date is understood to be about $5,000,000—more than $25,000 per family. Portland Oregonian.

NO ONE KNOWS IT ALL

No one ever learns so much that he can't learn more. Progressive individuals and progressive businesses and institutions never forget this. The agricultural marketing cooperative movement is a case in point. The producer co-ops have developed rapidly in the last two decades—but their members and managers realize that they still don't know it all. Every year, leaders of cooperatives gather to discuss common problems. The recent meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation at Ames, Iowa, attracted 3,000 representatives of farmers' associations.

Discussions at cooperative meetings are not restricted to distribution methods, but likewise deal with such important topics as land culture, stock raising, feeding, etc. A widespread exchange of views is gained, and farmers throughout the country benefit.

THE DRIVE FOR SOCIALISM

The political drive to extend socialism in the United States is never-ending. One of the latest attempts is in California where a law has been passed by the legislature which does away with the requirement of a two-thirds vote to carry bond issues for public improvements and municipal ownership experiments. The new law would require only a majority vote, but once the town was launched on the experiment it could not get rid of it except by a two-thirds vote.

In other words, the new law makes it easier to get into debt, but just as hard to get out as at present. Public debt in California has increased greatly even with the protection of the two-thirds vote. The bill is now being held up by a referendum to give the people a chance to express their opinion on such legislation.

The measure seems to play right into the hands of professional promoters of revenue bonds eager for underwriting commissions. It specifically opens the gates to load communities with bonds for common carriers, pipe lines, gas systems, electric systems, telephone systems, water systems, warfarage services, warehouse services and heat services. Of course, the measure is publicized as one to encourage ownership of municipal electric plants. But worthy municipal projects have not found it difficult under the "two-thirds" rule, to become established.

The new law simply makes experiments easier and failures harder to get out of. It permits establishment of socialistic ventures by a majority vote, but prohibits a corrective measure except by a two-thirds vote. This, in itself, is enough to show the insincerity and unfairness of the law.

HAPPINESS OR MISERY?

"What of a deficit?" This was the question asked of a Western governor. The laconic reply was: "It's the difference between happiness and misery." It is a tragic fact that more public officials are not farsighted enough to envision the consequences of a program of bigger and bigger deficits. Not long ago the Federal Government attempted to make a slight reduction in the relief rolls. What happened? Governors from six states "marched" on Washington with the demand that Federal largesse be continued unabated. Surely these governors realized the necessity of getting the Federal financial house in order. Surely they realized that the public debt has doubled in a few short years. Surely they realized that "deficit financing" by the Federal government cannot continue indefinitely. And surely they must have realized the plain fact, as so aptly stated by the Western governor, that continued deficits will only result in misery—misery for all the people.

THE COIN OF LIVES

Dr. Herbert J. Stack, director of the Educational Division of the National Conservation Bureau, has started on a "transcontinental tour for traffic safety." His trip, which will cover ten or more states, is designed to assist the national movement to make good driving instruction a standard part of high school curricula. He will attend summer sessions of colleges and universities, lecture and hold conferences with teachers.

If Dr. Stack's trip succeeds in arousing enthusiasm for driving education, the inevitable result will be the saving of thousands of lives. At the present time, traffic safety is taught in a large number of progressive schools. During years in which accident fatalities to adults have steadily increased, accidents and fatalities to children of school age have gone down. School driving courses need not be costly. The main thing is proper planning that will adequately enlist the interest of students and appeal to their imaginations as well as to their senses of self-preservation and civic responsibility. Once a boy or girl is taught the vital safety rules of the road, he will never forget them. In the formative years, ineradicable habits are established—good as well as bad.

Every town in the country should teach traffic safety. No course can provide bigger dividends—in dollars as well as the infinitely more valuable coin of lives.

RANGERS PASSING?

LaMadrid came to Austin, interviewed the governor. There it developed Col. Carmichael, safety director, had hired him months ago as an undercover investigator, and given him $150 expense money. After the conference, Gov. Allred issued a statement saying LaMadrid apparently had no information on the case that was worthwhile. Carmichael suspended Ranger Fenner pending "investigation". Miller was ordered to Austin to make a personal report to the game commission of his part in the affair. People of the valley section were deeply aroused. Judge McCharen wired the governor, asking removal of Fenner "in the interest of the public peace."

The incident was in keeping with a series of similar affairs in which the Rangers have participated during the last four years. The Ranger force, "problem child" of the state government, apparently is slowly but surely writing its own death warrant through its inability to adapt itself to changing conditions. It resisted amalgamation with the state highway patrol when the legislature created that body, demanded and received separate offices, separate commandants and other favors.

The Rangers of today are a far different group from the storied heroes of the Texas pioneer days. Their failure to get anywhere with the Blanton case, after eight months, together with their apparent resentment of the efforts of any other investigator to solve the case, has caused eyebrows to be raised throughout the state. Their mistreatment of the photographer, their political alliance with a certain group in the Sheriff's association which has tried to dictate administration of the Rangers, their illegal seizure of a political newspaper at Wichita Falls recently, are all part of a series of indictments many here believe indicate clearly the Ranger force has outlived its usefulness, and that in the near future the legislature may turn the state police job entirely over to the highway patrol. The highway patrolmen are picked through competitive examination, thoroughly schooled in police work, and they have made an enviable record. The Rangers, like the hairy mammoth of a bygone age, are threatening themselves with extinction because they seem wholly unable to adapt themselves to new conditions brought about by the process of evolution.

NEW HIGHWAY ENGINEER
Who will be the successor of Gih Gilchrist as state highway engineer interested political observers throughout Texas this week. Gilchrist will become dean of engineering at A. & M. college September 1. Because of a joker, inserted in the highway appropriation bill by Sen. John Redditt of Lufkin, and overlooked until now, it is possible no successor may be named until after the legislature meets in special session in September. Redditt's joker provides for hiking the pay of the engineer from $6000 to $7750 a year, but it also provides that unless the engineer shall have five years experience in the department, he will get 20 percent less, or $6,200. This provision will tie the hands before an engineer is named. Among those discussed for the job are T. E. Huffman, division engineer at Lufkin; Eddie Arneson, former chief engineer for the WPA of San Antonio, and D. C. Greer, chief engineer of design and construction in the department.

MAY CHANGE POLICY

Many small towns in Texas are watching with extreme interest the engineering department in the past of by-passing small towns and leaving them off main highways, has virtually spelled the economic doom of many such communities. Altho Chairman R. L. Robbitt, commissioner Harry Hines and Gov. Allred are all on record against by-passing towns, as a matter of policy, the by-passing has continued as a matter of engineering expediency. Half a dozen small towns in Dallas county are the latest to raise loud protest at plans to leave them off the highways. They have recently cited figures to show that 75 percent of the highway traffic in that county is local, and led by W. H. Bradford, Garland publisher are making a determined fight to retain their location on the main highways.

WOODUL TO RUN

Chief political announcement of the week was that of Walter Woodul, of Houston, lieutenant governor, who announced that he will be a candidate for attorney general next year, and will not run for governor under any circumstances. Many persons have believed if Woodul became governor through resignation of Gov. Allred, he would seek election as chief executive. His statement set these rumors at rest.

Austin.—Just what the motives behind the inspired talk of a third term for Gov. James V. Allred provided the chief topic of conversation among the political wiseacres here this week. Few believe that Allred seriously is considering a third term, but the politically sophisticated readily agree that the governor is reading his cards skillfully by starting a boom at this time.

JUDGESHIP INVOLVED?

Friends of Senator Tom Connally believe Allred may be trying to "scare" the junior senator into renewed efforts to revive the moribund bill to create an additional federal judgeship at Houston, by talking of a third term. If Allred were elected governor again, he would be in excellent position to run against Connally in 1940. It is believed here that Connally would go a long way to avoid a race with Allred as his opponent, particularly in view of the sharp division of sentiment in Texas over the president's court reform plan. Connally has fought the bill unequivocally, while Allred has never committed himself on the issue. Connally undoubtedly strengthened himself with the lawyers, and with the conservative Democratic element in Texas, but recent events have raised grave doubts among his friends about whether he has done himself any good with the mass of Texas voters, who, most observers here think, are strongly for the president. They cite the results in a recent special congressional election in the 10th district—probably the most conservative in Texas—in which Lyndon Johnson won overwhelmingly over a court plan opponent. Johnson endorsed the Roosevelt program enthusiastically.

ALLRED AIDES DRIFTING AWAY

There is little doubt that the third-term talk on behalf of Allred also is designed to hold the Allred machine together, and halt a distinct tendency which it has been manifesting in recent weeks to break up. The governor, in the always unfortunate position of a second-term governor "on the way out" has seen politicians whom he has rewarded with one, two and in some cases, even three fat appointments, writing away from his influence. Most notable is the case R. B. Anderson, ex-assistant attorney general under Allred, and later state tax commissioner, then director of the unemployment compensation commission, Anderson was hired out to Waggoner interests of Terry Hotel.

Munday Students at Lubbock Tech Named On School Honor Roll

Three students of the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, made the spring semester honor roll it was announced from the college today. Eufa Gade Tidwell, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Tidwell, Munday, had a grade average of "A." Miss Eleanor Jungman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jungman of this city had an average of "B" as did Roy McNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.
Austin—The long-sleeping Blanton mystery sprang back into the newspaper headlines this week, and became the center of news interest in Austin as well as throughout Texas. Last November, Luther Blanton and his son, John, Willacy county farmers, living near San Percha, went onto the former King ranch property near their home, presumably to hunt ducks. They never returned, and no trace of them has been found since. Local officers failed to find a clue. Texas Rangers were sent to the scene and the governor offered a reward. Safety Director Carmichael personally visited the scene. Months went by, and the case remained a complete mystery. Public interest died out, the newspapers ceased to mention the case. Then it flared up again this week when Ranger Power Fenner, Game Warden Morgan Miller, Sheriff Howard Cragg of Willacy county and his deputy, Mallie Brownfield arrested Louis LaMadrid, a deputy constable who claimed to be near a solution of the Blanton case, on a charge of illegally carrying a pistol, and impersonating an officer. They spirited LaMadrid to Brownsville, despite a pending writ of habeas corpus. The quartet of officers were cited for contempt, found guilty by Willacy county Judge F. E. McCharen, given nominal fines. After the hearing, Ranger Fenner drew a pistol on the valley newspaper photographer, seized his camera tried to destroy the plates.

ported practically no damage. Quite a lot of the feed stalks were bent over, but will not affect production.

Maize, a major feed crop here, is one of the best in years, and young maize is expected to make in large quantities. Much of the corn had burned some, but corn acreage this year is small.

Cotton, the major money crop, is in the best condition in years, farmers report, and has enough moisture to sustain growth for another 21 to 30 days.

Hard winds and small twisters visited several points of the Plains and West Texas. Clarendon, probably suffered the heaviest damage, when a small twister hit that city, followed by hail that wiped out cotton in spots. Only a few splatterings of hail fell here.

In Wichita Falls the mercury slumped to a cool 71 degrees during the night following a season's maximum of 105 late Monday afternoon. .17 of rain fell there.

Winds in Panhandle
Heavy rains with severe high winds but little damage were reported from Kasota to Childress on the main line of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway, from Samnorwood to Lefors on the North Plains and from Estelline to Turkey on the South Plains.

Heavy precipitation was reported from Bowie, Lelia Lake and Chillicothe. Light showers fell from Henrietta to Vernon and in Amarillo vicinity.

Stamford on the Wichita Valley received a half-inch of rain, while Seymour had a light hail storm. Light showers fell all along the Wichita Falls and Southern line.

Central southern Oklahoma was drenched with nearly two inches of moisture falling between Altus and Frederick. This almost insures a cotton crop in that area.

ODORIZATION OF NATURAL GAS ON LONE STAR LINE

be noticeable for several days, it was pointed out, because of summer conditions and the low load on the system. Towns farther away from the points of odorization will receive its effects later than those closer to these points.

To some persons the odorant will smell like fumes from a refinery, to other like burning rubber. It will be definitely noticeable if a leak in a line exists or if a cock or burner is left open and unlighted.

The company has advised its customers to call a plumber if repairs are necessary. It was pointed out that odorization will not create a hazard, but will warn consumers.

The Lone Star System is proceeding with its odorization plans now in order to avoid the possibility of waiting until the fall and winter demand starts.

If a leak occurs in a line or connection.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Ways of the Army

By IRVIN S. COBB

A GREEN recruit was having his first experience at doing sentry duty at one of the Southern cantonments in 1917. Toward him through the darkness came a captain.

"Halt! Who goes there?" demanded the greenhorn.

"Officer of the day," came the answer. "Beat it bo, before I run you in," said the sentry. "What the hell would the officer of the day be doin' hangin' round at night?"

This story is matched by one that I had from a retired chaplain who vouched for its authenticity:

The officer of the day was inspecting the guard.

"What are your orders?" he inquired of a drafted man.

"Sir," said the sentry, in his newly-acquired military manner, "my orders are to be vigilant."

"What does vigilant mean?" said the officer.

"I don't know," said the sentry.

"Call the corporal of the guard and we'll find out," said the officer.

The corporal of the guard came, and saluted.

"Corporal," said the officer, "this man here doesn't know the meaning of the word vigilant. Suppose you tell him."

"Is means, sir, to be alert," answered the corporal promptly.

"And what does alert mean?" said the commander, anxious that the lesson should be driven home to the pupil.

"I don't know," said the corporal.

It isn't far to Gossip Town,
For people who want to go;
The Idleness Train will take you down
In just an hour or so.

The Thoughtless Road is a popular route,
And most folks start that way,
But it's steep down grade; if you don't watch out,
You land in Falsehood Bay.

You glide through the valley of Vicious Town
And into the tunnel of Hate.
Then crossing the Add-To Bridge
you walk
Right into the city gate.

The principal street is called "They Say,"
And, "I've Heard" is the public
well,
And the breezes that blow from
Falsehood Bay
Are laden with "Don't you tell."

In the midst of the town is "Tale
Park,"
You'r never quite safe while there
For its owner is Madame "Suspicious Remark."
Who lives on the street "Don't Care."

Just back of the park is "Slanders
Row,"
'Twas there that Good Name
died,
Pierced by the dart of Jealousy's
bow,
In the hands of Envious Pride.

From Gossip Town peace long since has fled
But Envy and Strife and Woe
And Sorrow and Care you'll find instead,
If ever you chance to go.

CORRECTION:

In a story in the July 8 issue of the Times a head on the front page which read as follows: Embalmers License Issued to Mrs. Mahan and M. Husinson, was erroneous. Mrs. Mahan was issued a funeral directors license and not an embalmers license.

Here From Quanah
Earl Morley, district manager of the West Texas Utilities Co., at Quanah, was a business visitor to Munday yesterday. While here he made the Times office a pleasant call and ordered the Times sent to him at Quanah.

NOTICE to Gas Customers

In compliance with a law passed at the last session of the Legislature, Community Natural Gas Company will begin to odorize the gas supplied to its customers within the next few days.

If you should notice an unusual odor about your premises, your gas piping and connections should be checked for leaks. For this purpose we advise that you call your plumber in order that any necessary repairs can be made.

Odorization of gas does not affect your gas service, but it may enable you to determine whether your gas piping needs attention.

Caution:

—DO NOT LOOK FOR LEAKS
WITH MATCHES OR AN OPEN
FLAME OF ANY KIND.
