

Kracker Krumb's Odds Bits Salvaged at Random

J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, has pointed out some pertinent facts about the cotton acreage reduction for 1954. In view of the fact this is primarily a cotton producing area, we thought our readers might like to know these views of Mr. Hammond, so here they are:

1. In 1949 there were 153,177 farms in Texas on which cotton was planted.
2. Cotton acreage in Texas: 1949—10,574,202 acres. 1951—12,382,000 acres. 1952—11,535,000 acres.
3. In 1949 cotton brought Texas farmers $887,588,648.00.
4. Announced acreage for nation in 1954: 17,910,448 acres.
5. Texas usually plants 40 per cent of U. S. cotton acreage. The allotment for the state would be approximately 7,304,000 acres.
6. The AFBF Compromise Plan would increase to approximately 8,939,600 acres, an increase of 1,635,600 acres.
7. Based on a yield of 200 pounds per acre, and a price of $150 per bale, this increase would have an approximate value of $98,136,000 to Texas cotton producers.
8. The average cotton farmer can expect an approximate 40 per cent reduction from his 1952-53 planted acreage. Amendment of the law to include the AFBF Compromise Plan would increase the average cotton farmer's allotment by 20 to 30 per cent. Each acre would be worth about $60.00.
9. Whether or not this increase is included in the law will be determined by the cotton farmers in Farm Bureau in the South.
10. To obtain this increase each cotton grower should join Farm Bureau. Each member adds influence, strength and money toward accomplishing the objective . . . an additional $100,000,000.00 for cotton farmers in Texas in 1954.

And while on the subject of cotton, if you'll take a drive over some of this area you'll be amazed at how black some of the cotton fields are becoming. Brings one to the realization that the peak of the cotton harvest is about over.

Of course there'll be some scrapping in many fields for several weeks, maybe on up into next January, but the big push is about over.

An employee of the local bank informed us last week that several big crews of cotton pickers have already checked out. They seemed to be those who come out for the "cream of the crop" then head back south before the cold weather sets in.

Some local merchants are of the opinion that last Saturday would be the last big Saturday. Almost each Saturday they expect it to be the biggest one.

We kinda thought there were fewer people from the cotton fields in town last Saturday. Along towards noon, we thought the crowd was much smaller than one prior Saturdays.

And then we decided to go to the bank and make a deposit. We found out where the crowd was!

We went home about 5 p. m., then rushed back to make a purchase at a grocery store.

Gee whiz! What a mob of people, and what a bunch of snowed under grocery store owners and employees!

190 People Pay Tribute To Moguls At Annual Football Banquet Nov. 24

Around 190 people, students and parents, gathered at the school auditorium Tuesday night, November 24th, to pay tribute to a gallant bunch of Munday Moguls at the annual football banquet sponsored by the pep squad girls. The banquet room was decorated in an interesting starlit theme, with large silver stars hanging from the ceiling to represent each member of the Mogul squad.

Miss Patsy Tidwell, head cheer leader, acted as toastmistress and directed the program in a capable manner. The welcome address was given by Peggy Cure, representing the pep squad, and response was made by Gary Cure for the football boys. Vocal numbers were given by a girls' trio composed of Glenda Guffey, Nancy Matthews and Bera Faye Spann, followed by a baritone solo played by Charles Walker.

A boys' trio composed of Joe Lynn Phillips, Dickie Ponder and Bud Phillips sang several numbers, one of which was an entertaining special composition about the Moguls. Dickie Morrow played a trumpet solo, and Shirley Davis gave a very entertaining reading, "Ain't Love Wonderful."

Harold Jackson, band director, concluded the musical program with several piano selections. Guest speaker for the evening was Garvin Beauchamp, head coach at Abilene Christian College who stressed the individual's part on the team and exhorted both boys and girls to strive for perfection in their own fields.

Coach Vernon Leverett recognized the season's lettermen, and a few remarks were made by Wayne Pistole, assistant coach. Banqueters closed their program by singing the school song, and the happy group started homeward, thus ending activities of the 1953 football season.

Large Attendance At Thanksgiving Service Nov. 25th

Seasonal music from the local schools and an inspiring message delivered by Rev. Huron A. Polnac, pastor of the First Baptist Church, highlighted the annual community Thanksgiving program held in the grade school auditorium on November 25th. Students from the four Munday schools and a large number of residents were in attendance for the one hour program.

Miss Aurora Clay, teacher in the Dunbar School, presented her choral group in a medley of songs, and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell presented the Junior High Chorus. Students form the grade school performed with a Thanksgiving pageant depicting the first Thanksgiving with appropriate musical background provided by the third, fourth and fifth grades under the direction of Mrs. Lee Haynes.

The Rev. Mr. Ed Thomas, Baptist missionary to the Latin-Americans, gave the benediction.

Miss Betty Jean Brown of Breckenridge visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rister over the week end.

Named Man And Woman Of The Year

L. J. (Cap) Cappleman of Dallas and Mrs. Grace Moore Martin of College Station were recently named '1953 Man and Woman of the Year' in service to Texas farm families by The Progressive Farmer Magazine.

As farmer and Texas director of the Farmers Home Administration, Cappleman has been outstanding in his promotion of improved farming and living practices. Last year, he directed a loan program of $25 million to low-income, drought-stricken Texas farmers. His organization did the job with little difficulty.

Promoting rural progress has always been the guiding force of Mrs. Martin's life. She has long been outstanding in extension service and is the widow of one of its distinguished pioneers. She recently received an appointment from Governor Allan Shivers as state coordinator of women's activities in civil defense.

Boxing Bouts Being Resumed On December 14th

Boxing fans will be glad to learn that Munday will again supply them with good entertainment in boxing bouts during the winter months. Local boxers started training this week, and workouts are being held nightly at the Boy Scout hut.

Anyone interested in training for boxing should get in touch with the local boxing coach, James Carden.

The first bout for fans of this area will be staged on Monday night, December 14, it was announced this week, and this card will be followed by others that will become more interesting as boxers get in better condition through training.

Booked for the December 14 card are boxers from Hamlin, Haskell, Seymour, Lueders and Munday.

Crop Allotments Would Slash 1954 Crop By One-Third

When the 1954 cotton crop moves to market, growers will compete with an 8.4 million bale carry over, the largest of any postwar year.

Furthermore, while an approval to marketing quotas will assure growers a 90 percent parity support price, John G. McHaney, assistant extension economist, says cotton acreage allotments will reduce the state's crop next year by one-third.

Tentative national marketing quotas call for the production of 10 million bales of upland cotton and 30 thousand bales of extra long staple. Acreage allotments should tend to boost the price, but will cut the total cash receipts from cotton, McHaney explains. Allotment quotas must be approved in a national referendum vote by two-thirds of the growers.

The current crop of upland cotton is about 25 percent larger than normal and approximately twice the extra long staple in supply. Including the 1954 crop, the carry over from last year and a few imports, this country now has 21 million bales. Domestic consumption and exports will lower the supply to 8.4 million bales by August, 1954, McHaney says.

The economist foresees a small drop in domestic milling consumption during the coming year. Delivery to the military forces probably will decline. And, while cotton exports are down 2.5 million bales from 1951's 5.5 million, a further decline is not likely. Exports may advance slightly, he says.

In concluding, McHaney says, the immediate overall outlook for cotton is one of large supplies and moderate or less demand. Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blacklock were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown of Levelland.

Local Men On Traffic Safety Planning Board

As a follow-up to the Texas Traffic Safety Conference for Youth recently held in Austin sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, a district workshop is planned for Tuesday, December 8, in Wichita Falls. Dr. John McFarland, until recently employed at the University of Texas and now with the Vernon Public Schools, will conduct the workshop.

Mr. W. E. Pistole and Gary Offutt, teacher and student from the Munday schools, attended the Austin conference and will participate on the planning board for the district conference. Gary will also be on the program. Other local representatives who plan to attend are Mr. Joel Massery, traffic safety counselor of the local P-TA, and two students from the High School, Glenda Guffey and Peggy Thigpen.

"This is indeed a fine program," commented President Mrs. Clyde Taylor, "and it is inevitable that we will see a marked decrease in the accident rate among teenagers if the enthusiasm of those who have already participated in these workshops is any indication of its success." "Encouragement, interest and financial assistance from the Chamber of Commerce in sending these representatives to the traffic safety conference indicates the value of such a program," she added.

Knox Singers Will Meet At Knox City

The Knox County Singing Convention will be held at the Four Square Church in Knox City on Sunday, December 6, it was announced this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamoine Blacklock and children were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rogers in Stamford.

M. B. CAUGHANS ARE PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Caughan of Lubbock announce the arrival of a baby daughter on November 25 at 2 a. m. She has been named Sonya Gail, and weighs seven pounds and one ounce, has long, dark hair, and is the prettiest baby in the whole world—the parents think.

Coach Leverett stated that fans will pay admission for each session. Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

The large number of teams entered in the tourney indicate the interest which schools of this area hold for basketball. Trophies in the tourney will be awarded to the winning team, the runner-up and the consolation winner.

Teams have been bracketed so that O'Brien and Vera will begin the play at 5 p. m. Thursday.

Teams which have entered the tourney are: Seymour, O'Brien, Vera, Throckmorton, Welbert, Goree, Rule, Munday, Knox City, and Wylie.

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Robert L. Myers

R. L. Myers, one of the county's best known and most successful farmers, passed away at the Knox County Hospital shortly before noon Friday, November 27. Mr. Myers, whose health had been failing recently, suffered a heart attack on Thanksgiving day and was taken to the hospital for treatment.

A resident of Knox County since Christmas Day, 1906, Mr. Myers had been engaged in farming during all of his residence here. He was born in Kentucky on October 2, 1870, and was 83 years, one month and 25 days of age. Despite his advanced age, Mr. Myers remained active on his farm, some three miles west of Munday.

He was a member of the Gillespie Baptist Church since 1907, and a former member of the Odd Fellows lodge. He was married to Sallie Elizabeth Ford on August 4, 1889. Mrs. Myers preceded him in death several years ago.

FIASCO AVOIDED

One of the best editorial commentaries on the cattle situation recently appeared in the Wichita Eagle. The paper pointed out that cattle prices had improved materially, from the extreme lows that were touched not long ago. And government assistance, it observed, was limited to such stimulations as helping improve the cattlemen's credit position, and supplying cheap feed.

Then the Eagle said: "But what if the government had yielded to the loud outcries for purchasing cattle at parity? Experienced stockmen say the government would have owned most of the cattle on the ranges. There would have followed an artificial shortage of beef, vastly higher prices, and other fiasco of the price support program. It is noteworthy that no established, responsible cattlemen group is demanding such a step . . . Never, not even in the depression thirties, have the cattlemen asked supports. They are fearful of the controls which accompany them . . ."

"The whole support program, with accumulating surpluses and shrinking markets, has raised heavy doubts."

When government uses the taxpayers' money to aid any group, government will make the policies and do the bossing—and in the long run both producer and consumer will be hurt. All of us can profit from the example the cattlemen have been setting.

THE NEWEST IDEA

The Fairport, New York, Herald-Mail recently said: "Our country with its idea of individual liberty as stated in the Declaration of Independence is still the newest idea in the world . . . Many of us in our own country fail to understand fully the essence and the newness of the American idea."

Were our government to follow the example of many of the old-world countries and socialize the property and enterprise of the people, it would be so engrossed in ownership that it would no longer be a government of the people but only the proprietor and administrator of the nation with no responsibility toward the individual other than that of rule and keeper.

The idea of serfdom is old. The idea of liberty for all is new.

DON'T FORGET LOCAL GOVERNMENT

When we talk of taxes, most of think of the federal government. That's natural—for federal taxation constitutes our greatest tax burden.

But we will make a bad mistake if we overlook government at the other levels. During the last fiscal year, says the Tax Review, state tax collections broke all previous records, reaching a high of $10,542,000,000. And local tax collections also scaled a new peak, estimated at $10,200,000. This means that the combined state-local tax load came to $133.16 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The moral is plain. We must fight against wastefully and excessively costly government everywhere—not just in Washington, D. C.

A LESSON FROM EAST GERMANY

The people of East Germany have experienced the oppression of dictatorship and a planned economy. They have had only one right and that is to produce at the order of those in power. They know from bitter experience what private trade and independent unions mean. To them they mean the difference between being free men and slaves.

The next time you hear someone advocating ownership of industry, remember how desperately workers in East Germany and elsewhere are struggling to return enterprise to private hands in order to bring back individual opportunity and free trade unions.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ASHLAND, NEB., GAZETTE: "Your weekly newspaper is the nerve center of a community, and without it that same community would soon begin to lose its identity. It is one of the great bulwarks of a free America. Thousands of weekly newspapers throughout the United States represent the best read printed matter in general circulation today."

FOWLER, MICH., POST: "In these days of high taxation, a person has to take advantage of all the good breaks from going broke. But remember, any free handout is just a false solution to the basic difficulty. The day you find yourself believing that government gifts are the cure of all economic ills, that's the day you slipped into socialistic and communistic thinking."

BASSETT, NEB., LEADER: "In addition to being the most productive, America's economic system does a better job of 'sharing the wealth' produced than any other system the world has ever tried."

AS A MAN THINKETH

When Jehovah created man in the beginning, He created within him the power to think. Thus, in this way and others, man is different from the mere beasts of the field. It is strange that this God given power to man is very little used. Most of us are willing for others to do our thinking for us. We had rather get our thoughts from a newspaper editorial or radio newscaster than to take the time and energy to gather evidence and form our own conclusions by thought and meditation. The reason that Hitlers and the Soviets can hold a people in their power is because those people allow them to do their thinking, becoming all alike and no different than a herd of white-faced cattle. Some one has said that the reason ten per cent of the people hold ninety per cent of the wealth is because the ten per cent do ninety per cent of the thinking.

But of far more consequence is the fact that in religion the same holds true. Largely we believe what some other mortal has led us to believe. Too, many times we hear, "My pastor said, instead of the Lord said. Many people believe what they believe only because their "pastor" said it was so. Or, because it has been the "faith of our church for centuries."

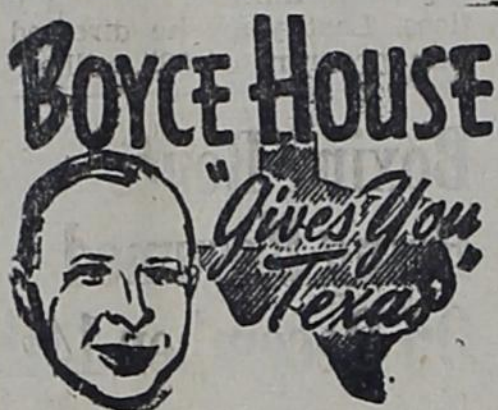

Jehovah in His merciful kindness provided us with the Bible, His Word and instructed us to "Study to show thyself approved" (2 Tim. 2:15). Jesus warned to "Search the scriptures for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me." (John 5:39). We can easily have our information first hand rather than opening our mouths like a young bird and accepting everything that is crammed down our throats.

"Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God."

CLIFFORD WILSON, Evangelist

A sign on the Fort Worth-Jacksboro highway, "John, the Sole-Saver."

Poetry and youth are associated in most people's minds—but Carl Sandburg's first book of poems was published when he was 36. And Edgar Lee Masters was a lawyer, by no means young, who had tried his hand at writing, with indifferent success, until William Marion Reedy of Reedy's mirror urged him to read a Greek anthology. The result was "Spoon River Anthology", a book which will endure.

Life is full of little tragedies which, though little, are poignant. And mostly unsuspected. A while back I sat down at a soda fountain counter in Dallas and gave my orders—a glass of orange juice—to the girl attendant who was trying to serve the entire counter by herself and business was rushing. Minutes went by and I grew impatient but said nothing. At last the orange juice was set before me and the girl declared with a tired sigh, "You are the first one who has waited this long without yelling at me." Then I was glad I had been silent.

Many years ago there was a highly individual kind of individual who was president of a bank in Memphis, Tennessee. One day a newsboy, who had gotten change for a large bill, returned to the teller's window and said, "You made a mistake." The teller replied, "I make no corrections after a customer leaves the window."

"But," persisted the newsboy, "you gave me $10 too much."
 "Oh, in that case," the teller began—but the old president of the bank who had been standing nearby, declared, "Son, the teller makes no correction after the customer has left the window; you heard him; I heard him. The $10 is yours."

And the hasty teller had to make good the tenner himself.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Takes An Unscientific Stand, He Opposes A New Plan To Bomb The Tornadoes

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek takes an unscientific view this week, but his views rarely ever prevail anyway.

Dear editor:

So far I haven't gotten that job I was writing about last week, the one that would put me on the government payroll as a weather investigator to find out why the weather doesn't always follow the forecasts, but I am convinced more than ever that the weather bureau needs a man of my caution and conservatism.

I was readin last night in a newspaper which I'd been savin' to put on the springs under my mattress to keep the cold air from comin through that direction where a weather expert has figured out a system of destroyin' in tornadoes before they destroy cities by blastin em with a guided missile or an atom bomb.

As I understand this theory, a tornado can be blown to pieces with an explosive, and all you need to do is find out where one is, send out a guided missile to attack it, or fly an airplane over it and drop an atom bomb on it. No doubt it's true maybe that if they'd exploded an atom bomb over Waco when the tornado was hittin last spring, it would have wiped out the tornado. Of course the fact it would have wiped out Waco also ain't got anything to do with theory. A scientific fact is a scientific fact.

Not bein a scientist, I'm not in a position to argue about this, but bein alive and wantin to stay that way, I believe I'd just as soon take my chances with a tornado as a guided missile or an atom bomb.

However, there's a lot to say in favor of the weather when it double-crosses the forecasters. It keeps life more interestin. Who can say life is more interestin just because you know a north-er is gonna hit tomorrow morn- in at 10:30?

I know a man in a neighboring county who ain't what you'd call real bright. A few years ago he got himself a high powered radio and got interested in the weather forecasts. Bein curious natured, he didn't just listen to one station all the time, he dial- ed em all in, and frequently he'd tune in a station say in North Dakota and get the local weather report for us up there. Not knowin it was a local report, he would hear for, example a blizzard was due that afternoon, and he'd come out of his house with an overcoat on and his ear flaps buttoned down, throw the feed to his cows, cover up his water pipes, haul in plenty of wood, and set out to warn his neighbors.

Finally he came to the conclusion the weather forecasts were extremely unreliable and he quit listenin, dependin on geese and his corns.

Personally, I'm in favor of weather forecasts, but a man ought to retain enough independ- ence to know what clothes to wear even when his radio is out of commission.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Drive carefully. The life you save may be your own.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Measles in Texas is reaching a mild epidemic stage at present, with outbreaks following closely the main lines of travel across the State, according to information made public today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The number of cases reported to the State Department of Health last week are much above the average.

"The peculiar pattern of this spread of measles re-emphasizes the fact that it is a contagious disease, passed on from one person to another," Dr. Cox said. "Guard against exposure by avoiding contact with measles patients."

Dr. Cox said that measles alone is not necessarily a dangerous disease, but dangerous complications, such as streptococ-

"Unskilled treatment of a plain case of measles can result in dangerous complications," Dr. Cox warned, "and it is not to be regarded lightly as simply another childhood disease."

Dr. Cox urged parents to carefully watch children exposed, and at the first sign of temperature, flushed face, sniffles, or watering eyes, advised that the child be put to bed immediately and placed under a doctor's care.

Fruit of Good Will

JOHNNY APPELEED made the apple the universal American fruit when, around 1800, he wandered throughout the midwest, sowing the seeds that became great apple orchards. All Americans, including this pretty young miss picking apples at Wenatchee, Wash., share the heritage.

APPLE BUTTER spread on bread, and sometimes the face, left, is a popular treat. It's part of Johnny Appleeed's legacy of good will.

BIG BUSINESS now, apple products are eaten in all 48 states. U.S. inspector, right, checks sample at J. M. Smucker Co., in Ohio.

CARGO OF APPLE butter and other fruit products rolls along Ohio road past blossoming apple tree, en route to Southwest. International truck is pulling enough fruit products to spread 750,000 slices of bread. Johnny Appleeed's dream came true!

Farm Bureau To Adopt Program Of Price Stability

The Texas Farm Bureau has adopted a national farm program which is designed to alleviate the surplus problem and insure price stability in the agricultural industry. The plan will be recommended for adoption at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention December 14-17 in Chicago.

The 504 voting delegates at the state Farm Bureau's 20th annual convention Nov. 9-11 at Mineral Wells also recommended the "continuance and expansion of the beef purchase program to a point of accomplishing stability at 100 per cent of parity."

Under the farm plan adopted at the convention, the percentage of tillable acres that are responsible for surpluses would be taken completely out of production. However, producers of basic commodities would still retain the right to exert control over their commodities, as they do now under the present law. A system of flexible supports, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, would be provided for the non-basic crops if producers favored marketing agreements for those crops.

Statistics show that the overall production averages from 5 to 15 per cent. If, for example, the over-all surplus amounted to 10 per cent, then each farmer would retire 10 per cent of his tillable acres. To be eligible for supports, the producer would have to comply with a soil conserving plan for his retired acreage. Shifting of production from over-produced crops to those in short supply would be encouraged by the price support system. Thus, the plan would bring supplies in line with demand and also enforce good soil conservation practices.

The convention endorsed a compromise plan to amend the present cotton acreage law in the next session of Congress to increase next year's national cotton allotment from 17,910,448 to 21,500,000.

Delegates from 139 counties voted to continue supporting wheat at not less than 90 per cent of parity with acreage control and marketing quotas in effect. The Convention delegates recommended increased appropriations for an expanded research program, both at the state and national levels.

The delegates favored sending food and fiber, instead of dollars to any country receiving U. S. aid where agricultural products are needed. The group also endorsed reciprocal trade agreements as a means of disposing of agricultural surpluses.

Speakers at convention included Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Dr. Herbert E. Stotts, professor of sociology of religion, Hiff School of Theology, Denver; and J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau. Miss Fayteen Peoples of Quail, Collingsworth County, was chosen Texas Farm Bureau Queen over a field of 11 other candidates.

The convention drew the largest crowd in the history of the Texas Farm Bureau.

LIVESTOCK PARASITE CONTROL

We are a long way from a cat-tleman's Utopia but recent experiments in Texas with a unique method of parasite control may be bringing it closer.

The method being studied involves the use of insecticides injected directly into cattle. Good preliminary results have been achieved but the work is still in the experimental stage.

Three chemicals have been tested—aldrin, dieldrin and lindane. All three were effective in destroying the cattle grubs which spend much of their lives inside the bodies of cattle.

Cattlemen would welcome such a measure if it eliminates the troublesome and costly grub. But there still are some knotty problems to be solved and a lot of unanswered questions. It must be determined whether or not these insecticides will prove both economical and safe to use over a period of time. Entomologists and veterinarians may come up with the answers when the study is completed at the U. S. D. A.'s Bureau of Entomology Laboratory in Kerrville, Texas.

The insecticide solution has been injected under the skin of yearling cattle in one series of tests. Injections were made at the time when grubs began to appear as bumps under the skin and were repeated every 28 days.

The insecticides are carried by the bloodstream as systemic chemicals to all parts of the animal's body. As the grubs reach the animal's back and begin to feed heavily on the flesh, they automatically dose themselves with insecticide.

Many of the larvae died soon after reaching the back. A few others continued their normal life cycle, cutting their way through the hide and dropping to the ground to pupate.

Other promising but preliminary research has shown that the screwworm fly, which lays eggs in open livestock wounds, could be controlled for as long as a month with this same method.

TEE DRESS

It's tee time at sunny southern resorts. While icy winds blow in the rest of the country, sportswomen wintering in resortland are wearing clothes like this lightweight cotton golfer. The shirtmaker style of multi-stripped cotton is designed by Serbin of Miami with a wing collar and buttoned set-in pockets.

Of the three chemicals, dieldrin proved most toxic to the screw-worm.

Continued progress along this line may eventually provide farmers and ranchers with healthier and higher meat producing animals. Cattle grubs, alone, have been estimated to cause a loss of $100 million each year through annoyance of animals and damage to meat and hides. Losses caused by screw-worms are estimated to be about $25 million each year.

"The coffee's terrible but it's the only restaurant in town"

Muddy coffee. Soggy toast. Indigestible food. Bad luck for the hungry salesman who stops in that town for a bite to eat. The missing ingredient is "competition."

Funny how that word has a way of stirring up activity.

People who manufacture things, for example, prickle all over when they think about competition. They sit up evenings fretting about it, and spend millions to improve their products. The result, of course, is high quality at lowest possible cost. And the winner of a contest like that has to be the public.

People are tempted sometimes to wonder what life would be like without competition. For a clue, they might note the shabby fall in living standards in countries where clumsy fingers of state monopoly have strangled competition.

Over 3,000 manufacturing firms in America share in the electrical business. We can name offhand 20 sizable firms that compete at giving the public better refrigerators. There are more than 200 rivals in the making of electric motors. At least 37 in electric irons; 53 in home freezers; 25 turn out vacuum cleaners. And so on down the list.

Some companies competing with General Electric today actually sprang up from the seeds of General Electric research. New products have invited new companies. In certain cases, whole new industries. And more will come.

The competitive race just never ends. That sounds tiring for the contestants, but in fact it is healthy exercise. Healthy for the country, too. At General Electric we wouldn't have it any other way.

You can put your confidence in

Yearbooks Issued
Munday P-TA Unit

At the first action group meeting of the P-TA held on November 19th in the grade school, the P-TA yearbooks were issued to an enthusiastic group of parents. Programs planned for the 1953-1954 school year promises a series of interesting sessions for fathers as well as the mothers of school children.

On the November 18th meeting, Mrs. Paul Pruitt discussed with the grade school mothers the theme "Are We Spelling Our Children?" Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle gave some pertinent advice to mothers of adolescents on the topic of "Where Can They Go for Counsel?" A gratifying number of parents attended these action groups.

In the future two fathers' night programs are scheduled, one in January and the other in April. Dr. T. W. Williams of Haskell has consented to lead a health discussion in the adolescent group, and the Rev. Mr. Doyle Ragle will preside over the younger children's group. In the others fathers' night session the Rev. E. V. Becker of Knox City and Mr. Gene Harrell of this city will present some answers to some perplexing questions.

As is the custom, the December program will be a musical program presented by the school. It is an evening program scheduled for December 17th at 8 o'clock. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. J. H. Bardwell and Mr. Harold J. Jackson, and the entire community is extended a welcome to hear some splendid Christmas music.

Hank and Donnie Haynie spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. White, in Rochester.
