Look To The East

By Aaron Edgar

How are we going to work it out?

It's a question that we of "the common herd" perhaps should not ask, or anticipate.

But the problem of the nation's population swell that has come about by the fall of South Vietnam is not just a problem for the nation's brass, but one that might well effect you and me and future generations.

We are a charitable nation, a compassionate people, a concerned populace; yet, the fear and misunderstanding which President Ford stated caused rejection of his request of some $400 million to help the Vietnamese is just looking for "booger bears" that are not there.

The U. S. has spent 50,000 lives and multiplied millions of dollars in an effort to save the Democratic people of Vietnam. This has come to naught, and communist nations are gloating over America's defeat.

It was an effort in which American people were not in total accord. It was one which, with the exception of some smaller powers, Americans fought alone. It was one, we believe, should have been given more concern and action by the United Nations who should have seen the handwriting on the wall from way back yonder.

No sooner had the U. S. withdrawn our troops from the battle infested jungles than the communist forces increased their efforts.

Now, we're criticized by Cambodia, Thailand, and others for "throwing these people to the wolves," in a manner of speaking.

Our problem now is to take care of a people who have fled their homeland in search for safety.

Those who have been evacuated to America have been greeted with "words of welcome" and "chants of protest" as they sought refuge in our lands.

Estimates last week were that the total number of refugees runs well over 110,500. It was not known just how many would finally be sheltered in the U. S.

Plans were under way to house up to 60,000 refugees at Camp Pendleton, Calif.; Ft. Chafee, Ark., and Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. These plans have drawn strong protests from "local residents" who are afraid that large groups of people concentrated in a few areas would add to unemployment problems.

Other Americans have offered homes and jobs to the refugees, and federal officials assured people that the "newcomers" would be scattered throughout the nation.

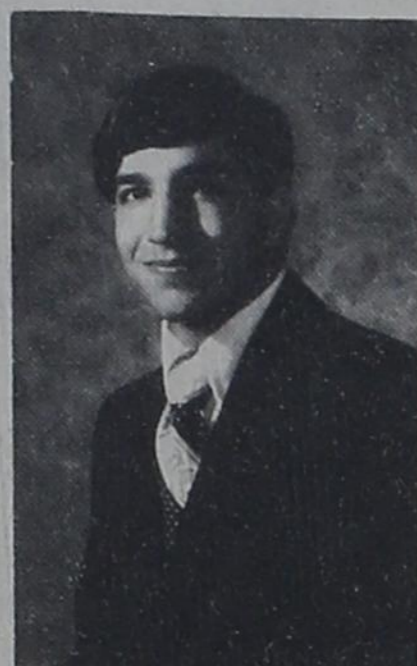

The question is: How are we going to absorb this influx of population?

Our unemployment rate is already higher than at any time since World War II—a total of 8.9 per cent.

Joblessness rose by 200,000 persons in April, according to the Labor Department, to a total of 8,176,000 out of a civilian labor force of 92.4 million.

The unemployment rate for young Vietnam veterans,

Bicentennial Design Series E Savings Bond Goes On Sale

Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon announced recently that a special Bicentennial-design Series E Savings Bond went on sale beginning May 1, the 34th birthday of the E Bond. The design will be used through 1976. Terms and conditions applying to the Series E Savings Bonds remain unchanged; interest is six percent, compounded semi-annually, when held to a five-year maturity.

The Bicentennial-design Series E Bond differs from the regular E Bond in the following respects—the tint is in blue ink, rather than green, and all of the face printing in black ink is changed to blue; the "Minute Man" replaces the eagle in the center tint design; the presidential portraits are replaced by commemorative vignettes; the Bicentennial logo is printed in red immediately to the left of the legend in the lower bond of the bond; "1976 BICENTENNIAL 1976" is printed in red immediately above the vignette. The design changes have no effect whatever on interest rate, maturity and other terms and conditions of sale.

Leisure Lodge To Hold Open House May 18

Patients and residents of the local nursing homes will be honored during "Nursing Home Week," May 11-17. The observance is sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association which is affiliated with American Health Care Association.

In joining the program, Mrs. Marge Rixford, administrator of the Leisure Lodge, announced an open house on Sunday, May 18. Hours will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. This year's theme is "Visitors Welcome".

This is an all-out effort by our profession to get the community to take time for a personal visit and a close look into the operation of today's nursing homes," said Mrs. Rixford. "We can and do provide for every need of our residents except one—we can't show them that the community life can be relieved only by new, outside visitors and this special week gives everyone a chance to show that the people in the community care about them. Their feelings of remoteness from the mainstream of community life can be relieved only by new, outside visitors and this special week gives everyone a chance to show that the people in the community care about their neighbors in the nursing home."

America is experiencing a dramatic rise in need for more and better health care facilities, and nursing homes are meeting that need with continuing expansion of services and facilities," she continued. "We want everyone to learn what our nursing home is really like, and the total care which is administered to our residents."

IDARE YOU: Rachael Martinez, one of the seven girls in Little League baseball play this year, seems to be daring the pitcher to throw her a strike. Monday night's games opened the 1975 season for local Little Leaguers.

'Women's Lib' Creeps Into Little League

'Women's Lib' is gaining headway!

Even the girls of Little League age are enjoying the benefits of women's lib this year. They are playing on the Little League ball teams in Munday—for the first time ever.

Their right to play in the games was ruled by national Little League officials last year, but the ruling came too late for the female players to become involved in last year's games.

They're in this year!

We have a total of seven girls playing with the boys in Munday's Little League. The girls are: Susan Morrow and Rachael Martinez, for the Braves; Leslie Franklin, Melissa Zeissel and Linda Johnson, for the Cardinals; Donna Myers, for the Yanks, and Kendra Cooke, for the Red Sox.

The girls aren't granted any special privileges. They play by Little League rules. They had to engage in team tryouts prior to opening of the schedule—and then were adjudged eligible to play.

They are having some of the usual run of casualties,

Flower Show To Be May 15

The annual flower show of the Munday Garden Club will be held May 15th, in the building formerly occupied by Eiland Drug Store.

A special division this year will be opened to anyone in Munday that would like to submit an entry, either arrangement or horticulture, (will not be judged). Also, a bake sale and coffee with pie and cake sold.

The public is invited to attend. Remember the date!

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW: Lance Brown, left, is the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown. Olivia, 5 years old, Jennifer, 3 years old, and Jose De Jesus, 6 months old, are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jose De Jesus Martinez.

too. One of the girls, in practice play, went after a fly ball and the sun got in her way. She received a black eye when the ball hit her smack in the face.

Another was covering first base and was in the act of catching a "put out" throw from one of her teammates—and the hitter collided with her at first. They're taking the bumps of the game as they come, however, and are still going strong.

"It's going to be fine," one Little League fan emphasized, "until they get into fights! I can't imagine a boy and girl slugging it out on the field."

Little League opened the 1975 season last Saturday night, with the Yanks downing the Braves by a lopsided score of 20 to 8, and the Red Sox taking a 3 to 1 decision over the Cardinals.

Guess who the leadoff batter was—a girl! Susan Morrow started the 1975 action for the Braves. She got a hit, too!

It looks like an interesting season for the Little League players!

Players will see action again tonight (Thursday) with the Cards and Red Sox leading off, followed by the contest between the Braves and Yanks.

Starting time is 6 p.m. Games go to six innings with a time limit of one and one-half hours.

Lions Club To Sponsor Sale Of Light Bulbs

The Munday Lions Club will conduct an all-out drive on Monday, May 12, to sell electric light bulbs to residents of the area, according to an announcement Tuesday by Hank Matthews, club president.

The money will be used for worthy Lions projects, it was stated.

The light bulbs will be sold in handy "project-packs", each containing 2 60-watt, 2 75-watt and 2 100-watt bulbs. The Lions will take orders for bulbs of other wattage, including commercial bulbs, and these will be furnished by the local office of West Texas Utilities Co.

The sale will begin at 5:00 p.m. next Monday.

Milhoan Shows Airport Film

Ray Milhoan, who is teaching an aviation ground school here, showed a film, "Airport Means Business" at Tuesday's meeting of the Munday Lions Club.

The film pointed out that airports build cities, and related that surveys show that many types of business will not locate in cities without an airport.

Pointing to the economy of an airport, the film emphasized that it is the "front door to your community," and that business airplanes are common sights around the country.

"Today's airport is what the railroads were to towns and cities in the early days."

REMINDER

Don't forget the date of the Musicade, Tuesday, May 13, at 8:00 p.m. The theme for this year is The Entertainers. The band and choir will sing and play and in addition the stage band will play several numbers. Be sure and make your plans to see the Musicade.

How can we turn a deaf ear to their pleas? Yet, how can we absorb them into a society that already has multiplied thousands out of work, and by a nation that is already head over heels in debt?
The gravity of the situation is such that can not be sneezed at. Can we yet "save face" with the South Vietnamese—or with America, for that matter?

Two jobs in one pass with Liquid Fertilizer and Milo-gard for Weed Control in Sorghum

Saves labor and valuable time

Liquid fertilizers go on fast and easy. Pumps and meters do the work. No bags to lift. Liquids drastically reduce labor needs, freeing valuable manpower for other important jobs. And liquids permit you to make maximum use of those few good days when you can get on the soil, especially in the Spring.

How Milogard works

Milogard is a pre-emergence herbicide, and should be applied before weeds come up. When moved into the soil by rainfall, irrigation, or mechanical incorporation, Milogard is absorbed by weeds as they germinate. Growth processes stop, and weeds turn yellow and die.

Even, accurate applications

Milogard 80W is a selective herbicide that can be applied pre-emergence for control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses such as morningglory, carpetweed, kochia, lambsquarters, pigweed, annual ground cherry, ragweed, smartweed, velvetleaf, watergrass (barnyardgrass), junglerice, and foxtails. Since Milogard enters weeds principally through their roots, rainfall or irrigation is necessary to move Milogard into the root zone of germinating weeds. Very dry soil conditions may necessitate a shallow cultivation.

Kelton-Lowe Vows Read In McCamey Methodist Church

Mary Louann Kelton and Joe Ebb Lowe were united in marriage in the First United Methodist Church of McCamey, Texas, by Reverend Maynard Rogers in a candlelight ceremony at 6:30 p.m., April 26, 1975.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelton of McCamey, and Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Lowe of Munday.

The altar of the church was decorated by two candelabras accented with greenery and pink bows. At the foot of the altar were two basket arrangements of pink carnations and greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire wedding gown of petal white silk Peau-d'ange and cluney lace with accents of seed pearls. The moulded bodice featured a sheer crescent yoke of silk Peau-d'ange edged in cluney lace flowerlets and seed pearl enrichments. The bodice was accented with a high wedding band neckline and long candlestick sleeves with ruffles of mushroom pleated cuffs at the wrist.

The princess skirt swept to a full chapel train and was encircled with a deep ruffle of mushroom pleating and accents of applied cluney lace flowerlets.

She wore a sheer capulett covered in cluney lace flowerlets and leaves of heavy white re-embroidered lace. From the capulett fell her chapel length mantilla edged in matching flowerlets and leaves.

Miss Robin Kelton of McCamey, and sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Barbara Kelton of McCamey, sister of the bride, and Judy Lowe of Stamford, sister of the groom.

They wore gowns of sheer floral pastel pink over pink.

TEXAS TALK

By Tommie Harper

Two major classes of sorghum are grown in the United States. Sweet Sorghum or Sorgo accounts for about 20% of the crop and is grown for forage, silage and sorghum (often called cane) syrup. The vast majority of the crop is grain sorghum. Although grain sorghum is grown predominantly for the grain, it also acts as a dual purpose plant with stalks commonly used as forage or silage. Experts don't always agree on world sorghum production but they generally acknowledge that at least 125 million acres are now used for planting sorghum crops. Use of sorghum as a food grain in China, Africa and India ranks sorghum with corn as a contender for the third most important food grain in the world (behind wheat and rice). All estimates are not yet in for this year's acreage in grain sorghum, but indications are, although local areas may show some increase, the national crop could be reduced as much as 5 percent.

Rhineland Co-op Gin Treats Patrons May 5

Good food, free prizes and a generous dividend, now what more could any farmer ask from his local gin?

Approximately 150 people were the recipients of this bountiful harvest Monday night, May 5, when directors of the Rhineland cooperative Gin held their annual appreciation barbecue supper for their customers.

After a short visitation period during registration, the crowd enjoyed a delicious barbecue and chicken supper with all the trimmings served by Underwood's. Rev. Bartholomew Landwehrmeyer offered the invocation. A hearty welcome was extended to all present by board president, Marvin Zeissel. Secretary Bernard Brown read the minutes of the last meeting.

Travis Lee, auditor, explained the profit and loss sheet and the balance sheet for the year. "It's been a very good year for the gin," stated Mr. Lee. And to prove this point, the board stated that a nice dividend would be given to the customers.

"Since the gin had such a good year, you, our customers, will share in this good fortune," said Marvin Zeissel. And share they did, as he announced that the gin would pay a dividend of $16.20 per 500 lb. bale. He went on to explain that needed repairs for the gin were in order and many had already been done, still enabling Rhineland Co-op to pay this generous dividend. "We appreciate your business and are looking forward to serving you again this year," replied President Zeissel.

Mr. Sherd Davis, a representative of Ne-Tex Cooperative Oil Mill in Wolfe City, expressed his appreciation to the gin for their business this past year. He also discussed his association with co-ops and how he enjoys it.

Winners of the door prizes were Loretta Albus, a $25 bond donated by First National Bank in Munday; Truman Cypert, a wrench set donated by Gulf Coast and Bagging; Walter Brown, Gene Allen, Michels, Mrs. Loran Patterson, Carl Coulston, Y. Ramirez, Mrs. Gifford Wilde, Mrs. Henry Followwill, Mrs. Eugene Brown, Ruben Richards,

AARP Meets On May 1st

The Munday Chapter No. 1437 of the American Association of Retired Persons met Thursday, May 1, at 10:30 a.m. in the Community Center with 33 members present.

E. V. Shackelford, past president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, and vice president, Wallace Reid.

The meeting was opened with prayer and thanks for the food voiced by Mrs. Grace Gollehon. Members joined in singing America. After reading the minutes of the previous meeting, the secretary, Mrs. R. B. Cary called for a report on civic activities in which members have participated. Mrs. Jim Reeves gave some information on some tours which some members may be interested in, such as the Albany Fandangle, the under water show at San Marcos and the show Texas in Palo Dura Canyon.

During the noon hour everyone enjoyed the food and fellowship as they helped themselves to the delicious covered dish luncheon.

The group had a wonderful treat after lunch when David Huff and the Munday High School Choir entertained with music and songs. They sang an often requested song titled Butterfly. Then other numbers were Sunshine on My Shoulder, I'd Like To Teach The World To Sing, The Way We Were and closed by singing Bad, Bad Leroy Brown. Our thanks to Mr. Huff and each member of the choir for taking time out of a busy schedule to come and sing for us.

An insurance representative, Steve Polansky, explained insurance plans for senior citizens, such as life insurance, car, home owners, as well as health policies. He also told of different 3-month periods of enrollment during the year. His advice was not to drop existing hospital policies you have, as his policy was to supplement what you already have, along with Medicare.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday, June 5 at 11:30 a.m.

Game night for this month will be Friday night, May 16, at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Center. The musical group from Wichita Falls, The Westernaires, will be here to play for about two hours. The public is invited. So come one, come all, to hear some real good old time western music.

Tammy, aged 14, an eighth grade student in the Benjamin schools, was named sweetheart of the riding club for 1975.

She participates in pep squad, tennis, basketball and track, and was the 1974 flag bearer for the club. She has entered playdays and Little Britches Rodeos, where she has won numerous trophies and belt buckles. She also partici-

Tammy is active in 4-H food and clothing shows in the county and district, having won ribbons and medals.

Stasy, aged 12, was recently chosen as flag bearer for the riding club. She is a sixth grade student in the Benjamin schools, and participates in pep squad, track and basketball.

She entered the Red River Rodeo queen's contest at Wichita Falls last year, where she won the first place trophy for the horsemanship class in her division. She also won a belt buckle in the personality class.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Dishwasher

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash 1 dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

Linda Walker's sparkling wit, infectious laughter, and boundless energy make her unforgettable to her comrades.

She has been active in numerous clubs and the classes in MHS and has held responsible positions in each, including fourth Vice-President in FHA, Senior Representative on the Band Council, Annual Salesman for her Sophomore Class, and Junior Class Student Council Representative. Currently, Linda is Editor of the Tom-Tom and keeps busy assigning articles and meeting deadlines. Linda also devotes quite a bit of her time to University Interscholastic League activities in the areas of Persuasive Speaking and One-Act Plays. She gives credit to two English teachers for encouraging her interest and participation in UIL.

Despite Linda's considerable abilities, she does not find all of her work easy nor all of her experiences enjoyable. Linda feels that one important lesson she's learned in high school is that when the going gets rough, sometimes you just have to "grin and bear it".

Texas Tech is Linda's destination for college with her probable major being Mass Communications. Along with college, one of Linda's goals is to travel in other areas of the world so that she can compare lifestyles and better appreciate living in America.

Bill's Blabbin'

By Bill Bowley

Old age is sure creeping up on this elderly lady up front and boy do we recognize it after a weekend with our three little greats, Mary Ann is 4, and is no trouble at all. She is very quiet and can entertain herself.

blab

But Little Joe, 3 year old grandson, is a go getter and keeps you busy keeping up with him. We thought there could never be another one that would require the time and energy he does.

blab

Not so, Rhonda, 2 years old, puts him in the shade. She is never still a minute and is not afraid of the old devil. She will try to do anything that comes to mind. And it shows, cause she has a bruised face to show for her wild antics.

blab

She climbs on everything and if falling off them is the quickest way down, down she comes. But does it daunt her, not in the least, she is up and trying another project. We told her parents, No. 2 grandson, Joey, and wife, Dianne, that we doubt if they raise her to be three.

blab

We enjoyed every minute of being with them, and even let Ole Boy get off fishing without us so we could be with them. Maybe we're like Rhonda, just a glutton for punishment. It's a good thing parents have little ones while they are young so they can cope with them, cause us "nearly forty" great-grandmothers are worn to a nubbin after three or four hours of trying to keep up with them.

blab

Then our No. 1 grandson, Butch, and his wife, Polly, comes up with us another great-grandson. We haven't seen him yet as he is very new, born April 29, and lives in Odessa, and is not old enough to come see us yet. His name is Samuel Eugene, but we call him "Exit" because his daddy said that was what they were going to name their first one, so its name could be in lights at all times.

blab

He also said that name was equally appropriate for a boy or a girl. Wild huh? I don't know whether they are going to call him Samuel or Eugene or both, any way great-granddaddy has another name sake. Butch's name is Gordon Eugene and Ole Boy's name is Alton Eugene. Do you wonder they call him Sappy or even Butch? That is all I am going to tell you about the greats. OKAY.

And We All Had A Good Time

"... and we all had a mighty good time!"

This was the expression voiced by many who attended the history-making event at a small rural church in Knox County last Sunday.

It was the Gillespie Baptist Church which observed its 79th anniversary with a homecoming of members, former members and friends in Sunday's all-day service.

Events started with regular Sunday School and church services during the morning, then an old-fashioned covered dish lunch was spread for the enjoyment of everyone during the noon hour.

During the afternoon, the homecoming festivities were held featuring special music, a history of the church, and a homecoming message by a former pastor, Rev. Claude Stovall Jr., who served the church in the mid-twenties.

Around 250 people assembled for this gala celebration, some coming from far away places, and the conversation dated back to a half-century ago, or longer.

"We had such a good time visiting together that no one thought of taking pictures," Rev. Ray Milhoan, pastor, said Monday. "In fact, I had a polaroid camera, but never once thought of taking a picture!"

But the "picture" will long remain in the memories of those who attended.

Soil Stewardship Week Observed

The week of May 4-11 is a very special week. It is to everyone and if you don't think so, try to think of the things in your life that aren't related to the soil. Therefore the week of May 4-11 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week. It will be a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's obligation to God as faithful stewards of the soil.

L. D. Offutt, chairman of the Wichita Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District, stated that over 3000 SWCD throughout the Nation along with state and national associations are sponsoring the event for the 21st consecutive year.

Food and energy shortages, pollution and land use policies are problems facing all the people. Soil Stewardship week is a time to pause and consider our responsibilities for proper use and protection of the natural resources the Lord has given us.

Soil Stewardship will be observed at many Churches in our area. The SWCD will make available upon request to churches of all faiths, attractive program blanks and booklets created particularly for this year's observance Offutt said.

Consider this place-It's the land that was settled two centuries ago by men who surmounted both peril and woe. It's the country that's grown across rivers and plains with factories and farms, building fortunes and fame. It's the nation whose spirit, you and I claim, has brought forth the finest in liberty's name. It's the town of my father, and his father too; it's the church and the school; all the living we know. It's the fields and the forests, the meandering stream; it's the home of our family, the neighborhood scene. It has needs and big problems, and goals that we share. It's the hope and the promise of future reward, it's the challenge to work for the earth of the Lord.-Consider this place. Consider it well.

Early Cotton Aids Weevils

April and the first week of May cotton planting in the Rolling Plains provides the cotton boll weevil early food and potential heavy population build up for the area, unless the early fields are effectively treated for control.

High Plains cotton producers where the boll weevil is not a major pest and the growing season is a little shorter apparently benefit from early planting, but as an average May 15 to 25 planting is better for this area.

Grain Sorghum Planting Near Completion

Grain sorghum producers planted the majority of the 1975 Knox County crop between April 15th and 24th.

Some planting and in several cases spot replanting continued to the first of May. Replanting was caused by some areas drying out, sandy areas blowing out on the ends and in several instances because starlings pulled the young plants the first day or two after emerging. This is the first year I know of that the starlings have done much damage to emerging grain, but this problem has been fairly widespread on both grain sorghum and hybrid sorghum X sudan crosses.

The National Cemeteries Act of 1973 provided for the transfer of responsibility of 82 national cemeteries from the Department of the Army to the Veterans Administration. These joined 21 VA cemeteries to form the National Cemetery System.

Field Day At Chillicothe A&M Sta.

Farmers and ranchers will meet in Chillicothe May 15 for a close look at field work by which agricultural research scientists expect to help them increase yields of wheat, oats and other small grains in the Rolling Plains.

The producers and numerous agribusinessmen will tour the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Chillicothe during a field day held there May 15 by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

On the tour, which starts at 1 p.m., the visitors will stop at various research plots to hear Experiment Station personnel discuss small grains as forage, insect and weed control in small grains, wheat breeding, oat and barley breeding, and hybrid wheat and triticale.

The visitors will also hear other Experiment Station scientists as well as specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service discuss the management of small-grain production on the basis of agronomic practices, weed and insect control, the Foundation Seed Service, and non-vernalized wheat for spring grazing.

The program ends at 4:30 p.m., said Dr. L. E. Clark, supervisor of research at the Chillicothe station. Speakers will be Dr. M. E. McDaniel, Dr. E. C. Gilmore, Dr. J. H. Gardenhire, Dr. K. B. Porter, Dr. Allen F. Wiese and Dr. Wayne G. McGully, all of the Experiment Station; H. H. Partridge, General Mills agronomist; Keith A. Lahr of the Foundation Seed Service, and agronomist Dr. Dale A. Grant To Aid Center

More Texas 4-H volunteer leaders will have an opportunity to participate in leadership training programs at the newly completed Texas 4-H Center, thanks to the Sid W. Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth.

The Richardson Foundation has awarded an initial grant of $25,000 to the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation to be used for travel scholarships for volunteer leaders who attend training workshops at the state center located at Brownwood.

The overall grant totaling $100,000 is renewable for a three-year period, during which time some 80 training conferences and workshops are being planned for 4-H volunteer leaders throughout the state.

"The grant is designed to boost 4-H volunteer leadership development programs in Texas," said Tom Davison, executive director of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation and 4-H specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"We are especially pleased to receive this grant from the Sid W. Richardson Foundation, because we feel a strong volunteer leadership development program is essential to a strong 4-H program in Texas. This grant provides the basis on which we can build a leadership training program at the new Texas 4-H Center," Davison added.

"There are more than 20,000 volunteer 4-H leaders in Texas at this time," noted Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Extension Service. "The travel scholarships will provide equal opportunities for them to participate in various training programs regardless of the distances they have to travel to the center."

"The new Texas 4-H Center is one of the better training facilities in the United States," pointed out Stormer.

GSPA Urges Override Of Presidential Veto

LUBBOCK, TEX. -Telegrams to members of Congress from Grain Sorghum Producers Association have requested an override of President Ford's veto on the Emergency Farm Bill.

The president vetoed the farm bill May 1 after its earlier passage by a House vote of 248-166 and a strong voice vote in the Senate.

Elbert Harp, executive director of GSPA, expressed "some optimism" that Congress will override the veto. GSPA's telegram to the House of Representatives and Senate stated that the Emergency Farm Bill was "imperative for price stability for farmers and consumers."

The telegram, signed by Harp, urged Congress to help override the President's veto.

The emergency bill passed by Congress would have increased both target prices and loan rates on feed grains, wheat, cotton and milk for 1975 only, in an attempt to stabilize the agricultural economy.

"Farmers have not been so close to the brink of bankruptcy since the Great Depression," warned Mabry Foreman of Felt, Okla., a

Firemen Go To The Aid Of Garbage Truck

Firemen were called out at about 4:15 p.m. Thursday to extinguish a fire in Munday's garbage truck in the western portion of town.

Workers had loaded some smouldering trash into the truck, and it later began "smoking up a storm" and threatening to ignite. It did not burst into flames.

Two fire trucks answered the call, and were ready for any emergency.

GSPA vice president testifying before a Congressional committee in a farm bill hearing.

GSPA has worked for passage of the emergency bill since its introduction through testimony before committees, letters to Congressman and recently, a letter to the president.

Farmers can not continue to suffer financial losses in production of the nation's food and stay in business, Harp warned the president. "Unless some provision is made to stabilize agricultural markets, many producers will be forced to shut down their farming operations", Harp's letter said.

Former Sunset Boy to Teach in San Marcos

Jerry Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston of Knox City, has signed a contract to teach vocational teacher training courses at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos from June 1 through July 8.

Johnston is instructor for the general mechanical repair unit of Haskell-Knox Consortium located at O'Brien. He holds a B.A. degree from Hardin-Simmons University and has done graduate work in vocational education at Southwest Texas State University. He is a former coach and science teacher in Old Glory and O'Brien.

Mr. Johnston will teach courses in analysis and course making for vocational teachers. His experience as vocational instructor for the special education cooperative is of particular interest to the San Marcos School since there are only forty such units in the state, many of which are taught by teachers who lack a degree from a college or university. The O'Brien unit is one of very few rural cooperative units of its kind in Texas.

Mr. Johnston's wife and their three children plan to enjoy the San Marcos vacation area while he is teaching at the university.

Farabee Argues For Rural Areas on Ambulance Service

State Senator Ray Farabee successfully argued last week for a compromise that would take into account the rural areas of the state. The bill which was being considered would set state-wide standards for ambulance service.

During the course of Senate debate Farabee argued that many rural areas could not afford the cost of meeting the standards set out in the bill. Farabee noted, "It's important that the distinction be made in legislation between the problems of some place like Houston or Dallas and areas like Knox County. The problems are vastly different and what can be afforded in Harris County can't necessarily be afforded in our rural areas."

Senator Farabee's amendment to the bill exempts counties with a population of 25,000 or under from the rigorous standards set out in the legislation. Senator Farabee explained, "It is one thing to require these standards for an ambulance that makes 5, 10, or 25 trips per day... it is quite another thing to require that of an ambulance that makes substantially fewer trips, perhaps one or two trips per month.

My amendment to this legislation is simply an effort to more closely tailor this bill to the circumstances that exist in the rural areas and smaller cities. The amendment recognizes a difference in their economic capabilities and in the level of service they can provide.

With this change the bill allows large cities in metropolitan area to meet these standards but it exempts smaller areas which simply couldn't afford this and still have any kind of ambulance service."

Senator Farabee also noted that many volunteer organizations in rural area, such as volunteer firemen, strive to provide ambulance service to areas that would otherwise be without it. Farabee said he thought it would be wrong to force these people to undergo the training requirements originally set out in the bill since the time and expense involved would be prohibitive for many of these volunteers. Farabee also said that if improvements were needed in ambulance service he hoped the state would work with local communities on a voluntary basis.

OLNEY SAVINGS new home office building interior will reflect warmth and simplicity through use of earthtone colors in floor and wallcoverings, draperies, and carpeting. The new building, now under construction, is scheduled to be completed in mid-March, 1976.

Olney Savings Begins Construction On Their New Home Office Building

Olney Savings is building a "better way to save," according to President D. D. McClatchy, "with a new 22,000 sq. ft. home office building to be completed mid-March, 1976."

Construction began immediately following official Groundbreaking Ceremonies Friday, May 2, at 300 East Main in Olney.

The new home office building will be a unique two-story structure of a pure white decorative sand plaster exterior accented with bronze colored glass and dark covering anodized aluminum settings. President McClatchy said, "Our new home office building was especially designed for the people in and around the Olney area. The new facility will emphasize individualized service for the entire family and its complete savings and borrowing needs."

"The interior design, will reflect a warm, friendly atmosphere using earthtone colors in carpeting, drapery, and wall coverings," McClatchy noted.

A dynamic feature of the new home office building will be a delightfully designed "garden getaway" for the Olney Savings customer. The Garden Room, adjacent to the Savings Department, was specially designed for coffee, comfort and fellowship among employees, customers, and friends of Olney Savings, McClatchy said.

The Garden Room will be fashioned in a relaxed mood of casual white rattan furniture complimented in a green and white color scheme.

A large skylight and a looped yellow and green canvas ceiling will provide natural light for an earth-floor covered with a variety of beautiful, brightly colored house plants in the heart of the Garden Room.

The entry, reception area, and tellers area will mirror warmth with designer coverings of brown brick and cedar pronouncements.

"The first floor will house the Savings Department, Loan Department, Tellers Area, Drive-Up Teller Area, Bookkeeping and Administrative Offices of Olney Savings," McClatchy explained.

"The second floor will be used for employee purposes, an all-purpose Meeting Room for the people of Olney, and future expansion of the Association," he continued.

A new on-line computer will be installed with up-to-the-minute information on passbook accounts, certificates of deposit, escrow accounts, and loans. The computer will provide faster service of all phases, plus it will continue to give up-to-date accuracy on all statement print-outs.

President McClatchy concluded, "The designers and architects of Bank Building Corporation, St. Louis have blueprinted a beautiful new home office for Olney Savings. We express our sincere thanks to them and extend an invitation to everyone to act as Sidewalk Superintendents during the construction phase of this undertaking."
