FATHER TIME DEPLETING RANKS OF WAR VETS

The little army of Blue and gray-clad veterans who gathered at Gettysburg, Pa., in the first joint reunion of both Federal and Confederate veterans of the War Between the States gave evidence of the fast-depleting ranks of the once two great armies totaling 3,500,000 men they represented.

Preparations were made to take care of approximately 5,000 old soldiers, their every expense paid by the government and every comfort provided for. But less than half the number expected appeared to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the greatest battle of that war. The rest of the survivors were too feeble to make the journey even though each was accompanied by a younger person to look after his traveling needs.

Of the approximate 3,500,000 engaged in that war, 2,700,000 Federals and 800,000 Confederates, it is estimated that only about 9,000, or less than one of every 350 is still living.

Of these survivors, 5,200 are Union veterans on the pension rolls. The balance includes an estimated 1,200 Federal veterans not on the pension rolls—they served less than 90 days—and 2,600 surviving Confederate soldiers. Such pensions as the latter receive are paid by the Southern states from which they enlisted.

Pensioned Union veterans are dying at the rate of six a day. A year ago these old soldiers were dying at the rate of five a day. Eight years ago those on the Federal pension rolls numbered 48,991 compared with 5,200 today.

The last survivor of the Revolutionary War was Daniel F. Bakeman, who died at Fredonia N.Y., April 5, 1869, aged 109. The last survivor of the War of 1812 was Hiram Cronk of Ava, N.Y., who died May 13, 1905, at 105.

Owen Thomas Edgar was the last survivor of the Mexican war. He died at Washington, September 3, 1929, at the age of 98.

The average age of surviving Civil War veterans today is 94, but a 14-year-old boy who was in the Federal or Confederate Army in 1865, the last year of the war, would be 87 now.

If history repeats itself, 20 or 25 years will elapse before the passing of the last survivor of the Civil War is chronicled.

On the same basis of estimates, the last veteran of the Spanish-American War of 1898 will pass away about 1985 to 1990 and the final survivor among American boys who enlisted for the World War will be called to his reward some time about the year 2005 to 2010.

Chamberlain's Answer

Prime Minister Chamberlain of England has the jingoists in his hair. "Why," the bellicose cry, "should Franco and his Spanish revolutionists be permitted to bomb and sink British merchant ships in Spanish waters without England clamping down, even if it does mean war?"

Chamberlain's answer pretty well satisfies the rank and file of Britons but of course does not please the jingoists. These merchant ships are just plain blockade runners carrying contraband at high premiums. They are not in honest commercial trade. They have been warned to stay out of war ravaged waters. Chamberlain will not risk war to protect illegitimate trade by British subjects. That satisfies the rank and file of Britain, for they are the one who have to do the fighting if war comes. The jingoists make money out of blockade running and make profits out of war and do not have to do the fighting. You can't please everyone.

Privileges Allowed to Up-Patients

In my last article I failed to mention that the routine of the day that I gave was for up-patients only. Those who have more trouble are put in in-building, where you seldom get up.

Up-patients are allowed a few privileges. Among the most interesting is the fact that we may attend the show twice a week. We go on Monday and Thursday nights.

On Tuesday and Friday nights we are allowed to visit other buildings. However, we cannot visit in-buildings, only the in-buildings.

Every Thursday morning we go to the auditorium for a lecture given by a doctor. This proves to be very interesting and helpful to many of us.

Underground Water Supply

The Texas Planning Board has repeatedly called attention to the rapidly diminishing supply of underground water in Texas. Several sections of the State are even now facing serious difficulties in obtaining sufficient underground water to meet the demands of industrial and domestic users.

The importance of underground water is seen in the fact that three out of every five persons in Texas are dependent upon water which is drawn from the ground. Eight of the larger cities in the State are dependent upon underground water. Numerous high agricultural regions rely entirely on underground water for irrigation purposes.

Research by the planning board and other agencies interested in natural resources has proven the fallacy of the popular belief that underground water is inexhaustible. Underground water can be used faster than even a provident Nature can replenish the supply and this is what is happening in many parts of Texas today. The water is being taken from the ground faster than Nature can replace it.

Immediate conservation steps are necessary if Texas is to be insured a continuing and adequate supply of underground water. Just what those steps should be will be discussed at a statewide meeting in Austin on July 29 of all persons interested in underground water. The meeting was called by Governor James V. Allred who is vitally interested in a sound and constructive program for the conservation and proper utilization of the natural resources of Texas.

Every citizen should be keenly interested in this problem and every city in the State dependent upon underground water should have representation at the Austin meeting.

By TOM FIZDALE

There's fun on the airways again Sunday nights. Billy House, famous comedy star of stage and screen, is headliner of the new "The Laugh Liner" Sunday show on CBS. With Jack Fulton, romantic tenor, as soloist and Carl Hohengarten's orchestra providing the musical fare, this is your best bet for Sunday entertainment in keeping with the summer weather.

Billy House

House has been starred in many Broadway hits including "Murder at the Vanities," "Lucky Girl," "All the King's Horses," "White Horse Inn," and two editions of Earl Carroll's "Vanities." His pictures include the new "Merry Go Round of 1938," four Warner Brothers features and eight Paramount short subjects. Jack Fulton's singing and Hohengarten's music have been featured by the same sponsor on "Poetic Melodies" and "Just Entertainment" over CBS for two years.

Radio people coast-to-coast sorrowed by death of wife of Don Quinn, author of "Fibber McGee and Molly" show, as result of auto accident while the two were driving to California to spend their vacation in their new home... Ransom Sherman, swell emcee of "Club Matinee," finally awarded a night spot on the network... Benny Goodman preparing (with fear and trembling) to pose for those passport pictures required for his European jaunt... Lum and Abner, Eddie Cantor and Meredith Willson are other foreign bound stars... Network Engineer Richard Stoddard has a thrill in store... scheduled to accompany Howard Hughes on round-the-world flight to report to listeners. Donald Novis back at work after siege of illness, his voice swell as ever.

Those Stroud Twins on the Don Ameche show may visit Chicago this summer just to see why Ameche, Dorothy Lamour and Edgar Bergen, all of whom migrated from there, talk about it so much... Lowell Thomas, in addition to his news commentating, is president of the New York Advertising Club... Henry Hunter, "Attorney at Law" star, has a pet horror—a fear of losing a page from his script... Happened once and he had to do an entire scene from memory.

Edith Davis

Betty Lou Gerson, vivacious network leading lady, has scored again with her title role in the new "Win Your Lady" series... Peggy Wahl, young network actress returning from her first visit to Hollywood, was snubbed by a genuine Sheikh of Arabia... Sheikh Hafiz Wabha, minister of Saudi Arabia to the Court of St. James, visiting America... Was she thrilled? Yes... Edith Davis, society matron and wife of the famous surgeon, Dr. Loyal Davis, who plays leading roles in "Betty and Bob," has had a new thrill... Her daughter, Nancy, just made her radio debut.

Bing Crosby's program has received the green light for another year... Ranch Boys trio, forking horses from Hollywood to the "National Barn Dance" in Chicago now figure making it by July 29... Paul Whiteman now heard Wednesday nights via CBS... Those "Hymns of All Churches" will be heard five days a week on NBC the first two weeks in August.

Les Tremayne and Barbara Huddy of that "Little Theatre Off Times Square" are two of the most consistent riders on Chicago bridge paths... Bob Trout, CBS ace, and Kid Crane of net program department, married last.

Deep Wildcat in Throckmorton Is Rated Producer

Holding principal interest in oil development of this section this week is the deep wildcat discovery in southwestern Throckmorton county, Jones & Stasney and Grover & Rose No. 1 Charles T. Brockman, located Comanche Indian reserve No. 95, 18 miles southwest of Throckmorton and eight miles from the Haskell county line. Production was found in Marble Falls lime at 4,073-06 feet, with original estimates running as high as 10,000 barrels. On a short-gauge Wednesday afternoon however, flow was reported at 60 barrels per hour. Operators indicated that an acid treatment would be given after casing was set above the pay horizon. In the Pardue pool south of Haskell disappointment marked efforts of operators to develop a vast extension of the pool. Forest Development Corporation's No. 1 Bankers Life, had failed to pick up expected pay in Adams Branch lime around 2800 feet, and the test was shut down Wednesday morning at 3,900 feet awaiting orders. Location is in the J. F. Morgan survey No. 59, 900 feet west of Forest's No. 2 Pardue, rated as the 1,500 barrel producer.

Returns Home Mayor D. C. Osborn, who has been visiting relatives in Vernon and Happy, Texas, returned to his home here last week-end.

C., and then on to New York where they embarked for the ocean part of the voyage. ### Vaccination For Fowl Pox is Now Effective Control

COLEGE STATION—Fowl pox, a very common disease of poultry, can be effectively controlled by vaccination, according to Geo. P. McCarty, poultryman of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College. The disease usually shows up as small blister-like, yellowish growth on the comb, wattles or skin of the head. Later these become inactive, and there is often a nasal discharge. As the disease progresses, cankerous growths appear in the eye and throat. Although death losses from fowl pox are not as severe as might be expected, death does occur in many cases due to stoppage of the windpipe. Even if few deaths occur, fowl pox is costly to any flock. All birds that show symptoms of the disease should be isolated in a well ventilated room. The growths should be removed and the sores painted with tincture of iodine. A 10 pct solution of argyrol should be used if the eyes are affected. It is well to give the confined birds a weekly flush of one tablespoon of soda for each gallon of water. Loss of birds can be prevented and the flock kept in a thrifty condition by the use of fowl pox vaccine, McCarty says. Both pullets and cockerels may be vaccinated, but cockerels which are being finished for sale as broilers or fryers should not be treated unless time is allowed to permit full recovery. If cockerels are not vaccinated, they must be separated from the other birds. Grown birds and pullets coming into law should not be vaccinated, McCarty warned. The best age for treatment is between one and three months of age. The method used is to pluck a few feathers from the thigh and apply a very small amount of the vaccine to two follicles. Most laboratories prepare the vaccine in two containers, one with the pox powder and the other of glycerine water. When the birds are to be vaccinated, the powder is mixed with the liquid to make the correct solution.

Patterson Makes Statement

To the Voters of Knox County:— The present campaign coming to a close causes me to desire to thank each and every person who has given me encouragement and assisted me in any other way in making it possible for me to fill the office of County Attorney for the past 18 months. Let me assure you that I appreciate the co-operation of the law-abiding citizens during the time that I have tried to make Knox County a better place in which to raise your family. I have tried to see as many of the voters as possible, but due to conditions over which I have no control, a house-to-house campaign has been impossible, and if I have not seen you, rest assured that I have not intentionally passed you up and not solicited your support. Clean politics should be the first thought of all candidates seeking the confidence of the electorate, and having in mind at all times that this is what the people of Knox County desired, I have tried to make a clean race, and upon that basis I solicit your vote next Saturday. J. C. PATTERSON, County Attorney, Knox County.

Re-Elect E. L. COVEY For County Judge

His work on the bench as county judge has won for him the respect of the ablest attorneys of the state. His work and co-operation with the County Commissioners has given the county a sound business administration and created a relationship of mutual understanding between county precincts.

In an active program of co-operation with Federal and State agencies, he has secured for the county nearly $750,000 in money from state and federal governments for permanent improvements in Knox County. He collected $110,000 of county and school money in a broke bank that was acting as county depository without a dollar loss to the county. He has assisted the old people in every way possible to secure old age pensions for them. Under his administration the County Permanent School Fund money, which had been idle for 34 years, was invested, is now drawing interest, and thereby aiding every school child in Knox county. Under his administration the county funds have been put in sound financial condition and county taxes reduced in face of an active program with federal agencies for relief projects and assistance during depression years.

Tennyson has fought for liberal old age pensions, for the strict regulation of utilities, for the laboring man, for the farmer and stockman, and for our schools. He has been the one man in the Texas House that was responsible for passing bills to lower the rate of return allowed all utilities. He has been an ardent champion of the reduction of taxes on farms and on homes. During his first term in office he supported measures that led to a reduction of state operating expenses of over $13,000,000. Hughes Reviews Progress of Schools Seeking 2nd Term

Progress of Knox County schools is not to be measured by the outstanding achievement of one particular school, but by the advancement of all the schools. As your county superintendent during this my first term, I have dedicated my efforts to the equalizing of educational opportunities for Knox County boys and girls. In January, 1935, only two rural districts enjoyed the benefits of nine months school terms; today, nine rural districts do so. The amount of rural aid for rural schools from the State has been increased from $10,998.00 in 1935 to $18,712.00 in 1937-38. The number of affiliated schools has increased from four to eight—an increase of 100 per cent. Through the cooperation of the State Department of Public Safety, safety education has been stressed in all the schools. For the first time in history of Knox County Rural Schools, Industrial Education for boys and Home Economics for girls has been made a part of their course of study. Educational agencies are responsible for the progress—not any particular individual. Your county superintendent is a contributing agency, and as such, acts as a coordinator. When the local tax-payers, boards of trustees, superintendents, principals, and teachers, patrons of the schools, county superintendent, and State Department of Education, work together, then progress is inevitable. I am glad to write that such a relationship has existed, and for that reason, our schools have progressed. When you select your county superintendent at the election Saturday, vote for the man you believe can best serve the youth of Knox County—those in school and those out of school. If you believe that I have served you well, that educational opportunities have been more equalized, that my experience will equip me to better serve you during a second term, then I shall appreciate your vote. J. LYNDALE HUGHES.

More than 1,000,000 whitefaced calves are shipped from the highlands area of the Big Bend country each year to Iowa and others of the corn belt states to be fattened-finished and shipped back to Texas in the form of fancy beef, and still many Texas farmers sell their corn, oats and other feedstuffs in the open market.

The Textile and Culinary exhibits will be shown this year at the Golden Jubilee Celebration of the State Fair of Texas in the Educational Building, as will the club, school and other interesting Hobby Show, the nature study, exhibits.

CHURCH NEWS

METHODIST CHURCH

The summer months are revival months in Texas. The hotter the weather the greater the number of meetings, it seems. Starting last Sunday night at Weinert we are in a tabernacle meeting with Mr. B. Edwards leading the singing and his wife at the piano. These people are well qualified for their work; and with such good singing preaching is made easier. Rev. Vernon Henderson, the pastor, sends a special invitation to the Munday people to drive down any evening during this week and next. The tabernacle is on the highway as you enter Weinert.

In my absence next Sunday morning, Rev. Henderson will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church here in Munday. The evening services being at 6:30, this will give me time to preach here and go to Weinert for the 8:30 services there as I did last Sunday. Bro. and Sister Edwards are invited to sing for us in the evening service here Sunday. Come and bring a friend to our lawn services Sunday, 6:30 p.m.

Rev. E. B. Bowen, Presiding Elder, will preach here Sunday, July 31st, at the morning hour. Quarterly conference will be held at that time. Let's be looking forward to our reports and have all departments of the church work in readiness for this conference.

Will appreciate knowing of anyone sick or new persons coming in to the community. I will be in and out of town for the duration of the meeting but am at your service for church work at any time. Call on me if in any way my services are needed. We covet your prayers, for a meeting is not play these troublesome days. H. A. LONGINO

Judge Covey Makes Statement to Voters

On the eve of the election, I find that I have not been able to see all the people of the county and I want to make this explanation. The County Judge of Knox County has no deputy or assistant, and therefore, I have all the work of the office to do. I believe that my first duty is to keep the work of the office in good shape. I believe that the tax payers of the county would want me to do that.

Those who have had work in the County Court, the Probate Court or Juvenile Court will tell you that I have always tried to follow closely the laws of Texas and be fair and impartial. As Chairman of the Commissioners' Court, I have worked to handle the business of the county in the most economical way and to the best interest of all the people of the county. In spite of the heavy relief load and the great amount of work that we have done, we have been able to keep the county on a sound financial basis.

As your County Judge, I have put in my entire time with the duties of the office and have done all I could for the best interest of the county and the entire citizenship of the county. If you re-elect me to this important office I will continue to follow the practice of working for you and will be found on the job at any time I can be of service to anyone.

May I at this time assure each and everyone that I sincerely appreciate your co-operation since I have been in this office, and will appreciate more than words can express your support in Saturday's election.

Sincerely,

E. L. COVEY

Counties Announced For Purchase Loans to Tenant Farmers in State And Oklahoma; Knox Out of Setup

Haskell County And Baylor Again Included

Fifty-six counties in Texas and 27 in Oklahoma have been designated in which loans to tenant farmers will be made for land purchase under the Bankhead-Jones Act during the new fiscal year, it was announced by C. M. Evans, Regional Director of Farm Security Administration. Twenty-one Texas counties and ten in Oklahoma were designated in which the loan program had already begun in the past fiscal year, and 35 new Texas counties and 17 Oklahoma counties were designated in which no loans have as yet been made. The new Texas counties were:

Angelina, Atascosa, Bell, Cameron, Cass, Coleman, Cooke, Coryell, Ellis, El Paso Fort Bend, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Harrison, Hill, Hopkins, Jim Wells, Kaufman, Liberty, Madison, Milam, Mitchell, Nacogdoches, Panola, Polk, Red River, Robertson, Smith, Tarrant, Taylor, Travis, Waller, Washington, Wilbarger, Young.

Old Texas counties designated were: Baylor, Bexar, Bowie, Dallas, DeWitt, Falls, Fayette, Haskell, Hidalgo, Houston, Hunt, Johnson, Lamar, Navarro, Nueces, Reeves, San Augustine, Tom Green, Van Zandt, Wharton, and Williamson.

New counties designated in Oklahoma were: Bryan, Cherokee, Choctaw, Creek, Garfield, Grady, Haskell, Hughes, Johnston, Kiowa, Logan, Osage, Pittsburg, Pottawatomie, Rogers, Sequoyah, and Wood.

All Oklahoma counties in which loans were made last year will receive additional loans this year except Cleveland where local oil developments made it impossible to buy land at its true agricultural value, in the opinion of the state committee. The ten old counties re-designated are: Major, Washita, Caddo, Lincoln, Oklahoma, Mayes, LeFlore, McCurtain, and Atoka.

A total of $2,118,147 has been allocated to Texas and $1,053,830 to Oklahoma, Evans said, but no announcement was made as to the amount which will be available in each county. It is estimated that 380 farms in Texas and 181 in Oklahoma will be bought with this allocation. Counties were selected upon a basis of tenant population, availability of good farms, and territorial location. In case satisfactory prices are not obtained upon good land in the designated counties, alternate counties will be named. The counties were designated by Secretary of Agriculture upon recommendation of State Advisory Committees headed by A. G. (Pat) Mayse, Paris, Texas, and Clarence Roberts, Oklahoma City.

Applications will be received at the county offices of FSA in the counties designated for thirty days beginning August 10. A committee of three farmers actually living upon the land will select these to receive loans and will appraise farms to be bought.

All tenants of farm laborers are eligible, if actually engaged in farming at this time, and if they are not able to obtain purchase loans on reasonable terms from other agencies.

Farms to be bought must be "family-size." Acreage will depend upon type of farming, nature of land, and size of the family.

No down payment will be required, and payments will be extended over forty years with three per cent interest. Annual installments on purchase price will in most cases be no more than the amount which has usually been paid as rent. Value of the land to be bought will be appraised strictly upon the basis of crops it has produced in the past.

More than 9,000,000 acres of farm and ranch lands have been enlisted in the campaign to conserve and protect Texas wildlife. These acres are in 54 counties and 7,324 farmers and ranchers are cooperating with Texas A. & M. College and other agencies in this movement.

A total of 890,781 acres of land was terraced in Texas in 1937, and 2,166,898 acres was countoured in the state, which means that practically 3,000,000 acres of land will hold its own in 1938 and the highest portion will not wash gulward, or help to fill up some lake or pond.

'Crime School' to Play at Roxy Next Saturday

That is the significant question posed—and answered—by "Crime School," the Warner Bros. picture which comes to the Roxy Theatre next Saturday only with a brilliant cast headed by that effective aggregation of youthful actors who became famous as the "Dead End" boys, Humphrey Bogart and a talented newcomer to the screen named Gale Page.

The title, "Crime School," is in itself sufficient indication of the point of view of Crane Wilbur who wrote the original story upon which the screen play, prepared by Wilbur in collaboration with Vincent Sherman, was based.

Frankly aligning itself on the side of modern methods of dealing with juvenile delinquency, which are designed to avert the formerly inevitable progression of 'bad boys' to 'bad men,' the motion picture gives a thorough expose of the evils of the reformatory system—still in vogue in some unprogressive communities.

It follows the fates of six boys, all typical products of the New York slums, after they have been 'sent up' for petty crimes, and shows by how narrow a margin they are saved from becoming real graduate criminals.

Their rescue from this once common fate is shown to be the result of the practical application of the theories of an idealistic young commissioner of corrections, played by Humphrey Bogart, who has so often been a heartless villain in motion pictures that he is bound to surprise theatre-goers with the fine and sympathetic portrayal he achieves in the first hero role he has ever been given.

Both melodrama and comedy mark the vigorous and aggressive fight made by the young commissioner to get a fair chance for the operation of his theories, a fight in which he has to combat not only the belief of other officials in the old heartless and brutal methods but also stupid maladministration and downright political crookedness.

Spurring him on in the battle is not only his idealism but his romantic interest in the sister of one of the boys. That is the part played by Miss Page, and it gives this beautiful recruit from the radio an excellent opportunity to display the glowing personality and gift for vital intense acting which cause studio executives to believe that she will develop into one of their greatest stars.

The six "Dead End" boys—Billy Halop, Bobby Jordan, Huntz Hall, Leo Gorcey, Bernard Punsley and Gabriel Dell—prove that the success they won in their first screen appearance was no accident for again their acting is so true to life that the spectator is convinced that they are the boys they seem to be.

Warner Bros., the company which has dealt so often and fearlessly with problems of social significance in such movies as "Black Legion," "Marked Woman," "I Am A Fugitive," "They Won't Forget," and "Alcatraz," have pulled no punches in this one. The slums from which the boys in the story are taken off to reform school are genuine slums, sordid and dirty. The treatment they receive at the school is the same they would receive in any number of such institutions throughout the country. But it is no hopeless picture that "Crime School" presents. The newer, more modern methods of dealing with wayward boys are shown, too, methods calculated to send the boys out into the world equipped for honest and useful adult lives.

In Bogalusa, Louisiana, about sixty negroes have learned to write their names due to the efforts of the Employment Service. These negroes filed for unemployment benefits and signed "X." Interviewers asked them if they wanted to learn to write their names, and finding them eager, taught the negroes.

Administration Endorsement

On the President's recent visit to Wichita Falls on July 11th, the President endorsed our Congressman in the following friendly words, in his speech: "My friends of Wichita Falls, I am glad to come here. My old friend, Congressman McFarlane, has told me much about the 'City that faith built.' That is the finest name that any city in the Nation could have..." "And, incidentally, I have kept in pretty close touch with all of the fine things that you have been doing in recent years. Congressman McFarlane has told me of your reclamation projects, of your subsistence homesteads, of your power developments, and I am glad that the Federal Government knows that you people are on the map."

NEWSPAPER REPORTS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S VISIT TO TEXAS

My Friend McFarlane

WICHITA FALLS POST, July 11, 1938; the President made no direct reference to the Congressional race here, he gave tacit approval to McFarlane, referring to him as 'MY FRIEND CONGRESSMAN McFARLANE.'

"My friend McFarlane has told me of the 'city that faith built' and I can think of no finer name for any city" began the Chief Executive.

"My friend McFarlane has told me of the reclamation projects, the subsistence homesteads and the power developments of this area, and I am glad that the federal government knows you people are on the map."

WICHITA FALLS POST, July 12, 1938: WANTS McFARLANE RE-ELECTED—In a speech last night at Amarillo, Texas, Mr. Roosevelt mentioned the names of several of the Lone Star State's Congressional delegation as the type that HE PREFERRED TO BE IN WASHINGTON. He called the names of Representatives Maury Maverick, Marvin Jones, W. D. McFarlane and Lyndon Johnson, all of whom were on board the President's special train as it sped across Texas.

DALLAS MORNING NEWS, July 12, 1938—McFARLANE GIVEN NOD: Congressman W. D. McFarlane, Graham, representing the Thirteenth District, received in Wichita Falls the presidential nod he had been waiting for. Roosevelt mentioned McFarlane several times as the Congressman stood by his side. The Congressman introduced Allred who was lustily cheered, and the Governor presented the President.

THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Honorable Wm. B. Bankhead writes, "It has been a very genuine personal satisfaction for me to have served with you in the House and no one is in better position than I to have observed the fidelity, diligence and ability with which you have performed the duties of your office as Representative of your District, and I congratulate you upon the high character of public service you have rendered."

FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, July 12, 1938: "McFARLANE COMPLIMENTED. At Wichita Falls President Roosevelt complimented Congressman W. D. McFarlane of Graham. At Chillicothe, McFarlane introduced the President as the greatest humanitarian the country has ever known!"

DALLAS MORNING NEWS, July 16, 1938, written by Mark L. Goodwin, Washington reporter.

The primary election of July 23 will mean much to Texas, its standing in the legislative affairs of the country, and whether Texas influence in Congress is to be continued...

"Committee assignments are ruled by seniority. States that keep their members here get the plums. New members have to go to the foot of the list and work up. If Texas changes its lineup in the House of Representatives it will be another twenty years getting back to where it is now."

OTHER ENDORSEMENTS

Many other important members of Congress and the representatives of the agricultural, labor, oil and livestock interests, all commend and endorse the services of Congressman McFarlane. We know our Congressman is honest, efficient and well qualified to represent us as is shown by his record of 100 per cent in keeping faith with his platform and the support of the President's recovery program. We approve the recognition given our Congressman by the President and all those with whom he has worked. We recognize that only through seniority and honest, faithful service can our representative have the opportunity to reach the heights as others from Texas have done.

Let us return this tried and true friend of the masses and thus express our appreciation of his services and approve the endorsement given him by the President and the leaders of Congress who know him best.
