Wheat Harvest Results In More Railway Tonnage

Munday has had an influx of railway cars and engines during the past week, since the start of the 1977 wheat harvest.

Ray Conrad, who has served as local depot agent for a short time said: "They told me the wheat harvest at Munday was rough, and I'm beginning to learn that it is." He said Monday he was getting an average of about four hours of sleep per day. You see, Conrad's duties are to look after depots all the way from Haskell to Wichita Falls.

When asked how things were going, he said: "Oh, pretty good. Now that the track has been repaired, we should be able to route some of the local cars on to market."

Portions of the track between Munday and Wichita Falls had been undergoing some repairs, and trains didn't run for a while.

This resulted in a build-up of cars in Munday. One trainload was started with oil out of Abilene, and crewmen worked on toward Munday. When they reached here, 37 loaded cars had been picked up. The 50-car train was to be completed with wheat from the Munday area.

Conrad said he expected to move out three 50-car trains in Munday the first of the week. An extra work train was due here at 1 p. m. to move the loaded cars and spot extras along the sidings.

He said local wheat buyers had estimated the harvest about half over at the week's end. When it's over the rail business will not be so rushing. However, Conrad said "We will soon move into the milo harvest, with cotton shipping taking place later in the fall."

Normal traffic along the Wichita Valley Line is for a train going west into Abilene to come through Munday on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. It will come back, going east to Wichita Falls, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Local grain buyers have enough railway siding along their elevators to spot between 40 and 50 cars, according to the depot agent.

Look To The East

By Aaron Edgar

Periodically, we receive offers to participate in some giant give-away sweepstakes.

Or maybe it's a big merchandise bargain that's hard to resist.

From the amount of stuff like that which comes through the mails, it would appear that the U. S. Postal Service was in business in a big way. Yet, we continue to read about the service losing money.

These give-aways are being offered by most any magazine or periodical that has you on the mailing list. Some are sent out, even if you don't read their publications.

There are some most persistent, like Readers Digest, that is almost continually engaged in a sweepstakes that is appealing.

Along with the offer is an opportunity to purchase a condensed novel, a garden book, or something—or even to renew your subscription to the monthly publication.

Emphasis is placed on the fact that "you do not have to buy" to be a winner. Just mail in your lucky number within the prescribed time and almost be assured of a fantastic surprise.

Two envelopes are enclosed for your selection. One is a "Yes" envelope indicating you will make a purchase or renew your subscription; the other is a "No" deal, indicating that you are not interested, "but let me know if I'm a winner."

It has been suggested to us that the "no" job never does get past "file 13;" thereby has no chance in the winning circle. However, there's the guarantee that every prize will be given away.

In addition, there are those oil companies with whom you have a credit card that are always tantalizing the card holder with a fantastic deal. A lot of time, they invite you to join their travel club that is designed so you may pay your dues by the month just by adding them to your credit purchases.

Industrial Foundation Reorganized in Munday

THE WINNERS: This team, the boys with numerals on their jackets, of Andrade and Caram, won over the Munday Jaycees 2 to 1 in the donkey ball game last Saturday night. The animal with the long ears probably had the best time of all!

Andrade-Caram Team Wins Over Jaycees In Donkey Ball

A comparatively large crowd turned out last Saturday night to see the "battle of wits" between would-be baseball players and the stubbornness of animals—the lowly donkey.

If these people came to see a high-scoring ball game, they were disappointed. The score was only 2 to 1 in favor of the Andrade and Caram team, and with the Munday Jaycees on the losing end. Getting a donkey across home plate is a major chore!

If they came for entertainment, they were awarded—especially if it was their first donkey ball game. It was entertaining, though, to see those you know being dumped by the well-trained animals.

The money derived from the game, after splitting with the animal trainers, went to benefit the local ambulance fund. The concessions stand did well, too, with thirsty people taking on cold drinks, home-made ice cream, and stuff.

Wrestling a donkey is not exactly a picnic, and players woke up Sunday morning with sore muscles they didn't know they had!

Uranium Traces In Knox County

Traces of uranium, a prospective new energy boom for North Texas and Southern Oklahoma, have been found in Knox County, according to reports published during the weekend.

Uranium deposits have been reported in Archer, Montague and Wilbarger counties, while radioactive traces are present in Harde-man, Knox, Wichita and Clay Counties, according to a map furnished by Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas.

The deposit with highest concentration of uranium is in Cotton County, Okla., on the Red River uplift. A geological report pre-

A meeting of members of the Munday Industrial Foundation was held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 31, in the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of re-organizing the foundation and naming new officers and board members.

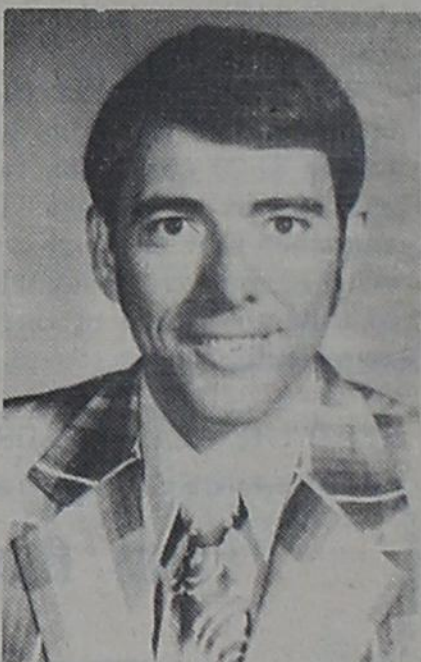

The old by-laws were amended at this time to allow a close association with the Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, since this organization is primarily challenged with the responsibility of attracting and securing industry.

A report of the nominating committee appointed on May 5 was made, after which board members of the foundation were elected by majority vote. They are: Joe Choucair, Mrs. Callie Ann Combs, Chris Christensen, Robert Nix, M. L. Wiggins and Dr. W. H. Stewart.

New foundation officers are: Robert Nix, chairman; Dr. W. H. Stewart, co-chairman, and Callie Ann Combs, secretary and treasurer. Executive members of the Chamber of Commerce, Chris Christensen, Dr. Bill Kingston and W. O. Smith, will act as an advisory committee.

"We feel that the Munday area is ready for industry," Chairman Nix stated. "This is evidenced by the completion of Millers Creek Lake, the municipal airport, new apartment condominium, street paving projects and the new drainage system. The foundation board will work actively with the Chamber of Commerce in concerted efforts to secure industry for the Munday area."

you travel a lot. We're at the age that we're a long way from home if we get past Abilene or Wichita Falls; hence, the services are hardly worth while.

These oil companies have merchandise offers, too, with a variety of things you may purchase and pay them out the easy monthly payment way with your credit card.

You are sent colored folders with attractive photos of such items as radios, television sets, cameras, tape players, super duper battery powered lights, calculators, and numerous other items. Just give them time!

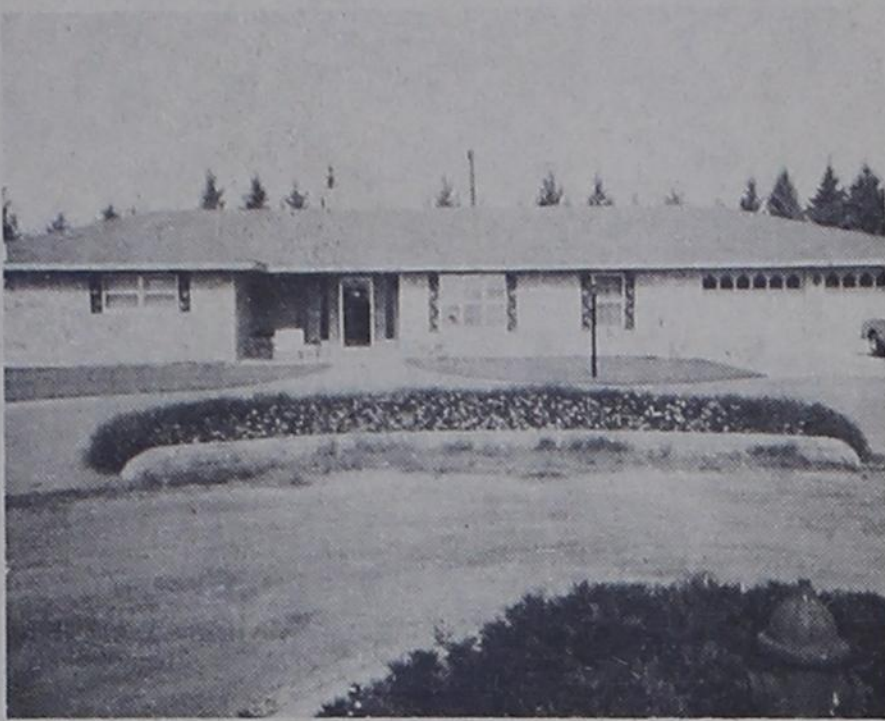

The most recent offer to reach our mailbox was for such items as: a Qualitron calculator with optional stand, Worldstar multiband radio, Sentry safe, Worldstar binoculars, and Worldstar portable 8-track AM/FM player—these all in one mailing.

We ran a tape on the prices of these and arrived at the figure of $389.60, all on the "send no money" plan.

It is our opinion that if these oil companies would concentrate on supplying the motoring public with their products at reasonable prices, and stay out of the merchandising field, we would all be better off.

We've been offered the opinion that we will be paying $1.00 per gallon for gasoline by Christmas. If and when that happens, we won't have much money left to take advantage of their merchandise offers.

To make home improvements be "just that," consumers should follow some simple precautions.

-Before calling a contractor, know what you need done.

This will help identify the work you believe most important—and it will help make sure you don't "get talked into" additional jobs.

-Get at least three estimates on any job. Be sure the estimates are comparable, that each contains what will be done, and that each says exactly how much the entire job will cost.

-Before deciding on a contractor, check out the firm's reputation.

Check that the company has a permanent place of business in the community—an itinerant contractor will not be around later to handle complaints.

Request references from the company—and check them out. Ask other customers if they were satisfied with that company's work.

-After deciding on a contractor, carefully read the contract that is drawn up.

Don't sign a contract with any blank spaces—and do not sign a contract before reading it.

Be sure the contract spells out what is to be done, the starting and completion dates, types of materials, the total cost, and has a provision outlining who is responsible in case of an accident by an employee or damage to your property.

-Never hand over payment for the entire job in advance.

Pay at the end of the job—or make only a small down payment in advance, if necessary. Another alternative is paying in portions—as the job is completed.

LOCAL FIREMEN Are shown extinguishing a butane fire at the rear of Lonnie Offutt's home on Tuesday, May 31. The tractor that was being refueled was damaged, and Dannie Offutt received treatment at the Knox County Hospital for minor burns.

Andrade and Caram New Soybean Fertilizer Dealer

For soybean growers in Munday, Folian, the new soybean foliar fertilizer, is now available, said Jessie Andrade and Freddie Caram, partners of Andrade and Caram.

According to Allied Chemical agronomists who developed Folian, 10 to 20 percent yield increases can be expected when the new fertilizer is applied to soybeans under favorable conditions and according to manufacturer's recommendations.

Folian contains special forms of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and sulfur (12-6-6-5S) which enable it to be applied in concentrated form directly on the growing plant without serious injury under normal conditions.

"We are offering Folian as a yield boosting supplement to regular soybean fertility programs," said Andrade and Caram. "It is recommended for good stands of healthy, non-stressed beans that already show a high yield potential." "Growers can expect the greatest return on investment from applications during early or mid pod growth stages," they added. "If crop prospects continue to be favorable after the first application, a second application 10 to 14 days later also can be expected to give growers a good return on fertilizer investment."

Don Johnson, Allied Chemical's Manager of Agronomic Services, explains how the foliar fertilizer works: "During the pod filling stage, the developing beans demand more nutrients than the plant is able to supply, even in fertile soil. Plant food applied directly to the foliage during this period can get more nutrients into the plant so that more beans can fill to harvestable size. Folian offers a means of doing this safely."

Folian has undergone five seasons of comprehensive testing. Average yield increases have ranged from 10 to 32 percent.

GRAYS ATTEND REUNION SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Cox of Cortez, Colo. are visiting this week in the home of Neva's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gray. They came at this time to attend the Gray reunion which was held Sunday, June 6, in the Ballinger City Park.

Thirty-six members attended and a wonderful time was reported by all and the delicious food spread on long tables was especially enjoyed by the group.

In the afternoon, the swimming pool was the main attraction for the younger set, while the not-so-young enjoyed games of dominoes and 42 and others just gossiped and took pictures.

Those attending from Munday besides the above mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Gray and grandson, Jerry, and daughter, Mrs. Lee (Louise) Rice from Lubbock who is spending time with her parents. Others present were from Big Spring, Fort Worth, Dallas, Austin, Clifton and Lubbock.

The plans were to meet at the same place, same date, next year.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Myers of Gatesville visited in the Douglas Myers home recently.

TEXAS TALK

By Tommie Harper

Have farmers done anything for you lately? Probably not. At least, not since your last meal. Figures developed by researchers with the USDA indicate that American farmers' production last year was high enough that each man farming produced enough to feed 57 people. In the European Common Market countries one farmer produced enough to feed 23 other people, the average of all developed countries was less than half the productivity in the U. S. and in Russia the average farmer produced enough to feed only about 8 others. Not only is the American productivity important in keeping us all well fed (most too well) it's also significant in that it allows 96 out of every 100 people to work in areas outside food production. That makes possible the production of the wide variety of goods and services which constitute our unparalleled living standard. Keep it up farmers!

IMPROVE TRACTOR EFFICIENCY TO CONSERVE FUEL

Increasing fuel prices call for a closer look at better tractor efficiency. For example, one gallon of diesel fuel can provide up to 13 drawbar horsepower for an hour, but few tractors obtain this amount.

One big step to improve tractor performance is to properly match tractors to implement loads during tillage. Many large tractors have more power than required for most operations, so excess diesel fuel is burned for the extra, unneeded power.

If a 150 horsepower (hp) tractor is doing only a 100 hp job, throttle it back. Operating in a higher gear at reduced engine speed can save 12 to 34 per cent on fuel consumption. For a 150 hp tractor this could be two gallons per hour.

Slippage during tillage is also a fuel waster. Soft soils and inadequate tractor weight can easily cause 20 per cent wheel slippage. Maximum slip for good power use is 15 per cent. Two-thirds to one gallon of diesel may be lost by excessive slippage. A 10 per cent increase in slip also results in a 40 per cent increase in tire wear.

For top power and fuel economy, keep the diesel engine in A-1 shape. Dirty air cleaners and injectors are power wasters as well as fuel wasters. Diesels don't need service as frequently as gasoline engines, but don't neglect them. Failure to service the pump, fuel filters, injectors and air filters can cost one gallon of five per hour on a 150 hp tractor before the problem becomes obvious.

Proper tractor operations also boosts fuel economy. A 150 hp tractor idling for an hour wastes one-half gallon of diesel fuel. When the stops for lubrication, refilling sprayer tanks, measuring land or lunch breaks are added up, these can total an hour per day.

With a 150 hp tractor, improper operation, maintenance and management add up to sizable fuel costs. It's possible to use as much excess fuel as 2.5 gallons per hour. In a 12-hour day, this is 30 gallons of diesel or $15 (at 50 cents per gallon).

Fuel cost is less than half the cost of inefficiency. Either 25 per cent more acres could have been tilled or equipment operating time decreased. In many instances it will cost more than $10 per hour to operate a 150 hp tractor. So the total cost of inefficiency is much greater than the fuel burned. Inefficiencies may total $30 a day even though fuel costs are $15 per day.

Efficient operators can get up to one more day of tractor operation per week than inefficient operators on the same fuel. So, take a close look at how you're operating your tractor. You might be able to cut fuel costs even with the rising prices.

From Me To You . . .

One of the most difficult things in life is to guard against the possibility of making ourselves judges of someone or some thing. Some college girls suspected a girl in one of their classes of cheating. Should they tell the professor, or talk to the girl herself? Finally, they told the professor's wife, since she was also their dormitory matron. They were surprised by her answer, Gently she explained, "My husband knows the situation. And he has been praying for her."

Perhaps the girls were right to be angry with their classmate. Maybe the professor was being too easy—especially if the girl really was cheating. But how much worse are those who can see only the faults and not the person, who can see only the splinter and not the eye, who accuse first and regret it later.

Yes, there will be times that we must make judgements, but never the kind where we put ourselves above another person and imagine that we are better than they. We must never be guilty of putting ourselves in the place of God. We all stand under his judgement too.

Charles G. Boren

in total U. S. trade. Overseas farm sales reduced by 23 per cent what would have been a huge $9 billion deficit in 1972.

Agricultural exports in 1973 made a record-breaking "net" contribution of $9.3 billion to the American balance of trade while the nonagricultural sector turned in an $8 billion deficit. In 1974, farm exports contributed an incredible $11.7 billion net, and the favorable trade balance reached $12.6 billion in 1975. This balance should show a similar level for 1976.

Between 1965 and 1975, net agricultural exports have made a total contribution of $49 billion to America's balance of trade. This more than offset the $28 billion deficit chalked up by the nonagricultural sector.

"The export market plays an important role in Texas agriculture," adds Black. "Currently, the production from one out of every four acres is imported. Leading imports include rice, sorghum, wheat and cotton."

So, the next time you purchase an imported item, think about American agriculture. It opens the door for many imported products.

Farm Exports Pay For Imported Goods

The wheat a local farmer is raising could very well pay for your foreign car, imported wine or new camera.

This is because America exports more food and fiber products than it imports. This "favorable balance of trade" pays for many foreign products, a leading one today being the huge amounts of imported oil, points out Dr. William E. Black, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The 'balance of trade' is the dollar difference between how much we buy from overseas and how much we sell to the overseas markets," says Black. "To buy the foreign goods we want, we have to sell overseas to get the money to buy. It's much the same as in your own personal finances—you have to have an income before you can buy."

"If you buy more than you make, you go in debt. The more debt you have, the more shaky your financial situation is. After awhile, your credit isn't as good," notes Black.

The same applies to this country, the economist explains. If we buy more on the foreign market than we sell, we have a negative balance of trade. If that gets too big, our dollar gets shaky in the international market. After awhile, foreign markets lose faith in the value of the dollar and it won't buy as much overseas.

"When the value of our imports is greater than the value of what we export, the deficit saps the strength of the U. S. dollar in foreign markets. As the deficit grows, the value of the dollar weakens and it takes more dollars to buy foreign products. That creates problems for the American consumer," asserts Black.

In 1971, American farm exports cancelled one-half of a $4 billion potential deficit

Little League Activities

On Thursday night, June 2, the Red Sox defeated the Cardinals by a score of 12 to 2. Daren Jordan smashed a home run for the Red Sox, as they led the Cardinals in hits, 3 to 1.

Junior Ramirez helped the Braves with a home run in their game against the Yankees. The Braves were score-happy, as they garnered 22 runs on 15 hits, while the Yankees had two runs on four hits.

Monday night, June 6, the Braves downed the Cardinals by a score of 8 to 5. Melissa Zeissel's home run for the Cards increased their hits to six, but the Braves retained the lead with seven.

In the second game, the Yankees defeated the Red Sox with 9 runs on one hit against 8 runs on four hits.
