MUNDAY BLASTS OUT WILD 16-10 WIN AT HASKELL

Locals Go On Hitting Spree At Expense Of Hambricht

PLAY NIGHT TILT WITH IOWA PARK

Munday Seeks Sixth Win in Row at Hambricht Next Sunday

The Munday Moguls jumped on two Haskell hurlers for 14 solid hits, including three home runs and a barrage of triples and doubles to put the neighboring team to complete rout last Sunday. The final score was 16-10.

With Chester Smith, local pitcher, who toed the pitching slab for the first time this season, holding the Haskell bats at bay, his teammates ran up a 10-3 lead in the early frames.

Smith began coasting on his big lead, and was lifted in favor of Red Nichols in the fifth. Nichols was ineffective the remainder of the game and allowed Haskell seven runs, but was never in danger of losing as Munday continued their bombardment of run-making hits.

Rayburn, left gardner for Munday led off the initial inning with a long triple to center and the race around the paths was on. Haskell's starting hurler was yanked in the fourth after he had filled the sacks, and Munday had the pleasure of lambasting lanky Lefty Hambricht all over the lot.

Rayburn collected two triples, and four-ply knocks came off the bats of C. Wilde, Kuhler, and Rattiff. Oneil had a big day with two doubles in his collection of hits.

Play Iowa Park
The Moguls will go to Iowa Park tonight, to play the Teshoma league leaders in a tilt. The game will be played under the lights and starts at 8:30.

Sunday, Munday will go to Hambricht to engage the Oilers of that city in another league game and will be seeking their sixth straight win in a row. The Oilers are entrenched in second place and have been making a strong bid for the leadership, being only a game and a half out of the top rung.

Haskell plays the Hamlin Independents in the other league game, the Independents having taken the place of Anson, who dropped out of the league two weeks ago.

'The REST Of the Record'

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN—There are times when every public official wishes he could lay before the people all the facts in a current controversy, so that the people themselves might judge whether his acts were justified. Several editor friends to whom I made this comment have replied, "Well, Jimmie, why don't you write out those facts as you see them?" So I have decided to do just that, and take advantage of the generosity of these editors by laying before their readers what I call "the rest of the record." This is my first try at it.

SCHOOL CRITICISM UNFAIR
It's a strange thing when public officials are criticized for reducing taxes—for reducing taxes without detracting one iota from public service. Yet, believe it or not, that is exactly what is happening in the current controversy over the state's public school apportionment.

Because State Comptroller Geo. Sheppard and I cut the property tax rate for school purposes from 20 cents to 7 cents, we are accused by other public officials—who should be as deeply concerned as we are over the average man's tax burden—of taking something, somehow, from the school children of Texas.

I tell you flatly, that is not true. At their best, these statements give you but a part of the record. And a very distorted part at that. Every informed school official knows that since I have been governor, the schools have received for more aid from the state than ever before on the state's history.

RECORD FRIENDLY

For parents in general, who are not appraised of the mechanics of state aid, this explanation is in order: The state helps support schools through two means. First, there is the available school fund, which is divided among the districts on the basis of registered children of school age.

Then there is the "rural aid fund" or the "equalization fund," so-called, which is an additional grant to poorer rural districts.

Rural aid has jumped two and a half million dollars each year I have been in office! When I was inaugurated, it totaled three million dollars; today it is five and a half million. The present controversy isn't over rural aid; it is concerned with the available school fund, distributed on a basis of so much for each child—the state "per capita."

Now this fact is undisputed; during the first year of my administration, the state contributed $19 per student in the per capita apportionment toward the education of each of approximately 1,500,000 Texas children—and this payment likewise was the highest amount in Texas history!

But here is the fact which the critics want you to forget; the per capita this next year will be even greater—at least $20, and perhaps a little more—and at the same time property tax payers will get a tax reduction! The revenues will come from other sources than ad valorem taxes on property.

Does that sound like taking anything from anybody?

TAX REDUCTION STAND

Upon what are the critics basing their charges? Well, here's how it all happened:

The law says the per capita shall be fixed by the State Board of Education, on or before August 1st. At this time, the Comptroller shall furnish the Board of Education with an estimate of available funds. The Board is then required to do a simple problem in arithmetic—divide the total anticipated revenues by the total number of pupils—and the answer is the per capita.

Now the law says that the Automatic Tax Board, of which Mr. Sheppard and I are members, shall meet by July 20th and set a property tax which will insure enough revenues to pay $17.50 per capita. I construe these two laws to mean that the tax board must first find out how much money will be available for schools, and vote enough property taxes to make up the difference. Last year, that's what we did. We found we could reduce the school tax from 35 cents to 20 cents, and still pay the schools $17.50. Not a soul objected. Happily, revenues from other sources were greater than expected, and a per capita of $19.00 was possible.

But this year, for some mysterious reason, the Board of Education met first, and presumed that we would continue the 20 cent tax, regardless of need. Why they so presumed is as deep a mystery as why they met before they possibly could know that the revenues would be—for they couldn't know until after the tax board met. With the 20 cent tax rate, they could make a per capita apportionment of $22, or expressed another way, an increase of $4,680,000 over last year.

I firmly believe that certain people thought they saw a way to tie the hands of the Tax Board and force Mr. Sheppard and me to vote to political expediency at the expense of the taxpayers—who certainly ought to be entitled to some consideration. Everybody knows how burdensome real estate taxes have become.

Right here I want to say George Sheppard showed unusual courage. Most everybody knew how I felt on the matter; so they concentrated on him and he was deluged with telegrams letters and personal visits to play politics. He is a fine public official and I suggest if you approve his course, you drop him a note. He will appreciate it.

Mr. Sheppard and I saw eye to eye on this matter; we believe that the law makes it mandatory on us to see that the schools get $17.50 per capita. We did that and they're going to get $20; and at the same time, the taxpayers are going to get a tax reduction.

As a final citation of the record, concerning the attitude of public school teachers: In February of this year, one of the heads of the Teachers Association told a legislative committee that if they could "hold the $19 and maybe get $1 more they would be tickled to death. By that statement, the teachers have reason today to be plenty happy.

The Government of Mexico has invited Mr. Allred and me to visit that country. We are leaving Sunday, August 1, by train and next week I hope to have something of interest to tell you about our neighbors. This will be our first real vacation and we are looking forward to a lot of sightseeing.

NEW FARM PURCHASE ACT IS

Local Corporation Has To be Set Up Before Farmers Get Aid

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 3.—Tenant farmers form every corner of Texas and Oklahoma are writing to the Resettlement Administration and some are coming long distances in person to make application for loans to buy farms under the recently enacted Bankhead-Jones bill, but Paul V. Marvis, acting for the Regional Director of the Resettlement Administration said today that no agency has yet been designated to handle the new activity.

"It is useless for farmers to write or call upon the Resettlement Administration at this time," Marvis said. "The bill provides for a Farmers Home Corporation to carry out the provisions of the act. Until this corporation is set up and has established its own personnel or has designated some agency of the Department of Agriculture to execute this program, it will be impossible to refer farmers to anyone who has any authority to give them detailed information."

The organization placed in charge must then set up county committees, Marvis said. These committees will examine applications of persons desiring to finance home ownership through one of these loans and also examine and appraise the farms.

Until these committees have actually been appointed and are functioning no applications can be approved by anyone at any place. Organization of the machinery will start with the naming of three members of the board of directors of the Farmers Home Corporation, then proceed all the way down through regional or state or district to county headquarters. The bill states that all applications must be made through a county representative who shall be either the county agent or someone else chosen by the Secretary of Agriculture.

cently earned the major portion of their income from farming operations are eligible.

Precedence is to be given to persons who are married or who have dependent families and wherever practical, to persons who are able to make an initial down payment. Farmers who have been thrifty enough to become owners of livestock and farm implements necessary to run the farm are also to be given preference, where other considerations are equal.

The county committee must certify that they believe the applicant will be successful in carrying out the provisions of the agreement. The committee must also certify to the reasonable value of the farm.

Size of loans shall be determined according to local conditions, but shall in no instance exceed the amount the county committee believes is the honest value of the land. Loans must be repaid within an agreed period of time not to exceed forty years, and the interest rate will be three per cent per annum on all unpaid balances. A surplus above the average annual payment will be collected in periods of above normal production or price. Reduced payments will be allowed when farm income is substandard. The farmer may pay out and take a clear title at any time he is able. However, he cannot make final payment or the government's interest be released prior to five years from the making of the loan, except with the consent of the Secretary.

Loans are to be distinguished throughout the forty-eight states, and Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico on the basis of farm population and the prevalence of tenancy. The bill leaves the apportioning of money to the Secretary of Agriculture, rather than specifying amounts for any state or territory.

In carrying out the provisions of these loans, the Secretary is to avoid expansion in production, especially where it might tend to defeat the policy of Congress as set forth in provisions of the Soil Conservation and the Domestic Allotment acts and amendments. The Secretary is also instructed to assist farmers who are borrowing from this corporation to become established upon lands now in cultivation. He is to avoid encouraging them to settle on land yet to be broken except in instances where this is deemed particularly advisable.

Congressman Marvin Jones has been quoted as saying this act is merely a beginning. It provides for an appropriation not to exceed ten million dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938. Administrative expenses must not exceed five per cent of the sum actually appropriated. An appropriation of twenty-five million dollars was authorized for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939 and appropriations not to exceed fifty million dollars for each fiscal year thereafter, with no limit to the number of years.

The act also empowers the President to allot any money out of relief appropriations for rehabilitation loans for purchase of livestock, farm equipment, supplies and other minor needs including the refinancing of indebtedness. This year seventy-five million dollars has been appropriated for this purpose. In succeeding years the President is to allocate such sums as he believes necessary.

Included in this provision is a section authorizing the continuance of debt adjustment activities.

D. W. Boitnott Dean of Lamar College at Beaumont, reported to J. C. Kellam, Texas National Youth Administration Director, on the Student Aid Program at Lamar College last year said: "I believe the training these students are getting under the supervision of capable and experienced instructors has developed them into more useful citizens. It is an investment in making better citizens of these young people who have the ability but not the finances to get a college education."

All construction materials are barged to Treasure Island, site of the 1939 World's Fair in San Francisco Bay, from railheads and freight piers on the mainland.

That Word of Destruction ... "Crash"
Latest Developments in the Nations Battle
Against the Reckless Drivers

Bas Crash Kills Twelve says a paper on Monday. Family of Five Dies in Crash says another on Wednesday. Franco-German Relations Headed for Crash—Thursday. Even the Friday woman's page says "Linen Crash Dresses Popular for Sports Wear." And the depression, now turning venerable and white at the temples, started its lusty youth with what was popularly called "The Crash."

If you've ever been in a crash, you know its not as simple as the word sounds. It's a very personal sort of symphony, starting with the scream of tires on the pavement, going from the second movement, a sort of shuddering, bumping whack, into the lighter melodies of thinking glass, screaming women and the music of licking, hungry flames.

Speed does it, and speed alone. It doesn't take a student of naval gunnery to figure out that if a thing is going fast, it hits something hard. Speed hits more than 35,000 people every year. It hits them very hard and kills them.

The simplest logic in the world is to say, "Get rid of speed and the word Crash will soon be as extinct as the shaving mug." But speed is like the weather—everybody dislikes it, but the only man who can do anything about it—the driver—doesn't.

That's easy, too, because if he won't do anything to help himself, somebody will have to do something for him. Speed cops can watch him part of the time and arrest the most blatant offenders, sometimes before they kill somebody, sometimes after. But the consensus of opinion—state, local and Federal—is that if these grown-up children are going to hurt themselves by running their kiddie-cars too fast, the kiddie-cars will have to be fixed so that speed too great for conditions is just not there. In other words, mechanical control that holds down the driver at all times.

In Minnesota they have a plan, and more and more of the other states, especially where they have heavy crash casualties, think the Minnesota plan is pretty good. The first prerequisite is a color zoning of roads; when a driver can go thirty with impunity, he sees yellow painted all over the fences, lamp posts and everything else. A forty-five mile zone might have blue, and a sixty-mile zone, out in the open stretches, green.

That wouldn't make him behave any more than anything else to date; so on his car, according to the Minnesota plan, goes a gadget like a light switch, with three contacts on it. One says thirty, one forty-five and one sixty. When he hits a zone, he turns his switch to the right place and his car, though accelerating and acting perfectly normal, just won't go any faster than its supposed to.

Logic shows that we still can't make him throw the switch every time, and we haven't gotten anywhere yet, but here's the die-in and the thing that will make it work. On the front and rear of his car are three lights, colored to match the zones, and when he enters a zone and throws the switch the matching light goes on. If he doesn't he advertises for as far as his car can be seen that he is looking for trouble, and make himself liable for arrest before he even breaks the law.

Down in Washington they think a lot of the Minnesota plan, and of the gadget too, because of course the two are inseparable. What will happen to it no one knows at the present time, because the three million miles of American highways will take a lot of colored paint, and a lot of regulation will be necessary to get the gadget adopted universally enough to start painting. But it looks like an out to the problem that started by being nasty, then turned tragic, and is now in the worst state of all, when the basic word CRASH is becoming as common at breakfast as scrambled eggs—something that a man will flip over with his newspaper page as casually as the latest report on Peggy Hopkins Joyce and then discover an hour later to be the ultimate experience of all.

HOUSTON JUDGE TOURING STATE INTEREST BILL

Houston, Aug. 5.—(Special)—A 20-day whirlwind tour of the State was started July 30 by County Judge Roy Hofheinz of Harris County to urge passage of State Constitutional Amendment Number 5 on the ballot at the Special Election set for August 23.

The Amendment is unique in that it affects Harris County alone although the other 253 counties of the State must vote on it. The Amendment will permit Harris County to make the experiment of building permanent roads on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

The campaign for adoption of the Amendment is being led by Judge Hofheinz, the youngest county judge in America. In his tour of the State, Judge Hofheinz will speak in approximately 60 cities in behalf of the Amendment.

The Amendment will mean a

TEXAS EFFORTS FOR FACTORIES BY STATE DRIVE

Louisiana Drive is By State Tax-Exemption Lure

Dallas, Aug. 3.—(Special) Citing a contrast noted by the Beaumont Enterprise "between the new Louisiana spirit and the Texas attitude toward new industries," a report of the All-South Development Council today pointed out lack of statewide participation in efforts to attract new industries to Texas as being similarly in contrast to the Louisiana drive.

The selection of Ernest Lee Jahncke, former assistant secretary of the navy, as executive secretary of the Louisiana Board of Commerce and Industry was termed another indication of the new spirit that is abroad in Louisiana, which is conducting an aggressive and successful campaign to increase her industries.

"One of the strongest inducements Louisiana offers for investment of outside capital in new industries is a 10-year tax exemption. Louisiana wants new industries and stands ready to make it worth their while to locate in that state," the paper said. "Texas talks a good deal about attracting new manufacturing enterprises, and some efforts are made to this end, but the attitude of Texas, it must be confessed, is entirely different from that in Louisiana."

Describing Louisiana's program as "a challenge to Texas and other states which hope to benefit by the extension of northern industries into the south, the paper concludes that "the only way for a state to get new industries is to go after them and offer substantial inducements. Capital responds to good treatment, even as human beings do."

That Texas needs to offer "substantial inducements," especially in the form of tax exemptions, in order to be attractive to either outside or local capital, is debatable, in view of her natural advantages, and the possible unfairness to established industries in tax-exempting newcomers, says the Council's report.

However, the efforts being made in Texas to attract new enterprises are confined to certain "industry-conscious cities" and regions—with negligible statewide participation in the effort, despite a growing

METHODIST CHURCH

Some very interesting things happened at the Intermediate Assembly at Lueders Camp last week. The boys were able to get more sleep than the girls since they were in separate cottages and the girls were all housed in one two-story dormitory. Sleeping facilities were about the same but the noise was different. The strenuous days took the "pep" out of most of them but all confessed that it was energy well spent. Those under twelve this year have the pleasure of looking forward to an enlarged camp next summer.

Considering the intense heat and vacation time, too, our Services on Sundays are well attended; even the choir, that usually takes out for a summer vacation, is responding nicely and singing well. The evening services on the lawn, and without lights, are gaining in interest and numbers. We will have the pleasure of hearing our Presiding Elder, Bro. Bowen, next Sunday evening at 8:30. Quarterly Conference will convene at 7:30 p. m. Let's have all reports in written form and up to date so they may be recorded in the records. According to the law governing the Sunday School the general superintendent should be confirmed at this Conference. You will be given opportunity to express your desire for Superintendent for next year during the Sunday School hour this next Sunday. Either reelect or name a new person to fill this very important position.

August is our month to organize the forces for the fall and winter

Youth centers are needed in many Texas towns, J. C. Kellam, Texas Director of the National Youth Administration, has pointed out. "Many young people wanting work experience and training can be given this opportunity at little cost if the community will provide a small work shop and satisfactory supervision. The NYA will pay the youths for their work. Recreation equipment constructed should be worth more to the community than the total cost of the project."

Fourteen NYA boys have been accepted for a work project at the National Guard shops at the Houston airport. In connection with this project they will also receive during their spare time two hours daily instruction in mechanics. W. O. Alexander, District Supervisor, has reported to J. C. Kellam, Texas Youth Director.

Check Against Errors

Does our Constitution and the Supreme Court protect us against errors?

"We, the people," says Booth Tarkington, "are not infallible. Political orators often tell us we are; but we know better. We often reverse our most passionate opinions. We threw out the Democratic party after Mr. Wilson. We threw out the Republican party after Mr. Hoover. We threw in Prohibition with great enthusiasm; we threw it out uproariously! Even our Presidents are not infallible; and we prove how thoroughly we believe this by the way we reverse ourselves and turn on them, bringing to mind an old aphorism, 'Republics are ungrateful.'"

"The framers of the Constitution understood our fallibility. They know that they themselves, being human, needed to be protected from their own impulses. They knew that we, and our Presidents also, would need this same protection. That is why we have a Constitution and its careful provision for amendments. The founders of the country knew that neither one man nor men in the mass are to be trusted to think right, or for the general best interest, in a hurry. Moreover, as the Constitution is the charter of our liberty, and therefore it is vital to us all that the words of the document should never be misunderstood or misapplied, its framers provided us with a dictionary. In regard to the Constitution of the United States," concludes Booth Tarkington, "that's what the Supreme Court is. In essence and reality it is a dictionary."

PEEP SHOW FOR LADIES ONLY

I'm all ga-ga
My mind's a blank
The juice is dry
In my think tank
Those convolutions
Just act like rats
In my brain
Washed there by rain . . .

Even though my body is here at work, my mind has certainly gone on its annual vacation. And it's pretty tough, I'll tell you when I'm needing a lot of pretty words to describe the loveliness of a recent trip to the land of my birth. Besides the renewal of old ties of family love, the clasp of old friends, of the way that have been scattered every step of the way, that have been scattered by a giant like shells along the shore of memory wave from the ocean depths of the heart, I came home with new lessons learned from not only the contact of loved ones but from our greatest mother, Nature.

I am thinking of the old "grandpa" pecan tree on the San Saba river "bottom" if you know what I mean. Over a hundred years old it stands straight and dignified its protecting branches and character. It has meant ground. It speaks of sturdiness, serenity and character. It has meant sustenance shade and comfort. The story of the old tree is an inspiring and instructive one of growth, beauty and usefulness. Its roots symbolize depth and security. Its graceful branches, heavy now with fruit of the harvest are expressions of harmony and beauty. Silent and supreme it is a sentinel. A pioneer who has lost none of the courage and stamina, the fortitude and the nobility of the one who planted it in a bygone century.

Yes, only God can make a tree . . . yet the same God who gave the tree beauty, symmetry, character, growth and usefulness has given us all that and more . . . a soul. If our roots are planted deep in character and principle no matter how the winds of adversity blow we may still remain stalwart and strong, steadily growing in power and fulfilling the purpose of life.

Just back from a real Texas ranch where real white face Herefords much grass lazily over rambling acres it was almost more than I could bear to see Howard Cook's "White-Faced Cattle" in Scribner's American Painters Series. Gollee I wish I could understand those red and white dabs they call the new art. I guess Charley Russell spoiled me on real western art. However, Scribner's made up for those square backed cows and those triangular wagon wheels by giving us a treat in "don herold examines." A real human . . . a humorist who combines enough satire to tickle any one's ribs and some real truths hidden among the laughs.

Oklahomans are strutting their stuff this week in the Christian Science Monitor, I see. Josephine Hawks, that delightful and winsome lass, you've met in this column often and who happens to be a cousin of Jesse Wiley Voils of Pictorial is a regular contributor and this time her column is particularly good. A little lesson on meekness. No need for armaments, battlehips or ammunition if meekness were a contagion which spread over an entire nation . . . an entire world. Then there's Helen McMahon, our own female Will Rogers. That gal keeps going places as I've told often. Besides a clever little poem in the Monitor, "Secrets," this time, she has a reprint in the Oklahomaan from a recent issue of the Monitor. It is a tone-color poem of a summer storm. Read it and actually feel it. She's got something, if you ask me. A whole menu anytime, any place. If you desire a cocktail, she has a bity one that is never over four lines and then she can go into the spicy salads or the heavy main dish and come out with a dessert that is more heavenly than grape frappe with whipped cream. Me, I've gone so far west I can't get back home to bed.

New rules for reducing gals; marry a Scotsman. . . . Some wise Solomon has the thing entirely figured out at last: "The weaker sex is often the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weakness of the weaker sex." Now see if you can say "Sap-pa!" after that.

Gals, please don't think I'm stinky (The wolf stalks by my door) For since pa's operation He keeps on singing, "more" I'm just a cowman's daughter No thrifling crews I've met But none I know, the food can stow He never says, "I've et."

Parker Family Had Reunion Here Last Week

Other visitors during the day were: Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. J. F. Bingham, Munday; and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Elliott, and family of Graham; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Fancher, Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Helton, Munday; W. D. Bingham, Knox City; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holder and children, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Preston Parker, Mr. and Mrs. M. Parker and families of Hefner; and Mr. and Mrs. B. R. 'NANA' FAMOUS PICTURE BEING SHOWN AT F.W.

Over 9,000,000 Persons Have Paid to See the Russian Painting

"Nana," world famous painting which is so lifelike that it almost breathes is on display on the Sunset Trail at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta.

The exhibition at the Fiesta marks the forty-fourth year that "Nana" has been shown in the United States. Purchased by John Sutton and now owned and exhibited by his son, H. F. Sutton, "Nana" was brought to the United States in 1893 to be displayed at the Chicago World's Fair. "Nana" was purchased for $33,000 and the present owner has refused offers as high as $85,000 for the picture. It's exhibition history has caused it to be referred to as "the little gold mine."

"You keep 'Nana,' son, and she will keep you," John Sutton told his son soon after the picture was purchased. And H. F. Sutton has found his father's advice literally true for "Nana" has earned more than $2,000,000 for the Sutton family since the picture was purchased 56 years ago from the Russian artist, Suchrowsky, who painted it. More than 9,000,000 persons have paid admission to see the painting.

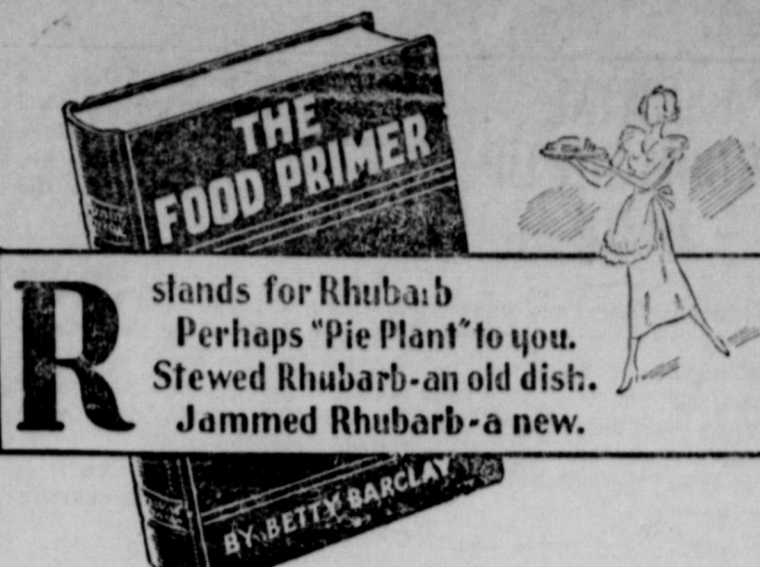

Chevrolet Sales For 1937 Passes The Million Mark

The year 1937 takes its place as the third successive year in which Chevrolet has produced more than one million units and the sixth time in the history of the company that more than one million cars of any one model have been built.

The millionth 1937 model Chevrolet was completed at the company's Flint Mich., assembly plant two weeks after the production of the 13-millionth car since the founding of the company 25 years ago.

The first year in which Chevrolet produced more than a million units was 1927. In 1928 and again in 1929, the company built more than a million trucks and cars, again in 1935, repeating the production passed the million mark achievement in 1936. Chevrolet led the entire automobile industry in sales during eight of the past ten years.

Forty NYA youths assigned to a campus improvement project at the Marshall High School are improving the drainage system in terraces about the building and will further beautify the campus with trees and shrubs, J. C. Kellam, Texas Youth Director, announced.

R stands for Rhubarb Perhaps "Pie Plant" to you. Stewed Rhubarb-an old dish. Jammed Rhubarb-a new.

"Rhubarb? Surely, I'll have some. It's my favorite Spring delicacy. Fits the season—like the dandelion and the robin."

We are all acquainted with stewed rhubarb and rhubarb pie. But have you ever put up rhubarb jam for the winter months, when this food is very difficult to obtain in even the largest city? If not, you have a delight in store for you. Pack it in glass containers. Pack it in quantity—pints for the bridge luncheon, and quarts for the "company" meals or large family gatherings. Hold up a jar of rhubarb jam next December and let your guests view it through its sparkling glass container. They can see its quality, and they will have a "surprise" dish, indeed.

Scald properly and packed in glass jars, the following jams will keep indefinitely. Try them.

Jammed Rhubarb
You may call it "rhubarb jam" if you wish. Chop six pounds rhubarb and let stand with five pounds sugar over night. In morning, put 1 lemon, 1 orange, 1 pound figs through food chopper. Mix all ingredients together and simmer slowly 8 hours, stirring often. Put into sterilized jars and seal.

Rhubarb and Pineapple Jam
Chop seven pounds rhubarb and two medium sized pineapples into small pieces. Add 2 1/2 pounds sugar and cook 15 minutes. Then add 2 1/2 pounds more sugar and simmer, stirring often, until rich and thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

cess. It causes the strawberries to absorb the syrup and remain plump and whole. Pour into jars when cold.

Never cook more than 2 quarts of strawberries at a time. Best to shake all the time while cooking and cooling.

Rhubarb Conserve
1 orange
2 cups water
1 pound rhubarb
2 cups sugar
Few grains salt
1-4 cup raisins
1-4 cup walnut meats
Cut orange in quarters, remove seeds and freeze through food chopper. Add 2 cups water and cook 20 to 30 minutes or until skin is tender. Wash rhubarb and cut into 1-2 inch pieces, add to orange and cook until soft. Add sugar, salt and raisins. Boil until mixture will mound up in spoon. Blanch walnuts, cut up fine and add after conserve has been removed from the fire. Pour into sterilized glasses, seal with paraffin, adding another coat after the conserve has been cooled.

Sliced Lunch Pickles
20 medium size cucumbers cut 1-2 inch thick
3 cups cider vinegar
5 cups water
1 teaspoon alum
Mix thoroughly allow to come to a boil, remove from the fire and let stand 30 minutes. Pack in sterilized fruit jars after draining. Add to top of each jar 2 tablespoons minced onion.

Pour over pickles the following solution which has been brought to a boil.
1-2 gallon cider vinegar
1 pint water
3 cups sugar
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 teaspoons mustard seed
2 teaspoons turmeric
Bring slowly to the boiling point and let boil 15 minutes, stirring to prevent sticking as the mixture thickens. Simmer over a low fire with another layer of paraffin until thick. It will take about an hour and a half to cook the marmalade. Turn into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin. Cover when cold.

Blackberry and Raspberry Jelly
4 cups fruit juice
7 1/2 cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin
To prepare the fruit juice crush thoroughly or grind about 1 1/2 quarts each of blackberries and raspberries. Combine the fruit juices and place in a jellybag. Squeeze out the juice. Measure the sugar and juice into a large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over the hottest fire and at once add the liquid fruit pectin stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1-2 minutes. Remove from the fire. Skim and pour quickly into sterilized glasses. Seal or paraffin the glasses.

Lemon Apple Tapioca
In top of double boiler add:
3 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons minute tapioca
Cook until clear
Peel and core 6 apples
Place in buttered baking dish
Lay one thin slice lemon on each apple
Add 3-4 cup sugar
1-8 teaspoon salt to fruit
Pour tapioca mixture over all
Bake in oven at 350 degrees with cover over dish until apples are tender. May be served with or without whipped cream.

For an interesting variation of this tapioca pudding, 1 1-2 cups chopped dates and 1-2 cup nut meats could be substituted for the apples. Also, the cored apple could be stuffed with one tablespoon mincemeat.

Judge For West Texas Utilities Contest Named

Dr. Charles Earle Funk, New York Lexicographer Will Judge the Entries

Dr. Charles Earle Funk, New York lexicographer and linguist, will judge entries in the West Texas Utilities Company's "name-a-housewife" contest. W. R. Cabness, local manager, announced yesterday.

Information came from the general office in Abilene that Dr. Funk had accepted an invitation to name the winners in the campaign to "secure a more appropriate name for the modern West Texas woman."

Possibility that the name "housewife" may be omitted from the dictionaries of the future was viewed as a result of Dr. Funk's participation as judge in the contest. He is senior member of the publishing firm of Funk & Wagnalls Company, New York, and is associate editor of the famous Funk & Wagnalls New Standard Dictionary. He has been given wide recognition as America's outstanding lexicographer.

The contest is based on the assumption that "the woman of today is no longer a slave to kitchen drudgery."

"This company is interested in selecting a name that will improve the English language," Cabness said. "We have long felt that the word 'housewife' is a misnomer. It has been worn out by advertisers and has lost its value as a word describing the average woman in the average home. But there is no word that accurately applies to the woman who conducts her home economically and efficiently while at the same time developing herself intellectually and socially."

Selection of Dr. Funk as judge assures entrants "of a competent authority on the meaning of words and should result in national recognition for the winner as well as the reward of first prize, a super-duty Frigidaire," Cabness said. Entries in the $500 contest, which closes August 14, will be sent immediately to Dr. Funk. A total of 13 prizes will be awarded.

Fifty New Films Available Schools

Visual Instruction Material Will Be Released September 1

Fifty new motion picture films have recently been secured by the Visual Instruction Bureau of the University of Texas and are available for use of schools and community groups. Mrs. Charles Joe Moore, director of the bureau, has announced.

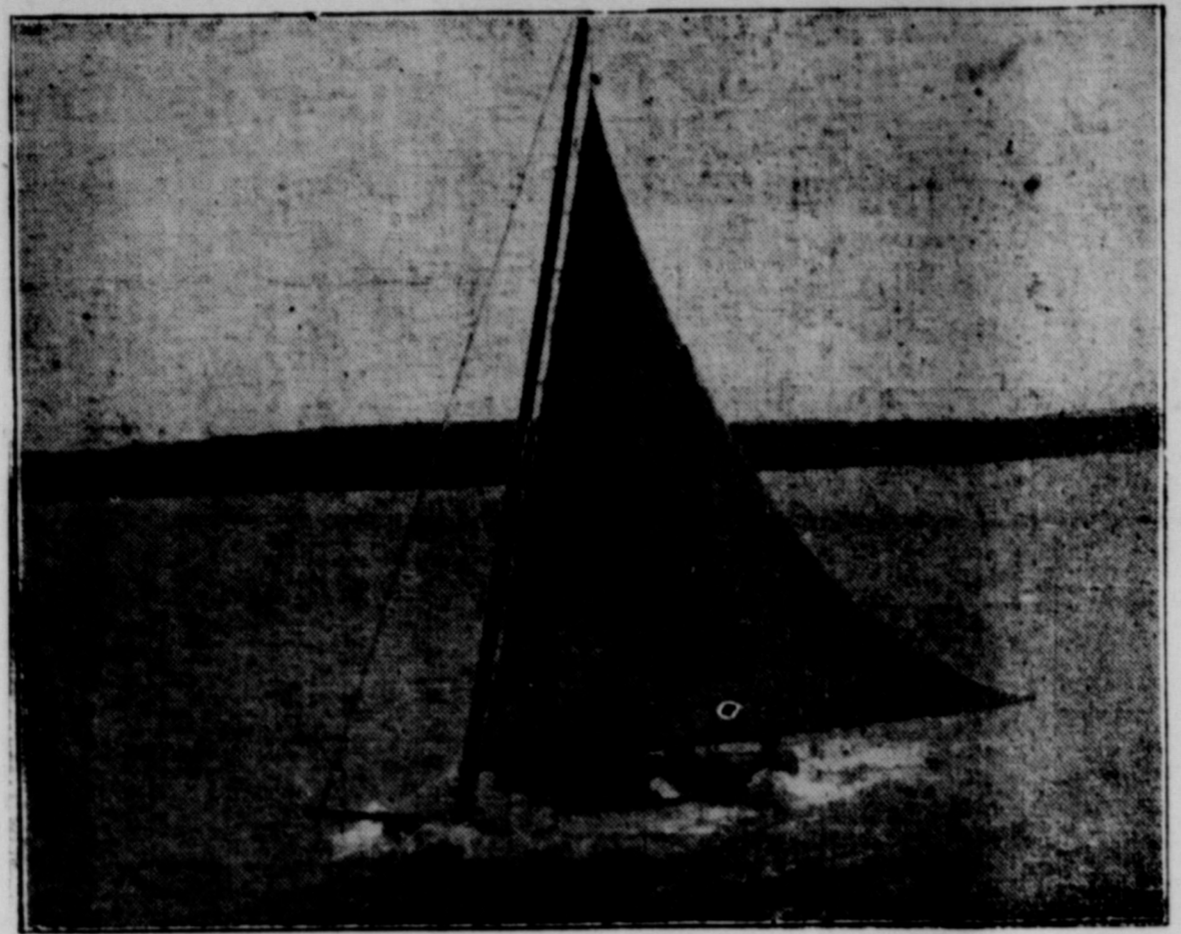

Among the films Mrs. Moore described as especially interesting are "Brother Rabbit and His Pals," a picture showing the life habits of rabbits, squirrels, wood-chucks, and other rodents; "By the Side of the Road," a travel film of England; "Singing and Stinging," the life story of the mosquito; and "Teeth, When and How they Grow," a film on dental hygiene. The film on English life, which Mrs. Moore recommends for use in geography and literature classes, shows such scenes as thatched-roof houses, gypsy families, fields of daisies, Stratford-on-Avon, and Ann Hathaway's cottage. The titles are extracts from Tennyson's son's poetry.

A number of other films will be added to the collection at the Visual Instruction Bureau by fall, Mrs. Moore said. In addition, the bureau will receive some fifty new lantern slides. A report on motion picture films, lantern slides, and other visual instruction material distributed by the bureau will be issued by Mrs. Moore in September. A decline is anticipated from the 1935-36 report, which included the heavy demand for Texas material occasioned by the Texas Centennial. Persons reached by the bureau during the last fiscal year numbered 2,646,908.

Sailboating is one of the varied forms of recreation at beautiful Lake Sweetwater, one of the largest bodies of water in West Texas, where part of the play sessions of the West Texas Press Association convention at Sweetwater August 13 and 14 are to be held. In addition to boating fishing and swimming, the lake is to be the scene of a barbecue the evening of the 13th and of the annual golf tournament that afternoon. The sporty 9-hole grass greens course at the lake is municipally owned. A dance on the cool roof of the Blue Bonnet Hotel is to close the first day's festivities.

Malaria Cases Gain Over June

June Cases Totaled 2,597 Dr. G. W. Cox Says in Report

Austin Texas, Aug. 4.—"The time has come for the people of Texas and other states to get away from the wild idea that malaria is inevitable like changes in the weather," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox State Health Officer, today in urging people of the State to take special precautions against this disease during the summer months, when it is especially prevalent in some parts of the State.

"As soon as this idea is discarded once and for all, and people everywhere realize that malaria is a serious, but fortunately also a preventable disease, a real forward step will have been taken toward the elimination of one of the most troublesome aspects of the public health problem of this State."

Dr. Cox pointed out that cases of malaria reported to the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the State Health Department last month totaled 2,579, an increase of 131 over the May total of 2,448, and predicted, on the basis of the trend in previous years, that the number of reported cases would increase steadily until next October.

"Last year every month from April to October showed an increase in the number of reported cases over the previous month, with the single exception of September. September's total of 3,988 dropped to 1973 for October and 1,205 for November.

The State Health Officer pointed out that malaria could be effectively prevented by avoiding the bite of the malaria carrying mosquito, known as the Anopheles. Dr. Cox urged that all mosquito-breeding places be destroyed and that houses be properly screened.

WPA SEWING ROOM SET UP HERE AGAIN

present number of ladies working, supporting 24 families. The payroll of the room has reached 30 in the past and will probably be increased from the present figure during the winter months.

The ladies have made almost every type of garment since the opening of the sewing room, from baby's clothing to men's overalls. They have also made approximately 275 quilts and have a large number of quilt tops ready now. The quilts are made from the scraps and strings of cloth left from cutting patterns for other clothing. Nothing is wasted, Mrs. Layne stated.

Good Material Used
Only the best wearing material is used in the making of the garments. 26,585 yards of material has been shipped to the local room, from which more than 8000 garments have been made, including the quilts.

The wearing apparel is made from standard measurements and the cutting and seaming of the clothes is of the best type of workmanship. Mrs. Layne stated that "when a piece of work is not done as it should be, it is ripped out and made up again."

Half Sent to Benjamin
Half of the garments pronounced ready for distribution are sent to Benjamin where they are given to needy of the county through the office of Glenn Burnett, county case worker.

All persons needing the garments must get an order from Burnett's office before they can be issued clothes.

During the month of July the local room made 442 garments and pieced 17 quilts, all of which is now ready for the commodity rooms. 2.8 yards of cloth was the average used for the clothing.

One Class Daily
Beginning July 1st, one class daily is held in the room with Mrs. Layne in charge of the class. Cooking, sewing, health and home decoration is part of the work studied for the class periods, Mrs. Layne stated.

The Chamber of Commerce is working on securing new quarters for the sewing room.

Social aspects of modern civilization such as recreation and employment of leisure time will be featured at San Francisco's 1939 World Fair.
