

Looking Toward
WASHINGTON

The President's "purge" of recalcitrants in the Democratic party has been an almost complete failure. That fact is now admitted by friends as well as enemies of the New Deal.

Every important Senator against whom Mr. Roosevelt spoke in his recent sweep about the country has been renominated—and in every case by a handsome margin. The President was apparently especially eager to get rid of Senators George, Tydings and Smith, all of whom have opposed various White House sponsored measures, including the famous judicial reorganization bill. Senator Smith won with hardly a struggle. Senator George was renominated easily over a field of three—and the President's candidate, Lawrence Camp, ran a poor third. And Senator Tydings was given an overwhelming accolade by Maryland voters.

Some men close to the White House say that Mr. Roosevelt was not surprised—that he did not expect that his purge would succeed, and did not especially care, and that he looks on it as being simply the opening of a long-pull struggle to rid his party of congressmen whom he feels are not liberal. This may or may not be true. What is definitely true is that the failure of the purge has tremendously weakened Mr. Roosevelt's political prestige and authority.

Had the purge been a success, Mr. Roosevelt would have completely dominated the next Democratic convention. Ninety out of a hundred delegates would have gone to it with but one thing in mind—to vote as the President wished. He could have had himself renominated for a third term, or, had he not wished that, dictated the choice of his successor.

THE POCKETBOOK
of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

Now, however, there seems to be at least an even chance that the next Democratic convention, while it will not be anti-Roosevelt, will not be controlled by the President. The unpurged senators will control large blocs of voters. They will have a strong following of men who are resentful of White House dictation. Furthermore, the fact that the purge has failed will undoubtedly encourage other Congressmen, who have been sitting on the fence waiting to see how matters turned out, to bolt the traces.

In all probability, the next Congress will be far more independent than the last three. It knows that the voters are not willing to do whatever the President desires. It knows that opposition to White House measures is not necessarily a sure route to political oblivion. Thus, it seems certain that the country will shortly witness some dramatic and stirring battles between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government.

In the meantime, considerable speculation is going the rounds concerning possible results of the purge in the President's official family. It is known that Jim Farley was opposed to it from the beginning—Mr. Farley is a practical politician of great gifts and wants order and peace within the party. The fact that he left for Alaska and removed himself from the political front during the President's tour is considered extremely important in expert circles. Some say that the President will have to make a choice between keeping Mr. Farley or keeping his left wing advisers, such as the famed team of Cohen and Corcoran. Dispassionate observers tend to the view that Mr. Roosevelt will finally decide to keep Mr. Farley if matters come to a head—he is far too valuable a political asset to lose.

It now remains to be seen whether Mr. Roosevelt can regain the prestige he has lost. He has arisen from serious defeats before—but this is the most damaging blow he has yet received. And there seems to be little chance that he can regain his one iron-clad authority over Congress.

stripe. A line plunge netted the visitors six more yards and Rogers got loose on the next play for another sensational run for 60 yards and six counters when his kick for point went wild. After the next kickoff, the Indians blocked a Mogul punt and recovered the ball on Munday's two-yard line. Here, the Mogul line crashed through to stop Henshaw, at right half, in his try for a score, but Rogers took over on the next play and walked over standing up. Again he failed to kick the point. Score: 33-0. Soon after the next kick-off, Matlock pulled a long Indian pass out of the air for the first local interception, and on the next opportunity Otis Henshaw, Indian quarterback, tried twice to give it back before Matlock got the only other Mogul interception. As the quarter ended, Coach Billy Cooper sent in his first three substitutions. Score: 33-0.

During the last quarter Haskell sent in a practically new team, completing 13 substitutions during the game. Haskell made a bad fumble on Munday's 7-yard line and the Moguls recovered on our own 23. After a Mogul punt from the goal line which was good for 55 yards, Henshaw took the ball for the Indians and ran it 53 yards through a bewildered team of Moguls for the final score of the evening. Rogers again kicked point and counting ended with a 40-0 tally.

It was during the last few minutes of play that Munday showed anything like a threat when Pippin, Munday quarterback, picked up five yards and on the next play broke through for 17 yards over right tackle for the only first down of the evening. A pass Pippin to Matlock, was good for seven yards as the whistle cut short Munday's hopes for a score.

Munday fans took the defeat good-naturedly, because it was apparent from the first that the Indians were heavier, in better practice and had an inexhaustible supply of substitutes. The Mogul line could not stop the heavier Indians, some of whom appeared to weigh over 200 pounds, when only two men in the Mogul lineup weigh over 170. The boys felt keenly the absence of D. and G. Thompson, who had been depended on to carry the bulk of Munday's offensive and who were disqualified by Coach Cooper's own check-up before the game.

The double wing back formation that Coach Cooper had drilled on all pre-season practice was built around the Thompson lads and to use the words of Cooper the night before the game: "It takes two men who are trained to hit the line quickly and who can time their thrusts, and I can't train two more boys in time for the match. I don't see how we can possibly come out better than at least 40 POINTS BEHIND."

Proof that Cooper knows football and what his team can do was shown in this prediction, as well as in the playing of the team. Building of a good team takes time, Coach Cooper said, and he has 10 new men this year to train how to play football. With school in session only nine days when the team met Haskell, and with practice hardly begun, football fans take this setback "on the chin" much the same as the fighting Moguls did, and look forward to a smooth clicking machine yet—maybe by the middle of this season.

A report received by the Texas Planning Board indicates that a Japanese industrial firm is ready to confine its manufacturing activities to one product of the soil—the soybean, which can be profitably raised in Texas. The Japanese firm plans to use the wonder bean in the manufacture of hardened oil, soap, sodium glutamate, synthetic soy sauce, casein, amino acid, plastics and fiber.

LISTEN TO THIS

By TOM FIZDALE

Jack Haley goes into rehearsal this week for the opening of his new fall radio series on October 14. The Haley program this year will be built around the stars of last season, including Ted Fio Rito and Virginia Verrill. Switching over to the CBS network, the comedian will be heard Friday nights. October will be a big month for Haley, since he also starts work then on a new picture at Twentieth Century-Fox.

Meredith Willson, music director of the Good News broadcasts, is getting a lot of kidding from Frank Morgan, Bob Young and other members of the cast about his English haircut that he brought back from his European jaunt, but he is giving them just as good in return. Willson is just about the best actor among the conductors whom, current radio practice insists, must read lines as well as music.

Because his work as an adjuster of family and social problems is so highly appreciated, John J. Anthony, conductor of the Original Good Will hour on Mutual, has more than thirty children named for him. He believes it is the highest compliment anyone can receive.

When you hear Parkyakarkus on Al Jolson's broadcasts you wouldn't guess he was a coin collector—but that's his secret passion. He had a near tragedy last week as a result of it. Sent an 1877 penny, valued at $20, he left it on his desk and the maid picked it up with some other change to pay the milkman. He's still trying to trace it down.

Jane Froman, beautiful songstress, and her husband, Don Ross, are closing their New York apartment to entrain for Hollywood where Jane will share singing honors on the new Star Theatre with Kenny Baker starting October 5, via CBS. The fire chief show will mark the first time in several years that she has been induced to come to the microphone as a regular weekly assignment—having been devoting her time to guest spots, concert work and pictures.

Adventure will return to the air for boy and girl listeners on September 26 when Jack Armstrong—the All-American Boy, comes back to an NBC-Red network, Monday through Friday. Zanzibar, South America and Tibet are on this season's itinerary. Written by Talbot Mundy, world traveler and adventurer, the adventures that Jack Armstrong and his friends encounter ring true.

Fibber McGee reports that his vacation was very profitable—thanks to the hot weather in Kansas City during the nine weeks he was off the air. His extra-broadcast activity is a soft-drink bottling plant. It's about the only thing he hasn't been able to move to Wistful Vista.

Jerry Cooper, romantic baritone of radio, stage and screen, is the new star of Vocal Varieties over the NBC-Red network these Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Cooper, who is one of radio's most popular singers, was added to the all-star singing cast which includes the Smoothies, DeVore Sisters, Vicki Chase and a male octet, all under the direction of Bill Stoess.

Those surrealist paintings by Gracie Allen which caused such a furor in Hollywood and Chicago, are now on exhibit in the exclusive Julian Levy galleries in New York. That completes Gracie's coast-to-coast trip on a paint brush.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING PUBLIC DOMINO PARLORS; REQUIRING A LICENSE AND FIXING A FEE THEREFOR; AND FIXING A PENALTY FOR ITS VIOLATION AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MUNDAY, TEXAS:

Section 1. Definition. By the term Public "Domino Parlor" as used herein, the same shall mean any place where dominoes are kept for the use of the public in playing games and for which a fee of any kind is charged, either directly or indirectly, provided that any dominoes used in connection with any place of business where cigars or other things of value are sold shall be regarded as within the terms of this ordinance.

Section 2. Hereafter it shall be unlawful to operate or keep open any public domino parlor between the hours of 11 o'clock P.M. and six o'clock A.M., except Saturday nights such places shall be closed from eleven-fifty (11:50) o'clock P.M. until six o'clock A.M. Monday morning following.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful to carry on the business of running a public domino parlor within the limits of the City of Munday, Texas, until a license as hereinafter provided shall have been granted for carrying on such place of business.

"The conference came to a close. Each of those attending was asked to signify whether he wished to have his name associated with the report to be given to the President. Each answered, 'Yes.'"

Employment Off From Last Year

Austin, Sept. 29.—All Texas establishments, including manufacturing concerns, showed an increase in number of employees during August of 11 per cent over the preceding month but a decrease of 8.1 per cent from August last year.

Manufacturing industries showing substantial increases in both employment and pay rolls over July 1938, included men's work clothing, furniture manufacturing, saw mills, and cottonseed products.

HOG RAISING EXPERIMENT SHOWS PROFIT

Tests Prove Value of Kaffir Converted Into Hog Fat

A lot of ten 69-pound pigs weighed 214 pounds after being fed kafir and protein supplement for 90 days at the Texas A. & M. Experiment Station, and paid $1.77 per hundred pounds for the kafir they consumed, according to Fred Hale, Chief Division Swine Husbandry, Texas Experiment Station.

The pigs were purbred Durocs, and were bred by the Texas Station. They were farrowed in March, 1938, and started on test June 5, and were 6 months old when the test closed September 5.

The 10 pigs consumed 4766 pounds of kafir and 787 pounds of protein supplement during the 90 day test, and made a total gain of 1454 pounds. The protein supplement at two cents per pound cost $15.74. Figuring charges of labor, equipment, interest, veterinary costs, and miscellaneous expenses at $1.50 per 100 pounds of gain, these costs total $21.81 for the 1454 pounds of total gain.

Hale explains that such results as these were not obtained merely by chance, nor without some knowledge of hogs and the phases that go to make up hog production. In other words, included in these results are (1) good hogs, (2) balanced rations, (3) proper and adequate feed lot equipment, (4) sanitation, (5) plenty of clean water, and (6) daily observation about the feed lots.

The first requirement necessary for sound swine production is adequate farm-grown grain. Without farm-grown grain, swine feeding becomes more or less of a speculative game, and the average farmer cannot afford to take up any added speculative project, as farming at its best is loaded with uncertainties.

grain or other produce consumed by the hogs, yet may still have a produce at market prices in the fair profit through selling his form of pork; but the man who buys his feed can have for profit only what he obtains in excess of the market value of the feed consumed by the hogs.

The next requirement is good hogs. Any of the common breeds of hogs found in the state will contain both good and inefficient individuals. The individual hog is more important than is the breed.

Proper equipment, water supply, and some knowledge of feeds, balanced rations, pasture requirements, sanitation and disease, and management details all are necessary for successful swine production.

The average farmer is safer to handle hogs in small numbers and use them as an adjunct to his other farm operations. Used in this way, and handled with a reasonable degree of judgment, the hog will give a good account of himself in increasing farm revenue and profits.
