Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

Do you live on a street or an avenue? That you may not know, but you're soon to be able to know.

Not that it makes any particular difference to you. You'll still live where you always did, unless you move.

You'll either be on a newly paved street, or avenue, or you won't be—that depending on where you live.

But the point is, the streets of Munday have been renamed, and we're soon to get brand spanking new cast aluminum street markers and new, shiny, fresh off the die house numbers.

It's all in a move made by the city council and members of the Munday Jaycees—and it's a downright shame we didn't put this project in as one of our six-point needs for Munday, so we could take one of those things off our editorial page!

City Council members met on Wednesday night of last week and approved renaming of the streets. Then Harvey Lee and the man who is selling the street markers, etc., took a map and worked out the names.

About the only street that will keep its present name is Munday Avenue, and that's the north and south street that runs by the Times office, on up north to Mr. Braly's, thence on out into the country.

Earnest Street, which we've always referred to as Main Street, and which runs from the depot on out west past the school buildings until it becomes a state highway, has been named Main Street, thank goodness!

Council members reasoned that Munday's development to the east won't go much further, if any, because she ain't gonna develop out around our sewer plant for various reasons.

Therefore, they started out in the east part of town and named the first street running north and south First Avenue. The next is Second Avenue, etc., until you get out west of town where there ain't no streets and none are needed in the Bud Nelson cotton patch.

But if the town develops out in that direction, we'll still have members to name them.

Munday Avenue would have been Seventh Avenue, had it's name been changed. So we don't have a Seventh Avenue. Sixth Avenue is to the east of Munday Avenue, and Eighth Avenue is to the west.

Then the alphabet was used to name the streets that run east and west. Out yonder beside some vacant lots north of Mr. Braly's is A Street, then comes B Street, and so on clear through town.

There's some exceptions, which we're not too familiar with. Up there close to B Street is a short street, a sort of dead end that don't jibe with B Street or C Street, so they've named it Bell Street.

There are a few others that are in the same category, but you'll learn of them when the markers are up.

As best we can figure it, we live somewhere in the 800 block, or 700 block of E Street. Anyway, you still go two blocks north from that fire plug just north of the Times office, then turn left, and stop at the first house facing south, if you want to come see us.

Some objections to the alphabet were voiced by the City Council, for fear there weren't enough letters to take care of the situation.

But they got a map and started naming them. They found that X, Y and Z streets, we think, are out yonder south of town in B. B. Bowden's wheat field, so they quit worrying.

And B. B. isn't worrying, either. He's going to continue to grow wheat, or cotton, or whatever he

Caliche Road Is Being Built Into Goree

A muchneeded road which will enable many farmers southeast of Munday to get to pavement in wet weather is being built through Haskell county, and into Goree. This is a road which farmers of a wide area, including portions of Knox, Haskell and Throckmorton counties, have long sought.

R. W. Merchant has contracted to place caliche on several miles of the road in Haskell county. The road has been graded by the Haskell county commissioner, and expense of the caliche work is being met by farmers who will benefit from the road. Farmers and individuals are contributing around $4,000 to this work.

Because of this expense, they have selected the shortest route to the Knox county line. Knox county will build that portion of the road from the line into Goree.

Other road building projects, when developed, will enable Munday to receive caliche from the Knox county line into Munday. It was stated.

Mr. Merchant started the caliche work this week, and it is expected to be completed as soon as possible.

Goree Farm Home Destroyed By Fire Early Friday

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Foster, located on the Joe Maloney farm three miles south of Goree, was completely destroyed by fire early Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster and their four small children escaped the flames unharmed, although scantily clad. All contents of the home were destroyed by the fire.

The fire supposedly was caused by an oil stove in the kitchen, which Mr. Foster had just lighted before returning to another room.

HAS OPERATION

E. R. Hobert of Munday underwent a major operation at the Wichita Falls general hospital last Monday. He had been in the hospital for treatment several days. Latest reports from his bedside are to the effect that Mr. Hobert is resting nicely.

Callaway Won't Enter Race For Representative

Representative Claude Callaway will not be a candidate for re-election in 1948. In making public this announcement, he issued this statement:

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 114TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT OF TEXAS:

I just want to say to the people of the 114th Legislative District, composed of Hardeman, Foard, Knox and King counties, that I think you are the greatest people on the face of the earth. You have proved yourselves to be much to me. It certainly has been a great privilege to have been your representative, for you have at all times shown unlimited confidence in both my intentions and my ability. There is nothing that makes a public servant quite so happy as to be assured by those he serves that his service is satisfactory and is appreciated. At every session of the legislature for the six years I sat with that body as your representative, I have done my very best to serve you, the people of my district, and the State of Texas, as I felt you should be served.

Perhaps you will recall that when you elected me to this office, the State had the largest debt that it has ever had. The general revenue fund alone at that time had a deficit of $35,000,000.00, but at this writing you will find the State has the greatest cash balance that it has ever had, having more than $50,000,000.00 cash in this same general revenue fund alone. Without seeming to boast, I want to assure each of you, that there is no one in the state who has done more to reach this goal than your humble representative. Having served for the past six years on the appropriation committee, I am in a position to know where your money came from and where it was spent. By the elimination of fraud and extravagance in all of the state departments, and by cutting off 1500 state employees that were not needed at all, we were able to place your state in a healthy financial condition. At the same time we have doubled the amount of money that your state is paying for old age assistance and aid to the blind and needy children, doubled also the salary of the school teacher, and more than doubled the amount of money we were paying for schools. In fact, I have voted and worked to raise everybody's salary except my own. When you expressed your appreciation of my efforts and when you co-operated so splendidly in the things I attempted to do, I felt that I was well paid for my services.

My tenure of office does not terminate until the next legislature is sworn in next January, and I will continue to be your representative until that time. If I can be of any service, satisfaction or comfort to any of you during these next eight months, I ask that you call on me.

In closing, may I say again a thing I firmly believe, and which you have heard me say over and over, Texas CAN and SHOULD BE run on a cash basis.

1,000 People Take Protection Of Blue Cross

Over 1,000 Knox County citizens secured the protection of the Blue Cross hospital plan during the 10-day enrollment which closed Saturday, May 1.

Employees of the following business organizations were enrolled: Broach Equipment, First National Bank, Harrell's Hardware, J. L. Stodghill Ford Tractor Company, Baker McCarty Department Store, Stanley Wardlaw Appliance, K. & K Cleaners, Roxy Theatre, Brown Chevrolet Company, Wm. Cameron and Company, Inc., Reeves Motor Company and Vocational School for Veterans in Munday; Bradberry Cafe, Cobbs Department Store, City Grocery and Market, Knox City Post Office, Knox County Clinic, Dan Steakley Chevrolet Company, Reed Locker Plant and Reed Wash-O-Mat, and Benedict Motors, Knox City; and the Goree Post Office.

Residents who are self-employed or employed where there are fewer than five were enrolled in the Knox Co. community group. The Commissioners Court appropriated funds to enable handling of dues for the community group on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis through the Knox County Hospital.

"The Blue Cross representatives appreciate the cooperation of the Blue Cross Advisory Council and the many volunteer workers who helped to make the campaign a successful one," reports Walter F. Ehrhorn, Lubbock regional director who directed the enrollment.

NOLAN PHILLIPS TO SPANN FAMILY REUNION

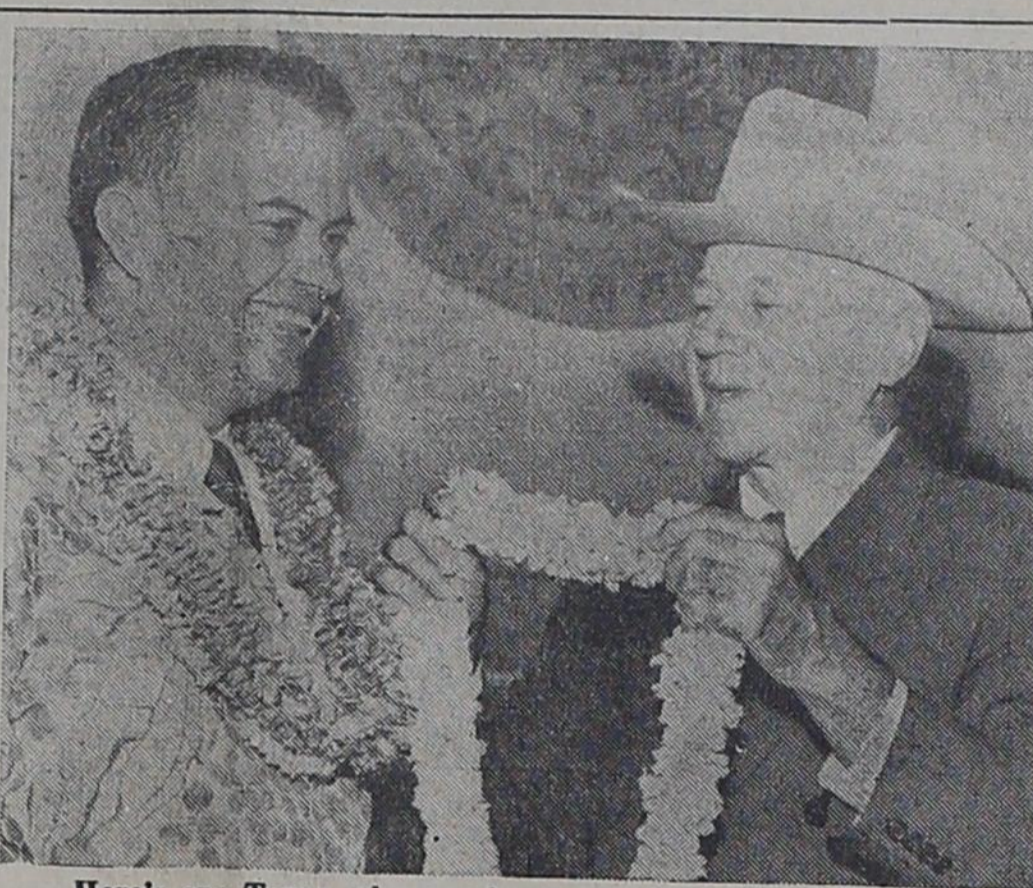

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Phillips have recently returned from Foss, Okla., where they attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Spann, and attended the Spann family reunion.

This was the first time in 23 years that all ten children of the family, now from eight different states, had been together.

Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Matly of Birmingham, Ala., visited in the homes of Mrs. Matly's sister and brother, Mrs. Kate Browning and Sam Harlan last week. The sisters and brother had not met in twenty-four years.

CLAUDE CALLAWAY

Here's one Texan who was beaten to the draw! It happened in Honolulu when John Ben Shepperd, Gladewater, president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, visited Gov. Ingram Stainback of Hawaii to present him with a Texas "five-gallon" hat. Gov. Stainback insisted on first presenting the touring Jay-Stainback with the 39th governor Shepperd has conferred with since taking office last July.

Farmall House Is Moving Into New Building

After months of final stages in completion of the new building, and nearly three weeks of moving operations, the Munday Truck and Tractor Co., local Farmall house, is about to get settled into the new building.

One of the largest and nicest structures in this area, the new home of the Farmall house is adequate for its needs and future expansion. The structure is of brick, with plate glass along the south front and west side.

In front of the building, which is 60x90 feet, is housing the parts bins and other merchandise and is serving as a display room. A modernly equipped shop, which is also 60x90, joins this on the north. In addition a smaller building was erected to serve as wash house and paint shop.

N. A. Chastain, manager of the firm, had planned to move into the new quarters much earlier, but many delays were experienced in completing some phases of the building. Although they're not completely moved yet, they're beginning to feel at home, and they invite the public to come in and inspect the new quarters.

It's soon to become a reality here in Munday—those street markers and house numbers that have been needed for many years. Work of the City Council and Munday Jaycees are making this possible.

The Jaycees have inaugurated a campaign to place street markers and house numbers for all of Munday. The markers will be here around June 1, it was stated, and the house numbers will arrive in about ten days.

Under the Jaycee plan, the house numbers will be purchased by residents at a cost of $1.50 per residence. This is expected to raise the amount needed for installing Munday's markers and numbers.

Members of the City Council approved renaming of Munday's streets at a meeting on Wednesday night of last week. And they won't be hard to remember—those new names—and visitors to the town can be easily directed to any residence in town.

Beginning on the far east side of the town will be First Avenue, and the ones running north and south will be numbered from east to west consecutively; therefore, Forty-Second Avenue, if there ever is one, will be far west of the school grounds.

Beginning at the north edge of town, the streets will be named alphabetically, from north to south.

The new street markers, a sample of which is in the show window at Baker-McCarty's, are of cast aluminum . . . sturdy, rust proof and permanent. They are deep block, raised letters, with names appearing on both sides. Names will be in aluminum-colored letters, on a background of black, so they can be easily distinguished.

They will be mounted on permanent posts, possibly of the angle-iron variety. They are built to mount atop, one of the other, so each street name can be seen at intersections.

Munday citizens will be proud of this improvement, and many are anxiously awaiting the time when the project will be completed.

Knox Hospital Set To Observe Hospital Day

Knox County Hospital will observe its annual Hospital Day on Sunday, May 16th. This day is nationally recognized and is held to further interest the public in one of its vital serving units.

Originally, Florence Nightingale's birth date was set aside for this occasion and at this time the hospital doors were opened to all citizens.

This year, in respect to the working man and his hours, May 16th has been substituted for May 12th and at this time the people of the county will be welcomed by the hospital staff to gather socially for an inspection of the rooms, facilities and equipment.

Calling hours will be from 2 to 5 p. m.

Baby Derby

One of the major features of Knox County Hospital's observance of Hospital Day will be a display of pictures of infants born there during the preceding year.

Letters have been forwarded to all parents requesting photographs of these babies, and work on an interesting exhibit is now underway.

Mother, Baby Honored

The hospital staff plans, through their contributions, to present the first "Hospital Day Mother" with one day's stay and service without charge.

Each merchant of the county plans to present the new infant with a gift. These gifts will be on display, with the donor's name attached and will be presented to the baby's family after "Hospital Day."

He invites everyone to come in and all business will be greatly appreciated.

MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
4. A clean-up campaign of lasting effect; yea, one that extends even across the tracks.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.
6. More activity among our civic organizations, looking forward to, and planning for, a better Munday in the future.

FOUR LITTLE RULES

This year, the state and Federal forest services are conducting a drive to prevent forest, woods and range fires, ninety per cent of which are caused by human carelessness. Four simple rules have been prepared—and every one of them should be memorized and remembered by people who go into the woods on business or pleasure.

1. Hold your match until it is cold—then pinch it to make sure it's out.
2. Crush out your cigarette, cigar or pipe ashes. Use the ash tray in your car, and never throw smoking materials from the window.
3. Drown your campfire in water—then stir and drown it again.
4. Make sure you know the law before burning grass, brush, fence rows or trash.

There's nothing in those rules a child cannot understand. There's nothing that will cause anyone trouble or expense. Yet their observance would save for ourselves and our descendants a very large part of the millions of acres of fine timber and grazing land that fire destroys each year—and save with it human and animal life, and the breeding grounds of wild creatures.

In a matter of hours, fire will devastate a forest that represents the work of nature for scores or hundreds of years. It will raze our most beautiful vacation and hunting regions. If you don't want to be the cause of such a fire, follow those four simple rules of conduct in the outdoors.

"HOW FUR YOU GWINE, CAP'N?"

Walking along a roadside near our home on a day in late winter, a drizzle came up . . . suddenly a somewhat dilapidated Ford stopped by us, and a middle-aged Negro we did not know but who had a kindly face looked out.

"How fur you gwine, Cap'n?" he inquired. "I might keep you from getting wet on a col' day."

That was a little thing, of course. But we mention it because it is one of those little things that help keep friendship strong between the best white people of the South and our best colored people—no matter how much violent demagogues, Northern and Southern, may try to do to break down such kindly relations. And just such little things are occurring each day. For example, when a member of our household had to go to a hospital for a week, a Negro servant who had been working half time voluntarily came whole time and could not be made to take any pay for the extra time and work, saying, "I shouldn't feel like a Christian if I did." Again, the writer's wife this week was one of the women from half a dozen white churches who not only raise funds for the nearest Negro hospital but join in a once-a-month work-meeting to make bandages, towels, and everything they can for it.

Sometime ago a Texas subscriber suggested that we ought to observe each year a "Good Will Day" when every white person would try to do some good turn for a Negro, and each Negro for some white person. To this the reply came that such action should not be thought of as something to practice on rare occasions but regularly. Right now we should especially like to urge the cultivation of such friendliness. In other sections there are men and women who would force on the South policies of compulsion that would hurt both races. In the South we have leaders who treat the rights of Negroes with such neglect as to make other sections feel that national interference is justified. As Ralph McGill wrote recently in the Atlanta Constitution: "We wrote our laws to say that while the races were to be separated, we would provide 'separate but equal' educational, travel, recreational and other facilities. This we have not done." But this we must do. As the Arkansas Gazette wisely suggests, while we of the white South must oppose vicious forms of outside compulsion, we must accept the special responsibility that fall upon the dominant race—giving the Negro proper educational, economic, and other opportunities "not because we are forced to, but because we recognize his right to them."

Ain't It The Truth by Chester Klock

Social Security Taxes Pay For Old Age Retirement

"What becomes of all of the money that was paid in?" is a question frequently asked of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Administration. In explanation, Elton F. Tate, manager, says that social security taxes are confused many times with income taxes which are withheld from a worker's pay.

Under social security, each worker pays only 1 per cent of all wages up to $3,000 a year. At the present rate, the most any worker can pay in social security taxes in a year is $30. Since this is the twelfth year that these taxes have been payable, the most any worker could have paid so far is $360.00.

Social security taxes pay for retirement insurance income at age 65 and for life insurance benefits upon the death of the worker. For this reason, some retired workers and their wives—or their widow and orphans—will qualify for payments amounting to many times as much as the worker paid in. In other cases, total social security benefits may be less than the amount of social security taxes the worker has paid.

Tate explained that these insurance payments are not large and that they were not intended to replace the need for thrift and savings. It is expected that families will, therefore, be encouraged to supplement their old-age and survivors insurance with other savings, insurance, or resources. Social security payments cannot be drawn at any time except after retirement at 65 or older, or by survivors after the worker dies at any age. Then, the payments are made as a matter of right to those

Hoppers Should Be Controlled When They Are Young

With the exception of South Texas where young hoppers have been reported feeding on young grain sorghum, no grasshopper damage has taken place so far this year. Grasshoppers have just about finished hatching out, and haven't had time to do any damage to the crops.

Paul Gregg, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. and M. College, says the best time to control the hoppers is right now while they are young. It costs less to control the young hoppers in or near their hatching beds, and it is easier to kill the young ones than the large, full grown ones. Gregg suggests that each farmer examine the areas where the grasshoppers hatch out on his farm and apply control measures now while the hoppers are small. Get them before they have a chance to damage the crops.

In those counties where the hoppers are a problem the local county agent has bait material on hand for mixing poison baits. For those farmers that want to control grasshoppers with one of the new organic dusts, contact the county agent first. He can give you the information on the use of the new materials.

Gregg gives the following list of new insecticides for grasshopper control: BHC (benzene hexachloride), 12 pounds of 3 percent gamma per acre; toxaphene, 10 pounds of 20 percent dust per acre; and chlordane or 1068, 15 pounds of 10 percent chlordane per acre.

who qualify, but they must be applied in every case.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

Chlordane Gives Best Hopper Kill In Recent Tests

In recent comparative tests against heavy grasshopper infestation in San Salvador, Chlordane, a new organic insecticide from the United States, was rated outstandingly effective by entomologists of the International Technical Committee for grasshopper control.

Insecticides tested were five per cent Chlordane dust and seventy-four per cent chlordane spray, both applied at one pound actual Chlordane per acre, and ten per cent Benzene Hexachloride dust applied at two pounds per acre.

Benzene Hexachloride, which gave only slight kill and showed almost no residual action, repelled and scattered the invasion, making control difficult.

Both Chlordane preparations stopped further 'hopper feeding immediately, gave complete control in one day, and exhibited long residual effectiveness.

Miss Mary Jean Stevenson and Miss Zelma Coan of De Leon, who have been doing special nursing in Baylor Hospital in Dallas, returned to Dallas Sunday, after spending their vacation in the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. Machine for Handling the Invisible HARMARVILLE, PA.—Particles invisible to the naked eye are handled by this wizard-like machine of modern science, called the micro-manipulator. The hand lever operates a hydromatic drive directing probes, rakes and shovels so tiny they work within a drop of water as would ordinary instruments in a beaker or test tube. A humidified cell prevents evaporation of the minute sample beneath the microscope lens. Photo was taken at Gulf Oil's micro-laboratory where research into the infinitely small is speeding progress toward meeting the world's demands for oil.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion
Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified
Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Fixing Up the Farm

by BURTON WILLIAMS

Asbestos Cement Siding
THE modern trend in farm building construction calls for the use of materials that are fire-safe, durable and economical in upkeep. These factors have contributed to the steadily increasing use of asbestos cement siding as the exterior covering for homes, barns, dairy buildings and other shelters.

The sketch above shows how asbestos siding is applied over new wood sheathing. The first step is to cover the area to be sided with a layer of waterproof felt. Corners are protected with another layer of felt, folded back six inches on each side. A cant strip is placed along the bottom of the sidewall before the first course of siding is applied. The first course is begun with a full siding unit, and half-units and full units are alternated in starting succeeding courses. Backer strips, furnished with the siding, are centered back of each vertical joint.

Where application is to be made over existing wood shingles or clapboard, loose or curled siding should be firmly nailed, decayed siding replaced and horizontal filler strips nailed against the butt edges of existing siding or shingles. Work then proceeds in the same manner as over new sheathing.

Winter Legumes Excellent For Soil Building

Winter legumes such as austrain winter peas and hairy vetch are making some progress in Knox County according to records of assistance furnished farmers by the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Messrs. Davis P. Jones, Claude E. Reid, C. C. Browning and others have reported good results from seeding austrain winter peas and hairy vetch. Mr. L. F. Glenn has a good crop of volunteer vetch that he is very proud of.

In the fall of 1944 only 700 lbs. of these winter legumes were seeded but in the fall of 1945 Knox County farmers seeded 50,237 pounds and then in 1946 they seeded 75,030 pounds. Even with the weather conditions not favorable for the seeding of these legumes last fall there were 27,790 pounds seeded.

Average yields of austrain winter peas or hairy vetch, planted in the fall and turned under in the spring will add to the soil nitrogen equivalent to 200 to 400 pounds of nitrate of soda and organic matter equivalent to four to eight tons of manure. Upon decay the crop will also return the phosphoric acid and potash taken from the soil in its period of growth, which amounts to the equivalent of 75 to 100 pounds of acid phosphate and 50 to 100 pounds of muriate of potash. Winter legumes keep the lands covered and protect the soil from erosion and leaching during winter months.

Why not start planning now for an early seeding date of either austrain winter peas or hairy vetch with an application of 200 or 300 pounds of 20% phosphate per acre. This can be done with assistance furnished by the Agricultural Conservation Program.

W. R. LEIGH MAKES AMERICA'S FABULOUS WEST LIVE AGAIN IN EXCITING ART SHOW!

"The Killer." Mr. Leigh's factual interpretation of how the cougar of our Western plains kills horses that roam the plain. It is a legend among cattlemen that no human has ever seen the cougar kill his prey, the horse, and the artist's conception, based on extensive research, coincides with that of Will James, that other lover and recorder of our fast disappearing wild and woolly West.

William R. Leigh, whose Indian and western paintings record an integral part of American history as nostalgic as a Will James "Western," opens another of his stimulating exhibitions at the Grand Central Art Galleries, Grand Central Terminal, 15 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York City, April 13 through 24, to which the public is invited.

Today when Americanism in the best sense is held out as a beacon to other less fortunate nations, Mr. Leigh's exhibition is like turning back through enchanting pages of American history and having them come to life vitally and accurately.

The exhibition is a large and comprehensive panorama of Mr. Leigh's work. In addition to characteristic cowboy and Indian paintings, there will be seventy oils done in Africa by Mr. Leigh when he accompanied Carl Akeley to paint studies for the habitat groups of the Akeley African Hall at the Museum of Natural History and on the Carlisle-Clark Expedition. Also fifty-two black and white drawings, never before exhibited in New York, of African animals and landscapes used in Mr. Leigh's book, "Frontiers of Enchantment," published by Simon & Schuster in 1940.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says It's All Right To Vote Wrong If You Get A Chance To Remedy It

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has found out about the Italian elections, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

It's a long way from out here to Italy but I been keepin up with the votin over there the same as you and everybody else, as a sort of warm-in-up period for the comin summer attractions over here, and while at first in the pre-election turmoil it looked bad, I notice from a copy of a paper which turned up out here Monday mornin a little limp and soggy with dew that the dems crats has won.

Now I ain't defendin Italy's past, as them folks has picked, if they did the pickin, some pretty queer leaders in times past and has allowed them a peculiar amount of power, and I'm mighty glad to see the Communists whipped as I understand among hundreds of other objectional things they make a man work whether he feels like it or not, but I personally ain't willin to condemn a man just for votin wrong.

That is to say, I don't like to admit this and wouldn't except that I figure everybody else has been in the same boat with me at one time or another, but in a lifetime of votin I've voted for some strange fish myself.

It's a funny thing. Gettin burned once don't seem to make any difference. When election year rolls around and you read after a candidate and he reads good and you hear him on the radio and he sounds good and you go into town when he comes through tourin the state and he looks good, especially when he puts a sort of sob in his voice when he gets around to the plight of namin exactly who the grafters is, bein too busy gettin on with his speech, which don't make no difference at the time as all you and me want is to get em run out and he seems the only man in the state who can do it, and you vote for him and denounce anybody who ain't got sense enough to do likewise, and after he gets in things ain't no different and the old folks is still old and if there was any graftin goin on, it still is as ain't nobody stopped nothin and ain't nobody been run out of any place.

Now I ain't callin no names, but I can recall a whole string of candidates I've voted for in years past that I'd just as soon forget about, and I amagine you and all your readers is in the same shape.

Everybody is entitled to vote wrong once in a while, but only the difference is that over here you can overcome your error and vote for somebody else next time, which may not be any improvement but it's refreshin, while in some countries if you vote wrong and the Communists win, it's all over and you're stuck from then on. I'll take the system we got. There never was a set of politicians I'd like to put up with the rest of my life.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE JEOFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR"

The chisel-type cultivation of the Jeffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is not new! In fact, the first plows of this type were made over 3,000 years ago by the Egyptians for farming along the Nile River. They used a sharpened stick, while in the Jeffroy machine, silicamanganese steel is required to stand present-day speeds and uses. Down through the ages many plows have been used and discarded, but the chisel-type plow has proved to have less draft, control erosion, and conserve moisture more effectively than any other plow invented!

- ★ Plows and cultivates the natural way. ★ Conserves the moisture. ★ Prevents blowing. ★ Stops erosion. ★ Cuts plowing cost in half. ★ Constructed to last a lifetime. ★ Pre-war prices. ★ Made in 4 sizes to fit your power: 7 ft. - 10 ft. - 13 ft. - 16 ft.

MOISTURE

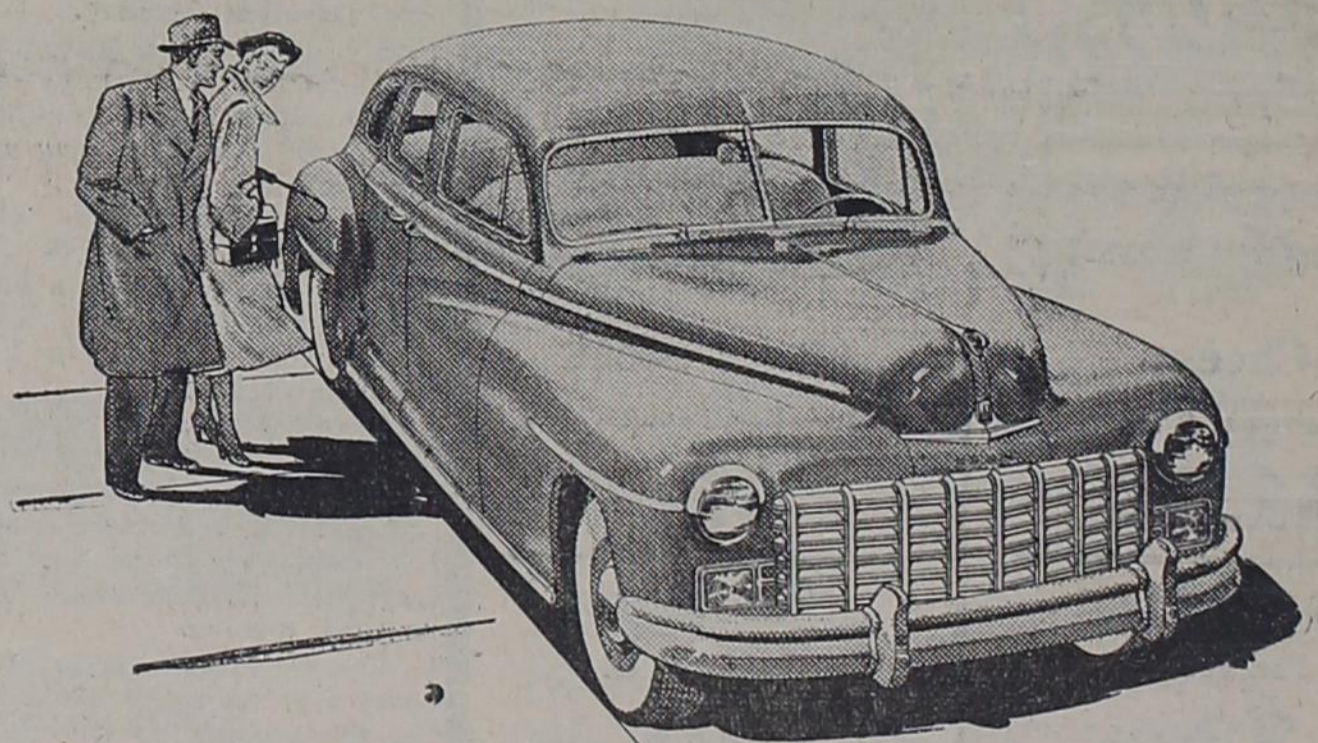

Moisture penetrates farther, does not run off. Stubble and trash are worked into topsoil for more effective re-fertilization of the land.

MOISTURE

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly seals and causes water run-off.

Young Adults In Fellowship Meet Held In Goree

"The Christian Home" was the subject used by Rev. Marshall Rhew, of Stamford, when he spoke before the Young Adult Fellowship meeting at Goree Tuesday night.

About eighty persons attended the meeting representing four Methodist churches in the sub-district division of Young Adult Fellowship Work. Visitors registered from Westover, Knox City, Munday, and Goree.

Mrs. Orb Coffman, president of the group, presided at the meeting which opened with group singing, followed by a prayer led by Rev. Don Davidson, Munday.

In Memory Of Danny Max Lain

The following poem was written by Mrs. Fred Lain in memory of her little son, Danny Max, soon after he was drowned on Friday, May 7, 1943, and is being reprinted for the anniversary of his death. She hopes it serves as a reminder to readers of home hazards.

Our Darling Max

Little Danny Max, how we miss you,
More and more with each passing day.
Dear God, we have to go on and endure
The tragedy that happened the 7th of May.
Darling, we know you have gone
To that home of the soul,
Where all little children belong
When they leave this land of woe.
We had a happy home, we five
Until you went away, sweetheart.
Now contentment we can't find,
Giving you up is just too hard.
The things you mostly enjoyed
Seem to move with a miss, a dread;
Little pigs, little calves, and all your toys
Never scamper and play and run ahead.
The little canary cares not to sing,
He once sang cheerfully for you.
Our doggie cares not for a thing,
He, too, seems Oh, so blue!
Your little toy horse seems so sad
I almost hear him say "tell me, please
Where are the little hands that once
Guided me in all my play?"
We can hear the pitter-pat of your feet.
Coming in with eggs in your hands;
With every motion so completely sweet,
We could see you growing to be a man.
We no longer enjoy a meal.
We miss those sweet little blinks
Across the table at brothers you made
Happily they passed back funny w.i.n.s.
With sadness we have never known
We simply stare and just think,
Of smiling eyes that used to show
O'er something like a toy tank.
Little sweetheart, we have met friends
Who have stumbled o'er this same stone;
We wonder how they traveled the road.
As daddy says, "No one but God knows."
Precious, did mother look away too long?
Or is it true your mission was lived,
And God took you to that land of love?
T' would be, Dear Lord, thy will.
And now we pray, "Good keep him,
A beautiful angel all the while;
When earthly shores to us grow dim,
May we be prepared to meet our darling child."

as though they did not amount to much. That sort of treatment makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children and their resulting impaired resistance makes them easy victims to other forms of infection.

"Some of the most serious outbreaks of chickenpox have been traced to mild cases—that is, cases so light that the doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs among their schoolmates. Strict isolation of chickenpox patients is the only means by which the spread can be controlled and parents should cooperate fully in isolating a child as long as the doctor thinks is advisable.

The State Health Officer said that the family doctor is the best judge of the seriousness of such childhood diseases, and suffering and anxiety will be avoided if the doctor's advice is sought and followed throughout the course of the illness.

There was a noted Central Texas district judge who greatly enjoyed a friendly game with the boys and a "chaw". One morning, when he called court to order, his eyes were red from having sat up nearly all night, playing poker, and had a big chunk of tobacco in his jaw. It was a divorce case and the wife was on the stand. She testified, "Judge, my husband is no good; he plays poker every night and he is always chewing tobacco."

The judge choked on his cud, then said, "Divorce granted."

Phillip Mittanck (Fill-up-my-tank) still has a service station at Pleasanton. I mentioned this half a dozen years ago; a few weeks back, as I went through the town on a bus, I noticed the sign again. A big, jolly chap is Ben Malam of San Antonio, who drives a bus on the route between Stephenville and San Antonio. He makes a neighborly little talk to his passengers at the start of the trip and everybody feels right at home. He used to be a wrestler and, judging from his broad shoulders, he was a good man.

An Easterner was making a speech at a convention in an Amarillo hotel when a loud-mouthed man came in with a six-shooter in his hand. The Easterner was not to be taken in by this characteristic bit of "Wild West" horseplay. He said, "Give me that pistol" and took the weapon, then he said, "Now, sit down there and behave," and resumed his speech.

Afterward, he found that the man he had disarmed was a ranchman who likes to come into town, get a few shots of hooch and then wave a gun around.

And then the visitor really had a chill.

Not all the foot-and-mouth disease is in Mexico and among cattle. All of us know somebody who, every time he opens his mouth, puts his foot in it.

The longer the nation waits to do something about soil conservation, the more there will be to do, and at a much higher price. Once the top-soil of a farm gets down into the Gulf of Mexico, it won't come back.

An Enemy Mine Made Nicole a Cripple; Now American Gifts Help Keep Her Alive

Crusade for Children Provides Way to Help Innocent War Victims

The first thing her American liberators brought Nicole was a blinding crash that tore off her right leg and ruined her left leg and robbed her of her ability to walk for three years.

Now they have given her back her walking.

She still needs her health—a health that can only be restored by milk and nourishing food.

Her American liberators can give her that, too, by contributing to the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children. It will be a late liberation, when it comes.

It was November, 1944, when Nicole received the joyous news that the American Army had at last broken through the stubborn German defense near her village in the heart of the French Vosges Mountains.

Nicole, daughter of the village baker, donned her best dress and took a short cut through the fields. She would be first to welcome the Americans. . . .

But she did not see them. On the outskirts of Corcieux, she stepped on a German mine, and in one hideous explosion, one leg was lost and the other mangled. The stump of the one was in no condition for use of an artificial limb, and the other was too weak for walking. For three years, Nicole remained in bed.

She remained there until she was found by one of the American foreign relief agencies participating in American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

Thus it was that Nicole met her liberators at last, and was liberated by them from her prison of helplessness.

But this is not the happy ending of a sad story. The story is not over.

Nicole is still a growing girl, and in order to regain her health she needs foods containing calcium like milk, butter and cheese. She hasn't had a drop of milk since before the war. In France, milk is rationed at less than a pint a day for small children, nursing and pregnant mothers, and old people.

Nicole will remain shriveled and withered in the bloom of girlhood, unless nourishing food reaches her.

It can reach her—and millions like her, who lost arms and legs, sight and health, in the explosions of mines on the ground and bombs in the air—if Americans give generously to the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

Americans are asked to give $60,000,000 for desperately needed food, medicines, clothing and shelter which the agencies participating in the Crusade are seeking to furnish to war victims. The campaign represents the combined efforts of America's major volunteer agencies, together with United States participation in the world-wide United Nations Appeal for Children. Contributions may be given to local campaign committees or sent directly to national headquarters of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, 39 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

Versatile Star

A concert pianist at the age of six, Diana Lynn, shown above, proved her versatility by achieving stardom as a movie actress. Latest of a string of successes is her starring role in "Ruthless," Eagle Lion's dramatic romance in which she plays two roles, that of an adult and a thirteen year-old child. "Ruthless" is said to be the most elaborate film made in Hollywood since the wartime restrictions were lifted. The cast includes Sydney Greenstreet, Martha Vickers, Lucille Bremer, and Zachary Scott.

WESTERN SCENERY

There's no need for a Horace Greeley to tell young men to "go west" these days—this typical sample of California scenery speaks for itself. This golden-haired girl of the west wears a sunny smile and a new "double duty" ensemble by Cole of California. A full skirt in the same plaid cotton fabric turns a two-piece swimming suit into an attractive play dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Deaton Green of Seymour were visiting with friends here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pippin and family of Miles, Texas, visited friends here last Sunday.

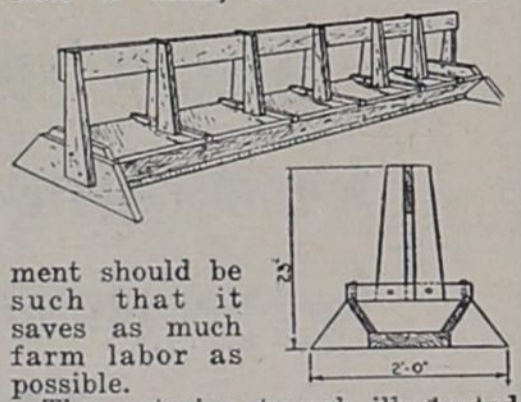

Mrs. Jack Bedingfield of Greenville spent last week end visiting with friends and relatives here.

Hog Watering Trough
ALONG with proper feed in adequate amounts, hogs must have plenty of clean, fresh water in order to make profitable gains. The water should be made easily accessible to them, and the arrangement should be such that it saves as much farm labor as possible. The watering trough illustrated here was designed with those points in mind by specialists at the University of Illinois Department of Agricultural Engineering. Any farmer who is handy with a hammer and saw should be able to build one. The drawing at the lower right shows a cross-section of the trough, looking lengthwise.

Sturdiness of construction is a feature of this trough. Note the wide end pieces which give plenty of support to prevent tipping. The center rail and uprights help keep the hogs out of the trough. When used for young pigs, a 1 x 4-inch board can be placed between the uprights just above the trough. Wide and shallow, a trough of this design is more sanitary than one which is square or V-shaped.

Hogs that have ready access to clean, fresh water and liberal amounts of proper feed will make the most rapid gains. Self-feeders, which also save labor, usually are recommended. The diet should include ample protein, vitamins and minerals. These not only are essential to good growth, but effect considerable savings in grain.

Mrs. K. Phillips Named Honoree At Gift Tea

The home of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Taylor in Goree was the scene of an elaborate gift tea given Wednesday evening, April 28th, from four to six o'clock, honoring Mrs. Kenneth Phillips, formerly Miss Naomi Hampton.

Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. H. D. Arnold, Mrs. F. G. Daniell, Mrs. Ira L. Stalcup and Mrs. Elbridge Coffman.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. H. D. Arnold, who presented them to the hostess, Mrs. W. M. Taylor, who in turn presented the guest of honor, Mrs. Phillips and her mother, Mrs. S. G. Hampton. The receiving line was completed by Mrs. E. J. Jones, grandmother of the bride.

The party rooms were decorated with arrangements of roses and varied colors of iris.

In the dining room, the refreshment table was a lovely picture, covered with a beautiful lace cloth centered with a mirrored cut glass bowl of red roses.

Attending to duties of serving the lovely refreshment plate of white block cake, lime sherbet punch and Dalia Robbia Mints were Mrs. F. G. Daniell and Mrs. I. L. Stalcup.

Directing the guests to the rooms where the many gifts were very artistically displayed, was Mrs. Elbridge Coffman, also assisting in showing the gifts was Miss Bettie Jean Jones of Munday.

Securing the signatures of the guests for the brides book was attended by Mrs. Dalton Jones of Seymour.

Invitation list for the party included approximately 125 friends of the bride and groom.

Mrs. J. P. Wilhite of Ft. Worth is here for a visit with her father and sister, D. M. Wadlington and Mrs. M. H. Reeves.

Veterans' News

Seriously disabled World War II veterans, eligible for automotive vehicles at government expense, have until June 30, 1948, to submit their applications, the Veterans Administration reports.

VA advised these veterans to apply for their cars as soon as possible to allow ample time to process their applications.

The law provides an automobile or other conveyance, at a cost not to exceed $1,600, for any World War II veteran who lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs at or above the ankle as the result of service-connected injuries.

Veterans who lose subsistence, compensation or pension checks should notify immediately the appropriate Veterans Administration regional office.

VA said a veteran losing such a check should write a letter giving his full name and address, his claim number and the date and amount of the check. He should also state what the check was for and the circumstances surrounding its loss.

On being notified of the check's loss, VA determines first if it may have been found and returned to the U. S. Treasury. If so, the check will be re-mailed to the veteran. If not, VA will request the Treasury to stop payment and take necessary steps to reimburse the veteran.

A veteran who finds his check after reporting its loss should notify VA and hold the check until he has been advised by the Treasury that action to stop payment has been withdrawn.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS
Q. How many persons in the United States are eligible for Veterans Administration benefits?

A. It is estimated that more than 46,000,000 persons (living veterans and their dependents) may become eligible for VA benefits under present laws. By 1962, the figure is expected to rise to 62,300,000.

Q. What is vocational advisement and why is it required under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A. The main purpose of vocational advisement is to determine whether a disabled veteran should train for a profession or for a particular trade or occupation based on his previous education, experience, personal desires and ability. He is required to take a series of aptitude tests at a VA guidance center where he is interviewed and counseled by a group of highly trained specialists. This advisement is required under the program to insure the disabled veterans' proper rehabilitation.

Q. I am the beneficiary of a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance policy. Are the payments I am receiving subject to taxation?

A. No. National Service Life Insurance as such, is exempted from taxation, except for Federal Estate Tax purposes.

Q. I am going to school under the educational provisions of the G-I Bill and would like to know whether I have to get prior approval from VA if I wish to change my course?

A. If you are studying in a public high school or college, you no longer will need prior approval from VA before changing your course. The change now may be approved by your school.

Pointers Given On Limited Uses Of DDT Poison

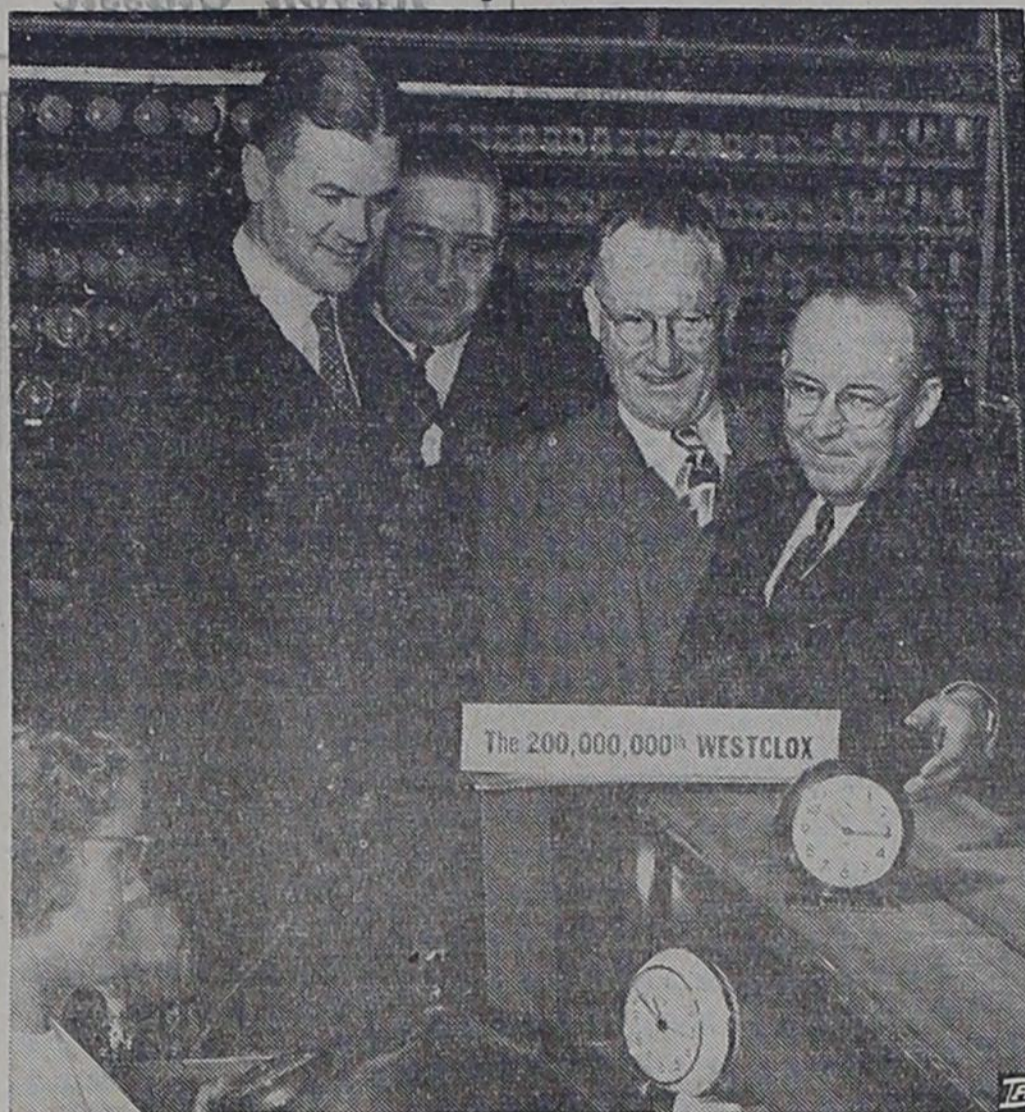

The weed killer 2,4-D will also kill your tomatoes, cucumbers, cotton, sweet potatoes, peas, beans, fruit trees, ornamentals, and some field crops if you're not careful in using it.

Last year cotton in several points along the Gulf Coast was injured when 2,4-D dust drifted from nearby rice fields. In many cases, cotton has been planted right along side rice. When the rice is sprayed with 2,4-D, the wind carries it on over into the cotton field, badly damaging the cotton plants. Since the esters of this poison evaporate and drift away in the air so easily, they should not be applied close to plants they are likely to kill.

The chemical 2,4-D should not be stored in buildings where seeds, fertilizers or insecticides are handled because there is a very good chance the 2,4-D will ruin it. A committee of research and extension workers, crop growers and chemical manufacturers appointed by Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas A. and M. College Agricultural Experiment Station, has issued the following warnings on the use of 2, 4-D:

1. It is not a good idea to use 2,4-D in the dust form because it may drift several miles onto field crops or gardens.
2. If a good strong wind is blowing, even the spray form is dangerous.
3. Be sure your equipment is in good condition before you start.
4. Use a separate sprayer for 2,4-D; it is hard to thoroughly clean 2,4-D out of a sprayer.
5. Pressures below 75 pounds per square inch for your ground

200 Million Timepieces In One Plant

The 200,000,000th timepiece, believed to be a record for one plant, has come off the production lines of the Westclox Division, General Time Instruments Corporation, at LaSalle-Peru, Ill. The company began operation in 1886, when its production was about 50 clocks per day. Now many thousands of clocks and watches are produced every working day. Reaching for the 200 millionth—a Big Ben—is Albert J. Hasselman, general manager, while looking on, left to right, are: Edward M. Greene, Jr., vice president in charge of sales, General Time; Henry J. Wagner, Westclox general sales manager, and L. B. Richards, advertising manager. The clock was not sold; it is to be mounted and placed on exhibition in the factory.

sprayers, and the nozzles producing coarse sprays are the best.

6. When using planes for spraying, don't get closer than half a mile to susceptible crops downwind. Don't spray when wind is blowing more than 3 miles per hour.

7. Employ only pilots who know their business. (See No. 6).

8. Esters evaporate quicker than other forms of 2,4-D. These fumes can cause quite a bit of damage, so it's best not to use them.

9. If you can prevent the drifting of sprays, dust and fumes, you will save many of your crops which would otherwise be damaged.

10. Talk it over with your county agent or other men who know about the best times to use 2,4-D. Don't overdose your crops.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nelson and J. F. Waldron returned home last Monday from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Victoria and Dallas and other points.

wants right down the middle of those streets.

Now the markers are right snazzy, up-town affairs. The names will be in raised white letters, the background in black, mounted on permanent angle-iron poles and should last from here on out.

They can be seen by everybody but blind persons, and if you want to go from first to 42nd, or from A to Z, you should be able to do so without much trouble.

The numbers will be nice sized, readable numbers—and they're all that will cost us citizens a crying dime, and we're ready to buy ours now.

We'll also buy some numbers for that vacant lot, where we want a home some of these days. Let us know, Jaycees, we've got three bucks for you.

Won't you buy yours, too?

Benjamin Has Banquet For Senior Class

Friday evening, April 30, 1948, the Junior Class of Benjamin High School honored the Senior Class, faculty members, trustees and guests with a banquet in the assembly room of the court house.

The theme carried out was in memories of graduation. Miniature graduation caps were used as nut cups, mock diplomas as part of table decorations with memories booklet (which included program, menu, faculty members, Junior and Senior class rolls, etc.), was beside each place setting. Color scheme was of purple and white. Beautiful arrangement of white gladiolus, purple iris, stock and fern made the attractive center pieces for the tables.
