DISTRICT P-T MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Four Crowell Churches To Begin Union Pre-Easter Revival Sunday Night

Week's Services To Be Conducted By Local Pastors

One of the most interesting revivals in the history of Crowell churches will begin Sunday evening and will continue for one week with five members of the local pastors' association doing the preaching at four churches here—Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Christian.

Beginning Sunday night at the Methodist Church with Rev. R. R. Rives, Presbyterian pastor, doing the preaching, the series of meetings will come to an end a week later with a sunrise service at the Presbyterian Church at 6:30 o'clock Easter morning.

The services are to begin at 7:45 o'clock each evening and have been arranged as follows:

Sunday, April 9 — Rev. R. R. Rives at Methodist Church.

Monday—Rev. O. L. Savage at Presbyterian Church.

Tuesday—Rev. R. R. Rives at Methodist Church.

Wednesday—Rev. C. V. Allen at Baptist Church.

Thursday—Rev. Grant L. Slagal at Methodist Church.

Friday—Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine at Baptist Church.

Saturday—no service.

Sunday morning, 8:30 — Easter sunrise service at Presbyterian Church.

One may see by the above schedule that no pastor preaches at his own church.

The choirs of all churches will join together to make the song service one of the features of the revival. It is hoped that the people of this section will co-operate in every possible way in making this pre-Easter event an outstanding success.

Funeral Services For J. M. Jonas Held Here Last Friday Morning

Funeral services for J. M. Jonas, 76, who died at his home here on Thursday morning, March 30, were held at the local Baptist Church on Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Charlie Powell of Abilene, former pastor for the family in the Black community, officiated at the funeral, assisted by Rev. O. L. Savage, local Baptist pastor. Interment followed in the Crowell Cemetery.

Pall bearers were: Jerry Clark, Raymond Jonas, J. D. Wright Jr., Claudius Carroll, Venson Hall and Lee Clark, grandsons of the deceased.

The following granddaughters were flower bearers: Mrs. Virgie Nelson, Mrs. Edith Wright, Mrs. Verneta Carroll and Mrs. Vernon Clark.

The deceased had been a resident of Foard County for the past 25 years. He is survived by his wife and the following five children: J. W. Jonas of Wichita Falls, F. J. Jonas of Gambleville, Mrs. W. B. Clark of Denton, J. M. Jonas Jr. of Altus, Okla., and Mrs. C. D. Hall of the Black community.

Prominent Figures at P. T. A. Conference

Three of the principal figures in the 13th District P. T. A. Conference here next week are shown in the adjoining pictures. Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of C. I. A. at Denton, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, above, of Crowell is now serving her third year as president of the district and has made a very creditable record in this high office. Last year she was re-elected for a two-year term.

Mrs. J. M. Crain of Claude, left, fourth vice-president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will represent that body at the conference. She is also State publicity chairman.

Fire Insurance Dept. Allows Crowell 6 Per Cent Credit for 1933

Crowell's fire insurance credit for this year is six per cent, the lowest in over eleven years. Last year the credit was nine per cent and nine years before that Crowell received the maximum credit of fifteen per cent as a result of its good fire record. Information as to the credit for this year in Crowell was recently announced by the State Fire Insurance Department.

Conference Opens Tuesday Morning; Will Last 2 Days

All indications point to one of the most successful conventions in the history of Crowell when the fifth annual conference of the 13th District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers is held here on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Various committees are completing final details for this event and outstanding co-operation by the citizenship of Crowell as a whole has been shown in plans for royally entertaining the 250 to 300 delegates and visitors that are expected for this conference.

Most of the 135 P. T. A. units from the following fourteen counties of the district will be represented: Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Haskell, Wichita, Wilbarger, Young, Montague, Knox, Throckmorton and Wise.

While the conference does not officially open until Tuesday morning, yet activities will get underway at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening at the high school when a tree-planting ceremony will take place. This will be followed with a dinner at the Griffith Hotel by the Crowell Rotary Club honoring State officers and the district board of managers.

One of the features of the conference will be the chuck wagon dinner on the J. W. Wishon ranch at noon Tuesday, which is a courtesy to delegates and visitors from Crowell business men.

All sessions of the conference are open to the public.

The complete program for the conference is as follows:

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS GAIN IN FOARD COUNTY

A substantial gain in the number of Foard County scholastics is indicated by preliminary school census figures that have been reported to the county school superintendent.

L. A. Andrews, enumerator for the Crowell Independent School District, reports that 602 names for this year are listed in the census, compared with 563 for last year, a gain of 39.

Preliminary figures for 1933, together with the 1932 figures are as follows:

| | 1933 | 1932 |
|--------------|------|------|
| Four Corners | 19 | 17 |
| Gambleville | 51 | 51 |
| Fish | 33 | 35 |
| Margaret | 141 | 129 |
| Black | 39 | 36 |
| Vivian | 69 | 73 |
| Ayersville | 73 | 69 |
| West Rayland | 136 | 112 |
| Foard City | 139 | 118 |
| Claytonville | 18 | 22 |
| Beaver | 32 | 23 |
| Good Creek | 67 | 42 |
| Crowell | 602 | 563 |

A gain of 138 is shown in the above figures. Thalia has not reported yet, however, it is likely that the total gain for the county will be considerably above one hundred. Last year there were 1,518 scholastics in the county census.

The people of this section are invited to take part in a rabbit drive that is to be conducted on Thursday of next week, April 13, in the Beaver community.

Thalia High School now has thirteen and one-half units of affiliation and an effort is being made this year to secure affiliation in fourth year English, public speaking, chemistry and business law. The latter three subjects were added this year. Typewriting is now being taught in the school without any added expense to the school system, since the machines are being furnished by those taking this course, or by the teachers.

Col. Adams has retired as commanding officer at Camp Hulen, a National Guard camp at Palacios, due to ill-health in order to return to the town that he and his wife have claimed as their official residence, although they have been away from here for ten years. For six years Col. Adams was U. S. Property disbursing officer at Austin and for over three years he has been at Palacios. Mr. Bailey served as camp carpenter at Palacios for a number of years. Their friends here welcome their return and hope for Col. Adams a speedy recovery of his health.

A trade was completed last week that resulted in the exchange of the 40-acre farm home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Olds, one mile northeast of Crowell, for the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. McLaughlin in the northeast part of Crowell.

THREE CROWELL CITY OFFICIALS ARE RE-ELECTED

C. T. Schlagal, mayor, and J. C. Self and M. S. Henry, aldermen, were re-elected in the Crowell city election Tuesday. George F. Allison was also elected alderman and replaced B. F. Ivie in the city council.

A total of 182 votes were cast in the election, which was a large gain over the vote for the last few years. Last year only 95 votes were cast. In 1931 the total was 46 and in 1930 it was 63. The election of 1929 attracted 230 voters.

Results in the election here Tuesday were as follows:

For mayor—C. T. Schlagal, 95; H. L. Kinsey, 88.

For aldermen (3 to be elected)—George F. Allison, 98; J. C. Self, 98; M. S. Henry, 85; J. E. Harwell, 71; M. O'Connell, 67; B. F. Ivie, 58, and D. C. Greer, 55.

The successful candidates will begin their two-year terms on April 18.

R. J. Roberts and Leo Spencer are the other members of the city council. They were elected for two-year terms last year.

Hogs Gain 220 Pounds In 120 Days Through Use of Self-Feeder

In 120 days a litter of pigs gained 220 pounds each on the farm of M. S. Henry of this city. The splendid results were obtained from feeding wheat and threshed grain sorghums in a self-feeder, together with a protein supplement of equal parts of tankage and cottonseed meal, which was also fed in the self-feeder.

The pigs, when placed on feed, weighed an average of 35 pounds each. At the end of the 120-day period the pigs were weighed again and their average weight was 255 pounds.

Mr. Henry's feeder was built on plans furnished by the Extension Service of A. and M. College. It is constructed so that it is weather proof. This prevents damage of feed from rain. The feeder also has doors that fit closely over the trough, thus preventing the hogs from wasting feed and also preventing any other animal from eating out of the feeder. Mr. Henry is convinced that a properly constructed self-feeder is the most economical way of producing pork.

ONLY THREE OF 76 MEN SAVED WHEN GIANT DIRIGIBLE AKRON FALLS INTO ATLANTIC OCEAN

The navy dirigible, "Akron," the largest machine that ever took to the sea, fell into the Atlantic Ocean, about 20 miles off the New Jersey coast Tuesday morning as the result of a violent thunderstorm.

Of the 76 men aboard, only five have been accounted for. Four of these picked up by the German tanker, Phoebus, and one died shortly afterward. The body of another man was found Wednesday.

Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Navy's aeronautical division, is among the other 71 men that are given up for lost. Lt. Com. H. V. Wiley, second in command on the Akron, is one of the three survivors.

This giant ship, which was 765 feet long and 146.5 feet in height, was capted by the U. S. Navy on Aug. 8, 1931. Last year it successfully fought severe storm in Southwest Texas while flying to San Diego.

Akron Moors Safely After Riding Storm in 1932

The ill-fated U. S. S. Akron is shown above moored to the U. S. S. Patoka after it was put through a severe test in an all-night cruise during which it encountered snow, sleet and balmy weather. The test was made in January, 1932, to see how the Akron would handle it weather conditions that would keep airplanes on the ground. After this test it was felt that the Akron would be safe in most any kind of weather.

In this picture the Akron is shown arriving at its hangar after its first flight with 113 persons aboard. Later it carried as many as 207 persons at one time. When the above picture was taken, this battleship of the skies and its hangar extended more than a third of a mile.

It sounds like a fairy tale, yet it is true that fish actually did jump into boats down at the Bonar lake last Sunday night. Several of the boys went down just for a little outing and while they were rowing their boats several fine bass lifted themselves from the water into the boats. The one which Luke Graham was rowing finally came to land with 38 fish. Louie Mapp and R. J. Roberts caught 8 in this way. Zeke Bell and Frank Hill did not have any luck.

M. F. Crowell has bought the interest of Albert Schooley in the auto supply company which has been running under the firm of Schooley &

Sam Seales was in town Monday and said he was going to move to the Thalia country the following week. He has not sold his farm on Pease River, but says he wants to get away from the river, for he is afraid a German submarine will come along one of these days and fire on him.

CONGRATULATIONS COME FIFTEEN YEARS LATE

Three weeks ago the following appeared under the "Fifteen Year Ago" heading: "Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wisdom of Thalia, a boy." However, it seems that some of the readers of The News failed to notice the heading and several congratulations concerning the new arrival were received, according to Mr. Wisdom.

While he and Mrs. Wisdom were attending an affair at the Thalia school last week, a friend approached them and asked if the little boy mentioned in The Foard County News was present, to which Mr. Wisdom replied: "Yes, he is up there on the stage now getting ready to debate." The said boy happens to be J. C. Wisdom, prominent athlete and debater of Thalia High School.

Nicknamed! that's what happened

THE contest for a name and slogan for Conoco's new gasoline is over. The winning name and slogan have been selected and awards made to the contestants listed here.

More than half a million good friends tried sincerely to help us, and we are grateful to all of them for the names and slogans sent us, each of which had a careful reading and consideration.

Even though we have selected and paid for a splendid name, we find we cannot use it or any of the many hundreds of good names submitted.

Here is what happened: Personality always wins a "nickname." We never thought of that in our anxiety to get a good name for an outstanding gasoline. Bronze was used as a color to make this new gasoline distinctive and to protect our customers. It was liked by everybody—they, you, everybody called it Conoco Bronze. So, try as we might, we couldn't change now. It will always be known as Conoco Bronze. It had too much personality to avoid this popularity rating—"nicknamed!"

Therefore, conforming with contest rules, we are using a name of our own creation, the name used in all the contest advertisements—"Conoco Bronze"—even though it is not the name for which we paid $5,000.

Each user of Conoco Bronze gets a perpetual prize of instant starting, lightning pick-up, greater mileage and power—for it is a great gasoline.

THE WEATHER

It is a common saying that the winters are getting milder and the summers hotter. Now comes along the United States weather bureau, which has been studying the weather conditions directly for more than sixty years and by reference to old records for more than a hundred years back, and confirms the belief that the past few years have been exceptionally mild.

Since 1908 the United States, especially that part of it east of the Rockies, has been enjoying the longest "warm spell" in history. The average annual temperature has been steadily rising for twenty-five years. Perhaps it has begun to change. The winter just passed was not as mild as the last one, which was the mildest in a century. If we have a cool spring, weather sharps say, we may look forward to a cooler autumn.

Just after the war of 1812 there was a long warm spell, lasting more than 10 years. There was another soon after the Civil War. But from 1875 to 1912 the Summers kept getting colder.

What causes these fluctuations in average annual temperature is not yet calmly understood but knowledge of it is important. For one thing, these changes of climate have a decided influence upon agriculture. They determine the length of the growing season. Wheat production has been extending farther and farther north in Canada for a good many years now. A change of only two or three degrees in the average temperature, shortening the growing season, might materially cut down the wheat area of our northern neighbor. Similarly, the northward limit of the cotton belt is fixed by the average annual temperature.

The weather is one topic of perennial interest. Everybody talks about it, although, as Mark Twain remarked, nobody ever does anything about it. It is of interest to everybody because it affects everybody. We have heard of lands of perpetual sunshine, in which the temperature never changes from season to season, where nobody ever has to give the weather a second thought. We have often wondered what the people of those happy isles found to talk about. And we also wondered whether life doesn't get entirely too monotonous where Nature itself never changes.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

Perhaps in no other industry is there such a variety of conditions as in the newspaper business. Totaled indiscriminately, there are something over 14,000 newspapers in the United States, ranging from the smallest country weekly which prints only two pages in its own shop, with additional pages printed by a syndicate, to the great metropolitan dailies which employ thousands of persons each.

For the smallest, probably not more than 25 pounds of paper is required each week, while the Chicago Tribune uses for one Sunday edition all the paper produced from the timber grown on 240 acres of land. According to Grove Patterson, the well-known writer, the New York Times employs 3,100 persons, with a payroll of $25,000,000 a year. Hearst's newspapers and magazine use more than $50,000,000 worth of paper a year in normal times.

But in spite of the disparity between the smallest and the largest of American newspapers, the publisher of the small country weekly need not be overawed by the size of his metropolitan rival. The local newspaper has a place in the life of its community which the great dailies can not usurp, if the local publisher is alive to his opportunities and makes the most of them.

Now, as always, the home town newspaper is the best and cleanest exponent of constructive journalism.

Washington, April 5 (Autocaster) —The situation here simmers down to a complete national housecleaning. New brooms proverbially sweep clean, and the Roosevelt broom has hardly begun to show signs of wear. Congress doesn't like the assumption of such complete leadership by the President, but the President has the public behind him and Congress hasn't. So it is a safe bet that Mr. Roosevelt will get the rest of his major program through Congress, although not without a good deal of muttering and grumbling. He holds the whip-hand, and nothing scares the average Congressman so much as the thought that the President can go right over his head by means of newspapers and radio, and tell his constituents that he isn't doing his duty.

Moves For Farm Relief Farm relief, for example: The Senate doesn't want to pass the President's bill, and doubtless will succeed in inserting some unimportant changes. But it will be passed, because Senators don't want to risk the President going "on the air" and telling people that they were willing enough to help bankers but unwilling to help farmers!

Meantime, practical steps toward what Secretary Wallace calls "abolishing anarchy in agriculture" have been taken by the Presidential order abolishing the Farm Board and combining its work with the Federal Farm Loan Board, the Federal Land Banks, the Joint Stock Land Banks, the Intermediate Credit Banks, the Agricultural Credit Corporation set up by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Crop Production Loan Bureau and the agricultural association loan bureau. All of those functions will be performed by the new board with Henry Morgenthau, Jr., at its head.

Mr. Morgenthau will pull one of the strongest oars in the whole government. He and Secretary Wallace will share complete control so far as Government can control such things, over what farmers may plant, how they market their product, how much they may get for it and how much they can borrow for their farm operations, as well as what they can borrow on farm mortgages.

Unemployment Relief Next The first stage of President Roosevelt's unemployment relief plan, the enlistment of 250,000 men under military discipline for forestry work, seems likely enough to be authorized speedily. It will use money which had been appropriated but not spent for other kinds of public works. The next stage, it is expected, will be an appropriation of something like five hundred million dollars for apportionment among the states for direct relief. The Administration conceives it to be the Government's first duty to see to it that nobody starves, while waiting for the wheels of industry to begin to turn again.

Money for this and probably for other purposes will be raised by a new Government bond issue of perhaps three million dollars. Long-term bonds bearing a low rate of interest may be offered in small units, as low as $20, and it is expected that there will be little difficulty in disposing of them. The interest will be a charge on the annual budget but not so heavy as to offset economies already beginning to be put into effect.

Funds from this or some other source, possibly through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, are expected to be used to shoulder some of the farm mortgage burden, but not to lift it all from the shoulders of the insurance companies and other large mortgagees.

Business and Railroads One use to which Government funds may be put is the stimulation of business by means of some method of either making loans for expansion purposes or guaranteeing business enterprises against loss if

Too Big for Her? — Who Said So?

By Albert T. Reid

BRUCE BARTON

...writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experience of "The Man Nobody Knows."

MASTER OF SITUATIONS

In all the three years of his public work there was not one moment when Jesus failed to be complete master of the situation. He was accessible to anybody—in the market-place, in the temple and on the main streets—fair game for the keen and clever. It became quite a recognized sport to match wits with him. Pharisees tried it; Scribes tried it; "a certain lawyer" tried it. Always they came off second best. At length the very chiefs of the priests came one afternoon. Lesser antagonists had gone down; now the leaders themselves would take the matter in hand. They would demolish this presumptuous upstart; by the splendor of their presence and their offices, they would awe him into line.

Bruce Barton

"By what authority do you do these things," they demanded brusquely, "and who gave you this authority?" If they expected him to yield an inch they received the surprise of their lives. His retort was instantaneous.

"I'll ask you a question," he exclaimed, "and if you answer it, then I'll tell you by what authority I work. Answer me now, what about John; was his work in baptizing inspired by Heaven or by men?" They caught their breath. Their heads came together; excited and disturbing whispers were exchanged. What should they say? If we answer that John had come from Heaven, he will say, "Well, why then, didn't you believe him?" If we say, that he came from men, this crowd of fools will tear us to pieces, because every last one of them believes that John was a prophet. What shall we do? Better tell him we don't know; better get out of here as quickly as we can.

"We don't know," they muttered. "All right," said Jesus serenely. "You don't answer my question. Neither will I answer yours."

It was a perfect triumph. Amid the jeers of the delighted crowd they gathered up their fine robes and went away.

You would think as you read the narratives that the wise ones would have been wise enough to let him alone. Even a child having burned its fingers once, knows enough to avoid fire. But their jealousy and anger drove them back again and again; and every time he was too much for them. In the very last week the "Pharisees and Herodians" gathered together a picked delegation of sharp wits and sent them with what looked like an absolutely fool-proof bomb. They started in with flattery; after all he was a simple fellow from the provinces—a few kind words and his head would be turned. Then they would catch him off his guard.

Next Week: "Render Unto Caesar" Copyright, Bobbs-Merrill Co.

they will undertake to resume operations at full pressure under conditions laid down by the Government. This is one of the plans not yet fully worked out, but generally talked about among President Roosevelt's intimates. Early action by the Administration for the relief of the railroad situation seems imminent. It is said here that some of the delay is due to negotiations under way between the new Secretary of Labor, Miss Perkins, and the railway brotherhoods, looking toward a reduction of railroad wage scales as a necessary part of any wide-spread reorganization calculated to put the roads on an earning basis. The railroad plans contemplate a single managing head, similar to the position of Director of Railways during the war. This man will be the supreme boss of the railroads, with the Interstate Commerce Commission acting in an advisory capacity.

Still On Bank Problem The banking situation considered as a whole is regarded here as in good shape, but with much yet to be done to insure stability. Some few banks which were not in perfect condition have been allowed to open, due to exigencies of state politics. There is going to be some sort of strong Government supervision imposed upon all banks, but what form it will take is not yet clear. It probably will not be in the form of a Government guarantee of bank deposits, but it may take the form of requiring every bank which is a member of the Federal Reserve System to contribute to a mutual insurance fund to guarantee deposits. This, with the requirement that every National bank shall be a member of the Federal reserve, is calculated to drive all state banks into the system. With beer legalized and the proposal to repeal the prohibition amendment likely to be ratified by a sufficient number of states, President Roosevelt has sent for a list of prisoners in Federal prisons for violations of the prohibition laws. He has not said why he wants the list, but some of his friends suggest that he is looking for a cell-room for bankers. Several big bankers are under arrest and apparently headed for prison, and it is rumored here

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

Motorists are given some advice in recent bulletins from the National Safety Council. The admonitions given are: Beware of carbon monoxide by keeping the garage open when you start your car. This may be, but you can neither see, nor taste it. Have brakes tested frequently. When road is slippery don't brake or step on the gas suddenly. Take curves slowly, out for car tracks. Be cautious when passing school grounds and other places where children are running about. In short, use head, hands and feet to prevent accidents.

SELLING BAD STOCKS

With utter disregard for laws, one citizen of New York has made a fortune doing what is different from many other guarantees that the stocks are absolutely without value buying them with the same standing. This odd broker, R. M. now 72 years old, has long authority on stocks, and has a history of about 300,000 dead-tions. For 45 years he has been sued by persons holding their handsome stock certificates. Then he sells them to his window displays, to collectors, study, or to faddists who want to paper their rooms. But he gives his guarantee that no good from a financial point.

Effort Will be Made To Raise Democratic Quota in Foard Co.

A dime a Democrat is the quota as-

This rather formidable sum is prothe Democratic party, it was said in a statement released by National Democratic headquarters at Austin.

sum of money, being exceeded by Roosevelt's own state of New York.

The amount requested from Texas was approximately one-tenth of the number of Democratic votes cast in Texas last November. In determining the quota for each county the Texas organization decided to allot the quota in proportion to the votes cast. Ten cents for each Democratic vote approximates very closely the sum expected from Texas.

There were 882 votes cast in Foard County. The quota, therefore, is $88.20.

"Every Democrat in Foard County ought to feel that the New Deal is worth at least a dime to him," Frank Scofield said. "We are now advising county chairmen of the sums expected of them and anticipate no difficulty in raising Texas' part of the party's debt."

It is not supposed that every voter can be reached and if this quota is raised it will have to be raised by larger donations. Some should contribute $1.00, others 50c each, and probably others 25c and 10c each, according to local Democratic officials.

"Let us urge that every Democrat take it upon himself to contribute to this fund so that our quota may be raised and remitted within the coming week," stated S. T. Crews, county chairman.

TRADES DAY SIDELIGHTS

As a result of the free feed-grinding demonstration, the McCormick-Deering hammer mill at Self Truck & Tractor Co. was kept busy from 8 o'clock in the morning until after 6
p. m. Services was rendered for over thirty farmers, some of whom came as far as 25 miles.

Joe Murphy of Hardeman County was here with his stallion, "Prince," a 1,610-pound black horse. Nolan Kerley accompanied him.

The tip-end of Foard County to the northeast was well represented.
Among the many visitors from that section were R. A. Rutledge, Rayland merchant, J. C. Davis, T. F. Lambert, Tom Davis and others whom the local newshawk failed to see. Mr. Lambert disposed of a load of alfalfa hay.

Jake Myers of Truscott, prominent baseball player of this section, was among those present and reported that many people from Knox County were here.

The transient auctioneer who "cleaned up" at Trades Day here two months ago with his cheap razors, watches, etc. and who would sell a burned match for a dime and then buy the match back for a dollar along with other psychological stunts, started his silver tongue to work again Monday afternoon near the trading lot and was again taking in hard-earned cash about as easy as it is to take candy from a baby until conditions became somewhat hot for him.

A farmer, whose son invested four dollars in a razor 2 months ago, reported the deal to Sheriff R. J.
Thomas and then went to his home for the said article. Upon his return, he and Mr. Thomas went to the scene of the auction. After an exchange of a few words, hot and otherwise, and with other victims joining forces against the "gift of gab" man, the activities in the auction line were promptly halted and in some cases money was returned purchasers, or else The News might have an account this week of someone receiving injuries on Trades Day.

A Hardeman County visitor, Mr.
Scarborough, was ready to drive home barefooted, thinking that he had completed a trade of his boots for a small horse, however, the owner of the horse decided to not make the trade.

Henry Hlavaty reports that he had no trouble in disposing of the items he advertised in the "Swap Ad" column last month. In fact, he found that his own brother-in-law had the items he wanted to trade for, which goes to show that we never know who has some article that they don't need which might be the thing we are looking for, if it is only advertised.

It is estimated that around thirty-five saddle horses were ridden to Crowell on Trades Day.

Slow Down, America!

The average American is sailing through life with too much speed.
Why should we as American citizens send ourselves to an early grave by not heeding the laws of Nature and protecting our bodies from disease before it is too late?

The laws of Nature are simple, but we do not take time to obey them. We eat at all hours, sleep when we can go no longer, and take exercise when it is convenient. No wonder the hospitals of our Nation are full and running over, because people living at this fast pace go until they are nervous wrecks then seek different ways and means to restore themselves to health.

What we need to do is to slow down, eat wholesome food at regular times, sleep eight hours, get out in the open and breathe plenty of fresh air and by all means, drink lots of water.

Add Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water—not only do they contain 11 essential body-building minerals, but they make correct elimination possible. Crazy Water Crystals have meant relief to thousands suffering from constipation, rheumatism, colitis, neu-ritis, liver and bladder disorders, nervous ailments, auto intoxication, excess acidity, and many others brought on by faulty elimination.
We invite you to investigate Crazy
Water Crystals today.

A man recently complained to Judge Davis at Auburn, N. Y., that his wife poured a pan of water in his face every night just to stop him from snoring.

For breaking into jail at Newark, N. J., Vincent Bagan was given a ten-day sentence.

STOPS a Headache

There seems to be no safer way to end a headache—and there certainly is no safer way than two tablets of Bayer Aspirin.

You've heard doctors say Bayer Aspirin is safe. If you've tried it, you know it's effective. You could take these tablets every day in the year without any ill effects. And every time you take them, you get the desired relief.

Stick to Bayer Aspirin. It's safe.
It gets results. Quick relief from headaches, colds, or other sudden discomfort.

OUR GUESTS

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Crowell will have many visitors from 14 counties in this section as its guests at the District P. T. A. Conference.

Let us all do everything possible in making their stay here a pleasant one. It will be appreciated by them and will do much in building up good will over this section for our town.

CHURCHES

Christian Science

Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject for Sunday, April 9, "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

Sunday School at 9:30. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited.

Methodist Church

The Crowell Union Revival will begin on April 9 and your pastor is doing all within his power to prepare himself and the church for co-operation in this meeting. Let us work as if everything depended upon our own strength and then put our Faith in Christ whose power will bring all the results. Through the Holy Spirit is God and Jesus Christ manifested to us. "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit," saith the Lord. The Godhead works through just such human instrumentality as our church and its members individually. Can God count on you? "Ye are the light of the world. Ye are the salt of the earth, but if the salt have lost its savor wherewith shall it be salted. It is thenceforth good for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under the foot of men." Realizing our responsibility as our brother's brother, and of being a neighbor to all in need, let us come to the help of the Lord in this special effort. A plan has been laid down for us to follow. This was first given to Solomon in answer to His prayer, as follows: "If My people, which are called by My name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." The pastor will preach Sunday morning. The night union service will be at the Methodist Church. Bring someone Sunday with you to Sunday School and church. We had 216 at Sunday School last Sunday.

GEO. E. TURRENTINE, Pastor.

First Baptist Church

9:45, Sunday School; 11:00 sermon, "Changing the Times." 6:45, Training Service. Easter should remind us of many things, especially should it remind us that we cannot avoid Christ. Appear at Church in April.

O. L. SAVAGE, Pastor.

Christian Church News

Bible Class was well attended by the ladies of the church and community. This class will meet every Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We extend to all a hearty invitation to attend these studies. Many interesting and untaught subjects of the Bible are to be studied. Bring your Bibles and come.

Let's don't forget to be present at the communion next Lord's Day. Our Blessed Lord instituted this to be in "Remembrance of Me," so let's make it truly a time of "Remembering" His Person and His work on the Cross for us.

The subject at the morning preaching hour will be "Positive Proof of Jesus' Divinity." There will be no evening service except that at the Methodist Church.

Christian Science Churches

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 9.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 103: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."
Included with other passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Deuteronomy 4: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else."

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following from the citations to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 127): "If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including man, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity. . . . Christian Science reveals God, not as the author of sin, sickness, and death, but as divine Principle, Supreme Being, Mind, exempt from all evil."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Jesus Requires Confession and Loyalty.
Lesson for April 9th. Mark 8:27-38.

Golden Text: Mark 8:34.

This Palm Sunday lesson deals with one of the most significant incidents in the ministry of Jesus, the famous interview with His disciples at Caesarea Philippi, a high mountainous town in the Jordan valley far to the north. Here was a shrine to the Greek god, Pan, and a temple built in the honor of the emperor Augustus. To this spot where men worshipped the forces of nature typified by Pan, and the political power incarnated in Augustus, Jesus and the disciples came seeking, in this Gentile territory, a refuge from Jewish opposition.

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

In the light of this background, note how intensely significant is the confession of Peter. When, in answer to Jesus' momentous query, "Who do men say that I am?" the impulsive apostle, the leader of the twelve, cried, "Thou art the Christ," he paid tribute to a leader more attractive than Pan, and more compelling than Augustus. And the importance of this confession is heightened by the fact that, as far as we can tell from a study of the all too brief gospel records, Jesus spoke here to His disciples about His Messiahship for the first time, and they, for their side, acknowledged it for the first time.

Why did the Master delay so long in speaking of the secret of His Person? This incident comes late in His career, near the end of the Galilean ministry. The answer to this difficult question seems to be, first of all, that our Lord felt the Messianic title to be misleading. His people dreamed of a mighty ruler, who would shatter the Roman world with the sword, and establish a victorious empire in Jerusalem. Obviously this conception did not at all express the meaning of His mission. Secondly, he knew that when He declared Himself openly as the Messiah, He would arouse volcanic hostility. Remember that the open announcement of His Messiahship at Caesarea Philippi meant a resolution on His part to return to the hostile Jews and the death their hate was preparing for Him. Here the Master set His face toward Jerusalem and the Cross.

SERMONETTE

USED TO IT

By Arthur B. Rhinow

A western man visited a friend in Brooklyn and, of course, the two spent a day at the seashore. The visitor was enrapt. As the waves came rolling in, foam-crested, and beat upon the shore with a roar, only to resurge and try it all over again, he became ecstatic.

"Why, this is wonderful," he exclaimed. "I never saw anything like this before. And look at the big ship out there."

"Like it?" the native asked, nonchalantly. "That's because it's new to you. It doesn't mean much to me. You see, I'm used to it. I come out here to take a dip and have a good time."

But there are people who have sat at the seashore hundreds of times and experienced a thrill of ever-increasing intensity. They do not get tired of the ocean's moving picture. That is because they do not merely see with their eyes, but with their souls. They enter into the spirit of it all until the Great Spirit speaks to them.

It is the same with the woods. The vacationist feels like quoting poetry as he walks through the forest for a mile or two, but the countryman is likely to laugh at him. "I'm used to it," he says with a gesture of finality. But there are people who, though well acquainted with the woods, feel the grip of something mighty every time they walk along a path that crackles under their feet as they tread upon twigs and leaves. They walk through the forest as through the aisles of a cathedral.

And when I hear men say, "I am used to the church and religion, I know all about such things, they mean nothing to me." I say to myself, they are advertising their shallowness. They see with their eyes, hear with their ears, and pray with their lips, but they never give their souls a chance to feel the great peace. They that know religion have a hunger to know even more.

Who was this man? What did he do to her? He was older than Neil Packard, realized—older, and wiser. His eyes had heavy, drooping lids...

Well, I have a headache, naturally, and I feel sort of shaken. I replied Joyce, dropping her head before his ardent gaze.

AWAKENED WOMAN

CLINORE BARRY

Fourth Installment

SYNOPSIS

When Joyce opened her eyes one morning to see a fruit-laden tree from the end of the luxuriant sleeping porch where she lay, she couldn't decide what had happened to her, for the last thing she remembered was a skidding taxi in Chicago on a sleeting November day, and when she saw the circlet diamonds on her wedding finger...

her neck and face with scorching touch and ardour.

Joyce was aghast to find she could not struggle free from his grip.

At last, her unresponsiveness and feeble efforts to free herself seemed to reach his consciousness.

"Let me go," gasped Joyce, taking advantage of his slightly relaxed hold to pull her arms out from his.

"Don't touch me... go away!" She was almost sobbing.

But, sweetheart, I can't understand it. Don't you love me? What have I done? Or is it Neil? Has he been—"

Without answering, Joyce fled upstairs, her knees trembling under her. The very force of her aversion, however, took her up to the front window, and peeping out from behind the curtain, she watched Maitland getting into a gray sport roadster outside of the door.

Then she ran into the big bedroom and shut and locked the door. "Oh dear! What am I going to do? Well, next time I'll know enough to keep at a distance and not give him a chance to grab me that way!"

She was interrupted by a knock. At first, she decided to pay no attention. Then, merely to get away from her own disturbing thoughts, she hastily opened the door.

Roxie stood there, holding a yellow envelope. "Telegram for you, Mrs. Packard."

"Oh? Oh, thank you," said Joyce taking it. When she had torn it open apprehensively, dreading to encounter further complications, Joyce read: "HOW ARE YOU PLEASE WIRE ME AT HOTEL BLACKSTONE LOVE NEIL." It was evidently sent enroute for it was headed Sacramento.

"He's much nicer than Mait!" she thought impulsively.

What would she telegraph? She sat down at the desk and considered.

Then picking up a pencil and scrap of paper, she finally wrote: "Everything fine. Don't worry. Take care of yourself. Love, Frills." "I could use another word. That's only nine, and my thrifty New England soul does hate to waste anything. Shall I say 'Much Love'? I'll bet the telegram will be different from what he expected without that. Now, how does one send it? Telephone it? Or have the chauffeur, if there is one, attend to it?"

She finally decided to telephone the message. Scarcely had she hung up the receiver than the bell rang. She listened in and heard as before Roxie's calm answer.

"Hullo, Roxie, can I speak to Frills?" drawled a feminine voice.

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Emery, but she gave orders that she didn't feel up to answering the 'phone today."

"Is that right?" with an incredulous note in the voice "Look here, Roxie, go and tell her I'm on the wire, will you? Ross and Ed and Ethel and I want to come over after dinner..."

Joyce shuddered. Ross and Ed and Ethel! Whew! Four new ones at a blow. Who were they?

When Roxie appeared, Joyce said, "Please tell Mrs. Emery I have a headache and I don't feel like seeing any one for a day or two."

She smiled with a touch of malice when she heard Mrs. Emery's remark to Roxie. "Say, Roxie, honest, did Frills say that 'Has Doc been in today to see her?'... Frills is sure sick when she won't see the gang."

Joyce set her lips indignantly at this further evidence of the unknown Mrs. Emery's familiarity with her affairs. She was glad that Roxie answered with obvious acidity. "No, ma'am."

"I like Roxie," she decided gratefully.

It all began to seem to Joyce like a species of fantastic game. How long could she hold off these unknown friends? With the one important exception of Maitland, the points had so far been in her favor.

Her restless gradually became more than mental. She found her hands moving nervously, the fingers rubbing together automatically, or picking up objects aimlessly.

When she sat down it was impossible to keep her body still for more than a moment at a time. She realized a craving in her for something—with out knowing what it was.

When Roxie appeared to ask whether she wished dinner, she gave

"Joyce was aghast to find she could not struggle free from his grip"

an affirmative answer, adding that she would like it served upstairs, and that she was not at home to any callers.

"Excitement must make me hungry," thought Joyce later as she sat before the attractive dinner which Roxie brought to the boudoir and arranged on a small round table.

When the sun had disappeared darkness came on rapidly—not with the soft lingering of twilight in the East. Going out on the sleeping porch, Joyce caught her breath with delight at the brilliance of the stars in that clear deep blue velvet of the night sky.

Tips on Taxes

LEGISLATIVE NEWS SERVICE OF THE TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION, AUSTIN

Austin—Action of appropriation bills thus far carry out the announced intention of the Legislature to trim government expenses by from 25 to 30 per cent.

Several of the major items have been finally acted upon by both houses and are in the Governor's hands.

There is a difference of some $600,000 between the House and Senate on the eleemosynary appropriations.

The Senate amended the House bill to provide for construction of buildings, said to be needed to take care of the increasing number of inmates in various institutions.

This is the only serious difference between the branches of the Legislature with regard to important appropriation bills.

For the most part the House schedules have been lower than the Senate, but thus far differences have been compromised without serious difficulty.

The one big question yet to be determined is the amount of support to be provided for public schools.

This situation is more difficult than the other major items of expense, because schools throughout the State are suffering from the double embarrassment of reduced State support as well as reductions in the payments of local taxes.

During the past few years State support of the public schools has steadily increased.

State apportionment in 1923 was $12,955,960. In 1931 this had been increased to $27,362,912.

Special rural aid appropriations in 1923 were $1,000,000. In 1931 they were $2,500,000.

Local tax support in the same period increased, though by a smaller ratio.

Increases in support from both local and State sources have far out-run increases in enrollment, earning power of the people and the wealth of the State.

Likewise public schools costs have mounted more rapidly than the costs of other functions of State government.

Illustrating this point, total property assessments in 1923 were approximately three and a half billion dollars.

In 1932 they had increased to slightly less than four billions, a gain of about 14 per cent in taxable wealth.

Compared with increases in expenditures for public schools of considerably more than 100 per cent from the State and somewhat less than 100 per cent from local sources.

It seems fair to point out that while school enrollment was increasing about 10 per cent and taxable wealth about 14 per cent, public school costs were more than doubled.

These percentages are average for the State. The factors vary in different localities.

The Family DOCTOR

by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

GALL-STONES

If you are past middle age, fat, "tubby" and—sedentary, you are a likely candidate for gall-stones, and especially if constipated and neglectful of diet, bowels and exercise.

I don't see as many gall-stone cases as I used to—not at all; people are becoming educated.

Not all gall-stones announce themselves by the severe pain of passing through the bil-duct; I once did an autopsy on an 80-year old patient—a woman—who carried over seventy large stones in the gall-bladder for years, without knowing she had them!

These concretions are caused by long-retained bile in the gall-bladder; they form somewhat like sugar forms in the bottom of the syrup-pitcher that is little used. Prevention means—to keep the bile moving; exercise helps to do this.

A plain, nutritious diet, and temperance in eating is another aid. Plenty of green vegetables, the leafy kind are of use in the diet. Lettuce, spinach, dandelion greens, well-prepared cabbage, colslaw, and such.

I am partial to the coarser breads at least once daily. People have told me sweet milk and eggs "make them bilious." I think they are mistaken; the term "biliousness" is so old it has whiskers—like all pious old frauds, it means always something else.

Best remedy for threat of gall-stones, Phosphate of Soda—I mean, best family remedy; it is harmless. Should be taken every morning before breakfast, enough to keep the bowels moving comfortably.

A simple, well-tryed remedy is safer in the household than a car-load of exploited "specifics" that spell quackery in big letters.

The surgery of the gall-bladder is another matter. Your family doctor is your best friend... ask him.

the State board of water engineers and the board of mineral development have been killed by the House. The items are small, the two combined amounting to only about $36,000 per year.

The Senate has not yet received the departmental appropriations bill from the House.

An income tax bill has received a favorable report from a House committee. The rates for individuals scale from one per cent on the first $1,000 of net income up to seven per cent on amounts in excess of $11,000.

For corporations the rates scale from two per cent on the first $1,000 to six per cent on incomes in excess of $6,000.

The sales tax has been killed again in a House committee, but there is talk of it being brought out on a minority report.

Its prospects of passage seem slim, but search for needed revenue may win sufficient support to bring about enactment of a modified sales tax on certain specified articles.
