COMMUNITY SALES BARN WILL BE BUILT

WORK TO BEGIN ON STRUCTURE BY SEPTEMBER 1

Additional Stock to Be Sold During Next Few Days

$500.00 NEEDED

Expect to be Complete Within Two-Three Weeks

Munday will have a Community Sales Barn. This fact was assured this morning when stockholders met in the directors room of the First National Bank and went into a permanent organization.

Reports from committees were heard and these committees reported sufficient stock already subscribed to assure the construction of the project. However, the full quota was not reached and committee men will continue their drive until the full amount has been raised. Reports showed that $1000 had been subscribed up until the time of the meeting this morning. An additional $500 is expected to be raised before the drive is ended.

After going into a permanent organization, a building committee was named composed of Austin Caughran, Oates Golden, and E. W. Harrrell. Following were named trustees of the newly formed organization: C. R. Elliott, W. R. Moore, and Pitzer Baker, with W. E. Braly secretary-treasurer. These two committees will work in cooperation with each other in the construction and leasing of the project. It is requested that anyone who desires to subscribe to this worthy community enterprise assist in the raising of the balance of the necessary funds required to complete the building, see either of the above committees.

Work on the construction of the building is expected to begin not later than September 1st and the project is expected to be completed within two or three weeks, ready for operation. Site has already been selected and plans have been completed to erect a building 40x60 feet on lots situated on the highway between the Farmers Union Gin and Moutray service station. The structure will be of lumber and will contain seats and bleachers sufficient to handle the expected crowds.

This community enterprise was first sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, but is being constructed entirely by public subscription and will be operated as a stock company. Stockholders are expected to receive their original investment back in dividends within five years according to present plans.

Present plans call for a model sales barn. Committees have previously visited other such projects in Texas and Oklahoma and hope to embody all the good features of each of these visited in the local project.

The sales barn when completed will be operated by some individual, yet to be selected. Several parties have already placed their bid for the leasing of the project, but the trustees are yet to let a contract.

Baptist Revival Closed on Sunday With 40 Additions

The revival which has been in progress at the First Baptist Church the past two weeks came to a very successful close Sunday night. The two weeks campaign resulted in forty additions to the church.

Rev. W. H. Albertson, local pastor, did the preaching throughout the campaign and is highly pleased with the results. He stated interest and attendance were both good at all services. Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the Plainview church was to have done the preaching but was forced to cancel the engagement at the last minute. Rev. Albertson has held the pastorate at the local church for ten years and says that the meeting just closed was in his estimation among the best from every standpoint during his ten years service with the local congregation.

Dexter Riddle of Abilene, noted evangelistic singer of West Texas led the singing. The splendid offering at the close of the campaign was indeed very gratifying due to the fact that most everyone in attendance made some kind of contribution.

The hour of crisis never makes or mistakes us; That hour shows forth what is in us.—John McAfee.

Services Held for Drowned Man On Friday Afternoon

Funeral rites for Jack Bradley, who drowned in Croton Creek west of Knox City late Wednesday afternoon, was held at the First Methodist Church in Knox City Friday afternoon.

His body, partially covered with silt, was found late Friday morning a short distance below the spot where he was lost in the swirling waters while attempting to ride horseback across the creek. The father, Sam Bradley, located the body, ending an intensive three-day search. More than 200 persons had been engaged in the hunt.

Young Bradley who would have been 28 years old Sunday, was an employee at the Hugh Roberts ranch. He was accompanied by Roberts when he rode into the swirling waters of Croton Creek. Roberts stated that Bradley disappeared, but the horse gained the bank and the rider was not seen again until his body was recovered Friday.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bradley, and a brother, all employees of the Hugh Roberts ranch.

CITIZENS OF KNOX COUNTY FOR FIFTY YEARS HONORED AUGUST 17

A Golden Jubilee Celebration honoring Knox county pioneers of fifty years residence or more, was held Wednesday, August 17, at the "old Oxford place" about two miles west of the Rhineland crossing, on the north bank of the Brazos river. The occasion was an all day reunion with a basket lunch and steak fry. Mrs. Rotha McClain Berry and J. R. Berry entertained, especially honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McClain, Mrs. Berry's mother and father.

Mr. McClain came to Knox county in 1884, at that time was connected with the Witherspoon Cattle Co., then known as "the nines." He drove cattle up the trail to Kansas before the days of railroad accommodations.

The reunion was held on the old Oxford place, which is quite a historical landmark. A part of the present old ranch house lumber was hauled from Weatherford, Texas by ox team and wagon. Mr. and Mrs. McClain have owned and operated a cattle business on this ranch for thirty-five years.

Judge Charles E. Coombes of Stamford was the guest speaker of the day. He is a pioneer of this country and paid high tribute to the frontiersmen of the plains of Knox county.

Mr. Jim Moody of Truscott is the first resident of the county and Mr. Pete Moody signed many papers in connection with the organization of the county in 1886.

The group organized into a permanent "Pioneer Knox County Club" and will meet annually near the middle of August. All those who have passed the half century mark of residence in Knox County will become members. An election of officers were held and the following head the new organization: George Isbell, president; Earl Sams, first vice-president; Mrs. Rotha McClain Berry agreed to act as secretary-treasurer of the club, though not a member.

Many experiences were exchanged, and stories reminiscent of the pioneer days enjoyed throughout the day. Pioneers who were in Knox County in 1888 are:

Mary Hurd McClain, W. T. McClain, Benjamin; Florence Houston Smith, John Smith, Knox City; Vernie Houston (Mrs. J. R.) Chamber of Commerce Asks Help For City Drainage System

Vote Saturday!

For the second time in the past five weeks people of Texas will go to the polls Saturday and cast their ballots for their favorite candidates. Democratic nominees for state, district, county and precinct offices will be named.

It is the duty of every qualified voter to exercise his or her rights in naming these nominees. If a voter fails to exercise this right, they should not complain if county and state affairs are not run in accordance with their ideas.

By all means, go to the polls Saturday and cast your ballot.

Will Ask City Aid In Making Required Survey

The Chamber of Commerce has been working diligently on a project whereby a new drainage system for the streets of Munday may be made possible. Under the present plans, the organization is working toward a PWA or WPA grant for the project. At their regular meeting Monday, a representative of the firm of Hawley, Freese & Nichols, engineers of Ft. Worth, were present and discussed the possibility of such a plan.

Several requirements would have to be met by the city officials before application for such a grant would be acceptable by the Public Works Administration. Among them would be a complete survey of the proposed project giving estimated costs and other necessary details required by WPA or PWA officials. This survey, we understand, would require some two or three weeks to complete and would be made at an estimated cost of between three and four hundred dollars. The chamber of commerce, like most civic organizations, does not have the necessary funds for making such a survey and expect to meet jointly with the City Council at their next regular meeting and request that they assume the responsibility and expense of making said survey. As to just what action the city council will take, remains to be seen. Councilmen have not committed themselves on the matter.

In order to be eligible for a federal grant, the city council, chamber of commerce or some other organization must have completed a survey by reputable engineers giving estimated costs and other necessary application papers properly filled out and in the office of federal authorities at Washington before September 30, which is the deadline for all federal grants under the present setup.

BULLETIN!

The following article appeared in the City Edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Saturday, August 13th, 1938.

"At least one run-off candidate for Representative felt that the O'Daniel blessing would be beneficial to the chosen six, and made a personal effort to get a nod for himself.

"He was B. W. Snody of Benjamin. Calling at the O'Daniel residence yesterday, he was told by the nominee that he was not considering making any other endorsements at this time."

On Tuesday, August 23rd, the following was published in the Star-Telegram under the heading, Letters From the People:

Editor Star-Telegram: In Lee O'Daniel's first campaign most of his talks were on old age pensions and to do away with politicians of Texas. A few days after his nomination he comes out and endorses a bunch of men for the people of Texas to vote for, among them Mr. Terrell, whom I have been voting for since I was a boy and I am now 66 years old. O'Daniel would go ahead with the old age pension. The people would like to know what could five of these people he endorsed have to do with the old age pension.

It looks as if he knew, as well as I, that he couldn't give the people the old age pension at $30 a month, when $15 was our limit. I don't believe the thinking people are going to follow his endorsement."

Guinn Hardware Complimented by Case Publication

The Case Eagle, official organ of the J. I. Case Implement Co., devoted a page space in their August-September issue concerning their Munday dealer, Guinn Hardware Co. Prior to the publication of the article, a dealer-salesman meeting was held at the Guinn Hardware store in this city. The story in the Case Eagle was illustrated with three different views of the local business concern.

The story in part follows: This group of pictures was taken recently at a dealer-salesman meeting held at the place of our good dealer Ben Guinn of Munday, Texas. This was an outstanding meeting in every respect.

Dealer Guinn has a very fine place of business which occupies practically an entire city block. He has an excellent outside display of seasonal machinery. The inside of his building looks just as good as it does outside. He keeps everything in an orderly manner. He has an up-to-date machine shop which is operated by expert mechanics. He has a wide following of trade with both service work and new sales. He has the happy faculty and ability to dispose of used machinery promptly. He has a fine department that works over old machinery and implements, fits them up completely, paints them and properly displays them on the spacious display grounds surrounding his place of business. He draws trade from many miles around in this process.

Mentioned also in this article in conjunction with the staging of the meeting and its success were J. L. Stodghill, blockman for Case in this district, whose home is in this city, and D. T. Mauldin, of Abilene, a former resident of this city and now a blockman for the Case organization.

Those Hidden Taxes

Taxation has become a rather general topic of conversation.

We have heard a lot about the sales tax; that this affords the best possible means of distributing the tax burden.

None need kid himself he is not paying taxes—and paying plenty of taxes. Most of them are of the "hidden" variety.

It finds that 55 cents in taxes is tacked onto the price of a $5 cotton dress; that a $6 pair of shoes includes 59 cents in taxes; that a $45 woolen suit would be $5.22 less were it not for hidden taxes.

Indirect taxes were figured by the insurance company on nine staple products. The findings:

- Silk knit goods, 11.1 per cent of retail price. Shoes, 9.7 per cent of retail price. Woolen garments, 11.6 per cent. Flour, 5.7 per cent. Bread, 7 per cent. Beef, 8.2 per cent. Pork, 8.2 per cent. Sugar, 18.2 per cent.

Principal taxes contributing to these estimates were listed by the bureau as follows:

Growers' realty taxes, gasoline taxes and licenses on motor cars used for deliveries in various steps of getting the product from the original producer to the ultimate consumer, the 9 per cent tax element in railroad freight rates, realty taxes on property occupied by manufacturers, brokers, jobbers, wholesalers, retailers, import duties, licenses and franchises; excise taxes and employers' contributions to social security, unemployment and old-age pensions.

Because income and excess profits taxes and some other levies of the type most difficult to pass on in selling prices, they were not included in the estimates.

The tax problem, growing with American spending, deserves a lot more attention than our congress appears to have given it.—San Angelo Morning Times.

Honor These Men

THIS time of year is featured in Texas by meetings throughout the state of local pioneers' and old settlers' associations. Reports of a number of gatherings already held have been appearing in State newspapers, and other such reunions are scheduled for the next few weeks.

These meetings ordinarily are made the occasion for community festivities of one kind or another, but their primary purpose remains that of doing honor to the still-living men and women who had a part in hewing the Texas of today out of the wilderness of yesterday.

They came to Texas when it was still a frontier. They built homes, they set about the business of rearing families, they established local governments. These pioneers of Texas are as truly worthy of honor as those heroes who died in the successful effort to achieve the independence of Texas.

Vote for Merick McGaughey for County Superintendent of Schools

Since, as citizens of the county, we are interested in the welfare of the schools and of all of the school children of Knox County we wish to recommend Merick McGaughey to the voters for the position of County School Superintendent.

As to his qualifications, Mr. McGaughey holds an A.B. degree and an A.M. degree and is thoroughly posted on all school matters pertaining to the local schools and to the state school system.

We would like to call attention to the good vote that he received in this home box and in those places nearest to his home. The people that really know him like him.

Merick McGaughey is friendly and always knows you wherever he sees you. We feel that if you elect him to a public office that he will be an honor to the position. He stands for equal opportunities for all school children. He is not guilty of favoritism.

(The above article was written and paid for by his friends who have known Merick McGaughey for from twenty-five to thirty-five years.)

Are You a Hypocrite

The average motorist is an unconscious hypocrite. That's a strong characterization—but a little impersonal analysis will substantiate it.

How often have you roundly criticized some driver for an offense which you commit periodically yourself? How often have you taken comfort in the thought that accidents are caused by some reckless breed of motorists with whom you have nothing in common, thus dodging the fact that only pure fool's luck has saved you from a crash on a dozen occasions?

It is a fact that a large proportion of accidents are caused by the reckless ten per cent, but the other ninety per cent periodically take chances and are responsible for many of our annual auto deaths.

Who, for example, doesn't sometimes pass a car when the stretch of empty road that can be seen is too short for safety? Who doesn't occasionally succumb to the lure of excessive speed—even though he has little or nothing to do when his destination is reached? Who doesn't periodically neglect necessary repairs to brakes, lights or steering mechanisms, on the theory that he will get around to it when more convenient?

We'll go a good way toward reducing accidents when the average driver begins asking himself such questions and returning honest answers. Accident prevention, so far as it concerns the human element, is a personal, individual matter, and each individual has to really want to drive safely at all times before he can analyze his driving errors and correct them.

Doom of Democracy

If it is established in the Mexican instance that a Latin American Government can arbitrarily confiscate the property of American companies and American investors without paying for it fully and promptly, this will give collectivists in those countries such a powerful weapon that collectivist policies, whether fascist or communistic, will become almost general throughout Latin America.

Social Security Not New

We hear a great deal about "social security" these days. But there's nothing new about it. For social security has been the stock-in-trade of one of the great American private industries for decades.

Policies have various names—but all of them are designed to provide social security in one way or another. It may be security for you or your business or your wife or your children. It may be any one of many kinds of protection. In every instance, its purpose is to guard you and yours against those exigencies which are the creators of social "insecurity."

Fame: The rise of Tommy Riggs and his lovable Betty Lou goes Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy one better. The mythical little girl is portrayed by Riggs without the use of even a dummy. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

West Texas Own Cotton Problem

Editor Times: For several years the cotton farmer has been following leaders who work to solve his difficulties by reducing cotton acreage and thereby reducing supply.

Leading cotton men and leading economists of the South were warning the cotton farmer by every means available that the program of acreage reduction would lead to increased production of foreign cotton and decreased consumption of American cotton in foreign lands and would result in disaster for the South's great cotton industry.

Distaster has come; cotton is lower in gold and in purchasing power than it was in the darkest days of the Hoover administration. In fact, much cotton in the country between Wichita Falls and Littlefield sold as low in 1937 as any cotton in this territory sold in 1932, and cotton is at least one cent per pound lower in dollar value now than it was one year ago.

The brain-trusters, the megalomaniacs with a delusion of grandeur, and a delusion of infallibility, aided and upheld by rubber stamp congressmen who passed bills in many cases without reading them, have utterly failed to improve the condition of the cotton farmers of West Texas.

Faced with the failure of their grandiose but impractical schemes and confronted with the cold fact that while the world uses about 5,000,000 more bales of cotton in a year now than it was using in 1932, it is using about 4,000,000 less bales of American cotton each year than it used in 1932, those who have led us for five years are looking for an alibi.

It seems that the cotton farmer refuses to raise cotton of long enough staple and high enough grade, and that he is too stubborn to change. Well-informed cotton men are predicting that next year the government loan will be only on cotton of one and one-fourth inch or longer staple.

Now, all I know is West Texas. In fact, about all I know is Knox and Baylor counties, but I bitterly deny that the solution of our difficulties or even their amelioration is longer staple cotton.

Thirty years ago I heard a gin man say, "I have ginned 10 crops of cotton on Knox prairies, and nine of them were made in September." Almost 90 per cent of the cotton made in West Texas is made in September. Ask any cotton farmer who has had experience with 10 or 12 crops in this country.

The first cotton planted in this county was planted in 1887. It was many years before this was a cotton country. The varieties we had were from East Texas. They would not open. Cold weather caught the bolls and they only cracked. Even with the introduction of half-and-half Kasch-Mebane and other varieties bred to mature quickly and miss the boll weevil, we are still caught sometimes with most of our cotton unopened when frost comes.

Texas from Seymour west has a rainfall of less than 25 inches. The elevation is from 1,200 feet above sea level to around 3,000 feet at Littlefield. Our climate is altogether different from the climate of the rest of the cottonbelt.

In this cotton world one man alone and unaided can without too much labor or any great investment in machinery plant and cultivate 100 acres of cotton. One hundred acres of cotton in this area will produce from 5 to 100 bales of cotton in one year.

Our cotton opens late and too often is gathered in the dead of winter. Our trouble in West Texas is not short staple; it is low grade. If we pull it, the longer staple is the lowest grade because a bolly gin has too much machinery for long staple cotton.

Forty years ago this country from Wichita Falls southwest, west and northwest was almost a wilderness. Cotton farmers, stubborn, ignorant cotton farmers, came here and by raising and marketing low grade, short staple, bolly cotton brought money from England, Germany, and Japan and paid for cities, for railroads, for concrete highways.

When we, the stubborn cotton farmers, had done all this, a congress met in a city 3,000 miles away and in the name of the "more abundant life" played Santa Claus with our great cotton industry and transferred our cotton from the prairies to Mexico, Brazil and other countries.

Meanwhile, in Knox county in March 1938, had 3,598 schoolistics in March 1938, it had less than 3,000 which indicated a loss of 2,000 in our population.

A Seymour merchant a few years ago sent an implement firm 1,000 names of farmers for its subscription list to a company paper. This year this same merchant could find only 675 names of farmers in Baylor county.

The farmers who have been forced to leave Knox and Baylor counties are looking somewhere outside of West Texas for the "more abundant life."

The pupils in high school have begun reading story books, as one of the requirements of the state department of education.

Some of the boys seem to be expert at horse shoe pitching, their favorite sport at present.

We received more equipment for our science laboratory, and we hope the science class will profit by it, and become more interested in their work.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

The Seniors seem to be progressing in English Literature. They have completed the short stories and biographies. They have taken a test on them and are now taking up the study of poetry, a form of human expression they hope they will enjoy more than the others.

We wonder since when Jefferson and Washington were the first presidents of Texas and Earl Sams our District Attorney.

JUNIOR REPORT

Now that we have begun to really learn a small amount of German, we can use it when we speak to each other. This fact points to success in our German class, and you may be sure the juniors will strive to be successful.

Although geometry seems to be a very difficult subject we are very progressive, according to Mr. Hoffman, and he should know.
The juniors were very pleased to have Mr. Hughes, the county superintendent, visit us last week. Since there is little activity during the summer session, we regret that we cannot publish a great amount of news. But you may be sure that we will report all activities as regularly as we can.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

The Sophomores are working very hard in economic geography. We find the course very interesting. Three weeks have passed, and we have learned quite a bit during this short time. At least we think we have.

The class is taking great interest in Algebra. This is our first year of algebra. We are progressing nicely, that is, our teacher said so!

FRESHMAN REPORT

The eighth grade students are progressing nicely in their studies. We are performing many experiments in science now and will perform more later on.

We are studying hard for examinations that are so near. In history we are comparing the old weapons and the ways of living with those of today.

GRADE SCHOOL

Two weeks have now passed and the new books are very interesting. We are glad to have Mr. Hoffman as our agriculture teacher. It is very interesting for us.

Dr. Fidelia Moylette was in Wichita Falls last Thursday on business.

Dolores Campbell returned the past week-end from a ten days vacation spent in Corpus Christi. She returned to her position in the city secretary's office Monday morning.

Public Notice

The undersigned regret that it seems advisable to take public notice of certain malicious reports that were circulated in this section during the closing days of the first primary election. We refer to those baseless rumors which were spread in our neighboring communities in connection with the county superintendent's campaign. With an obvious motive of destroying the candidacy of Mr. John B. Ingram, it was circulated that it was the design of the Munday school authorities to sponsor the election of Mr. Ingram with a view of having his cooperation in the consolidation of three neighboring county high schools at Munday.

Therefore, neither as individuals nor as an official body, in public or in private, have we ever mentioned such an absurd scheme. The report is wholly false.

We believe the employment of such tactics is an unwarranted attack upon the intelligence and integrity of Mr. Ingram and the Munday School Board and that the person or persons originating such report are guilty of the use of dishonorable political strategy.

Gerald C. Mann Expects Landslide Victory Saturday

Sherman, Aug. 25.—Predicting a "Mann-slide" at the polls Saturday in the attorney general's race, Gerald C. Mann, candidate for this office, declared at a rally here Thursday night that "the political racketeers can't stop us now."

"From every county in Texas, except such as Duval and one or two more which are notoriously ruled by political machines," he said, "are coming a deluge of messages that Mann will win by a large majority. The united ranks of supporters who voted 643,000 strong in the July primary for Mann, Bob Calvert and Judge Ralph Yarbrough are joining in the common cause of replacing an old-line politician with a lawyer fresh from the ranks of the people and with the people's interest at heart. Both Bob Calvert and Judge Yarbrough, candidates in the July primary, have thrown their support to Mann in the runoff."

"Texas people know what they want of their next administration—old age pensions, fairness to all classes, and the banishment of political racketeers," Mann declared. "They know they can't expect these from a man who has already ruled against pensions, thereby cutting thousands of old people off the pension rolls, and who for 21 years has served special interests and

When you drink Beer in a tavern... choose your tavern

WHEN YOU restrict your patronage to legal, respectable retail outlets, you not only encourage those better outlets but you've made a start toward driving out the bad spots in your community.

And that is exactly the aim of the great body of honest retailers of beer who, along with the brewers, recognize that Beer's only problem is to remove the anti-social conditions that sometimes surround its sale. Existing laws can curb these evils. Help us by demanding their strict enforcement! Sales to minors, or after legal hours... or use of a beer license as a screen, for selling illicit liquor or for operating an illicit resort... all these are violations of the law and should be stopped. Public opinion, once aroused, can see that such practices are stopped!

KEEP MILK SAFE! ...IT IS THE FIRST RULE

OF ALL-WEATHER FOOD-KEEPING

● Keep milk fresh and pure, if your family is to have one of Nature's most wholesome foods. To be sure milk is as fresh as the minute it's delivered to you, the U. S. Government recommends that you store it in a refrigerator, where the temperature is 50 degrees or less. Above 50 degrees, milk spoils rapidly, curdles, gets sour. Other food, not so easily detected as milk, spoils too in higher temperatures. Below 50 degrees, milk and other food is safe. Check your refrigeration now!

AND MAKES ICE CHEAPER THAN YOU CAN BUY IT!

● Don't waste money or endanger health with spoiled food! Keep foods safe in a modern electric refrigerator. And save money at the same time!

An Electric Refrigerator keeps foods safe, sweet, fresh, and saves you money every way there is to save. Saves on Current... on Food... on Ice... on Upkeep. You must save All Four Ways—or you may not save at all! And in addition, a Frigidaire provides a remarkable ice service for all-year needs—freezing tremendous quantities of ice cheaper than you can buy it!

Visit your electric refrigeration dealer. Ask for proof that shows you food is safe... even in the hottest weather. You'll be amazed to learn how much money you can actually save, too.

J. W. Sipes and Georgia Faye Little were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage at five-thirty, August 20, with Rev. W. H. Albertson officiating. The only attendants were Misses Mildred Howeth and Odessa Little (sister of the bride).

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Little and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sipes. Both were popular among the younger set of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Sipes left soon after the ceremony for Olney, Texas, to attend the Golden Wedding celebration of the groom's grandparents.

Each girl proposed a toast, in rhyme, after which a history of the ball teams was presented, also in rhyme scheme. Following the meal the girls presented the honoree with a number of parting gifts as a symbol of their appreciation for her excellent coaching and lasting friendship.

METHODIST CHURCH

For the last two Sundays we have not had regular church services as I was away in revival and the Baptist revival was on here in Munday. We are now resuming our regular services and asking that we have a full attendance at both morning and evening hours of worship. The hours are 11 a.m. and 8 p.m., with Sunday School meeting at 10 a.m.

Since September is our rally month and people are returning from the vacation season to regular attendance, we urge each one to be on the lookout for recruits and not to fall us in returning 100 per cent back to the services.

Neither Haskell nor Seymour will carry on our work here for us. This is our task as a Methodist church to advance the Kingdom of God and the task will be not better done than we rally to the cause and fulfill our mission. With a will to work and a consecrated life to the Cause, let's enter the fall with courage and optimism.

Edgar Jones, wife and two daughters, Juracy and Lola, of Munday, Texas, visited in our home last Sunday. Mr. Jones worked on the 84 ranch in Eddy County, New Mexico, when I was general manager of the ranch in 1901 and 1902.

In 1901 he helped move 5000 head of cattle to Portales, N.M. At this place they established another ranch. He went to South America in 1913 with the Matador Cattle Co., as the ranch manager. He managed the Matador ranches in South America for 12 years.

He married one of the most beautiful young ladies of that country, and I will say that she is still beautiful.

Mr. Jones was livestock agent and superintended the building of the first stockpens for the first railroad that was built in the state of Matto Grosso, in which he lived while in South America. He was also the first to ship cattle from Matto Grosso to San Paula.

On account of his mother's old age he returned to the States to live and also visit his brothers and sisters who live here. He ranches in Knox County, but longs to return to South America. He came to Gaines County for a visit with us and to enjoy the Hobbs rodeo.

Under New Management

We wish to announce to the public that we have purchased the stock, fixtures and goodwill of the Piggy Wiggly store formerly owned and operated by Ed Foytik and are again ready to serve you with your grocery needs. We are restocking the store with fresh and staple groceries as rapidly as is possible under the present circumstances.

Extensive improvements are being made throughout the store. New meat and other fixtures are being installed as fast as they arrive and we hope to give you when finished, one of the most up-to-date Piggy Wiggly stores in this section of the country.

Messrs Ed Foytik and Ralph Loran, formerly connected with the store, will be retained with the new firm and will be ready and willing to assist you with your shopping needs at all times.

OUR POLICY

We expect to operate strictly under the Piggy Wiggly system . . . cash and carry. Always the first to reduce prices as cost decline, Piggy Wiggly feels it their duty to lower the cost of living for their customers. Today prices are exceptionally low. We are firm believers in a large volume of sales at a minimum markup, rather than smaller sales at higher prices. Our method of operation makes it possible for us to offer lower prices all through the store.

We especially invite the public to come in and get acquainted and see for themselves what a modern grocery and market we have.

News From Our County Agent

Sleeping sickness of horses is making its appearance in the county. A good many cases have been reported in the county during the past few days, according to reports coming in to the county agent's office. Prompt action in getting the services of a veterinarian will aid greatly in saving a valuable work animal. Farmers should watch their horses very closely for any symptoms of sluggishness, especially as they move about. The affected horse acts as if it had blind staggers. It is very difficult to lead to water.

Farmers who have been careless in disposing of sacks used in securing poison bran in their fight against grasshoppers. These sacks can be found scattered around the barns and lots, and found hanging on fences along the fields and pastures. These sacks are very appetizing to livestock since they have absorbed a great deal of black strap molasses along with the aroma of banana oil and some bran. A cow may be saved by burning these old sacks and destroying any bran left on hand. It will be useless for any other use.

Twelve 4-H club boys attended the district club encampment held at Diversion Dam Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. The following boys from this county attended: L. N. Bridges, Knox City; Joe Dean Clough, Munday; Billy Robinson, Goree; Darwin Shipman, Gaylon Scott, Elton Scott, Joe Wayne Robinson, Charles Robinson, Finis Bratcher, Hope Bratcher, Wade McGuire, all of Vera; and Lowell Cure, Gilliland. Clifford Roberson and Walter Rice acted as sponsors of the Knox County boys. One hundred boys from this district attended the camp.

County Agent Walter Rice and Assistant Agent Jack Welch left Tuesday to take the adjusted late work sheets to College Station in order to rush up the subsidy payments. The county committee had to make adjustments on all work sheets signed in March and April of this year to conform to the quota set by the State Office before payments will be made on this group of signers. By taking these work sheets to the State Office, payment will be speeded up considerably. The applications of the old signers are already in the State Office and the speed with which payments will be made will be entirely in the hands of the State Office. The county office is doing everything possible to get the subsidy applications to the State Office before the big rush starts there.

Cotton leaf worms are doing a great deal of damage in the county, according to reports from farmers. Calcium arsenate mixed at the rate of three pounds to 50 gallons of water is the recommended method of control by the Experiment Stations. Lead arsenate is also good but the cost is prohibitive for use in large quantities. Any mixture of white arsenic and soda is not recommended and is dangerous to use, because it will burn the leaves.

Terrell Seeks Reelection On His Records

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, is running for re-election on the achievements of the Commission during his 14 years as a member.

Among these he lists: Saving up to 64 per cent of the oil beneath new oil fields in the State through enforcement of conservation laws, curbing of hot oil, yet holding down gasoline prices for the motorist.

Slashing freight rates generally and preventing a number of increases which if granted would have cost the raw material producers and the consumers of the State millions of dollars annually.

Gas Rates Reduced Cutting rates on natural gas to consumers nearly $500,000 annually and issuing other orders which if sustained by the courts will save an additional $1,500,000 annually for consumers.

"To win this fight against the gas companies and save additional millions for the consuming public, experience is needed at the throttle."

Oil Aids Schools It will be recalled that it was C. V. Terrell working with other members of the Railroad Commission that stabilized the oil industry back in the days when oil in East Texas was selling at ten cents per barrel and in North Texas at as low as 15 cents per barrel. Judge Terrell realized then, as he realizes now, that the oil industry must remain stabilized, if new drilling continues, new fields found, and the great natural resource of oil is conserved for this generation as well as posterity. Today the Available School Fund alone receives more than $8,000,000 each year from the gross production tax on oil which is computed on a per barrel price. The proper administration of the oil proration laws of Texas means much to the school children of Texas. Judge Terrell has always been on the right side of public questions of this nature.

Among the many accomplishments of his public career, Judge Terrell ranks high a sample exploit that has now become nationwide in scope. He instituted the system of employing part-time workers worthy University of Texas students who need the work to remain in college.

The orders he has signed as Railroad Commissioner show a keen balance of consideration for the raw-materials of the producer and the consumer. He has caused to be lowered gas rates to the consumer in several cities of the State, all such orders having been sustained by the courts except one. He has saved millions of dollars for farmers and consumers of cotton goods by reducing freight rates. He aided in preventing a raise in rates covering grain transportation, later securing a reduction in rates on grain moving into drought-stricken sections of Texas. Judge Terrell has worked for and obtained low rates on shipments of stocker cattle resulting in an improvement in the herds of Texas.

Wrote Proration Order

In 1928 Judge Terrell and the then chairman of the Commission the late Clarence Gilmore, wrote the first oil proration order of Texas history. Without legal guide or precedent, Judge Terrell has helped guide the Railroad Commission through the turbulent waters of oil control until today 99 per cent of the oil men in State readily thank the Commission for a prosperity that brings into Texas annually $700 per family in the State. As a Railroad Commissioner, Judge Terrell also has been closely in touch with leasing of public lands for oil development and has brought into the permanent school fund millions of dollars through his careful attention to his duties along that line. His pioneer work on proration gives him a background of fact to draw on to answer never-ending oil problems.

BEWARE!

The supporters of W. D. McFarlane's candidacy for Congress have caused to be circulated throughout the congressional district a false and scurrilous affidavit dated August 13, 1938, and signed by H. M. Stafford, a resident of Wichita Falls.

This affidavit is wholly false, made as a last-minute appeal to distract voters of the district from the REAL issues of the current congressional campaign.

WHO IS H. M. STAFFORD?

We invite the voters to investigate his standing and reputation from any reliable resident of Wichita Falls!

Attention of the voters of the 13th district is called to the fact that this affidavit is an old political trick of the McFarlane Machine.

of last-minute false propaganda, habitually used by the McFarlane Machine!

If the Stafford "affidavit" were true, wouldn't the alleged attackers have been arrested and fined? Wouldn't the Stafford "affidavit" have carried, in big type, such information!

There's A Heap o' Living, Contentment And Scenery in "Them Thar Hills"

Miss Maude Isbell tells Of Her Visit in the Ozarks

Miss Maude Isbell who is spending her vacation in the Ozarks, writes of her impressions, a beautiful pen picture of the mountains, forests and the plain people who are God-fearing and apparently contented with "A heap o' living," plenty of scenery and Mother Nature as their constant companion. Her letter follows:

"Today as I look out over the blue mountains, I think of Harold Bell Wright, frail, intelligent and one of our most beloved fiction writers; of Bob Burns, of the screen, gay, happy-go-lucky seemingly, but one of the most human of all the screen's beloved. Into these hills, these came. One lived and walked among the mountain peoples, year gone by, and gave to us what his heart felt of life and religion as lived rather than preached.

The other, living now, when possible, in these same hills, finds rest and relaxation and peace after a hectic round of work and play. We arrived in Little Rock, Ark., at 8:05 a.m., August 6, and after a hurried breakfast began our tour of the city.

I've never met such friendliness as in the Ozarks. At every place, we met a cordial welcome, and the visit to the Museum of Fine Arts in Little Rock, as well as the visit to the Capitol building were in themselves a compensation for the day's stopover.

We came through Russellville and on to Lurton, our destination, the following day. We are 2 1/2 miles from Lurton on the 40 acre farm that Miss Buckholt recently bought.

Literally on top of the mountain, we see for miles nothing but trees, trees. We walk, each of us having a staff to push away the vines, or as I usually do, to lean upon.

Such masses of wild blackberries, raspberries, huckleberries, himilaya berries, strawberries and dewberries as are here, beside wild cherries and of course, persimmons and most all kind of nuts.

Our neighbors have told me of the hills—things it seems hard to write about—such feeling as they bear. They give of their best to us, and I have found new friends to keep and cherish.

I shall never again say that we have the only farming land, for on a few acres these people live and have such an abundance.

However, there is very little above the living, and one sees very little machinery here. There are three CCC camps near here and as this place is in the center of forest preserves, we can see two "forest towers" from our yard.

We have feasted on squirrel, and I'm hoping I find time to write of our fishing trip. Yesterday, the men killed 2 copperhead snakes and warned us again as to being careful.

The town of Lurton has an interesting history, and I shall write of it next. Tomorrow, we go to Harrison, 47 miles north of here, just to see the country. Scenery? It is ALL scenery, and cool breezes and clear spring water.

I am glad I came into the hills rather than the tourist roads, or resorts. We have been near the people and have enjoyed fully the life they live. There has been fun, plenty, and incidents worthy of a more fertile pen than mine. Greetings from the Cool Ozarks!

MAUDE ISBELL

YOU Are In The OIL BUSINESS If You Live in Texas

YOU as a citizen of Texas are an interested royalty-holder in over 10,000,000 acres of rich oil lands. All of the royalty and outstanding oil payments from these oil lands goes into either the Public and State School Fund or the General Revenue Fund.

Under the administration of C. V. Terrell as Chairman and as a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas the oil industry and the Public School Fund have enjoyed a steady and constant income unequalled by any other industry or source of income during a like period of time.

C. V. Terrell's record of public service is one of outstanding merit and his honesty and integrity are UNQUESTIONED.

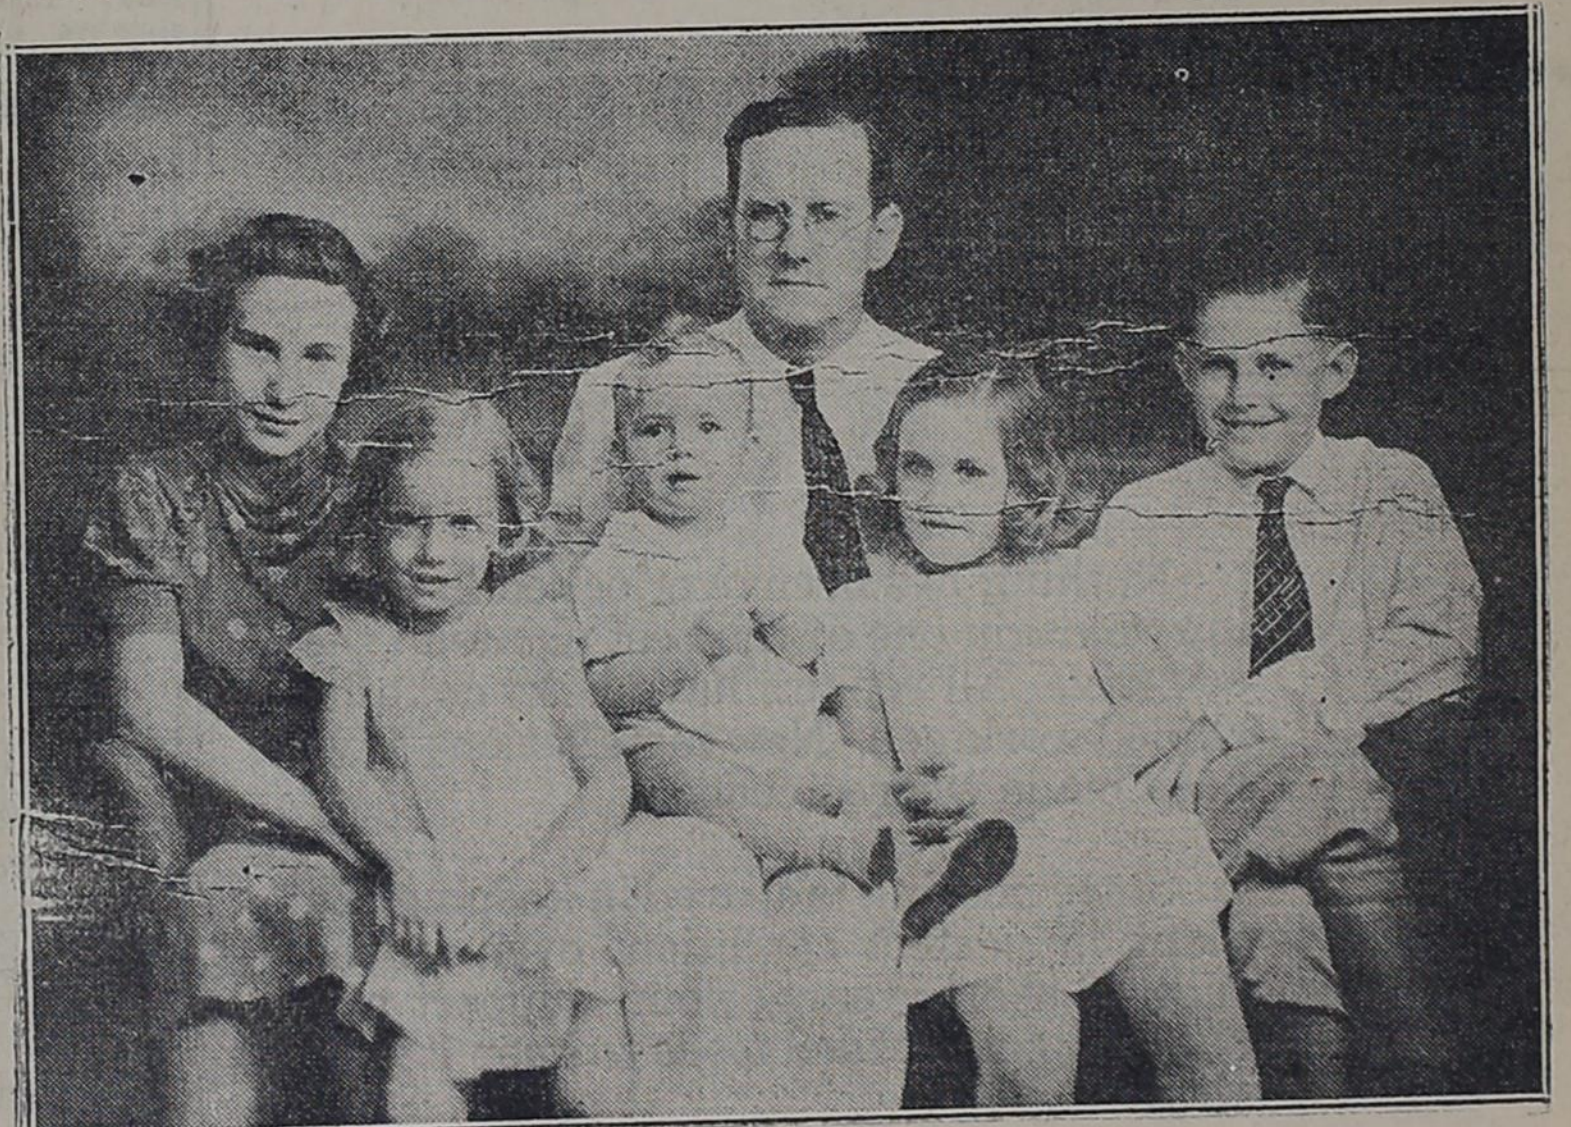

C. V. Terrell has the unqualified endorsement of the independent oil operators in this and other sections of the state. Ask any of them, and we feel that to EXPERIMENT with an untried and unproven man in this important position at this time would be fatal to our interests.

A vote for C. V. TERRELL is a vote for Continued Stability in the Oil Industry and for the assurance of a Permanent Fund for the future Education of the School Children of Texas.

We know he is our tried and true friend... We know he understands the problems of our homes, our schools, our churches, as well as our Government... We know he brings us a perfect record, not a vote of which is challenged as wrong... We know he has voted for lower interest and utility rates and has supported the Democratic program and platform which has more than doubled our income... We know he has the endorsement of all who toil, including the Agricultural, Labor, Oil and the Livestock interests... We know the opposition is supported by the utility interests and the 4 per cent who own 90 per cent of the wealth of the nation... IN THE GRADES

The first grade pupils are doing well. They think school is a nice place. They are proud of the things they are making.

The third grade seems to be very interested in their work. They are working on a circus unit and are putting on a play, "The Circus Comes to Town."

The fourth grade is glad to have Bettie Sue Saunders back in school after nearly two weeks illness.

The Birdie

Little birdie in the tree,
Won't you sing a sweet little song for me?
I love to hear you sing,
For you can make the tree-top ring.

Fifth Grade

The sixth grade pupils are going very rapidly in English. They are presenting four plays this six weeks. They are doing good in the other subjects, too.

AMONG THE CLASSES

In the Home Economics class the freshmen are studying a break-fast unit. They are now on fruit, and have had one laboratory lesson on it.

They enjoyed having Juanice Jones of Munday as a guest of the class last week, and they hope she enjoyed her visit.

The Sophomores are getting practice in teaching. In English they are studying Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography.

The Juniors are proud of their one new member who is Joe Nelson. He is rapidly proving himself an apt pupil and the class has high hopes for him.

The class is busy trying to get the hang of Plane Geometry which is new to them. They have also found some interesting work in the American History class in studying the colonization of America and the hardships of the colonists.

Classes have got well under way by now and the Seniors are doing their best to be the most outstanding class in school.

The Senior class enjoyed a moving picture Wednesday morning. The picture was shown in connection with an outline of early American Literature which the Seniors have been studying. The moving picture was shown with the new moving picture machine which has recently been purchased by the school for the purpose of making classes more enjoyable.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Leland Floyd started to school again.

We wonder why Laverne and Joe have so much in common.

Can you imagine Robert Travis in a romantic picture imitating Robert Taylor?

Cleta, where have I heard this phrase before? "Now, Cleta, this is only my cousin."

Ralph, I hear you are finally giving the girls a break. Nice work if you can get it.

J.R., we all like your name. John Robert is a very pretty name, especially the latter part. It makes us think of a handsome young man with the initials of R.T. Catch, catch???

Some of the girls are making plans for houses in Home Ec. We wonder . . . ? ? ?

It's remarkable how some people can always manage to get close to each other. What's your opinion on that, Laverne?

Giving tests seem to be your hobby, isn't it Mrs. Cash? I suppose we shouldn't object though. Books and authors are so easy to remember.

Virginia, why are you looking so downcast lately? You're not slipping with an Ex are you? Catch, catch???

Junior, you didn't have to swallow a little dip under certain circumstances the other day, did you? Speaking of snuff, what brand do you use, Orville?

Can anyone tell me what this means? It seems to be a question that a Junior girl asked a Junior boy, or maybe him. Anyway, here it is. "Joe, have you ever heard the 'Isle of View'?" Maybe you can figure it out. I . . . can.

Migratory Bird Laws Released

Dove Regulations Are Less Stringent; Duck Season Longer

Dove hunters of Texas will not be subjected to a series of conflicting regulations such as confused ones last year.

Compared to those of last year, the 1938 regulations are fairly uniform.

Combined state and federal laws governing both mourning and white-winged doves provide the following open seasons:

From Sept. 1 to Oct. 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Sara, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin, and Hunt, and all counties north thereof, and the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta and Franklin.

In the remainder of the state the open season on both species is from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15. Below the Texas-Mexican Railway in the Rio Grande Valley, however, only four days of each week during the open season will be allowed.

on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sunday—but this exception is not applicable to Webb and Zapata counties.

The hours for shooting mourning and white-winged doves during the open season are from 7 a. m. to sunset.

Neither species may be shot with a weapon other than a shotgun, and it shall not be larger than a No. 10 gauge. If it is a repeating or automatic shotgun it must be permanently plugged to a three-shell capacity.

The daily bag limit is 15 in the aggregate of both mourning and white-wing doves. The possession limit is also 15 in the aggregate of both species.

Baiting of doves of either variety is prohibited by federal regulations.

Under new federal migratory waterfowl regulations announced recently Texas duck hunters will have a 45-day open season this year compared to a 30 day open season in 1937; and in addition may shoot a limited number of species hitherto protected.

The open season on ducks and geese, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe, and coot, is from Nov. 15 to Dec. 29.

The open season on rails and gallinules, except coot, is from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30.

Not only has the open season on ducks and geese been lengthened, but the possession limits have been doubled.

The bag limit on ducks, except the wood duck, is 10 in the aggregate of all kinds, the same as last season, but the possession limit has been doubled to 20 in the aggregate.

This season hunters may take three canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads or ruddy duck in their daily bag, or an aggregate of three birds of the different species. The possession limit has been increased to 10 in the aggregate.

The daily bag limit on geese and brant is five in the aggregate of all kinds, and the possession limit has been increased to 10 in the aggregate.

The daily bag limit on rails and gallinules, except sora and coot, is continued at 15 in the aggregate of all kinds. The possession limit is the same.

Bag limits for some of the other migratory birds (game) are: Sora, 15; coot, 25; Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe, 15. In each case the possession limit may not exceed the daily bag limit. New Federal regulation added this year forbids the rallying of coot for hunting.

As was the case last year, waterfowl and coot may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Not more than 2 day's bag limit of lawfully taken and lawfully possessed ducks and geese may be transported in one calendar week, transportation last year was limited to one day's bag.

Chief restriction in this year's federal regulations that have been continued from last year are:

Baiting of waterfowl and doves and the use of live duck and goose decoys in hunting waterfowl are not authorized regardless of the distance between bait or decoys and the shooter.

Three-shell limit on repeating or automatic shotguns, in effect the last three seasons, is continued. Hunters may shoot waterfowl with shotguns only, not larger than No. 10 gauge.

Ross' geese, wood ducks, and swans are still protected.

Increase Egg Production During Dull Season

The hillbilly song, "When It's Lamp Lighting Time in the Valley," really means something to southwestern poultrymen as the middle of August rolls by, according to Paul E. Estill of Sand Springs, Oklahoma. He recommends burning a small electric light all night in every laying house, beginning this week.

Estill, trustee of the Sand Springs Home Farms, has reached this conclusion through his experience with 5,000 to 10,000 hens each year during the past five years and reports that using a 15-watt bulb in a 20x20 laying house

Texas Goods Roads Association Plans State Fair Exhibit

An elaborate exhibit will be placed in the Educational Building by the Texas Good Roads Association as a special feature of the Golden Jubilee Celebration of the State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Lowry Martin, president of the association, who said that the exhibit will be a combined exhibit of the good roads association, the State Safety Council, the Texas Highway Commission and the Texas Traffic Safety Association.

Datus E. Proper, executive vice president of the association, will be in charge of the exhibit.

The exhibit will have as its purpose a plan to show good roads of the state and efforts being made to promote better roads; will show how traffic fatalities can be lessened by careful driving, and will show scenes of interest which can be visited while driving about the State.

Full details on the exhibit have not yet been worked out but it is expected that plans will be completed at the next monthly meeting of the executive committee of the association which will be held in Seguin during August.

The good roads exhibit will be placed in the Educational Building, which was formerly the Federal Building, because school ex-with 125 hens increases egg production every time.

First, the production period is lengthened by at least two months and the hens are kept laying through September, October and November. Hens that moult in September do not give their flock owners the benefit of high egg prices during late fall and early winter, but all-night lights will keep some hens going until mid-December.

During late summer weeks, hens can leave their roosts and get a drink if the weather is hot. Any flock will finish its production period in better health, if lights are provided, because each hen gets a chance to eat and drink during the night. This tends to make the flock more uniform in strength and vitality because timid hens are not fought away from the feeders, Estill explained.

The Sand Springs Home Farms hatched and sold more than 35,000 White Leghorn Baby chicks last season, and Estill is completely convinced that lights burning throughout the night have no effect upon the fertility and hatchability of eggs and livability of chicks from these bed-lighted hens. One 15-watt bulb will burn ten hours every night for 13 1-2 cents per month if the electric rates is 3 cents, or it will cost 22 1-2 cents per month if the rate of 5 cents, or 36 cents if the rate is 8 cents.

hibits, the textile and culinary and hobby shows will be held in this building and it is thought it will be the most popular structure in so far as the children are concerned of the entire area. Special features in the exhibit will be planned for children.

Fall Potatoes Can Be Grown Says Authority

COLEGE STATION.—"In the southern portion of the state it is usually possible to grow a fall crop of Irish potatoes for harvest in late November. The Bliss Triumph variety will mature in 70 to 80 days and where plantings are made during September the crop can be expected to mature before frost," states J. E. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. All weeds and grass on the plot to be planted should be cut and raked off, for if this material is turned under it will heat and dry out the soil. The plot should be plowed to a depth of 4 to 5 inches, Rosborough said, and fertilized with 6-12-6 commercial fertilizer at the rate of 3 to 4 pounds per 100 feet of row.

If the soil is dry it is best to withhold the fertilizer until after a rain, when side dressing with the fertilizer will give good results.

Rosborough said potatoes held over for planting from the spring crop could be made to sprout by spreading them in the shade of a tree and covering them with wet sacks or straw. Potatoes of less than 1 inch in diameter should be planted whole, and others cut and planted immediately.

A solution of 1 pint of ethelene chlorohydrin in 4 gallons of water may be used to stimulate sprouting and early growth when large plantings are made. The procedure, according to Rosborough, is to cut the potatoes, place them in the solution, and allow them to stay in until they are thoroughly wet. Even the small potatoes should be cut on one side. As soon as the spuds are removed from the solution they should be planted.

The State Fair of Texas will honor its founders and pay a tribute to the newspapers of Texas for their success in building the "world's largest and most beautiful fair" during its first 50 years, with a monument to be unveiled on opening day, Saturday, October 8, which is also Press Day.

Every in newspaper in Texas has been invited to send in a front page of its paper, upon which has been published a story of its community, which will be placed in a metal chest and placed in a crypt under the tablet "acknowledging a debt of gratitude to the Press of Texas."

The monument will stand eight feet tall on a base six feet in height. It will be finished in sand and ground granite. The monument is being executed by Jose Martin and Roual Josset.
