Lions Hosts To School Board And Teachers

The Lions Club entertained on Thursday evening with a banquet at the Odd Fellow hall at which time the members of the faculty of the Munday Public Schools and members of the school board were special guests of the club.

Music for the evening was furnished by the Lions Club orchestra, and Mrs. Joe Davis, leader of the orchestra, favored the Lions and their guests with several vocal numbers.

President W. S. Dickerson acted as toastmaster and introduced the members of the faculty. Superintendent H. H. Riley stated that he and his assistants were anxious to work in every way possible with the Lions Club and all other organizations and individuals for the betterment of educational facilities in Munday.

Dr. E. M. Ammons, secretary, gave an outline of the burro polo game to be played at Haskell during the fair and called for volunteers for the formation of a Lions Club team to participate in the games, to which Dave Eiland, L. E. Loyless, Dave Mauldin, Ed Bauman and others responded, and it is likely that Munday Lions will bring back the championship in the burro polo contest at Haskell.

In the contest inaugurated by the club to determine who shall be "Miss Munday" at the Haskell County Fair there are some five contenders, including Misses Lillian McGlothlin, Wanda Williams, Ethel Isbell, Maxine Newsum and Lola Beck, the last named candidate for the honor is being put forward by the student body and faculty of the Munday Public Schools and in order that the school might have an opportunity to run their candidate the contest was extended until Friday night.

The backers of the various candidates are working hard to put over their candidates, and the club will use the funds derived from the contest toward supplying the fund for the Community Chest.

Parent-Teacher Ass'n Holds Its First Meeting

The P. T. A. met Wednesday afternoon of last week for the purpose of formulating plans for the school year of 1930-31.

A short but enjoyable program was rendered. Sylvia Barnes gave a reading which was followed by a music number by Inez Campbell and Virginia Bess Atkinson. A reading by J. O. McMahon Jr., concluded the program.

With Mrs. M. H. Reeves presiding, the election of officers to fill vacancies was taken up. The following officers were elected: Mrs. E. C. Wyche, second vice-president; Mrs. F. N. Warren, third vice-president and Mrs. Riley B. Harrell, secretary.

A room mother has been selected for each room in the grade school. They are as follows: 1a, Mrs. Erin McGraw; 1b, Mrs. Lee Haymes; 2a-b, Mrs. Mart Harding; 3a, Mrs. R. D. Atkinson; 3b, Mrs. E. C. Wyche; 4a, Mrs. Dick Ford; 4b, Mrs. Alice Whittemore; 5a, Mrs. Glen Dobbs; 5b, Mrs. G. W. Tate; 6a, Mrs. R. H. Neff; 6b, Mrs. J. D. Kethley and 7a, Mrs. Louise Ingram.

Room 6a, of which Miss Mildred Kennedy is teacher, won the prize for the first month, having the largest number of mothers present.

In its widest scope the P. T. A. has two major interests, first, to make for closer relationship between the teacher and parent, and second, to outline definite things to accomplish in a material way. Bring your problems and suggestions, and come to P. T. A.

Local Fireman Loses Home In Morning Fire

About two o'clock Tuesday morning the home of Ardell Spelce in the west part of town was discovered to be on fire, in fact before the family was awakened the fire had gained such headway that they barely had time to get out of the burning building before it was ablaze all over. The fire department made a quick response but could render no service other than to confine the blaze to the one building. The house and contents were a total loss, and were only partially covered by insurance.

Ardell, who has for many years been one of the most active members of the Munday Fire Department, found himself facing the task of helping the other members of the department wage a hopeless fight against the flames which were consuming his own home.

Funer Rites For Robert Moore Held On Friday

Funeral services for Robert Moore were conducted at the Methodist church at Thorp on last Friday afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. A. G. Hulme, who was formerly pastor of the church and a very close friend to deceased. Rev. Hulme is at present out of the conference and is traveling for an Abilene stationery house, but due to the close friendship that existed between them he was called in to conduct the services.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends gathered at the church to pay their tribute of respect to the young man who was reared in that community and who bore the reputation of being one of the community's most excellent young men, and this great gathering of friends and the beautiful floral offerings were indicative of the high esteem in which he was held by those who knew him.

Following the services at the church the remains were laid to rest in the Gillespie cemetery.

Robert is survived by his young wife, who, before her marriage was Miss Ruth Nix, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore and one sister, Mrs. Robert Hicks, of Fort Worth. His death occurred in Fort Worth on Wednesday evening of last week from pneumonia.

Moguls Battle Seymour High To Scoreless Tie

Friday afternoon of last week the Moguls opened the football season with Seymour at Seymour. Old Sol was pouring down upon both teams, thus preventing the usual pep that goes with the Mogul-Seymour game, but at that it was a hard fought game with both teams furnishing a strong defense. Offense was lacking, due to the usual fear of opening up in early season games when the boys haven't become accustomed to handling the ball, thereby resulting in fumbles.

The game was played in midfield with neither team penetrating their opponents' twenty yard zone and with each team making two first downs.

"Red" Rayburn was the outstanding Mogul on the offense, having made several good gains through the line, but his teammates were not able to assist and would be forced to punt. Capt. Pruitt was at his usual game, in head work but was off form in gaining yards, due, probably, to a leg injury in the first quarter of the game.

Gilbert Myers was the outstanding player of the game with his wonderful defensive work in backing the line. Myers plays the game because he loves it and certainly did he demonstrate when time and again he would break through and smear the Seymour backfield for losses. Another outstanding lineman was discovered in "Red" Thompson playing his first game. They just couldn't gain over "Red" and several times he broke through to throw the opponents for losses. Urged on by his older brother and sidemate, Orlist, "Red" looked good and promises to be an outstanding Mogul in future games. Earl Nichols, the "One Freshman", played his first game and with a little polishing promises to be a first string man.

The Moguls journey to Throckmorton this week-end where they hope to win their first game. Friday, October 3, they play at Haskell. This promises to be the hardest game of the season and the squad is asking every loyal supporter to assist by being present at this game and yelling for the Moguls.

Following is the Mogul season schedule:

Sept. 26—Throckmorton—there October 3—Crowell—there. October 10—Haskell—there. October 17—Rule—there. October 24—Rule—there. October 31—Throckmorton—there. November 11—Knox City—here. November 21—Crowell—here. November 27—Open.

Good Attendance At the Poultry School Monday

The poultry short course conducted Monday by specialists of the Extension Service of the Texas A and M College, N. E. Holmgren and Paul A. Cunyus, was well attended and much interest was shown in the course.

The morning session was held at the home of C. B. Warren in the Hefner community, where proper housing and balanced feeding was discussed and much stress was laid upon these two things by the poultry specialists.

The afternoon session was conducted at the poultry farm of Carl Schumacher at Rhineland. Poultry diseases and their prevention was given major attention at the afternoon session, and insect control came in for quite a bit of comment on the part of the specialists.

Mr. Holmgren stated that there was no such thing as "lack" in the poultry business but all depended upon management. "If the egg production is not up to standard know why, and correct the cause" is the way Mr. Holmgren stated is the big thing in successful poultry raising.

Among those who attended the short course was the class in vocational agriculture of the Munday schools, who attended with their instructor, R. D. Ralls.

The association has also secured some hundred head of the finest rooster stock to be had and includes Brahma steers, White faced calves and man eating hares from the famous herds of Toots Ayers and Milt Hinkle of New and Old Mexico.

Chic Accessories Accent Feeling of Fall Season

By Gretchen Thomsen

With every fashion authority predicting black in apparel it is not surprising that black should lead in shoes.

Next in importance comes brogue with a small amount of interest in green and burgundy. Suede and blue are outstanding because of the interest in deep footgear.

One of the results of deeper shades is that it has brought about an interest in shoe profiles—so that women are now most observant of side designs and the height of heels as they apply to the silhouette. There is a decided tendency toward the lower heel for daytime types—while the afternoon shoe to wear with dresses of formal length are long and slender, with great simplicity of trimming and dainty high heels.

Dull hosiery is the hosiery of the hour—First we found smart young thing turning their stockings wrong side out because they found the dull finish made their legs look so much slimmer and because they wanted to get away from the shiny effect. Now that they are being manufactured dull, we can find so many points in their favor that their permanency seems assured for fall at least.

The liking for dull silk seems to have brought on an epidemic for hosiery—both of net and plain variety with clocks. The new shades are carouse, oak rose, acorn, night ingale, mauve beige, promenade, brownleaf and Bahama. The four repeated shades are subtle, reminiscent, dusky beige clair, Champagne, grain, gunmetal, light gunmetal, afternoon, allure, almora, breeze, crystal beige sultan, haze, breeze brown, plage rosador, sunbuck and sunbrown are also good.

For daytime the dark glove outranks the light neutral one that has been so familiar for years. Black and brown divide favor—with white worn only with the most formal costumes.

Conservatively styled novelty pullovers with decorated gauntlet tops are accepted, but plain suede and glace kid semi-mosquitoes or pull-ons in lengths ranging from four to sixteen buttons, with much stress laid on the twelve button length to wear with the new three-quarter dress sleeves and puffed sleeves that fit snugly from the elbow down are smartest. Black, brown, especially a brown with a reddish cast, dark green and navy, together with the beige are the important fall glove colors.

Envelope and pouch styles are equally smart in handbags this coming season.

They will be a little larger than usual. Antelope is a favorite, and calf, morocco, pig seal and some reptile are being chosen by fashion leaders. Satin is a new medium for afternoon. Marcasite, imitation crystal and metal in modernistic effects will trim fall handbags. Black and brown range, with mention of navy and the dark greens and reds are colors forecasted for fall.

Mr. Hassen will move to Munday and personally supervise the business here. He will retain his store at Stamford but will operate on a somewhat smaller scale there than he has heretofore. See his ad in this issue of The Times.

County Agent Gives Control Measure Smart

For wheat—Use three ounces of Copper Carbonate to one bushel of wheat—one pound will treat five bushels of wheat. Two methods are used in treating wheat.

By W. L. Jones, County Agent

First: Pour five bushels of wheat in a barrel, add one pound of Copper Carbonate, closing the barrel tightly and mix thoroughly. Transfer the wheat to the grain drill and sow. This method will be found the most practical and most efficient if used.

Second: Pour a small amount of wheat into the grain box and add one ounce of Copper Carbonate. Pour in another layer of wheat, followed by another layer of Copper Carbonate, until the box is filled. Usually the movement of the drill will mix the seed with the Copper Carbonate sufficiently, but in order to be safe, run the hand through the seed in the grain box before starting to drill.

Caution!—In using the Copper Carbonate it is advisable to wear a cloth over the nose to prevent inhaling the dust.

For Barley—Use one pint of 40 per cent Formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water, and cover every seed with a small amount of this solution. Two methods are also used in treating barley for smut.

First: Pour the seed on the floor and add the Formaldehyde solution, with a sprinkler, stirring the barley at the same time, until all the seed are moist. Turn again with a shovel, rake into a heap and cover with a wagon sheet for twenty-four hours before sowing.

Second: Dip the sack of barley into a barrel containing the Formaldehyde solution, churn up and down until the seed are well covered, pour into a pile and allow them to partly dry before planting.

Costume Jewelry

In costume jewelry for fall shades such as brown with red or green, are most in evidence, and a feature is made of matching sets that include a brooch, necklace and bracelet.

Smooth wood in a warm brown tone and crystal in red, green or black, are favored materials and some galalith is also used, usually in intricately carved effects.

INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS GAIN

Herbert N. Casson, foremost international authority on efficiency in business and industry, writing in the August Forbes, says, "You have the greatest home market in the world and the largest corporations that the world has ever seen. The prices of their securities and stocks that were forced too high last fall had to come down. Today all prices are too low."

"There is now a golden opportunity for every man who has eyes to see it."

"Dollars are now being sold for thirty cents. Practically every security in the United States is now being sold at less than its value."

"The way to create a fortune is to buy from pessimists, when stocks are below their real value."

Interest and dividend payments from these businesses and industries have gained in 1930 to September 1 by 15 per cent over 1929. The total reported to the U. S. Commerce Department of $5,622,770,000, compared with $4,886,901,000 in 1929.

In July just passed, interest and dividend payments totaled $915,500,000 as compared with $897,856,000 in July, 1929.

Mr. Casson says further, "The United States has half the gold in the world and half of the automobiles and most of the automobiles and all the sky-scrapers."

"How can it be possible that a progressive nation of 125,000,000 people can be wrecked by the speculation of a little handful of fools in Wall Street?" he asks.

TURNING IT AROUND

Public sentiment, especially that portion of it that is antagonistic to the enforcement of the prohibition laws of the country, has been rather bitter against prohibition officers who shot down offenders of the law in the performance of their duty.

The other day a prohibition enforcement officer was shot down in New Jersey while making a raid on a brewery, which was operating in defiance of the laws of the land. Gangsters maintained headquarters just across the street from the brewery and when the officers of the law came to discharge their duty one of them was shot down, and so far we have noted no protest from this element which sets up such a howl when a bootlegger is shot down by an enforcement officer.

Those who defend the liquor traffic must admit that the rank and file of those who follow the nefarious business have no respect for the laws of the country, and never did have any, even in the days when the business was legally carried on.

ON BEING PUNCTUAL

It was Oscar Wilde who described one of his characters as "always late on principle, his principle being that punctuality is the thief of time."

It is the type of jest which many a literary person has launched against the disciples of Samuel Smiles, who held that if punctuality was the politeness of kings it was also "the necessity of men of business." But if punctuality be a laudable commercial virtue, what can the literary jesters make of a man who was so fond of being late that he even ordered his funeral to be behind the promised time—and who yet completed a fortune as a London draper?

The facts are given among the news of recent wills; the fortune is there specified, and at the end of the will was the instruction "As I have always had the reputation of being late for my appointments, my will shall be late, at my funeral—and hope my friends will enjoy the joke. Make me ten minutes late."

This is a case where the business world seems to have carried the war into the enemy's camp with rare determination—no merely literary person has even contrived a jest against punctuality of greater levity than this.

To be punctiliously late for one's own funeral seems to be last triumph of procrastination; only a ghost which missed the chimes of midnight and then landed on after a cock crew could improve on this gesture of contempt for time tables.

But the testator failed to achieve this triumph, for his will was not opened until after the funeral, when the instruction was discovered, and his interment had taken place on time.

YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR

From the Oklahoma City Oklahoman comes the interesting suggestion that one's reaction to a joke fairly accurately reveals the measure of one's intelligence. In support of this contention a rather aggressive argument is built up, based on the assumption that at the bottom of almost every joke there is a species of cruelty—that the smile of amusement is but the animal snarl of satisfaction in another's misfortune.

The article points out that the child laughs when an adult falls;

that the jokes that amuse us most concern ignorance, misfortune or embarrassment, that Vassar girls, given a test in this field, laughed at jokes based on somebody's misfortune.

The humor of comic drawings, movie subtitles and vaudeville skits is a broad and simple humor, designed to amuse children and child minds. It serves its purpose, but it bores the bright.

The joke that amuses the reader of headlines is lost on the one who reads editorial pages.

The teacher of psychology who gave the joke test to Vassar students discovered that the girls least amused were the brightest.

This does not indicate that the sense of humor decreases as intelligence increases, but merely that common jokes, being designed to amuse the majority, lack the subtlety and the keen-edged wit necessary to win the appreciation of bright minds.

To be appreciated, a joke must contain something unexpected. But the quality of the joke depends wholly on the listener, so that the same poor jest delights the simple because its point surprised them, disgusts the bright because its intent was obvious to them, and puzzles the stupid because the meaning is obscure.

Your reaction to the joke gives the measure of your wit. If you are stupid you fail to laugh because you can't see the point. If you are bright, you get the point and chuckle. If you see the point and remain unmused you are too bright to enjoy a commonplace world.

SPEEDING EDUCATION

Changing social customs in the United States constantly result from the invention and introduction of more scientific machinery. The increase of 25 per cent in the number of students in junior colleges has been pointed to as an indication of the desire of young people to equip themselves to meet the highly competitive social and industrial conditions that obtain throughout the Nation.

Strangely enough the total enrollments in colleges in the United States have shown a decrease in recent years and this indicates that college students are stopping short of obtaining "higher education," and are content to obtain specialized scientific knowledge that they can turn into quick dollars in business, or in a professional way.

Doctor William John Cooper, Commissioner of Education of the United States, believes that new customs and machinery production are crowding out the traditions of education.

Evidently humanity is in a hurry to obtain its education, just as it is in a hurry to do everything else in life.

BRITAIN'S IDLE COST VAST SUM

Government Is Spending $13 a Second in Dole for the Unemployed.

London.—Great Britain today is spending $13 a second to feed, clothe and house the 2,000,000 and more men and women who are the idle members of the country's army of unemployed.

This figure is based on the expenditure of more than $400,000,000 a year for doles, which is only a little less than one-fourth of the interest on Britain's national debt for 1929.

One-fifth of the country's 12,000,000 insured industrial workers thus are idle and, as winter approaches, the efforts of Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald's labor government to help the situation apparently so far have proved ineffectual.

Thousands More Are Idle. In addition to the 2,050,737 persons reported by the ministry of labor to be on the unemployment exchange registers on August 11, when statistics were last published, there are thousands of workers not included under the regulations of the national workman's insurance act, who also are idle.

The total number of unemployed has reached the highest point since 1922 when 2,580,429 were reported idle, this number having been caused by the coal mines dispute. Even during the general strike in 1926 the figure reached only 1,875,850, including all workers except miners.

The unemployment problem has plagued Great Britain for ten years, beginning in 1920 when the first evidence of a trade slump was felt after the World war. The insurance act provisions were drafted to care for the nominal pre-war estimate of 4 per cent unemployment, but have been found inadequate to cope with the situation in recent years, and special appropriations have become necessary to alleviate suffering. Approximately $400,000,000 a year is being paid out to the insured workers.

Industry Continues Expansion. Paradoxically, British industry is continuing the expansion begun in 1929 and today employs over 1,000,000 more workers than a decade ago, while maintaining the same wage levels as then.

Officials of the Trades Union congress explained this situation was caused largely by the fact that before the World war an average of between 300,000 and 400,000 left the country each year for other lands. During the years 1914-1917 there was no immigration and since the end of the war the number of emigrants has been less than half the figure of pre-war days.

Telling blows have been struck at Britain's basic industries by providing exports abroad. There have been a number of strikes in the world depression, experts explain, and also to the west in India and the wars in China, hitting at British trade.

A graphic portrayal of the results may be found in the figures reflecting conditions in the coal-mining industry, for example. In 1913 about 1,200,000 bituminous coal miners produced 287,000,000 tons of coal for home consumption and export. Last year less than 250,000,

Accidental Shot Ends Life Farmer At Throckmorton

Throckmorton, Texas, Sept. 20.—Funeral services are to be conducted at the Baptist church here Sunday for C. S. Fant, Throckmorton county farmer, who was killed by the accidental discharge of shotgun early Saturday morning.

The accident occurred at the family home five miles southeast of Throckmorton.

Members of the family said Mr. Fant had started to the pasture to kill a wolf, and the gun was discharged as he stepped from the back porch. They rushed out of the house when the report of the shot was heard, to find him fatally wounded. A verdict of death by accidental gunshot wounds was returned at the inquest.

Mr. Fant had lived in Throckmorton county for a number of years and has a large circle of friends and relatives in this section. He is survived by his widow and 13 children.

"You Can Make Your Own Average Electric Rate"
The statement that you can make your own average electric rate sounds ambiguous, doesn't it? But it isn't—it's perfectly simple.
The customer, through his acts—the amount of electricity he elects to use; the time and place at which he chooses to use it, and the duration of such use—governs the cost of service. It is only the law of Supply and Demand. The larger and the longer the demand, the cheaper the supply. Accordingly, the more service you elect to use, the less such service costs you.
For instance, under the new Home Comfort rate system, you are able to reduce your rate on entire electric consumption, after the first 45 kw-h (kilowatt-hours) per month, for a five room house, to 4c per kw-h—3c where service is also used for heating or cooking. This means that you can take advantage of the many labor, time and money-saving electrical appliances at but slight cost.
In the average five room home having complete electric service—lighting, cooking, heating and refrigeration—the new rate makes it possible to obtain service at an average net cost of less than 4c per kw-h, so it is not the top step which establishes the average net rate, but the manner in which you use the service available. Expressed in another way, the new rate reduces the average cost per kw-h for extra lighting more than 50%, provided you have also used service for other major household electric appliances. During the year 1929, the average rate for all domestic or household service sold by the West Texas Utilities Company was only 6.6c per kw-h, or 10.1c per day per domestic customer.
Other household necessities, far more expensive, do not return half the comfort and enjoyment of complete electric service. The money you thoughtlessly spend daily for any one of the many luxuries of life amounts to more than the daily cost of electric service.
Investigate today the many new advantages, comforts and conveniences that can be brought to your home through the use of complete electric service. You will be surprised at its extreme economy. And remember—you can make your own average rate!"

INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS GAIN

Herbert N. Casson, foremost international authority on efficiency in business and industry, writing in the August Forbes, says, "You have the greatest home market in the world and the largest corporations that the world has ever seen. The prices of their securities and stocks that were forced to high last fall had to come down. Today all prices are too low."

"There is now a golden opportunity for every man who has eyes to see it. Dollars are now being sold for thirty cents. Practically every security in the United States is now being sold at less than its value. The way to create a fortune is to buy from pessimists, when stocks are below their real value. Interest and dividend payments from these businesses and industries have gained in 1930 to September 1 by 15 per cent over 1929. The total reported to the U. S. Commerce Department of $5,022,770,000, compared with $4,886,901,000 in 1929. In July just passed, interest and dividend payments totaled $915,506,000 as compared with $897,856,000 in July, 1929. Mr. Casson says further, "The United States has half the gold in the world and half of the machinery and most of the automobiles and all the sky-scrapers. "How can it be possible that a progressive nation of 125,000,000 people can be wrecked by the speculation of a little handful of fools in Wall Street?" he adds.

TURNING IT AROUND

Public sentiment, especially that portion of it that is antagonistic to the enforcement of the prohibition laws of the country, has been rather bitter against prohibition officers who shot down offenders of the law in the performance of their duty. The other day a prohibition enforcement officer was shot down in New Jersey while making a raid on a brewery, which was operating in defiance of the laws of the land. Gangsters maintained headquarters just across the street from the brewery and when the officers of the law came to discharge their duty one of them was shot down, and so far we have noted no protest from this element which sets up such a howl when a butterfly is shot down by an enforcement officer. Those who defend the liquor traffic must admit that the rank and file of those who follow the nefarious business have no respect for the laws of the country, and never did have any, even in the days when the business was legally carried on.

"Supreme Authority"
Because Hundreds of Supreme Court cases have been decided in its favor...

that the jokes that amuse us most concern ignorance, misfortune or embarrassment, that Vassar girls, given a test in this field, laughed at jokes based on somebody's misfortune.

The humor of comic drawings, movie subtitles and vaudeville skits is a broad and simple humor, designed to amuse children and child minds. It serves its purpose, but it bores the bright.

The joke that amuses the reader of headlines is lost on the one who reads editorial pages.

The teacher of psychology who gave the joke test to Vassar students discovered that the girls least amused were the brightest.

This does not indicate that the sense of humor decreases as intelligence increases, but merely that common jokes, being designed to amuse the majority, lack the subtlety and the keen-edged wit necessary to win the appreciation of bright minds.

To be appreciated, a joke must contain something unexpected. But the quality of the joke depends wholly on the listener, so that the same poor jest delights the simple because its point surprised them, disgusts the bright because its intent was obvious to them, and puzzles the stupid because the meaning is obscure.

Your reaction to the joke gives the measure of your wit. If you are stupid you fail to laugh because you can't see the point. If you are bright, you get the point and chuckle. If you see the point and remain unamused you are too bright to enjoy a commonplace world.

SPEEDING EDUCATION

Changing social customs in the United States constantly result from the invention and introduction of more scientific machinery. The increase of 25 per cent in the number of students in junior colleges has been pointed to as an indication of the desire of young people to equip themselves to meet the highly competitive social and industrial conditions that obtain throughout the Nation.

Strangely enough the total enrollments in colleges in the United States have shown a decrease in recent years and this indicates that college students are stopping short of obtaining "higher education," and are content to obtain specialized scientific knowledge that they can turn into quick dollars in business, or in a professional way.

Doctor William John Cooper, Commissioner of Education of the United States, believes that new customs and machinery production are crowding out the traditions of education. Evidently humanity is in a hurry to obtain its education, just as it is in a hurry to do everything else in life.

BRITAIN'S IDLE COST VAST SUM

Government Is Spending $13 a Second in Dole for the Unemployed.

London.—Great Britain today is spending $13 a second to feed, clothe and house the 2,000,000 and more men and women who are the idle members of the country's army of unemployed.

Thousands More Are Idle. In addition to the 2,000,000 persons reported by the ministry of labor to be on the unemployment exchange registers on August 11, when statistics were last published, there are thousands of workers not included under the regulations of the national workman's insurance act, who also are idle.

The total number of unemployed has reached the highest point since 1920 when 2,550,420 were reported idle, this number having been caused by the coal mines dispute. Even during the general strike in 1926 the figure reached only 1,873,800, including all workers except miners.

The unemployment problem has plagued Great Britain for ten years. Beginning in 1920 when the first evidence of a trade slump were felt after the World war, the unemployment act provisions were drafted to cope with the situation in recent years, and special appropriations have become necessary to alleviate suffering. Approximately $400,000,000 a year is being paid out to the insured workers.

Industry Continues Expansion. Paradoxically, British industry is continuing the expansion begun in 1920 and today employs over 1,000,000 more workers than a decade ago, while maintaining the same level of the Trades Union membership.

Concessions of the Trades Union congress explained this situation was caused largely by the fact that before the World war an average of between 300,000 and 400,000 left the country each year for other lands. During the years 1914-1915 there was no immigration and since the end of the war the number of emigrants has been less than half the figure of pre-war days.

Telling blows have been struck at Britain's basic industries by twinning markets abroad. These have been due in a measure to the world depression, experts explain, and also to the unrest in India and the wars in China, hitting at British trade.

A graphic portrayal of the results may be found in the figures reflecting conditions in the coal-mining industry. For example, in 1913 about 1,200,000 bituminous coal miners produced 287,000,000 tons of coal for home consumption and export. Last year less than 250,000,

Accidental Shot Ends Life Farmer At Throckmorton

Throckmorton, Texas, Sept. 20.—Funeral services are to be conducted at the Baptist church here Sunday for C. S. Fant, Throckmorton county farmer, who was killed by the accidental discharge of shotgun early Saturday morning.

The accident occurred at the family home five miles southeast of Throckmorton. Members of the family said Mr. Fant had started to the pasture to kill a wolf, and the gun was discharged as he stepped from the back porch. They rushed out of the house when the report of the shot was heard.

Another one of life's inconsistencies is that a baseball player works when it is too hot to work and loaf when it is too cold to work.

600 tons were mined by less than 1,000,000 men. The slump was attributed chiefly to the development of the use of hydro-electric power and the loss of markets due to the development by other countries of their own coal fields.

Men who spent years developing a small business dependent on the patronage of the miners have closed their doors and moved away. Men with families have mortgaged the little cottages that represented life savings, lived on these funds, and when they vanished, pulled a few potatoes in their belt and gone on the dole.

There were few motor cars, radios and other luxuries to be turned into cash. The British miner's pay check never has enabled him to become the silk-shirted miner of America. And today 25 per cent of the miners in all Britain are unemployed—they are "on the dole."

was heard, to find him fatally wounded. A verdict of death by accidental gunshot wounds was returned at the inquest.

Mr. Fant had lived in Throckmorton county for a number of years and has a large circle of friends and relatives in this section. He is survived by his widow and 13 children.

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot in the end and hold on.

Seth Way, who has charge of fish culture, has perfected a plan by which spawn of the channel catfish is taken from the hatchery ponds through troughs to the fish house. MUNDAY is situated in the heart of the famous Knox Prairie, which is recognized as one of the greatest agricultural sections of West Texas, and the abundant yield of the thousands of acres of level alluvial soil has caused the city to come to be recognized as the "Prosperity Center of West Texas." As a business center Munday is recognized as one of the best in West Texas, and being exactly midway between Abilene and Wichita Falls, it enjoys the patronage of a wide area in which the people are prosperous and are prospering.

MUNDAY has an inexhaustible supply of pure water, as has all of the Knox Prairie, and experiments are being made in a number of localities with irrigation, which will doubtless prove successful to the fullest extent, as all the small projects with which experiments have been made have been successful. However, the Munday country is one of the safest dry farming sections in West Texas, as the sandy soil retains moisture and produces abundantly in years in which "light land" sections make a complete failure. This season it is estimated that from 12,000 to 15,000 bales of cotton will be marketed in Munday.

Safest Farming Section in West Texas

Farmers of the Munday country are taking to the idea of diversification, and a well balanced farm program insures this section against the failures that have been experienced in the past with an all-cotton program. In the Munday country this season a large surplus of feed has been produced and farmers are selling it at a profit which far exceeds that which they are realizing from their large yield of cotton.

Surrounded on all sides by rich, smooth, sandy soil which resists drouth, and with a program of diversified farming, poultry raising, and dairying, the Munday section can truly be called the "Center of Prosperity in West Texas."

If It's To Be Found in a City Munday Has It!

The City of Munday possesses all of the advantages that are enjoyed by our city brothers. Here we have an abundance of pure water which is distributed through a modern municipally-owned water system. Here we have a modern sewage system to safeguard the health of our citizens. Here we enjoy the advantages of natural gas for both domestic and commercial purposes. The principal business streets of the city are paved, and the city is served with electric current by the West Texas Utilities Co. for lighting and commercial power, the high lines of this company enter the city from five different directions, making interruption of service an unknown thing in Munday.

MUNDAY prides herself in her schools and churches. The Munday High School is recognized as one of the very best in this section of West Texas. With twenty-three credits of affiliation already recognized by the State Department of Education the school board is this year adding new departments which will increase the credits. Churches represented in Munday are the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, and Church of Christ, and each of these congregations have excellent buildings and maintain pastors regularly.

The Munday country is primarily a cotton country, and every facility is available here for rendering service in this line. Munday has 4 cotton gins, a modern cotton oil mill, a compress, in fact every facility for handling the cotton from the time it leaves the cotton fields until it is compressed and put aboard the railroad cars for transportation to the shipping ports or concentration points of the country.

EDW. T. JENISON, Secretary, 142 Laseya St., San Antonio.

Since 1922 there has been a law in Texas regulating the fitting and sale of spectacles and eye glasses.

Under the Texas Optometry Law no one but a registered Optometrist or an Oculist is permitted to examine eyes for glasses or assist one in selecting a pair of glasses.

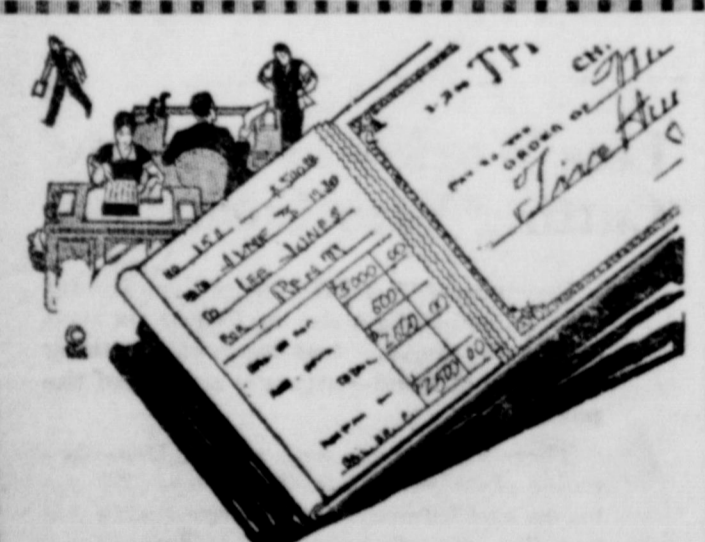

The law provides for the sale of glasses as merchandise from permanently established places of business. The customer to make their selection without the assistance of the store-keeper. Glasses sold by peddlers as merchandise is a violation of the Optometry Law.

Traveling optometrists are required to register their certificates in each county that they work in, and to supply a bill of sale with each pair of glasses they fit, the price received for same, also their name, address and certificate number.

This law was not enacted for the protection of the Optometrist but for the protection of a priceless possession—eye-sight.

Tariff Does Not Relieve Farmer

ROSS BATES SAYS FOREIGN DETERMINES HOME MARKET PRICE

McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette: Ross Bates of Gorse, Texas, a close student of agricultural conditions and a cogent reasoner says: Declares No Tariff can Protect Southern Farmer

You quote parts of a statement issued by John H. Kirby, Mr. Kirby is quoted to the effect that under the Simmons-Underwood tariff act the Southern farmer, "with a high civilization to maintain, was compelled to feed and clothe his family on such an allowance as satisfied mongrel tribesmen of Asia."

It was true that during the time the Underwood tariff was law the Southern farmer was compelled to produce farm products in direct competition with Asia, but it is also true that after the Simmons-Underwood tariff act was repealed and the Ford-McCumber tariff act was enacted into law the Southern farmer was 'compelled' to produce in direct competition with the peon labor of Asia, Mexico, India, and all the other backward people of the world. It is further true that since the Hawley-Smoot or Grundy tariff act has been the law the Southern farmer is producing in direct competition with peon labor the world over.

There never has been a tariff bill enacted in the history of the United States that did not leave cotton on the free list, and even if cotton had a duty of $1 per pound it would still leave the Southern farmer unprotected.

Synthetic Cotton Problem
The South produces annually about 15,000,000 bales of cotton, 7,000,000 bales of cotton more than supplied the demand of the home market. The 8,000,000 bales of cotton that remain out of each crop after supplying the United States with all the cotton it can use must be sold in a foreign country. Not only must one-half of the South's annual production of cotton be sold in a foreign country, but it must be sold in direct competition with the cotton produced by peon labor in India, Mexico, China and the Sudan. No tariff act can force Germany or Japan to pay more for Texas cotton than for cotton from Mexico or China.

Cotton Seed Has Competition
Cotton seed is in direct competition with coconut oil and copra meat produced in the Philippines and allowed free entry into the United States. Cottonseed oil mill owners claim that the importation of coconut oil and copra from the Philippines reduces the price of cotton seed at least $10 per ton. The Philippines are part of Asia, but, unfortunately for the Southern farmer, belong to the United States.

Wheat is produced by many Texas farmers. Wheat was on the free list when the Simmons-Underwood tariff act was law, and now, with Mr. Hoover president, and the Republicans in power, it enjoys a tariff of 42 cents per bushel. Wheat, however, sold for a better price under Mr. Wilson than it sells for now. Wheat without a protective tariff sold for as much in Chicago, Ill., as it brought in Winnipeg, Canada. Wheat, with a tariff of 42 cents per bushel to protect the Southern farmer "from the mongrel tribesmen of Asia," sells even lower in Chicago than it sells in Winnipeg, Canada.

What Regulates Price
"The conclusion of the whole matter is this: The Southern farmer and also the Western farmer produce more than enough to supply the needs of the American market and must sell this excess in a foreign market where it must compete with the products of peon labor the world over. The price this excess will bring in foreign markets determines the price it will bring in the home market. No tariff bill can increase the price of the staple farm crops or keep the Southern farmer from directly competing with the "mongrel tribesmen of Asia."

Construction to be Started on New W. O. W. Chapel and Bird Sanctuary

Carlton of 25 Chimes in Beautiful Tower of $150,000 Building on Woodmen Hospital Grounds at San Antonio, Texas

This is the architect's drawing of the $150,000 Woodmen of the World Chapel and Bird Sanctuary to be built at San Antonio, Tex., on the W. O. W. Memorial Hospital grounds.

Construction will be started immediately on the $150,000 Woodmen of the World Chapel and Bird Sanctuary on the grounds of the Woodmen of the World Memorial Hospital at San Antonio, Texas, President W. A. Fraser announced today. The chapel will be built along similar lines to the Bok Tower and Bird Sanctuary located in Florida. As part of the chapel there will be a tower which will have a carillon of twenty-five chimes.

"This will be a universal church," said President Fraser. "Regardless whether a person be a Protestant, Jew or Catholic, he or she can hold services in this church," said President Fraser. "The membership of the Woodmen of the World is made up of people of all religions and nationalities and the church must be universal in order to serve our membership."

The chapel will be located on a 250-acre tract within a short distance from the Woodmen of the World hospital. Patients will be encouraged to go to chapel and worship God according to their own religions.

"The chapel and tower will be a unique architectural design," said Mr. Fraser. The outside will be of Indiana limestone. Dark oak with large ceiling beams will be used in the interior. The main stain-glass window of the church will be a production of Tiffany of New York.

The chapel will also have a patio with a beautiful fountain, especially designed, according to Mr. Fraser.

"In my opinion, this chapel and carillon tower will be one of the most beautiful ever designed," said Mr. Fraser. "It will not be large, seating only two hundred, but the beauty will be there." He said that it will be one of the show places of Texas.

A special landscaping is now being carried on, and in the bird sanctuary will be various types of birds collected from various parts of the world.

Mr. Fraser said that the chapel and the bird sanctuary will be a memorial to the departed membership of the Woodmen of the World.

Phelps and Dewees of San Antonio are the architects.

Drum Is Found To Be Basis of Modern Orchestra

Bernard Barton's Playing of Instrument Gives True Rating

New York City—Though the drum is ordinarily relegated to the back of the orchestra, there are some super-drummers who bring it to the fore. Bernard Barton, manager of the Weeds Meyer Orchestra, is one great musician who is a drummer.

"Musicians as a rule do not take the drum seriously and it is only on rare occasions that one gets the musical value out of the instrument. Yet it would not be possible to have a dance orchestra without a drum, although any other instrument might be substituted for it. Drum beats are the soul of the band."

Mr. Barton has studied the drum in many lands, he says. "In Haiti, natives often drop from exhaustion trying to keep up with the rhythms of their elongated tom-toms."

"Many of our most popular dances are real drum numbers and I am surprised that more leaders don't take advantage of the possibilities of the instrument. It's the 'fox trot' that is played and sung everywhere, is typical of the kind of dance tune that shows up drum possibilities at their best."

A PROTECTION TO HEALTH

Realizing the necessity of modern methods of disposing of waste matters with respect to protecting the health of the people the City of Munday has for some time made available to the citizens of Munday a modern sewerage system, and the citizenship of Munday, following the recommendations of the State Board of Health, has repeatedly urged that citizens connect with the system, however, due to the depressed financial conditions which have prevailed the city officials have been reluctant to enforce the law requiring that connections be made, notwithstanding the fact that the State Board of Health has urged the enforcement of this ordinance for the protection of the health of all the citizens.

Having in the past served as sanitary commissioner I felt the need of some plan whereby installations of sewerage, both and other modern conveniences could be installed on the easy payment plan, and with this idea in view I have made a connection with a concern that will finance these installations and enable the citizen to pay for them on terms that will enable every citizen to have these conveniences without straining them financially.

If your neighbor has installed sewerage connections you are going him and yourself—and your family—an injustice by maintaining an open privy. Statistics show that practically all typhoid is spread through the open privy, and it has been demonstrated that by the installation of sewerage facilities this dreaded disease can be practically eliminated.

We believe that there is no need to talk of the advantages of sewerage facilities to an intelligent citizenship such as we have in Munday, and we are pleased indeed to announce that by the plan that I have made available for the citizenship everyone in Munday who wants these modern conveniences and community health safeguards can have them. We will be pleased to talk it over with you and show you how you can afford this convenience.

W. R. MOORE
MUNDAY, TEXAS

AN ENDORSEMENT FROM THE CITY OFFICIALS

We, the City Officials of the City of Munday, having investigated the plan presented by W. R. Moore for the financing of sewerage installations, do most heartily endorse the plan and urge that all citizens who have not made connection with the municipal plant do so at once. We have taken every precaution in protecting the health of the citizens of Munday, and now we believe that the citizens owe it to themselves and their neighbors to cooperate in making Munday a safe place in which to live.

The State Department of Health has been very lenient with us in its demand concerning sewerage connections, and it is our sincere hope that all possible connections be made without the necessity of having to resort to more drastic measures. Not only are we anxious from the standpoint of the health of the citizenship, but we have been informed by the sanitary engineers of the State Department of Health that our disposal plant may be more efficiently operated upon a greater volume of affluent, and the addition of more connections will add to the efficiency of our disposal plant. And, furthermore, in this connection let us say that the addition of more connections will enable the officials of the city to grant a lower rate for this service.

We are hereby in accord with the plan set out by Mr. Moore or by anyone else who can suggest plans whereby every citizen of Munday may connect with the city's sewerage plant.

Mother Leaves Children and Faces Death

SAYS FAREWELL HARD, BUT RECOVERY EASY DUE TO CRAZY WATER

In May, 1929, I was critically ill with pneumonia; in fact, I was an invalid and had to be helped around. My husband decided to bring me to Mineral Wells, as it looked as if there was no hope for me if I remained at home. But I had no confidence in Mineral Wells; in fact, I did not believe that anything or any place would relieve my suffering. You can imagine how I felt when I told my children "Good-Bye," when I did not expect to see them again. I arrived in Mineral Wells on May 10th, last year, and in one week of the Crazy Water Treatment, I was able to walk and thirty days from the time I arrived I was well again, only a little weak.

I heartily recommend to everyone suffering from diseases caused by faulty elimination that they spend a few days rest at the Crazy Water Hotel in Mineral Wells, Texas, the home of Crazy Water.

Saturday was a real fall day in Munday and made our business folks think of the good fall business they enjoyed some years ago. All the grocery stores of the city report a most excellent business on that day.

Double Brim Felts and Soliels Share Favor With Baretta In Military Mode

By Eleanor Cranston
There used to be a joke something like this—"How is the King?" "Oh, he is able to sit up and laugh at Queen Mary's hat." But we are afraid to laugh at it any more because the way hats are perched up on the head this year is positively near to the Queen Mary type and we may yet have to search the attic for the hat pins our ancestors used years ago to hold their headgear in place.

The most forefearful thing we can say about millinery fashion this year is that it looks like a very long season for the hair dresser for with the hats worn back of the face as they are, nothing less than perfectly marcelled hair will answer. However, most of the styles take a half-way position so while one side of the head is very much revealed the other side is apt to be covered and even draped to meet the very cut collar. And they are becoming—and they are picturesque—which is the main thing Paris is asking of any fashion this season.

Details of Millinery
New to deal with millinery in a more detailed way, we will divide them according to "suitability". It would be hard to find a more perfect type of suit than the baretta in its new styling—with short back, shallow crown and softening loops or drapes designed to show the outline of the coiffure. They may be of velvet or felt, while some of the very smartest effects are baretta made of the fabric to match the ensemble—than which nothing has yet been achieved to more completely meet the correct idea of ensemble or to attain such complete chic.

The new fashion tendencies in dresses affect millinery in a way which creates an elaborate appearance—shallow crowns and bandeux effects combined with brims are seen in great variety—and here is where the double brimmed felt finds its opportunity to soften a line that might be too severe to be flattering.

Many Hats are Trimmed
While you never have expected to see the day when hats would be trimmed as of yore—it has arrived—and little feathers, velvet loops, imitations of pearls, ostrich tips and very rich ornaments are placed in smarter manner on even so nondescript hat as the baret, while nearly every hat with pretensions to dressiness is somehow "trimmed".

If you are wearing a fur coat this year and there is no reason why one shouldn't (either from the standpoint of slenderness of figure or slenderness of purse) by all means wear a fur baretta to match. You may have it as sleek as you please—turtleneck or plain heret with an ornament in the way of fur buttons or balls—or a twist or bow of program ribbon to accent the color of your furs.

In taking up the part color plays in millinery, we are taking up the part color plays in 1930 fashion—for the color ensemble idea is so generally accepted that to wear a black frock means to wear a black hat—to wear a green ensemble means to wear either a green hat or a hat in which green is the accent theme and so on through the whole color range which has been adequately met by milliners. Of materials chosen from felts, soliels, chamois, velvets and fabrics, but let your good taste and sense of fitness guide you in wearing the one best suited to the occasion.

WHO'S WHO "CRASHED" BY 3,400 MORE AMERICANS

New Names Include Bobby Jones—Dr. W. E. Barton Gets More Space Than Anyone Else.

New York—More than 3,400 Americans gained some measure of fame by being listed for the first time in the 1930-31 "Who's Who in America."

Fourteen of the group of sixty-four men selected by James W. Gerard as the "real rulers" of America are omitted from the list. In general there appears to be a tendency to recognize literary, scientific, theological and academic achievement more readily than leadership in business, industry, or sport, judging by the names listed and the space given them.

The most prominent name, if space in the volume is any criterion, is Dr. William Edwards Barton, noted authority on Abraham Lincoln, with 198 lines to his credit. Next come Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, and Samuel Untermyer, noted New York lawyer.

Some concession is given the world of sports in the inclusion for the first time of the name Robert Tyre Jones of Atlanta, Ga., world's foremost golfer. Among others listed for the first time are Joe F. Curry, leader of Tammany Hall, and Charles H. Tuttle, United States district attorney in New York.

The Hollywood turnover is apparently too rapid to be recorded, for William S. Hart and Jackie Coogan are mentioned, while 1,497 names from the last edition and 1,102 were dropped. New names totaled 3,408.

Reunion With Comrade of War Cost His Life

Wagon Mound, N. M.—Charles Geist lost his life because he recognized the name of his war-time buddy on a sign.

Geist and J. J. Lowenthal, traveling from New Jersey to Los Angeles, drove their automobile up in front of the Wagon Mound garage here recently.

To them Wagon Mound was just another town. They stopped to stretch their legs.

"Say, I know that fellow," Geist said to his companion, pointing to a sign that bore the name of Fred Crocker. "We were buddies in the war."

Crocker was overjoyed to see Geist. He persuaded the men to stay overnight. It was a great reunion.

The next day Geist was in the Wagon Mound garage supervising work on his automobile. A cyclone struck the town.

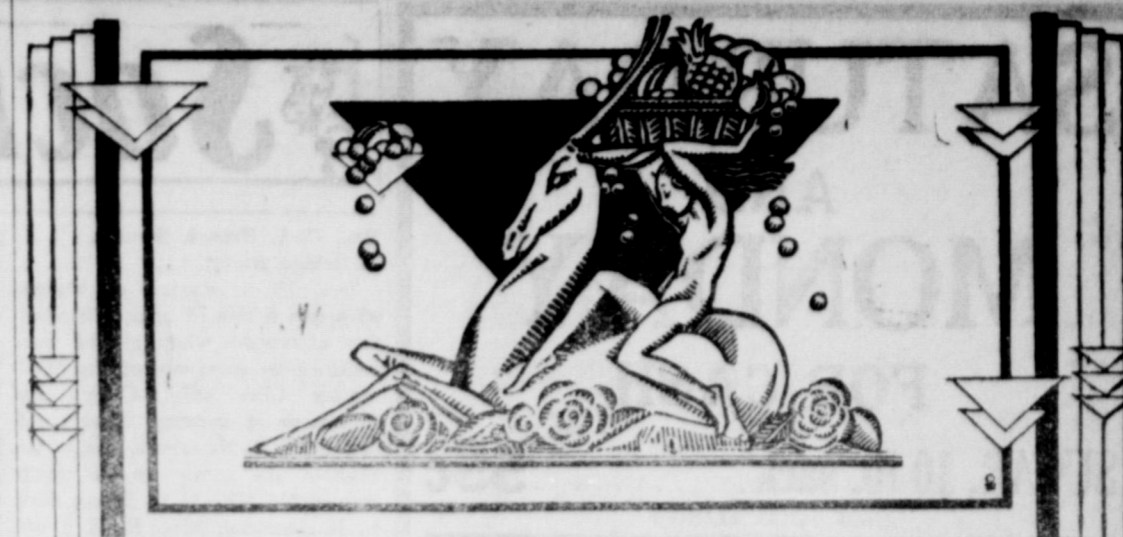

Geist, who went through the war unscathed, was killed when the garage walls collapsed under the force of the wind.

His first reunion with his buddy was his last.

British Museum Acquires Egyptian "Dream Book"

London—"A dream book" on the early Egyptians, which may explain the interpretation given by Joseph to the dream riddles presented to him, has taken its place in the Egyptian section of the British museum and, with other documents, is being translated and classified for further study.

The book is a part of eight early Egyptian papyri dating between 1250 and 1100 B. C., presented to the museum by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beatty, patrons of Egyptology, and is the only book of its kind recovered from ancient Egypt. It contains records of 100 dreams, their Egyptian significance and the results of the "divination."

"The Indians Are Coming"

TIM MCCOY AND ALLENE RAY
FEATURED IN TALKING SERIAL WESTERN LIFE

A thrilling talking chapter play of the old west, "Indians Are Coming," a Universal production, will be shown by The Roxy Theatre beginning Friday, Sept. 26. The first chapter is titled, "Pals in Buckskin."

The story involves the overland journey of a covered wagon train, traveling from a midwest village to a gold boom town in the west, and many thrilling fights with Indians. The film is packed with suspense and many exciting incidents which depict the many hardships encountered by frontiersmen in the winning of the golden west.

"The Indians are coming!" How many times that cry was the warning of hideous painted death as our hardy adventuring forefathers pushed the frontiers of civilization toward the Pacific Ocean. It may have been first uttered in Plymouth or Salem by the Puritans. It went hand in hand with Daniel Boone to Kentucky. It was on the lips of Lewis and Clark. The Mommons thrilled it. Buffalo Bill breathed the prairies to give voice to the alarm. It is a cry that pictures America pushing westward. It is most appropriate that it should at last be used as the title of a typical serial of excitement and suspense.

Tim McCoy, who has gained a prominent place in action pictures, is featured in "Indians Are Coming," with the beautiful Allene Ray, "serial queen," as his leading lady.

The picture has been made in twelve chapters, each equally thrilling and exciting, and adding important events to the progress of the theme.

The strong supporting cast includes Francis Ford, Edmund Cobb and Don Francis.

Old Church to House Indoor Golf Course
Frederick, Md.—The old Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, one of the landmarks of the city, will be converted into a miniature indoor golf course. Work on the links will be started soon after the dedication of the new edifice, costing about $50,000.

In accordance with a guarantee of sale by him some months ago, when plans for the new building were being considered, the old church property, including the parsonage, several small houses and a vacant lot, was purchased recently by R. Rush Lewis. The property had been held by the trustees at $20,000.

Mr. Lewis obtained a permit from the city engineer to construct an 18-hole miniature golf course, which, he said, will necessitate rearranging the interior of the church. He added that possibly two courses will be constructed.

NEW CASCADE DISCOVERED NEAR THE VICTORIA FALLS

Series of Gorgeous Waterfalls Found in South Africa by an Englishman.

London.—A series of gorgeous waterfalls never before seen by a European and practically unknown to natives has been discovered in South Africa by Benjamin B. Macrae of the northern Rhodesian civil service, and described by him in a report to the Royal Geographical Society.

One of the falls is 233 feet in height, 23 feet higher than the Niagara falls, and rivals in beauty the famous Victoria falls, which are about twenty miles distant. This fall is, however, only one of a series following each other in rapid succession, so that the total effect is that of a much greater drop totaling 324 feet. They are known to the natives as the Chingkwasi falls and are on the Chingwa river, which empties into the Zambezi. It is on the Zambesi river that the Victoria falls are located.

In describing the Chingkwasi, Mr. Macrae says: "The main Chingkwasi fall is a fine sight. Numerous green ferns grow in holes and cracks in the stone and the water dashes down over the smooth face of the rock, spouting out in little plumes of spray wherever it meets an obstacle. In times of flood it must be an awe-inspiring sight during the few hours that such a short river would remain at its maximum height."

A few miles from the Chingkwasi Mr. Macrae found another impressive series of five falls. The largest of these has a drop of 83 feet.

"Below this fall the scenery is most imposing. Towering basalt precipices rise on either side of the river, which is never more than 150 feet broad and is generally considerably narrower. At one point the cliffs cannot well be less than 400 feet high and are probably higher. They rise in one sheer wall from the water's edge. The general impression of height is greater than that conveyed to an observer standing at the bottom of the main gorge at the Victoria falls."

London Man May Adopt Knitted Dress Shirts

London.—The latest fashion news from Bond street is that knitted dress shirts may soon grace the dinner tables, ballrooms and wherever smartly attired men gather. When the prince of Wales spoke some time ago of the foolishness of men submitting to the "boiled" shirt, there were hundreds of sufferers who agreed with him. None, however, thought of the comfort that might be obtained from a knitted shirt, which has now come into the market and is already displayed in West End shops.
The body of the shirt is knitted fabric. The front is made of soft plique with three buttons. The sleeves are of cotton with cuffs of soft plique, like the front. It is believed to be just the thing for the less formal functions.
