T. G. Benge, president of the Munday Chamber of Commerce for the past year, was retained in that capacity for the ensuing year at the Annual Commerce Banquet and election of officers last Friday night.

The more than 160 guests for the banquet were directed through the evening's program by W. R. Moore, vice-president of the organization, who acted as toastmaster in the absence of Benge who was called out of the city due to the death of a relative.

The guests were seated following the invocation, given by Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the Munday First Baptist Church. Mrs. Louise Ingram, secretary, introduced visitors from Goree, Sunset, Vera, Benjamin, Haskell, Chilli-cothe, Olney, Wichita Falls and Abilene.

Civic enterprises undertaken by the organization during the past year were cited by Toastmaster Moore who also gave recognition to various individuals and organizations that have assisted in promoting the year's program.

Farm cooperation through 4-H club activities was featured by the club as one of its major points during the year which included the 4-H cotton contest and 4-H Calf Show held here recently. Much praise was given W. R. Rice, county agent for his work and cooperation with the C.C.

Outstanding in local civic projects was the securing of street lights through the city council, a fight led by J. C. Borden, and the annual Christmas tree, in which more than 1,000 toys and sacks of fruit and candy were given children of the Munday trade area.

Highway Promotion

The organization made noticeable progress in securing of better highway routes to the city, and expected to push through to completion this year three road projects.

Occupying foremost position in the road program is the hope of completing the Munday-Throckmorton highway, of which the business (Continued on Page 8)

State Senate Job

CHARLES H. TENNYSON

Rep. Tennyson Announces For State Senate

Representative Charles H. Tennyson was in Munday and authorized us to make his announcement as a candidate for State Senator from the 23rd district of which Knox county is a part. He is a teacher of history and government in the senior high school of Wichita Falls and is serving his third term in the House where he is chairman of the important committee on education.

As a member of the House at Austin Tennyson has been active on measures in the interest of agriculture and is regarded as a leader on bills for public education. Tennyson also gained a statewide reputation at the beginning of his term by the sponsorship of several measures to regulate utilities, especially to strengthen the power of cities in this respect. At the last regular session he secured the passage of a measure that lowered the rate of return allowed utilities and gave cities with a population of less than 2,000 the right to regulate. Mr. Tennyson is a native of Texas, having been born and reared in Hopkins county. He is a graduate of the Teachers College at Commerce and of Southern Methodist University. He is 35 years of age, married, and has one boy.

Tennyson said, "I realize the importance of the office of State Senator. In fact, I believe it is one of the most important within the gift of the people. In asking for promotion to the Senate I do so on the basis of my record during the six years I have served in the House. I intend to try and see all of the voters of the district. I want the people of Knox county and the district to know I will deeply appreciate their vote and support."

Wheat Prospects Greatly Enhanced in Munday Area Following Snow Flurries Over Week End; Freeze Aid to Season

Some Fear For Grain In Event Warm Weather

Snowfall and freezing temperatures during the past week end which followed on the heels of a near five inch rain, have set a new record for moisture in February for this sector.

Nearly always a dry month, the weatherman changed the order this year, to make one of the brightest prospects for a grain crop in years in this area.

Although some farmers feared their wheat would joint too early in event of warm weather, it was generally believed that a bumper wheat crop was assured in event of a sizeable rain prior to heading period for the grain.

Some of the early wheat has already jointed, putting on too much growth during the warm days of February, however, should a freeze nip some of the grain Munday will in all probability surpass last years wheat production.

The freezing temperature has driven the season deep into the soil, farmers have opined, and most farmers believe that the early season for cotton planting is the best in past years for this period of the new planting season.

Reciprocal Trading

Declares an exchange: "Texas can grow cotton, Europe can't! Very well, let Texas sell cotton to Europe and accept fine laces, silverware, French wines and other products in exchange. How has this policy worked out in practice? Foreign trade plus domestic expansion will mean prosperity for Texas."

Lincoln and Slavery

Among the notable anniversaries of the month is the birthday of Abraham Lincoln on the twelfth of February, each year serves to revive memories of our first martyred President. So rich in human interest was Lincoln's life that it presents almost unlimited material for the writer—material of which wide use has been made during the last seventy years.

But it is probable that Lincoln's paramount aim during the Civil War is not so well understood as it should be. Doubtless the general impression is that his chief object was the abolition of slavery.

While Lincoln was always against slavery on principle, his original idea was to abolish it by paying slave-owners for their property from the national treasury, thus gradually emancipating the negro. Such a proposal was made by him as early as 1849 when a member of Congress, and was renewed in 1862, while the war was progress.

But his real aim during the war was the preservation of the nation as one union, with the abolition of slavery as a secondary consideration. This is best illustrated by his famous letter to Horace Greeley on August 22, 1862 in which he said:

"My paramount objective is to save the Union and not to either save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave I would do it; and if I could save it by freeing all the slaves, I would do it; and if I could do it by freeing some and leaving others alone, I would do also do that."

When Merle Todd fell between two moving freight cars at Cadillac, Mich., his body broke the air hose connection and the car came to a stop before their wheels touched his body. He suffered only slight bruises.

On his wife's testimony that he pawned her presents, got drunk, and then beat her, Loren Owen, 34, of New York City, was sentenced to "get out of town and not come back for any reason."

The Cherokee Indians, who once inhabited Texas, are considered one of the most advanced of all Texas tribes, possessing tribal government, an alphabet, literature and many were slave owners.

According to actuarial statistics the average life of a Texas ranger on duty was only twelve months, during the early days in Texas. More than fifty per cent were killed in action.

Munday—"The Friendly City"

The citizens of Munday two weeks ago were called upon to meet a civic enterprise and rose majestically to the heights in royally entertaining the 4-H club boys of Knox county, their parents and visiting cattlemen, during the Knox County 4-H Calf Show.

Once again they are facing the task of caring for large group of visitors—contestants and coaches of high school basketball teams entered in the State A. A. U. Basketball tournament which opens in this city tonight.

The Munday Lions Club is instrumental in bringing this state tournament to Munday, a feat that many larger cities have tried in past years to accomplish but were unsuccessful. The tournament has brought Munday untold publicity to date and will bring more to our city. Let's maintain our boast of "The Friendly City" by being friendly in the "real sense of the word."

Excellent basketball is assured sports fans of the Central West Texas area, as all of the teams will be strong contenders for a title. It will be a tournament of champions for a grand champion.

What Ho, Educators!

Although the Texas educational system is far from as efficient as laymen and educators would like, the troop of school leaders that continuously point to the fact that Texas is stingy in her educational spending would do well to consider facts instead of hopes. Figures just released by unquestionable investigators shows that the Texas state government spends as much money on all forms of education as is expended by any state in the union, with the exception of New York. The population of New York is almost two and a half times that of Texas. If Texas ranks low in the educational scale, it seems to us that it is an indictment against educational leaders, for they have had money aplenty with which to do the job.—Scurry County Times.

"Suffer Little Children"

Italian school children, by decree of the Secretary of the General of the Fascist Party, must offer a prayer of "thanks" to Premier Mussolini for the mid-day meal. The prayer, as prescribed by the Fascist official, must be as follows:

"Ill Duce (Mussolini) I thank you for what you give me to make me grow strong and healthy. O Lord God, protect Ill Duce so that he may be long preserved to Fascist Italy."

In Germany the school children were required to kneel in worship last January 30—the fifth anniversary of Nazis' seizure of power—and join in this chant of prayer and praise:

"We don't want rest. We loathe quiet. Waiting is death. He who is unfaithful and leaves the flag of the Der Fuehrer shall lose honor forever. Unfaithful, be accursed! Fuehrer, we salute thee!"

Russian children taught to worship no God—but Lenin and his prophet, Stalin—are taught that this is the highest manifestation of faith:

"If your father or your mother are not loyal to The Cause, report them to Stalin—so that they may be shot."

Might it not be appropriate, then, that our American children pause in their studies some day and give thanks that ours is still "The land of the free and the home of the brave"—without "sins"?—Industrial Press Service.

Foard City Boy Admits Robbery Truscott Station

Earl Eavenson, 20, of Foard City confessed to charges of burglarizing the Westbrook Service Station in Truscott on January 8, after being arrested by Sheriff A. W. Lilly of Foard County last Thursday, and named Minious Hudgens, 22, of Crowell as his accomplice.

The Higgs Cafe in Crowell was burglarized on the same night the station was entered and the pair are being detained for further questioning in the Crowell robbery. Sheriff Lilly stated that tool marks were the same on each of the robberies.

In his confession, Eavenson stated that he and Hudgens, in Hudgens' car, went to Truscott and that he tore the lock from the front door with a screw driver and took about 20 quarts of oil, several spark plugs and a tube from the station. The oil was used in Hudgens' car. The pair brought the

Man Seeks Cooling System of Some Kind When Mercury Starts Climbing

First Attempts Made Before Christ at Cooling

When the mercury starts climbing, both men and beast hunt a shady spot.

They've been doing it for many centuries. Rumor hath it that the caveman went so far as to douse perishable foods in the cool streams in an attempt to preserve his next meal from the ravages of Old Sol.

Which leads up to the fact that modern electric refrigerators is a far cry from the first recorded cooling system, tried out by the ancient Greeks and Egyptians before the birth of Christ.

According to Wm. R. Cabaness, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, the first refrigeration was accomplished by filling earthen shallow dishes with water and covering them with sugar cane. This crude apparatus was then placed on a roof, where, exposed to the air currents or fanned by slaves, some of the water was evaporated during the night and with it went some of the heat. Loss of the heat left the remaining water considerably cooler. The chilled water was then placed around bottles of wine to cool them. Clever, eh?

Nero—he who fiddled while Rome burned—is given credit for discovering the preservative powers of snow. Hundreds of his slaves brought bales of snow from the Apennine Mountains down to the emperor's courtyard where it was buried deep in trenches insulated with sod and straw. It kept for weeks and was used for cooling wines, fruits and fish that formed part of the Roman feasts.

In the 16th century, a Venetian, Sanct Sanctorious, concocted a mixture of one-third salt and two-thirds snow by which he produced a temperature cold enough to freeze water. It is said that Lord Francis Bacon contracted the pneumonia from which he died while stuffing a fowl with snow to study the effects of such treatment. His last question was "Does the fowl still keep?" Thus was developed the science of food preservation in its cruder stages.

"Nature herself took a hand," Cabaness says, "by supplying cooler temperatures in springs, wells and cellars. These were used for a great many years and even today in some cases. However, the temperature is rarely below the 50 degree danger line which is now known to be necessary for safe food preservation." The use of natural ice, he recalled, preceded development of the mechanical ice plant and electric refrigeration. The old-fashioned ice-box went a long way toward making people more conscious of the need for food preservation," he opines. "It performed a real service in the past."

In 1880 a Chicago packing plant installed the first mechanical refrigeration equipment used by that industry, revolutionizing the whole system of feeding the people of this nation. Electric refrigeration for the household followed.

"Do you remember how crude the old family bus of a decade or so ago looks today," Cabaness asks. "It cost three or four times as much to operate the old models as it does the streamlined machine nowadays. Well, the same is true of the old model refrigerators. But the new electric ones! Shucks, man! They give the women-folks year-round temperatures of 40 to 50 degrees for what it costs to smoke three cigarettes a day!"

Monday night eighteen boys, two guests, and the Scoutmaster met at the regular weekly Scout meeting. Our new flags, books and other new equipment gave us plenty of business to talk about. Our two guests were Mr. Reeves, chairman of the Scout Committee, and Mr. McKinney, who gave us some fundamental instructions on boxing. All the Scouts enjoyed their presence very much.

CHURCH NEWS

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Haskell Associational Workers' Conference meets with the Goree church next Tuesday, March the First. The subjects to be discussed are: Sin, Grace, Good Works, Security of the Believer, Restricted communion. Let us have a good attendance at this meeting.

We are expecting to have 200 in Sunday School next Sunday. If you and I do our best we will easily have that number. Sermon subject for the morning, What a Preacher Saw Through A Hole in the Wall. Evening subject, What Doth the Lord Require?

Edgar A. Guest had the following to say about the Laymen: Leave it to the ministers and soon the church will die. Leave it to the women folk, the young will pass it by. For the church is all that lifts us from the coarse and selfish mob, and the church that is to prosper needs the laymen on the job.

It's the church's special function to uphold the finer things, to teach that way of living from which all that's noble springs. But the minister can't do it, single-handed and alone. For the laymen of the country are the churches' cornerstone.

When you see a church that's empty tho' it's doors are open wide, it's not the church that's dying, it's the LAYMEN who have DIED. For it's not by song or sermon that the church's work is done, it's the laymen of the country who for God must carry on!

We urge you to come to the services next Sunday—both morning and evening.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist church is making a concerted effort during the spring to reach every person possible for the Kingdom of God. There are numbers of reasons why this is a timely move. Our nation needs a new vision of God and to appropriate His grace to a restless spirit. Our church needs a new vision of her task for humanity. Our homes and individuals need the spirit of the Christ to meet the demands of the strenuous life that we are forced to live.

Each Wednesday night during March we are meeting at the church to get a retrospective and a forward looking view of our relationship with Christianity in the making of our nation and our task for the immediate future. The Sunday school is sponsoring the service next Wednesday night at 7:30. Some out of town preachers will present John Wesley's childhood days and early ministry. We invite all who will be in the service for one hours information and inspiration.

The regular Sunday service hours are 11 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. Sunday school at 10 a.m., and Hi-League at 6, and Senior at 6:30 p.m. Missionary society meets each Monday at 8:00 p.m. and the Young Women's Circle each Monday night.

The most influential people of our community, and nation, as for that, are church-going people. The young business men and women of America might find food for thought by checking this situation. Right now we need to safeguard our future America. Since we as a people who owe so much to the churches of the past, it ill becomes us to forsake her just now. Let's give our best days to God for future generations.

"Citadel" Reviewed by Mrs. Pitzer Baker in Smith Home Wednesday

Three Musical Numbers Given at Program

More than eighty ladies attended and heard a book review Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Munday Study Club, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Smith.

At the opening of the program, Mrs. Pitzer Baker was introduced as the guest artist, and immediately launched into a review of the book, "Citadel," which is the current best seller, written by A. J. Cronin, M.D., of fiction books.

Mrs. Baker after a short introductory talk reviewed the book which was a story of the successes, failures, happiness and sorrows, occurring in the life of a physician. The review was given in four parts.

Interspersed with the review was two numbers by the Munday Choral Club sextet and a piano solo by Mrs. Jim McDonald.

The entire program was well received by the guests, and Mrs. Baker's efforts held complete sway over the listeners, with complimentary comment prevailing among the guests following the program.

Cut flowers were used as decorations in the home and a seated tea was served the guests at the close of the review.

Out of town guests were from Knox City, Goree and Weinert.

WELLS FARGO TRAIL THEME OF NEW FILM

Joel McCrea Featured In Historic Film Of Frontier

The historic Wells Fargo Trail—the lane which connected St. Louis with San Francisco in early gold days—and the men who made and maintained it in the face of Indians, bandits and Nature, forms the dramatic background for "Wells Fargo," the motion picture which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Roxy Theatre.

Called by some the "Lifeline of Empire" because of the important part it played in welding together the sprawling nation as it existed in 1850-70, the story of the Wells Fargo trail is one of the most dramatic and romantic in American history.

It came into being shortly after gold was discovered, when a swift and safe means had to be found to transport the gold from the mines and, equally important, to bring mail and news into the roaring mining camps. The firm of Wells, Fargo & Company, fore-runners of today's Railway Express Agency, was organized to fill this need.

Trails were cut, way stations for the changing and watering of horses were established and a veritable army of heavily armed messengers was organized to protect the treasure. The roads had to be kept open in spite of the whims of weather.

The task of planning and opening the trails is handled in the picture by Joel McCrea. A man of vision, and courage, he is forced to leave his wife, played by Frances Dee, as the trail takes him father and farther westward. Unable to understand her husband, a rift occurs. There are patch-ups and reconciliation but as time goes on the story traces the fortunes of the family for two generations—a break finally occurs.

The climax is reached after the War Between the States when McCrea and Miss Dee are brought together again by their children, now grown to young manhood and womanhood.

The brilliant supporting cast of "Wells Fargo" is headed by Bob Burns in his first "straight" role. Others in the cast of over one hundred are Lloyd Nolan, Henry O'Neill, Porter Hall, Robert Cummings, Ralph Morgan, Mary Nash.

It has been reported that most of the students enjoyed the holiday Monday. The only thing wrong is that some of the students would like to have the rest of the week off. How about that being too much leisure time, fellow students? Remember the old saying, "An idle mind is the bad man's work shop?"

Senior Report!

The Seniors have turned their attention to grammar instead of literature at the present time. We have written some masterpieces in our English class. Could anybody imagine the Seniors being authors? If anyone wishes to purchase these masterpieces, please get in touch with the Seniors. We are also working hard to get our points in reading.

Sophomore News

When the Sophomores came back to school, after the holiday on George Washington's birthday anniversary, they looked as if they were ready to begin their work anew, but when they were reminded of examinations their attitude changed to a feeling of... well, they just don't feel very energetic any more.

According to Miss Walsh, our English teacher, the Sophomores may develop into great writers. In our English class we have been writing paragraphs showing contrast and comparison, paragraphs containing a topic sentence, and we have had to write an imaginary interview, and also interview somebody in person.

The Sophomores have enjoyed the snow immensely. A hard snowball may come our way once in a while, but we can take it.

The Science Club meeting last Wednesday proved to be a very interesting and educational one. The speakers were Florine Williamson, Margaret Birkenfeld, Richard Albus, Mary Loran, Catherine Homer, Georgette Claus, and Clara Franklin. Genevieve Herring, our chairman, says the next one will be still more interesting if the members cooperate.

Junior Class News

The Juniors returned to school Tuesday morning feeling fine after the holiday which they took Monday instead of Tuesday.

We Juniors have begun our reading in English. Although we have

FRESHMAN NEWS

In English we have been writing stories and keeping a diary. At writing stories we have become masters, at least we think so.

We discussed current events in history on Tuesday of this week. Some of the events were very interesting.

The mathematicians are very discouraged because they think their work is too difficult, but their motto is "A quitter never wins, a winner never quits."

Last Friday and Tuesday we had a most enjoyable time because of the snow. This gave us a good chance of getting our faces washed if we walked outside of the door. During the day there were very many snow fights and everyone enjoyed himself.

We all rejoiced last week when we heard that we were going to have a holiday the following Monday. Everyone enjoyed it, but we all wish we could have had the rest of the week off.

We decided that our class needed some favorites so we voted and the outcome was as follows:
Teacher—Miss Walsh.
Subject—Science.
Song—God Be With You.
Colors—Blue and Gold.
Sport—Volleyball.
Flower—Bluebonnet.
Motto—A quitter never wins, a winner never quits.

Abilene Rodeo to Attract Foremost U.S. Performers

Abilene, Feb. 22.—Hugh Bennet, arena director for the World Championship rodeo to be held in Abilene March 1, 2 and 3, has sent word from Phoenix, Arizona that foremost professional rodeo performers would enter the contest. He said riders now appearing at the Phoenix rodeo told him they would come to the Abilene contest before going on to Fort Worth for the Southwestern exposition. Premiums in the rodeo and the accompanying boys' livestock show will amount to more than $4,000. Among the specialty acts at Abilene will be the jumping horse, "Black Diamond." A beautiful black gelding that has exhibited and given exhibitions in the larger horse shows and rodeos in the U.S. and Canada. He starts his jump at about three feet and keeps jumping until he reaches seven and a half to eight feet. Diamond does his work without a rider, also without any railings or guides. He makes his jump and comes back to his trainer, "California Frank" for a lump of sugar. A stable mate of this horse is "Silver" a beautiful white horse, that does a Buck Dance on a small platform, to the music of Turkey in the Straw. A great many people will remember this horse from the Fort Worth Centennial of 1936, as the horse that did the Buck Dance on the floor of the Silver Dollar Saloon.

Dick Griffith and Pauline Nesbitt will also make the Abilene show as trick riders.

Freshman Report!

This bad weather really had us going. That is when we ventured from the building we were not sure whether we were coming or going, for we were greeted with a hail of snowballs. Even with all this bad weather we had a fairly good attendance. The rain was so heavy in some parts of the Washburn district that the bus could not make its round; therefore some of our attendance was lost.

Our class really has some fine comedians. We afforded quite an attraction on the school ground Monday with so many of us buried in snow. Everyone seems to think Leola Foytik was the entire show.

MEDITATION

By ANN ATKEISON

I have told you of the man who always put on his spectacles when about to eat cherries, in order that the fruit might look larger and more tempting. In like manner I always make the best of my enjoyments, and, though I do not cast my eyes away from troubles, I pack them into as small a compass as I can for myself, and never let them annoy others.—Robert Southey.

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not in breaths; in feelings, not in figures on a dial. We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.—Phillip Bailey

Great spenders are bad lenders—Franklin.
I would rather be sick than idle.—Seneca.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work. Shadow owes its birth to light.—Gray.
Live and think.—Samuel Lover.

Sophomore Report!

Members of the Home Economics II class have been enjoying the past weeks in which they worked on their dresses. Several of the girls have almost finished their work. We can now see how the dresses are going to look when they are finished. We are quite sure our sewing efforts have not been in vain. Everyone is working hard in order to have her dress finished and ready to wear in the style show, March fourteenth.

JUNIOR REPORT!

Most of the Juniors are back in school since "Old Man Winter" came visiting this week. Although we did not like the rain, we certainly enjoyed the snow. We hope that spring approaches at once, however, because we are all ready for warm weather.

It seems that the school term is passing quickly, and it won't be long now until mid-night oil will be burned again and it won't be in some fellows "sport coupe" either. The Juniors certainly have enjoyed reading the new library books.

We made quite a bit of money selling candy, cold drinks, and chewing gum during the basketball tournament. Although we haven't decided whether or not we will sell these "eats" at the A.A.U. meet, it would be a good idea to bring along a nickel or a dime extra because what is a ball game without something to "nibble" on? Every little bit helps, you know; and if you haven't already been a Junior, you will be someday and then you will know what it is to raise enough money to give our dignified Seniors a banquet.

Watch the Seniors As They Go By!

BY MARY MOORE

Lorain Finley
Lorain is a quiet dark girl who was born on September 15, 1920, in Springtown, Texas. She lived there for two years and then moved to her present home which is seven miles northeast of Munday. Lorain started to the Hood school when she was 7. She went there seven years and then started to Goree to go while she was a freshman and sophomore. During the fall of her junior year, Lorain transferred to Munday High School to complete her high school career.
This year Lorain is entering extemporaneous speaking in the county meet. In her years in Goree High School Lorain entered spelling one year, declamation 2 years. She also entered one year in arithmetic.

Lorain hopes to go to a business college next year. She would like to go to C.I.A. at Denton if she cannot go to a business college. Her highest ambition is to learn all she can, and she is really putting the rest of the Seniors in the shade along that line, too.

We Seniors wish to say right here that we wish our basketball boys all the luck in the world when they enter the A.A.U. meet this week end. We know they will uphold all our hopes for them. Maybe they will not win first place, but anyway they will make a showing over the average teams in West Texas.

Six weeks exams again. It seems that one six weeks is barely past when another is half way here. Since this is our last year, we should not be caught napping on the job, but anyway we are—what again?

Mr. Hardegree said the Seniors had a very large attendance average this last half, but we had more tardies than the other classes. If Thomas, Geneva, and Joe Isbell would only set their alarms a little earlier, we might make something or ourselves after all the slams we have received this year. Poor Seniors, nobody loves us but ourselves. Well, that's enough!

The VALTER VINCHELL COLUMN

One of the most amusing scenes on the campus this year, happened while the big snow was on. After remaining in the car until the dead line, Miss Darnell finally raked up enough nerve to remove the fur coat from the car, and boldly stepped in the middle of M.H.S.'s champion snow rollers. Oh, what fun!

We, the pitiful ones that hang out in the halls of M.H.S., may not be bright, but once we learn we don't forget. Just remember we still dislike those who were poor sports during the snow.

Thomas, what caused the peaked look you wore Monday? It couldn't have been something you drank Sunday night, could it—say a swallow or two of gasoline?

Boys, we are still warning you about Seymour. You know we haven't grown up yet—when there is no one to play with at home, we still run off and play with the 'MEMBER how crude the old family bus of a decade or so ago seems today? Cost three or four times as much to operate as the present efficient machine. Well, Sir, the same is true of electric refrigerators. They blazed the trail, bringing the greatest domestic improvement of all time into every other West Texas home by 1937. So now, in 1938, there is no comparison with those pioneer models. Electric refrigeration of today gives absolute food protection with temperatures around 40 to 45 degrees—the only safe temperature. No other form of mechanical refrigeration can offer this guarantee at any price. But Electric Refrigeration gives that guarantee at a cost which drops to less than 3 cents a day!

SUNSET SENIORS ON PARADE!

By FRANCES GRAY

Nell Marie Nix
 Nell Marie Nix was born May 20, 1920. Nell entered Gillespie in 1926. She went to school there until she was in the third grade. She entered Sunset when she was in the fourth grade.
 Nell played indoor baseball when she was in the fifth and seventh grades. Then, when she was a freshman in high school, she played in the high school junior baseball team. Nell lettered in basketball three years, and volleyball two years.

As a freshman Nell was president of the class. This year she is editor-in-chief of the school paper, and also of the most popular girl in Sunset High School this year.

 It looks as if the freshmen are going to be artists, as they are having to draw illustrations to represent the characters in Ivanhoe.
 The freshman class is the best in high school, (we think), so come on Fish, let's keep it that way.
 The freshman class reporter informed us that he is so busy writing English themes that he failed to get in all the freshman news, so we present you one of his themes:

Junior Report!

The Junior class received the play books that they ordered have selected their play for this year. They think that their play, "Cheerio, My Dearie," will be even better than the play the Juniors put on last year and you will all remember what a good play it was. The characters for the play have not been selected yet, but the parts will be assigned this week and they will start working on the play in a big way next week. The time for the play has not yet been set, but will be the latter part of March.

Senior Report

During the past few days the seniors have been studying famous speeches of famous men from the time of George Washington down to the administration of our present president. They have traced the gradual change from extended formal speeches to brief informal ones of Theodore Roosevelt's time. Abraham Lincoln as we might say "broke the ice" in his Gettysburg Address. He pulled a fast one on the cameramen who were getting ready to take his picture. Before their cameras were in readiness, his address was over. It seemed that since the time of radio the speakers have gone back to the old style. Anyhow, we can shut them up when we get tired of listening to them.
 The civics class is spending the last semester in a study of state and local government. This is expected to be of additional interest because they are intending to hear a trial sometime in the next session.

Excuse For Late Work at School

When Monday morning comes and the pupils file into the English room, if a theme is due many of the pupils are hurriedly recopying their themes in ink, etc. If asked why their work is late the answer is, "I forgot about having to do this; I could not think of anything to write," and many other similar excuses.

If the assignment deals with diagrams, parts of speech, or sentences, pupils hurry to class, open their books and work harder in two minutes before the teacher comes to class than in fifteen minutes before class. The general excuse for this is not having time enough, not understanding the assignment, forgetting and leaving English book at school, busy working on overdue work, or a ball game had been attended.

Most of the time the real excuse is, "I got too sleepy and could not study," "my favorite movie star was on the screen last night and I just had to see the picture," "I had to read the comic story in the newspaper before it was destroyed," "I started a good book and wanted to finish it," "I just received the latest issue of Modern Screen and wanted to see what was new in Hollywood," "I had to take my best girl to the movies." All of these excuses are used, but the main reason was, "I did not want to work on my English; it was too difficult."

Lack of equipment is one thing that keeps one from making good grades. To do the best of work, one should own a good dictionary, a good writing pen, plenty of paper and ink, notes taken both in and out of class, and above all "will power" enough to work on the subject.

The disposition of the pupil is ninety per cent of the grade. The pupil who sits in class as if asleep, or in deep thought misses most of the lesson. A pupil who comes to class as late as if he (or she) would just as soon be at town, or any place instead of school, might as well be at home, because he is in school only in body, while his mind is elsewhere.

Education is the main thing in life, because if you have no education, about the only thing to do is dig ditches, etc., while a well educated person has a good place in the world.

"EAGLES ECHO" DATE IS UP

March 1 is the deadline for buying an "Eagles Echo," so hurry in your order. You will miss something if you don't.

EAGLES LOSE TO BUCKS

The Sunset Eagles met defeat in their first game at district. They played the Breckenridge Buckaroos Saturday morning and were defeated with scores of 41 to 27. The Eagles were dead on their feet and could never get started. They rang up six field goals during the entire game. Although they had better luck on their free shots and made 15 out of 17. The tournament was won by Cross Plains.

The Eagles will wind up their basketball this season by entering the State A.A.U. tourney at Munday next week-end.

Home Ec Report

The Junior and Senior Home Economics Clubs of Sunset have at last got started on this semester's work, and are learning the fundamentals of sewing.
 They have all learned the parts of the machine and have their sewing equipment that is required for this study.

They studied materials first and patterns that are suitable for beginners to tackle, as most of them are beginners.

The first thing they made was a cup towel. The cup towels had to be basted and then sewed, and most of the girls' work turned out very well.

This week they have started making shorts, slacks or pajamas as a class project. This is interesting to all of them and they are quite impatient to get them made to see if they can be seamstresses.

His performance in the safety program has received the official endorsement of the Safety Council of the Lions Club and of the Munday Fire Department, also the Chamber of Commerce has given him a letter of endorsement through President Benge and the secretary, Mrs. Ingram. The full cooperation he generally receives in a city depends on the program that he will do, and he has chosen as his official food headquarters the Coates Cafe, and Jack says eating is the biggest thing in life and the kind of food that you eat and the courtesy and atmosphere too, has been his reason for endorsing the Coates Cafe as his official meeting place.

about myself or my qualifications and fitness for the office than you already know and were I to undertake to do so I might be inclined to give myself too great a "recommend," so that as to my ability, integrity, capability and fitness for the office I shall leave you to judge without any boasting on my part.

I do not feel that any candidate for Representative should at any time go forth with many promises of getting legislation passed for the reason that the candidates for Governor have not yet announced their platforms and as the Governor whom the people shall select, submits to the Legislature matters for consideration, usually those adopted by the people in their platform at the State convention any announcement at this time might be on matters which might not even be adopted by the people.

I wish to be as frank and fair with you in this campaign as I have tried to be in my business dealings with you and therefore now say to you that if I have an opponent that you feel is more able and willing to work for your best interests, or who is more fit and qualified to seek proper legislation in your behalf, or who can more effectively protest against legislation that will be injurious to this district, or who can more efficiently perform the duties of the office, then I say it is your duty to vote for him, but, if, on the other hand, you feel that I am capable of making you a good representative then I earnestly solicit your vote and ask that you speak a good word for me.

On account of the expense, which like this announcement, will have to be paid in cash I shall be unable to make a house to house canvass of the County therefore ask that each voter consider this as a personal appeal for help in my campaign.

In conclusion will say that if every person in Knox County for whom I have had a kind thought,

The REST Of the Record

BY JAMES V. ALLRED Governor of Texas

My fight to secure the return of the State's lands has developed rapidly the past week.

When I requested the Attorney General to file a number of suits to recover these lands for the State, he told the newspapers that I was childish. From Paul's letter to the Corinthians, he quoted:

"When I was a child, I spake as a child; I understood as a child; I thought as a child. But when I became a man I put away childish things."

I can readily understand why the Attorney General, who calls himself the "Great McCraw," would have to resort to the Scriptures to prove that he has grown up.

Immediately after I demanded that these suits be filed, however, the Land Commissioner cancelled the big lease that I had complained about—the one where he turned down $103,000 in cash and accepted $310.

This is the second time I have made him back up and cancel out. It appears, therefore, that my "childishness" has already resulted in the cancellation of two valuable leases which he had executed.

You will remember that the Attorney General also said that he would not file all the suits that I had requested, but would file only one test suit. He said that the State's rights would not be jeopardized; but when I pointed out that if these people were allowed to let the matter rock along until a test suit could be drawn out through the courts they would then have their gamble and know whether the well being drilled was a producer or dry; and when I pointed out that these leases to others who could claim to be innocent purchasers, the Attorney General changed his mind and filed nine additional suits.

So my "childishness" has resulted in further action.

The trouble now is that the Attorney General only set up one ground in asking for cancellation of these leases. He did not allege in his petitions that the facts constituted legal fraud, as I had requested him to do so. Nowhere did he allege the facts and circumstances which I set out in my letters. I think these facts and circumstances taken as a whole clearly show a fraud upon the rights of the people. I am sorry that the Attorney General is not going to give the court the opportunity to pass on these facts. I would rather have three legs to stand on in a lawsuit than just one, especially where millions of dollars belonging to the school children are involved.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the celebrated Laredo gas rate case, together with another decision expected during March in the equally long-drawn out Lone Star gas rate case, is expected by members of the Texas Railroad Commission to affect directly the gas rates paid by hundreds of thousands of gas customers in several hundred Texas towns, cities and villages throughout the State. The Laredo decision is a complete victory for the State, upholding, according to Rail Commissioner Ernest Thompson, the method of procedure utilized by the Railroad Commission in determining the valuation of gas properties and fixing rates. The Lone Star case, affecting 300 towns, Thompson says, followed the pattern laid down in the Laredo case, although there are different legal questions involved. The battle to lower gas rates, instituted by Thompson shortly after he took his place on the Railroad Commission, has been bitter and lengthy, and that it must be fought out to the bitter end was indicated at the week-end, when subsidiaries of the Lone Star companies obtained from Judge W. L. Thornton in District Court at Dallas, a temporary injunction restraining the commission from assuming concurrent jurisdiction with incorporated towns and cities in rate matters. The Commission contends that it has, under the state law, concurrent jurisdiction, while the gas company asserts only the cities and towns may regulate rates.

The Laredo case furnished political ammunition for both Thompson and Attorney General Bill McCraw, both gubernatorial candidates, as Thompson wrote the Laredo order, while McCraw defended it in the supreme court. "Never again, I hope," remarked Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul as he ended his sixteenth term as acting Governor of Texas, breaking all records in the history of the State. The return of Gov. Allred from President Roosevelt's luncheon in Washington enabled Woodul to return to his campaigning for Attorney General. During his 16 terms as Acting Governor, the Houston solon has had opportunities to name many colonels, cut a few ribbons and make other public appearances which ought to prove helpful in his campaigning for Attorney General.

Political Scene Muddled Awaiting further action by the principles in the Governor's race, Austin seethed with rumors this week, as Gov. Allred and Attorney General McCraw, back from Washington, exchanged further verbal bartrages. The Senate investigating committee moved on to Dallas to resume its probe of the Land Office, the issue that has furnished most of the political fireworks for several weeks. Allred appeared winner of the preliminary rounds as Land Commissioner Bill McDonald has cancelled two of the disputed oil leases on State lands, while McCraw filed suits to cancel nine others, as demanded by Allred.

The hotel lobbies buzzed with rumors that Allred was preparing to announce for a third term, and the Governor declined to comment. He took a final shot at McCraw, as he made reference to McCraw's reputed former Klan activities, when he told correspondents asking about his plans: "I'll wait until Bill McCraw comes out from under his bedsheet." The Governor gave further evidence that the Federal judgeship issue is not entirely out of his mind at his press conference, when he remarked, commenting upon his advice to the San Antonio peacemakers to seek a court injunction against police interference with their pickets: "The Rangers won't do anything to help them. What they need is judicial authority—and that is something I haven't got... yet," the Governor said.
